Jap Attempt To Retake Island Is Quickly Repulsed

Early Invasion Plans May Be Made In Parley

QUEBEC, Aug. 19 (AP)—A speed-up in Allied plans for the invasion of Europe to take full advantage of the Russian offensive on Germany's eastern flank appeared today to be a likely result of the current British-American strategy conferences here.

As President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and their command staffs went into the second full day of meetings, the sustained Russian campaign, winning a success equal to the most optimistic hopes of Allied observers, shaped up as the greatest single war development before them.

An military observers here evaluate the situation, Germany is so heavily coupled with advancing Russian armies at present and even her vital rear positions in the east are so gravely threatened that a European invasion in the near future would tax her defensive resources to the utmost.

How fully these considerations have entered into the discussions here could only be estimated. If the pattern of past conferences is followed nothing will be said until the conclusion of this meeting, at which time the president and prime minister will hold a press conference to give out such of the decisions as can be made public.

There is speculation, too, in connection with Mr. Roosevelt's scheduled visit to the Canadian capital at Ottawa next week that the Canadian parliament might hold a special meeting to hear him speak. That would offer the chief executive an extraordinary opportunity to review, in so far as publicly possible, the accomplishments of the latest staff discussions.

Soviets Meet Fierce Nazi Resistance

Reds Reported To Be Within 9 Miles Of City Of Kharkov

MOSCOW, Aug. 19 (AP)—Red army troops, slugging their way ahead through dogged German resistance south of Kharkov, today were approaching the two remaining railway escape lines supplying the beleaguered Nazi garrison inside the key Ukrainian bastion.

A Soviet communique last night announced the capture of Zmyev, 20 miles south of Kharkov, in a "decisive assault" which smashed that enemy strongpoint and killed 1,200 Hitler shock troops. Zmyev is less than 10 miles from the Kharkov-Lozovaya railway, main enemy supply line.

A few miles beyond lies the Kharkov - Krasnograd spur, which also must be severed before the Russians can close the Kharkov escape corridor, now less than 30 miles wide. The Kharkov-Poltava railroad had been cut earlier in the Red offensive.

Northwest and west of Kharkov the Russians also reported overall gains of seven miles which resulted in capture of more than 50 additional towns and villages.

Stubbornly contesting every fortified place, the Germans slowly fell back after suffering another 2,000 casualties, the communique said.

In the northeastern suburbs of shell-wrecked Kharkov, meanwhile, Soviet shock troops kept up the see-saw street-to-street battle against reinforced Nazi units which has been going on for the better part of a week.

At the northern end of the 400-mile active front, converging Russian divisions were blasting the approaches to Bryansk from three sides, and Soviet dispatches said 1,300 German dead were counted on the battlefields. North of Bryansk, on the Spas Demensk sector, an advantageous point was stormed and here another 1,000 Nazis were slain in short but fierce fighting, the war bulletin said.

Nazis Appear Ready To Fight For Northern Italy

LONDON, Aug. 19 (AP)—The Germans are moving troops into Italy in considerable strength apparently intending to make a real fight for at least the northern end of that country, a competent British military informant said today.

"Several divisions" have been on the move to Italy from France and Germany in the last week or two, but an exact estimate of Nazi strength in Italy is not possible now, said the commentator who cannot be identified further.

From other sources came indications that the Germans are not only moving into Italy, but that their troops from western and northern France have taken over the French coastal stretch from the Italian border to Toulon—previously garrisoned by Italian troops.

A radio broadcast in the name of the Allied high command told patriots in occupied Europe last night to prepare for invasion of the continent which already "might be near."

The best information in London before the fall of Sicily indicated the Germans had two or three divisions south of Naples on the Italian mainland and these, plus perhaps 25,000 troops evacuated from the island would give the Germans a force of 50,000 to 75,000 for defense of southern Italy—if they still are there.

With the Italian army fairly well written off as ineffective without German support, the question of Nazi strength in southern Italy is regarded as a key factor affecting the next Allied step.

Nazis Appear Ready To Fight For Northern Italy

The majority of guesses here seemed to be that the German army is unlikely to risk large forces for long in southern Italy where they face the danger of being cut off by landings to the north, but is quite likely to employ forces large enough to establish widespread positions to the north.

It was still unclear just where this northern line was likely to be, but one from just north of Spezia on the west coast through Bologna to Rimini is the basis of much speculation.

The invasion message, read from the United Nations radio at Algiers and from BBC in London, urged patriots "to perfect all preparations in the shortest possible time."

The broadcast, directed primarily to the people of metropolitan France, declared a new phase of the European war. "The liberation of occupied countries," it began now that the occupation of Sicily is complete.

"We obviously are not going to reveal where the blow will fall," the message said, then added: "People of the occupied country which is to be the first to welcome the armies of liberation will be notified at the last minute."

Nazi Government Reported Moved

LONDON, Aug. 19 (AP)—The United Nations radio at Algiers today broadcast a Bern dispatch quoting Adolf Hitler's newspaper Voelkischer Beobachter as saying that "the whole German government has left Berlin."

The statement that the "whole German government" had moved came as a surprise in London, although there has been numerous unconfirmed reports the past three or four weeks that some governmental departments were being transferred.

These reports—none of which had any official confirmation—told of great vans being loaded at the doors of Berlin ministries and rolling away—possibly to Vienna, Linz or Breslau.

Italian Government Must Surrender, Declares Connally

FORT WORTH, Aug. 19 (AP)—If the Italian government and king continue to link their fate with Hitler, we must relentlessly assail them, Senator Tom Connally said in an address here.

Speaking at memorial services of the Texas American Legion war conference last night, the senator said: "They must be forced to humiliating and unconditional surrender."

Senator Connally said the nation must make adequate and generous provisions for the rehabilitation, hospitalization and placement in industry or economy for those who return from the war.

Another Post-War Prediction—Glider Freight Trains On Cross-Country Runs

IOWA CITY, Ia., Aug. 19 (AP)—Coast-to-coast, non-stop aerial freight trains, which will switch their cargo in the sky like railroads now shift boxcars, were predicted for the postwar period today by Roy A. Watkins, Chicago aircraft company executive.

The freight trains that fly will create an entirely new marketing system for large farmers, ranchers and plantation operators, Watkins said in an address prepared for a joint meeting of Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs.

Watkins, executive vice president and general manager of the Howard Aircraft Corporation, said nearly every farmer, "if he grasps his opportunities," could own or lease one or more air-freight fuselages—bodies without wings.

Communications Are Given Pounding By Large Bomber Fleet

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 19 (AP)—American warships shelled the Italian mainland yesterday for the first time, developing violent explosions at Gioia Tauro and Palmi, and Allied air fleets deprived beaten Axis troops of respite by pounding communications throughout southern Italy, it was announced today.

