

"A Guy Named Joe" Featured At Ritz

"A Guy Named Joe," the new movie at the Ritz Theatre is a wondrous and different romance, a delightful mixture of realism and fantasy guaranteed to please all movie audiences. In the Air Force any pilot is "a guy named Joe" and in the film, both Spencer Tracy and Irene Dunne, who co-star, are pilots.

Tracy is cast as a daredevil and bushy pilot whose exploits are the despair of his superior officers and the adorable Ferry Command pilot who loves him, played by Miss Dunne. Sensing that his number is up she begs him to return to the United States with her as an instructor. He agrees, but in a last reckless fling he is killed bombing an enemy carrier.

He finds himself in a strange place—pilots' "heaven." There he is taken to the "General," played by Lionel Barrymore, and learns that pilots never die, they live on in spirit helping younger pilots to master their craft. Tracy is assigned to guide Van Johnson, a bright young Joe just learning to fly. With the aid of his unseen mentor, Johnson becomes a proficient flyer and under his influence even begins to assume his characteristics.

When Johnson is assigned to active duty in New Guinea, Tracy goes along and watches his young charge meet and fall in love with Miss Dunne, who is on duty in the area. She sees the same things in Johnson that she had loved in Tracy, and falls in love again with the youngster. At first, Tracy resents this, but after a thrilling climax realizes it is for the best and the only way all three of them can be happy.

Spencer Tracy as the daredevil pilot delivers a performance that ranks favorably with his Academy Award winners of the past and creates a character that will live long with moviegoers. Miss Dunne, lovelier than ever, stands out in her part.

"Arabian Knights" Showing At State Sunday, Monday

A fabulous new example of cinema wizardry was placed on exhibition yesterday when Universal's "Arabian Nights" opened at the State Theatre. The long anticipated Walter Wanger production must be regarded as more than a work of movie art. For sheer beauty, exotic splendor and torrid, action-filled drama, here is a screen triumph of the first magnitude. And it is embellished by glorious Technicolor.

Unforgettable are the characterizations of its three stars, Jon Hall, Maria Montez and Sabu. Maria appears as Sherazade, the Bagdad dancing girl who wants to marry a Caliph. She does, and that is the story of "Arabian Nights," and Jon Hall portrays Haroun-al-Raschid, the Caliph. Sherazade's adventures before she marries Haroun, however, are best told on the screen itself, for this is adult entertainment adhering closely to the original fascination of the classic tale.

Memorable Highlights
Among the picture's numerous highlights, audiences will remember the splendid performances of Lief Erikson, Billy Gilbert, Edgar Barrier and Shemp Howard, here in a circus sequence which stands out vividly and magnificently against desert vistas across which the slave caravan travel, here are scenes of the slave markets and luxurious harems, where feminine beauty is emphasized in profuse profusion. The spectacular Oriental dance presented by Miss Montez is a memorable screen event, as is the furious battle between Hall and Erikson. The fight staged against desert warriors, is probably the film's most exciting innovation.

Other players deserving special praise include Thomas Gomez and Turhan Bey. Outstanding in the picture's feminine group are Elyse Knox, Acquarretta and Carmen D'Antonio.

Writing credits are shared by Michael Hogan, who authored the story and screen play, and True Boardman who supplied additional dialogue. Camera magic was contributed by cinematographer Milton Brasser.

"Arabian Nights" was directed by John Rawlins.

Cary Grant Stars In "Destination Tokyo" At Queen

"Destination Tokyo," showing today and Monday at the Queen theatre is a story of a submarine, the U.S.S. Copperfin, but more, it is superb screen fiction of what might have taken place when U. S. air and naval forces prepared for the bombing of Tokyo.

Emphasis of the story is laid upon the preparatory patrol work of the Copperfin before the air raid on Tokyo, and most of the action is confined to the submarine. The film's outstanding quality is the technical perfection of detail which, instead of bogging down the plot and hampering suspense which heightens this drama of adventure in a wartime sub.

An expert cast, headed by Cary Grant as Captain Cassidy of the Copperfin, and John Garfield, playing a blonde-chasing torpedo man called "Wolf," perform their roles forcefully. This is a man's film, but so effective are the human qualities of the story, that it becomes a picture for everybody.

Pollishing silver these busy days may not be a welcome chore. To save yourself work, keep matches, eggs, salt, fruit juice and rubber away from silver as they tarnish it.

Movie At Lyric Is Bull's Eye For R. Arlen

Ever-popular and ever-dependable, Richard Arlen returns to the screen in Republic's "The Lady and the Monster," with Eich von Stroheim and Vera Ralston, scheduled to open Sunday at the Lyric Theatre for a two day showing.

Arlen was born in Charlottesville, Virginia, of James and Mary van Mattimore, both non-professionals. At an early age he moved with his parents to St. Paul, Minnesota, where Dick's father was well known as a grain broker, a lawyer and finally a judge. Dick himself won school honors in all athletics, particularly swimming, baseball and football.

When America entered the First World War, Arlen was barely 17, but he secured his parents' permission to leave college and enroll in the Royal Flying Corps. He was sent to Toronto for training, and was soon commissioned a Second Lieutenant, but never saw European duty because he was kept at the field as an instructor.

When the war was over Arlen became a newspaper reporter in Du.uth, but left this to become a swimming teacher. He drifted to the Texas oil fields, then worked his way to Los Angeles and took a job as delivery man for a Hollywood film laboratory.

After the usual ups and downs of the embryo actor, he finally landed a contract and his first important screen role was in "Wings" with Clara Bow and Gary Cooper. Stardom followed, and he has had a top spot in a long succession of outstanding pictures including "Sally," "Old Ironsides," "The Blood Ship," "Under the Tonto Rim," "The Virginian," "Tiger Shark," "Hell-dorado," "Legion of Lost Flyers" and "Forced Landing."

Arlen divides his off-screen time between his beach home at Balboa Bay and his Toluca Lake residence. He shares with Bing Crosby the honors of having been mayor of Toluca Lake.

Summary Report On Tuberculin Tests In Three Counties Given

Big Spring and Howard county school children showed a 6.7 per cent positive reaction to tuberculin tests, slightly less than the average of seven per cent for the Midland - Ector - Howard county health unit, a summary of reports submitted by Dr. J. E. Olean showed Friday.

The tests in the Big Spring-Howard county division were far more extensive than in the Midland or Ector units, 2,637 of the 3,512 tests given having been local ones.

In Big Spring, there were 1,331 tests given with 131 positive reactions. Of this number 108 were normal, three showed an inactive status and only three (and these doubtful) were active cases. Thus the active status was at most only .015 of the total tested.

Interesting thing was noted in the check-up of Mexicans at the Kate Morrison school. Three hundred and five tests were given and 87 positives were X-rayed. From this number 55 were normal with only two abnormal reactions. The two abnormal cases proved inactive.

Midland tested 1,729 students, had 172 positives, 143 of them normal, 16 inactive, 12 active. The positive factor was ten per cent. Odessa with 31 positives out of 1,000 tested, had the low per cent of 3.1. The positive showed 22 normal and eight inactive.

