FORT WORTH

TICKET WINS.

LATEST FIGURES SHOW BAILEY IS ABOUT THIRTY-FIVE THOUSAND VOTES AHEAD OF CONE JOHNSON AND THE WACO TICKET

Returns from 200 counties have been received showing a vote of 131,000 for, and 96,000 against the Fort Worth ticket. Later returns will change these figures some, but not materially. It will require several days to correctly tabulate the reports of the election Saturday. Tarrant with a majority of 2400 is the banner Bailey county and Smith, with an approximate anti majority of 1,400 is the banner county in that column. The approximate other big Bailey counties are Grayson, 1,800; Bexar, by 1,500; Collin, by 1,700; Cooke, by 2,200; Denton, by 1,000; Hill, by 750; Hopkins, by 800; Hunt, by 1,000; Ellis, by 600; Galveston, by 600.

The big anti counties by approximate majorities are Dallas, by 1,500; Smith by 1,400; McLennan, by 500. The Panhandle country went solid for Bailey, with the exception of one or two counties. South Texas was for him almost solidly. His old district went for him in a manner that leaves no doubt as to what those who know him best think of him; east Texas returned a support that even some of his most sanguine friends never expected.

Johnson's strength came largely from counties where Populists and Socialists have strong followings and it came from scattered portions.

The approximate figures on the total vote thus far reported, is 131,000 for Bailey and 96,000 for the Antis. The late boxes in reporting would indicate that Bailey's strength will become greater as the results become known. His heaviest vote came from the rural districts. Practically all the larger cities have sent in reports and the results still out will not be as proportionately heavy for the anti ticket as were the earlier returns.

Before leaving for Washington Senator Bailey gave out a statement regarding the situation, in which he said:

"My enemies have twice preferred charges against me before the legislature, those charges have twice been investigated. I have twice been exonerated and elected to the senate. This should have satisfied most men, but my enemies professed a desire to have the question passed upon by the people at a primary election and in order to meet their challenge in that respect, I offered myself as a candidate for the Denver convention, thus submitting the matter directly to the people. I believe the harmony of the democratic party and the peace of this state ought not to be further disturbed and if permitted to do so, I shall never again refer to those charges or to the men who made them. If there is to be a further contest of the question, it must be forced by the other side."

Cheerfully Recommended for Rheumatism.

O. G. Higbee, Danville, Ill., writes, Dec. 2, 1901: "About two years ago I was laid up for four months with rheumatism. I tried Ballard's Snow Liniment; one bottle cured me. I can cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from like afflictions." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by W. L. Doss.

THAT SUMMER CHAUTAUQUA

We are informed that Rev. B. W. Dodson and V. D. Payne have decided to risk a Summer Chautauqua, provided the people of Colorado will show their appreciation by buying enough season tickets to make it certain that expenses will be paid.

This does not mean that all expenses must be guaranteed beforehand, but so many season tickets must be sold that the additional door receipts will undoubtedly guarantee expenses. This Summer Chautauqua, if it be held here, will be the greatest week of entertainment and clean pleasure ever enjoyed by the people of Colorado. There will be two classes of season tickets. For the six nights, a season ticket will be sold for $2, and will entitle any member of the family to a reserved seat for all six entertainments. For the six afternoons, a season ticket will be sold at $1. One hundred of the $2 season tickets are all that will be offered to the town people. Some will be reserved for the Normal teachers. Two hundred season tickets for the afternoon will be offered.

If Colorado wants the highest class entertainment that has ever been in the West, let her rally to this Summer Chautauqua, and make it pay expenses this year, so that it may become one of the regular features of our summer life. The very same things which come here will go to Houston and the other large cities of the state. Let us appreciate our opportunity.

COUNTY CONVENTION

Pursuant to call by the chairman, the Mitchell County Democratic Convention met at the courthouse Tuesday, May 5th, at high twelve, with representatives from Loraine, Westbrook, Herbert, Cuthbert, Iatan and Colorado.

The chairman being absent, J. L. Doss was called to the chair. Dr. Coleman was elected temporary chairman and C. H. Earnest secretary, and on motion this organization was made permanent. Dr. P. C. Coleman and C. H. Earnest of Colorado and Dr. Beck of Loraine were elected delegates to the State Convention at Fort Worth on May, 26th. They are all anti-Bailey men, but after some discussion, it was decided to leave them uninstructed, and hence they go with hands untied.

