Local Grocery Store Burglarized at Night

Intruder Entered Store of J. R Huie Thurs. Night--Gets Money and Pistol

At an unknown hour Thursday night, a thief who no doubt was familiar with just how everything was arranged in J R Huie's grocery store, entered the building through a window in the rear end and took between thirty five and forty dollars and a pistol from a safe in the store.

The safe from which the money and pistol was taken is one formerly used by the Bank of Odell and is the one which was blown open by burglars when The Bank of Odell was robbed in the fall of 1911. It is usually the rule with Mr. Huie and his clerks to lock the safe before closing the store each evening. But they failed to attend to that matter Thursday night and the thief or thieves who entered the house that night was evidently aware the safe was not locked.

No groceries was missed Friday morning after the robbery. Nor did papers, books and other things, outside of the money, placed in the safe the night before, show signs of molestation.

Its the opinion of a number here that the intruder was in the store Thursday evening and got a general survey of things and planned out his work for that night.

Mr and Mrs. G. W. Buey were shopping in Odell Wednesday, the former calling at this office and ordering a renewal of the Reporter.

Socialist Leaflets in Germany Stir-up Working Class

German Newspapers Opposed to Government Disruption Criticize Them

London Feb. 6—One of the leaflets which was circulated in Berlin and helped to cause the strike in Germany has been obtained by the Amsterdam correspondent of Daily Express. The leaflet calls the Government's desire for peace only a mask, and declared the only way to end the misery and the wholesale massacre is to overthrow the present Government and establish a Republic. The leaflet further says:

"Only by rising en masse, only by a general strike that shall put a stop to all industrial activities, and especially the war industry; only by a revolution and by wresting from the hands of tyrants a democratic Republic for Germany can a halt be called to international butchery and a general peace be brought about

"Workers! Let us prepare for an immediate, stiff-necked and determined action en masse. This is the only way to end the torments and misery we are suffering.

"The battle cry must be 'down with a separate peace'. Delay no longer, German workers, men and women alike, but act and act with vigor, sparing none. Above all we must not delay. Now is the time to strike a formidable blow"

The correspondent sends an excerpt from an editorial in Vorwaerts, which appeared again Friday, after being suppressed. The Vorwaerts says:

"We do not want the disruption of Germany or a civil war. We want the Government to understand the standpoint of a majority of the people. It is a simple quarrel between those who want peace by understanding"

The Cologne Volks Zeitung, denouncing the Socialists says:

"It is evident that the Social Democracy considers the time has come to realize its program by acts of violence. It wants to tear the reins from the hands of the Government and decide the destinies of the country itself, but socialist leaders are not rulers."

"The men to whom the fate of the country is entrusted in these grave hours are at their posts and are determined to show everybody who does not know it who the rulers of Geamany are"

Supt. Blakely Gives Monthly School Report

Since our last report, the Christmas holidays have passed and the weather god has sent us unusually cold days. These days were not such days as are favorable for children to go and return from school. Such days bring with them illness, to young and old. Hence ideal conditions do not obtain for the children and teachers. Now, in saying this, it is not intended to say that the teachers are all old, but to say that sickness at home may be an excuse of some for not attending school. Many are the excuses, and excuses are acceptable, but excuses do not make grades or advancement towards promotion. It is a fact that the holidays have come in between the close of last month and this, and that other conditions have not been good, but does that excuse us for what we have not done?

The honor roll is rather short this month, but they whose names appear there on they who have braved the storm and ice and snow in seeking knowledge. They are the ones who have been in school every day, not been tardy, nor missed a lesson or part of a lesson, and made passing grades. They are as constant as are the teachers. Read their names:

HONOR ROLL

1st Grade. Leman Wal, Calvin Britton, Elizabeth Woolsey, Thelma Nave, R. T. Sutton.

2nd Grade. Bell Towery, Calvin Locke, Clarence Towery, Mary Sue Matthews.

4th. Darrell Shelton.

6th Grade Audna Towery, Velma Beach, Hester Crain, Rex Shelton, Clay Matthews.

7th. Grace. Tom Starr, Cecil Hilliard, Leland Gibbons.

8th. Grade Levi Beach, Win-

cie Daniel, Rosa Mae Scott.

9th. Hattie Beach.

10th. Grade. J. D. Scott, Abbie Stratr.

The fifth and second grade pupils failed to report on the honor roll.

Prof. J. R. Burrow of the Plain view school called at the Odell high school Tuesday of last week, while waiting for the derailed Orient passenger train. He was on his way to Frederick, Oklahoma, in response to a call from Uncle Sam to be examined for service in the army. Mr. R. E. Roberts is teaching for Prof Burrow, during his absence.

There are enrolled to date in the school 164, a gain of thirteen pupils since the holidays—no not a gain for the withdrawals offset the gain to some extent.

CORN WILL WIN DEMOCRACY'S WAR

America's Greatest Cereal Crop Is Now Moving to Market.

MAINSTAY IN NATION'S CRISIS.

Surplus Wheat of the United States Has Been Sent to Famine Threatened Europe.

America's great corn crop, exceeding 3,000,000,000 bushels, will save the world's food situation, officials of the United States food administration believe.

Corn is the nation's best food cereal, housewives are beginning to realize. It contains all the elements needed to keep the body in a state of health and when used according to the scores of tried recipes, especially when combined with an added portion of oil or fat, will sustain life indefinitely. Indian warriors in colonial days lived on parched corn alone for many days at a time, and at Valley Forge parched corn was at times the sole ration of the Continental soldiers.

Owing to transportation difficulties caused by the war the corn crop moved more slowly to market this year than ever before. Now, however, the cereal is reaching the millers and consumers. In the meantime the nation's surplus wheat has been sent to Europe.

