Nazis Run, Run And Never Rest As Russians Push On Toward West

LONDON Jan. 10 (AP)—Like a heavyweight champion keeping his foe off balance, the soviet army tonight was reported pressing its uninterrupted counter-offensive with conspicuously successful blows in the central sector northwest and southwest of Moscow.

The two arms of the pincers seeking to trap perhaps 100,000 nazis about Moshaisk, 57 miles west of the capital, were extended further. Below Moshaisk the red army claimed recapture of Mozalsk and to the north the nazis were said to be retreating from Staritsa toward Rzhev—placing the soviet advances at least 30 miles beyond Moshaisk on either side, with the jaws of the pincers drawing ever closer.

REVIEWING THE BIG SPRING WEEK

BY JOE PICKLE

A lot of people who thought this war business was fun found out last week it was a serious business. When the president submitted his budget and tax estimates were heard, the truth began to dawn on folks. It's going to be steep this year, and after that the bill will be even heavier. But it's liable to do us some good.

Among suggestions coming to this department is that of service flags—that is some organization could do a good turn by furnishing families of young men going to the service with these flags with blue stars.

The complaint comes that some vendors are doubling prices when they take stuff to trains bearing troops. We know only of one man who has been selling—and he's an ex-serviceman and not given over to any price hikes. But if there are those doing this, it cannot be too strongly condemned.

An army convoy was hurrying down Third street last week. Suddenly a citizen very deliberately pulled out of his parking place, sawed back and forth in the operation, neatly tying up the whole convoy for blocks back. His business surely must have been more important than the government's.

A woman called in to say that she and her husband had placed four bundles of magazines in the drive in paper dump at 1st and Rannels prior to our reporting that none had been put in. On checking, we find that the city had removed these, along with others, to reduce the fire hazard. They were not stolen as thought.

Those thinking of becoming members of the home guard had better be on hand at the Settles ballroom Monday at 7:30 p. m. Chances are that there will be more than enough there to complete the company requirements and there will be no other membership opportunities extended.

No instructions on collection of the used car tax have been received at the postoffice, but the force is ready when they come. One of our objections to this tax was that it would cost almost as much to collect as it grossed, but under the postoffice collection plan this difficulty is overcome. Watch The Herald for announcements on when and how you pay.

Don't forget, this is the week to register for civilian defense. You can do something and the first step in that something is registering.

Plan today to start systematic purchases of stamps or defense bonds on a scale you never dreamed of. The government needs your help, it needs our help. We can't afford to fall down. Buy, buy and buy . . . and get the other guy to buy.

Big Spring Man 'Raised' Famed American Eagle

E. J. Uhl, Big Spring machine shop operator, felt a sort of fatherly pride last week when he learned that Jerry, an Alaska-born American eagle now in the Washington zoo, had been selected as a model for many U. S. war posters. "Why, I raised that bird," exclaimed Uhl as he opened Thursday's Big Spring Herald and saw a large picture of Jerry. Then he related his experiences with Jerry in Alaska, 34 years ago.

Uhl purchased Jerry and another eagle, Tom, from a squawman in the Iditarod country of Alaska, for $5 in the early summer of 1918. Sometime later they sold the birds to a man who took them "outside" to the states. Uhl recalls that Tom and Jerry had voracious appetites. They ate rabbits and other rodents as rapidly as they could be caught and placed before them. They were playful, likeable pets except that as their talons and beaks became vicious instruments which could take out a hunk of flesh in what would be meant for a playful career.

Defense Guard Will Organize Monday Night

Other Activities Of Evening Cancelled
For This Event

With several other meetings being cancelled to avoid conflict, organization of a local company of the Texas Home Guard was due to be effected quickly here Monday evening.

Every man between the ages of 18 and 64 was being urged to attend a mass meeting at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the Settles ballroom when the program will be explained briefly but adequately, said Cliff Wiley, captain.

Twelve women have volunteered their services as stenographers and eight Big Spring physicians plan to be on hand to give speedy examination to applicants.

There is no good reason, said the captain, why the company cannot be quickly and completely mustered. From advance inquiries, he anticipated that there would be an exceptionally large number on hand to apply for membership.

Among those offering to serve as stenographers Monday evening were Mary Reidy, Marie Gray, Dorothy Mae Miller, Gladys Smith, Mrs. Evelyn Davidson, Tommy McCrary, Helen Duley, Ina Mae Bradley, Willa Nell Rogers, Alma Borders, Velva Glass and Glenn Jordan. Typewriters are being furnished by the chamber of commerce, Sears & Roebuck, Mrs. Bert Reid and American National Insurance.

Physicians to be on hand are Dr. C. E. Thomas, Dr. M. H. Bennett, Dr. R. B. G. Cowper, Dr. T. J. Williamson, Dr. P. W. Malone, Dr. J. E. Hogan, Dr. Jack Woodall and Dr. R. O. Beades.

Service Clubs To Hear Plans For Defense

Approximately 300 persons will hear detailed explanations of the civilian defense program when members of service clubs hold a joint meeting Tuesday noon in the Settles ballroom.

While a general picture of the civilian defense set-up will be painted before the assembly of Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, American Business and Professional Women members, there will be equal emphasis on the civilian air patrol organization.

Preliminary sketches of the civilian unit have been given by Mayor G. C. Dunham and County Judge W. S. Morrison before some clubs during the past week, and like the Tuesday convention, these have been looking toward registration next week.

The noon meeting is to be followed by a session at 5 p. m. in the ballroom for those interested in the Civilian Air Patrol, said Dr. P. W. Malone, one of the district commanders of CAP. D. Harold Bird, Dallas, will be commander of Texas, and George Haddaway, secretary of Southern Flight and secretary of Texas Private Fliers association, will speak at this hour.

Mechanics, radio, telegraph, telephone operators, those who can furnish transportation, auto mechanics, apprentice fliers and mechanics, etc. are invited to attend the meeting.

Flora and others in Sweetwater, Colorado, Lamasa, Stanton, Midland, Odessa, Monahan, Wink, Kermit, Crane, McCamey and Fort Stockton, and already several acceptances have been received.

As the Chinese pushed their offensives against Canton, Hankow, the Chengchow area and in Inner Mongolia, observers compared the Chinese to the Russians, both turning to push the invader out and allowing him no winter rest.

The Chinese, it was pointed out, could aid in a flanking offensive from Burma through Thailand and Indo-China, while from Chinese soil it would be possible to bomb not only Japan but also Formosa and the Hainan Islands, the bases for the attacks on Malaya and the Philippines.

Farm Bloc Writes Own Terms In Senate's Price Control Measure

British Determined To Save Singapore --

Dutch Indies Expect Jap Attack

Chinese Get Chance To Show Stuff

By The Associated Press
Britain grimly swore its "absolute determination" to defend Singapore and "other vital areas" Sunday as its troops fought an apparently losing battle for Kuala Lumpur, crude rubber center 180 miles north of Singapore.

Gen. Sir Henry R. Pownall, commander at the British naval base in Malaya, told defenders in a broadcast tonight that there were days of bitter struggle ahead but that Britain and her allies were not idle.

"We are engaged," he said, upon the tasks of holding "the enemy from vital areas and as far from them as possible while we renew, regroup and supplement our forces."