CUTHBERT CULLINGS

Sunday, May 3d, was a red-letter day for Cuthbert and surrounding country, the occasion being an all day song service, conducted by Prof. R. A. Rollins, of Merkel. The day was indeed a feast of song to all lovers of sacred song present. The greater part of the day was devoted to class singing, led by Profs. Rollins and Nichols, Messrs. Womack, Rogers, Meeks and Holley. Several duets and quartets were rendered and were appreciated and enjoyed by all.

A fine dinner was spread and here all seemed in their sphere and did justice to the occasion. Everybody enjoyed the occasion so much that it was unanimously decided to set apart the first Sunday in May of each year for a song rally.

And so well pleased were they with Prof. Rollins' singing that a large class was made up for him in primary work, with a promise of a 20-day school of advanced work in the summer.

DEMOCRATS OF MITCHELL COUNTY, ATTENTION

We are getting names to a petition to the state executive committee, asking them place on the ticket for the July primary the question whether or not the question of state prohibition shall be voted on next year. It takes but ten per cent of the democratic voters to make this necessary, according to the Terrell election law. No man should sign this petition unless he is a qualified voter, his poll tax having been paid, and unless he is a real democrat. The list will have to be certified to by the county clerk before it is sent. Let every democrat who believes in the rule of the majority sign this petition in order that this question may be set at rest for several years at least, no matter which way the vote may finally be. Petitions for signers will be at the following places and under the charge of the following men:

- J. A. Buchanan, Colorado, Texas, "
- W. M. Green, Rogers, "
- G. W. Womack, Cuthbert, "

CLOSING EXERCISES OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Interesting Program Is Rendered by Each Department

(By Mrs. J. G. Merritt.)

The public schools closed last Friday. All week the pupils had been struggling with final examinations and on that day the dread sentence of to pass or not to pass was made known. The number of those who got thru with room to spare seems larger than in several years, which is speaking well for both teacher and pupil, considering the disadvantages of illness of teachers and changes necessitated, under which all have labored.

The primary grades had appropriate closing exercises. The little tots in Miss Meador's room crowned a May queen, Elnora Dulaney; sang songs, said speeches and otherwise delighted the fond mothers who were present.

Miss McLure's room joined with Miss Meador's and her pupils also covered themselves with glory. Misses Riordan and Hatton had special programs.

Friday evening the seventh grade assisted by the sixth and their teachers, gave a splendid entertainment in the auditorium. The stage was beautifully decorated with Japanese lanterns with a curtain of crepe paper in white and yellow across the top of the stage.

The program was begun by Mable Smith and May Watson playing the Carnival March which was followed by a nice reading by Thelma Warren. Fannie Farmer played Love's Dream very sweetly and Ethel Dodson sang I'm Turning the Leaves so beautifully that she was enthusiastically encored, and in response sang Lucky Jim. Bryant Fulkerson had a very funny reading about boys. The Cowboy Girl Drill was exceedingly pretty. The girls wore red waists and short brown skirts with broad brimmed white hats, guns and leggins. The boys were in full cow boy costume. The drill was pretty and well executed. The songs were new and very good indeed. There were sixteen boys and girls in this. Reading, Billy's Pets, by Annie Gardner, was intensely funny and well rendered. The Japanese Wedding in pantomime, was the feature of the evening. Miss Higginbotham explained the various features of the pantomime before it was begun, in a way that made it perfectly understood by the audience. The parents of the groom, Susie Cowan and Fred Glisson, marched in first and were seated. Then the parents of the bride, Effie Warren and Frank McLure; the bride and groom, Irene Whipkey and Lee Phenix, closely accompanied by the go-between, Selina Galbraith; the bridesmaids, Francis Smith, May Shipley, Jeanette Earnest, Lillian Payne, Margaret Hatch, Hazel McKenzie, Minnie Dupree, and Thelma Warren. In dainty Japanese kimonos they knelt on either side of the bridal party, making a very pretty stage setting. After much bowing and drinking of tea and eating of rice cakes the couple were supposed to be married without a word ever being said. Selina Galbraith as the go-between did her part very well, while the whole affair was very pretty and unique. Miss Hatton played for this as well as for the other drill. The pupils passing to the High School now marched out on the stage and were presented their certificate by Dr. Phenix. There were sixteen of them.

