

IT IS YOUR RIGHT

To demand that the pharmacist who compounds your prescriptions use every possible care to get them right. Not only must he try his best to get them right, but he must do so.

No men, professional or otherwise, have a greater responsibility placed upon them than do druggists. Their working hours are long but they must be absolutely accurate. A moment's absence of mind might cause a loss of life. We only mention this to show you we appreciate the necessity of constant vigilance and alertness. We are not objecting to our hours though we would like them shorter.

We use every precaution to guard against error. Our prescriptions are all put up by registered pharmacists, and the items are always checked a second time as a safeguard.

GANDERBONES FORECAST

A table and a pitcher,
A tumbler and a stand,
A man in double-breasted clothes,
And music by the band;
A last appeal to reason,
A crowd with cheering daft—
Some folks think it's Bryan,
And others think it's Taft.

A speaker on a Pullman,
A little pantomime,
A hasty diagnosis of
The perils of our time;
A farewell and a promise,
A benediction aft—
Some folks think it's Bryan,
And others think it's Taft.

A man with twenty dollars,
Another man with ten,
A swift exchange of challenges,
And two excited men;
A show down and a wager,
A bank note and a draft—
Some folks think it's Bryan,
And others think it's Taft.

A homestretch and a tumult,
A spyglass and a shout,
A feverish excitement while
They try to make them out;
A flying dust cloud leading,
A second cloud abaft—
Some folks think it's Bryan,
And others think it's Taft.

In the old Roman calendar November was the ninth month. Blessings fell early, and the empire gave thanks just before the first frost; but about 700 B. C. the trusts left the people so little to be thankful for after nine months that it was decided to wait awhile and see if anything would come of the Roman elections. Numa accordingly made November the eleventh month and had Thanksgiving fall with the first snows, notwithstanding the month gets its name from the latin novem (nine).

The frisky colt will sniff the air and hear the whistling quail, and the festive calf will indicate the zenith with his tail. The frost will paint the forest with a deep and redder dye, the hired man will shuck the corn, the pumpkin vine will pie, the politician will hit up their office-holding feud, and the modest maple tree will blush and come out in the nude.

And then the presidential race Will hold its royal sway,
And every one will exercise His liver, anyway.
He'll bounce it up and down between His pancreas and gizzard,
And waltz it through his inner works From A around to Izzard,
And even though his present race May prove to be in vain,
He'll have the health and strength to run
Sometime, perhaps, again.

At any rate the candidates will dash into the stretch; and both Bills-o'-the-Wisp will make themselves quite hard to ketch. They will spurt in spirited response to many wild arousers, and fan the dust up with the slack downhanging from their trousers. They'll come in sight exhibiting a score of fancy paces, and only hit the trembling earth in four or five high places. The air will darken with the flight of gravel, dirt and sods, and the crowd will sound its battle cries and give and offer odds. And Teddy meanwhile will wedge in quite close beside the track, with something that he has concealed in a paper sack, and when his entry charges down, hot-footing like the wind, T. R. will hang a hornets nest upon him down behind.

And then there will be doings on This agitated sphere—
The earth will pitch and buck to beat A frenzied Texas steer.
The sun will spin around and around And blow up once or twice,
The moon will turn a very dark

And bloody ball of ice,
And no one will remain to see
Who won the race for vice.

The election will be held on the 3d, and the trusts will hold an all-night prayer meeting on the 2d. Mr. Bryan will cast his vote for Mr. Taft at Lincoln. Mr. Taft will return the courtesy at Cincinnati, and Mr. Rockefeller will receive the news at Cleveland. The quadrennial ass who wheels another quadrennial ass through town on a wheelbarrow will start from the posoffice at 10 o'clock on the morning of the 4th, followed by 90 boys and the foolkiller. The complete returns will be in by the 15th.

The annual show-down between city and country life will be complete by the 20th, when the farmer will have his cellar stocked with potatoes, turnips, kraut, honey, nuts, hams, sidemeat, souse, popcorn, pickles, pigs' feet, apple butter, lard, sweet potatoes and sorghum, and the city man will enter the winter with his cellar stocked with tons of hard coal and two gas meters.

The man who made election bets,
Relying on his knowledge,
Will write a sad note to his son.
Withdrawing him from college,
The football season will wind up,
The class room claim its braves,
And the faculty will order flowers
And decorate the graves.

A double fleeced-lined coat of hair will come in style for dogs, and the farmer will put on the pot and kill his fattened hogs. The air will teem with shots and squeals and sundry flavorsweet, the good housewife will render lard and scrape and pickle feet, the spared old hen will get a note of terror in their cacklings, and the children will refresh their tumbs with good old-fashioned cracklings.

Mr. Roosevelt's annual proclamation advancing the price of turkey 10 cents a pound will be issued about the middle of the month. He will urge us to give thanks that 55,000,000 cubic feet of earth were excavated at Panama in October.

The sad-faced gobbler will address
His young and tearful flock,
And clip for memory's sweet sake
A small and tear-stained lock,
And then with many sighs, will lay
His head upon the block.

Until the 25th November we will be under the zodiacal sign of Scorpio. People born in Scorpio are cross at supper, and it is better, if possible, to be born after the 25th, when the month is under the sign of Sagitarius the Archer. Sagitarius people are only cross at breakfast when everybody is.

The flower for November is the chrysanthemum, which signifies that Japan received our fleet without starting anything. The moon will be full on the 8th.

Along about the 29th
The Duke of the Abruzzi
Will get it all fixed up that he Shall wed his tootsey-wootsey;
And Elkins pere will dance a jig
And dream of wedding cake,
While everybody else makes bets
On whether it will take.

And then December will blow in with cold and Christmas glee, and old King Coal, the merry soul, will thunder out, "Pay me!"

THE SOCIETY REALM

Mrs. J. G. Merrill, Editor

The Hesperian club met Friday with Mrs. Carter. Splendid papers were given by Mrs. Dupree on Fear as a dramatic element in Macbeth and Banquo's reception of the Witches. The club will meet this week with Mrs. Dolman with this program. Leader.—Mrs. Phenix. Roll Call.—Political views. Parliamentary drill. Lesson Act III. Was Macbeth the third murderer? Affirmative.—Mrs. Johnson, Negative Mrs. Majors. Talk. Was Banquo bad?—Mrs. Merritt. Sketch. The Cathedral builders of Florence.—Mrs. Payne. Round Table. One fact about the character of the builders.

