SO, THAT THE FIRST THREE PRIZES ANOU IT TO SE, ODD IN CASH.

Note Specially. If the EXACT figures are not given during this context, the money will be paid out to the NEAREST TO THE EXACT figures. Somebody will get the money, it does not go back to the The Constitution by any means. Those who solve the problem at the longest range will receive proportionately the highest prizes, as you notice the figures grow less as the time expires and because the number of bales received up to certain dates, as the time advances, can be known exactly, leaving shorter time and probabilities to figure against. In all three of the cases submitted it is distinctly understood that, should more than one correct or equally correct estimate be filed in the contest, the amount of the prizes so earned will be divided equally among the correct answers. The prizes are offered in cash. There is no "missing word" in this, no probability for some one to know absolutely the correct answer, but this is brain versus brain, skill versus skill, pencil versus pencil, figures versus figures. Every man is interested in the corton, the amount of the corporation of the prizes prizes the price of cotton in our territory is the barometer of the people's varies the price and the price of cotton in our territory is the barometer of the people's prosperity

On Such a Vital Problem You Ought to Make Figures.

THE CONTEST CLOSES SEPT. 1st

The estimate is to be made upon the total United States Cotton Crop for 1897-98, the crop that has already been gathered and is now in the country as official figures of receipts will show it from Sept. I, 1897, to Sept. I, 1893 This is not the crop that is to be planted this spring, because the figures thereon will not be obtainable until Sept. I, 1899. It is for the crop already in and marketed, official figures of which will be announced in September. As a guide for making your estimate we give official figures of wheth while antohreed in September. As a guide for making your estimate we give official figures for each of the last ten crops. The conditions under which this last crop was grown and its probable output are ele-ments for you to compute from and will aid in the correctness of your present estimate. The figures given by Latham, Alexander & Co., of New York, are generally received throughout the South as official, and we given an exact copy from their latest edition of "Cotton Movement and Fluctuations" as follows:
