Jest some thoughts

The afternoons are sure providing some cotton growing weather—which we, along with everyone else in the area, are very happy to observe.

A part of the lovely fall season we are now enjoying—how time does fly, it is almost the end of 1971, which came in fresh and pure, it seems, only a week or so ago.

As the days form weeks, the weeks months and the months years, the time element becomes oblivious—we realize only that we are here, and the here and now seems to have been projected far into the future that we thought a few years ago would never arrive.

From season to season, we live—by the grace of God—and wonder what comes next.

Perhaps it is our own awareness—perhaps it is not—we wish we knew, but we have never seen the changes that are taking place with so much rapidity. Each day seems to bring something new—something different—something one has read of—or dreamed about, never really believing such things would come to pass.

No wonder our youth are searching constantly for something—they really know not what. The adults are driven to the basic patterns of their own lives to find a little rhyme or reason to our world of today. But somehow, the basic patterns don't always fit anymore. Everything changes, and everyone must learn to change with the tide, or be left behind, living in a world of yesteryear with no reasoning of what is going on today.

Wonder where those thoughts came from. They can sure get dire in a hurry.

But if you want to ignore the changes, it is impossible—look at our own little town—remember a few years ago, and gaze without believing at what has happened.

This may be progress for some areas, but for Ropes, it is disaster.

We don't mean there is no hope, for there is, but it will take the help of every citizen left residing here to do anything about it. Uninterested citizens, or those with no time to devote to their town are the greatest menace any small city ever had.

Friday Night "Green" Night

Friday night has been designated as the annual "Every one Wear Green" night. This will be the game against Wink. This is the final game before conference play.

Everyone is urged to attend this game and give our boys support, and wear green if possible.

The Booster Club met October 5 for a regular meeting and viewed films of the New Deal game following a business session.

The Club will meet Tuesday night at 8, and everyone is urged to attend.

Homecoming Oct. 22

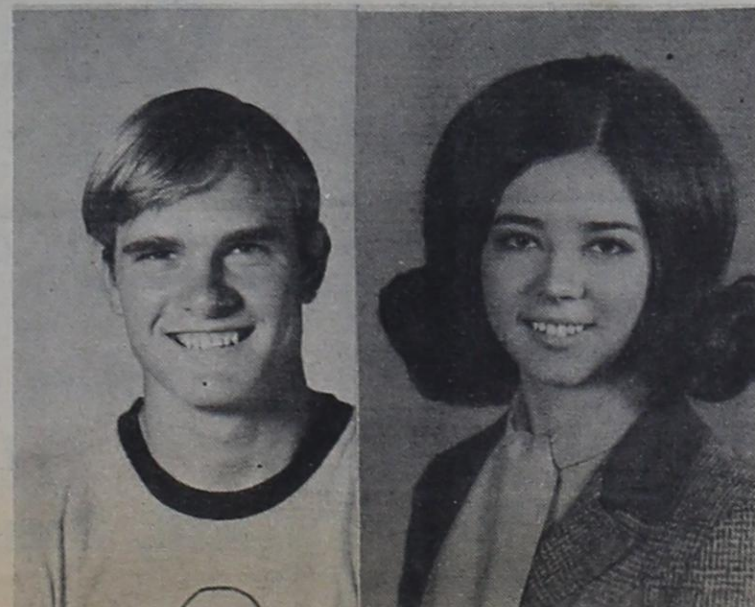

Homecoming for the Ropesville ex'es will be held Oct. 22. Herman Timmons asked that everyone contact the ex-students they know, write or call, and urge them to attend the homecoming activities slated for that evening.

Plainsman Office Hours

The Ropes Plainsman will be open the following hours, and you are invited and urged to bring mail, or call in your news items and ads. We would remind you that Tuesday noon is now the new deadline for anything to appear in Thursday's paper. This is necessary in order to get the paper to the printers.