"United States naval forces which had been supporting the advance of the (U.S.) Seventh army in Sicily have taken up shelling military objectives on the Italian mainland now that the island has fallen," a communique said.

Specific targets of the first thrust were bridges and power installations at Gioia Tauro and Palmi, on the Gulf of Gioia, 20 miles north of captured Messina.

Light bombers and fighter bombers carried out attacks on roads and railways which might be employed by the remnants of German and Italian forces which escaped from Sicily, pitting the tracks and destroying enemy vehicles.

"Medium bombers attacked bridges at Angiolo and roads and rail communications at Ponte Di Staletti," it was announced.

Ground activity was "limited to occasional exchanges of artillery fire across the Strait of Messina," headquarters announced.

Fighter-bombers left a small Axis naval vessel in a sinking condition off southern Sardinia and medium bombers sank an enemy merchant craft in the Gulf of Eufemia, just north of the Gulf of Gioia.

"The Bizerte area was again attacked by enemy aircraft last night," an aerial communique said. "Six enemy bombers were shot down. Two enemy aircraft were destroyed on the night of Aug. 17 in addition to those already reported."

From all operations, three Allied aircraft are missing, the bulletin said.

While "wrecking crews" of the northwest African air forces chased Axis forces across southern Italy, Middle East squadrons maintained their offensive over the eastern Mediterranean.

Axial shipping and harbor installations of three Greek islands, Zante, Melos and Syros were attacked by RAF Beaufighters and Wellington bombers both Tuesday and Tuesday night, a Cairo communique said.

American airmen said targets in southern Italy were becoming increasingly scarce, and one hungry pack of Warhawks left the center of the battle area to bomb and strafe Gormessa in southern Sardinia where they found the two-masted naval vessel and hit it with bombs.

Lt. James H. Jones of Dublin, Tex., one of the pilots credited with damaging the vessel, said, "I saw my bullets striking the mast. They cut into it like a saw and presently it toppled over onto the deck. When we left, the flames were pouring from the ship."

Skip-bombing Mitchells added to the merchantmen to their list of Italian ships bagged—already well over 300—when they sighted it off the western coast of the mainland. It was hit repeatedly and suddenly broke in two, the returning pilots said.

City Manager B. J. McDaniel said a safety island, 8 by 30 feet in size and about six inches in height, is to be erected just off center of Main street above Third. This is to be the unloading platform for all Bucher buses, which will no longer pull up to the curb, but will stop on the west side of the platform in the center of the street. To avoid street crowding, parallel parking will be put into effect on both sides of Main for a half-block up from Third.

McDaniel said the safety island would be the only stop for buses. Also to be erected immediately are red, white and blue post signs bearing the words "Bus Stop." These are to be put up at all designated stops throughout the city, and buses will be directed to pick up and discharge passengers only at those points. The whole program is in interest of safety, McDaniel said.

FRENCH GENERAL KILLED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 19 (AP)—General Louis-Marie Koeltz, commander of the French Nineteenth corps, has been killed in action, it was disclosed today.

Texans Admit Shepherd's Slaying, Report

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 19 (AP)—Sheriff Lewis Todd said today two Texas brothers have orally admitted trussing and robbing a shepherd who was found dead in his northwestern Colorado sheep camp earlier this week.

The Routt county sheriff said one Knott, 28, told him he and his brother, 25, wearing red handkerchiefs for masks, entered the sheepwagon of Ethelburg Purdy, 54, of Hayden, Colo., Sunday night and took $38 and a "wolf gun" from the wagon after binding the herder.

The young brother, the sheriff said, related that he bound Purdy with a tie.

The mournful howling of Purdy's sheepdog led officers to his body Tuesday. The herder's arms and legs had been drawn behind his back with a cotton rope knotted in a way that it tightened as he struggled. A coroner's jury held that Purdy died of exposure and shock.

Sheriff Todd said he expected the brothers would sign statements later today and added that he would ask authorities to file murder charges against the pair as soon as possible.

Todd and Undersheriff William MacFarlane returned the brothers to Steamboat Springs last night from Rawlins, Wyo., where they had been held in connection with a liquor store holdup. Two of the guns found in the brothers' possession at Rawlins, Sheriff Todd said, were identified as Purdy's—a .22 caliber rifle and a .34-40 "wolf rifle" for which Purdy had hand-fashioned a front sight.

The sheriff quoted the older brother as saying "we wouldn't have pulled this lousy job if we hadn't been broke."

The brothers gave Houston, Texas, as their home, Todd related, but said they had been wandering "all over the west" recently. The older brother's wife is somewhere in Colorado but the younger's wife and two children are in Fort Worth, Texas, the sheriff said.

British King Lauds Gen. Eisenhower

LONDON, Aug. 19 (AP)—King George VI today congratulated Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and the forces under his command upon the successful conclusion of the Sicilian campaign, which he said caused rejoicing throughout the British empire.

"On the final accomplishment of the occupation of Sicily I wish to send to you and all members of the forces that you command with such distinction my heartfelt congratulations on a great achievement.

"Throughout the British empire we have watched with admiration the ordered progress of the campaign by sea, by land and by air. We rejoice at its successful conclusion.

"I should be grateful if you would convey to my British and Canadian troops special assurance of my pride in their share of this victory."

13 BEEF STEERS RUBBERNECKING

DALLAS, Aug. 19 (AP)—Thirteen beef cattle were lolling in the town early today. A truckload of 13 steers from Fort Worth overturned in the Dallas city limits. Gasoline spilled on the street became ignited and the cattle stampeded. A bystander was knocked down and trampled. One animal took refuge on the front porch of a residence.

Police and firemen rounded up five of the steers and the search was being continued.

Notes

MARY WHALEY

Ordering food these days is a guessing game that the customer plays with the grocer and/or the waitresses in the cafes but woe unto the person who doesn't have an open mind about what he wants to eat.

The best way to play the game is to begin by asking "do you have any" and then name your first choice in foods. This saves disappointment involved when your mouth is watering for a steak and you order one only to get turned down—but flatly.

It is all right to ask if the establishment has the food you really like because the clerks and waiters like to hear you reminisce too. Their memories aren't so short that they can't recall having served many a beef steak, ham sandwich (not pressed) or melted cheese concoctions.

During the conversations, if you insist upon asking for obsolete items, you are likely to get bogged down to the only remaining food that seems not have felt the impact of war . . . fish. In times gone by, fish was something you ate on Friday, sometimes, but now it rates number one on every menu in town.

You can have it fried, baked, most any way you want it, but it is still fish. Next in abundance are eggs and you can have your eggs any way you want them too.

