Hawks take home 'Rockwall Classic' trophy

Rockwall's Josh Broach (34) scores his third touchdown of the game -- leaving a trail of blockers behind -- while Rockwall-Heath's Dru Mayfield (12) and Brian Foster (12) and the Jackets' Jason Snider (70), Jake Termin (66) give a sign of approval in the background.

Heath quarterback Kevin Rodgers (10) hands the ball off to sophomore running back Dorian Lawry (20) during the Hawks' 55-38 win over Rockwall last Friday. Rodgers passed for 233 yards and three TDs while Lawry rushed for 227 yards and scored five touchdowns.

Jacob's Well of Hope

...but whoever drinks the water I give him will never thirst. The water I give him will become in him a spring of water that will flow up to eternal life."

...our community has radically changed and saved the lives of another community for generations to come. This is the greatest act of love..."

Kay Maxwell

In the summer of 2008, 17-year old Jacob Way traveled on a mission trip to South Africa sponsored by Lake Pointe Church with the goal in mind to reach out to the people of a small South African village in Christian love and compassion. While there on his eight-day mission, Jacob saw a level of poverty he had never seen before-people who wore each day the only clothes they had, and families that lived in small, dingy lean-tos with no electricity and no running water. He saw first-hand the devastating effects of the HIV/AIDS pandemic-heartbreaking pain, fatherless families and motherless children. He saw how villagers struggled mightily each day simply to get the most basic of human needs-the need for clean water. Each day, he watched as village women began a difficult trip along a dirt road to get water from the nearest water source. One day a villager was sadly like the next, with little relief or pleasure that provided by the very welcome visits of compassionate ministry groups like the one from Lake Pointe Church-brief respites from the daily despair.

With these scenes and thoughts weighing heavily on his mind, Jacob returned from his South Africa trip with a compelling personal goal-to raise funds to drill a water well that would provide a clean water source in the village where he ministered, to give the gift of hope for a better life in the years ahead to this South African village in KwaZulu-Natal. According to the World Health Organization, this area has the highest rate of HIV/AIDS in the world.

Upon returning from his trip, Jacob began immediately to work toward making his goal a reality. Among his first steps in gaining support for his cause was the Themba Foundation (themba in Zulu means hope). Themba is a local, faith-based non-profit organization founded in 2006 by Lake Pointe Pastor Steve Stroope and Rockwall businessman Ken Hickman following their own visit to South Africa. The vision of Themba is to provide God's grace, mercy, and hope to the people of South Africa devastated by the HIV/AIDS pandemic in partnership with existing South African ministries. The organization works with faith-based community organizations in South African villages to identify community needs and develop responses that will have a positive impact on the lives of villagers.

The organization's work and Jacob's water well cause were without a doubt a perfect fit of vision and need, and Themba joined Jacob in his mission of hope, enthusiastically devoting its resources and talents to the project. Themba, Lake Pointe Church, and its partners in South Africa then began to work diligently and in tandem from their locations on opposite sides of the globe to coordinate the many details involved in moving the well project from vision to reality.

As the work of Themba, Lake Pointe Church, and its partners in South Africa proceeded through the fall of 2008, Jacob worked as well, even in the busiest of times during his senior year of high school, to raise funds to drill the well. His goal of $5,000, the cost of drilling a simple well from which clean water could be hand-pumped by the South African villagers, seemed a lofty one to most, but he was not deterred from his mission. He worked tirelessly to organize fundraising events and activities-a fundraiser dinner in December, t-shirt and memento sales at schools and in the community, and the Hawks Care campaign, among others. He recruited other teens to work on the project, and students from Rockwall, Rockwall-Heath, Sachse and Community High Schools, as well as Lake Pointe Church, joined him in his fundraising effort. Word of the project spread from teens to adults, and parents, as well as community members, got involved. As the school year drew to a close, Jacob and those who had rallied to the cause learned that the fundraising tally was an astonishing $16,000, more than three times the amount needed to drill a simple water well.