Dr. Olean noted that of the 384 positive reactors, 334 had submitted to X-rays, leaving 50 children who did not follow up on this highly accurate means of telling if they actually had tuberculosis. In the 12 cases that were declared active, several were of doubtful character. The director attached significance to the fact that 17.5 per cent of Latin-American students and 11 per cent of colored students were positive reactors. This, he observed, was due to sub-standard living conditions.

Emergency Treatment
McCabe Nichols of Coahoma was rushed to the Cowper Clinic late Friday for emergency treatment of cuts about the throat. His condition is reported to be improving, according to word from the attending physician.

Cooker Clinic Slated Tuesday

"Now that the 1944 canning season is here, it is advisable to have pressure cooker gauges and valves tested and checked," advises Miss Mildred Atkinson, emergency war food assistant, who will hold a pressure cooker clinic Monday and Tuesday mornings at 9 o'clock in the homemaking department at the Big Spring high school.

Working in cooperation with the Texas Home Demonstration association, Miss Atkinson, who conducted a canning school here last summer, will be in Big Spring to assist housewives with their canning problems during the month and with the assistance of Fern Smith, home economics teacher, will conduct the clinic.

"Much of the spoilage we have in foods is due to having foods underprocessed because the gauges do not register correctly, and all gauges that are off more than two and one half pounds need to be repaired or replaced," said Miss Atkinson.

Housewives who plan to attend the clinic are asked to bring lids if they have the old type pressure cooker and women with victory cookers are asked to bring the whole cooker to be tested.

Plans will be made at the meetings Monday and Tuesday for other work during Miss Atkinson's stay in Big Spring during the month.

Drying, brining, freezing, jelly and preserves will also be discussed.

Parents Of Pre-School Children Are Invited To Summer Round Up Tuesday

In preparation for the regular summer round-up which has been connected here for the past several years by the Parent-Teacher's Association, a meeting has been called of all mothers with pre-school children at the city auditorium Tuesday afternoon.

The Big Spring Parent-Teacher's Association, in cooperation with the city county health unit, is sponsoring the meeting which will feature a talk by Dr. J. E. Olean, director of the tri-county health unit which is comprised of Howard, Midland and Ector counties.

The meeting is scheduled at 2 p. m. and Dr. Olean will speak on "Why Your Child Needs a Health Examination."

Motion pictures on "The Value of Regular Medical Examinations by Your Family Physician" will be shown by Mrs. Ann Fisher, county public health nurse.

While the meeting is open to any interested in the project, officials at the local health unit are urging mothers with pre-school children to attend.

Interpreting The War News— REAL ALLIED PURPOSE AND NAZI ABILITY TO PARRY YET UNREVEALED

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
AP War Analyst
Bright prospects of attaining immediate objectives mark the first week end of the Allied second-front invasion of continental Europe although decisive battles are yet to be fought.

There is every indication that the great port of Cherbourg at the tip of the Normandy peninsula may very soon be in Allied hands. That seems the initial Allied goal.

Market Responds To Invasion News

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP)—This week's long-awaited European invasion found the stock market with its defenses well manned and buying power plentiful for a wide list of peace-rated issues that stand to reap quick benefits from victory.

Heavy demand for motors and accessories, low-priced and otherwise, continued in today's brief session. Numerous favorites touched peaks for the year or longer with gains of fractions to more than a point. Blocks of 1,000 to 10,000 shares crowded the ticker tape and turnover of 727,170 compared with 385,540 last Saturday and was the largest for a short stretch since March 18 which was the best Saturday mark since July 31, 1943.

The Associated Press 50-stock average was up .2 of a point at 33 but on the week showed a net decline of as much. At that, it was only 4 under its recent high level since 1937.

At 1944 tops today were Chrysler, Willys-Overland, Packard, Continental Motors (most active of the list), Murray Corp., Gar Wood, Hayes Mfg., Graham-Paige, International Telephone, Evans Products, Stewart-Warner, Briggs Mfg. and Nash-Kelvinator. Improved were Union Pacific, Austin Nichols "A," U. S. Steel, General Motors.

The fast allied follow-up on the capture of Rome is filled, too, with deadly menace for the foe. He is in grave danger of seeing his armies cut apart in the center by the Allied drives up the Nera and Tiber rivers northeast of Rome. Loss of the critical road and rail communication keys at which those spearheads are aimed could nip off the whole German left flank in Italy and pin it against the Adriatic for annihilation.

War To Cost More In 1944 Morgenthau Tells Texans

Texarkana Over Top And Ready To Open Drive

TEXARKANA, June 10 (UP)—Texarkana, which will spearhead the opening of the Fifth War Loan drive Monday, was told by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., tonight that the war in 1944 will cost more than it did last year.

Morgenthau's announcement was in reply to a telegram sent by the Texas-Arkansas border city to the secretary of the treasury at Hot Springs, Ark., announcing that Texarkana has already exceeded its bond quota of $4,675,000.

Morgenthau, who today was re-writing with Hollywood Producer Orson Welles the radio show that will inaugurate the loan drive, replied:

"I want to congratulate you on the job you have done in already raising more than your share of the $16,000,000,000 which must be secured in the Fifth War Loan drive. This is concrete proof that you really mean business in your civilian D-Day. You are backing up those gallant men who now swarm across the English Channel and fight their courageous way toward Berlin and the end of the European war."

"Within the past week I have talked to General Marshall and other military leaders who assure me that the war's growing intensity will demand even more money in 1944 than we spent last year.

"The $16,000,000,000 we must get in the Fifth War Loan is a small but nevertheless vital part of the total cost of the fighting to come.

"The people of the nation have volunteered to finance the war. Up to this time they have done wonderfully well. I know they will continue."

"The secretary of the treasury will appear on a regional broadcast at 4 p. m. Monday with Governors Cokes Stevenson of Texas; Homer Adkins of Arkansas and Jimmie Davis of Louisiana, together with radio and screen stars who will take part in the night coast to coast broadcast which will officially open the bond drive. President Roosevelt will participate in the four-network night broadcast.

Baptist Youth Camp To Open Here June 19

Plans are being outlined for the annual district eight youth encampment of the Baptist church which will be held at the city park June 19-23.

Divided into two sections, the boys encampment is slated Monday, June 19 through Wednesday noon with the girls encampment scheduled Wednesday afternoon through Friday noon.

The encampment program will include recreational activities, missionary study classes and talks by a returned missionary who will speak twice daily.

The Rev. Roy Shahan of the First Baptist church at Snyder will serve as camp pastor for the boys, and camp pastor for the girls will be the Rev. Vernon Yearby of the First Baptist church at Midland.

Mrs. J. M. White, district chairman of the Women's Missionary Society will assist Mrs. Dick O'Brien of Big Spring in camp activities. Mrs. O'Brien, young people's secretary for district eight will serve as camp leader.

The encampment planned for last summer was postponed when an epidemic of infantile paralysis seemed likely, but registration for 1942 totalled 360 boys with 640 girls, and officials are making plans for good attendance this year.

Work Of OWI And Farmers Lauded By Eisenhower

Milton Eisenhower, president of Kansas State College, thinks the Office of War Information, of which he was formerly assistant director, is doing a good job.

Commenting briefly on the OWI after the Big Spring Bombardier school graduation service, at which he was speaker, Eisenhower said he had the "utmost respect" for the organization and praised Elmer Davis, director, as a "man of ability and integrity. He has one of the most thankless tasks in the federal government. He has worked at it 12 hours a day, with no thanks from anyone."