But even if the menu states plainly that the restaurant has all kinds of food, don't be so gullible. Most of the printing jobs were done several years ago. To save your time and the waitresses it is better just to say "what do you have?" and it won't take her but a minute to tell you.

POULTRY NEEDS PROTECTION FROM INTENSE HEAT

By O. P. GRIFFIN, County Agent
It is hard for the poultry flock when no provision has been made for green feed and protection from the intense summer heat. In most cases the hens have about quit laying. Perhaps many of them have died because there was no place they could find shelter from the intense sunshine except under iron-top sheds where temperatures ran nearly as high as in the direct sunshine.

Soon head diseases will show up in flocks that have been for a long time deprived of succulent green pasturage, or where a substitute was not fed. Some of the poultry mashes contain plenty of carotene. Others contain very little Vitamin A. All of them would have been all right if succulent green feed had been provided on the chicken range.

The first reaction of the inexperienced poultry raiser is to condemn the chicken raising business when things go wrong like that described above. But such cases an attitude will not help to win the war. We have had easy sailing so far in this war compared with what is just ahead of us now. Our stockpiles of food we had on hand at the start are fast being used up, while our responsibility to furnish food has vastly increased.

It is not too late to correct the mistakes that have been made. A little green colored fine stem alfalfa soaked in water over night will supply Vitamin A to those chickens until green feed can be provided. If sudan is growing on the chicken range cut it down so it will make some new growth for the chickens. Perhaps there is a bare spot where you can plant barley that will come up when it rains. The alfalfa can be fed until green feed is available.

Now what can be done to relieve the chickens from the heat? First that iron top house should be covered with old bundles. Make some provision for keeping the drinking water as cool as possible, and see that the chickens have water at all times. If there is no shade for the chicken waterers, provide one, and if a well in nearby, change the water at noon and mid-afternoon.

A poultry flock that is properly fed and cared for will be much more profitable than one that is neglected. Feed is high and eggs are low in price, but such is war. These maladjustments can no more be avoided on the farm front than they are on the battle front.

Boston Common, the heart of Boston, was once a common cow pasture.

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, cure they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney tubers flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

PEAS SHOULD BE HARVESTED SOON

By O. P. GRIFFIN, County Agent

Dry peas will be an important article of food during the coming months, so much so that the government guarantees the farmer a price for them. Well the longer they stay in the field the more weevils they will have in them. And worse still, it will soon be potted picking time, and it will be very difficult to get them picked then.

When peas are harvested they should be treated immediately for weevils. This can be done with carbon or high die while the weather is warm. To treat them with carbon, the peas should be in a reasonably tight container or bin. That is, the sides and bottom should be reasonably tight. It can easily be made tight with paper.

The amount of carbon to use is 1 1/2 pints to 100 cubic feet. That means one ounce for each four cubic feet. If your container is air tight, use only two-thirds that amount. The carbon is placed in shallow vessels on top of the peas and the top covered with a heavy sheet or quilt. On the ninth day repeat the process to get any weevils that may have hatched since the first fumigation. There is little danger that any weevils will be found in peas treated in this way unless they are placed in containers with live weevils.

If one intends to use his peas for planting, he should uncover them 24 hours after fumigating. Also, carbon is highly inflammable, so caution should be used.

The War Today— Pacific Fighting Forces Merit Credit For Work

As the big chiefs go into action at Quebec, to grease the skids for the Rising Sun are being forced back step by step. Meantime in the "Hitler first" campaign, Moscow reports that the Germans are counterattacking before Khar'kov on the fiercely contested southern battle-front, seeking an opening for an offensive to offset the devastating Red drive. Such a development would greatly intensify the already bloody crisis which is threatening to force the Nazi chief to withdraw his entire grand line in Russia.

It gives one a chill to think what might have happened to Australia, the Hawaiian Islands, Alaska or even the west coast of continental United States if it hadn't been for the skill and sacrifice of all categories in the far Pacific. They've done one of the decisive jobs of the war.

Our latest aerial success yesterday and Tuesday at New Guinea, is a reminder that not only have our Pacific forces performed the essential holding operation against a powerful enemy, but they have done the "impossible" by seizing the initiative and putting the Japs on the defensive. In the New Guinea show our bombers destroyed or damaged some 215 precious enemy planes, thereby virtually wiping out Japanese airpower in central New Guinea.

The significance? Well, that beautiful job brings us just so much closer to the day when we shall wipe out the great Jap naval base at Truk, thus rendering the mikado's forces impotent in that whole vast zone of islands north-east of Australia. The little men of the Rising Sun are being forced back step by step. Meantime in the "Hitler first" campaign, Moscow reports that the Germans are counterattacking before Khar'kov on the fiercely contested southern battle-front, seeking an opening for an offensive to offset the devastating Red drive. Such a development would greatly intensify the already bloody crisis which is threatening to force the Nazi chief to withdraw his entire grand line in Russia.

This turn of events has resulted in the Soviet army newspaper Red Star making a fresh appeal for a second land front in western Europe, to force Hitler to divert troops from Russia and put him on the defensive in both west and east. The paper says that "only such an operation can cut down the length of the war to any considerable extent."

The Russian report that the Germans are trying to find an opening for a counter-offensive in the Khar'kov sector is vastly important. It may mark Hitler's supreme effort to save his blood-soaked line. If so we are likely to see some of the most terrific fighting of the whole war.

Coolers For Sizzlers

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
 AP Food Editor
 When you come to the end of a sizzling summer day, there's nothing quite so good as a refreshing cool beverage.
 To rejuvenate a warm and wilted family, vary your coolers from day to day and make them energy-building as well as thirst-quenching. Remember that genuine fruit juices with their vitamins and minerals are superior to synthetic fruit-flavored drinks. For additional nutrition, include an egg or a little milk in your beverage.

LIMEADE: Make 'em tall and frosty.

HONEY FRUIT SHAKE is a cooler with plenty of come-back powers. Serve some to the family when they get home from work. It will give them needed energy. Mix a tablespoon of fresh fruit (mashed) or berries with a tablespoon of honey, speck of salt and 1-2 teaspoon lemon juice. Add a cup of cold milk and beat for a minute with a fork. Pour into a chilled glass.

FRUIT-NOG is also refreshing. For each person to be served beat an egg, add 2 tablespoons orange of cold milk, beat with fork and serve in chilled glass. Sprinkle lightly with cinnamon. Keep some of this sirup on hand to hustle up the shakes. Melt 4 squares chocolate in double boiler, add 1-3 cups canned sweetened condensed milk, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-4 cup sugar and 1 cup boiling water. Cook slowly, stirring frequently until blended. Cool, add 1 teaspoon vanilla and store in covered jar in refrigerator.