Today there are approximately 30 bushels of corn for every American. This quantity is greater by five bushels than in former years.

Corn has become the nation's mainstay in the crisis of war.

Just as this cereal saved the first American colonists from famine on many occasions, just as it served as a staple food during the War of the Revolution and during the Civil War, King Corn has again come to the front in the nation's battle with autocracy.

Corn meal is finding greatly increased use in the making of ordinary white bread. Hundreds of housewives and many of the larger bakers are mixing 20 per cent. corn meal with wheat flour to make leavened bread. This kind of a mixture is worked and baked in the same recipes and with the same methods that apply to straight wheat bread.

Corn bread—using corn meal entirely—is gaining a greater popularity than ever before. Housewives are coming to realize that every pound of wheat saved in America means a pound of wheat released for shipment to the nations with which America is associated in the war.

There are a score of corn products that today possess unusual importance for Americans. Corn syrup for sweetening corn cakes and buckwheat cakes and for use in the kitchen instead of granulated sugar is one of the leading products made from corn.

Corn oil, excellent for frying and for every other purpose filled by salad oils, is appearing on the market in large quantities. It comes from the germ of the corn.

MADE-IN-GERMANY LIES CIRCULATED IN CANADA

Canada is also having trouble with Made-in-Germany lies calculated to hinder Canadian food conservation according to an official statement received from the Canadian food controller by the United States food administration.

The stories bothering Canada are of the same general character as those the United States food administrator recently denounced in this country, such as the ridiculous salt and blueing famine fakes and the report that the government would seize housewives' stocks of home canned goods.

The Canadian food controller estimates that when the people listen to and pass on such stories, each one has the power of destruction that lies in a battalion of soldiers.

"Stories without even a vestige of foundation have been scattered broadcast," said the Canadian statement. "Nor have they come to life casually. They have started simultaneously in different parts of the country and in each instance have been calculated to arouse public indignation.

"They are insidious, subtle, persistent. Bit by bit they dissipate public trust, the great essential in the work of food control.

Fuel From Peat Bogs.
The fuel famine in France has directed attention to extensive peat bogs, heretofore despised, which may aid as much to solve the problem as the lignite deposits of the center of France, provided the question of labor is solved.

The "Grande-Buyere," near St. Nazaire, and the region of Culoz, according to expert estimates, hold 80,000,000 tons of dried peat, affording an average of 2,000 calories a pound, or about half the heating power of coal. Considering the greater facility of production, it is figured that one workman can extract a number of calories in peat far superior to the average production per minute from coal.

War's Reaper, the Plague.
Complicated with this year's war taxes in national defense, disease has broken out all over India in the plague. Pastor Ramiah buried 13 in a night. Pastor Simon has been to us twice for lymph and medicine. His poor people have fled from their huts and are camping miserably in the jungle under the lash of the monsoon. Quarantined there, without relief, medicine, work, wages, food, hope, the mortality is frightful. They built him a hut there among the rest of them, and they let him out of quarantine to get medicine.—The Christian Herald.

WHEATLESS BISCUITS.

Parched cornmeal is the feature of these excellent wheatless biscuits. First, the cornmeal—one-half a cup—is put in a shallow pan placed in the oven and stirred frequently until it is a delicate brown. The other ingredients are a teaspoon of salt, a cup of peanut butter and one and a half cups of water. Mix the peanut butter, water and salt and heat. While this mixture is hot stir in the meal which should also be hot. Beat thoroughly. The dough should be of such consistency that it can be dropped from a spoon. Bake in small cakes in an ungreased pan. This makes 16 biscuits, each of which contains one-sixth of an ounce of protein.

The Workers.

In an article on how labor can aid in the war, advising longer hours, increased production, etc., the Industrial Economist says: "According to the census there are at present about 30,000,000 workers in the United States, including all over the age of ten. The figures submitted by the secretary of the American Federation of Labor some time ago show about 1,847,000 persons working on an eight-hour basis in the United States, and of this number 475,000 were either federal, state, county or municipal employees. Since that time the number of those working on an eight-hour basis has increased, and today there is a minimum of 2,000,000 workers operating on an eight-hour basis, and these 2,000,000 workers are probably the ones who will be very directly concerned with producing that which the government needs through the various factories, mills, mines, etc., throughout the country."

Had Too Many Pets.

The exact reason why a man refused to live with or support his lawful wife, was set forth in the domestic relations court in New York. "I will never return home," explained the recalcitrant husband, "as long as my wife keeps pets. She's got a turtle, two parrots, a canary, two cats and a fox terrier, and it ain't no place to live." "He needn't come if he don't want to; no one cares and no one asked him to," said the helpmate. "What I want is three dollars a week from him and no conversation. I gave away all the pets but Cuckoo, the pup, and I'd keep him if my husband talked forever. He's better company than some people I know anyway—swears less, eats less, and only barks when there's something to bark about."

Fish by the Shovelful.

There is a fish of the smelt family, which, according to Dr. David Starr Jordan, is reducing the cost of living on the Pacific coast and might profitably be shipped. In the spring the beaches about the mouth of the Columbia river are fairly lined with the fish, which come there to spawn. They may be literally shoveled out of the water, and sell at 3 to 5 cents a pound. Although then in poor condition they are excellent food, being full of a very digestible oil. It is said that if a wick is placed in one of these fish it will burn like a candle.

Visitor Took No Chances.

The ways of a "great city" evidently were very new to him as he stood on the curb on Main street north from the Union station and gazed across the street at a line of brilliantly lighted windows. Several times he ventured a foot to the pavement, and then drew it back. A city man who was observing him apparently looked friendly, for the stranger suddenly approached him. "Say," he asked, "do they allow a fellow to cross the street anywhere he wants to, or does he have to go to one of them crossings?"—Kansas City Star.