Sunday at 11 o'clock the bacchalaureate sermon was preached to the class of 1908 and a large audience of interested friends, by Rev. Clinton Lockhart of the Texas Christian University at Waco. The stage had been artistically decorated in the class colors of orange and black, and further adorned by the beautiful paintings of Miss Stowers' pupils and with cut flowers. The best singers in the town were in the choir and Miss Stonerod presided at the piano. After the opening anthem and song, a lesson from Proverbs was read and Rev. Elliott of the Presbyterian church led in prayer. Mr. Summers gave a beautiful solo, after which the speaker was introduced by Rev. B. W. Dodson. His text was from I Samuel, "Speak Lord, for thy servant heareth." After paying a glowing tribute to the memory of Brother Homan, whose place he was filling on that occasion, he gave a plain, earnest talk on the advantages gained by listening to the voice of God in all the affairs of life. The graduating class and the teachers were seated in the middle aisle at the front with their families just back of them. This reserved space was marked by knots of orange and black. The closing anthem was beautiful. After a collection had been taken the benediction was pronounced by Dr. Lockhart. He preached at the Christian church at 7:30.

At 8:30 Bro. Dodson delivered a fine sermon to the graduates, all of whom were again present.

The recital given Monday night by Miss Reaville's music pupils was a success in every particular. The stage had been artistically adorned with rugs, palms and cut flowers, the class colors forming the background. The entire class was used and each played in a way that was a joy to hear and reflected great credit on the energy and ability of their teacher.

Miss Higginbotham's reading was splendid. She is certainly an ideal interpreter of childish stories and troubles.

The song by Misses Reaville, Hatton, Mabel Dodson and Mattie Shuford was another pleasing number, as was the quartet by four little boys and the rendition of Bobbie Shafto by W. B. and Winnie Davis Crockett and Margurite Hatch. This was given by special request.

The piano numbers were all excellent, but Josie Mae Griswold, Lulu Merrell, Rosa Hatch and Blanche Hooks, were especially good.

The Choral Club gave some very pleasing numbers.

The closing exercises of the High School were held Tuesday night, when the Class of '08 delivered their addresses and received their diplomas.

The stage was beautifully and artistically decorated in flowers and greens. Above the stage the stars and stripes and the lone star flags were draped, under this was the class colors. "Class of '08" in these colors entwined was one of the prettiest features of the decorations. After the class of five beautiful girls and five handsome boys marched in, the stage setting was complete. The girls were lovely as flowers in their exquisite dresses of dainty white, while the boys were pictures of manly grace.

A blessing was asked upon them and the audience by Rev. J. E. H. Galbraith, then Josie Mae Griswold gave a beautiful piano solo by Chamenade. Omeira Terry, sophomore representative, gave an excellent address on "As We See It," which proved that the things of life were good or bad just as we considered them, with an optimistic or a pessimistic mind. Ruth McComb, the freshman representative, played very sweetly "A May Morning." This bright little girl deserves great credit for leading her class; an orphan, she had to depend entirely upon herself, but 'tis still true that "where there's a will there's a way." The junior representative, Leftwich Shepherd, is one of the very brightest and brainiest boys in Colorado, and his address on "Our Flags," was one of the very best things of the evening. His reference to the Confederate flag and our own Lone Star was both beautiful and touching and made all loyal Southerners and Texans want to cheer. This is the second year that Leftwich has led his class, and it is confidently predicted that as a senior he will still lead. Mary Boren's piano solo, by Delacour, was very pretty indeed.

Breedlove Smith, salutatorian, had chosen for his subject "The Sun the Source of All Earthly Forces." A big subject, but not too big it proved for his most skillful handling. This address showed great thought and study and was instructive as well as entertaining. Mr. Smith comes from a family of lawyers, so he may always be expected to handle any subject assigned him.

Mrs. Somers' beautiful solo was so heartily encored that she was persuaded to respond with a funny little con song.

The class historian, Miss Alice Shuford, took for her subject "A full blown rose that sheds its petals can never be a bud again." This was prettily written and contained many beautiful truths. Miss Shuford graduated with the highest honors of any girl in her class, and received the four-years scholarship at the State University. She is a brilliant and lovable girl, and her friends predict a bright future for her.

