Public School Week March 4 Thru 9th

Public school week throughout Texas will be from March 4 through the 9th.

During this week all patrons are asked to visit the school and learn how they are operated. O. V. Fuller, superintendent of Ropes Public Schools, gave us the following prepared statement:

What importance do you put upon Public Education?

As a good parent you are interested in the education of your child. As a good citizen you are interested in knowing and seeing the good that comes from tax dollars spent on public schools.

Texas Public School Week has become a very important date on your calendar every year. This year the date is March 4 through 9.

During that week a special effort is made to induce patrons to visit their public schools. The ultimate goal of the State Board of Education is to get every patron in Texas to visit his schools. Last year during this period more people visited the public schools than ever before.

Your local Board of Education, your Administrative staff and teachers invite and urge you to come visit your own schools during that period. Come and stay all day! Work and play with us! We shall be expecting you.

Sincerely yours,
 O. V. FULLER,
 Superintendent.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

Dan D. Jones, Pastor
 The meeting, which closed Sunday night, was indeed a REVIVAL meeting. Everyone who attended felt the presence of the Spirit of Christ.

Rev. Walter Patterson, the evangelist, brought wonderful soul-inspiring messages.

There were fourteen (14) professions of faith, and a number are planning to unite with the church.

In spite of the unsettled weather the crowds were the best we have had in the two years of my pastorate here, and according to the members it is the best revival in many years.

The purpose of the church is to be a blessing to the entire community. We welcome you to any and all of our regular services.

Schedule of Services

 Morning Worship 10 a.m.

 Wed. Service 7 p.m.
 We will be looking for you.

WEEKEND VISITORS

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Hobbs Saturday night were their two daughters and families, Lillian and Bill and three boys, Joyce and J. C. and Mark, Billy and Christene Seay of Seminole; Jo and Ada Ruth Seay and two daughters of Kermit; and Ray Seay of Luling, Texas. They all attended the Primitive Baptist Church in Tahoka Sunday, and report a wonderful time.

While Warren Tabor, county attorney, is looking up the law pertaining to the establishment of a medical center in Ropes, the folks looking after this end of the project are not idle.

Letters were mailed this week to the State Health Department explaining just what would be built in Ropes, and also to Senator Preston Smith. Senator Smith is helping all he can in Austin.

A letter of recent date from Senator Smith said in part:

"It will be a pleasure to work with you people on this matter, and you may be assured of my every cooperation in assisting you to bring about a realization of this idea."

It is going to take a lot of work and time to build this medical clinic in Ropes; it is also going to take the

Ropes Swamps Merkel Tuesday

Regional Play Will Open in Lubbock on Saturday Morning When Ropesville Eagles Will Meet Clarendon at 8 A. M.—Lets all be Present

Ropesville's irrepressible Eagles put the shackles on Merkel's big Robert McLeod as no other team has done this season and swept into the Conference A regional basketball tournament in Lubbock this weekend with a narrow 51-49 victory over the Badgers at Big Spring Tuesday night.

The Eagles from the South Plains led almost from the start in this battle of a pair of the strongest Class A teams in the state, but had to fight off a last-minute rush by Merkel to preserve their hopes of advancing along in the state playoffs.

It was the 25th victory in 26 games for Ropesville, the second loss in 27 games for Merkel, which only last week had beaten AAAA power Abilene.

McLeod, a 6-4 giant who made the all-state team last year, had been averaging slightly better than 36 points per game, but was held to a "mere" 16 Tuesday night by the Ropesville defense.

Jimmy Bevers scored 18 and J. W. Bridwell 13 points to lead the Eagles, but both had to yield game scoring honors to Merkel's Kermit Rutledge who pumped in 20. Ropesville actually won the game at the free-throw line. Merkel had 19 field goals to the Eagles' 16.

At the end of the first quarter, Ropesville was leading 18-12. They were ahead 23-23 at half-time and held a 42-38 margin going into the final eight-minute period. The Eagles built that han isnstasnsaso ii s nsii edge up to nine points but rebounder J. L. Hansard fouled out, at that point and Merkel began shaving the edge.

With a minute and 45 seconds remaining, McLeod scored to tie the game at 47-47. Seconds later, Ropesville's little Johnny Valentine sank a free throw for a 48-47 advantage and then hit another for a 49-47 score. Big Dale Ethridge tipped in a missed fielder to give the Eagles a 51-47 lead with seconds to go.

Rutledge added the final two points for Merkel with a desperation shot just before the buzzer.

Ropesville's first opponent in the regional tournament will be Clarendon at 8 a.m. Saturday.

WHO WROTE THE LETTER?

The editor of the Plainsman has received a letter from "A Reader of the Ropes Plainsman" which we very much desire to print. However, due to the fact that the writer failed to sign it, it is impossible for us to put it in type and let the public read it.

If the writer of this letter has the nerve to back up her (or his) convictions and will come to our office and sign the letter, we will put it in a box on the front page of this newspaper.

Don't tell your friends you've written us a letter we will not print, for we will print it if it is signed. If you want to get your thoughts and your convictions before the public, come in and sign the letter—at least, show that you are sincere in what you wrote, and that you are not afraid for the public to know who you are.

