

From The Editor's Window

Frankly, the people of this great country of ours do not like the secrecy attending the trip of Under Secretary Welles to Europe recently.

Remember, he was sent on this tour by the President without the consent of congress and on his return to this country would not give out any news of his trip to any one, not even the press.

The announcement stunned the people all over the country and we are still bewildered as to what all this secrecy is about.

The President seems to forget that the people who elected him are still a liberty loving nation and do not like to be kept in the dark regarding the affairs of our own country.

It seems that our great state, Texas, is at last coming into its own, so to speak. As we have said, not only are we making rapid strides in the paper manufacturing business, new mining enterprises, and fruit growing, but now we find that travelers and vacationists are turning their steps to Texas in search of adventure and amusement.

The first shipment of magnesia, amounting to about thirty tons, was made from Llano a few days ago. This is the first of a 300 ton trial series of shipment. The deposit is found in apparent abundance in Llano county. It is also probable that, if found in paying quantities in Llano county, the project will be extended.

It is reported that Rear Admiral Byrd, who is on a second trip to the regions around the south pole, has discovered new lands never before charted on any map.

The ground has sufficient season to farm on for several weeks, and very likely farmers will be able to plant all feed crops, and the bigger part of the cotton and get it up with the present moisture.

4-H BOYS ORGANIZE STAPLE COTTON CLUB IN CALLAHAN COUNTY

A county wide cotton club has been formed for Callahan county among the 4-H club boys of seven clubs. Including the following clubs, Putnam, Clyde, Eula, Bayou, Oplin, Denton and Cottonwood.

State registered seed has been received for this demonstration. Mebane 141 is the variety selected to try out for the 1940 season. Since the seed are delinted it requires about five pounds of seed per acre. Another thing they are expected to do is to gin the cotton cooperatively, and send the samples to Austin, where cotton will be stapled and graded by government classifiers and will be sold on that classing.

County agent, Brison reports that the following boys have secured their seed and are ready to plant. John Land, Billie Sol Estes, James Allen and Scott Hays all of Clyde. Glen Burnam, Wilber Carico, and Mabry Tatom, Jr. of Putnam, Ray Rundell Young and Billie Joe Higgins, Balrd; J. O. Connell, Denton, R. L. Payne, Jr. Harold Ferguson, and Willie D. McKee Eula.

The seed are being sold to the boys at half price five cents per pound. Mebane is sold under the trade name of Western Prolific and originated at Knapp. It is about two weeks earlier and has less foliage. It is said it will make fifteen sixtenths cotton.

PUTNAM GETS 3 INCHES RAIN BEST OF THE YEAR

The rain of the week end amounted to more than three inches. This rain came just at the right time to save the grain crops, which were beginning to suffer for the want of moisture. Some few farmers who had insured with the government, had already abandoned their grain, and turned the cattle in to graze it. The rain is the best rain this territory has had in many years just at this time of the year. It has put a good season in the ground thoroughly soaking it with water. There is no way of estimating what this rain really is worth to the country, coming just at the right time.

The city was about out of water, possibly had enough left to run through April and a few days in May, and then we would have had to make other arrangements and possibly had to have hauled from Cisco. The lake went dry a few years ago and the city hauled from Cisco, more than six months, before the lake caught enough water to go pumping again. This rain filled the lake about three feet, which will run well into the summer; but it is hoped, it will run around during the rainy season during April and May.

The ground has sufficient season to farm on for several weeks, and very likely farmers will be able to plant all feed crops, and the bigger part of the cotton and get it up with the present moisture.

TEXAS CONTRIBUTES $83,302.87 TO THE RELIEF OF FINNISH

Texas contributed $83,302.87 to Finnish relief aside from corporation contributions made direct to Herbert Hoover's committee by the home offices of many concerns having branches in this state. These figures were released by Capt. J.F. Lucey, Texas Director for the Finnish Relief Fund, this week from his office in Dallas. At the same time Capt. Lucey said the state headquarters and the state organization are being discontinued.

The Texas director was profuse in his compliments of the subscription campaign conducted by Texas newspapers. "If we had not had the marvelous cooperation of Texas newspapers," Captain Lucey said, "We never could have got the job done." He also paid his respects to workers at state headquarters and the local committeemen over the state.

