VOL. 17—No. 19

BULLETIN OF SELECTION BOARD

1. Under Call No. 186, Christopher Columbus Pool of the Sloan community was inducted on the first instant and the same date entrained for Ft. Sam Houston, Texas. This registrant was used as an alternate for Thomas Mortan Allen of Tow, Texas, the order inducting the latter into military service having been cancelled temporarily on account of a case of serious illness in his immediate family.

2. Under Call No. 190, Frank George Lehrer of Pontotoc is being inducted this date and entrained for Camp McArthur, Waco, Texas.

3. Call No. 223 has been received by this Board, which requires the State to furnish 500 grammar school graduates who have had some experience along mechanical lines and shown aptitude for mechanical work, all of such registrants to be sent to the University of Texas. This call is for Class I, Group A white men only. They will receive a two months' course of training as auto mechanics and chauffeurs, machinists, blacksmiths, sheet-metal workers, general mechanics, carpenters, electricians, radio operators, concrete workers, and telegraphers. They will be assigned until after the completion of their courses, when they will be assigned to various branches of the service. The men taking this course will receive thorough instructions which will be of great personal value in working their way ahead both in the army and in civil life. This is an exceptional opportunity for energetic, ambitious men. Major Townes in referring to the call stated: "We regret that we cannot take more men on this movement because we realize that it is an opportunity that considerably more than 500 Texas boys would like to have." This Board has a quota of one man to furnish under this call, and we have been instructed to induct only a registrant who volunteers for the special course of training offered; that if no registrant volunteers, this fact is to be reported to State headquarters and this man's place will be given to a registrant in some other county. The call came to hand too late last week to get a notice of same inserted in the local papers for the week and the period for voluntary induction will be closed before the papers for this week are issued. We placed the call immediately on our bulletin board, in an effort to give the matter as much publicity as possible. But to date no applicants for the place have appeared. We prefer to think that this has been the result of registrants who are certain to be drafted sooner or later and who are qualified to fill the place in question not being aware of the call instead of such registrants failing to appreciate the unusually good opportunity offered the one to be chosen. Calls from now on will sometimes come frequently and one occasionally will be announced that will require quick action upon the part of registrants, as in the present instance. There will be times that a matter will arise and be disposed of between this issuance of two bulletins of this Board, inasmuch as our local papers appear but once a week, and again such was the case in the present instance. Therefore, registrants who do not care to wait their regular turn to be drafted, provided some call is announced that they would care to be inducted under, should keep in close touch with this Board and endeavor to read promptly any information posted on the bulletin board. As to the call in question, if we receive no applications for induction thereunder by 5:00 p. m., Wednesday, the 8th, no applications will be received after that hour and date, and the place will be given some other county, as explained above.

4. An erroneous report arose last week that slacker had been discovered in this county and was being held by this Board until he was taken in charge and disposed of by the Federal authorities. Unfortunately this report was given enough credence to receive local newspaper mention and to be sent by local correspondents to North and South Texas dailies, in which papers it appeared. The facts of the matter were that information was laid before the Sheriff's department that tended to show that a certain young man of this county was within the draft age but had failed to register. As prescribed by the Regulations, he was promptly brought before this Board for an investigation of his case, which resulted in it being determined that he was within the draft age on registration day but that he was honest in his belief that he was over the draft age; whereupon he was promptly and duly registered and exonerated of any intention to violate the Selective Service Law. The county, therefore, still holds its enviable record of not having had a single slacker thus far among its citizens subject to registration; hence, it is rather regrettable that a report to the contrary has become circulated over the State.

5. The matter referred to in paragraph 4 hereof has brought to the attention of this Board that many persons do not fully understand the meaning of the terms "slacker", "delinquent", and "deserter" as applied to meaning these terms may have, when applied to registrants they carry the following significance. A slacker is a person within the draft age who willfully fails or refuses to present himself for registration or to submit thereto as provided by the Selective Service Law.