Mrs. Roberts who has been visiting her daughter Mrs. Walter Stoneham returned to her home in Fort Worth Friday. She was accompanied by Mrs. Stoneham who expects to remain away until after Christmas. On the afternoon before they left Mrs. J. B. Annis entertained most pleasantly in honor of Mrs. Stoneham.

Mrs. Gustine was hostess for the Baptist Ladies Tea Thursday. Her cozy home so bright and cheerful was a delightful contrast to the threatening weather outside. Not many got out but those who did enjoyed greatly the whole afternoon. Delicious salad coquettes, pickles, wafers, coffee and chocolate were served in a most appetizing manner. A nice sum was realized for the Aid.

The Tuesday Study Club enjoyed a delightful afternoon this week with Mrs. A. L. Whipkey. Perfectly splendid papers were given by Mesdames Jones and Vincent and Mrs. Bass played very sweetly. Mrs. Gustine was a pleasant visitor. Mrs. Whipkey served delicious Waldorf salad in apple cups, olives, wafers and chocolate. Mrs. Jones is hostess next week and this program will be given.

Roll Call. Where do children get their ideas? The Power of Ideas.—Mrs. Annis. Not what we give but what we share.—Mrs. Bass. Discussion. The responsibility of parents.

Miss Bess McMurry was hostess for the Card club this week and an especially nice meeting was enjoyed. The royal prize, a set of shirt waist pins was won by Mrs. Artie Bailey. The lone hand prize a dainty handkerchief by Mrs. Bell and the guest prize a bag, by Mrs. Chambers.

Mesdames Griswold and Payne returned Tuesday morning from Stamford where they attended the district conference of the W. H. M. They report a delightful and interesting session in every way.

Saturday was Annie B. Waldo's birthday and she celebrated by inviting in a few of her little girl friends in the afternoon. Games were played and a very nice time indeed enjoyed by all. At an appropriate hour a birthday cake and other goodies were served the young ladies who were out to make Annie B. enjoy her ninth birthday.

On Tuesday Kathleen Ingram was three years old and her mama invited in a dozen little boys and girls to play with her in the afternoon. The afternoon was spent in playing games on the lawn and in the house. At five-thirty the little guests were ushered into the dining room where a beautiful birthday cake with three candles on it surrounded by dishes of ice cream, made them hungry just to look at. After the refreshments were served the mothers began to gather up their babies and soon all had said good-bye to Kathleen and if not expressing it had at least hoped that she would each year celebrate her birthday.

The Foreign mission study class met Monday at the church and spent a very profitable afternoon under the leadership of Mrs. Carter. Bro. Dodson gave a very interesting talk on the lesson. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Crockett, who is leader.

One of the most enjoyable things the women of Colorado have had an opportunity of enjoying in a long time was the talk given by Miss Nancy Lee Swann at the home of her sister Mrs. George W. Smith Wednesday afternoon at four. Miss Swann is state secretary of the Young Woman's Christian Association of Texas, and her talk was upon the work the association is doing in Texas, the United States and the World and was certainly an inspiration to each woman to help in this great work in our state schools. Miss Swann has worked in Minneapolis, studied in New York and travelled a great deal so her knowledge of the work is very broad and her manner of delivering her message eloquent and forceful. A large number of the ladies enjoyed the talk and a personal word with Miss Swann. Mrs. Smith who never forgets to be truly hospitable served tea and wafers to her friends before they said good-bye so the afternoon was both an intellectual and social feast. Miss Swann left Thursday for Fort Worth.

The Wednesday Social club enjoyed a very pleasant meeting this week with Mrs. Blandford. The 42 game was very interesting and at its close a delicious salad with bread and butter, pickles, stuffed apples and coffee were served. The club bow was worn home by Mrs. W. R. Smith the guest bow by Mrs. Curry.

The 21 club postponed its meeting until Thursday when a delightful afternoon was enjoyed with Mrs. Shropshire.

THE SICK

M. K. Jackson, who has been sick so long, is slowly improving, we are glad to state. Mrs. John L. Doss is reported quite sick at her home in this city. Will Doss suffered Wednesday with an attack of cholera infantum.

Col. and Mrs. Sam C. Wilks of Post City spent Sunday in Colorado on their way to Mineral Wells to enjoy several weeks rest. Col. Wilks is commissioner of Garza county and a booster for Post City. He is jovial and a happy-go-lucky man that always has a good word for everybody.

THOMAS-LOGAN

The Baptist church was the scene of a very pretty wedding Wednesday morning. When a few minutes after seven o'clock Miss Harriet Elizabeth Thomas and Mr. Lloyd L. Logan were married by Rev. Holmes Nichols. The altar and the pulpit of the church had been artistically decorated in ferns and palms by the members of Miss Thomas' Sunday school class, under the leadership of her teacher Mrs. Robt. Terrell. The organ was banked with green. Just before the bridal party entered Miss Nichols sang "If I Were a Star" very sweetly, then the wedding march played most skillfully by Mr. A. J. Payne pealed forth and the bridal party entered, the bridesmaids and bride marching up the south aisle, the groomsmen and groom up the north. Miss Elsie Hooper in an elegant green coat suit with hat and gloves to match led the way, next came Miss Whitmore of Fort Worth in blue with hat and gloves ensuit, Miss Abbie Thomas' in lovely navy blue suit and the charming bride who never looked more handsome than upon this important occasion. Her suit was a navy blue cloth with trimmings of black satin, it was made an empire coat with plaited skirt, her hat and gloves were black. The groomsmen Messrs Thomas, brothers of the bride and Mr. Logan a brother of the groom together with the groom all looked handsome and manly. The bride and groom met at the altar and were soon made husband and wife. The organ was played softly during the ceremony. At its close the wedding march again pealed forth as the bridal party marched out, down the middle aisle. Mr. and Mrs. Logan were driven at once to the depot and left on the morning train for their future home near Seymour. Mr. Logan is to be congratulated upon winning for himself such a sweet and lovable woman and the best wishes of all Miss Hattie's friends attend her in her new life. Though she has lived here only a short time she has greatly endeared herself to all and will be greatly missed both in her church and her club.

TWO MORE PAGES

The Record prints this week 12 pages as our advertising patronage increases we add more pages to accommodate the reading matter and by the way most of the ads in this issue are good reading to a buying public but perhaps the strongest ad this week is McGill's half page. McGill has just closed a big ten days sale and was well pleased with the results as lots of goods were sold. In this ad this week they announce another sale (cloaks, overcoats and clothing) for one week and offer extra bargains.