While Texas donations were not the largest, nor did Texas lead the states in number of donations, Capt. Lucey said, yet it was one of the ranking states. Only New York, Illinois, California and one or two other states are credited with a greater total in contributions.

Texas furnished her pledge, Capt. Lucey said, in that every cent of the collected funds went 100 per cent to Finnish relief. Expenses of the campaign were taken care of by private donations made by friends of the cause largely the membership of the committees.

"The people of Texas responded magnificently," said Capt. Lucey. "They stepped to the side of a stricken people who were fighting against overwhelming odds and gave liberally of their wealth and sympathy. I am proud of Texas and her people and am glad to be one of the great family. I cannot say more."

RADIO ADVERTISING VS. THE NEWSPAPER

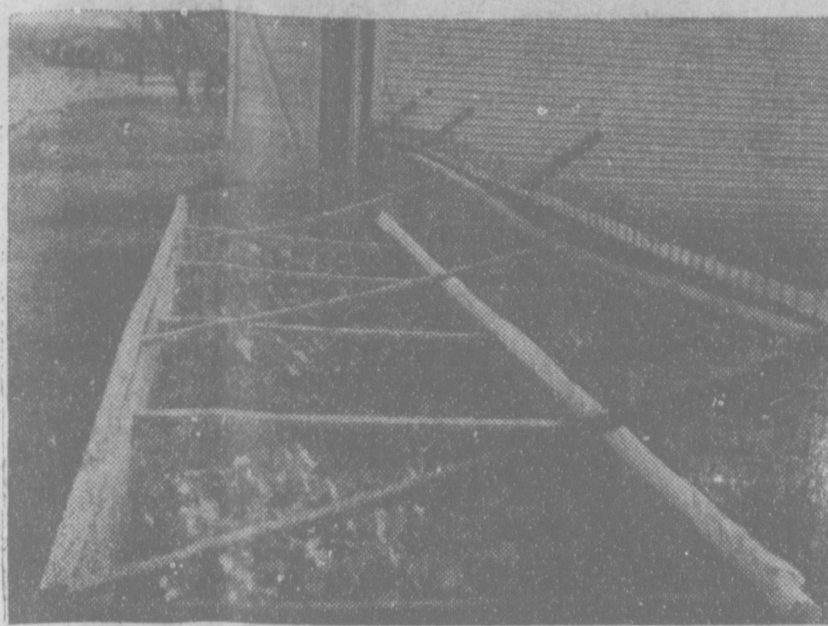

The Hamlin Herald has the following to say about newspaper and radio advertising in last week's issue. "There is no guess work about a message in a newspaper. It becomes a public expression and can be read again and again. The newspaper message goes into the home and hearts of the people. More especially if the paper be one of the small town, once-per-week kind. The newspaper message waits for you and you can get it when you deliberately choose. But the funny thing about those radio messages, is that the ones paying for the time, use the papers to call attention to the hour, station and time. A great many radio messages are wasted on the "deserted" air. If one happens to tune in and hit the program on the dot, and there is something catchy, snappy, and mighty unusual one settles down to listen, otherwise, otherwise, otherwise, etc.

THE ENGLISH SPEAKER WAS LOW ON AMBITION

When a politician making a campaign speech finds that his audience is cold to his appeals, he can always bring a cheer by waving a flag or by quoting a patriot orator of early days and so, by inference, place himself in the same category as the patriot of history and justify his right to votes of all good and loyal citizens.

San Francisco is the finest place in the world for a world's fair. It is a city of such history, of such romance, of such personality and with such an array of natural and man-made panoramas that it is a peerless setting for an exposition. Picture yourself (as was the good fortune of this observer recently) as standing on the South side of the bay. In the distance to your right, the longest bridge on earth makes a leap of eight miles to join San Francisco with Oakland and the other East Bay cities. No

JOHN GARNER, PRESIDENTIAL PROSPECT, HAILS FROM SMALL-TOWN LIFE IN TEXAS

When he is not in Washington presiding over the Senate, John Garner is a typical Texan—a friendly neighbor and an ardent sportsman. Folks who drop in at his Uvalde home usually find him tending the chickens or raking up the back yard, but his love of a vigorous outdoor life often sends him hunting or fishing at some remote camp for days at a time.

