

President Proclaims November 25 As National Thanksgiving in United States

President Truman Saturday proclaimed November 25 as Thanksgiving Day. He urged citizens to render generous assistance to the hungry and homeless in other lands. This renewing our devotion to the cause of good will among men.

"Now, therefore, I, Harry S. Truman, president of the United States of America in consonance with the joint resolution of Congress passed and approved December 26th, 1941, designating the fourth Thursday, November 25, 1948, as a day of national thanksgiving; and I call upon our citizens to observe that day giving thanks to almighty God for the bounties which have been bestowed upon our nation and by resolving to render generous assistance to the hungry and homeless in other lands, thus renewing our devotion to the cause of good will among men."

Christian Science Services Nov. 25

Thanksgiving services are held each year by The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and its branches throughout the world. The order of service includes the reading of a Lesson-Sermon on the topic of "Thanksgiving," and opportunity is afforded for testimonies of gratitude to be expressed appropriate to the occasion. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

The Golden Text is: "Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the most High" (Psalms 50:14).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father; and blessed is that man who seeth his brother's need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good" (page 518).

GOSSETT WILL RE-INTRODUCE BILL

Representative Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls, the 13th District Congressman from Texas, said Saturday he was planning to re-introduce a bill in the House of the 81st Congress to abolish the electoral college Constitutional amendment.

Rep. Gossett made his plans known in a talk at Wichita Falls, Friday before the Rotary Club. He said abandonment of the electoral college would break up the solid South, but would give us more bargaining power in national politics.

Editor: It is hoped that you get your amendment passed and adopted but it is our guess it will not pass and if it did, the so-called democratic party would not let the amendment be adopted by sufficient number of states to make it effective. The name Democratic party is all that is left and the sooner the voter realizes and quits voting for the party and begins voting for what he wants. The southern states voted overwhelmingly for Truman but were against his civil rights platform but now expect the southern democrats in Congress to stop the legislation.

IT'S YOUR BUSINESS

Those who ignore the fact that huge government expenditures are responsible for the inflationary increase of the money supply, sing the families song that business alone is responsible for high prices.

Actually they know, because the figures prove it, that profits are not the cause of high prices. They know that corporate profits after taxes account for about 6 per cent of the price of the $222 billion worth of goods and services sold to ultimate consumers in 1947. They know that it could be reduced 6 per cent by elimination of corporate profits it would have disastrous consequences. With an over abundance of money and an under-supply of goods for civilian goods, we can do only two fundamental things to lick inflation and stabilize prices.

We can reduce the money supply and increase in production for civilian consumption. In these crucial days we cannot skimp foreign aid, and we have got to keep our defense powder dry.

But we can insist on rigid economy in government, and elimination of waste, inefficiency, and duplication. We can postpone our many public works expenditures and abandon all pork barrel projects.

What we need most in this country of ours is fiscal statesmanship without partisanship. We need a good business approach to the business of Government.

The writer nor no one else knows what President Truman will do. But if he insists on what he advocated during the campaign, continuing raising wages and scarcity of everything, we haven't seen any inflation as to what we will see in the future.

Veterans Administration Operates Extensive Network of Hospitals

The Veterans Administration operates a network of 126 hospitals for the treatment of ill and disabled veterans. An additional 12,500 beds—in civil, state, and other federal hospitals—are being used by this agency on a contract or agreement basis. Clinics also are maintained in the 70 VA Regional Offices, and in other VA field offices, for pre-admission examinations and treatments.

Any veteran, who had war time service or a peacetime veteran who is in receipt of a compensable disability, if discharged or separated under conditions other than dishonorable, are entitled to VA hospital treatment, under the following priority system:

First—Emergency cases.

Second—Those suffering from injuries or diseases incurred or aggravated in line of duty during wartime service.

Third—Those who state under oath that they are unable to pay hospital charges for treatment of non-service connected disabilities or illness. Those veterans, if not in the emergency category, must wait until a bed becomes available.

Emergency patients may be taken directly to the nearest VA hospital. If possible, the veteran, or someone acting for him or her, should communicate with VA by telephone or telegraph.

In all other cases, the veteran, his nearest relative, guardian or representative, should fill in the proper form for hospital care, VA Form 10-P-10. These forms are available at any VA office, Veterans County Service Officer, Veterans Organizations Service Officers or the American Red Cross.

Truck Overtakes When Axel Breaks

A large pumper truck belonging to the Dow Chemical Company went into a ditch early Monday morning at a point seven miles east of Cisco on the Breckenridge Highway. Ira L. Thetford, driver of the machine, escaped serious injury, but damage in excess of $1,000 was estimated on the truck.

The truck which operates from Graham was traveling to Brownwood when the accident occurred. The axle of the right front wheel broke and caused it to swerve into the ditch along the highway and overturn.

Every Sixth Person On U. S. Payroll

According to the Chicago Journal of Commerce, one out of every six adult Americans are now receiving money from the United States Treasury. This includes federal employees, war veterans and dependents, retired civil service employees, social security beneficiaries, and so on. And the total tends to steadily increase.

If those who wish to extend social security every possible human financial way from the cradle to the grave have their way, it won't be long until the federal Government will supply all or part of the livelihood of practically everyone in the country. The drive for a compulsory sickness insurance is a good example of that possibility. Theoretically it would be paid for by a payroll tax. Actually, in the view of experts, the proposed tax would be inadequate, and appropriations would be necessary to make up the deficit. Then on top of that, it would create one of the largest Bureaus of them all, in the government to handle the administration of the measure.