VICTORY SIRUP, kept on hand in the refrigerator, saves time and sugar when sweetening fruit beverages. Boil together 5 minutes, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup light corn sirup and 2 cups water. Cool and cover. Use about 2 tablespoons of this sirup to sweeten a tall glass of rather tart fruit beverage. Juices drained from fruit and berry sauces give extra flavor and color to coolers.

APRICOT-LIME FIZZ is made

Limeade
 3 cups water
 1 cup corn sirup or 1-2 cup sugar
 Peel of 2 Florida limes
 1-2 cups lime juice
 Ice
 Lime slices
 Combine water, corn sirup and lime peel. Bring to boil; boil slowly 5 minutes. Cool; remove lime peel. Combine with lime juice. Pour over ice in tall glasses; serve with lime slices. Serves 6.

juice, 1 teaspoon sugar, a speck of salt, 1-4 teaspoon vanilla and 1 cup cold milk. Beat and serve in an iced glass. Sprinkle lightly with nutmeg.

To make MOLASSES SHAKE, which appeals to youngsters, beat 3 tablespoons molasses into a tall glass filled with cold milk and sprinkle with cinnamon.
 Make JIFFY CHOCOLATE SHAKE like this: Pour 2 tablespoons chocolate sirup into a cup

1/2 cup seeded grapes
 1/2 cup seeded cherries (canned)

3 tablespoons French dressing
 1 teaspoon lemon juice
 1/4 teaspoon grated orange rind
 Speck salt
 Mix and chill ingredients. Drain and serve on shredded lettuce.

Fruit Custard Dessert
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 tablespoon flour
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 4 egg yolks
 *1 cup evaporated milk
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1/4 teaspoon finely grated lemon rind
 1/4 teaspoon finely grated orange rind
 2 cups fresh or canned fruit (peaches, pears, apricots)
 Blend sugar with flour and salt. Add yolks, milk and water. Cook in double boiler until creamy and a little thick. Stir constantly. Remove upper part of boiler from lower part as soon as the mixture thickens. Add margarine and stir until dissolved. Cool, add rest of ingredients. Pour into jar, cover and chill until meal time then pour over fruit. To keep coating from forming on top the warm custard, beat several times until the mixture is cool.

Fresh cheese straws are good to serve with fresh fruits or fruit sauces for dessert. Make regular pie dough, sprinkle with grated or finely shaved cheese and cover with more dough. Press together. Use a sharp knife or scissors and cut into strips — about 3 inches long and 1-4 inch thick. Bake until brown — about 7 minutes. These tidbits are different than the usual sweet cookie or cake finale with fruits and increase protein when meats are short in the dinner menu. A mixture of soft white cream cheese and the sippy yellow cheese will do. Store in covered jar and the sticks will keep several days. They can be reheated for 5 minutes in a slow oven.

Seven-Year-Old Shoots His Nurse

DALLAS, Aug. 19. (AP)—A seven-year-old boy was in the custody of his parents today after he shot his nurse in the back of the shoulder with a revolver. Deputies Ed Caster and Ray Allen of the sheriff's office reported. The shooting occurred yesterday. "I don't know why I did it," the deputies quoted the child as saying.
 The nurse, Mrs. T. E. Chance, 37, was released from a hospital after treatment.

Postmasters Honor War Hero Kelly

Postmasters in cities around the far-flung American Airlines system are making a patriotic gesture in memory of the heroism of Colin Kelly, who gave his life in destruction of a Jap battleship in the early days of the war. Going around the AA system is a war stamp book. Each postmaster is pasting in a $1 stamp with his signature and the name of his city. The completed book will be given to Colin Kelly's young son, Corky. The stamp book, which started in Boston, has been in more than two-score cities. It reached Big Spring this week, and local American Airlines Manager W. Marshall is having Nat Shick add his stamp and inscription. Leeches breed in swampy places in the tropics.

New Ration Coupons Not To Be Turned In

The new B and C gasoline coupons are not to be turned in by August 23 — just the old style ones. This has been emphasized by the ration board which said some confusion existed on the surrendering of coupons. The old style stamps, which read "One B (or C) Unit" are not valid after Aug. 23. The new style ones, which read "Mileage Ration B (or C)" are to be used until the specified expiration date on the coupon books.

Indians Defeat Yanks In Doubleheader

New Players Are Acquired By Senators

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The way the rivals of the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees are reacting to the unimpeded sweep of these two clubs to the major league pennants is a topic that may interest the class today.

Some still are trying to strengthen themselves for the present season, some are trying to rebuild for next year and some simply are waiting for the schedule to end.

The Washington Senators are the prize example of the first group. It would take a miracle to move the Senators ahead of the Yankees, but Clark Griffith isn't overlooking any chances. Yesterday he finally put through a deal with the St. Louis Browns for Third Baseman Harold Clift and Pitcher John Niggeling.

The deal quite likely will let the Senators finish second, a jump from seventh place last year. They lost their runner-up spot yesterday, though, by dividing a doubleheader at Chicago. The White Sox nosed them out in the first game 3-2 in 14 innings, but Washington rallied to win the nightcap 4-2. The Senators made ten double plays in the two games.

The Yankees were ambushed by the Cleveland Indians 9-8 and 7-5 in morning and afternoon games and this feat enabled the Tribe to move up to second place. The second game went 14 innings before a two-run homer by Jeff Heath decided it. Heath, who had walked a two-run homer in the first contest, also hit a triple and a single in the second game to bat in a total of seven runs for the day.