He praised farmers. "The privates in the food army are doing one of the most important jobs in this country," he said. They are producing 30 per cent more food than before the war, and 13 per cent of all food being eaten is going to the men in uniform. Because of their strenuous activities, each soldier is eating twice as much as before the war, he said.

The county law enforcement scene was quiet Saturday, with no new cases filed in either justice or county courts. One person had been placed in jail since Friday. He was a juvenile, arrested for drunkenness.

Howard-Glasscock field 10 miles south of here.

The test is nine miles east and slightly north of the John I. Moore et al No. 1 L. S. McDowell, abandoned at 10,996 feet in 1926 after encountering 17,000 barrels of sulphur water daily. However, this deep Glasscock test had several heads of 43 gravity oil coming from pay topped at 5,471 feet. It was located in section 22-34-3a, T&P.

Operations by John B. Hawley, Jr. were comparatively quiet at the end of the week. Hawley No. 1 Allison, section 6-33-1a, T&P, was reported swabbing following 775-quart shot. To the north, Hawley No. 1 Gular Estate in section 2, B&C survey, was cleaned out to 3,216 feet and waiting for rotary to move.

Still further to the north and in the Knott area the Northern Ordinance No. 1 Spaulding cored from 3,255-3,295 feet in lime; it is a 6,900-foot test in section 7-33-2a, T&P.

In the Moore area, John B. Hawley, Jr. No. 2 Thompson, section 14-34-1a, T&P, waited for rotary to move and Hawley No. 1 Thorp, section 24-34-1a, T&P, was cleaning out at 3,245 feet following a 750-quart shot.

In south central Borden county, Northern Ordinance Co. No. 1 Clayton and Johnson was rigging up with heavier rotary to continue below 6,800 feet, contract depth. Location is in section 32-31-4n, T&P. Northern Ordinance No. 1-A A. M. Clayton, section 13-34-4n, T&P had drilled to 635 feet. It is a 9,600-foot wildcat.

Coden & Guthrie had trouble in getting swab through tubing in the No. 1 Pauline Allen, in the southeast corner of section 57-20, LaVaca, just above Vincent in northeastern Howard. A test is due about Tuesday.

Ray Oil No. 2-A Bead was reported pumping about 50 barrels daily after shooting from 2,750-2,833. Location is in the northeast quarter of section 48-30-1n, T&P. In the southeast quarter of the section, Coden No. 2-B Bead was cleaning out following a 460-quart shot which blasted two pay sections—one from 2,730-45 and the other from 2,885-2,920. The double shot was effected by a two-inch glycerine anchor between the loads.

GARZA, COCHRAN WILDCATS HIGHLIGHT AREA OIL PICTURE

By JOHN B. BREWER

SAN ANGELO, June 10—Swabbing of oil by Honolulu and Devonian No. 1 R. B. Peyton from San Andres line to promise the opening of a northwestern Garza county pool and swabbing of six barrels of oil hourly in a natural testing by the San Andres Production Co. of Dallas No. 1 M. N. Clouser, eastern Cochran county discovery, highlighted West Texas developments this week.

Case, Pomeroy & Co. No. 1 Kuehn, southeastern Gaines county wildcat C NW NE 11-C-dd-pal, was to drillstem test after recovering dolomite showing oil and gas from cores between 5,400-59 feet.

Honolulu and Devonian No. 1 R. B. Peyton in Garza county, C SW SE 14B1-TTRB, swabbed 56 barrels of oil and 114 barrels of sulphur water in 12 hours, bottomed at 1,765 feet, but later swabbed sulphur water only. The water was believed encountered below the oil bearing section and the wildcat was to plug back to about 3,580 feet and cement casing to test.

San Andres No. 1 Clouser in Cochran county was scheduled to be completed naturally at 4,875 feet, having swabbed an average of six barrels of oil hourly for more than 40 hours, the oil cut only three per cent by basic sediment. Five and one-half inch casing was cemented at 4,552 feet after the first oil showed in a core from 4,840-50.

The well is 660 feet out of the southeast corner of labor 18-62-Midland CSL, three miles west and slightly north of Whiteface. Cherry & Kidd of Dallas staked a quarter mile east offset.

Sinclair Prairie No. 1 Gisham-Hunter, southwestern Andrews county wildcat C NW NW 14-73-pal, found barren the Ellenburger topped at 11,204 feet, 7,962 feet below sea level, the formation not taking acid in several attempts to treat. It was to gun perforate casing between 10,090 and 10,420 feet opposite the Silurian.

Humble No. 1 W. F. Carter in the Deep Rock pool in Andrews, C SE SW we-46-pal, swabbed only sulphur water at 10,350 feet after acidizing and plugged back to 9,851 feet.

One mile east extension to the south end of the Union pool in northwestern Andrews was indicated by Union No. 1 W. F. Scarborough in logging pay streaks in drilling to 7,404 feet. It is in the C SW SE 20-A21-pal. Anderson-Frithard No. 1 L. H. McCrea, C NE NE 1-A48-pal, extending the original Fullerton pool one mile southwest, was finished at 7,211 feet for 205.20 barrels daily.

Shell No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones, which last week extended the Russell field in northwestern Gaines county one mile south and a quarter mile west, drilled ahead from 7,600 feet in search of more Clear Fork line pay.

Sinclair Prairie No. 1 Seth Campbell, north central Winkler county wildcat C SW SW 11-B5-pal, topped the Ellenburger low at 12,045 feet, 9,176 feet below sea level, and showed a small amount of oil in fractures in hard dolomite recovered from a core from 12,049-059 feet. Drillstem testing was scheduled.

Gulf spotted No. 2-T John H. Edwards, estate in northeastern Ward county, 330 from the south, 3,696 feet from the east line of James M. Andrews survey 6. The proposed 6,000-foot test, intended to explore the Tubb zone of the Clear Fork will be 1 3-4 miles northwest of Gulf No. 1-B Edwards, 9,609-foot Ellenburger failure recently abandoned.

Stevenson Writes Head Of PFEPC

DALLAS, June 9 (AP) — Four questions dealing with work of the president's fair employment practices committee in Texas are posed in a letter from Gov. Coke R. Stevenson to Leonard M. Brin, Dallas, regional director of the PFEPC, a copy of which has been received by the Dallas Morning News.

Questions asked in Stevenson's letter were:

"1. By what authority do you conduct your activities in Texas?"

"2. What is the scope of your operations and what is the object sought?"

"3. Do the purpose of your activities include the violation of any of the segregation laws of this state?"

"4. Is it the purpose to establish policies which are in violation of state laws?"

In the letter to Brin, Stevenson said that "reports have been made to the effect that you are engaged in activities which countenance an open violation and defiance" of some of the Texas laws providing for segregation of white and colored races; "that you are engaged in a conspiracy to violate some of these laws; That the policies you are advocating, if adopted generally, would result in nullification of several such laws."

Byrd Has Sound Grip On Lead

By FRITZ HOWELL
PHILADELPHIA, June 10 (AP)—Except for the formality of playing an 18-hole round of golf tomorrow, Sam Byrd of Detroit was all set today to pocket $6,700 in war bonds.