Oil Collection Index is Planned

AUSTIN, Nov. 13.—The University of Texas Bureau of Economy Geology oil well sample collection, consisting of two million samples from 25,000 Texas wells will be indexed in a publication to be issued soon, Dr. John T. Lonsdale, Bureau director announced.

Publication of the index should make the oil well sample library of even greater benefit to oil industry geologists and others interested in subterranean conditions in various parts of the state.

The oil well sample library weighing some 200 tons recently was moved from the University campus to the new Off-Campus Research Center about five miles north of Austin. There geologists may study oil, gas and water samples from nearly every part of the state. Duplicate samples may be obtained by colleges and oil companies of some of the collection, particular on coastal wells.

The collection, begun in 1912 and added throughout the years now occupies some 11,050 square feet of floor space in its new location at the Off-Campus Research Center.

Your Home

By Frances Ainsworth

Did you know that from 15% to 35% of all the heat from your furnace escapes out the windows? Well, when I recently learned that fact I was amazed—and resolved right then and there to find a solution to that heat leak before winter set in.

I found the answer in Winter Windows! My friend Madge had purchased Winter Windows last year for her home, and told me that the added comfort and warmth from this proper insulation was really surprising. She explained that Winter Windows are actually second windows which fit over the regular ones with a dead air space between. And . . . because this dead air space has been proved one of the best heat insulators there is, these windows form a complete insulation.

One thing Madge cautioned me about—making sure that my Winter Windows were glazed with good glass. She advised "Pennvernon" because it is extremely clear and free from distortion. And . . . of course, clear vision and good looks are important as well as the proper insulation.

Well, I've ordered Winter Windows for every window at our house, too—and we're looking forward to a big saving in fuel costs this year. We feel sure, too, that the children will have fewer colds this winter, with those dangerous draughts eliminated. And they will certainly make our rooms more comfortable on those cold, zero winter days. On warmer days—or for sleeping at night—these windows may be easily adjusted to let in the amount of fresh air you want.

My husband and I are looking forward to a big saving on our fuel bill this year . . . which is good news in these days of high prices, isn't it?

1,000,000 Cattle Killed in 1947

Don't grow GRUBS—

Two million Texas cattle are slaughtered every year, and over one-third of these are grubby cattle. A more direct loss to the farmer is feed. He has to feed his cattle about 15% more than usual just because of grubs. The fall and early winter is the best time to treat cattle for grubs because this is the time of year the grubs mature and fall off the animal to the ground, says C. A. Kings, Extension Entomologist of A & M.

The stockman has three choices of controlling grubs—dust, spray, or dip. If you use the first method, dust the backs of the animals thoroughly with one part 5% rotenone and two parts tripoli earth or talc. You can use a jar with holes in the lid for the powder and just rub the dust into the hair with the fingertips. For a spray, mix seven and a half pounds of 5% rotenone in 100 gallons of water. Wet the backs of the animals thoroughly with a sprayer that has at least 250 pounds pressure. Both lice and grubs can be controlled in a dip containing one pound of 5% rotenone and 10 lbs of wettable sulphur in 100 Gals water. It'll take two dips 17 to 21 days apart, and dip first about 10 days after the grubs are first seen in the back.

Here's another way to picture grub losses: Enough leather is lost each year to furnish shoes for a million people a year. The milk flow is reduced around a quarter, but most important of all, is the five million dollars lost by Texas farmers. That's a lot of money to pay for grubby cattle.

Baird Bears Win Over Clyde Team

Baird Bears came from behind in the latter part of the fourth quarter on the Baird field Friday night in the "annual Grudge Game" to win over the Clyde Bulldogs.

Early in the first quarter Jimmie Calhoun plunged over for Baird from the five yard march down the field. Donald Barr from Clyde soon afterward raced 66 yards for a touchdown and Ferrell converted. The score at that half was Clyde 7, Baird 6. Baird chalked up eight first downs to Clyde's four.

In the third quarter Yarborough of Baird caught a punt and ran 70 yards for a touchdown. Attempt to pass for a conversion failed. Yarborough got hold of the ball soon afterward and made a 63 yard run for Baird's final touchdown. Mobley failed to kick the extra point.

Legion Auxiliary Sponsors Veterans Gift Program

American Legion Auxiliary officials announced Tuesday that the organization was setting up the annual "Gift Shop" for the benefit of disabled veterans of both World Wars. The program was designed to furnish gifts for the veterans to pass on to loved ones in an attempt to build the morale of those who are financially unable to procure gifts at Christmas time.

The gifts collected by the local organization will go to the Waco Veterans Hospital this year, and Auxiliary members expressed themselves as being particularly anxious to make a good showing for Cisco.

Those wishing to participate in the program, both Auxiliary members and non-members, were asked to take their gifts to the home of Mrs. Chas. Robarts at 308 West 5th Street, or to call Mrs. Robarts at phone number 256 where arrangements have been made to pick up gifts of those unable to deliver them.

Items such as bath sets, tea towels, luncheon cloths, bath powder, stationery, comb and brush sets, costume jewelry, handkerchiefs, hose and many other gifts were listed as being most acceptable.