The Japanese meanwhile claimed the capture of Kuala Lumpur after the British reportedly abandoned it and Japanese forces came in from the rear. The report was not confirmed by British sources. The British did concede that their front along the Slim river, 220 miles from Singapore, had been broken after the Japanese suddenly began appearing within 12-ton tanks.

There was an ominous silence from the Philippines which some Washington observers estimated was the prelude to a double Japanese attack upon U. S. forces on the island of Luzon and an invasion of the Dutch East Indies.

Japanese ship concentrations have been reported off the island of Mindanao, the southernmost of the large Philippine Islands and a logical jumping-off place for an attack on the Dutch, while Japanese reinforcements were also reported moving in northward on the island of Luzon where the army of Gen. Douglas MacArthur is holed in.

Japanese war planes raided the oil port of Tarakan in the Netherlands East Indies for the second time within 48 hours Sunday, though in preparation for the expected attack. The Dutch said the bombs missed their mark.

Reconnaissance flights, which the Dutch have noted as another tip-off on a coming push, continued scouting the outer provinces.

But a new—and to some an unexpected—turn, opened up new strategic possibilities in the war against Japan, developed in China.

Correspondents who visited the city of Chungking confirmed that the Chinese had won a great victory by routing 150,000 Japanese from this capital of Hunan province with only 50,000 men. For the first time a fully equipped Chinese army, thanks in some measure to American aid, took the field and defeated a numerically superior Japanese force. Chinese figures showed they inflicted losses of five-to-one upon the invaders.

Foreign eye-witnesses saw huge piles of Japanese dead littering the hills and the fresh mounds of graves and ashes of hurried cremations.

Negroes Would Save Birmingham

ATLANTA, Jan. 10 (AP)—Two young negroes shuffled into the army recruiting office here, anxious for a job "guarding dat 'Bama road."

"You must mean the Burma road," said the sergeant. "Do you know where it is?"

"Yas sah," replied one of the volunteers, "it's 'tween here and Birmin'ham."

"Oh, no," corrected the sergeant, "it's in China."

The pair moved toward the door. "Just tear up them papers," one of them said. "We thought we could get into Birmin'ham every Saturday night."

Officers for the Howard and Glascock counties chapter of the American Red Cross will be elected at a meeting set for 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Red Cross headquarters at Scurry and 4th streets, C. O. Nalley, chairman, announced Saturday.

He urged members and particularly all who have any official connections with the unit to attend the party. A nominating committee has completed its work and is prepared to report at the party.

In reviewing the past year's work, Nalley expressed thanks to R. B. Reeder, roll call chairman, J. B. Collins, who took over the emergency fund drive, Mrs. Moore Sawtelle, executive secretary, and to "all who had even the slightest part in serving, knitting, or paying to support of the chapter."

The 1940 quota of $2,500 was partly raised in 1941, said the chairman, and the regular roll call of $4,000 has been exceeded as well as the $5,400 emergency quota. The latter one is $2,162.22 over and the chapter was the second in the state to reach its goal—a county with $1,000 for a quota getting under the wire first. However, the local quota was in eight several days before reported.

Among the work turned out by women of the chapter, he recalled, were: 200 toddler packs of 15 pieces each; 250 layettes of 25 pieces; 200 women's dresses; 150 hospital pajamas; 100 convalescent bathrobes; 500 girl skirts, 150 lady skirts, 100 boys skirts, 75 overalls and jackets, 400 wool and cotton dresses, 50 crocheted shawls, 1,000 children sweaters, 300 women sweaters, 300 men's sweaters, 30 knitted suits, and many scarves, socks, mittens, helmets, etc.

During the year 294 received first aid certificates and 60 obtained instructions in swimming and life-saving. A total of 120 separate cases of emergency service was given to soldiers or members of their families, said Chairman Nalley in his review.

New Minister Will Preach Here Today

The city's newest minister, the Rev. P. D. (Dick) O'Brien, will fill the pulpit of his church in both morning and evening services today.

He came here last Sunday evening after accepting the call to pastor the local church, and today will be his first complete Sunday as pastor. Active in denominational affairs, he has been president of the Leuders encampment, served as president of the district 17 convention for three years, is a member of six different Baptist boards, and is much in demand as an evangelist. Mrs. O'Brien, active as her husband, is an outstanding young people's worker.

Today the Rev. O'Brien speaks on "My Personal Creed" at the morning hour and then conducts an evangelistic service at 7:30 p. m., speaking of "The Glorious Gospel of the Happy God."

"Christian Unity" will be the subject of Byron Fullerton, minister for the Church of Christ in its regular Sunday morning broadcast over KEST. At 10:45 a. m. he speaks on "Christian Prayer" and "Non-Christian Prayer" will be the subject for Sunday evening.

"No one need feel afraid to attend any of the night services of the church on account of tire thieves as the church has employed a watchman to look after this matter," said Fullerton. "Your tires will probably be safer than at home."

Topic for the Rev. Ernest Orton, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, Sunday morning will be "Your Pastor and His People," and Sunday evening "the Broadway to Destruction."

In the morning service at the Main Street of God, the Rev. E. E. Bowden, pastor, will speak on "Christianity's Greatest Theme." The young people's hour at 7 p. m. will be in charge of the new leader, Mrs. W. H. Beard, and a laymen's program for the evening worship will be directed by J. Fred Whitaker.

"The Prayer of a Nation" will be discussed by the Rev. Homer W. Halslip, pastor, at the First Christian morning services, and E. B. Bethell will be soloist for "The Lord's Prayer." In the evening the message will be on "The Goddess of the Rising Sun" and there will be special music by the woman's trio—Rae Marie Brooks, Mrs. Herschel Summerlin and Mrs. L. M. Brooks, accompanied by Jeanne Young, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rossan are sponsors of the service for the evening.

Act Will Go To Conference Committee

Barkley Labels Bill
'Farm Relief Measure'
After Its Passage

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—The administration's wartime price control legislation emerged from a weary senate today so much amended by its farm bloc that Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) called it a "farm relief bill."

The vote on passage was 83 to 17 with Senator Nye (D-ND) casting the only dissenting tally. Beforehand, however, the farm bloc, in a 55 to 21 division, had succeeded in writing in a series of restrictions on ceilings over agricultural products with the result, administration men said, that many farm commodities were left free to rise 25 per cent or more above present levels.

The far reaching and complicated measure—intended to bring about inflation and sky-rocketing living costs—now goes back to the house. A senate-house conference committee is expected to be appointed to redraft important sections before the measure comes up for final consideration.

Whether this group could work out and secure senate and house approval of a measure satisfactory to the administration was, however, an open question.

When the bill passed the house last month with a provision allowing sharp increases in farm prices the word was passed around that President Roosevelt would veto it if it reached him in that form.

The senate banking committee knocked out the house farm provision objectionable to the administration, but the senate went beyond the house in approving restrictions on farm price-fixing.

With the farm bloc in complete control, the senate adopted 83 to 21 an amendment by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) providing:

First, that no price ceiling should be placed on a farm product below the 1919-20 average price of that commodity—a period when farm prices were the highest in history.

Second, directing that the federal reserve board's index of industrial wages should be used as a factor in calculating parity figures.

The effect of this latter provision it was explained, was to raise parity about 15 per cent.

Parity is the price at which the agricultural department figures that a farm product has the same purchasing power, in terms of non-farm products, that it had in the 1909-14 period.

