President Archer of Convention, Requests all Singers to Be On Hand

The 7th. and 8th. of October, are the dates when the North Wilbarger County Singing Convention will be in session here.

Only a week or more will pass until the dates above named will be here and Odell people should not let the convention time find them wholly unprepared for entertaining the visitors.

The meeting of the singers here next month will be Odell's third time to entertain them. And if the weather is favorable the occasion, a large crowd of singers is expected to be here.

Blue Ribbon Colts

It is a custom every year with J. M. Collins, a well known farmer and stockman of this community, to give premiums for the best colts that have been sired by a horse and jack he keeps out at his ranch. A day is usually selected in the fall of the year for the colt judging and last Saturday was the day for present season. Several colts were brought to town and judges were appointed to pass judgment on the stock. Premiums were awarded to the following farmers: Premium for the best horse colt, was awarded to E. N. Burkhalter. Second best horse colt, R. T. Dooley, J. W. Moore was given the premium for exhibiting the best mule colt.

Weatherford Preacher Here

Rev. Jones of Weatherford, a Missionary Baptist minister was here Wednesday and preached to a good size congregation that night.

Rev. Jones is an old acquaintance of Mr. and Mrs. Blackerdy Mr. and Mrs. Phillips and a few other Odell folks whom he knew in Parker County.

While there is nothing definite in this statement, but there is a probability of the Baptist congregation here calling Rev. Jones as their pastor, as the church is now without an active pastor and has been for several weeks.

R. T. Dooley and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Will Creager near Grandfield, Oklahoma, last week. Mrs. Creager being a sister of Mr. Dooley.

Olustee Citizen Held on Charge of Wheat Theft

The preliminary trial of J. E. West, of Olustee, on charge of stealing 20 bushels of wheat from the granary of Mr. Wright, living 8 miles southwest of Olustee on Aug. 29, this year, was held before Justice H. C. Gilliland Monday.

There were no eyewitnesses to the theft, but the circumstantial evidence so strongly to the guilt of the defendant, thought Judge Gilliland, that he was bound over to the October term of court in the sum of $750, which up to Wednesday night, he had failed to make.

According to the testimony of the witness, on the morning following the theft a visit by the complainant to the granary revealed strange wagon tracks at the granary door, and summoning aid, he mounted a horse and started off on the trail, which led by a circuitous route to Olustee and the home of the defendant, and which they were enabled to follow by the peculiar shape of the horses hoofs. Having trailed the wagon to the home of West, Wright summoned an officer and a search was made, but no wheat was found. Later search of a straw stack near a point where the trail of wagon made a detour, disclosed nine sacks of wheat shrewdly hidden in the straw.

At this season of the year it is the usually case for a number of fake newspaper or magazine solicitors to drop into the community and relieve the people of some of their money. People are warned to be on the lookout for such agents as the country in general is said to be thick with them. Don't subscribe for a publication through a stranger, unless he can show you mighty good proof that he is an agent for the publication he claims to represent.

The Reporter indorses the Organization plan introduced by P. C. Spears last week, as one of ways for the citizens of this community to make an effort to stamp out hog cholera. According to reports and all indications the disease seems to be getting just as strong hold among the hogs this fall as last season, and to check it and keep it from spreading is now up to farmers. It appears to the Reporter, that one of the benefits it would be to the stockmen in being organized under Mr. Spears' plan, would be where they attended their local meeting regularly, there they could find out where new cases of cholera had broke out in the community, where the disease was prevailing worst among the hogs and incidently learn of many other things at the meetings that would be to their advantage.

Near this time last year when cholera was thinning out so many herds in the community, the Reporter at the request of our County Farm Demonstrator, reproduced an article written by Dr. Frank R. Jones, U. S. Veterinary Field Surgeon, regarding the treatment of hogs infected with cholera and suggestions as to how to keep the disease from spreading. The suggestions are logical ones, and since the same disease seems to be getting another hold among the hogs, we are again publishing the suggestions offered by Dr. Jones with the hope that they may of some benefit to some farmer in this county.

TO KEEP HOG CHOLERA FROM REACHING YOUR HERD

Locate your hog lots and pastures away from streams and public highways, and not allow the hogs to run free range.

Do not visit your neighbor or allow him to visit you, if either of you have hog cholera on premises.

Do not drive into hogs when returning from market or after driving on public highways.

Do not use hog lots for yarding wagons and farm implements

Do not place newly purchased stock, stock secured for breeding purposes, or stock exhibited at county fairs, with your herd. Keep such stock quarantined a least two weeks and use care to prevent carrying infection from these to other pens in feeding and attending stock.

Burn to ashes or cover with quick lime and bury under four feet of earth all dead animals and the viscera removed from animals at butchering time because they attract the attention of buzzards, dogs, etc., which are liable to carry hog cholera infection.

Confine your dogs and do not keep pigeons unless you confine them.

IF HOG CHOLERA APPEARS IN YOUR HERD

Treat your hogs immediately with anti-hog cholera serum, after which they should be kept on a light diet and pure drinking water, and confined to limited quarters that may be cleaned daily and sprayed three times a week with one part of compound cresol solution, to thirty parts of water, until the disease has abated in the herd. To obtain the best results the serum must be administered before the disease has progressed in the herd.

Notify your neighbors that your herd is infected, that they may take the necessary precautions to keep hog cholera from reaching their herds.

TO RID PREMISES OF INFECTION

Remove all manure and saturate with quick lime.

Burn all litter, rubbish and old hog troughs.

After the premises are thoroughly cleansed, spray walls, floors and other surfaces with disinfectant (one part compound cresol solution to thirty parts water). Where hog houses are small turn them over, exposing interior to sunlight.

Wallow holes and cess pools should be filled in, drained or fenced off.

All runs underneath buildings should be cleaned and disinfected.

Don't trust your own knowledge of hog cholera. If your hogs get sick consult your County Demonstration Agent or write describing symptoms, to

U. S. Veterinary Field Agent,
College Station, Texas.

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without it tiring me, and am doing all my work."

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

Longfellow could take a sheet of paper and write a poem on it and make it worth $65,000. That's genius. Rockefeller can write a few words on a sheet of paper and make it worth $50,000 000.00. That's capital. United States can take a piece of gold and stamp upon it an eagle and make it worth $20.00. That's money. A mechanic can take material worth $5.00 and make it into watch springs worth $1000.00. That's skill. A woman can purchase a good hat for $5.00, but prefers one that costs $47.00. That's foolishness. A ditch-digger works ten hours a day and handle several tons of earth for $1.25. That's labor. The author of this ad can write a check for $1000,000.00, but it wouldn't be worth a dime. That's pain. A man can purchase from us some Chase & Sanborn Coffee and a sack of Seal Flour. That's common sense. Another month will set in after next Saturday. That's October. That's the time for people from Constable to the President of the United States to pay bills. Let's all pay up and make everybody dizzy with joy; and say, don't forget Yours truly, for we want to have the pleasure of gladdening the hearts of a few in Iseral ourselves. Thank you.