(Therefore, the man registered by this Board last week was not a slacker, for the reason that his failure to register at the proper time was not a willful failure). A delinquent is a registrant who fails to perform any one or more of the various duties laid upon registrants by the Selective Service Regulations, but more especially as to the failure to submit a Questionnaire or to appear for physical examination. (The record of this Board, of course, as to delinquents is not clear. We had two registrants under the preexisting Regulations who failed to report for physical examination. Under the current Regulations, we have had none to fail to report for physical examination, but there has been a total of 13 who have failed to submit Questionnaires). A deserter is a registrant who fails to report for military service under an induction call issued by the Local Board or by the Adjutant General of the State. Unlike the case of slackers, delinquents and deserters are willful and nonwillful; the penalties prescribed for the latter class naturally being much more severe. (It now appears that the two delinquents of this jurisdiction under the preexisting Regulations have now become willful deserters; and the same as to seven out of the 13 delinquents under the current Regulations—these seven men being Mexicans. The total number of deserters among registrants of this Board thus far inducted into the military service and the number thereof who are willful deserters are yet to be determined).

6. Attention is called to the notice appearing elsewhere in this paper over the signature of Dr. G. A. Wilson, County Chairman, Preparedness League of American Dentists. The patriotic duty the dentists named in such notice stand ready to perform is deserving of the greatest commendation.

- Q: What is produced by said enterprise?
- A: Hell.
- Q: How many persons are employed in the plant where you work?
- A: Ten million.
- Q: Are you engaged in an agricultural enterprise?
- A: Plowing "No Man's Land."
- Q: Are you an employe or managing head of the enterprise?
- A: Rear of enterprise.
- Q: State the kind of farm.
- A: Poor farm.
- Q: What branch of the work are you engaged in?
- A: Digging trenches.
- Q: What is produced by that branch?
- A: Shell craters.
- Q: State the number and kind of livestock of the land.
- A: Crumbs and other vermin; also Huns.
- Q: How many persons live on the land?
- A: NONE VERY LONG.

Mrs. W. J. Stroud left Friday for Florida where she will join her husband, they will make that State their home for a while.

-Mr. and Mrs. Kuykendall returned Tuesday from San Antonio, they will be at home on their ranch near Cherokee.

Mrs. W. F. Johnson left Thursday for Beaumont to visit her daughter, Mrs. Fred Brown.

Jno. Sessions and Will Mitchell of Cherokee were in San Saba Wednesday.

VALLEY IRRIGATORS BETTER TAKE ACTION

Some Morning You Will Wake Up "Bone Dry"—Then You'll Be Sorry.

Editor San Saba Star:

There has been considerable excitement over the second coming of the State Water Board, not only among those who have been irrigating, but also among those who are wanting to irrigate, but have been refused a permit by the board. A protest has been made by appropriators from the lower Colorado, who claim that we are using more than our share of the surplus water for irrigation. While every one admits that all riparian owners have a right to all the water they need for domestic purposes and for stock water, there seems to be a great deal of confusion and conflict of opinion as to how the surplus may be divided, and who has priority of right in appropriating it.

The relative rights of riparian owners in the use of surplus waters of a flowing stream for irrigation have been repeatedly defined, and very definitely stated by our supreme Court. In the year 1913, the legislature created a board of water engineers, and passed a lengthy code of irrigation laws as a substitute for all previous laws on the subject. The chief distinction of this Statute was the utter ignoring of all previous decisions of the Supreme Court of the State on the subject of irrigation, and the complete disregard of the vested rights of riparian owners, as established by those decisions. The whole purpose of the act seemed to be to advance the claims of the private appropriator of water, along the streams at the expense of the riparian owner and without openly denying the rights of the latter, by a series of petty annoyances and useless and troublesome regulations and illegal demands to force him to surrender his rights in the water, so that the big private corporations could appropriate all the surplus water, and sell it for power purposes or to the non-riparian rice growers in Southern Texas. No more subtle or comprehensive scheme of legalized robbery was ever conceived or carried out in Texas.