Miss Hatton and Mr. Homan sang "O That We Two Were Mating" in so delightful a manner that they were encored and graciously responded.

The valedictory, "The Battle of Life," by William Edward Sullivan, was, as valedictories should be, the best thing on the program. Mr. Sullivan graduated with first honors in his class, and his address was exceptionally able and thoughtful. It is certain that what ever he undertakes will be successful and it is also equally certain that he will not be content with little things.

Dr. Phenix, president of the board, now delivered the diplomas. His little speech was full of good thoughts to the class.

The other members of the class were, James Coughran, Mary Roe, Charlie Williams, Mary Hatch, Shell Merrell, Ethel Greenwood, Bruce Phenix and Minnie Thornbury. They were showered with flowers in such profusion as has never been seen here. Every member of the class was literally covered. The bouquets were presented by the cunning little pages, each of whom were dressed in white, with knots of the class colors proudly worn on their shoulders. They were, Vonseal McDonald, Robert Smith and Merrell. Their part of the work was to them the most important feature of the occasion, and their quaint little bows were enjoyed by all. Besides the quantities of beautiful flowers, many useful and elegant gifts were bestowed upon the members of the class by loving friends and fond parents.

A beautiful gold medal with "I Can't Be Late" upon it was presented to Jeanette Earnest. In her five years attendance at the public school she having never been late a single time and never having missed except when she had measles.

Prof. McDonald made a short speech, thanking the class for a class pin, and telling those who had failed in the high school grades that an opportunity would be given them at the summer normal to make this up.

This closed the exercises of the public school, and another graduating class passed into history.

Senter, sheriff and tax collector of Stonewall county died late Thursday evening of heart failure and general physical breakdown, and was buried by the Odd Fellows and Woodmen. We did not clearly understand the object of his mission to this section, but gathered it had to do with the adaptability of our lands to dry farming. We don't know that he gathered any sort of statistics or made any kind of investigations on the subject, but believe we are safe in saying that the farmers here are interested more in getting sufficient wetness for their farming operations than in any dry process.

The man was merely shamming hydrophobia and had covered his mouth soap suds and ruffled his hair, which gave him rather an uncanny appearance. —Big Springs Enterprise.

FRIDAY, MAY 8 1908.

Everything points to a prosperous year in west Texas.

And now let's all pool issues in building up the waste places in this bully country.

With board $15 a day and ten in a room at the Denver convention, a delegate must needs have the boodle to attend.

It was merely co-incident, of course, that the congressmen were "held at Washington by their duties" until after the little family jar was settled last Saturday.

Last week's list of fatalities keeps up the record. So accustomed have we become to accidents, wrecks, cyclones and other horrors, that their daily occurrence hardly attracts notice.

There is hardly a town on the plains that is not promoting one or two railroads, while the maps of some of them look like the hub of a wagon wheel, with railroads radiating like spokes in all directions.

The superior courts have all affirmed the finding of the trial court in the J. G. Lowden case, fixing his sentence at five years in the Atlanta, Ga., penitentiary, and his only resort now is the supreme court of the United States.

DIED—dead as a door nail, we hope, on Saturday, May 2nd, at 6 o'clock p. m., "Division," a stranger which had for the past year made itself an unwelcome guest in the home of Texas Democracy. Its demise was caused by inanition, or want of vitality. Peace to its ashes, and may the sod rest heavily upon its sepulchre; so heavily that its resurrection will never occur.

Every interest in west Texas is at the flood tide of prosperity. Never has the future looked as bright nor opportunity beckoned with gladder hand. The rate at which the section is being developed and brought under the dominion of the plow and within the quickening touch of new railroads, is hardly short of marvelous to those who have witnessed pioneer days in other sections, which were settled by the slow process of occasional immigration and the natural increase of the population. Aside from the hopeful aspect of material conditions, the spirit of the people is the chief factor in the country's well doing. Confidence, begotten of what has been accomplished and the bright, potential future, has become a fixed asset in the progress and prosperity of western Texas.