The former New York Yankee outfielder held a seven-stroke lead at the end of 54 holes in the $17,500 Philadelphia Inquirer 72-hole medal play invitational tournament—and with him in his present putting groove, no one is going to catch him in the short stretch drive.

Sam closed around the Torressdale-Frankford 71-par layout today in 69 strokes, despite a rainstorm which threatened to wash out the third round of the event. That round, second best of the day, gave him 283 for 54 holes, or 11 under par for the route.

Craig Wood, the duration national open champ from Mansaroneck, N. Y., skidded to 73 today from his sensational 66 or yesterday, but clung to second place with 209. The blond star lost four strokes to par on the last three holes.

Deadlocked in third place with 210 were Byron Nelson, former national open and P.G.A. king from Toledo, O., who romped in with a 69 today, and Sgt. E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of the Army and Little Rock, Ark., who fashioned a three-under par 68 today.

Harold (Jug) McSpaden, Philadelphia's heavy money winner of the winter tour, ran into a flock of three-putt greens and took a 73 for a 213 total, and Bob Hamilton, north-south winner from Evansville, Ind., also had a 73 for a 214 count.

County Hires A Librarian

A full-time licensed county librarian, Doris Nesbitt of Austin, was employed by Howard county commissioners in a special session called Saturday afternoon by Judge James T. Brooks.

Announcement also was made Saturday afternoon that the long-postponed opening of the county library will take place in the near future. The library is to be opened as soon as Kathryn Varner, part-time librarian, returns from a short vacation which she is taking following close of the Big Spring school term.

Miss Varner, who has been preparing for the library's opening in addition to her school duties, will work full time until Sept. 1. She is librarian at Big Spring high school.

Miss Nesbitt is assistant librarian in the Texas state library at Austin and will continue in her position there until Sept. 1, when the appointment here will become effective. She is a graduate of Texas State College for Women, with a degree in library science, and a graduate of the Louisiana State University library school. She has been assistant librarian at Austin two years.

The library here is to be located in the red brick building at the corner of Third street and Scurry.

Five Killed In Hillsboro Crash

HILLSBORO, June 10 (AP)—Five persons, all Navy personnel, were reported killed today in a plane crash six miles east of Hillsboro.

It was one of the worst plane crashes in history for the Hillsboro area. Aboard the plane were four men and a woman.

An eyewitness said the tail of the plane fell off about a half mile from the crash. The plane did not burn.

A unit from the Waco army air field took charge of the plane and bodies. Names of the victims and their station were withheld.

Cards Slaughter Reds, 18 To 0, Pirates Win

CINCINNATI, June 10 (AP)—Bill Loehman, who used to beat the Cincinnati Reds regularly as a New York Giant, was no help today in his first effort for the Reds as the St. Louis Cardinals blasted him in the second inning and coasted ahead to a 18 to 0 victory on 21 hits and 14 walks.

Six runs came in during the second, with the Cards more than batting around and chasing Ed Heuser as well as Loehman. Buck Fausett, versatile minor leaguer whom the Reds brought up as a third baseman this year, finally got the last two outs.

Oddly enough, not an extra base hit was registered in the inning and even though Eddie Miller set up the first score by throwing the ball to an unoccupied base, all the runs were earned. Seven singles in all could be counted.

While Mort Cooper was slapping the Reds down systematically and spacing their hits skilfully, the Cards went on to fatten their batting averages in the latter innings. A single by Danny Litwiler and a double by George Fallon made a run in the fourth, and a double by Johnny Hopp and a couple of files another in the fifth.

They scored again in the sixth on a walk, a single, and a fly, another in the seventh, two in the eighth, and a last-shot cluster of five in the ninth on six walks and a pair of singles.

PITTSBURGH, June 10 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates jumped on three Chicago pitchers for 18 hits today for a 9 to 4 victory to even their series at a game each and move a game and a half ahead of the Cincinnati Reds to hold second place.

Elementary Grade Summer School Enrollment Set

W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of schools, announced Saturday that enrollment for summer courses in elementary school will be held Monday morning at 9 a. m. at Central Ward and North Ward schools.

Mrs. Julia Minell will enroll students at North Ward and Mrs. S. M. Smith will be in charge of enrollment at Central Ward.

The course has been planned for school students in elementary grades who are weak in major subjects such as reading, spelling, arithmetic and English, according to Blankenship, who added that in no case is the course offered for students to get ahead of their classes.

If enough students enroll at both schools, classes will be held at each, but in case enrollment is not large enough to warrant two separate schools, the courses will be held at Central Ward.

Prices for the eight weeks course are $10, one subject; $13, two subjects; $15, three or more subjects.

Total enrollment for high school summer courses reached 73, according to announcement Saturday by Reta Debenport, principal.

Seventh and eighth grade work is being taught in connection with the regular high school summer course, and students interested in enrollment are asked to see Mrs. M. W. Paulsen in room 108 at the high school Monday morning.

AAFBS Officers Beat Goodfellow

Friday night at San Angelo, the officers of the Big Spring Bombarrier school turned the tables on a highly touted team from Goodfellow Field and copped a 3 to 1 thrifter.

The tilt was the second between the two teams with the Goodfellow officers taking a 9 to 3 victory in the first engagement, played here in Big Spring.

Lt. Dick Bradbeer had to win his own ball game by driving out a double in the sixth frame to score Aulman and Humphreys, then limiting the Goodfellow batters to two hits.

San Angelo made a futile attempt to knot the count in the last half of the sixth by drawing a walk, a wild pitch and a double by Harvey, right fielder for Goodfellow, hit, he tried to stretch his hit into a home run, but was thrown out at home by Brcgan of Big Spring.

Defensive star of the game for the locals was Lt. C. W. Kohler, who relinquished his post at first base to cover the outfield like a wet blanket. From his centerfield position Kohler robbed many of the would be hitters with sensational catches.

Section B Takes 10-Inning Tilt Off Guards, 9-4

Section A forged back into leadership of the Big Spring Bombarrier school enlisted men's softball league Friday, but the big news was section B's hard-fought victory over the station Guards.

The tilt went 10 innings, three over regulation time, before Section B got the nod, 9-4. It was the longest game of the season.

Section A had two big innings to plaster Maintenance and Supply 5-7, having held the lead for the way. Dunham was warm for the A boys, whiffing six M&S batters while Bredemeyer could get out only three A hitters by this route.

Ramey and Barbour were the hitting stars of the section B victory, Ramey getting a pair of doubles and Barbour one. Harrell fanned two Guards and Reich, Section B twirler, could retire only one Guard cleaner. The game was featured by air tight fielding.

Midland-Angelo Service By CAL Starts Monday

Continental Air Lines will inaugurate flights to Midland-Odessa and San Angelo on Monday, completing the links in the airline's route from El Paso to San Antonio, it was announced here Saturday by Frank Davidson, CAL station manager.

Davidson was notified by O. R. Hauter, CAL vice-president in charge of operations.

Expressing satisfaction on the amount of traffic already generated by the line, which has had stops at Big Spring since May 20, Paul J. Carmichael, traffic manager, said that the addition of the two other cities doubtless would increase the volume of travel.

Under existing schedules, San Angelo will be served by two round-trip schedules daily, one bearing a fuel stop on the direct flight from El Paso to San Antonio. Midland, like Big Spring, will have one stop daily. In all three cities CAL will be utilizing army landing facilities.