Ladies $12.50 cloaks for $9.38; $10 cloaks for $7.90; Men's suits $15 for $12.50 etc. Mr. E. Avera his new man is a hustler, a good advertiser and is ably assisted by Mr. Purdue who has just come from Dallas and is a salesman of experience and ability. These men are bringing the McGill store to the front.

Claude Gill and Vic Payne are highly pleased with country life out on the Root farm. Vic gets up at 5:30 a. m. and milks the cows, Claude chops the wood, Mrs. Vic Payne prepares the meals and Mrs. Claude Gill—no, Claude himself acts as general chore boy. Geo. Root in town acts like a man very much out of place and has not yet discarded his farm clothes.

On Halloween, spooks and divers sorts of "things" are conceded to be stalking abroad. So if you see anything going home from the club, dance or lodge, it is not certain that you have 'em again, but probably a "pumpkin face" on a gate post.

Wholesale and Retail

Dry Goods, Groceries, Hardware, Etc. COLORADO, TEXAS

[The following articles are taken from the October number of "The Messenger," a little paper published in the interest of the Colorado Baptist Church and Sunday School].

"AM I MY BROTHER'S KEEPER?"

"I am debtor to all men."
It was our sad duty to minister to the unfortunate boy, who was killed in the wreck near Loraine, in his last hours and to follow his remains to the potter's field for the last sad rites. After it was all over we wrote a tender letter to his parents, telling them that the young men of our town had made up a nice sum to prepare the body for burial, and that he had received christian burial. Some days after we received letters from both the father and the mother. The father's letter was published in the Colorado Record, but as the mother's letter is so much more tender and touching and grateful, we give it space in The Messenger:

"Dear Bro. Nichols: I want to say a word to thank you and the many good people of Colorado for the kindness shown to our sweet, precious child. God will bless you for ministering to him in his last hours, something his parents could not do. I know you are a good man, and you will always have a warm place in our hearts. He was a good, kind, obedient child—our first born. You don't know how much we miss him. Please keep his grave in remembrance, for I may some time visit Colorado. I am anxious to know the date of his death. Thanking you again for your kindness and sympathy, I am,
Your friend,
MRS. G. D. HOLLAND."

To the little crowd that stood around the dying boy in the court house he was only a "dirty tramp," but to the woman who penned the above lines, and who lives in a little cottage in far-off Alabama, he was a "sweet, precious child." The lesson which I would impress upon the reader is this: Every western wanderer is some mother's child, and loyalty to our God and Christ and to His church demands that we endeavor to point them to the better life, and that in hours of sickness and suffering we press the "cup of water" to feverish lips.

We related this incident for the Western Evangel under the heading, "Somebody's Boy." The editor of the Evangel told us that his "machine man" wept as he read and set the matter, and doubtless he resolved to ever honor his father and mother. In answer to the article referred to we received the following letter from Dr. John H. Boyett, pastor at Cisco:

"Dear Bro. Nichols: I have just read your article about 'Somebody's Boy,' and I want to thank you for it, as I thank God for such a spirit in the world. I have a letter from President McKinley to me, but I would rather have that letter from that boy's mother than one from every crowned head in the world. Our church building will be completed soon, and I want you to come and preach for us some time.

Fraternally yours,
JOHN H. BOYETT."

TO OUR SUNDAY SCHOOL

We are very glad to be able to report that our school continues to gain steadily in numbers, in accessions to the church and in offerings. In 1906 we had an average attendance of 98, in 1907 an average of 134, and this year up to Oct. 1st, the average was 178, and since the beginning of this the last quarter it has been 217 average.

Last year we had 7 scholars to unite with the church, this year 34 from the Sunday school have come into the mother church.

Last year the average collections were about $3.50. This year they have been about $4 up to Oct. 1st. At that time we adopted the envelope system and we show a decided increase, averaging $6.50 each Sunday.

All these blessings ought to inspire us to greater efforts in the winter's work before us.

The superintendent feels reasonably sure that the Sunday school will number over 300 by Jan. 1st, with a general attendance of 250, if we all work together for that end. We have organized a Lookout committee consisting of one scholar from each class, whose duty it is to watch out for the best interests of their several classes. Already one of the youngest of that committee (Billie Bass) has brought in a Baptist scholar (Master Lee Jones) and Lois Whipkey, another one among the youngest, has been anxiously on the lookout and brought a Baptist scholar last Sunday. We feel this committee to be a great help in keeping up the attendance of their respective classes and bringing those who belong to us into the school.

Pastor, Superintendent, Officers, Teachers, "Lookouts" and Onesiphorus Band make a large number actively engaged in earnest and constant work for our school. Is it any wonder we grow? And why all this effort and hard work to get large numbers to regularly attend Sunday school? What is the object? Because it is a Bible school. Because we have a corps of faithful, consecrated teachers, whose one object is to teach the Bible to those committed to their care, and to lead them gently and prayerfully into the church. We can never get too many under the influence and training of the Sunday school.

Our assistant superintendent, Mr. M. C. Ratliff, is a great help to us, and the school appreciates the interest he takes in its upbuilding. The reading of the lesson from the platform every Sunday by him is a helpful and pleasant change. The superintendent is especially depending on him in case of his absence at any time.

The next teacher's meeting will be directly after the Wednesday night prayer meeting, Oct. 28th. I earnestly request that every teacher, officer and substitute teacher be present, as there are matters of importance and interest to come before us—Thanksgiving and Christmas arrangements to be discussed. We need to have plenty of time to carry out such programs.

So with all these things to think of, let us take a fresh hold and do our best for a good winter's work, with sure results, not forgetting O. T. E. T., which means each one in their place two minutes before 10 o'clock every Sunday. Sincerely,

ROBT. M. WEBB,
Superintendent.

IN MEMORY OF OUR GREAT RALLY

(The following lines were sent the superintendent by Bro. Wm. E. Berry of Cuthbert, one of our strongest believers in Sunday schools, and received with a letter full of kind and cheery words of encouragement. It is a pleasure to get Bro. Berry's letters and have his hearty co-operation and suggestions in our Sunday school work.—Robt. M. Webb.)

Sail on great ship of state,
Sail on Sunday school, strong and great,
Colorado with all her fears
Has seen the grandest show in years.
We know the master who laid this plan
And we as workmen will by him stand,
For we have tried it once, and know
it's fine,
And next time two thousand will be in line:
For we know the cause is just and right,
And we as a Sunday school are in the fight.
So come again, master, and make your call;
Fairview is with you, old, young and all.
So wait abroad the welcome tidings,
Let the echo swell the breeze,
Till the great resounding whistle
Shall be heard 'way over seas.
Spread the information broadcast,
To the ends of all the earth,
Till every Sunday school of Mitchell county
Shall appreciate its worth.
—WM. E. BERRY, Cuthbert.