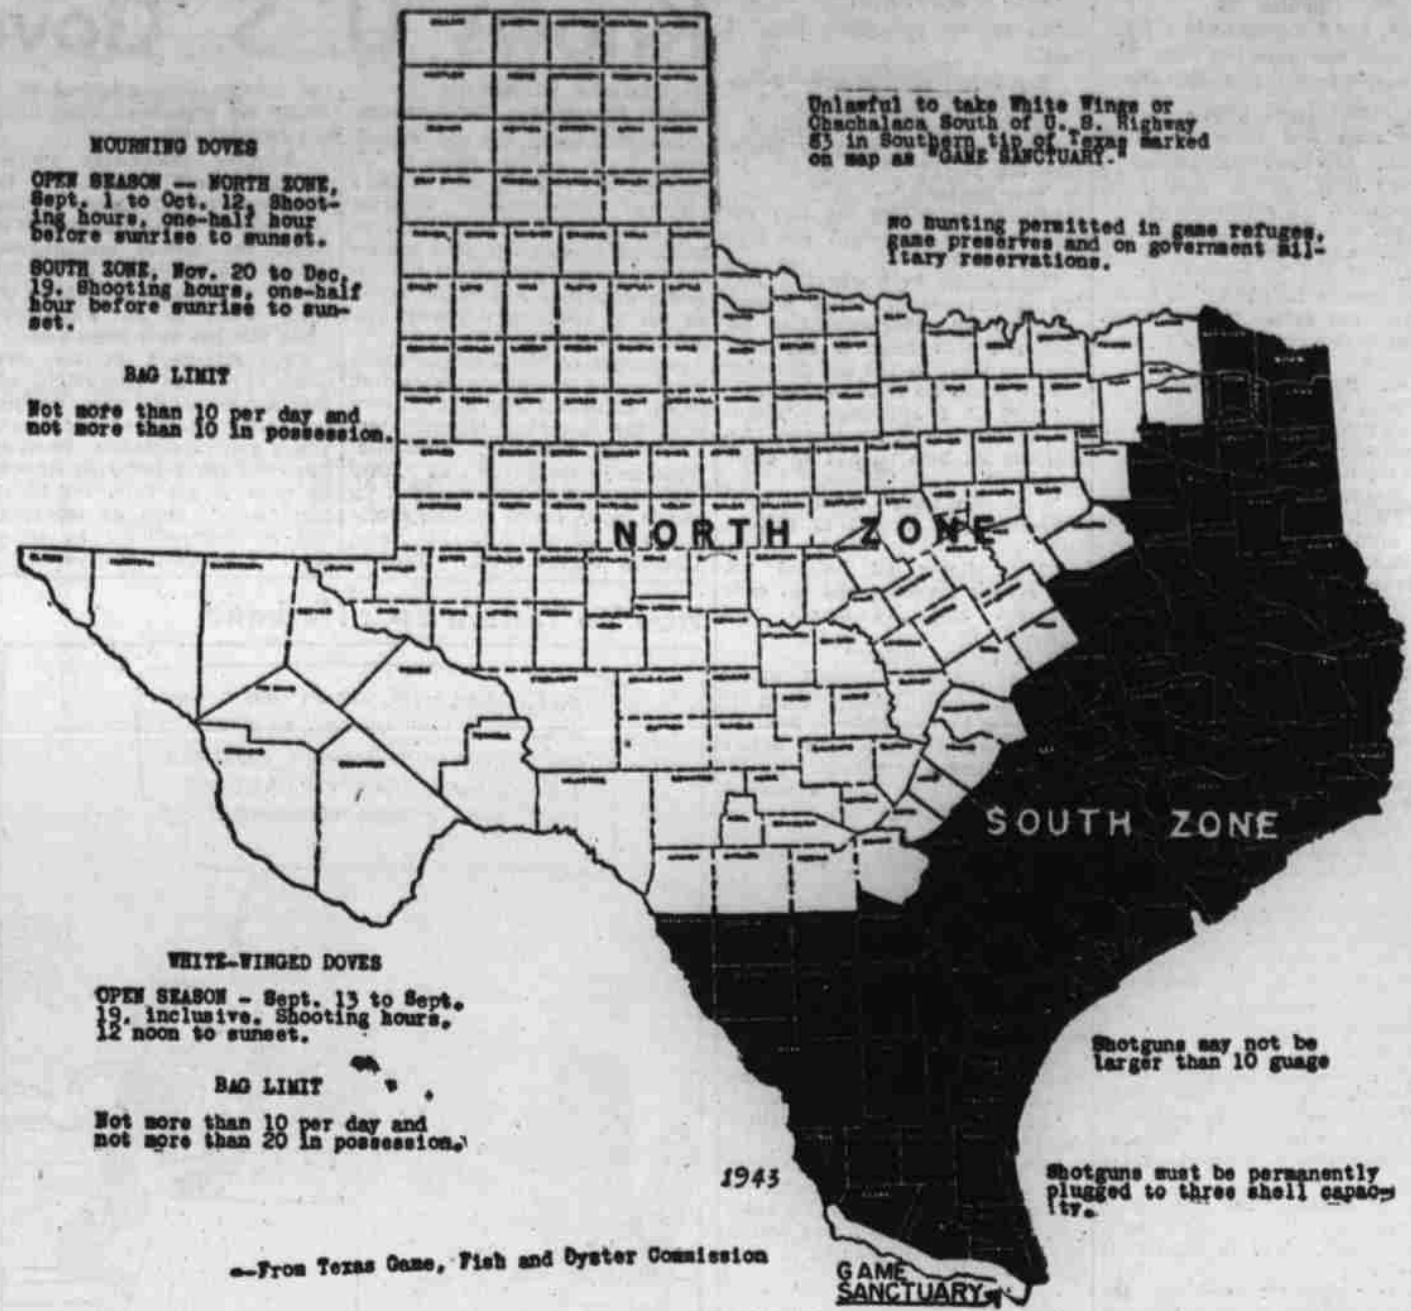

The Philadelphia Athletics, who stand out among the clubs that are merely marking time till the season ends, dropped their 12th consecutive game 4-0 in the face of a five-hit pitching performance by Bob Munier of the Browns and the Detroit Tigers nosed out the Boston Red Sox 1-0. In this game both Hal White of the Tigers and Yank Terry of the Sox pitched four-hit ball, but Detroit sallied the only run of the game in the first inning without a hit.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, who have had their whole complexion changed since the start of the season in the process of Rickey's rebuilding with young players for the future, tried out two youngsters on the mound yesterday and dropped both ends of a doubleheader to the Chicago Cubs 7-5 and 15-6.

Hal Gregg and Red Barney, two youngsters who had reported from Montreal only a few hours earlier in the day, started the games for the Dodgers and each gave four hits and six walks in addition to some wild pitches before they were eliminated in the early innings.

The St. Louis Cardinals divided a mid-day doubleheader at Philadelphia, winning the first game 6-0 on Howard Krist's five-hit hurling and dropping the second game 6-3 to Al Gerheuser, who succeeded in stopping Harry Walker's hitting streak at 29 games.

Cincinnati split a doubleheader at Boston, winning 5-0 for Bucky Walter after losing 4-3 and the Pittsburgh Pirates split with the New York Giants. A single by Pete Coscarart in the tenth gave Hank Gornicki his third win in two days 7-6 in the opener and Carl Hubbell won the nightcap 3-2.

Sorry Picture For Texas Dove Hunters

AUSTIN, Aug. 19 (AP) — Texas dove hunters figured ruefully today they'd have to get themselves a "limb license."

This is vernacular for shooting a sitting bird or birds—a practice that would have brought quick ostracism among wing shooting sportsmen in other years.