BETZ AND SEGURA SEEDED TOPS IN NAT'L CLAY COURT TOURNAMENT

DETROIT, June 10 (AP)—Pauline Betz, the strawberry blonde from Los Angeles, and colorful little Francisco (Pancho) Segura of Miami, Fla., were top-seeded today in the 34th national clay court tournament that opens a week's stand Monday at the Detroit tennis club.

Miss Betz, who added the clay court title last year at Detroit to her two national lawn championships, was placed atop a list of eight seeded players. Nancy Corbett of River Forest, Ill., 1943 runnerup to Miss Betz, was ranked seventh, indicating the high quality of the feminine field.

Segura, dashed Ecuadorian with the two-figed drive, drew the top spot ahead of Billy Talbert of Indianapolis, who lost a four-set final match last year to Seymour Greenberg of Chicago. Greenberg, now an army air force lieutenant at Lowry Field, Colo., was unable to arrange leave to seek his third successive clay title.

Doris Hart of Miami is No. 4 behind Miss Betz, followed in order by Dorothy May Bundy, New York; Mary Arnold, Los Angeles; Shirley Fry, Akron, O.; Catherine Wolf, Elkhart, Ind.; Miss Corbett, and Constance Clifton of Miami.

Segura and Talbert are followed by Rex Norris of Lansing, Mich.; Ray Gibson, Hobart Wrobel and Hubert Masire of Detroit; and Richard Warner and Robert Lewis of Salt Lake City.

HERE'S A TIRE YOU CAN GET

HERE'S HOW TO GET IT

You don't need a ration certificate. You don't need much money. But you must take your tire dealer a good sound tire carcass—one that's ready for recapping and one that's worthy of recapping without danger of wasting precious rubber. Then he can solve your problem in a hurry. You can keep your car on the road, doing its part to prevent a major transportation breakdown and that's more important now than ever.

Here's why. New tires to go 'round are still a long way off. Yet 4 out of 5 who ride to work must ride in private cars because public transportation is already carrying a peak load. The one way out is to make your present tires last indefinitely. Spare the carcass—save the tire—recap in time.

SPARE THE CARCASS AND SAVE THE TIRE

- 1 Drive only when necessary. Ask yourself "Am I playing too long with my lighting meter?"
- 2 Keep under 35 miles per hour. The government regulations for wartime driving is doubly important now.
- 3 Keep tires inflated to recommended pressure (usually 32 lbs. for passenger cars).
- 4 Drive carefully . . . avoid hitting holes in the road, ruts or curbs. Avoid sudden starts and stops—"jack rabbit" driving tends of previous rubber.
- 5 Consult your tire service man. Inspect tires for damage and slow leaks . . . make repairs promptly . . . check brakes and wheel alignment . . . retread tires from wheel to wheel every 5,000 miles.
- 6 Report bad spots in streets or highways to the proper authorities.
- 7 Spare your gas—in spare both tires and gasoline.
- 8 Recap before it's too late. Tire recapping is done as the tread wears smooth. Get expert advice.

northwest of Subico. The cutting up of the German 14th army was providing the great drama for the moment, however. Observing that stragglers and deserters were continually being picked up "from all manner of units," the Allied spokesman said that the only organized body of troops yet met here were from the 20th Luftwaffe field division, hastily rushed from Denmark to Italy.

Water Outlook Still Serious

Local water consumption is up to around a million and a half gallons per day again, indicating that recent rains have made Big Springers too optimistic in their outlook on the local water situation. The problem is practically the same, despite recent rains, and according to B. J. McDaniel, city manager, the shortage is serious. Even though there is still some water in the Powell lake which has been used since Monday, the supply can not last long. When it is exhausted, the city will shift back to section 33, which is the backbone of the city well supply. Thus citizens are reminded of the seriousness of the situation, and are asked to not use any water unnecessarily.

HEAD START
BROWNSVILLE, June 10 (AP)—With a $150,000 head start on the Fifth War Loan Drive already recorded, Brownsville staged a military parade today as a preliminary to the drive's official start Monday.

Used Car Ceiling Prices Fixed

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Price ceilings for all used passenger automobiles, under consideration by the Office of Price Administration for over a year, go into effect July 10 at levels generally of January, 1944. Price Administrator Chester Bowles, announcing the new regulation at a news conference today, said the ceilings would roll-back prevailing prices an average of 10 per cent. The measure covers sales by private owners as well as dealers. The regulation fixes maximum prices for 23 makes and about 6,000 models manufactured from 1937 through 1942. Ceilings for 1942 models are the same as maximum prices for 1937-41 models are fixed at January, 1944 levels. Two sets of ceilings were established for each model and body type, one on "as is" price and the other a "warranty" price for cars guaranteed to be in good condition.

In the sale of a warranted car, 25 per cent or $100, whichever is higher, may be added to the "as is" price. Private owners are required to sell cars at "as is" prices or less. To allow for depreciation, ceilings will drop at the rate of four per cent of the "as is" price every six months. To enforce the ceilings, the regulation provides that a transfer certificate filled out by both buyer and seller must be filed by each buyer with his local rationing board. The regulation permits additions to ceiling prices for extra equipment, such as $10 for any heater and $20 for any radio.

The Week

with its scant supply, has proven a life saver. While the city is pulling from it, needed well repairs are being effected—and best of all, the over-produced wells are being given a rest. Reports on the tuberculin tests are in now, and only three active cases were among more than 2,700 tested. However, there were a substantially larger number of arrested cases located. It was shown too that the per centage of positive tests is abnormally high among our Latin-American section. That ought to be plain handwriting on the wall. We either bring up the standard of living in that area or we will be paying for it in poor health—and thus in poorer citizens.

Texarkana Chosen As Opening Site Because It Was Typical City

Why was Texarkana chosen as focal point for opening of the Fifth War Loan drive? The answer to that question was given in a press release received Saturday from Texarkana. The war finance chairman of Miller county, Ark., and Bowie county, in which Texarkana is located, reviewed the extensive part the city is playing in the war deciding Texarkana was a typical American community "doing its level best for freedom and glory." They talked to Congressman Wright Patman from Texarkana and Patman talked to treasury department chiefs. War finance administrators of the Texarkana region gave their endorsement. Culmination of the day's send-off will be Secretary Morgenthau's participation in a radio program to be broadcast from Texarkana to the nation and fighting fronts. Producer will be Orson Welles.

Eisenhower

to his brother after the speech, quipped "I never do that. Never do and never will; never have and never shall." At opening of his speech, Eisenhower described June 6, 1944, as "a day so momentous in the history of civilization that the human mind simply cannot comprehend it in the short time we have had." The real American victory was achieved after the Dec. 7, 1941 stab in the back, when the country, which before had been divided, soft, weak, sometimes cynical and apathetic, made up its mind to see things through to the end, no matter what the cost, he said. He cited forward steps toward the "victory of mind" needed to assure freedom. First, he praised the manner in which Americans received the news, "thoughtfully, sincerely even prayerfully." Second, he praised a quality "inherent in the army itself" in that people of all walks of life "have learned to cooperate to get the job done with judgment, unity and tolerance."