Herald Carriers' Deliver 2,875 War Stamps

Sales To Grow In Coming Weeks, Boys Predict

Big Spring HERALD carrier boys got off an auspicious start Saturday in their defense seal sale campaign by delivering 2,875 10-cent stamps (or their equivalent) to local people.

The figure will grow weekly, the newboys confidently predicted, as more and more subscribers are contacted. Since the carriers have been working only one week, not all subscribers have been contacted.

The first Saturday's "business" included sale of 10 $25 bonds. All subscribers of The Herald who wish may notify their carriers to deliver any number of 10 cent stamps each week and collect for them as they make their regular subscription collections. The boys make no commissions for the stamp sales, but are anxious to donate their services to the country in this way.

The campaign got underway at a banquet earlier in the week as plans were mapped. At the right, top view, the boys are shown signing pledges to become official defense stamp salesmen, and, below, is a general scene at the banquet.

Irene Dunne And Robert Montgomery Star In Romantic Comedy At Ritz

There is "unfinished business" in the life of every woman. So contends Gregory La Cava, the motion picture producer-director, and he has made "Unfinished Business" the premise of his picture of that title, the Sunday-Monday feature at the Ritz theatre.

Irene Dunne and Robert Montgomery are co-stars in the Universal film, said to contain the same successful combination of comedy and drama which has characterized many of La Cava's screen hits.

Preston Foster and Eugene Palette head a supporting cast that includes Esther Dale, Walter Catlett, June Clyde and others.

Story, from the screen play by Eugene Thackrey, presents Miss Dunne as a small-town music teacher who comes to New York in quest of an operatic career. She meets and falls in love with Foster, who is amused but not enamored.

Later Miss Dunne marries Montgomery, who plays Foster's younger brother. Romantic complications ensue when the girl realizes she still loves the other man. That's her "unfinished business."

The comedy talent displayed by Montgomery in many successes and by Miss Dunne in such hits as "The Awful Truth" are used to best advantage by La Cava, who is said to have made the most of the emotional situations.

Miss Dunne's singing voice is heard several times, in sequences at the Metropolitan opera and at New York night clubs.

THE WEEK'S PLAYBILL

QUEEN—"Wanderers of the West," with Tom Keena.

Indecision—A dramatic comedy romance, "Unfinished Business," presents Robert Montgomery and Irene Dunne in a story of a woman's indecision about following her head or her heart. The picture is at the Ritz today and Monday.

Authentic British Raid Put In Film

Evidence in behalf of the argument that truth can be more exciting than fiction is presented in a documentary film, "Target for Tonight," which is a special attraction at the Ritz theatre this week. The picture is coupled with a wartime comedy, "Tanks A Million," to run for three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Virtually produced by the R.A.F. itself, "Target for Tonight" is the first in history to record the planning and execution of an actual air raid on German territory. Because of the official nature of its sponsorship, the cameraman had free access to the heretofore secret inner sanctum of the R.A.F. strategists. Photographic sections where aerial maps are developed and scanned; the Bomber Command Operations Room, where the "Order of Battle" is planned; a Crew Room, where the airmen bide their time in the tense interim between receiving their orders and the take-off; the Wing Commander's office, where the departure, route and return of each plane is charted—these are all part of the "settings" for "Target for Tonight." They also are the rooms in which the R.A.F. carries out its ground work every day.

The most thrilling scenes of the picture could not have been made in Hollywood. These are the breath-taking shots of the bombardment of Freilhausen oil dumps taken from the R.A.F. plane which performed the deed. The flare of the burning oil illuminated the scene as no studio lights would have done.

The production of "Target for Tonight" had no need of a prop department, either. The R.A.F. supplied the same battle-scarred Wellington bombers which are used daily for its aerial offensives. The plans used in the Freilhausen bombardment, the mechanical "hero" of the picture, was called "F for Freddie" an initial, a habit which would appear to have been an outgrowth of radio telephone practice. It is notable that the name is the friendliest form possible. It is not "F for Frederick" or "F for Fred."

An "F for Freddie" still pierces the clouds above Hitler's Germany on her mission, the destruction of enemy concentrations. It is not, however, the same plane, shown in "Target for Tonight," but a lineal descendant. The original "F for Freddie" came back to the aerodrome one morning with her landing gear shot away and its captain-pilot, Dickson, who appears in the film, had to make a belly landing, skidding into a bomb dump. There have been six more "F for Freddie's" since.

Underwriters To Convene In Dallas

Big Spring life underwriters will join with life insurance salesmen throughout the northern half of Texas in an educational seminar at the Hotel Adolphus in Dallas Jan. 29 under auspices of the Texas Association of Life Underwriters. It is announced by Joe E. Pond, president of the Big Spring association.

The Dallas meeting will close the annual 12-city sales congress of the state organization which will open at Houston Jan. 27 and include a seminar at San Antonio Jan. 28, Mr. Pond said.

Mystery Yarn Is Offered At The Queen

The flash and blast of a gun in the semi-darkness of a night spot's parking lot; a dying woman's muffled moan of anguish; the echo of the slayer's retreating footsteps, as she dashes quickly to a waiting automobile which, with its throttle wide open and its headlights dimmed, roars away into the protecting gloom; the frantic efforts of two men, eyewitnesses to the slaying, to halt death, as it strides across the threshold of the pretty victim's last living moments. Then—the police!

Such is the crash pictorial introduction to "I'll Sell My Life" baffling screen murder mystery offered today and Monday at the Queen theatre and declared to be one of the hardest to solve "who did it" melodramas.

But who committed the crime and the motive for the killing is just a secondary premise of "I'll Sell My Life." The theatre-goer's main interest and attention will be focused on a beautiful girl, who now enters the picture, to confess that she killed the woman in the parking lot, but for what reason she refuses to tell the police, who first believe her and then doubt the self-accused girl's story, when it is established she had never even seen the victim, either before or after her death.

In the end, of course, both the mystery of the killer and the murder motivation is solved, and the innocent girl's "confession," logically cleared up, not by the police, but by a handsome young settlement worker, who from the very start of the picture, is skeptical the police are holding the guilty person.

The cast of "I'll Sell My Life" includes Michael Whalen, Rose Hobart, Joan Woodbury, Stanley Fields and Roscoe Ates.

Cosmopolitan Washington, with its governmental bustle and social and diplomatic activity, is not entirely urban in its make-up. Census reports show that there are 95 farms in the district.

In Western—Ann Rutherford and Robert Stack furnish the love interest in "Badlands of Dakota," a western melodrama playing today and Monday at The Lyric theatre. It's a stirring story, with a background of blood and gunsmoke, of the winning of the west.

Western Opus Headliner At Lyric Theatre

When the history of the picture industry is finally written the chronicle will measure the progress of the art by the milestones of the big western pictures.

Almost every year has produced at least one mammoth western—"The Covered Wagon," "The Iron Horse," "Cimarron," "The Virginian," "Dodge City," "When the Daltons Rode," to name a few.

Latest of the frontier "epics" is Universal's "Badlands of Dakota." The picture, which plays at the Lyric theatre today and Monday, is of the same big-scale proportions that have marked its history-making predecessors. Like them, it embraces a glowing portion of frontier history, alive with characters which typify romance, adventure and glamour. And it presents a cast of excellent players.

The production stars Robert Stack and Ann Rutherford, two of Hollywood's most promising young players. The supporting cast includes Richard Dix, Frances Farmer, Brod Crawford, Hugh Herbert, Andy Devine and Lon Chaney, Jr.