We will state further that any person, or persons, can get letters printed in this newspaper as long as they are willing to sign their name to same.

PLAINSMAN IS CHOSEN OFFICIAL WEEKLY FOR COUNTY

Due to the fact that the Ropes Plainsman submitted the lowest bids for county legal publications, the Commissioners Court on Monday of this week designated the Plainsman as the county official newspaper.

Bids for the printing came from the Levelland Daily Sun News, The Four County News (Anton), The Hockley County Herald, and the Ropes Plainsman.

"We Hew to the Line—Let the Chips Fall Where They May".

Water, the life's blood of West Texas, is fast becoming one of the most important topics in state government.

Leading a movement to encourage state government interest in water development and conservation is Gov. Daniel himself, who admits that problems are being met in many sections by private or regional water conservation districts.

"Years of delay", the governor pointed out, have somehow failed to generate the action to plan a "state-wide" water program.

He has expressed confidence that "the State of Texas will soon become a full partner in the conservation and development of its water resources."

Gov. Daniel believes the state is the only agency that can fill in "the present gap in water development."

"During the past 10 years, many groups and organizations have studied the water problem," he admitted, but "despite all these efforts, the state has not presented an over-all plan nor a state-wide program in scope with the rapidly increasing water demand."

Details on just how the state can become a "full partner" in the water problem are not too clear right now to the 55th Legislature. Studies are underway.

In the past there have been active opponents to "statewide plans" for fear of "state control of water resources."

Then, too, water problems vary so much throughout the largest state in the un-ios. For instance, much of West Texas' work to conserve water differs entirely from a program operated in East Texas for several reasons. Much of our water comes from a very special underground formation of water-bearing sands.

While we pump underground water here, East Texas may be concerned with engineering problems of an entirely different nature such as surface water reservoirs, dams and the like.

For this reason, many thinking men of the 55th Legislature are watching the suggested "statewide water program" with interest.

WORK ON MEDICAL

Full cooperation of all the people in the community. However, we don't really know of but one person who opposes the project as it has been outlined in previous issues of the Plainsman.

As a matter of fact, all the folks we have talked to about it have expressed themselves as heartily in favor of it. Bill Patman told us this week he was strongly in favor of the medical center, as well as moving the community building to Ropes, and the establishment of a swimming pool. "A swimming pool can be built in Ropes," he said. "The same procedure can be taken as was taken in the building of the lighted football field. Shares in this project were bought up in less than three years. All that we need is someone to work at it."

O. V. Fuller expressed the same idea, and even suggested that the shares draw a small amount of interest. It is his belief that with even a thirty thousand dollar investment in the swimming pool that it would pay off in less than five years.

A preliminary investigation of pools in the smaller towns has shown that most of the pools have paid for themselves within a very short time.

March 4-9 has been set aside as Teacher-Appreciation Week by proclamation of Governor Price Daniel for the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers. The week was first observed in October 1955, but for the past two years the dates have been set to coincide with Texas Public Schools Week.

The complete text of the official designation follows:

"Three great institutions of American life—the church, the home, and the public school—exert powerful influences upon our youth in preparing them for useful citizenship.

"The public school teachers of Texas have great responsibility that cannot be valued merely by statistics or by dollars and cents. In doing their job well, our teachers must work long hours, keep constantly abreast of new developments, and continue their own studies in their chosen fields.

"Many problems face our teachers, not the least of which is the present shortage of teaching personnel which has placed an added burden upon those in the profession. All the citizens should do their part in helping the public school teachers fulfill their responsibilities which grow so much greater with every passing year.

"Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate March 4-9, 1957, as Teacher - Appreciation week in Texas and urge all Texans to demonstrate their gratitude to our public school teachers in every appropriate manner."

HOW MUCH IS A CHILD'S FUTURE WORTH?

By Mrs. H. W. Gaston
(Editor's Note — The following is the first of a series of articles prepared by Mrs. H. W. Gaston of Ropesville. These articles will appear each week in the Plainsman. We think they are well worth reading, and are from the pen of an expert on child welfare, Mrs. Gaston having spent many years in this field.)

The Growing Child
Bill looked at the marks on the tree trunk. Each birthday his daddy had marked his height on the tree. On his twelfth birthday the marks up the tree seemed to impress him very strongly.

"It's a lot higher this year than last," he said.

"Yes, son. From eleven to twelve is a big jump."

There was a moment of silence, and then Bill said, "We can't make marks to show how much I have grown in knowing things, can we?"

"Not so easy as we can show how much you have grown in height. But Mother and I have been talking of how much you have grown in knowing things. We know that you are growing in knowledge even if we can't make marks on a chart to show just how much."

These parents did realize that their child was growing in stature and wisdom, and they were deeply concerned to provide all possibilities and opportunities for his growth in favor with God and man. They were reluctant to admit that they were fast losing their "baby", and he would soon be an adult.