"A small but significant example of that cooperation," he said, are the bombardiers, pilots and gunners in Saturday's graduating class—a team dependent one upon the other." He cited examples of military cooperation in battles and said, "the most significant cooperation of all is inherent in the allied set-up itself." His third example of types of cooperation was that "between military and civilian forces." While the allies won a glorious military victory in Italy, "something else happened, too," he said, the Italian civilian population lending its aid. He said that before this war the European interpretation of the American was built upon motion pictures and said, honest, clean, sober, hard-working men are taking a new impression to the rest of the world. He concluded by stressing importance of qualities learned in training.

"You are gaining not only knowledge, but you have gained the habit of using judgment, which is so critical in this war and makes the American soldier so superior to the German. You have learned the lessons of cooperation, understanding, tolerance, wisdom and judgment... the very qualities needed to make peace work. You who come back will be the ones to take charge of government, industry, agriculture, and I for one shall not worry about the future of America."

The graduation service also marked the first appearance of Col. John P. Kenny, commanding officer, before the class. Col. Kenny introduced the speaker. The program included invocation by Chaplain Emeric Lawrence; song by the graduating class; administration of oath of office, Capt. Pierre W. Curie; award of wings, Col. Kenny; French national anthem, post orchestra, response, 2nd Lt. H. E. Stone; "Star Spangled Banner"; post orchestra; benediction, Chaplain Lawrence. Honor graduates were August C. Palumba, Chicago, best bombardier; Donald J. Ferris Tacoma, Wash. best athlete; Rob C. Mitchell, Milford, Conn.; best academic record, and Lt. Stone, best soldier. Lt. Stone was wing commander and president of the Cadet Honor-ary council.

Vet Benefits Bill Approved

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—A joint congressional committee settled all its differences today and unanimously approved a broad legislative program of benefits for the veterans of this war. Expected ratification of the compromise next week will send the legislation to the White House for presidential action. Arrangements have been made to lay it before the senate Monday and the house Tuesday or Thursday. Under the bill, men and women returning from the war will be entitled to hospitalization, educational assistance, aid in getting jobs and unemployment compensation. The cost has been estimated at $3,000,000,000 to $6,500,000,000. Only one revision, dealing with job placement, was in dispute when the senate-house conferees got together this morning, but for the first ballot was thirteen to one to accept the senate's idea of putting job placement under the U. S. E. employment Service to avoid setting up a whole new agency in the veterans administration.

To obtain senate provisions on job placement, the conferees had to accept a house proposal that any benefits a veteran gets under the "G.I. bill of rights" be deducted from any bonus granted him after the war.

After almost two years' duty overseas, PO 1-C Martin H. Brown arrived home Saturday for a short leave before proceeding to Chicago to report Saturday (June 17) for advanced training. He is the son of County Commissioner J. E. Brown. He was stationed in Australia immediately before returning to the states. He is a graduate of Garner high school and former student of San Angelo junior college.

The county clerk's office has announced absentee ballots will be mailed as soon as available to men in service who have applied and are eligible. General civilian absentee balloting is to open July 2. Hunter Strain, San Angelo contractor, is to begin work by July 1 on a re-topping and paving project for which contract was granted recently, Judge James T. Brooks said Saturday. A total of 20.2 miles of old paving is to be re-topped and approximately five and one-half miles of new paving laid. The project will include work in all four county precincts. Dudley Mann, Martin-Howard district supervisor of the Soil Conservation Service, and Gordon Stone of near Stanton, secretary of Martin-Howard district board, are to attend a district supervisors' meeting in San Angelo Wednesday. A total of $6,948 in dairy feed payments has been issued during the last two weeks by the county AAA office. The payments were given for March and April sales of 861 pounds of butterfat.

HD Club Studies The Preservation Of Food

"Food Spoilage Preservation" was the subject of study of members of the Luther Home Demonstration club when they met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Edward Simpson. Rhea Merle Boyles, county H. D. agent, was guest speaker. She discussed the causes of food spoilage, offering several illustrations to the group for observation. She emphasized that spoilage is caused by underprocessing, poor sealing, poor quality food, and faulty or inadequate equipment. Reports were given by members on their poultry flocks, and Lulu Coleman spoke on egg cookery. Buying and making women's work clothes was the topic of a talk by Mrs. W. D. Anderson. Guests present were Mrs. Allen McClintock and Doyleene Coats, and members attending were Mrs. M. B. Coats, Mrs. Akin Strupson, Mrs. Alden Ryan, Mrs. Alton Smith, Mrs. Norvin Smith, Mrs. W. D. Anderson, Lulu Coleman, Rhea Merle Boyles, and the hostess. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Alton Smith, Thursday, June 22.

FDR Supporters Seek Ballot Spot

AUSTIN, June 10 (AP)—Texas pro-Roosevelt forces prepared today to march on Dallas where they will attempt to persuade the state democratic executive committee Monday to submit the fourth term issue to the party's voters in the July primary. They had two specific demands: 1. That the executive committee certify the names of their 23 electors—fully identified as favoring re-nomination of President Roosevelt—for printing on the primary ballot;

2. That the committee also submit a referendum on the question of legislation which would bind the presidential electors of any political party to vote for that party's nominee in the electoral college. It appeared doubtful that there would be enough signatures on a petition to be presented to the committee to force it under existing statutes to submit the referendum matter. Mayor Tom Miller of Austin said that while he had not made a full tabulation of the number of signers to petitions which were circulated over the state on the referendum matter, he did not think there were yet the 50,000 needed.

D-Day Increases Need Of Bandage Workers In Local Red Cross Room

Every wound must be dressed—not just some wounds, or certain wounds, but all wounds, large and small, must be dressed and dressed often. . . . This will prove even more so since the invasion has begun and D-Day has arrived.

Reminders like that, in letters from overseas, keep the volunteers of the Howard-Glasscock Counties Red Cross chapter loyal to their task of surgical dressing making these hot days, according to Mrs. Bernard Fisher, surgical dressings production chairman.

Since D-Day, workers should have been pouring in, but still only the old reliables are included in the attendance. Where are the patriot women of Big Spring who are needed so badly?

"The great quantities used are indicated by the official statement that as many as 1,000 surgical dressings are sometimes needed in treating one seriously wounded man," said the Red Cross chairman.

Mrs. Fisher said that since the folding of surgical dressings started here in August 1942, 385,000 have been completed and shipped to military medical depots.

From North Africa came this word: "Words cannot tell how much we appreciate the surgical dressings. . . ."

What words will come from France? Will Big Spring women be responsible for praise received from these fighting men?

Mrs. Fisher said that the armed forces have asked the Red Cross to supply more than a billion surgical dressings this year.

"The great quantities used are indicated by the official statement that as many as 1,000 surgical dressings are sometimes needed in treating one seriously wounded man," said the Red Cross chairman.

Special Services Planned at Church

Two special services have been planned for today at the First Methodist church by the pastor the Rev. H. Clyde Smith.

At morning services he will speak on the invasion, and his text will be "Blessed is He That Cometh in the Name of the Lord." The purpose of this sermon will be to comfort the relatives of the fighting men in France. Cornelia Frazier will sing "Behold, What Manner of Love."

At the evening services Rev. Smith is beginning a unique revival. Instead of having services every night for two weeks, he will have them for 12 Sunday evenings during the summer, beginning tonight.

Lt. Edwin Wade will lead the congregation in the singing of old hymns, and the men's chorus will sing a number.