The story concerns Deadwood, in what was then (1876) the Territory of Dakota, and begins with the discovery of gold in the Black Hills. As the story unfolds, Wild Bill Hickok, Calamity Jane and General Custer thread their way through the plot. The tale ends with the destruction of Deadwood by the Sioux Indians and the rescue of the townspeople by General Custer and his famous Seventh Cavalry.

The Deadwood Stage, renowned as having been the most held up vehicle in America, also has an important role in the production. Outstanding photographic backgrounds and fast-action camera effects are said to have been accomplished by Stanley Cortez, noted cinematographer. Jack Otterson, Universal's art director, is credited for the authentic and picturesque settings.

America's annual production of candles in the 28 factories in this industry is valued at $6,330,000, according to the census bureau.

Tire Dealers May Take Applications For Purchases Now

Big Spring Hospital Notes

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hatch are the parents of a 6 pound 4 1-4 ounce daughter born Friday.

Mrs. C. E. Talbot had major surgery Saturday.

Mrs. D. E. Orr, Stanton, is in a satisfactory condition following minor surgery Friday.

Mrs. A. D. Webb's condition is satisfactory following major surgery Friday.

Mrs. Alex. Walker returned home Friday following medical treatment.

James Keele, Stanton, returned home Saturday following tonsillectomy.

Ration Board Explains New Regulations

Authorized tire dealers of Howard county were in position to take applications for new tires under the government rationing program, following distribution of certificate forms Friday night by the county rationing board.

J. C. Douglass, Sr., was named chairman of the group, which announced it will meet at the chamber of commerce office each Tuesday and Friday at 9:30 a. m. for regular consideration of applications.

Sam Eason and DeWitt Shive of Coahoma are the other members of the board. Douglass said that in case of an emergency, at least two members of the board could be called together at any time.

Board members met with more than a score of dealers and service men Friday night, to go over regulations which have to be followed. Dealers certified inspectors in their organizations, which men will be responsible for inspecting an applicant's tires and certifying as to whether he must have replacements.

County Judge Walton Morrison and Mayor Grover Dunham addressed the group, pointing out various restrictions in the rationing program. The former explained that unless an applicant comes within the classifications set up by the government as being eligible for new tires and tubes, there was no use in even taking his application. He also cited precautions possible in falsifying certificates.

It will be up to the inspector to pass upon an applicant's tires. If he finds they cannot be repaired or retreaded and that the applicant is entitled to new products, he makes out a certificate to that effect. The certificate then goes to the board for final action. The board passes on eligibility and, necessarily, keeping sales at all times within the county's monthly quota. Actually, it is a weekly quota, since a fourth of the monthly supply must be disposed of each week. If a given month's quota is not used, it cannot be carried over to the next period.

There is no rationing by dealers; in other words, a man with a tire certificate can make his purchase where he pleases.

All certified dealers have received the standard inspection and application forms, and will be ready to handle inquiries. First applications are due to go before the board at its Tuesday meeting.

gas and bloating after meals. Gas caused terrible pressure. I couldn't eat pork. It seemed to cause misery. I had to get up after each night because of my kidneys. I had tried several medicines for relief, but I got no results.

"I have now taken two bottles of Hoyt's and can truthfully say that after I completed them I had no more trouble with my bowels. It relieved the indigestion, gas, bloating and pressure. I no longer have to get up at night and I get more restful sleep. I now have two more bottles of Hoyt's and I feel sure that by the time I finish taking them, I will be much more improved!"

Hoyt's Compound is recommended and sold by the Collins Bros. Drug Store and by leading druggists everywhere.

Abilene Gets High School Coaches Meet

ATHENS, Jan. 10 (AP)—The world's largest coaching school will go to Abilene, August 3 to 8, it was decided here today at the annual meeting of directors of the Texas High School Coaches Association.

Abilene was awarded the tenth annual high school clinic in spite of bidding among five cities.

Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Waco also sought the school and their bids were practically the same as Abilene's. The directors took the view that the school had been held in South Texas the past three years and never had been in the West Texas City, therefore it was appropriate to send the clinic there.

Abilene presented a well-organized and carefully-arranged bid with J. D. Sandifer, Jr., of Brock-sbridge, chairman of the board of trustees of Hardin-Simmons university; Jack Simmons, a director of the Abilene chamber of commerce, and Hal Sayles, sports editor of the Abilene Reporter-News, making up the delegation that came here seeking the school.

The clinic was held at Houston last year, at Austin the year before that, after making a trip into West Texas—being held at Lubbock—in 1937.

There are approximately 300 members of the coaches association. Between 300 and 500 mentors gather each year to hear some of the nation's leading college coaches explain the various styles of football play.

Yankee Training To Start February 22

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—New York Yankee pitchers and catchers will report to Manager Joe McCarthy at the St. Petersburg, Fla., training camp Feb. 22. They will have less than two weeks of practice before the American League play the first of 35 spring games, on March 6.

The remainder of the Yankee squad will report to McCarthy March 1.

Odessa Keeps On Marking 'Em Up

Big Spring's upset of the mighty San Angelo Bobcats here Friday night and Sweetwater's 60-10 avalanche over Midland featured the second round of the district 3-AA basketball chase.

Odessa, the team to beat, continued its easy going stride in salting away Colorado City by a 39-19 count while Abilene, another of the favorites recovered from a defeat at the hands of San Angelo to plaster Lamesa 33-19.

Tuesday's games in the league will not throw much light on the outcome of the race except by offering some comparison. Big Spring goes to Midland, San Angelo journeys to Sweetwater, which may give the Mustangs their first real test of the season. Lamesa moves to Odessa, and the Bronchos should encounter more opposition than heretofore, while Abilene is due to experience no great difficulty in Colorado City.

In short, the Tuesday games should not materially alter the picture with the exception of the possibility of Sweetwater being jarred out of its first place tie.

Friday evening Odessa played without the services of Keith Evans, burly guard, who was out with a case of the mumps. Jon Coward, towering star, slipped in nine points. Colorado City pulled up to within three points in the second half to put the score at 15-19 when Odessa broke loose.

Marion Flanagan was big-boy for Sweetwater, chinking in 21 points, but close behind were Young, Gill and Fitzgerald with eight each. The Mustangs had their second string in the last quarter, and even in the face of this Midland could get but two field goals during the evening.

Lamesa put up a stubborn fight in the first half of the game with Abilene, holding the touted Eagles to a 7-7 deadlock at the intermission. Abilene steered a small lead in the third stanza and Lamesa rallied, but pressure was what Abilene needed. Thereafter, it was a question of stretching the score.

Stovall was high for Abilene with 11 points and Paul was next with seven points. For Lamesa Wade's six points were high. The game was rough in the final phases and both Abilene and Lamesa lost a man via the foul route.

Women's Cage Meet Slated In Wichita

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 10 (AP)—The National A. U. women's basketball tournament will be played at Wichita March 30 to April 4 inclusive. Mrs. Irvin Van Blarcom, national chairman of women's A. U. basketball, announced today.

The Flyers of Little Rock, Ark. are national champions and will defend their title in the 14th annual tournament. Mrs. Van Blarcom said.

22-B Cage War Opens Tuesday

Cage wars in district 22-B will flare into action Tuesday evening on three fronts, and then settle down for a good 10-game grind.