There is no telling what a national convention will do, but there is no doubt that Mr. Bryan will go into the convention by far the most available candidate among the possibilities, but the greatest political seer can no more foretell the combin-

UNYOKE THEM

It will be a great day for the democratic party when it throws off the dominion of the eastern wing, represented by Belmont, Hill, and their ilk. We have been told for forty years that a national democratic victory was impossible without New York, and had candidates thrust upon the party who were democrats in name and for expediency only; and in the only victory we ever achieved under their dominion, were shorn of the honors and fruits of success, as well as betrayed at last into the hands of the republican party. It were better to go down in defeat upholding the distinctive principles of democracy, than to achieve an occasional victory in the hands of the New York plutocrats, which is but another name for Wall Street. The solid south and west have been used by them as a jimmy, with which to break into the national strong box; ridden to the gates of paradise and hitched on the outside. The difference between the eastern and southern democrat is basic and vital. The conditions, traditions and social environments among which they are reared and educated, differentiates them as greatly as the southern democrat differs from a republican. The Record believes the nomination of a genuine southern or western democrat tends to solidify the rank and file of the party and stop the tendency toward indifference and apathy which has marked many democrats in recent years. They are tired of the leadership of men who are not in harmony with the great majority of the party.

There is no need of any new party; whatever reforms are today necessary to cope with and cure the evils of which we complain, can be effected inside the democratic party better than outside of it or by forming a new party. Everything that is essential to secure the prosperity and happiness of the American people, as well as guarantee the perpetuity of our institutions, can be effected by the democracy of Thomas Jefferson. The trouble we have today is that the party has fallen into evil hands, who have prostituted it into a party of mere opposition rather than of fearless initiative, and until we break the unholy alliance between it and the northern dictators and stand upon its principles instead of expediency, we can expect no better success than we have had for the past fifty years.

Now that the little family row is settled, it is the part of wisdom, of true democracy and of good citizenship, to accept the arbitrament of the ballot with a cheerful spirit—neither of boasting, by the victorious, side nor of whining and crumpling by the vanquished. To both belongs the credit of settling an unfortunate question. If it has not been disposed of with justice to both sides, be assured, it will like the ghost of murdered Banquo, refuse to down at the bidding of any party machinery or exorcisms of any political magician. If it has been settled right, the future will justify the result. If the political atmosphere has been cleared and the democratic party more solidly united, the breach has not been made and healed in vain. But if the result is not accepted, and the fight is to be carried on, in half-hearted support, if not open rebellion, it has been the beginning of the end of democratic autonomy in Texas.

It is humane nature to want the best we can get for our money, but it is not every man who knows how to get it. When you buy some article about which you are not posted, it is not good judgment to rely too much on your own opinion. A sewing machine for instance, is something about which few customers are thoroughly posted; we cannot all be machine experts. Buying machines on looks alone is not very reliable—you may make a mistake. A few weeks of use may convince you that the "workmanship" and "material" are intended for appearances only, not to wear. The world renowned White will stand the test in every particular. For further information call on me at the Record office, or 'phone me at my residence, No. 183.

SOUTHWESTERN RECITAL

We clip the following from the Beau Monde, a weekly journal published at Dallas, devoted to music and art:

"One of the most finished pupil's programs of the season was that presented at the Southwestern Conservatory April 9, by Miss Katie Warren, pupil of Miss Viola Henry. Miss Warren's work was marked throughout by a clean technique, a secure but delicate touch and a mature and intelligent interpretation. It would be difficult to discriminate as to the choice of numbers on the program, but perhaps the Schubert-Liszt and MacDowell selections were best calculated to display the versatility of this young artist. Mr. Whitlock, violinist, and Mr. Peck, baritone, who assisted, both presented finished and very pleasing work. Following is the program: Soiree De Vienna (Schubert-Liszt), Miss Warren; Deux Arabesques (Leschetizky), Miss Warren; Concerto Militaire, Op. 21 (Litin-sky, Mr. Whitlock; (a) To A Water Lily (MacDowell), (b) Witches Dances (MacDowell), Miss Warren; Minuet No. 1, (Paderewski), Miss Warren; (a) Slave Song (Teresa Del Riego), (b) Valse, Op. 42 (Benj. Whelpley), Mr. Peck; (a) Prelude (F. Chopin), (b) Valse, Op. 42 (F. Chopin), Miss Warren; Concerto Stuck, Op. 79 (Carl Maria Von Weber), Miss Warren, Miss Henry."