RHEUMATISM RECIPE

A well known authority on Rheumatism gives the following valuable, though simple and harmless, prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and being vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

The pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and can be bought separately, or the druggists here will mix the prescription for our readers if asked to.

THE PLACE

TO GO

I traveled all through the West,
Hunting a place that would do,
And found the place that suited me best
Is the place they call Plateau (Plattoo.)

Located in the midst of a fertile valley,
Into a town she is sure to grow,
And in a short time will tally
With any town I know.

Now, friends, if you want to make money,
I'll tell you what to do,

Suffering Ladies

are urged to follow the example of thousands of their sisters and take Cardui. Cardui is a non-mineral, non-intoxicating medicine for women. It is for sick, weak ladies, with sick female organs.

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

It is a genuine curative medicine, that builds up the female system and relieves female pain.

Mrs. M. A. St. Clair, of Eskdale, W. Va., writes: "Before taking Cardui, I had given up all hope of getting well. I had suffered for 3 years with my left side and was confined to my bed, so I took Cardui, and now Cardui has about cured my female trouble."

The Loraine Department.

An Interesting Budget of News from our Enterprising Neighbor to the East.

BY MISS IRENE GARLAND.

Last Sunday, after having undergone an operation of the ear, Mitchell Wallace left the physicians office and upon entering the drug store fell fainting to the floor, physicians were called and the young man soon recovered and went about his business seemingly no worse than before it happened.

Marshal Hollingsworth visited in Dallas several days this week.

Quarterly conference was held here Saturday and Sunday. Rev. Griswold the presiding elder, preached three excellent sermons. A special service of much interest was held at 3:30 Sunday afternoon.

Miss Sallie Belle Hays of Colorado was a visitor in Loraine Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Pridgen were visitors in Colorado Sunday.

Mrs. Phelan and sister Miss Robertson of Roscoe were guests of Mrs. J. W. Smiley Saturday and Sunday.

Wirt Bloom entertained the Sunday school study club Friday evening. The following new officers were elected: President, Willie Blocker, vice-president; Wirt Bloom, Secretary; Miss Dees, Treasurer; Aalin Hall. The young folks spent the time very pleasantly and profitably. The club will be entertained at the next meeting at the home of Mrs. T. R. Bennett.

Abbie Pratt and Lon Beach returned from Dallas where they were guests during the fair. They report a most delightful trip.

Ney Sheridan returned Monday from Grapeland where he attended the funeral of his mother.

J. V. Jones of Colorado was in town Monday as usual taking orders for Radford Grocery Co.

While trying to drive some mules into a lot Sunday morning Eff Gernigan living at Zehner ranch was badly injured. The horse which he was riding stepped into a prairie dog hole, throwing him a distance of some thirty feet, striking his head violently against the ground, causing concussion of the brain. The man was unconscious several hours. Dr. Beck was called and he did all in his power to relieve the sufferer. He reported him doing very well Monday, and says he will recover.

In a playful wrestling match Sunday, J. A. Henderson fell a distance of several feet, breaking his leg, physicians were called and at account he was resting as well as could be expected.

It seems that Sunday was a day of disasters for Loraine. To add to the list of broken limbs, fractured skulls, etc., a west bound freight train caught an unsuspecting calf inside the cattle guards—a whistle of the engine, a confusion of feet, blood and hair and the poor little bossy was no more—thus ends the story.

We regret to state that Miss Vera Gregg is very ill.

Mrs. Ebridge Keller who recently moved here with her husband from DeKalb, Texas is quite ill at her home at the Hess place in central Loraine.

Blakely Bros., are moving into their new concrete building on main street this week. Mr. Holmes has already moved and looks very much at home in his handsome new quarters.

Allan Hall visited in Dallas and took in the fair for several days this week.

In honor of Dr. and Mrs. Copeland, who leave the city, shortly Dr. and Mrs. Beck entertained a number of friends at luncheon on Sunday Oct. 25, a most pleasant day was spent by all.

W. F. Altman left this week for Dallas where he will spend several days at the fair, then go on to Hico when he will visit friends and relatives.

Mesdames Pridgen and Pollard were hostess to the Kimona Klub which meeting was held at Mrs. Pridgen's home on Washington, Ave., Thursday afternoon, the rooms were prettily decorated with ferns and the usual bevy of sweet Kimona wearers were present. The chief feature of the afternoon was a guessing contest was enthusiastically entered by all, a delicious salad course was served. These little ladies proved all that a charming hostess should be and their afternoon is one of the brightest pages in the clubs short history.

The "Round Table" held its regular weekly meeting Tuesday afternoon with Miss Georgia Mewshaw as hostess, at the home of Mrs. W. L. Edmondson. The meeting opened by singing the club song, accompanied by Miss Merrell on the piano. Interesting current events and short stories were given in response to roll call. The lesson was Act IV Merchant of Venice, Miss Mewshaw leading. After the business was all attended, to the young ladies spent a delightful few minutes in general conversation.

Miss Lou McDuffie, who has been the guest of Miss Adeline Howell for several weeks, left Monday for Abilene, where she will visit friends before returning to her home at New Boston, Texas.

R. Estelle has moved his residence from Donnahoe street to his lots near the Methodist church. Our little city is beginning to look a little more "cited" since some of the small buildings and rubbish from their buildings has been removed from the streets and the finishing touches are being put on the new brick and concrete buildings.

At the last count of the votes in the piano contest at the Loraine Mercantile Co., the W. O. W. and I. O. O. F. were 75,000 in the lead. The lodges have many strong supporters and it is thought that they are almost sure to win. The contest closes in December.

Little Harris Toler is among the sick ones this week.

Our young folks are looking forward to a jolly time on Halloween. The time of spooks, goblins and spirits, when the future will be revealed. Several entertainments will be given in the city in the afternoon and evening.

The Ladies Home mission society of the Methodist church held its regular meeting at the church Monday afternoon.

Misses Lela Pratt and Estelle Garland spent Tuesday shopping in Colorado.

Carter Pratt of Hico spent the first of the week in the city guest of his parents Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Pratt.

Mrs. George Pridgen returned Monday from Big Springs and is the guest of her daughter Mrs. W. T. Pridgen on Washington, Ave.