Forsan is looked upon in some quarters to have the inside track in the race, but this is no cinch. Forsan was down as favorite to take the league's six-man crown, but Sterling City won out. However, when it comes to basketball, Cagle Hunt's Buffaloes have what it takes to win in pretty fast company.

Tuesday evening Sterling City goes to Garden City, Westbrook goes to Garner and Forsan trunks to Coahoma.

Second round of the chase is set for Friday evening when Garden City goes to Forsan, Garner to Sterling City and Coahoma at Westbrook.

Cold Keeps Poloists Off Playing Field

Polo remains in a state of suspension on the home front for another week, because of the prolonged spell of bad weather, but if Mother Nature permits, there'll be a double-header here a week from today.

The severe cold has kept the horsemen indoors for the past couple of weeks.

The twin bill originally scheduled for January 4—and rescheduled for next week—pits the Lamesa Whites against the Big Spring riders, and the Lamesa Blacks against a Midland quartet.

Cooper, Hogan Take Lead In L. A. Tourney

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10 (AP)—Harry Cooper and Benny Hogan took over leadership of the $10,000 Los Angeles Open golf tournament late today as yesterday's pace setter, Horcia Smith, surrendered to a tough par on the Hillcrest Country club course.

A heavy threat for the $3,500 top money, Hogan matched his opening round 70 with another brilliant, consistent brand of golf and moved into the lead in mid-afternoon. His 28 holes total of 140 looked safe until Cooper, two-time winner of the event, hurried through the late afternoon shadows and posted a 71 to go with his first round 68 and tie the little Hershey, Pa., pro.

Cooper went for a 12-foot putt on the eighteenth hole and barely missed.

Rammy Sneed, Hogan's chief rival in pre-tournament predictions, marched over the hills ahead of a scrambling crowd of 2,000 and wound up with a 70, two strokes under par, for a total 141.

Tied at 142 were Smith and Willie Goggin, White Plains, N. Y. Low score of the day was turned in by Dapper Dick Metz of Oak Park, Ill. He played flawlessly and posted 68 for 144.

One stroke ahead of Metz, Denny Shute, Jim Turman, Ben Leonard and George Schneider was a group that included two of yesterday's sub-par shooters, Herman Barron and Chet Beer, both of whom had 69's in the first round and 74's today. Bracketed with them were Johnnie Revoita, Jimmy Thomson, and Vic Ghessit.

Quail hunters have one more week of grace.

Season for the birds ends Friday, according to state and federal laws. Friday is included in the open season.

Bag limit, of course, is 12 per day with 96 for any one week. The possession limit is 36 also. Gun regulations are the same as for doves—no shotgun larger than 10 gauge and permanently plugged so that it cannot contain more than three shells all told at one time.

Several animals were out in the field Saturday, but luck was not so good. Shots were fairly plentiful, but cold weather has made the birds particularly active and elusive.

Joe Louis To Join Army Wednesday

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—Lost than 24 hours after doing a pretty fair fighting job for the navy, Joe Louis completed arrangements today to join Uncle Sam's army next Wednesday and do his battling in khaki from here on.

The Brown Bomber, who reached a peak in his boxing career for the second time last night in falling Buddy Bear in 2 minutes and 56 seconds, will be given his final physical examination Monday, will be inducted in the service Wednesday at Camp Upton, Long Island, and probably will make his next fist-tossing start in late March for an army fund.

This one will be against one of a list of prospective opponents Promoter Mike Jacobs has drawn up, headed by Bob Pastor, who fought Joe twice and who was rated by boxing writers as the top flatie comeback for 1941. If Pastor can whip Lem Franklin in Cleveland late this month, he probably will get the shot. Otherwise it may be Gus Lesnevich, the rugged light-heavyweight champion, if he tops Lou Nova Feb. 6; Southpaw Mello Bettina, ex-175-pound boss, or ample Abe Simon, who went 13 rounds with Joe a year ago.

Joe turned up at army draft board headquarters to straighten out all the advance details that will make him Private Joe Louis Barrow even before he stopped at Jacobs' office to settle up for last night's fight. Not that he had anything to collect out of the gross gate of $189,700.55 contributed by the 18,870 fans who saw him become the vicious, blasting executioner for the second time since he came down the pike. He was once more the fierce fighter of the second Max Schmeling fight, and the oldest inhabitants of Cauliflower Alley couldn't remember when any fighter hit such heights twice in his career.

He and Promoter Mike Jacobs turned all their revenue from the show over to the navy relief fund.

AKEY SINK HOLE-IN-ONE

For the third time in his life, Harold Akey, head of the Munny course, experienced the thrill of a golfer's lifetime—a hole in one.

But he had to pick the Country Club course to accomplish the singular trick.

In company with J. R. Farmer, Joe Black and Jimmy Gammell, Country Club manager, Akey slammed a two iron shot and the wind watched the ball trickle into the cup of No. 3 green 174 yards away.

Harold previously had dropped an ace on the No. 10 hole of Munny course and before that had made his first hole-in-one on the No. 10 hole at Ridgeles at Fort Worth, where he was head man before coming to Big Spring.

Football Banquet Tickets On Sale

Tickets for the third annual football banquet, sponsored by the Lions club, are now on sale at various points over the city, club officials announced Saturday.

Among those who have tickets for interested fans and well-wishers of the football team are Larson Lloyd (First National bank), Grover Dunham (Club Cafe), Burke Summers (Barrow Furniture), Joe Fickie (Herald), J. H. Greene (chamber of commerce), J. L. Le-Bleu and Jack Smith (Coeden).

Speakers for the occasion this year will be Frank Kimbrough, a native West Texan who has just finished out his first year as head coach at Baylor. Kimbrough is the man who pulled what amounted to the second greatest upset in sport-land during the entire year, according to a nation-wide poll of sport writers, when his lowly Bears rose up and tied Texas. At that time Texas was ranked as the No. 1 team of the nation, and experts still figure it the greatest along with Minnesota.

Squad members of the 1941 Steer football team, with Coach Pat Murphy on hand, will be honor guests for the occasion. Awards probably will be presented at that time.

There will be a short program in addition to Kimbrough's talk, and probably he will have pictures of some Southwest conference games to show after the dinner.

Howard Team Heads School Bowling Loop

Maurice Howard's team sailed through with two wins and a loss, a feat duplicated by Charles Devier's team in high school bowling circles Saturday morning.

The margin stretched Howard's lead, since the Curlee team faltered in its matches, dropping two while winning one. Ike Robb's team also went down by the two to one count.

Frank Barton had high game with 177 and high series with 449 for the day.

Standings and high team series to date follow:

Team— W. L. Pct. Series

Howard	10	5	.667	3003
Curlee	3	7	.333	1949
Robb	6	9	.400	1949
Davies	6	9	.400	1832

American Netters Swamp Mexicans

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 10 (AP)—United States tennis stars touring Latin America, continued their clean sweep of the Mexican series today, taking both doubles matches after taking all four singles yesterday. Today's scores: Sarah Faltrey Cooke and Katherine Winthrop defeated Consuelo Roldan and Rosario L. De Zarasua 6-0, 6-3; and Don McNeill and Elwood Cooke defeated Armando and Rolando Vega 6-1, 6-6.

Amateurs May Receive Bonds And Stamps

By JUDSON BAILEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—The United States Golf association abandoned all four of its national championships today in order to focus its entire attention on the nation's war effort.