In July of 2009, Jacob traveled again to South Africa with a teen ministry group from Lake Pointe Church to be a part of the year's compassionate outreach effort. This time, however, he traveled with an additional purpose-to be a part of the effort to drill a clean water well. The drilling site near the village was identified in advance of the trip-a challenging site because of the village location on a hillside. The task would be difficult and might take many days, the group was told, because water would be deeper than at lower elevations. Pray, the South African partners advised, that the well, once drilled, can deliver a minimum of 1,000 liters per hour, the minimum required for a successful, productive well to meet the needs of the village.

While Jacob's teen mission group was making its way to South Africa, an adult team from Lake Pointe Church was already on the ground near the drilling site, ministering to the villagers and also finalizing details so that drilling could get started. As it happened, the adult team's last ministry day in the village came on the day that drilling work began. Sadly, it seemed, they would not be there to see the first water brought up from the well since drilling had just begun and an early strike was unlikely. Nevertheless, their spirits were high as drilling began. Team members gathered along with curious villagers to watch with anticipation as the drilling rig rolled in and drilling proceeded throughout their last day in the village.

In late afternoon, drilling took a hopeful turn as the effort began to unearth increasingly moist soil. With that good news in mind, the team members came together for a few moments so that the end of the first drilling day and the end of their last day at the site could be captured on video. As filming began, however, the videographer was distracted by sounds from the drilling area. He panned from the group to the source of the noise. As he did so, he captured the first glorious, breath-taking moments when clean water surfaced from the well. A water strike on Day One? Incredible! The water spilled out of the hole, spread across the dry earth, ran wonderfully along the ground, and then began to shoot up into the air as drillers worked to put the cap in place. As the water flowed, tears flowed as well and smiles spread across every face. A joyous celebration ensued. Again, incredible!

The adult team parted from the celebrating villagers on the day following the water strike, but more celebration was yet to come in the village. A week after the adult team's departure, Jacob and the Lake Pointe teen ministry group made their way to the well site from their ministry location in a rural area several miles away. Jacob's excitement mounted as his van approached the village. When he arrived, he straightaway made his first and very emotional visit to the well. It was a time of almost unbearable joy and hope for him and for his group as well as for the villagers. Jacob's words to his Facebook group upon return from his trip expressed his feelings better than any other.

"It was the most beautiful thing I have and will ever see on this side of Heaven. I dipped my hand in the cool water. After our team prayed around the well, I crumbled back to the ground and wept. And I'm not at all ashamed to admit that. I am proud to say I was a

As fall made its sudden appearance recently by bringing cooler temperatures to the area, the downtown Rockwall square bloomed with fall colors as a crew of volunteers decorated for the season and upcoming events. Here, Sigrid Jackson (left) of Coldwell Banker Apex Realtors and Rockwall Main Street volunteer Patti Muggeo helped arrange bales of hay, pumpkins, garlands and friendly scarecrows near the Historic Courthouse. Also on hand to help the square put on its best fall face were Claudette Hatfield, Kathy Vinci and Barbara, all Friends of Downtown Rockwall volunteers and Rockwall Main Street supporters.

H.J. Ralles presents writing workshop at Springer Elementary

Springer Elementary fourth graders had the privilege of collaborating with author H.J. Ralles on Tuesday, Sept. 15, at a writing workshop at the school. She conducted a writing workshop with the students in preparation for the traditional TAKS writing test given later in the school year.

Ralles is the author of a series of books, such as "Keeper of the Kingdom," "Darok 9" and a new book, "The Curse of Charron."

Ralles demonstrated how to make a Creativity Box filled with thrilling writing ideas. Each student created their own box with unique ideas for future use. In these boxes were outstanding titles, unusual characters and exceptional pictures of settings. Students cut out different ideas from newspapers and magazines to use later in their writing. Many imaginative ideas and stories will emerge from this excellent workshop.

put the cap in place. As the water flowed, tears flowed and smiles spread across every face. A joyous celebration. Again, incredible!

The adult team parted from the celebrating villagers following the water strike, but more celebration was yet to come. A week after the adult team's departure, Jacob's Well Lake Pointe teen ministry group made their way to the well. Their ministry location in a rural area several miles away from excitement mounted as his van approached the village. He straightaway made his first and very emotional trip to the well. It was a time of almost unbearable joy and hope for his group as well as for the villagers. Jacob's Well Facebook group upon return from his trip expressed his gratitude more than any other.