The young people of Loraine, who from the caste of characters in "Dot" the temperance drama are very enthusiastic, and are working diligently to have the play up perfectly. It will be presented at the new opera house on the evening of November 27, and as it is under the direction of the I. O. O. F. and W. O. W. it is bound to be a success.

The lease contracts at the Record office are the best; get one.

That "Monte Cristo" still holds its own and sways its old fascination over the theatre going public is proven by the remarkable success of Wm. H. Lemle as Edmund Dantes in Fred G. Conrad's production of that play. Mr. Lemle is now in his third season appearing in that part and bids fair to rival Mr. Chas. Fletcher and James O'Neil in reputation as Dumas' romantic hero. Mr. Lemle will appear at the Opera House.

COLORADO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1908

JACK FROST.

"He paints the leaf of the ivy vine
That runs o'er the garden wall Spangles the leaves of the pumpkin fine,
And reddens the sumacs tall.
He curls the leaves of the rugged oak,
That stand in the forest's shade;
O'er the grass blades spreads a cloak
As fine as by fairies made.
He creeps along by the limpid stream
Its ripples are hidden fast;
In icy fetters that brightly gleam
As he glides in the darkness past.
His labors begin at set of sun,
When the night winds softly croon,
He paints his pictures and has his fun
By the light of the harvest moon.
A wonderful artist is Sir J. Frost
And the subject he oftenest seeks,
Is the blushing rose we all love most,
In a maiden's dimpling cheeks."

Great is Mitchell county, and The Record is its Prophet. Bismillah!

Uncle Sam has decided to take a hand in the night-riding business himself.

The attendance at the Dallas Fair last Sunday was 110,000, which so far is the flood tide in its history.

When a west Texas judge inquired, "Have you anything to offer the court before sentence is passed?" the prisoner replied,
"Sorry Judge, but not a drop.
I did have a pint, but my lawyer took it on his fee."

An airship can't fly when the wind is blowing, hence they will never displace the bronc and auto for interior travel in west Texas. They might come handy for migratory bank cashiers who desire quick action without danger of arrest—in transitu.

Five barrels of confiscated beer were publicly burned in the streets of Midland last week, right before the eyes and mouths of a bunch of citizens, so dry they had to prime their throats to deplore such an unpardonable waste. The apostles of "certain inalienable rights" seem to be getting it in other places than the neck these latter days.

Col. Taylor of Tennessee, saved his life at the Reelfoot lake butchery by understanding the tricks of the 'possum. He threw up his hands and fell 'dead' at the first fire from the night riders. When the night riders dispersed, the discreet Colonel did not deem it derogatory to his valor to hit it up for the tall and thick.

What is more exhilarating now than the crisp, bright, frost-laden fall mornings of west Texas?
The man must indeed be past hope who is not strengthened in every laudable ambition, as he squares his shoulders and takes in the ozone that reddens his blood and whips the skin a-tingling. He takes up another hole in his belt and gets a better grip on things.

DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

Everyone who has read the Ladies Home Journal has noticed the page advertisement on the inside of the cover, of Ivory Soap. For this advertisement Procter & Gamble pay $4000 per month or $48,000 a year for a period of five years, and they are glad to get the space at this price. When we consider that Procter & Gamble use about 500 other publications with rates running from 10c to $4 per agate word we readily see how they spend $25,000 a day in advertising a 10 and 5 cent cake of soap.

Does it pay?

Though a silly, useless question in the face of 30 years successful business, during which the factory has been enlarged time and again and dividends high as 40 to 50 per cent paid on this investment in advertising, it deserves further answer. If it did not pay, how long could they keep up such expense? The advertising for which they pay is only a small part of what they receive. When they placed their $240,000 contract with the Ladies Home Journal, it was such a stupendous investment to promote such a small thing, that all the greatest newspapers in America, England, France and Germany—in which money could not secure one line of editorial laudation of any commodity—devoted thousands of dollars worth of space to the novelty and daring of the contract. "It must be a good soap, or the manufacturers would not back it so heavily."
All of which, in such papers as the London Times, was advertising worth many times more than what Procter & Gamble paid the Journal for. It was also of a class of advertising than, no amount of money could buy on the market.

The end sought to be attained by the manufacturers was to get the word 'soap' and 'Ivory' so closely associated in the mind of the buying public that to name one would suggest the other.
When you turn the first page of any high class magazine, "Ivory Soap" stares you in the face. If this persistent campaign were stopped for a year, some other brand of soap would be forced to the front and Procter & Gamble could never regain their lost prestige. And this is the history of every systematic, persistent advertiser of a meritorious article.
Advertising is the food that sustains the life of competitive business, just as the food sustains our lives, and a business concern can no more have a sound and successful business by advertising irregularly or by fake methods, than it can have a sound and healthy body by feeding it irregularly and on impure food.

That's true as God's sunlight.
No more can a business man advertise enough in one month to attract business for six, than he can eat enough on Sunday to last him through the week. Nor can he afford to advertise stingily. He can't bridge the hungry chasm of Failure with halting faith and "chinchy" advertising, any more successfully than he can cross a ten-foot ditch on a 9-foot plank. He loses all he has spent and lands in the mire.
Go the whole hog or none, is sound advertising doctrine—it's THE GOSPEL in business; faith and wholeheartedness.

(1) Intelligent, (2) Faithkeep-ing, (3) Persistent advertising in legitimate media, has always paid. The returns are sure as the principle of cause and effect.
As to the amount to spend in advertising, the greatest dividends have been reaped by those who advertised until they thought they were ruined—and then some more.

IT'S EASY TO BELIEVE SCANDAL

It is deplorable, still a fact that the majority of people relish scandal, and are more prone to believe an evil report concerning men and women than a good one, and particularly if the subject of the damaging rumors has succeeded in getting on in the world, a little better than the struggling, jostling herd below.
It is a streak of "original" sin that prompts the masses, when man or woman, has drawn ahead and above them by individual effort and strength of character, wish to pull him or her back to their own dead level.
We can print a harmful story of the best christian in Colorado, and in forty-eight hours a majority of the people will be repeating it as true, regardless of its reasonableness or possibility, while many will repeat it knowing it to be untrue. Occasionally is found an individual who hesitates before repeating scandal about friend or foe. He asks his judgment if this story is reasonable; if it comports with the man's or woman's life and habits. If it does, he may believe the story and keep quiet; if it does not, he brands it as a lie and keeps quiet. There are a remnant of such people, but they live quite a distance apart.