You, Mr. Editor, were a member of the legislature in 1915, and you know what an effort was made by you and other members of the Legislature, to amend this law, and to protect the farmers along the streams in their legal right to the use of the water for irrigation. You know that you failed in this effort, and you know why you failed. You also know that the legislature in 1917 re-enacted the Statute on irrigation, making its provisions more full and specific, and openly invading and setting aside the rights of riparian land owners, in favor of private appropriators, of the water for other purposes than the irrigation of riparian lands.

Having surreptitiously encroached upon the rights of riparian land owners, under the ambiguous and self-contradictory provisions of the Statute of 1913, with impunity, and without protest for four years,—they have been emboldened to transfer the vested rights of riparian owners to the appropriators, by specific statutory enactment in the Statute of 1917. It is true they have a provision in the Statute that it shall not in any way interfere with the vested rights of riparian owners. While the Statute does not undertake to define riparian rights, the subsequent provisions of the Statute amount to a legislative finding that the riparian land owner has no right in the surplus water of the stream for irrigation, but that the same can be appropriated under the Statute by any applicant for any purpose, provided for by the Statute. They have also sought to validate this usurpation of a vested right by enacting a special statute of limitation of three years, after which time the illegal appropriation becomes legal. As this statute of limitation could not be invoked against anyone living above the party seeking to invoke it, we could not in this county be affected by it.

The growing purpose of the law to rob the riparian owner of his vested rights in the water for irrigation, is well illustrated in the application of Mr. Simpson to put in a dam at the Doran site at the head of the San Saba valley. The first application filed by Alexander did not include the normal flow of the streams which he proposed to turn loose. In the Simpson last fall, he asks leave to store up the entire stream including the normal flow, and to appropriate it all, as well as the banks and bed of the river, to carry the water out of the county. If he is allowed to appropriate and store all the water of the stream, he will also be allowed under the statute, to carry the water out of the county in the bed of the river, and to prosecute any land owner along the stream, who pumps any of the water to irrigate land, and fine him heavily and throw him in jail. Some irrigators who obtained a permit in 1914 may be allowed to continue irrigating what they are now irrigating, and if they want to sell their birthright for a mess of pottage, they will perhaps have the privilege of doing so.

I have been asked by a number of parties to represent them in defending their rights before the water board and on appeal through all the courts and I have submitted a proposition to the riparian land owners and my suggestion is that they go in together and select their own lawyers and fight this thing to a finish. To do this they need not accept my proposition, or employ me. They can employ anyone they please.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Little Miss Annabelle Breazeale entertained a crowd of twelve of her playmates Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. F. Breazeale. A delightful evening was spent. Just before departing cake and lemonade was served.

Mrs. T. A. Gose and children left Friday for Hurley N. Mex. where they join Mr. Gose who has been there in business for some time. We are sorry to lose these good people and hope they will return to San Saba before long.

MARKETING THE CROPS

Anyone who has given this subject the slightest consideration must be struck with the appalling losses incident to our loose, haphazard system of selling and distributing farm products.

Practically speaking, there is no co-ordination of effort, no regularity of method and no public supervision connected with this most important branch of production.

Even with respect to staple and imperishable commodities the price fluctuation is all out of proportion to the natural law of supply and demand, while truch and vegetables exhibit such instability as to leave farmers and consumers completely at sea.

Of course, speculation plays its part, but the chief defect is lack of system and co-ordination.

In the first place we have no adequate facilities whereby the producer and consumer can be brought into such close contact as they should. Instead of serving this purpose our public markets are almost exclusively in the control of middlemen.

In the second place, we have no means by which to store, save and conserve perishable truck and vegetables. If there happens to be a large surplus it must rot or be ploughed under.

In the third place we have no well organized agencies of sale and distribution, except those which have been built up and are controlled by private interests.

We have employment bureaus, clearing houses and farm loan banks, but we have no publicly operated machinery to help the farmer sell his goods, and this, too, notwithstanding the fact that his goods are recognized as all important.

Just now the potato growers of this state are facing a very grave situation. There is a large surplus of old potatoes on the market, yet if the new potatoes can not be marketed within a very short time they will spoil.

The food administration is going to do what it can to help the growers out, but it is so handicapped by lack of means and facilities that it can do little more than offer them some sound advice.—Houston Chronicle.