Evening services begin at 8:30.

The Monday evening French class will not meet this Monday, due to the formal flag day dance.

In observance of flag day, the USO is sponsoring a formal dance Monday evening in the garden. All service personnel, their wives and dates, and junior hostesses are invited. The Tuesday GSO girls will decorate the garden with flags and bunting Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The USO wishes to take this opportunity of thanking the civilian square dance team that has helped instruct the service men in square dancing. Due to the heat, square dancing will be discontinued for the summer, and a Thursday group of hostesses will be organized to help with entertainment on Thursdays.

Firemen Didn't Know Beans About This

City firemen answered a call to North West Fourth street Friday. Firemen off duty had been notified, and with all the clang and noise that goes with a call, they pulled up to the house prepared to do something about the smoke which billowed out the windows. Fighting their way through the thick haze to the kitchen. . . they discovered a Mexican girl had burned some beans.

Start Toward Victory

We Americans are a peculiar people. We are imaginative, determined, resourceful and responsive. We are easily stirred to optimism.

Thus it is, after less than a week of invasion, there exists a popular notion that everything is signed and sealed and that there is no longer a question of outcome, only one of time.

Certainly the spectacular landings by our airborne troops and the subsequent naval landings in the face of strong enemy opposition; certainly the teamwork displayed between air, navy and land forces; certainly the ingenuity and perfection with which our leaders planned the long-awaited stroke all are causes for rejoicing and pride.

The announcement that the campaign is progressing against resistance not up to expectation and that the landings were made with far less loss than anticipated are cause for thanks.

But, none should accept any or all of these developments as cause for unrestrained optimism. Read accounts of correspondents who went in against seas so heavy that they swamped our boats and drowned our men before they ever touched French soil. Follow stories of our men going into a death wave of fire on beaches whose fortifications could not be reduced because of adverse weather. Consider that some of our units were virtually driven back into the sea in spots with shocking losses.

The military looks at the whole picture in appraising the results of its campaign, and not at these smaller actions, adverse though they may be. In the larger sense losses have been lighter than expected and progress as well or better than we hoped.

If progress has been as good or better than we hoped, consider then the rate of advance in carving out our beachhead area. Then look at a map. We are still a long way from Paris; we are far removed from even the Rhine and Germany; and we are a whole of a long way from Berlin, our ultimate objective.

Yes, we have made a great and admirable start—but only a start. The road is long and the losses yet will continue until we have crushed the enemy. Do not discount his resistance. He is fighting for his existence; we are fighting for victory. He will fight out of desperation; we will fight with righteous determination. He will loose and we will win.

The rally has been started, but we are still out on the 50-yard line. Everyone of us, as members of the great allied team, must work, pray and pay to help us push over the winning score.

Narcotic Verbalisms

By FRANK GRIMES
Herald Staff Writer

In the Chicago Daily News Howard Vincent O'Brien refers to what he styles "narcotic verbalisms," and suggests that "they are habit forming and dangerous." Samples of narcotic verbalisms submitted by O'Brien: Bureaucracy, payroll, free enterprise.

O'Brien got started on this line of thought by trying to define a capitalist. Capitalists are always said to be "bloated."

"As a matter of fact," observes O'Brien, "capitalists look like other people, for the simple reason that they ARE like other people. They don't get blisters, clipping coupons, but they own life insurance, receive pensions, own homes, and buy war stamps. They rent their money and are therefore most certainly 'capitalists.'"

Hitler and his gang of cutthroats used words as weapons. First they conquered the German people—then they started out to conquer the world, still using words as a principal weapon. Other conquerors before Hitler used the same device, and others after him will do likewise.

It is a sad commentary on human intelligence, education and so-called enlightenment that people singly and en masse are easily terrified or directed or distracted or otherwise made to behave or misbehave by mere words.

Old-fashioned words like liberal and conservative no longer serve. The liberal, according to a conservative, is a wild-eyed radical who wants to turn this country over to the communists. The conservative, according to the liberal, is a mope-back who hasn't changed his mind since his mother quit changing his diapers.

Nine-tenths of the people who use these "narcotic verbalisms" could not define one of them to save their necks. For instance, what is the popular meaning of a politician? One skilled in politics? By no means. A politician is always the other fellow, the one who pursue other methods, travels other roads, in trying to reach the same goal you may be striving for. By the same token, you're a politician to him. It has become a word of opprobrium.

This growing disposition on the part of the American people to permit themselves to be impressed or taken in by words and phrases—narcotic verbalisms—is one of the most distressing and disheartening signs of our times. Surely in this democracy, where for generations people have been taught to think and act for themselves, we are not about to degenerate into a rabble which can be tyrannized by mere words.

If we reach the point where we can be narcotized by carefully tailored words, epithets or slogans, or permit our ability to think for ourselves to become atrophied from disuse, then God have mercy on our souls, for we will have lost our most precious heritage—the national habit of tackling our problems fearlessly, with both feet on the ground and our heads out of the clouds.

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

Washington— State Not Interested In Politics

By JACK STINNETT

OMAHA, Neb.—This bustling, war-busy state is probably taking less interest in politics than any other in the nation. There's good reason for it. Nebraska does not elect a senator this year. Its four Republican congressmen, three of whom won by overwhelming majorities and the fourth by a substantial one in 1942 have all been renominated. In the last two elections, the state has gone Republican by majorities of 100,000 or more.

Republican Gov. Dwight Griswold has been renominated and his reelection is freely predicted, but therein lies the state's political chink.

Gov. Griswold's opponent is George W. Olsen, "food expeditor" at the Fort Crook, Neb., Martin bomber plant near here. The 62 year-old war worker, without making any other bid than merely filing for the nomination upset the state Democratic party machine handily and by 734 votes, beat Pat Heaton, Sidney attorney. Mr. Olsen promises to make one of the most unusual campaigns on record. When he appeared to have his campaign picture taken, he was still wearing his bomber plant work clothes explained he was too busy doing his part to win the war to change. He laid down his platform, which may be boiled down to "win the war with Nebraska, Roosevelt and Olsen." Then to the despair of his party organization he announced he had no intention of making any campaign for election. Why should I campaign?

Olsen asked inquiring political reporters, "I got nominated without campaigning and I'll get elected the same way. Lots of people have told me how to run, my campaign, including the Democratic party. I just tell them your name isn't Olsen, you're not the candidate."

When one of the Democratic national committeemen publicly asked Olsen to withdraw from the race, he refused and countered, "I can carry the state easily and carry President Roosevelt along with me." Maybe Mr. Olsen has something there. He certainly is not without political experience. If running for office is what it takes.

In 1912 he made his first bid, as he remembers, although he can't recall for certain, in a race for state senator. Since then he has run for constable, county commissioner, governor, congressman, and U. S. senator. Mr. Olsen is best known in these parts as the man who for 11 years has been trying to convince scientists and mathematicians that he has squared the circle. Mr. Olsen has laid his formula before the President, the Bureau of Standards in Washington and an eminent group of professors at Creighton University. The latter in person. No one yet has come through with a disapproval of his theorem. The only argument put forward, he says has been that since it was proved so long ago that the circle couldn't be squared.