THE SOCIETY REALM

Mrs. J. G. Merritt, Editor

The Hesperian Club met Friday with Mrs. Doss, and some very interesting and instructive papers given. The meeting this week is with Miss Dupree, with this program:

Roll call: What I have enjoyed most in the play.

Lesson, Act V and Epilogue. leader, Mrs. Carter.

Text treatment, the metamorphosis from Prince Hal into King Henry, Mrs. Doss.

Feudalism, Miss Dry.

Reading and questions.

American literature, Emerson. What was the Dial, who was Margaret Fuller, explain the doctrine of Idealism, what form of address was the forerunner of the Public Lecture?

The friends of Mrs. Anna H. Simon surprised her in a most delightful manner Saturday afternoon. Knowing that she was soon to begin housekeeping in her home just vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whipkey, they gathered at the home of her father, J. T. Harness, at four o'clock, each with some useful article of kitchen furniture. These acceptable gifts were soon arranged on the parlor tables and the rest of the afternoon was spent in pleasant conversation. At an appropriate hour refreshments were served by Mrs. C. T. Harness, who was in the secret. Thus Mrs. Simon begins housekeeping, not only with the best wishes of her many friends, but also with the best pans, kettles and dishes they could find for her dainty kitchen.

The members of the Episcopal church gave a very delightful farewell reception to Rev. and Mrs. J. E. H. Galbraith Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Prude. The entire membership of the church, besides quite a number of Mr. and Mrs. Galbraith's other friends were present, and though saddened at the thought of soon giving up this good man and his charming family, enjoyed to the fullest this opportunity of seeing and talking with them once more. Mesdames Bailey and Adams met the guests at the door and showed them into the parlor and to the receiving line, Mr. and Mrs. Prude, Mr. and Mrs. Galbraith, and Mr. and Mrs. Huston. During the evening Mrs. Roe gave a delightful reading, Mrs. Somers sang beautifully, Mrs. W. Robert Smith played very sweetly, Dr. Merrill charmed all with his violin solos, Miss Mary Boren gave, with much expression, a pathetic little reading, and Miss Jeanette Earnest played so nicely that she was urged to fill all intermissions. All the program was much enjoyed. At its conclusion the guests were invited into the dining room where refreshments of ice cream and cake were most daintily served by Mesdames Earnest and Shropshire, assisted by the young ladies. In returning to the parlor a Virginia reel was soon formed by the young people, Mrs. Smith playing for them. Mrs. Johnston and Mr. Adams were the young people who led this, and a gay and jolly crowd they all were. After the reel was finished goodnights were said and all departed with the memory of a very pleasant evening with friends who have long been with us, and whom the whole town regrets to lose.

Saturday, May 9, is the date for the annual election of officers in the Kindergarten Association, and all members are urged to meet at the Kindergarten school room promptly at 4 o'clock, p. m., that this election may be held. Don't forget the date, Saturday at four o'clock.

MRS. J. G. MERRITT,
Secretary K. A.

The Social Club held no meeting this week, but will meet next Wednesday with Mrs. Boren.

The Study Club met Wednesday with Mrs. Walter Stoneham, and seldom has the club held a more interesting meeting. The report of the delegate, Mrs. Annis, was one of the most interesting things the club has ever had. She told the funny happenings, all about the clothes the ladies wore, and could almost repeat some of their speeches. Next to having gone to a federation, hearing Mrs. Annis was the best thing. The rest of the program was very interesting. After it was finished Mrs. Stoneham had an interesting little contest, in which Mrs. Gross won the prize and Mrs. Collier the booby. The meeting next week is with Mrs. Annis, at the home of Mrs. Collier, and this program will be given:

Roll call; Incidents of famous Texas women.

Texas women in literature, Mrs. Collier.

Texas women in art, Mrs. Pierce.

Texas women in music, Mrs. Annis.

Story told of our industrial schools, Mrs. Fred Whipkey.

The Card Club held one of its very best meetings Tuesday with Mrs. Allen. A number of visitors were present, Mesdames Fisher, Trammell and Ross of Sweetwater, and Miss Jackson, a sister of Mrs. Allen's, being the out of town guests. The game was delightful and the presents beautiful. The last prize was obtained in an original manner. The guests were told to look on the bottom of their chairs for a number, and the one finding 13 was the lucky winner of the prize. An elegant two-course luncheon, consisting of a salad, and nut cream with cake, the plates adorned with orchids, was served at the close of the game, salted peanuts having been passed during the afternoon. Mrs. Allen is one of the card club's new members, but she has already taken her place as one of the leaders of this interesting body of lovely women, and her social graces make her in every way a most desirable addition to their number.

The Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church met Monday, with a very good attendance. It was decided to have an open meeting the last Monday in the month at the home of the president, Mrs. Arnett. All the ladies of the church will be invited, a program bringing in various features of the work will be arranged, and the interest of the church to the needs of this great work aroused.

The W. H. M. S. held its regular meeting Thursday at the church. The president, Mrs. Carter, is still ill and unable to be out. She is greatly missed by all.

ODESSA BOY ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Julius Henderson, a young man of Odessa, was accidentally shot at that place last Tuesday by a 22-caliber Winchester in the hands of Ernest Hamlett. The ball struck him in the side and pierced the lung. The wound is a dangerous one, and at this writing Henderson is in a critical condition. He is well known to many Midland people.—Midland Examiner.

Ernest Hamlett formerly worked in the Record office and is an exceptionally good boy and knowing him like we do will venture the assertion that Ernest was the worst scared boy of the two.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Last Thursday night Mr. B. B. Cauble, a stockman of Martin county, met with a most serious accident in jumping from the steps of a caboose into the Colorado river, a distance of forty-two feet. It was a miracle he was not killed.

Mr. Cauble, his father and one or two others, had loaded several cars of cattle at Stanton and were en route with them to Kansas City. When they arrived at Colorado the train stopped with the caboose directly over the river. It was about 9 o'clock at night and all the stockmen were asleep in the caboose, when some of the train crew who were in the cupola saw the headlight of an engine coming around the curve west of the bridge, and jumping down, cried to the sleeping men to get out, as they were going to be run down by another train. They rushed to the front platform of the car; some climbed on top of the cars in front, but Mr. Cauble, ignorant of the fact that the car was on the bridge, jumped off, landing in the water below. His father saw him jump and heard him strike the water but did not know it was his son until they went down to bring him up.

He was taken to the Alamo hotel and Dr. Coleman summoned to attend him. His left thigh was found to be badly fractured, as well as several contusions. Since then he has been doing remarkably well under the circumstances. His wife and mother are now with him, having decided to keep him here rather than risk a removal to his home or a hospital.

UP-TO-NOW

Once the noble man who tilled the soil;
His life was full of drudge and toil;
His ways and words were often crude
And was made the jeer of the city dude.

So busy his life he never seed
Where he could take much time to read;
But, mark the change that's on the man,
He gives you an unglowed hand.

Riding, shaded and gloved he works,
and everything hard he shirks;
The daily mail is his daily guest,
So, with all that's ago, he's fully abreast.

Would he talk to a distant friend,
To carry his words to a lightnings bend.
He harnesses the murmuring wind
To pump, to churn, to wash, to grind,
Raise a garden and sprinkle his lawn,
To water his stock when he is gone.
(Nobody works but his wife)

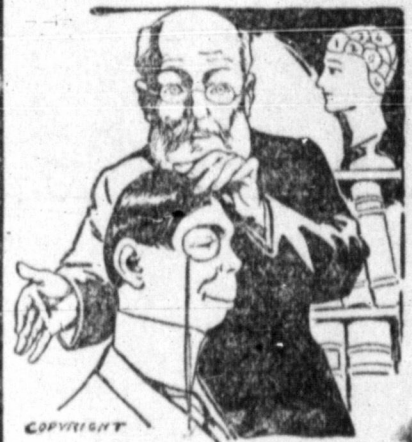

And would you know the best,
C. C. Graves sells the best
Windmill in the State, come see for yourself.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL
 Health is Worth Saving and Some Colorado People Know How to Save It.
 Many Colorado people take their lives in their hands by neglecting their kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills.
 J. C. Smith, cotton buyer, 701 Elm street, Abilene, Texas, says: "Being annoyed considerably by a weakness of the kidneys, and having heard Doan's Kidney Pills spoken of, I procured a box. They helped me from the first and I believe them to be a good kidney medicine. My nephew, who was staying with me at that time, also used them with excellent results."
 For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's and take no other.