"It was the most beautiful thing I have and will ever experience on the side of Heaven. I dipped my hand in the cool water. After I prayed around the well, I crumbled back to the ground. And I'm not at all ashamed to admit that. I am proud to be a part of this complete mess...."

"Truly our community has radically changed and saved another community for generations to come. This is the best of love we can do. Give the extra that we have to improve the lives of others. And love our neighbor (even on another continent) and love ourselves."

And there is no doubt that Jacob's well has dramatically changed the lives and the future of those living in his South African village. An abundant supply of water is now available to all who need it. The well is producing an astounding 5,000 liters per hour. Beyond the 1,000 liters for which they prayed. Though the well design called for a labor-intensive, time-consuming mechanism, the surprising fundraising success supported the construction of an electronic pump to bring water to the surface. Not only have an abundant supply of water now, they have access as well. Moreover, a local supply of clean water has given the village hope of good medical care for those who are in need of life-sustaining care for the many there who are so grateful for the construction of a permanent clinic. Lake Pointe Church now that water is available for its use will provide assistance for HIV/AIDS victims and those who are unable to travel the long distance to the nearest medical facility.

What a transforming difference Jacob's work in his village has made in the lives and the future of villagers in another part of the world! Surely, our community is blessed with that community in saying to Jacob, "Well done, good and faithful servant."

(See the video and share the moment of the water strike at www.youtube.com/watch?v=4RHcOg4w4NM).

Brad Kirk and Connor Epstein are shown exchanging high-fives before the school day gets under way at Amy Parks-Heath Elementary. Kirk is part of the Captains' Club, which is a group of Amy Parks fathers who greet students as they arrive for school. The fathers, who volunteer one or two mornings each month, also help students who are tardy get to class and visit classrooms to read books or tell stories.

Galaxy Ranch, B&G Club team up for book drive

Galaxy Ranch School is holding its annual book fair this year, and sidelining the event effort that will benefit the Boys & Girls Club of Rockwall. The book fair will run through the month of October, with the highlight set for Thursday at the open house. Parents who attend the open house can donate books to the Boys & Girls Club's book list, which is available at the school lobby, or donate to the open house with information about the Boys & Girls Club of Rockwall County. Donations will be accepted throughout the week. Many of the club's books have been discarded recently because of age and wear, and with an increased enrollment at the Boys & Girls Club there is an increased need for new books. "We want all children to have access to books, especially when they are learning to read," said Alicia Larsen, who co-owns Galaxy Ranch School with her husband, Brad. "This is a great opportunity for our school and our students to help in an area-wide effort."

Alicia Larsen said. The Boys & Girls Club of Rockwall County is a private nonprofit youth development agency for grades 1-12. The club offers after-school programs and a community center for youths ages 6-18. Galaxy Ranch Private School offers preschool for ages 18 months through private kindergarten, as well as before- and after-school programs for children in grades 1-6 with transportation from most Rockwall ISD campuses. For more information on the book fair visit galaxyranch-school.com or call 972-772-9798.

The First Presbyterian Church of Rockwall sponsored a youth mission trip to Hugo, Okla., over the Labor Day weekend. The students and adults pictured above traveled to Goodland Academy to interact with the children who live there. Goodland was founded in 1848 as a mission of the Presbyterian Church and today serves as a private boarding school for children aged 6-18. The 30 students live in cottages and are looked after by Christian couples that serve as surrogate mothers and fathers. The students participate in work programs, generally stay through high school and are encouraged to attend college.

Rodgers throws for 3TDs, Lawry runs for 5 as Heath swats Rockwall 55-38

McGillen
ALL - With most of the pre-game discussion surrounding Heath's defense could somehow slow down Rockwall's punting back Josh Broach, it took just over two minutes for the offense to make a statement that it too would play a part.

For quarterback Kevin Rodgers shredding the Jackets through sophomore Dorian Lawry running wild on the ground, the Hawks went 55 yards in seven plays in just 2:15 to take on Lawry's 12-yard run on the game's opening possession, an initial drive ended when Broach was stuffed for no gain on four at the Heath 25.