Today And Tomorrow Liberation Of Our Civilization Turns On Outcome Of Single Battle

By WALTER LIFFMANN

We must now wait through weeks, which may stretch out into months, before the grand design of the battle, and of its progress, emerges from the bits and pieces of news, of rumor and of enemy propaganda that we shall hear. During the suspense, and the anxiety which must inevitably accompany it, we shall have to measure the good news and the bad by fixing in our minds what General Marshall said on the eve of the assault on the coast of Normandy, that "the final action... is now focused on a single battle in which every allied force will be represented."

These few words tell us more of what we need to know, more of what is in the minds of our own commanders, and of the enemy commanders, than we are likely to learn from any other source. After four years of defeat, and then of resistance, and finally of stupendous preparation, the German army, which conquered so much when it could attack the nations one by one, has been brought to a single battle against them all, the Germans can no longer concentrate overwhelming force on one front as they did when they overran first Poland and then Norway and then France and then Yugoslavia, and then so large a part of Soviet Russia.

Upon this fact, that no one of the United Nations separately can defeat the German army, but that in combination they can, rests the plan of the campaign and our confidence in its success. Wars fought by coalitions are notoriously difficult to conduct, and in this one we have learned only too well the heartbreaking difficulties. Here in the summer of 1944 we are engaged in the desperately hard adventure of landing an army in France. In the early spring of 1940 there was a French army of perhaps 3,000,000 men, and a smaller British, and also a Belgian army, drawn up not on the beaches of Normandy but on the frontiers of Germany. If then, to reinforce France, the Russians, and the Americans had been ready or willing to invest even a smallish part of the blood and treasure they are expending since, what a difference it would have made.

This was not to be. It was not to be because inertia and division among the nations had not yet been put to the test of survival.

Only through suffering and extreme danger has the unity of the nations been accomplished. We must remember that, even when we proclaim the epoch-making fact that coalition has been accomplished, and that at the climax of the war it is far closer and stronger than any one dared to believe it could ever become. The spectacle which is now unfolding is awe-inspiring. We see the nations which were formed out of Europe moving in to liberate the ancient continent in which their civilization has its origin. In their geography and in their statehood, the British nations, the Soviet Union and the American republics are not European. But despite all the variations of their separate development, they are the trunks and the branches out of the same root.

They are the heirs of the ancient Mediterranean world where the enduring forms of western civilization were evolved. And though to the east this tradition descends through Byzantium, and in the west through Rome, it is in the end, beneath the schisms and dimensions of 1,000 years, one tradition.

This tradition has been challenged absolutely by the satanic genius of Hitler, supported by the terrible military efficiency of the Prussian-German state. Nothing less than this, perhaps, no challenge less absolute, no power less formidable, could have compelled the jealous and disunited members of western civilization to surmount the separation of centuries. In this final test, which none could evade, they have surmounted it.

As the peril passes, they will tend again to become absorbed in their separate affairs and to go their separate ways. But never again so separately as they did before. The experience is so irrevocable. We are at one of the great turning points; not for much more than 1,000 years have western men fought side by side for the rescue and perpetuation of their civilization, and the memory of this undertaking will illumine the long future, and change all men somewhat.

Hollywood— Work Of Musician Draws Interest

(The winner of the Academy Award for "best scoring of a musical picture"—"This Is the Army"—writes today for Robbins Couss. This is the 12th in a series by award winners.)

HOLLYWOOD — The importance of music in motion pictures is steadily increasing, and it is because of this that the work of the music scorer is drawing more general interest.

The scorer, it must be explained is the man responsible for fitting the music to the picture—an intricate task requiring many steps.

There are several methods of scoring but although there are differences in these methods, they are slight so that basically the methods are the same.

That which I recently employed in scoring "Rhapsody in Blue" is similar to the work of other composer-conductor-orchestrators in charge of scoring for pictures in other studios. This, generally, is the method followed in scoring:

The finished picture is run through an intricate device for the purpose of timing every scene each word of dialogue and every bit of action. From the timing record thus obtained, cue sheets are compiled. Thus the scorer, who has evolved a general plan and created individual themes, again has the picture projected so he can fit in the music reel by reel.

When the score has been orchestrated it is recorded—and this is a bit of business calling for great patience since there can be no error of any sort in the recording.

There are rehearsals, countless rehearsals, before the composer-conductor-orchestrator is satisfied. Here's an example of what the job is like:

Musicians are grouped about the conductor. Here and there in the recording room are sound technicians. The "mixer" (sound) sits in a glass-enclosed booth not far away. The room is thrown into darkness. From a rafter high above, a spotlight is thrown on the conductor. The musicians see only his white baton. They do not see the picture which is being projected on a screen behind them.

The scoring now begins. If there are any physical errors in the performance by the musicians it is recorded again in an attempt to reach perfection.

It is an intricate job. (Monday: Michael Curtis)

Cotton Prices Close 35-40 Points Higher

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP)—Cotton futures, with the exception of the May delivery, moved into new high ground today on mill buying coupled with orders from the south and from commission houses. Closing prices were 35 to 50 cents a bale higher.

Factors behind the rise were senate approval of the Bankhead cotton amendments to price control legislation and the prospects for continued heavy demand for textiles.

VFW COMMANDER BELIEVES SOLDIERS KNOW BETTER HOW, WHY TO FIGHT

American soldiers invading Europe "are better informed and understand better what they are fighting for than we did in the last war," said Jesse A. Thurman, commander of the Big Spring post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"As an ex-soldier of the last war, it is to the best of my knowledge that everything was at the right time, and I feel the boys of today will do a better job than the boys did in 1917 and '18," he said.

"The invading forces have been drilled for the last eight months, and this time they know what they are up against. We were just fighting before. Boys also have better equipment and a more unified command," he said.

Thurman predicts the fight against Germany, "It is my personal belief that this job will be finished by Christmas."

As a veteran, he encouraged preparation at home for returning soldiers. "The people back home will have to reform their idea toward returning soldiers, more especially the disabled ones," he said.

With more than twice as many American soldiers fighting in the present war, the number of disabled will be increased in proportion, he said.

"They don't want anything gratis," he said. "They just want a chance. They don't want folks to turn their backs as if, 'Now, he's done his job. Go on and don't bother me'."

Thurman served almost two years in the U. S. Navy as a ship's cook during the last war. He was injured in action, later returning to duty. He was doing patrol duty off Denmark when the armistice was declared.

VD Case Load Gains In May

The Midland - Ector - Howard county health unit picked up 54 new patients for the venereal disease clinics during the month of May, a summary of the health unity activities reveals.

This brings the patient load to 265, a net gain of 27 for the month, according to figures released by Dr. J. E. Olean, Midland, director. While 54 cases were being added, five were being sent to rapid treatment centers and 22 others were discharged from regular treatment.

Think Fast, Mister Doe
THINK FAST!

If the man who risks his life for $50 a month is a soldier...

And the man who risks nothing and buys BONDS is a patriot...

What is the man who doesn't do either?

He who rates physical exemption may still be a patriot at home.

But he who seeks financial exemption is an enemy of his country.

No law in these United States can make anybody buy a BOND.

That's what the fight's about... the right to say Yes or No.

If we win... you still can do as you like!

If we lose... you'll do as you're told!

SHEKELS for freedom!... or... SHACKLES forever!

Think Fast... Mr. Doe... Think Fast! Buy Bonds!
