WEDNESDAY EVENING, JAN. 6, 1836 THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.-This document is before our readers. If they have read and digested it, we commend their patience and industry, both of which virtues must have been severely tried. Why is it that our Rulers persist in the habit of reversing the maxim of Lacon, and instead of saying "many things in few words," only give us few things in many words? Would that all Governors were endowed with that "soul of wit" which distinguishes plain, blunt, honest "Jo. RITNER." His Message was upon the true model. There has been nothing like it since the democratic days of THOMAS JEFFERSON. Every word is fitty chos en. Each sentence tells. Every paragraph disposes of a topic. And when his views are presented, and his opinions expressed, then Gov. RITNER brings his Message to a conclusion .-Not so with Gov. MARCY. His views, after being presented first length-ways, then sideways, and then end-ways, are drawn out and sublimated until they loose most of their effect. Some of the leading topics in the Messages of Gov. RITNER and Gov. MARCY, are identical. To the subject of Internal improvement and the Currency, the former devotes a quarter of a column, while the latter, in treating upon the same subjects, rambles through three columns. And yet there is more power and character in the But if our objections are confined to the man head, who will arge those of a graver character. The matter of the Message will open many blind eyes. People who have very readily yielded up purely business and social character. We, however, are not disposed to discuss this matter .-Belonging as we do to a proscribed and powerless race, it is not for us to question the infalibility of Rulers. The People have bestowed unlimited power upon the Regency, and if, like all other Despots, they use that power with a heavy hand, we can only say that submission is the wy hand, we can only say that submission is the first duty of good subjects. If the Regency, after gloating for years upon "Stocks," and gorging themselves with "speculations," now turn if the done.

After tracing their alledged deficiency in Banking capital to the "unregulated spirit of speculation," he alludes to the obstructions of their spring navigation occasioned by the sion of the Erie Canal "from Buffalo to some and the point on the shore of Lake Erie, where the Lake would be free as early in the spring as the navigawould be free as early in the spring as the navigation of the Canal may be opened." VOL 6.

That to which I now allude, is the following: "Those who are entitled to receive the benefit of the School money, are unjustly deprived of it, for in most of these schools no scholar is taken in under $2 per quarter." The usual custom of these schools is, to demand $2 of all able to pay, but take from $2 down to nothing: And in most, or all the schools may be found many who hav nothing, and for which bills are not the seat of Indian hostilities in East Florida.

We learn from capt. Willey, that news reached Jacksonville on the morning of the 25th, that capt. Lancaster, of the militia, had been serious low woodruff and one negro were killed. In the vicinity of Forester's plantation the Indians had laid waste the country from Black Creek to Fort King—a distance of 80 miles. From Lake George to Picolata they had burned all the houses, and destroyed property. who pay nothing, and for which bills are not presented, so that taking the whole average of scholars attending the District Schools, the amount of tuition actually paid by employers, does not exceed $1 per quarter; and no school, even the best of them, actually collect more than $1, vere one. Now, perhaps the writer may be willing to take the responsibility of managing captain McLemore's and Captain Lancaster's one of these schools for $500, but I am far from believing this amount sufficient to secure the rival at Benj. The Larillard Will .- The Court of Errors have made several important decisions in rela-tion to this will. They have reversed the Chancellor's decision, by which the whole will is destroyed. The property left by Mr. Lorillard is over three millions of dollars—embracing about five hundred houses in this city. By the Will, this property, (with the exception of about thir ty thousand dollars in legacies, which is not touched by the decision) was left in fact, to 13 nephews and nieces, and their descendants. By this decision the property goes to the heirs at law, who are his brothers and sisters, viz: Jabob Lorillard, Peter Lorillard, Mrs. John G. Coster, Mrs. ——, of Patterson, and three children of a deceased sister. There is no part of the county which has grown so rapidly, as appears by this census, except Kirkland, which exhibits a gain of 992. This, however, is not a permanent gain: the increase in a measure is owing to the laborers on the Chenango canal, who are recorded in this town. His object, which motion prevailed; and the total opposed to receive the petition at the total opposed to receive the petition and the total opposed to receive the petition at the total opposed to receive the petition and the total opposed to receive the petition and the total opposed to receive the petition and the total opposed to the total oppose which they were entitled of having their petitions received here, had so far been defeated. No petition would be presented here after the close of this debate; but if the decision of the ber, for holding the District Court of Maryland.

On motion of Mr. Black, "Jackson," was substituted for Natchez, (Miss.) After sundry verbal amendments.

Mr. Wright dwelt upon the inconvenience which the northern parts of New York, as well as along the Canadian frontier, sustained in consequence of the want of a District Court, and he moved to amend the bill, "by providing that the District of Vermont, Connecticut and New-York should constitute the 2d Circuit."

Mr. King depreciated the introduction of the amendment, as likely to embarrass the passage of the bill. He would vote for the propositions, however, if brought forward separately.

Mr. Porter followed, in the same views, and appealed earnestly to the Senator from New-

**EGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM.**

—The most valuable remedy discovered for consumptions, asthma, pleurisy, spitting of blood, hooping coughs, and pulmonary affections of every kind.

The basis of this medicine was a private recipe of a distinguished physician in one of the neighboring states, and was preserved by an individual to whom it gave the most astonishing relief. After having been supposed to be beyond the reach of medicine, from an affection of the lungs, he was restored to health by the use of the Vegetable Pulmenary Balsam. It might never have been offered to the public, had not this gentleman found that his own cure was not accidental, from the fact that in the numerous causes in which he recommended it to others, it never failed to give relief. It has been improved from the original recipe in a manner which, while it preserves its peculiar properties, adapts it more perfectly to the diseases for which it is recommended, in all their stages.

happy effect are continually received. A few, however, will be given for the satisfaction of those who may be troubled with the complaints for which the halsam is offered as a remedy. Price 50 cents.

For sale, wholesale and retail by $18 SANDS & SHAW, Druggists, 46 State st.