After cancelling its 1942 tournament program, the governing body of golf immediately went into action in behalf of the government, changing the USGA by-laws to permit amateurs to receive up to $100 in defense bonds and stamps as prizes instead of cups and trophies, planning a nationwide series of club tournaments on holidays, and proposing exhibition matches for war relief and defense.

The sweeping action was the most drastic reorganization for the support of the war any national sports governing body has yet taken.

The 1942 championships cancelled were:

National open, June 18-20, Inter-lacian country club, Minneapolis.

National amateur, September 7-12, Del Monte golf and country club, Pebble Beach course, Del Monte, Calif.

Women's amateur, September 21-26, Southern Hills country club, Tulsa, Okla.

National public links, July 27-August 1, Wellshire municipal golf course, Denver, Colo.

This action was decided upon by the executive committee yesterday and approved by the association today.

A letter from John B. Kelly, assistant director of civilian defense in charge of physical fitness, asked that the association promote three competitions to be known as the Decoration Day, Fourth of July and Labor Day medal play handicap tournaments for men and women. They would be scheduled on those holidays at every member club throughout the nation. It was adopted.

The USGA already has been conferring with the Professional Golfers' Association of America concerning exhibitions, it was disclosed, and the two groups will work together. The USGA said it saw no reason for disturbance of the program of open tournaments which the PGA has arranged at many points around the country.

The association elected George W. Blossom, Jr., of the Onwentsia country club, Lake Forest, Ill., president to succeed Harold W. Pierce of the country club, Brookline, Mass.

Football District Divides Into Two

WACO, Jan. 10 (AP)—Football district 10-AA of the high school interscholastic league divided today at a meeting of school officials here.

Waco, Temple, Corsicana and Cleburne went into one section. The second group includes Bryan, Waxahachie, Ennis, Mexia, Hillsboro.

Citizens Offered Opportunity To Enlist For Civilian Defense

All Over 18 Asked To Do Part In War

Howard county citizens' opportunity for all-out response to civilian war effort comes this week, when every resident of 18 years and older will be asked to sign up for emergency assistance on the home front.

While the major distribution of registration blanks will take place through the schools beginning Monday, many completed forms already were coming into volunteer civilian defense offices at the chamber of commerce. Members of the American Business Club Friday filled out the blanks, and members of other service clubs will be asked to do so this week.

The forms will be distributed by teachers in every school room in the city and county, with pupils instructed to take the blanks home to the parents and return them signed. Every effort will be made to reach all civilians, said Herschel Summatta, in charge of volunteer work; and if blanks are not delivered at homes, they may be had through the press or at the chamber of commerce.

Registrants are requested to check preferences on the type of volunteer work they are best equipped for.

When the completed blanks are turned in, they will be filed according to classification of duties, then administrators in various defense fields will pick their workers and give them definite assignments.

Appendicitis is a major cause of death among children, warns the census bureau. Last year 1,789 children between the ages of 5 and 15 died from appendicitis. Many of these lives could have been saved by prompt surgical intervention, the census bureau says.

Remarks

Weatherman Finds Work Greater Because Now He Can Tell Less

If you are in the construction business, you had better hope the weatherman is a pretty fair concrete mixer.

This is just another way of saying that contrary to conceptions, the war has not eased the work of the weatherman, but has placed him in the peculiar position of being advisor for jack of all trades.

Restricted information from the bureau because of the war has not lightened the work of those associated with the service, but have substantially increased it.

Used to be if you wondered about pouring some concrete slab tomorrow morning, you went out to the weather bureau office, looked at weather maps, temperature trends, charts, etc., conferred with those on duty and made up your mind.

Now you must take your problem to the weather bureau. If the bureau thinks it is important enough, the man on duty may make some observation or suggestion about it, based on the knowledge of weather trends he will have—and you take his advice or leave it.

Down on the coast oyster fishermen used to come into the office and size up the situation before going out to fish. Now they have to trust to the good judgment of the weatherman as an oyster fisherman.

Airplane pilots formerly walked into the bureau like they owned the joint, poured over maps, charts, and other complete weather information. Now the "Keep Out" sign applies to the pilot. He must tell the weatherman where he intends to go and then wait for a "what I would do if I were you" answer.

And thus it goes for any line of endeavor. The weather bureau isn't about to go around handing out information which comes under the restricted type, or putting out valuable weather data to those who might obtain it on a ruse.

Forecasts are now held to 26 hours at the most and generally those released to the press (the press is getting the old weather forecasts for the emergency) are generally effective for about 18 to 20 hours.

In addition to heaping new burdens upon the weather bureau personnel, prospective movements of military material and aircraft make it doubly important for the official personnel to keep a close and accurate check on the weather.

J. S. GARLINGTON

Garlington Asks Judge's Office

J. S. Garlington announced Saturday for county judge of Howard county, subject to the action of the democratic primary.

Judge Garlington served as county judge during 1935 and 1936. He has resided in Howard county since 1925 and has been interested in farming and ranching in the county since 1918.

In announcing for "this high office," said Judge Garlington, "I promise my friends and neighbors that if elected I will perform the duties of the office in accordance with the constitution and the laws of the state and assure each and every citizen that equal justice shall be done in this court, to both rich and poor alike."

Students Barter for Lunch

BERGEN, N. Y.—Since the Bergen high school's economics department inaugurated a system of exchanging a full meal for a few potatoes or other farm produce, 80 per cent of the students remaining on campus at the noon recess have become regular "customers."

Payments Of Poll Taxes Total 1,625

That poll-tax paying rush is yet to come. Saturday only 1,625 poll taxes had been paid in Howard county along with 63 exemptions. A lot more people are going to have to mull up to the counter and shove across their $1.75 each before the county's probable strength of 7,000 is accumulated.

Deadline for payment of poll taxes, if these are to be valid for voting, is January 31.

The same date is final for obtaining exemptions by those persons who intend to vote on them. All "unders"—persons 21 years old—must obtain exemption certificates if they are to vote. All "overs"—persons over 60 years of age—must present exemption certificates when they vote if they live within Big Spring (or any other city of 10,000 or more population). However, the over-age voters obtain a certificate that is good for life.

Choose Your Uniforms Girls, But Remember It's Not All As Glamorous As It Looks

By DOROTHY ROE AP Fashion Editor

Sister Susie, who used to sew shirts for soldiers back in the first World War, is stepping out in her own uniform today, along with Brother Bill.

From Park Avenue to Main Street Uncle Sam's niece are enlisting with the American Red Cross, the Office of Civilian Defense and the American Women's Voluntary Service, offering their time and their talents to aid their country's defense.

Manufacturers are rushing orders on uniforms of all kinds as young women put aside frills and furbelows in favor of utilitarian garments of soldier blue.

Officially approved uniforms of the OCD are distributed through the nation's retail stores. Red Cross and AWVS members must order their uniforms through their local chapters.

One thing the new civilian uniforms have in common—all are blue. Prices range from $3.50 for the OCD canteen worker's uniform to $40 for the Red Cross Motor Corps uniform. These are for ready-made outfits. Custom-made uniforms run as high as $135.

We may soon be a nation of women in uniform—and from where we sit the uniforms look both practical and becoming.