The Markets and Warehouse department at Austin has been trying to install the above into the producers of the state for the past three or four years, but have had very little encouragement from the daily press of the state.

It takes time to abandon a universal bad custom, but a new era is dawning when the producer will take care of what he makes and market it in an intelligent manner.

Complete stock of fruit jars at Will Ashby's.

According to the latest ruling from the Attorney General's department the women of San Saba county will not have to register to vote in the primary next July. The registration of women voters only applies to cities of over ten thousand.

Woman's Suffrage Law Construed by Attorney General: One Section Void.

The attorney general's department Tuesday gave out a construction of the woman's suffrage law in several particulars.

It is held that the provision of the act requiring women who reside outside of cities and towns of ten thousand population and over to register as a qualification to participate in the 1918 primaries is unconstitutional and void.

This holding is predicated on section 35, article 3 of the constitution, that requires the subject matter of a bill to be expressed in the title and that renders void any subject of a bill not expressed in the title.

The title to this bill only mentions the purpose of the legislature to require registration of women who resided in cities of ten thousand and over.

The body of the bill, not only requires women who resided in such cities to register, but also require all women residing in other precincts to register as a qualification to vote in the 1918 primaries. Section Held Void.

The opinion of the attorney general is, that this portion of the bill requiring women residing out of such cities to register not being mentioned in the caption, and really being contradictory and inconsistent with the caption, is void and that, therefore, the only women who are compelled to register under this law are those residing in cities and towns of ten thousand population and over.

The opinion further holds that all women who possess the qualification of an elector, except that they are not required to have a poll tax receipt this year, may participate in the primary elections and conventions of the party to which they belong; that is, provided they register within fifteen days prior to the day of the election.

The following classes of persons are not permitted to vote, to wit: These Cannot Vote.

Those under twenty-one years of age, idiots, lunatics, all paupers supported by the county, all persons convicted of any felony except those restored to citizenship by pardon; all soldiers, marines and seamen employed in the service of the army or navy.

Therefore, all women subject to none of the foregoing disqualifications who are citizens of the United States (native or naturalized), who shall have resided in the state twelve months next preceding the election, or the last six months in the district or county in which she offers to vote, may participate in the primary elections and conventions of her political party that are held in the precinct of her residence.

Women required to register shall present themselves in person at the tax collector's office in the county seat of the county and in her own handwriting fill out the blank necessary to secure her registration receipt.

If she should be unable to read and write the English language it will be impossible for her to register as this contingency is not provided for in the law.

She is not authorized to delegate to another authority to fill out the necessary blanks.

THE YOUNG MAN'S OPPORTUNITY

Largest And Most Successful Cotton Classing School In America.

There is a greater demand today than ever before the young man who thoroughly understands the cotton business. Such as: Classing, stapling, averaging, buying, selling, shipping, exporting, keeping of Gin Records, merchant's cotton records, ware house records, cotton office stock books and other blanks necessary to the business. The representatives of the largest cotton concerns, as well as the merchants and ware house managers, have highly indorsed our course of instructions. They say we are meeting a long felt want. Bonded ware houses alone require hundreds of young men. We have expert instructors with practical experience in every detail of the business and have installed in this department a cotton exchange board with telegraph instructions attached. Here our students are taught to read price quotations as they come in from Liverpool, New Orleans and New York markets. They are also given the ginners and Government reports on production and probable effect on prices.

Nothing is left undone to make our students efficient in the work. The cost of the above course complete is $25.00 for tuition, and $5.00 for books and material. Time for completing is from four to six weeks, owing to the ability of the student. Students may enroll at any time. There is such a great demand for work of this kind, that we have large and enthusiastic classes throughout the year. Enter at once. You may take bookkeeping and Business Training, Shorthand, Type-writing or Telegraphy along with Cotton Classing if you like. Fill in blank and mail today. Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas.

CONGRESSMAN BLANTON PUTS DUTY TO COUNTRY BEFORE POLITICS

Citizens 17th Congressional District:

I am a candidate for reelection, but have no time now for politics. Civilization is in a death struggle for its existence. I don't believe the people desire that time, energy and money be spent in a political campaign during a war crisis. Soldiers at the front are giving their all. We who stay at home must support them by consecrating every moment in some avenue of service. We must put duty to Country first, and satiate ambitions later.