45 and 75 yards later the Hawks were up 14-0 after Rodgers and Broach for a 25-yard touchdown.

g a three-and-out by the Jackets, Heath needed just six plays (4-0) when Lawry broke free up the middle, shrugged off a final 10 and strolled into the end zone from 29 yards out with the first quarter.

point, Rockwall was forced go away from its running game and up through the air.

senior completing all three of his passes for 34 yards before off to Broach, who showed his speed by outracing the Hawks to the end zone to make it 21-7 with 0:18 to play in the opening quarts came right back, though, with Rodgers driving the Hawks on only five plays, connecting with Cameron Wilson for a 38-yard push to the 28-7.

ll countered by engineering a 72-yard drive, that ended with his scoring toss down the middle of the Heath defense to Broach to lead back to 28-14.

ll went 4-for-4 for 71 of those yards, with Broach running for took Heath four snaps to make it a three-TD lead again, how-in Rodgers connected with Ryan Peterson for a 46-yard, catch that featured a pair of missed Rockwall tackles.

Jackets can't stop Hawks in 55-38 loss

By Lary Bump
Rockwall's defense went more than half the game without stopping Rockwall-Heath Friday night. When the Yellowjackets finally did make a stop, their special teams fumbled away the Hawks' punt.

A few turning points built up to a not-even-that-close 55-38 loss in a game that was not pretty for Rockwall (2-3 overall, 1-1 in District 10-4A).

The first turning point came during the opening minute. The Hawks (4-1, 2-0) had third down, needing six yards for a first down, at their 49 yard line.

Instead of making a defensive stop that might have said, "Not in our house," RHS gave up Kevin Rodgers' 26-yard pass to Clark Pope that instead left the message: "You may be on the other side of the field, but you're still kind of at home."

Rockwall-Heath scored two plays later on Dorian Lawry's 11-yard run.

Coming off a 42-point game at Roysse City, the Jackets figured they could score with the Hawks. But Rockwall's first possession ended on another turning point, a fourth-and-four play on which R-H stopped Del Myles for no gain.

The Hawks flew downfield twice more to take a 21-0 lead just 9 minutes, 16 seconds into the game.

"Heath's a very good football team," said Jackets head coach Scott Smith. "They got after us. I compliment Coach (Mickey) Moss and their kids."

For this game, the Jackets knew they didn't have to worry about Kendial Lawrence, who ran for 291 yards and five touchdowns in last season's 38-21 Hawks victory on their way to the District 10-4A title. Lawrence now is playing as a freshman at the University of Missouri.

However, Rockwall didn't account for sophomore Lawry, who did his best Lawrence imitation with 227 yards and five TDs of his own.

Smith said, "Lawry didn't surprise me. Not one thing surprised me about this game. I have great respect for their offensive line. We've got to get off blocks and make plays."

Lawry scored three of those touchdowns in the first half to help the Hawks to a 41-21 lead. RHS still had a chance to get back in the game by scoring after the second-half kickoff.

That drive also stalled at Rockwall-Heath's 5 yard line. Ted Gates kicked his first field goal, from 22 yards out, to cut the deficit to 41-24.

A bigger problem on that drive might have come when Josh Broach ran for an 18-yard gain down the right sideline. He tried to hurdle a tackler, but was flipped and landed on his back. Broach, whose three first-half touchdowns, increased his season total to 14, returned to carry the ball six more times but wasn't effective and left the game for good before the fourth quarter. He totaled 122 yards in 23 carries.

Smith said the coaching and training staff would be evaluating Broach on Monday, going into Thursday's 7 p.m. game against R.L. Turner at Standridge Stadium in Carrollton.

"A guy like him or like Lawry, they take some hits and some bruises all over their body," Smith said.

The picture looked brighter on the ensuing kickoff, which Lawry fell on at the 1 yard line. Three plays later, the Hawks punted for the first time. Rodgers sailed a high punt that Rockwall's Will Beasley chased back across midfield - and dropped. The Hawks recovered the ball at the Jackets' 47 and drove in to Lawry's fourth touchdown.