Red Cross Motor Corps Covert Coat Dress, $40

Red Cross Field Worker Wool Suit, $20.25

AWVS Junior Worker Gabardine, $25 or less

AWVS Senior Worker Gabardine, $25 or less

Miss Laneous Notes

By MARY WHALEY

According to the latest stories slipping about the country there are all sorts of signs and warnings like "tip your lip," "don't talk to strangers" and "cheery sayings" such as "let's can Japan" and "many more."

Many of the sayings which have evolved during the past month are pointing fingers at fifth columnists. Being a columnist of sorts, we are terribly interested in this newer variety known as fifth.

This is the sort of man who peers through your keyhole and listens to your phone conversations. He finds out military secrets and transports them back to his country. In case of bombings he leads the planes in with flashlights and destroys vital points from the inside. Like a termite, he bores from within the nobody knows what he is doing until there is a break through or pressure put on a certain spot.

We've been reading about this fifth variety of columnist for so long that we've begun to think about him. We can see him with red eyes, lashing tail, two horns, and sharp claws. Sometimes he is a combination man and beast and sometimes he is just a beast.

According to the best detective stories, though, these are always the men who didn't do it, while the nice appearing man is the one who did. It's got us puzzled and worried. We'd like to pin one down under a microscope and see what makes him tick. It's hard to think of him as a man, we always think of something four-legged.

Editorial— Congress Needs To Show Courage In Price Fixing

One of the prime essentials to maintaining a wartime economy, we believe, is the prompt promulgation of a rigid price control system—and it ought to be an effective system such as the administration wants.

Many congressmen can be charged with an unwillingness to face the straight facts and to ignore political repercussions, in their dilly-dallying on the price control plan. The longer they delay, the more acute the national situation becomes. Particularly are they shy of the agricultural price situation, which, after all, is the keystone to any price control. If the basic commodities cannot be pegged within certain levels, there is no other starting place.

The farm bloc's fight to keep the agriculture department and a board of some sort in charge of prices is evidence of the lawmakers' lack of political courage. It has been established that a single responsible administrator can be much more effective in controlling the price structure, and we doubt that any other method would prove effective.

Everybody is agreed that extreme inflation is an evil to be avoided during the war. The government is using the brakes of heavy taxation and of government investment as a means of control. Yet these very things will prompt individuals and businesses to up prices in order to meet government demands and stay in business; and the only answer is a blanket price control operation.

The "little people" of this country—those who are doing their part in bond and stamp buying and in cutting corners to meet the national emergency—need what help that can be given. The fixing of prices on such industrial items as copper and tungsten, on aluminum and tin; or on such commodities as pepper has an effect on these people's living, to be sure. But the little people are primarily interested in the price of bread and of beans, of milk and of meat. These are the things that get out of hand first, and that must have direct attention.

The farmer deserves a full price for his products, to be sure; we have maintained that all the time. But the farmer himself does not benefit if a vicious inflation spiral continues; and the consumer has an interest to be protected, too.

The congress has been forthright in many of the war demands; we hope they will be forthright in facing this very vital step in keeping this country's economy on an even keel—or as even as can be expected under war conditions.

NO TIME FOR LOVE

Chapter 14
CASTLES IN MAINE

"I was afraid you were not coming," Rod said when Lavinia joined him upon the top of a tall rock, one of their favorite spots, from where they could look far out to sea.

"And I," said Lavinia with an honesty which surprised her, "was afraid you'd gone away. I stopped at the cottage one the way up."

"I'd never go away without saying good-bye."

"I hope you wouldn't."

Red moved over for her to sit down beside him.

"What were you dreaming about when I came up?" Lavinia wanted to know. "Castles in Spain?"

"No, castles in Maine," Rod said. "Hoping that I might some day build one."

"Why not be practical — and make it a bungalow?"

"No joking, Lavinia. I really think it would be splendid to have a castle in Maine—right here on this very spot."

"It would be picturesque at least."

"And I'd have a high tower with a wide window, so I could spend hours just watching the surf come tumbling in, green on blue, blue on green—flecked with white caps like a lot of tossing flames."

Lavinia loved to hear him talk like that, and found herself listening eagerly for more. She tried to convince herself that it was all just a lot of romantic nonsense Rod was talking—and could not. Or what if it was romantic nonsense? Wasn't she supposed to be on a vacation, and oughtn't she to listen to something that had nothing on earth to do with business and the life she lived back in New York? Certainly. Very well, then—go on and listen; and stop trying to analyze everything.

"I think I'd prefer a low, sprawling sort of house," she said, when Rod stopped speaking. "With wide porches—and flower beds—and vines."

"And a widow's walk," said Rod.

"What's that?"

"It's a sort of walk on the roof of the house, around a kind of cupola look-out. Wives of fishermen went up there to walk, to watch and look for their husbands who often never came back."

"Then I wouldn't want a widow's walk," said Lavinia. "Just a roof over my head—and one that didn't leak."

"You are practical, aren't you?"

"Yes. I started out that way when I was very young, and it's hard to change now."

"I was pretty practical myself for quite a while," Rod confessed. "But the more I saw of war, the more rumors of wars that I heard, the more I thought about the matter. And now I've about concluded that being practical doesn't really matter. With things as they are in our troubled old world, I get the feeling that one should live each day—get as much out of it as one can—and give little thought to the tomorrows."

Washington Daybook— War Brings Screw Events To United States Capital

By JACK SEINNETT
WASHINGTON—The Capital in Wartime!

All the horrors of war aren't confined to the front or even to bombed cities. For example, there are those "patriotic" songs that have sprung up on the radio overnight—as thick as weeds in an unworked cotton patch.

In Hollywood, several Johnnie-come-latelys turned out at the crack of dawn one morning to file their claims at the Hays office to the title, "Remember Pearl Harbor." Another company announced with patriotic fervor that it would abandon proceedings on a super-duper called "Pearl Harbor Pearl."

One well patronized Washington restaurant already has changed "Liberty noodles" on its menu to "Liberty macaroni," which must make the Nazi nudler lovers laugh. And another is advertising its spaghetti as "Victory macaroni," which is equally silly, macaroni being just as Italian as its slender cousin.

A traffic violator, haled into court the other day for failure to post his bail the night before, explained he had driven up to the 8th Precinct police station and discovered "It was closed for the night." The judge let him off. He should have.

The 8th Precinct station is the city's finest example of how to blackout a building. During blackouts, it looks about as full of life as an abandoned warehouse on the riverfront, in a heavy midnight fog.

One of Washington's several women taxi drivers applied to the Red Cross for appointment as an ambulance driver. She was told, she says, that she would have to prove her worth by driving 100 hours for the Red Cross in her own car. She asked how about the 10 years she had been driving a taxi in Washington traffic? That didn't count.

Speaking of taxis, the District of Columbia's are being organized into a "civilian defense motor corps" that might be one of the most effective aids to the capital if trouble comes. It is estimated that there is one to every 250 persons in the District.

In an air attack, these would be assigned to rush doctors and nurses to stricken areas, to act as emergency ambulances, and to aid in evacuating.

One thing air raid preparations are doing for Washington is to bring Mrs. Got-Rox, Secretary Phooft and Sen. Even Phooft off those high horses.

With the exception of New York and Chicago, Washington probably is proportionately, more of an apartment city than any other. Like all big apartment cities, the most unneighborly people in town are neighbors.

I know a young man who had lived in the same building with a senator for three years, but had never seen him until they both turned up at an air raid warden organization meeting. The young man's apartment is one room, the senator's seven. But it was the young man who was named deputy warden for that section of the building.