A STAG PARTY

Mr. Fred McKenzie claims he is only fifty years old, when in the presence of ladies, but when Mrs. McKenzie is asked about it, she only laughs and says something about not telling family secrets. On Tuesday night, October 27th, he called in a score or more of familiar spirits to his hospitable home to assist in celebrating the semi-centennial event—taking his word for his age.

To only assert that thus it was a most pleasant occasion, and that each particular guest had one of the memorable times of his life, were almost to detract from the perfect hospitality and spontaneous, nay, almost boyish abandon with which each guest committed himself to the spirit and full enjoyment of the occasion.

After a pleasant space, in remembering old ties and recalling pleasant memories of former associations, Mrs. McKenzie assisted by Mrs. Fred Whipkey, served a substantial two-course luncheon, of salads, pressed turkey, croquettes, olives, wafers, etc., topped with delicious punch and cigars. As a testimonial of their friendship, a handsome smoking set was presented the host by his guests, and several other appropriate presents by friends. If Father Time deals as gently and kindly with friend McKenzie the next fifty years as he has the first, he can pity the fruitless quest of Ponce de Leon, when he again invites his friends to help him celebrate his 100th birthday—which Providence grant he may.

In 1903 Roosevelt carried New York by 175,000, and from present indications it looks as if Taft would carry the state next Tuesday, though it is conceded by republicans that Mr. Chandler has an even break with Hughes for the governorship.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Colorado Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Colorado readers.

Mrs. M. J. Golightly, living five miles east of Merkel, Tex., says: "I have had more or less trouble with my kidneys during the last five years. The dull aching pain across my hips and small of my back at times extended into my limbs as far as the knees and the secretions from the kidneys were also scanty. I used two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me a world of good."

For sale by all dealers. Price

50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, Sole Agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

JOHNNY GALVIN IN A BELL BOY

The great New York musical comedy success "A Bell Boy" will be the attraction at the opera house to night with the clever young light comedian Johnny Galvin as the principle funmaker and supported by the dainty soubrette Ella Galvin and the prima donna soprano Irene Drew and a large company of capable actors and a chorus of pretty girls who can sing and dance. "A Bell Boy" is no farce comedy nor is it a burlesque but it is high class, clean cut musical comedy full of funny situations, bright dialogue, sparkling lyrics and music that is easily remembered and more easily whistled, the kind that every one wants to hear.

The production is said to be lavish in the matter of scenery, costumes and electrical and mechanical effects, and every way worthy of the management and the high character of the chief comedian taking part in it. It contains more big acts and feature numbers than any musical comedy on the road to-day. Everything is now up-to-date and each solo, duet, quartette and concerted number is given with a nerve and vim that shows the best and most artistic stage management.

Johnny Galvin himself is one of those handsome, pleasant mannered boys bubbling over with ginger who sings, dances and keeps things on the go very much as does his more famous contemporary Geo. M. Cohan, although he at no time imitates him.

Miss Irene Drew the prima donna of "A Bell Boy" is a most handsome as well as talented singer. She has in this piece the best opportunity of her entire artistic career and she makes the most of it. In one number she appears in an automobile touring car lighted by many electric lights. At Colorado Opera House, to-night, Oct. 30th.

THE FOUNDER OF INDIGESTION.

The founder of indigestion was Noah; he forgot to leave the pigs ashore. From the hog comes lard; from lard, indigestion. The moment you put lard-cooked food into your stomach, you send a pleading invitation for dyspepsia to come and take possession.

You don't need to use lard, though, unless you want to; there is a cooking fat that makes food any stomach can easily digest. It is COTTLENE; no hog fat—just pure vegetable oil, nutritious, wholesome; makes flaky pie crust, crisp doughnuts, light, rich rolls and cakes—in fact, all the things you like, but cannot eat perhaps, because they do not "agree."

COTTLENE has been well named "the perfect shortening."

Keep up Appearances

This store is run on the theory that the majority of young men want stylish clothes—that they're as jealous of their appearance as any young man, anywhere.

Average clothing, the kind we don't sell, is made in a rush and in large quantities; like they turn out castings in an iron foundry or cut boards from a log in a saw mill. One garment is like another; no individuality; nothing distinctive, inside or out.

Between such clothing and that we sell there is all the difference of ordinary and superior tailoring; and this is the same in clothing as the difference between hot air and live steam in a locomotive.

Each garment we sell is separately made with special care. The tailoring of each part is an operation by itself. This is the foundation of good clothes. Style depends upon it; so does shape and wearing quality. So does appearance.

J. R. Porter, of south of Loraine, was an appreciated caller at this office Saturday, and dropped a pair of dollars into the bottomless till of the Record's exchequer. He says he has a fine herd of Angora goats, which he has just sheared, and reports a ready sale for the clip. Mr. Porter is a model citizen and splendid farmer.
Postmaster Hazzard returned home last Sunday from the postmaster's convention at Fort Worth. Mr. Hazzard reports a good meeting and an enjoyable time, and says while in convention a straw vote was taken on the presidential race and it was made unanimous for Taft.
J. A. Fore has a position in Hillsboro.
D. D. Wimberly of Loraine, the feed man, paid this office a social call this week and tells us he has sold out at Loraine and is now busy collecting accounts. Mr. Wimberly sold to our old friend J. W. Smiley, who is a mighty good man for the feed store and yard.

ATTENTION W O W

Since I wrote you last we have initiated some four or five, but now that the panic is passing away we should have some initiations each meeting night. Ask your neighbor who has no protection for his loved ones to let you bring in his application. This is a good time of the year to pay your dues in advance for 12 months and get an annual receipt book and identification card.

Remember too that on Thursday night, Dec. 3rd we elect officers for the next year and you should be present.

RATIONAL CURE ECZEMA

No More Dosing the Stomach—Cure the Skin Through the Skin.

When you have a scratch on your hand you wash it out and cleanse it and then the skin cures itself. You do not take blood medicine to cure a festering wound.

The best skin specialists today are agreed that the only way to cure the skin is through the skin.

The fact that eczema is a skin disease and not a blood disease is evident from statistic which show that nearly all eczema sufferers are perfectly healthy in all other ways except as to their skin. If eczema patients were really suffering from an inward malady, the entire body and not only the skin would be diseased.

You can prove immediately the relief of a true skin cure by using oil of wintergreen as compounded in D. D. D. prescription.

This liquid attacks the disease germs, numbing them while building up the healthy tissue of the skin. We have now handled this meritorious and thoroughly scientific remedy for so long and have seen its reliable result so many times that we freely express our confidence. W. L. DOSS.