But with the gasoline situation grown worse, and the ammunition picture also snarled, the dove hunter who opens the north zone season Sept. 1 faces two unpleasant facts: He'll get to go out fewer times this fall; and he won't be able to take any fancy shots with shells that are precious. Despite belief to the contrary, the average hunter has not hoarded ammunition.

Now that he's scrambling for enough to open the season on, he's getting plenty of conflicting information. Here are some of the samples: You can't get anything smaller than No. 6 shot. You can't get any ammunition for a smaller gauge than 12.

Perhaps the most reliable information in this area is obtainable from "Uncle" Jake Petmecky, sporting goods dealer.

Uncle Jake says he is informed that shells for 20 and 16 gauge guns are, too, coming up, but nobody knows exactly when. In those gauges the shot will be as small as seven and one-half but in 12 gauge the smallest will be No. 6.

Uncle Jake also says that all the shotgun shells the civilian will get will be of the high speed variety.

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 19 (AP)—Cadets from the aerial navigation school at the San Marcos Army air field will compete tomorrow with the Hondo Army air field in one of the longest aerial navigation contests to be staged by flying fields of the AAF Gulf Coast training center.

Six navigation cadets from the Hondo field will match skill against the same number of cadets from the San Marcos field on a 2,000-mile course to and from Tallahassee, Fla., in order to test their route-finding abilities.

The participating cadets, members of classes scheduled to graduate today from the two schools, will navigate three twin engine aircraft.

Golfers Wonder Why Kirkwood Failed To Play

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19 (AP) — The board of governors of the Professional Golfers association's Philadelphia section wants an "immediate investigation" of the reason Joe Kirkwood, the Australian-born trick shot artist, failed to play in the Ryder cup matches at Detroit last week.

Secretary Jimmy D'Angelo announced that the board unanimously refused, at a meeting last night, to accept the resignation of Kirkwood, who said he was dropped from the lineup of Walter Hagen's challenger team after being invited to play.

AMOS 'N' ANDY PLAN NEW SHOW

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 19 (AP) — Freeman Gosden (Amos) and Charles Correll (Andy), are coming back to the airwaves Oct. 8.

For 14 consecutive years this pair of pioneers of radio script and the continuity type of program talked to American listeners every night, barring a two weeks' vacation they took in 1934. When they quit last spring they had carried on 4,090 Amos and Andy episodes.

"Our new show will be considerably different. We're on Friday nights only, once a week, 7 to 7:30, Pacific war time (5:53-6:30 CWT). We'll have a public audience, which we didn't used to have. There'll be music, and we will work in guest stars with our script," Gosden said today.

Lufkin, San Angelo Are Seen As Probable Schoolboy Finalists

By The Associated Press

Lufkin's veteran Panthers are the people's choice to win the Texas schoolboy football championship this year.

They've been knocking at the door for a long time; several seasons ago they had a team that looked capable of going all the way when ineptly struck the Panthers low.

But they're coming up this year with most of the starters from last fall's quarter-finalists including blond Jitter McKinney, a great passer and runner, and Jesse Bolles, one of the state's finest guards in 1942.

Ranking close to Lufkin in preseason forecasts are Amarillo's Sandies, San Angelo's Bobcats, Denison's Yellow Jackets and Austin's Maroons.

Austin won the title going away last season but lost all except one starter. However, the Maroons definitely are not to be counted out this year. Stan Lambert had 'em three deep in 1942 and two layers of football talent remain.

San Angelo looks like the most likely team to reach the finals in the upper bracket of the interscholastic league plan. If so, a forecast of San Angelo and Lufkin in the title game would be the natural line of reasoning.

However, it's a far cry from August to November in the always turbulent schoolboy race. Amarillo and Denison both are in the upper bracket and they look potentially as powerful as the Bobcats.

In the lower bracket are such standouts as Goose Creek, with its great George Walmsley; Jeff Davis of Houston and Corpus Christi.

In two weeks the 100-odd teams of class AA begin practice. In less than a month first games will be played. Here's how they look by districts:

1. Amarillo; 2. Childress; 3. San Angelo; 4. Bowie (El Paso); 5. Denison; 6. Highland Park (Dallas); 7. North Side (Fort Worth); 8. Sunset (Dallas); 9. Breckenridge; 10. Corsicana; 11. Marshall; 12. Lufkin; 13. Jeff Davis (Houston); 14. Goose Creek; Austin; 16. McAllen.

Interesting, isn't it, how some animals steal their way right into your heart? . . . Take a frisky pup for example, or a playful kitten or doe or calf. One look from those soulful eyes and the strongest man surrenders.

Most folks feel that animal friends add a lot to the fun of living, that they play an important part in our lives. A fellow feels proud of their confidence because it tells the world the sort of person he is.

Cultivate the good things. Enjoy and treasure them . . . and be sure to include among them the friendly cheer and cool refreshment of grand-taste's Grand Prize. A beverage of moderation . . . Grand Prize is one of the pleasures that add much to the joy of living.

Co-operation Essential In Rat-Killing Campaign

It has been a long time since Big Spring attempted a clean-up campaign which met with such difficulty in getting started — especially when the need was so urgent for it.

But now it appears that a concerted effort is to be made on Aug. 25 to get something going, and this is a fair example of better late than never.

Prime objective of the drive is or was to have been the combating of poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) through measures which would cut down breeding places for flies and mosquitoes and at the same time eliminate harboring places for matters which would result in general insanitation.

Now the campaign is to include the distribution of poison for the killing of rats and mice, an undertaking equally important as the clean-up itself. Rats and mice, in addition to their destructive qualities and general loathsomeness, are bearers of lice and ticks, which in turn carry the virus of diphtheria typhus fever. There is no telling what other infections they may spread.

From a point of community pride, from safety and that of fire prevention as well as the promotion of the general health of the community, the Herald strongly urges every resident in the city to assume personal responsibility in the clean-up campaign. That means wielding the hoe and rake or seeing that someone else weeds them on your premises.

It goes without saying that the Herald also urges full cooperation in the rat killing effort. Let no one shrink from this on the grounds that the poison is dangerous. Such is not the case if it is handled with the least degree of caution. Let none think that there is some catch or string attached to it because the poison will be given away, but let every one apply this as nearly according to directions as possible and try to purge the city of this evil.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds—

Film Version Of 'This Is The Army' Is 'Colossal'

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—There'll be few Americans with the price of a ticket who won't take a look at the movie version of Irving Berlin's "This Is The Army." They'll get a rich and glittering show, with most of the brightness of the stage production retained, and a large slice of movie plot for extra measure.

