THE PLEASURE IS ALL MINE

Homer Henderson

Here again, it is Tuesday morning for me, the writer of this column, and Thursday morning for you, the reader of this column Would you believe that I don't have a thing to say! Now, let's be honest with each other. There have been plenty of Thursdays when you read this column and thought to yourself, "He just doesn't have any thing to say." Or perhaps, when you finished reading- the PLAINS MAN and threw it in the garbage your act was symbolic as well as real where this column is concerned. Today, I toss the copy in the proverbial trash-barrell on behalf of us both and simply confess that there are times when the well runs 是一个一个一个一个一个

Every minister in the preaching ministry is intimately acquainted with the pre-horror and post-nausea of a sermon which he knows is not worthy of the Word of God. To moments when an ill-prepared ser. Evangelist Clifford Mayo, of Lub. Technological College (B. B. A), mon is miraculously transformed bock, a widely known evangelist, Lubbock; and Asbury Theological Spirit is most likely to be revealed in preaching when the minister has prepared himself through disciplined study and prayer is the days prior to sermon delivery. So there are times when the minister would do a service to the Kingdom just to admit to his congregation that the sermon for the day is a real clinker and then pronounce the benediction! My prayer will always be that my congregation comes to church in the first place to worship almighty God and to hear me preach only as one part of that glorious worship celebration.

In some ways similar to preparing a sermon, this column appears regularly on my schedule every Tuesday morning; and as you have no doubt realized, newsworthy subjects do not always occur to me that regularly. Nevertheless, attempting the task of a weekly newspaper column has been one of the most rewarding experiences of my life thus far in Ropesville. Many who read these lines have been thoughtful enough to respond with their own ideas and opinions. Every single piece of mail which I have received regarding this column has been unsigned including those containing both negative and positive criticism, and there really has not been a large amount of mail. On the other hand, there have been countless verbal responses: words of appreciation or disgust, opinions expressed, and lengthy dis cussions If some of the opinions, facts, ideas, or subjects printed in this column give rise to dialogue among people, then I count even the dry-well efforts worthwhile.

This leads me to mention another route by which I suppose this column could often reach the notso-regular Senior Class trash haul: The editor of the PLAINSMAN could Mrs. Bob Whitlock throw it away herself without ever printing it. Although there have been times when I am sure the editor disagreed with my column, she has only once refused to print wandering around or off, he could it; and even then, I believe she was thinking of my own health! It was better to have that particular column leave town on the haul than me on the rail. On other occasions, Celeste has replied editorially to an issue raised in my column. I believe that such incidents represent what freedom of the press means. Our community could certainly use more discussion and public debate on significant issues facing the life of Ropesville.