Vice President Garner, now a leading presidential candidate, is a stalwart American whose political honesty and integrity stem from the simplicity of his home life in Texas. Born and reared on a Blossom Prairie farm, he became a country lawyer and editor before beginning his notable career of public service. Today he still cherishes his ties with small-town life in Texas.

mere utilitarian mass of metal is this structure, either. Its towers and cables are silver in color and form a series of modernistic designs. Costing $77,000,000, this bridge will not be surpassed in the next 1,000 years, engineers declare. At one side of the bridge and connected by a causeway is Treasure Island, scene of the fair, with its domes and spires.

To your left is the Golden Gate bridge. It is almost pink and though costing "only" $35,000,000, it is—in some respects—even more remarkable than its neighbor for it is the world's greatest suspension bridge, the center span being 4,200 feet long, and the roadway is 220 feet above the water.

That rock-like island, apparently only a hundred yards (actually farther) from the end of a pier is Alcatraz, where the most dangerous criminals in America are housed. At your feet are moored long lines of boats at Fisherman's Wharf—scores of blue vessels with jured sails, scores of others powered with gaselle motors, and nearby is the anchorage where dozens of yachts are rocking. Farrowing the tranquil waters of the bay are great merchant ships and vessels of the United States Navy.

Behind you sits the city of San Francisco on her seven hills, the highest of all crowned by towering buildings. Nob Hill, where Stanford, Hearst, Mackay and the other millionaires (enriched by gold and railroads) built their palaces; Telegraph Hill, from which the watcher noted the distant approach of ships and signaled to the town below in earlier days; cobble-stoned streets that were trod by Mark Twain, Bret Harte, Joaquin Miller, Jack London, and "Bitter" Pierce—this is San Francisco where Robert Louis Stevenson wrote, and almost penniless Rudyard Kipling, then unknown, tried unsuccessfully—to sell "Kim" as a feature for the Sunday paper; San Francisco where Henry George, a young printer just landed after having "rounded the Horn," wondered at destitution in the midst of a gold rush and wrote his immortal "Progress and Poverty," the only readable book ever penned on economics.

San Francisco—where "Mutt and Jeff," the first comic strip originated; where Rube Goldberg and "Tad" once lived; the birth-place of the Turkey Trot, the Grizzly Bear and the Bunny Hug; where Paul Whiteman put ragtime on paper and it became jazz; once the boxing capital of the world—for Jack Dempsey started his career here, Gentleman Jim Corbett was born here, some of Jim Jeffries' biggest fights were here—in fact, at one time every world's boxing championship was held by a Californian, in the days of Jim Coffey the promoter, when Eddie Graney was the most famous of referees.

In San Francisco is the greatest Chinatown in America, from which all other Chinese communities in the United States are governed; there are thousands of Italians, Basques, Greeks, Japanese, Mexicans—each living in their own section. Only London, Marsilles, New York and Shanghai can rival San Francisco as a cosmopolitan seaport. Once the coasts of five nations were current here—the English shilling, the French franc, the Spanish peseta and the German mark, each being accepted as a quarter. One hundred cases of champagne were opened at a banquet in honor of General Grant.

Taxidermists often create freaks of nature such as rabbits with deer horns, but it remained for C. L. Mitchell and Frank Bladok of Temple to display a new and clever idea. They were exhibiting in their store a ten pound, seven ounce black bear which was caught by Jack Keith of Temple in the Temple Country Club lake. Mr. Keith had the fish mounted and then fitted an upper and lower plate of false teeth in the fish's wideopen mouth. An accompanying sign says "If I'd kept my mouth shut, I wouldn't be here."

Watch for Rattle Snakes

This is the time of year when the old rattle snakes begin to leave their holes and sportsmen are warned to be on the lookout for these poison snakes. They will be found around rocky hill holes. The young snakes are just as poisonous, according to their size as are the large ones, and a bite from a young rattler may prove fatal. One who spends much time in the woods should be prepared to give first aid to a poison snake bite. Complete kits are available at all drug stores with instruction for use. Do you have one in your hunting or fishing equipment? If not, you should, because as the old saying goes. It is better to be safe than sorry.