The members of the Band are working as fast as possible, considering their school studies and short days.

Dec. 11th and 12th are the dates set for the Sale and Women's Exchange. Mr. Tom Stoneroad, president of the Young Men's club, has graciously allowed us the use of their rooms for that purpose. The Mission Band and Directors of the enterprise take this opportunity of thanking the club for thus aiding them to secure a suitable and convenient place.

City Confectionery

Under new management and with improved service. No pains will be spared to make it the most inviting for the hungry and thirsty in the city. Best Fruits, Candies, Cigars, Fountain Drinks and Ice Cream to be had. Give me a chance to please you.

GEO. W. DUNN, Prop.

Of all the romantic stories written, there are none more absorbing than Dumas' "Monte Cristo" and as a play it loses not one whit of its fascinating interest. Edmund Dantes, the hero, appeals to every boy, man and woman, and many a man can remember as a boy when he hustled up his errands and chores or shirked them in order to pore over the pages of "Monte Cristo." Edmund Dantes is not a hero that wraps the minds of boys or leads them astray seeking adventures, it rather elevates their minds and ideas of life. Edmund is an ideal hero and many a matinee idol owes his reputation to the part of Edmund Dantes, but Mr. W. H. Lemle of Fred G. Conrad's production of "Monte Cristo" is not a matinee idol but an ideal Edmund Dantes physically, mentally and temperamentally, he is fitted for the part and is winning golden opinions from all sorts of people. "Monte Cristo" will be at the Opera house.

ELLWOOD FENCE

This is a picture of Ellwood hog fence. More of this style is used than of all other makes combined. In connection with several strands of plain barbed wire, it puts up a fence that is absolutely pig-tight and will also turn large stock.

The Best Fence on Earth

For Corrals, Cow Pens, and to protect the orchard from rabbits, and the chickens from the wolves.

LIGHTER, STRONGER, AND CHEAPER THAN LUMBER.

It Makes a Beautiful Yard Fence.

ELLWOOD POULTRY AND RABBIT FENCE

THIS IS A FENCE—NOT A NETTING.

A strong and all-important distinction. Is especially designed as a poultry and rabbit fencing, it is sufficiently strong to stop all larger animals. Costs practically the same as the lighter nettings, while in the matter of service and durability it is worth ten times as much.

Georgia's State Chemist Praises Cottolene

J. H. McCandless, State Chemist of Georgia, before a recent gathering of Cotton Seed men, gave emphatic praise to the high quality of Cottolene. He said:

"The sale of this product and the proclamation that it is made of cotton seed oil have done more to bring cotton seed oil truthfully and favorably before the public than anything else in recent history."

Mr. McCandless then pointed out how a pure, refined, vegetable-oil basis, such as is in Cottolene, is the only assurance a woman has of a clean, digestible, cooking product.

It seems a positive wonder in the light of all that has lately been said and written, and of what is known of lard, where it comes from, of what it may be made, and how little chance there is to get pure lard, that anyone will continue its use, when pure, sweet and healthful Cottolene can be so easily obtained.

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk Cottolene is packed in pails with an airtight top to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.

Cook Book Free For a 2c stamp, to pay postage, we will mail you our new "PURE FOOD COOK BOOK" edited and compiled by Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln, the famous Food Expert, and containing nearly 300 valuable recipes.

The Voice of Gold.

BY IRENE GARLAND.

"Sweet are the uses of adversity, tho' like the toad ugly and venomous wears yet a precious jewel in his head." The immortal Bard of Avon never penned truer lines. The oftentimes the jewels of adversity are not seen at first they exist just the same. Adversity had brought Majel Grantley to feel wants and needs of others, it had taught him what true friendship means, had taught him to look for the true and avoid the shams. It made him "to feel what wretches feel" and developed within him a heart exceedingly tender. At the age of twenty one, an active out door life had developed him into a handsome man, whose black eyes sparkled with health and intelligence.

It is a warm Sabbath afternoon in July and laziness is the prevailing attitude, the hum of the honey laden bee sounds dully as tho he were overcome. The fat cows dare not leave their pleasant couches beneath persimmon trees. The roses are gorgeous, but the sun had scorched and parched the more delicate plants till their tender eyelids closed forever. A stillness, characteristic of such a day prevailed and the little town of DeKalb, away up in the northeast corner of our Lone Star state, which had been the home of Majel since childhood's rosy morn had cast a mystic veil over everything hiding all else but joy and brightness, drowsed on in its same quaint way. The young man's heart was filled with inexpressible joy and peace. It seemed to him that everywhere contentment and beauty reigned Queen. When our own hearts are glad we view the universe through joyous eyes, and when the world seems sad and lonely, down in our own hearts lies the germ of all that loneliness. There is a cause for all this joy in his heart. Cupid holds the wires which connect two young hearts and the blind boy's whisperings are as glad tidings of great joy.

Majel had just returned from Louisville Ky., where he had worked his way through a course at a medical college, and all the golden hours of the warm afternoon had been spent by the side of one who was dearer to his heart than the warm life blood which flowed through it.

Gladys Moore had been his playmate, when in childhood they waded barefoot in the clear waters of Westbrook spring branch, when they galloped over the hills riding stick horses, or hunted bird nests and played at shooting Indians beneath the huge oaks and hickories. As time passed on they entered school together and their lessons were the same, their companionship ever growing, ever strengthening till when that hour when hearts awaken to the realization that one cannot exist without the other had arrived they wandered together again, sheltered by the veteran oaks whose leaves rustled softly with the gentle breeze which moved them, the gentle gurgle of the spring and the noisy splash of a tiny waterfall, recalled their childhood. The water wheel which Majel had made and which pleased his little blue eyed, curly haired companion, the time when a wasp had cruelly stung the plump little shoulder and he had kissed it till the pain went away. In the girl's heart is the response to the message from that thing, decided to have it regardless of money and he had decided upon taking Gladys Moore for his wife. He entered heartily into her schemes of charity, he showed in a thousand ways his devotion to her and when after these two short months he asked her for her hand, the voice of gold proved stronger than the voice of love and she yielded—forgetting the young playmate lover.

Majel left them in peace and tried to seem the same friend he had always been but that icy hand gripped harder and harder and he lived as one in a horrible trance. He could not understand. It never occurred to him that there are many marriages in which love plays no part. He could not see that the almighty dollar masquerading in the little love god's robes had forged the chains which in a few hours was to bind Gladys Moore to a loveless doom. He could not see how the poor girl had been caught by the madly turning gold seeking wheel and for the prospect of wealth had bartered her happiness.