Three nights later, the senator called and wanted to know if the deputy wouldn't please come in and help him plan the blackout of his 21 windows. Now instruction classes are being held in the senator's apartment and the senator is just one of the gang.

Such stories are being told all over Washington. Approximately 65 senators, seven cabinet members, several Supreme Court justices, a couple of hundred dollar-a-yearers, and numberless congressmen live in apartments and are getting acquainted with the folks around them for the first time.

Maybe this is the beginning of democracy.

Sergeant York— Germans Will Fall Apart In Due Time

PALL MALL, Tenn., Jan. 10—News of the German retreating in Russia and leaving piles of equipment has made some folks suspicious of propaganda. They say it's against reason for an army as efficient as Hitler's to be stumbling in any such slipshod way, even for a little while.

In the last war, the Germans weren't exactly slouches. They were downright terrible—so long as they were coming at you. But once we got their ideas turned a n d a s e a them crawling, it was different. It took the heat right out of them. They turned tail and ran like turkeys, throwing off everything that hindered them. Never was anything more unruly, than those Germans retreating.

It's been in my mind that what's happening in Russia today is finally going to go all through the German nation. Maybe it'll be years before the whole mess of them takes the running fits. They'll fight like buzz saws. But when it does happen, I believe Germany's going to bodily fall apart just like the highly trained outfits we chased behind the broken Hindenburg line.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds— Clark Gable Gives Eskimos Thrill, Too

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—The tender passion still glows, war or no war, and I cite the following letter to Clark Gable from an Eskimo maiden in Alaska:

"I see you last night in Gone with the Wind and I dream of you, . . . I see movie actor this summer on beach taking pitchers, his name Lou Alres. He pretty man but not much pretty like you. . . . Next to King salmon fish I love you best."

Who remembers when June Haver was little "Dainty June" of the vaudeville circuit?

John Garfield's new black cocker spaniel blacked himself out in the first black-out and hasn't been seen since. . . .

George Sanders and Tom Conway, brothers, flipped a coin to decide which should change his name for pictures—Conway lost. They look alike, and sound alike, and now (says Tom) are considering another coin-flip to decide which shall grow a beard. Conway is the English-accented nast villain of "Rio Rita."

Alan Curtis and Ilona Massey are long-distance farmers—with a 340-acre place on an ocean point north of San Francisco. . . .

Ted North is hoping that, war or no war, the pace of the male will continue to concern some. . . . I see you last night in Gone with the Wind and I dream of you, . . . that now."

"I'll go down and work with the boat, then," Rod said. "And have it ready for our trip tomorrow. You won't change your mind, now, and decide you'd rather do something more exciting?"

"I can't think of anything more exciting," said Lavinia, "or anything I'd rather do than visit the island with you. Rod, I'll come around four-thirty. Or is that too early?"

"It's never too early for you to come," said Rod.

"More Mystery

Lavinia hurried off. And sometime later when she went down to the beach she found Margot waiting for her.

"How do you like him — now you've seen him a number of times?" Margot asked.

"Who?" said Lavinia.

"The mysterious young man. Don't think for a moment that you can see him every day without someone knowing, do you?" Lavinia shrugged.

"I hadn't given the matter a thought," she said. "And the 'mysterious young man' is quite nice, and thoroughly normal. I'd almost forgotten that he was supposed to be mysterious."

Margot lowered her voice as they passed a group of bathers.

"There's a rumor floating around that he's really one of those German prisoners escaped from Canada."

"Really?" said Lavinia. "Rumors seem to be the rage at Harbor Head."

"Rumors, my dear," said Margot, "are always numerous at a summer resort. But, after all, there could be something in the rumor about your young man being from the internment camp."

"Of course. There could also be something in the rumor that he's a criminal hiding from the law. But let's forget rumors, and have our swim. Shall we?"

"Right!" said Margot. "Come on, let's dive through that big roller just coming in."

That night Lavinia lay long thinking of what Margot Linden had said. It was only a rumor, of course. Certainly Roderick didn't look at all like a man who'd been in an internment camp. It was too ridiculous. And yet, he did remain rather reticent about himself. He didn't want to talk about the war at all, which was just as well, since she didn't relish the subject either; and yet, come to think about it, maybe the reason Rod didn't want to talk about it was because he might be afraid that he would slip up and reveal something about himself.

But in spite of doubts that kept trying to creep in and spoil things for her, Lavinia went down to the pier at the appointed hour the next afternoon. There she joined Rod, and looked at the boat.

"I hope you had no illusions about her," said Rod. "I mean, I hope you didn't picture a yacht, or a launch luxurious, or anything like that."

"What I don't know about boats would fill a library," said Lavinia. "And I love this one! It looks so cozy, and used."

Rod laughed. "It's been used all right!" he said.

It was a flat-bottomed boat, with an outboard motor. Her paint had long since peeled off in generous proportions, and her bow looked as though it had made a practice of bumping into things.

Hawaii Working Toward The Goal Of Self-Sufficiency

HONOLULU, Jan. 9 (Sp1)—Hawaii, vital American outpost in the troubled Pacific, may be on the way to near self-sufficiency.

A program to expand the agricultural output of the islands is in progress, and equipment is on hand to convert sugar—principal product of the islands—into motor fuel for the territory's war machine.

For the time being, the islands are well fixed for food.

This was disclosed by Lieut. General Delos C. Emmons, new commander of the army's Hawaiian department, in an interview which gave an encouraging picture of the usually-placid islands which were ripped by Japan's sneak opening attack of the Pacific war on Dec. 7.

A new enemy assault "may happen at any time," he pointed out, "but we will not be surprised again—and we will hold the islands."

"We are prepared to meet an attack at any time," he said, "and we are not waiting until the Singapore situation is disposed of one way or another. Emphatically we are stronger now than Dec. 7."

"The islands are the key to this side of the Pacific and losing them would be a serious matter. This is where we will start our offensive. We are working on that idea now. We will not lose Hawaii."

Army Calls Knott Men

KNOTT, Jan. 10 (Sp1)—Archie Martin has received notice from Army headquarters to report back for service. Martin was released when the 28-year law was passed.

Charley Bayes sold a truck load of fat steers at Fort Worth last weekend. He reports that he received $120 for one steer and $120 for another one in the load.

Allene Forrester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heck Forrester, has undergone major surgery at the Malone & Hogan clinic at Big Spring.

Tom Phillips of Phoenix, Ariz., was visiting his brothers, Johnnie and Roy Phillips, and his sister, Mrs. Lee Castle here Wednesday and Thursday.

Grady Dorey is having a house built on his farm east of Knott. He has just recently bought the land.

Mrs. Edgar Airheart has been at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. A. Orlin, at Cleo for the last three weeks.

J. R. Dillingham, teacher of the seventh grade at Garner, has been notified by his home draft board at Santa Anna to report to its office at El Paso for physical examination Jan. 13.

Mrs. Lee Castle has been hired by the school board to substitute as seventh grade teacher until a permanent teacher can be located to replace Dillingham.

The Brown home demonstration club met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. Hughie Burrow for a program on nutrition by the home demonstration agent, Miss Fern Hodges.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Lee Castle, Mrs. J. E. Griffin, Mrs. R. C. Stocks, Fern Hodges and the hostess, Mrs. Burrow.