After that, the teams traded long touchdown plays. The Jackets scored on Myles' 56-yard run, which put him at 100 yards in a game for the second time this season, and Beasley's 69-yard reception from Adam Dingwell.

RHS' quarterback was playing with a sore ankle as the result of an injury during Wednesday's practice. He couldn't move well with the ball, but he completed 15 of 24 passes for 253 yards.

Myles carried just eight times but rolled up 103 yards.

Smith said, "I'm proud of Del Myles. He's beginning to grow up. Without a doubt we continued to block well. Our center, Jake Termin, played well. Chris Tanner and the others helped us run the ball very effectively. We got good blocking downfield from our receivers - Scott Loy, Will Beasley, Luke Wardell, Reed Loftis."

Rockwall's offense clearly wasn't the problem. Defensively, well... Smith said, "The biggest thing for us is to work on the things we need work on."

8 Lewis, Mustangs too much for Bulldogs as Royse City falls 55-14 to Richardson Pearce

By Gillen
 SON - Unable to slow down the Mustangs' prolific offense, Royse City Bulldogs lost their fifth consecutive game, falling to Richardson Pearce 55-14 in District 10-4A action last Friday.
 The Bulldogs are now 0-2 in district and 0-5 for the year and now have their first dating back to last year's first-round playoff loss. Pearce won 35-0, primarily on the strength of three touchdown passes by quarterback Taylor Corbin scored the other RC touchdown on a 14-yard run in the final period. Taylor finished with 176 passing yards, 18 of 33 attempts but was intercepted three times.
 Meanwhile, ended the game 14-for-19 for 238 yards with four touchdowns and one pick in three quarters of work. He has now passed for 1,414 yards and 14 TDs.
 Backup QB Mac Morse combined for 304 yards through the game with different receivers having at least one catch.
 Morse had five of those receptions for a game-high 72 yards and a touchdown and also scored on a 49-yard run.
 Quarterback Michael Hunnicutt scored 13 points: seven PATs, two field goals and a receiving touchdown.

 Fedric, despite not being fully recovered from a sprained ankle, had a game-high 72 rushing yards on 11 carries as well as catching three passes from another 35 yards.
 Devin Bryant led the Bulldogs with 60 receiving yards on four receptions.

Rockwall Christian Warriors' rally falls short; blocked PAT decisive

Bump
 Christian's furious rally Friday night in the Warriors' 14-10 loss to Dallas Home Athletic Association.
 The Warriors trailed 44-27 before quarterback Turner threw a 20-yard pass to Aaron Eastin on an interception by Shawn Myles 3 yards for another touchdown.
 The team, "We're obviously excited about losing a game," said Rockwall head coach Caleb Palmer, "I showed me a lot coming out and playing four full

"We wanted to focus on Sherman running the football. On the first few possessions, he had some good runs. Then he took a helmet or something in his hip, and was wobbly after that. We went in with a game plan of running the ball down their throats, but we had to change the game plan in the first quarter."

In addition, the Warriors played most of the game without linemen Daniel Rorie and Randy Castaneda. Those absences weakened both the offensive line's ability to run-block and the defensive line's ability to stop Kinville and the Blue Angels' running game.

The Warriors will have this week off, then will open their TAPPS District 2-IV schedule Friday, Oct. 9, against McKinney Christian.

Palmer said, "We want to get healthy. We start our district play against McKinney in two weeks and want to be ready for it."

Four of the district's five teams will make the playoffs, so winning one game would guarantee making the playoffs unless a team's only victory was against a team that won two games.

Palmer said, "If we beat McKinney, we'd at least be promised a playoff spot. Everything else could follow from that."

Rockwall County Obituaries

Tiong Siem 'Ellen' Tan

Services for Tiong Siem 'Ellen' Tan, 82, of Heath were conducted at 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 4, 2009, in the Rest Haven Funeral Home-Rockwall Chapel with the Rev. David Rucker officiating. Burial followed in the Rest Haven Memorial Park.

She died Thursday, Sept. 29. Born Nov. 21, 1926, in Indonesia to Khoen Hong Poui and Khing Hwa Tan, she retired from her position in laundry service at the Terrell State Hospital and was a member of the First United Methodist Church of Terrell.