On Mondays, the office will be open in the afternoons from 1:30 to 5:30; Tuesday, 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 2 to 5 p.m.; Wednesdays, 4 to 6:30 p.m.; and Fridays, 10 to 12 noon and 2 to 5 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Burks of Smith Auto are enjoying a vacation this week.

SELECTED FAVORITES—Sammy Belew (left) and Luan Reeves (right) were selected favorites of the senior class of Ropes High School this week. Sammy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Belew and Luan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Reeves.

Eagles lose in hard fought game at Hale Center Friday

The Hale Center Owls held the Ropes Eagles at the goal line in the final minute of play at Hale Center Friday night to preserve a 6-0 homecoming victory.

Fullback Jimmy Compton ripped off tackle for two yards to cap a 37-yard drive and get the only touchdown of the night in the second quarter. The kick failed.

Hale Center threatened twice more in the fourth quarter but couldn't score. Then with the final seconds ticking off, the Eagles mounted a sustained drive that carried inside the Owl 1-yard line. On fourth down, however, Ropes halfback Sammy Belew was met by guard Orville Garza and driven back to end the threat.

This was a non-conference game.

Thieves are kept honest

Area thieves remained honest Sunday night when an effort failed to take the coins from telephone booths located in Ropes, Meadow and Wolf-forth.

It was stated the would-be easy money makers possessed a special gun which had been filed down so the barrel would fit in the locks, shooting a 22.250 rifle bullet, and successfully shot the locks off. However, there is an apparatus inside the telephone which falls down, and prevented the crooks from obtaining their loot.

Sheriff Weir Clem was called to take fingerprints when the robbery attempt was discovered Monday.

--Thoughts

When you can count the cars on main street on one hand and have three fingers left over—something's wrong.

It wouldn't take too much to put the town in active condition—a cafe on main street would make all the difference in the world—and a barber shop would surely help. Everyone likes to visit and have a cup of coffee before shopping, or picking up the kids from school.

Guess what we really need is a chamber of commerce, but it's almost an impossibility to get anyone to serve on the city council, much less a chamber. There just isn't enough interested people around.

But we do wonder if the city council couldn't fill in, and perhaps see about bringing in a new business or two. There are surely people who would be interested in opening a cafe if they were sold on the idea, and this would be a very good beginning.

There are just too many vacant buildings in our town. Can't someone do something before it is too late?

Prison Rodeo each Sunday in October

HUNTSVILLE—Based on the long and colorful history of the annual Texas Prison Rodeo, the 40th annual event to be featured each Sunday in October promises to be filled with plenty of action, plus the entertainment as special guest stars join touch convict cowboys in this fast-moving two-hour show.

Held in the prison's $1 million stadium in Huntsville, the show begins at 2 p.m., following a pre-show special by inmates at 1 p.m.

Guest stars for this year's Prison Rodeo series include Dottie West and the Heartaches on Oct. 3; Connie Smith and Nat Stuckey on Oct. 10; Charlie Walker on Oct. 17; The Waylon Jennings Show on Oct. 24, and the Porter Wagoner Show on Oct. 31.

Also included in this year's rodeo series will be the popular chuckwagon races and the thrilling chariot races which will be highlighted each Sunday.

According to Hoot Crawford, arena director for the rodeo, he will have a big choice of convict riders since more than 300 hopefuls have applied for a place on the program.

And this year, for the first time, the Texas Prison Rodeo will open without either a former or defending champion in the saddle. This means that the competition will be greater than ever," Crawford said.

In addition to the bronc riding and bull riding events, the Texas Prison Rodeo offers its own brand of the Mad Scramble, Calf Tussle, Wild Horse Race and the Hard Money event, which pits 25 convict cowboys against one bull with a money sack tied to its horns.

Jim Batten, rodeo supervisor, says that there are plenty of good seats available for all performances, and block tickets may be obtained by writing Texas Prison Rodeo, Box 99, Huntsville, Texas, enclosing check or money order. There is no reduction in the price of children's tickets. Net proceeds finance the rehabilitation programs for more than 15,000 inmates of the Texas Department of Corrections.