Warner Bros., which is turning over its anticipated $6,000,000 profit to Army Emergency Relief, did not resist the urge to make a "colossal" of what was, on the stage, a swift-paced, clever collection of skits, songs, dances, and choruses. Besides the show selections they've added songs by Getz Smith, Frances Langford and Gertrude Niesen, added a movie cast including George Murphy, Joan Leslie, George Tobias, Alan Hale, Charles Butterworth, and Lt. Ronald Reagan and interjected Sgt. Joe Louis, the Brown Bomber.

They have also gone back to World War I, and Berlin's "Yip Yip Yaphank," and tied it all together — though loosely — with a plot purporting to show (1) how the two soldier shows were born, and (2) how a pretty girl can wear down her soldier boy friend's objections to a wartime marriage.

With so much material and plot to cover, it's little wonder that the movie occasionally gets lost in its own size. I found myself vaguely puzzled several times as to the identity of that girl hanging around backstage, only to recall that, oh yes, she must be that attractive Joan Leslie who set out with her itinerant torch back in "This Is Reel 4?"

This may be a minority report, but I believe the best parts of the movie are those lifted from the stage show — fresh as ever, and often as intimate.

Another new movie, "We've Never Been Licked," is practically revolutionary as far as college movies go.

Seeing the activities of students at Texas A. & M., which the picture glorifies, I thought back to some of our college flickers of the 1920's, the "flaming youth" era of Clara Bow, Alice White and Colleen Moore. Those were college years where the students ostensibly devoted all their time to filling pocket flasks and emptying same, to dancing, necking, and related extracurricular activities.

But where the boys of A. & M. tangle not only with books, but with military drill, farm machinery, livestock, and airplanes. They behave moreover, for all their horseplay which is good movie stuff, like a bunch of responsible youngsters in college to get an education. The movie company took its cameras directly to the campus to get an authentic picture, and it makes the Aggies look very good indeed.

Bicycle, Auto Sales Okayed

Permits for four new cars and one bicycle were issued Tuesday by the local ration board's tire panel. Three cars were approved for Odie Moore and one for Lieut. S. S. Zagon. Joy Hughes applied for the bicycle.

The panel also approved application for 34 Grade I tires, 54 Grade III tires, 44 passenger tubes, 26 truck tires, 28 truck tubes and nine tractor tires.

RECREATION CENTER

LAMESA, Aug. 19 — Dawson county's War Recreation Center, established for the benefit of students of Lamesa Field, has been officially dedicated and presented to the military post. Now it is about to become a full-fledged USO, with financial aid promised by the national USO organization. Under the new sponsorship, the center will have a paid hostess as well as sufficient funds to provide for rental, utilities and other operating expenses.

Case Of John Bovington Is Puzzling One

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Just why the case of John Bovington, $5,600 a year economic analyst with the Office of Economic Warfare, who once practiced and gave graphically illustrated lectures on physical culture therapy, caused such a nation-wide furor is quite a mystery to Rep. Robert Ramspeck's (D-Ga.) Civil Service committee.

After all, Mr. Bovington does have degrees from Yale and Columbia universities and in pedagogic circles is entitled to be addressed as "Doctor."

The Ramspeck committee has in its files a score of "more sensational" cases than that and may start releasing them publicly any day now.

Last March when the committee uncovered what they considered one of the most flagrant cases of unjustified elevation of a federal worker to high places, it got no more than three paragraphs anywhere. Yet that was the case of a $1,080-a-year messenger who in less than two years was promoted to a $4,600-a-year job as "business analyst."

The cases coming up as a result of the House Civil Service committee's recent investigations are almost certain to go into the file which will be used as the basis for Congressional action in blocking the free hand that many departments and agencies now have in rapid promotions or upper-bracket appointments.

For example, investigations have been completed in the cases of a former soda jerker who stepped from that job into one of personal director, and of a bell hop and an elevator operator who now are job placement officers.

In none of these three cases, I'm told, has it been discovered that the men investigated have acquired degrees from Yale, Columbia or any other university.

The question is not one of previous occupation, but of fitness by education or experience for the jobs they now hold. In each of these instances and several more, the Ramspeck committee will be prepared to charge that the education or experience is nil.

It is the opinion of this and a good many other observers here that most of these "sensational exposures" are storms in the proverbial teacup—but very necessary storms, if the government service is to be kept clear of incompetents and crack-pots.

There is no doubt but that many of them result in injustices to the individuals under fire. Probably as many capable as incompetent men have been chased out of the service; and there have been publicized instances of persons with real executive ability who have refused to take on government jobs because of the constant pressure of "investigators."

Unbiased observers, however, are positive that the real job will be done when the investigating agencies quit centering their fire on isolated cases of fan dancers, movie stars, physical culture exponents, and persons who once spoke at Communist rallies, and settle down to a wholesale weeding out of the less spectacular but far more numerous persons who are not fitted by training, experience, or temperament for the jobs they now hold.

On the basis of an estimated production of 5 billion dozen eggs between July 1, 1943, and June 30, 1944, civilians will receive 7 out of every 10 eggs produced.

Cotton was grown as far back as 1770 in Charleston, S. C.

MURDER IN TIN

By CARL A. PETERSON

Chapter 28

First, I saw a woman in a doorway, light outlining her body. She was very pretty as if cut out of some bright light metal. I had never seen her before. I felt terrible. My body was aching as if every inch of it had been steam-rolled. I remembered the car that had hit me like a thunderbolt. Cautiously, I moved my limbs.

The woman laughed. "No bones broken," she said. "Leo jammed on the brakes when he hit you."

"Leo?"

"Leo. Sure."

"Where am I?"

"In a house."

"John here?"

"Yeah, he's here."

I forgot about my body but only for a second. "Is Lila Taggard here?"

"Yeah, she's here."

"How long have I been here?"

"Couple hours. Leo, he picked you up and drove out here. Can you get up?"

I tried to but my knees wouldn't stay stiff.

"Okay," she said. "I'll call Johnson. He wants to talk to you." She shut the door. I was in darkness again.

Johnson was dressed in a dark blue bathrobe, the light from the open door behind him. "How'd you get hold of the password?" he said.

"From Sam Taggard."

"Where's he?"

"I don't know."

"He gave you the password. Let's hear you say it."

I said it.

He strode over to me and his face was stricken. I guess what he was thinking. He was thinking we had the tin. In his fear, he seemed to have no features at all. There was just the paleness. I let him suffer awhile. But when he began to move jerkily I said quickly, "You don't have to get rough. I'm in no condition."

He was slowly recovering. He flipped his hand at me. "You're here, pal."

"How's Lila Taggard?"

"I wouldn't care if I was you." The woman I had already seen, it joined Johnson.

"Clara," Johnson said to her. "What you want?"

"Take it easy," she said.