Survivors include her sister-in-law, Kian Poui of Heath, and numerous nieces, nephews, great-nieces and great-nephews.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Albert Tan; a sister, TiongLie Lie; and a brother, Tiong Sie Poui.

Jackets tackle winless R.L. Turner Thurs

bu Lary Bump
Who: Rockwall Yellowjackets at Carrollton R.L. Turner Lions
When: Thursday, Oct. 8, 7 p.m.
Where: Standridge Stadium
Records: RHS 3-2 overall, 1-1 District 10-4A; Carrollton R.L. Turner 0-5, 0-2

Injuries: Rockwall senior quarterback Adam Dingwell suffered an ankle injury in practice Wednesday, but played the whole game Friday. Junior running back Josh Broach landed hard on his back and left that game later in the third quarter. The Jackets hope to have both players ready for this game.

History: Last year, the Jackets snapped a four-game losing streak by defeating Turner 42-7 at Wilkerson-Sanders Stadium. Both teams entered that contest 0-2 in the district. The Lions haven't won a game since then, and are on a 12-game losing streak. They lost Friday to Carrollton Newman Smith 48-6.

Anthony Strange and Jarron White, both graduated, scored two touchdowns apiece and Josh Broach ran for one for RHS.

What to expect: Both teams have a short week of preparation because they're playing on Thursday after a Friday game.

The Jackets have developed a formidable running game behind junior Broach (14 touchdowns) and senior Del Myles (2). They have combined for six 100-yard games, and Broach has totaled 1,000 yards in five games.

If Broach is unable to play, junior Darian Moseley and Hinkson could back up Myles.

In contrast, Coach Tyrone Larkins' R.L. Turner team did a running back with 100 yards for the whole season. They finished two games with negative rushing yardage. They had just 56 points to 219 for their opponents.

Quarterback Pedro Galvan has passed for 838 yards (more than Dingwell's total) and four touchdowns (one more than Dingwell's total). Cristian Hernandez is a versatile player who has thrown for 100 yards and three TDs. Matthew Bernal is a versatile player who has thrown for 100 yards and two touchdowns.

Despite Friday's 55-38 home loss to Rockwall-Heath, J coach Scott Smith was upbeat.

He said, "There are a lot of good things we can pull out of (Rockwall-Heath) game. We're 1-1 in the district race. We're excited about where we are with our kids. We can't control the game, whether it's Rockwall-Heath or R.L. Turner.

"It's a quick turnaround. Our biggest opponent in football is ourselves."

Undermanned Fulton Falcons falls to Lakehill Warriors

By Matt McGillen
DALLAS – Winless but not hopeless.

Suiting up only nine players, the Fulton Falcons remained without a victory for the 2009 season, as they were trampled 55-6 by the Lakehill Warriors last Thursday in a non-district TAPPS six-man football game.

But Lakehill (5-1), which as recently as 2006 was playing 11-man football, dressed out 18 players for the Division I game against the Division II Falcons (0-5) and had been scoring an average of 67.5 points a game in their four previous wins.

Down 35-0 at the half, the Falcons' defense – which also happens to be their offense, since most players play virtually every play – held the Warriors scoreless in the third period and finally got on the scoreboard with 3:50 left in the period.

Freshman lineman CJ White, the only ninth-grader on the Falcon's roster, bulled his way in from the one to cap a five-play, 45-yard drive, highlighted by sophomore Milan Rabah's 33-yard run.

The extra point was blocked and the score stood at 35-6 after three periods.

Lakehill scored three fourth-quarter touchdowns, the last one with 2:40 remaining in the game, to end the game by virtue of the mercy rule.

The Warriors' only loss was by an identical 55-6 score to Tyler Street (4-0), which, perhaps unfortunately, happens to be the Falcons' next opponent as they open district play at home this Friday at Rockwall-Heath High School.

Fulton	0	0	6	0	6
Lakehill	21	14	0	20	55

Individual stats:
Rushing: Fulton – Bah 18-97, Hasan F Austin Reid 5-9, E 1(-9), CJ White 3-18
Receiving: Lakehill – Alfonso 6-113, Mier 1-24, Wood 1-20.