Mrs. J. N. Willis, Mrs. W. E. Walling and Mrs. Aubrey Mayfield and Terry were in Lubbock Friday night playing bingo. They were joined by Mrs. Steve Kimberlin of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Thomas were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas and family.

TT receives grant

LUBBOCK—Matching funds granted this week by Plains Co-Op Oil Mill and the International Center for Arid and Semi-Arid Land Studies (ICASALS) at Texas Tech University will enable Tech researchers to continue implementing already encouraging evidence that the nation's number one fiber crop, cotton, may also become a significant weapon in the world's fight against hunger.

The grant, totaling $4,400, with half coming from Plains Co-Op Oil Mill and half from ICASALS, is aimed at helping finance a continuing research project centered on cottonseed flour by the Department of Food and Nutrition in Tech's College of Home Economics.

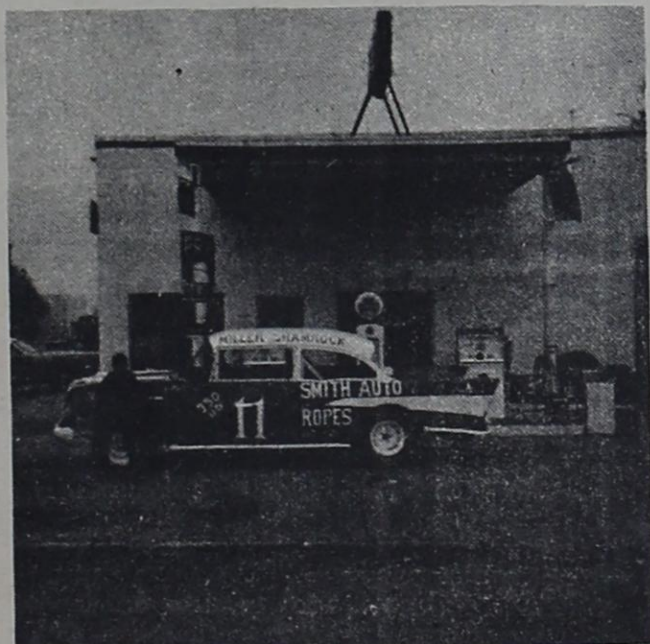

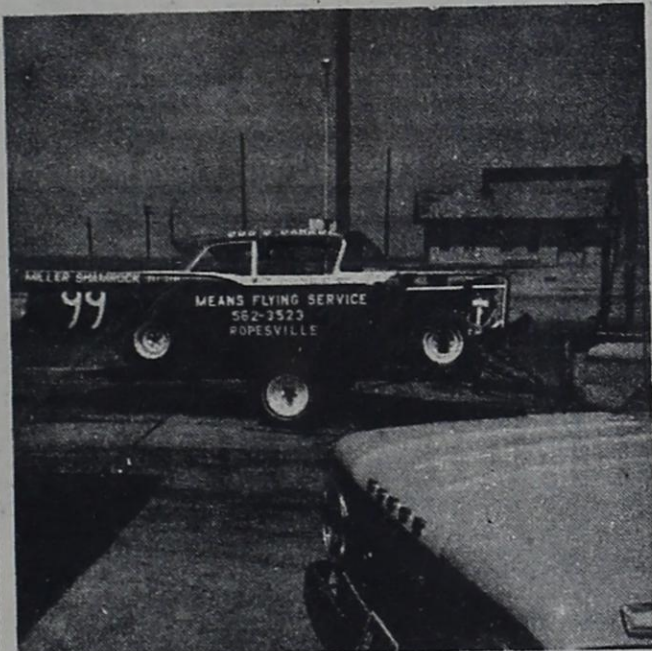

"We at Texas Tech are grateful for the progressive vision of Plains Co-Op Oil Mill and ICASALS in their promotional and financial assistance with this project," Mrs. Harden said.