The wedding was to be at four o'clock on a beautiful September day and the little Methodist church where the young girl had worshiped, was a mass of green vines, fragrant cape jassamines exhaled their exquisite perfume, the pews were all filled, for Gladys Moore was a favorite in the town and all wished her well. Majel was there calm, handsome, none seeing the grip of the icy hand upon his heart. Presently the hands of the clock told four and the solemn tones of the wedding march pealed forth and together down the aisle came the beautiful young girl upon the arm of the man who had bought her with gold to be his wife till death should part them, and then in the sight of God and in the presence of all these people they promised to live their lie. They were man and wife, they turned to go when the eyes of the bride caught the pitying glance of Majel, she staggered and he saw the eyes fall to the white carpet, then he turned away, but the music was as solemn, the flowers as beautiful, the congratulations as earnest as if God and not gold had joined them together.

Majel arose and left the church he knew Gladys Moore's secret and the icy hand gripped harder till he was sick, he reached home and fell upon his knees and prayed God to take the life of Gladys Stanley into his hands and ended with these words: "My God ere another such tragedy be enacted in my presence let me die. Oh God let me die!" The people of DeKalb talked; the marriage was the principal topic, how lucky Gladys had been, what a beautiful home, what elegant furniture, everything to make them happy.

As Majel slept, a dream which he can never forget came to him. He saw Gladys Stanley a mother, but when he gazed upon her offspring, no dimple, pink, rosebud met his eye, but a monster whose eyes were pure gold dollars and from them shot rays of light like the flames of hell, the threads of its hair were pure gold and the sound of its voice as the clink of silver. He saw her hug this terrible thing to her breast and laugh and murmur, "Precious, precious gold, the price of my soul. I sowed to wealth and have reaped much gold and silver, but nothing else. The object dissolved into a bubble which danced dazlingly before the heart broken woman. She reached to grasp it, but even as her fingers clutched it melted into nothingness and left her miserable. He awoke, he knew the future of his boyhood sweetheart was but as an empty bubble which—when almost within her grasp would burst and reveal its emptiness.

Robert Stanley arrived in DeKalb in July—'twas now September—Gladys Moore was one of the first to meet him and from their first meeting he was constantly at her side. He was a man of perhaps thirty-five, coarse and unattractive, his small blue eyes looked keenly out from bushy red brows and a shock of coarse red hair hung above them. He moved about with the quick step of the man whose chief aim is money and the getting thereof. He was a man who when he fancied any-

Walter Wellman, the well known Republican journalist, whose review of the Indiana situation gives that state to the Democrats, predicts that the election will result as follows. It will be seen that he thinks Taft will win, that Taft will carry New York, which will elect him. But at the same time Mr. Wellman thinks the election will be so close as to make the result doubtful from the present viewpoint, thus allowing Bryan a chance of election. Here is his estimate:

COUNTY COURT

In our last week's report of the county court proceedings we reported up to Thursday and left Jules Baker on trial charged with unlawfully carrying a pistol. He was tried twice for this offense, resulting both times in a hung jury, and the case was continued until next term of court.

State of Texas vs. Pat Murphy, charged with unlawfully keeping his place of business open on Sunday, on appeal from justice court, was, on motion of the county attorney, re-transferred back to the justice court.

Murphy has two cases alike, with same disposition of each. State of Texas vs. Homer Britton, charged with assault, tried by jury with a verdict of not guilty.

State of Texas vs. Sol Robinson, charged with unlawfully keeping hogs in pen in the city limits, appealed from lower court. Motion by the county attorney to dismiss the appeal was sustained and the case re-transferred back to the city recorder's court.

State of Texas vs. Sam S. Morris, charged with assault; motion by the county attorney to dismiss appeal was sustained and re-transferred to the justice court.

There were two cases of this nature, with the same disposition of each.

State of Texas vs. C. B. Davis, charged with assault, disposed of same as was the Morris case.

State of Texas vs. Will Porter, charged with gaming. It was reported last week that his bond had been forfeited. The county attorney moved to set the forfeiture aside, which was sustained and the case continued.

The following cases were also continued:

C. A. Arbutnot, violating local option law, two cases. Manse Smith, carrying knucks. Manuel Swinford, carrying pistol.

Tom Loving, assault. J. W. Francis et al., violating local option law, two cases.

Cull Earp and Lewis Wyatt, unlawfully leaving gate open and driving stock from their accustomed range.

C. P. Conoway, killing a horse. M. Carter, continued.

Euleus Hall and Jim Tigart, throwing stone into a school house.

At the beginning of this term of court there were 57 cases on the docket, all told, and 32 of these have been disposed of, leaving, comparatively, only a few cases left on the docket.

The probate docket will be taken up tomorrow (Saturday). The following persons have been summoned as jurors for next (the 3rd) week.

320 acres 4 1/2 miles north of Lorraine, in the best part of Mitchell county. 130 acres in cultivation, 280 acres tillable. 4-room residence, well and new windmill. Will trade for stock of hardware, mules, steers or stock cattle. Price $30 per acre. Adjoining farms have sold for $35 an acre. Write quick.

160 acres only 3 miles north of Colorado. 130 acres in cultivation—all under good 4-wire fence, two good residences, barns and orchard, well and windmill. Priced at 35.00 per acre on good terms. This is a fine bargain.

We have half interest in the best drug store in Hillsboro, doing a splendid business, to trade for western land. Investigate.

Fruit Farm in Cherokee County for Sale or Trade

280 acres 4 miles northeast of Jacksonville, on the public road and on the I. & G. N. railroad, at the station of Reynolds; all fenced hog-proof and has 140 acres in Elberta peaches, trees from 2 to 7 years old. There is only about 30 acres in timber on the whole place, the balance having been cut off and made ready for planting, and some of this has been in cultivation and is in good condition to be cultivated now. There are two sets of improvements on the place, both on the public road, convenient to school and churches, and has all the necessary out-buildings needed, and as fine water as you can find in the state of Texas, and plenty of it. There is a fine crop on the trees for another year, and if the crop hits in 1909 it will pay something like one thousand dollars from the peaches alone, which is almost certain, as they do not have a freeze once in ten years to hurt the fruit.

This is a bargain for some man who can give his time to it. The present owner has other business and cannot give it the attention he should. Will trade this for stock of merchandise or business property.

We have a $29,000.00 stock of hardware, including a fine brick building, in county seat town in Oklahoma to trade for Mitchell county land. Who has the nerve to make us an offer?