Recently negro residents of De Witt county have taken more than 500 armadillos for food. Armadillo, well prepared is considered excellent eating by many persons. They taste like small pig.
The incisors, or gnawing teeth of beavers continue to grow as long as they live to take care of the wearing on them. The molar and other teeth do not continue to grow.

Three publishing houses are famous for the beauty of their books. One store has the greatest collection of jade in the world—a pair of vases being valued at $50,000. The city is world-renowned for its foods and beverages.

PARTNERS IN A GREAT TEXAS ENTERPRISE

Oil

TEXAS farmers and ranchers received last year from oil men the huge sum of $132,478,000 for leases and royalties as their share in this partnership.

All but seven of Texas' 254 counties now share in this cash return from leases and production on more than 50,000,000 acres of Texas land.

Then, too, the Texas farmers and ranchers sell to oil workers and their families more than $60,000,000 worth of farm and livestock products each year.

Thus the farmers and ranchers of our state receive nearly 200 million dollars a year as their share of oil's total expenditure of 750 million dollars annually in Texas. These 200 million dollars in turn flow into every channel of Texas trade.

The Texas farmer and rancher and the oil men are partners in the development of Texas.

Dodson Says Ma And Jim To Be In Race Whether O'Daniel Runs Or Not

By Aubra Dodson

Hello, Folks. Well, this is Wednesday morning and tonight the Governor has promised to tell us what he intends to do about running for a second term. I will, stick my neck out ten to one that his answer is "I will run."

Those who had expected the Governor to just come on and announce probably had not thought about the way things are being done these days . . . you see, everything is on a draft basis.

By the way, I see that Cross Plains is right up to the minute and have drafted Mayor Martin. I am glad to see that they are up with our times.

Yes, I believe that Governor O'Daniel will tell us tonight that he will run again and of course he will, perhaps, tell us how many letters and lost cards he has got asking him to run again . . . I can not figure any reason why he would not run. I think he likes being Governor . . . and he enjoys broadcasting on Sunday mornings from the 87 year old mansion . . . and other things that go with the Governor's office. And Mrs. O'Daniel and the boys, Pat and Mike, are going to have a newspaper . . . trial four months subscription 25c and there will be no advertising in it and all the profit is to go to the Red Cross, according to the Governor.

Well, some say that Ma and Jim are waiting for the Governor to say what he is going to do before they announce their plans definitely. And others say they will not run if O'Daniel does. Others say that they will so, I guess it this way: Ma and Jim will run whether the Governor does or not.

Well, it looks like our Governor will be busy this summer going to Mexico to talk to us from XEAW and then hurrying to Fort Worth to write some for the paper and help Mrs. O'Daniel and the boys along with it. At any rate think we can sit back this summer and pick the political speech we want to listen in on at night.

I am ordering the O'Daniel paper today . . . and Jack, you keep tab on how the profits come in and how much the Red Cross gets and if a paper can make a lot of money without advertising . . . then let's get one and run it that way.

P. S. See where the Governor has turned down the number one license plate that has heretofore been assigned to the Governor. He says he does not want it as he is just one of the citizens. Well, what do you know about that. He may not want to live in the mansion if he is elected next time. And then I wonder why he accepted the car Mr. Ford gave him soon after he was elected Governor. Mr. Ford did not give all the common citizens a car like this

Well, I guess the Governor just did not think that time, and took Mercury eight sedan before he thought.

Bayou Boys Enter Callahan County
Mebane Cotton Club, Says Brison

BY ROSS BRISON
County Agricultural Agent

Since last week C. B. Odell, and Clovis McDonald of Bayou have gotten 15 pounds of the delinted mebane cotton seed and have entered the county wide 4-H cotton club that is under way at this time. Others that have signed up in other parts of the county are Marshall Jolly and Connard Burns Estes of Clyde. Only 3 more 15 pound sacks of this fine seed is left for club members. 15 pounds will plant a three acre patch and this is enough to see what the cotton will do.