"You're a fool Johnson," I said. He recoiled and I said. "Where is Lila Taggard?"

"Like to know, huh?"

"Of course, you damn fool," I said.

"You didn't see Taggard," Johnson began. "You're a liar!"

"How'd I get the password?"

"That's what I want to know. How did you?"

"Sam Taggard."

"You'll be telling me you got that buzzard's tin next." His face was still pale.

"You going to marry her like it's in the papers?" the woman called to me. Her voice told me that she was from a big city. She was what in the old gangster days used to be called a moll.

"Maybe," I answered. "Johnson, Taggard read the papers like you wanted him to, but he came to me."

"Just like that," Johnson said. "Who do you expect to believe you?"

"Taggard was all bottled up. His lawyer Lathrop was his only assistant and Lathrop was dead."

"Get to the point!"

"You figured Taggard right, Johnson. He's human when it comes to his daughter. But he was afraid of you. He didn't want Lathrop's treatment. So he came to me. He took a chance that I would help him. I was human, too. I had to help him. His daughter meant something to me."

"Keep on talking."

"I was engaged to his daughter. All he wanted was his daughter."

"Damn!" Johnson's cheeks became red. He yelled, louder and louder. "He gave you the tin!"

"No, I'm here only as a go-between. Taggard'll give you the tin if you release his daughter."

"You expect me to swallow that?"

"Why not? I went to the spot alone. I gave the password. I was driven out to Chevalle's hide-out. I didn't think I was bound for Chevalle. I thought I was bound for you."

"Try again."

"You had Lila Taggard. Did I surround Chevalle's hideout with Government men? Ask Leo. I work for the Government. But when I went out tonight, I was on my own. On my own because I'm human, too!"

"You've got the tin."

"Do you think Sam Taggard'd give up his maps as easy as that?"

Capital Comment-- Unofficial 'Ambassador' Knows U. S. Government

By GEORGE STIMPSON

Herald Washington Correspondent

Learned today by sad experience it's a stupid thing to go through a revolving door with a pipe in your mouth. Entering the capital this morning, a congressman coming out gave the revolving door a push from the opposite direction and came within an ace of knocking out what few teeth I have left.

A plaque on the Transportation building, near the northeastern corner of H and 17th streets, contains the following information: "George Bancroft, 1800-1891, Historian, Secretary of Navy 1845-1846, resided on the site. To him is given credit for the establishment of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. Here in the garden then attached to his house he originated the 'American Beauty' rose."

Another interesting thing about George Bancroft is the fact that in 1879, when he was the oldest living ex-cabinet officer, the senate unanimously adopted a resolution giving him the privileges of the floor, the only time, to my knowledge, that this has ever been done.

This afternoon at the Press Club I had an interesting chat with Sir Willmott Lewis, Washington correspondent of the London Times and maintain's unofficial good-will ambassador in America. In spite of his title, we all call him "Bill." He's as democratic and as approachable as an old shoe. I honestly believe that he carries around in his head more knowledge about American government and the history of the United States than any other living man. Bill Lewis is not only a fascinating conversationalist but also an excellent public speaker. He was born at Cardiff in Wales and is 66, but looks and acts much younger. You'd take him for a man fifty.

Educated in English and continental schools, he was a foreign correspondent in the far east many years, covering the Boxer Rebellion, Russo-Japanese War, Chinese Revolution; for six years ran "Times" at Manila in Philippines; in France during first World War; worked for New York Tribune in Paris; with London Times since 1920, Washington correspondent most of that time. What a book Bill Lewis could write, if he would, but I don't think he will. He does more to improve British-American relations in one day than the whole tribe of official diplomats on both sides of the Atlantic do in a whole year.

U. S. Maritime Commission awards "M" pennant, for outstanding achievement in production of ship components to meet wartime demands, to "K-M" company, Inc., of Houston, marine valve makers; at same time Houston Shipbuilding corporation gets Gold Star to add to its "M" pennant for "continued production achievement."

Page Joe Montague, general counsel of Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, "Market range cattle early," urges agriculture department. Range specialists of department joint leading western stockman in advocating program of marketing soon and liberally in interests of maximum beef supplies to meet war needs and for good of range and future production. Early marketing, they say, will provide increased beef urgently needed now, save range forage and feed needed for breeding herds, and protect future range production by avoiding damage from too heavy grazing.

Jesse Jones, who seems to have weathered his war with Wallace, says he has been paid $74,000,000 in last two years in

Big Springer's Last Flight Over Europe Described By Mates

AT A U. S. BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, Aug. 19 (AP)—The flying mates of Staff Sgt. H. N. Holcombe, of Big Spring, Tex., officially listed as missing in action, reported today that he probably had gone to a hero's grave when the flying fortress "Alcohol Annie," crippled and aflame, made an emergency landing in the North Sea after a raid on an aircraft factory near Berlin.

Holcombe and four other sergeants, all of whom were lost, chose to stay with the ship rather than bail out and decided to fight the fire rather than seek the comparative safety of the radio compartment during the crash landing.

Lt. Eugene Wilcox of Moravia, Iowa, pilot of "Alcohol Annie," said that he feared Holcombe was knocked unconscious when the plane hit the water, broke in two and sank within 15 seconds. None of the five who were lost was able to fight his way clear of the plane.

"Holcombe discovered the fire when we were about 25 miles off the German coast on our way home," Wilcox said. "We had been heavily attacked by German fighters, and fire had made considerable headway inside our right wing before Holcombe discovered it from his position as right waist gunner. Three of our engines had been shot out and our greatest fear was that we would explode before we could get the plane into the water.

"When Holcombe reported the fire on the plane's interphone, I went back and asked him whether he wanted to bail out or ride the plane down. He asked me what I was going to do. I said I was going to ride her down. Holcombe's answer was that if I had enough guts to ride her down he would stick along.

"Holcombe stayed in the waist fighting the fire until we hit the water even though he knew the radio compartment was the only place in which he could brace himself against the shock of landing. I'm afraid he was

"Five of us who got out did so only by the skin of our teeth and I had to dive down pretty deeply to release our life raft."

Those who survived included Lt. A. C. Jorgenson, Clifton, Tex., navigator.

Even after escaping from the fortress, the five survivors declared they were lucky in ever reaching England. At that time, they were only about 30 miles from the German coast. The British sea-air rescue plane finally located them when they fired their last rocket and later dropped a 15-foot boat to them by parachute.

They were approximately a day and a half in this craft before the sea-air rescue launch could pick them up.

S/Sgt. Holcombe was the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Holcombe of route No. 2, Big Spring, and the husband of the former Janet Baker. His family had been notified he was missing in action, knocked out when he hit the water and was unable to fight his way out of the ship.