Through a gerrymander, politicians framing redistricting in the Legislature, took from me 48 counties in which I am well known and have the support of the people, added new territory, and gave my district a new number, hoping to benefit new aspirants. The Legislature can frame districts, but thank God, this office belongs to the people and you only can give or take it away. Though 2000 miles from you, I am not afraid of the voice of the people.

I stand on my record, public and private. I am bending every energy, straining every nerve, exhausting every resource and devoting my entire time in supporting the President and his policies, trying to assist our Commander in Chief to win this war speedily. Congress is daily excusing Members to return home, hence a working, dependable Administration quorum must be maintained here. Until all needed legislation has been enacted by Congress, I shall not leave my post of duty, regardless of consequences. In asking for a second term, I am confidently depending on my friends in the old, and my few acquaintances in the new counties to care for my interests.

Sincerely your friend,
THOMAS L. BLANTON.

War Board Not To Fix Cotton Price.

Washington, April 29.—The War industries board has informed the National Council of American Cotton Manufacturers that it does not intend to fix a price on raw cotton.
 This action, said the board, does not appear necessary in the government's operations in the war.
 In the view of the board, the trouble is with the price placed on the finished product by the manufacturers, not with the price paid to the cotton grower. Action to correct the prices now charged by manufacturers is to be taken immediately.

Waste and Extravagance

Are Germany's Silent Allies

They will help the Kaiser. They will kill American soldiers. Every bit of waste, every extravagance takes force from the power America must put into the war to win. Every penny spent for luxuries and unnecessary things is a penny lost to the production and purchase of food, clothing, supplies, ships, and munitions for our soldiers.
 As long as we spend wastefully, Germany will receive silent but powerful help from America; just so much farther away is the Day of Peace.
 Don't spend thoughtlessly or unnecessarily. Save! With high wages and plenty of work for everyone there never was such an opportunity to help yourself and help your country.
 Save to help the Government. Lend your savings to your Country——and drive out the enemy's silent allies. Put your dimes and quarters, as well as your dollars, at work.

 Every man, woman, and child can buy War Savings Stamps —and keep buying them. Put all you can save into War Savings Stamps and watch your savings grow. They are profitable, simple, and secure investment. You'll never find a better road to Prosperity.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA NATIONAL WAR SAVINGS COMMITTEE

Dallas, Texas
 May 4, 1918
 The Postmaster Addressed,
 Dear Sir:

I am deeply concerned over reports that are coming to me that people who have just bought War Saving Stamps applying to the post office to cash them.
 I wish that you would discourage this in every possible way. There is no earthly use our selling war saving stamps one week if the person buying is going to cash them the next week, or the next month.
 The Treasury Department allows the cashing of stamps in order to encourage people of small means to buy them, because the purchaser has the knowledge that in case of dire necessity he can get his money back promptly.
 It is foolish in the extreme for any one to buy stamps with the expectation of cashing them and it only involved the Government in expense, instead of being a help, is an actual hindrance.

Wont you please talk to every person who proposes to cash war Saving Stamps of any amount, ascertain the exact reason and if it is a miscalculation on the part of the purchaser; or real necessity; or a condition which is unusual, we want them to have their money back cheerfully and promptly but this is no time for foolishness or insincerity.

Yours truly,
 Louis Lipsitz,
 State Director,
 War Savings Committee.

The Nation's Courier

With the whole Nation an armed camp whose outposts extend from ocean to ocean, the toll lines of the Bell System are the message bearers of the Nation's vast war organization.

Even at the fighting front the telephone has replaced the hard-riding courier of other days.

The Bell telephone message traverses the continent at its widest girth in one-fifteenth of a second.

Important military points and industrial centers hundreds of miles apart are in close contact with each other and with Washington.

More than three million miles of toll wire in the Bell System are the highways over which pass a million messages a day, by which the vast activities of the Nation are systematized and controlled.