Ticking for the mattresses will also be furnished without charge to those families certified by the county AAA committee composed of Lester Farmer, Fred Stacy, and Sidney Harville. This committee has also applied for 36 bales of cotton enough to make 390 mattresses. The Planning Committee will assist in aking plans for transporting cotton to work centers as well as making plans for conducting the program in the county for the best interest of all concerned.

Terrace lines have been laid off for Manuel and Clarence Wilcoxen of Cottonwood last Tuesday. These lines were laid off on the level and the plans are for the terraces to be constructed during the summer and fall.

Members of the Callahan county are: W. I. Glass, District Agent, Miss Maurine Hearn, District Home Demonstration Agent, John R. Wenmohs, Land Use Planning Specialist, R. H. Nelson, District AAA Supervisor.

Under the plan surplus cotton is Land Planning Committee are being asked to meet in Baird next Tuesday morning April 16, where plans for conducting the mattress campaign will be made. Out of county people that will be present used to make mattresses for low income families in counties. The mattresses will be made at community centers under the supervision of the County Home Demonstration Agent.

Farmers of the county that have recently bought some seed of the Western Prolific variety are as follows: Blain Odum, Joe Higgins, Ernest Higgins, J. L. Farmer, Ernest Franke, and Herschel Bryant.

Jim Yarbrough of Union was by the office last Saturday and got information on how to use 2% Cere-san for treating cotton and grain sorghum seed before planting.

Everett Williams of Putnam has built a seed treater and plans to treat all his sorghum and grain sorghum seed before planting this year.

1180 acres of terrace and contour lines for 22 farmers of the county were laid off during March through the facilities of the County Agents office. Much of the work was done by N.Y.A. boys who have had as much as four years experience in this work. So far none of their work has been found unsatisfactory when checked by the county agent for accuracy.

W. H. Chambers of Clyde is using 3000 pounds of commercial fertilizer under his peanut and sweet potato crop this year. In addition to all this fertilizer all of the peanut seed will be inoculated with Nitragin. Demonstrations in the past indicate that inoculation increases the yield of peanuts 5 bushels per acre while 100 pounds of 4-12-4 fertilizer applied properly has increased the yield about 10 bushels per acre. John Estes of Clyde reports that after a veterinarian had treated a cow, owned by Clayton Estes, for milk fever he then recommended that cattle be fed a mineral mixture to prevent this trouble. A good one may be mixed at home by using 200 pounds of salt, 100 pounds of bone meal, and 100 pounds of oyster shell flour. A new remedy for scfew worms known as d'phenylamine has been found by the U.S. Bureau of Entomology to be very effective for protecting wounds of stock from becoming infested with screw worms and for treating infested wounds. It has been thoroughly tried out under Southwestern range conditions on sheep, goats and cattle and found to be superior to bone oil, pine tar oil, and many other fly repellents.

Diphenylamine (pronounced difeenyl-amine) is not a strong fly repellent and does not entirely prevent flies from laying their eggs on wounds, but it kills the tiny worms hatching from the eggs before they can damage the tissues. According to information it can be depended on to kill worms up to 3 days

Mrs. A. J. Hurst and Mrs. Tom Hawk were Baird visitors Monday.

Rev. F. A. Hollis was in the News Office Wednesday afternoon, and stated that he had just received a letter from Roy Lee Williams, stating he had been employed as choir leader at the First Baptist church at Merkel. He will remain at Abilene, and attended Hardin(Simmons University.

R. A. Park of the Pueblo community was passing through Putnam Friday enroute home from the county capitol, and stopped and visited with the News for a short while.

Bryan Bennett of Cross Plains, a candidate for commissioner of the Cross Plains precinct had business in Putnam Monday afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. Ray Cockrell of Baird, are the parents of a baby boy. Mrs. Cockrell doing fine; but the Dr. is not doing so well.

No modern funeral director wishes to distress a bereaved family with needless discussion of price, but we believe that every responsible person should be shown that the price of a funeral represents more than the mere cost of the casket. The services of professional men, the use of special equipment and the facilities of a modern planned funeral home are but a few of the factors that enter into the cost of a funeral. It will pay to remember this when you are obligated to make funeral arrangements. Owing to the extra comforts and conveniences provided, services conducted by our funeral home may appear more costly, yet are NEVER higher than elsewhere.