We give a lot of thought to children's physical growth, and a good deal to his public schooling. How much time do we as parents give to their growth in getting along with others, in proper fellowship, in religion, and other all important things. One of the difficult things we have to do is answer their questions, or listen when they have something to tell us. All of this takes patience and know-how. Everybody seems to want the best for their children, but few are willing to put forth effort to give them the best. It is easy to say, "Let the school do it, or the church."

God has given us wonderful opportunities and charges in these, our children. What are we doing about it? Stop asking what your schools and churches are doing, and set out to see what you can do.

MASTER OF SPANISH DANCING TO APPEAR IN LUBBOCK MAR. 16

Direct from a triumphant tour of Europe, the world's finest male Spanish dancer, JOSE GRECO, will appear with his troupe at the Lubbock Auditorium on March 16, sponsored by Civic Lubbock, Inc.

This Spanish company has the stamp of artistry throughout, and yet has something to satisfy all tastes. They dance with their feet, hands, shoulders and hearts, and a stimulating experience it is to see them. Machine-gun feet spark furious fireworks from the floor, and the eye is dazzled by the whirl of flamboyant costumes, billowing mantillas, and galaxies of smiles from señoritas with eyes of black jade.

Dominating it all, Greco, whose vitality revels in the strict tradition and discipline of the dance, moves with extraordinary grace and suppleness — in all, a personality of the highest order. The dancing of Jose Greco is beautifully controlled; he can make it proud, exciting, languorous, humorous — seemingly without effort. With the build of an Olympic champion of ancient Greece — tall, long-legged and sinewy — there is an air of command about him even when he is still. When the authors of encyclopedias revise their work, they might bracket after "Spanish Dancing" — See JOSE GRECO. He is indeed a master of his art.

Residents of Lubbock and the South Plains are assured a different and exciting evening entertainment when they see Jose Greco and his company of Spanish dancers in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium on March 16 at 8:00 p.m.

Tickets for this attraction are on sale at the Auditorium Box Office, priced — at $3.60, $3.00 and $2.40 on the lower floor; $3.60, $3.00, $2.40,

Are you, too, losing
1 bale out of 7 needlessly?

If you are a typical cotton farmer, diseases are robbing you of one bale out of every seven!

Yet it needn't be... for if you plant red-tinted Panogenized seed (seed that is treated with Panogen liquid seed disinfectant), you stop diseases like seed decay, anthracnose, and rhizoctonia damping-off (sore-shin)... which cause serious losses.

Normally, you can expect that seed which has been treated with liquid PANOGEN will give you up to 15% more bales, but agricultural college tests show that during cold, rainy periods, Panogenized seed gives 5 to 10 times more plants than untreated seed... and may mean the difference between a good stand and having to re-plant.

Cost is only a few cents an acre to have your seed Panogenized at your local custom seed processor's.

The state's 4-H members for weeks have been making plans to tell others what 4-H has meant to them, and they will join with the more than 2,000,000 members in the nation in observance of the special National Week.

Governor Daniel in his proclamation said, "Activity, achievement and adventure await the 117,257 4-H club members who participate in this program in Texas.

4-H Club work is the youth phase of the Agricultural Extension Service. This voluntary youth program has a nationwide enrollment of more than two million members, and 51 foreign countries now have organizations similar to 4-H Clubs.

The Texas program is directed by members of the Agricultural Extension Service, which is a part of the A & M College System. County extension agents in the 254 counties work with 4-H members, their parents, volunteer leaders and friends of 4-H to develop the future leaders of our State mentally, spiritually, socially and physically.

As Governor of Texas, I urge that due recognition be given to this fine organization which aids young people in useful, happy living by helping them to help themselves."

County 4-H councils, say the state 4-H leaders, are perfecting plans for the local observance of National 4-H Week. To be honored are local adult leaders, parents, friends of 4-H and the members themselves. The 4-H story will be told many times with special emphasis on the character building side of the now world wide rural youth organization.

4-H has grown from the boys corn clubs and the tomato clubs for girls of half a century ago into an organization that today involves every phase of farming and homemaking. Boys and girls who are not now 4-H members may obtain information on how they may become

Duval Methods Closely Parallel Repression in Hitler's Germany

By—FRANZ ROSENWALD

SAN DIEGO, TEX.—The Parr family, ruling dynasty in the malodorous Duchy of Duval, was in the boss business long before Adolph Hitler was ever heard of in my native Germany.

Hitler was painting bad picture postcards and living in a Vienna flophouse while Tsar Parr was running things high, wide and handsome in this sun-seared section of Texas.

As a German, and reputedly a bit of an expert on dictatorships (I've seen the Red kind and the Brown, or Hitler, kind), I've been asked to look at Duval from that point of view. I came, I saw and I shuddered. Duval was too much like home.

Let anyone consider a Hitler Germany-Parr Duval comparison as an invidious one, remember that I'm making no such comparison. I don't have to. History beat me to it.

Let's look at a curious, and disquieting, situation in Germany at this moment. Then we'll look at an interesting incident just a few months ago in the Grand Jury room in the Duval County Courthouse here in San Diego.

In West Germany "ex"-Nazis are being brought to trial on all sorts of charges harking back to the days of Hitler, war crimes, theft of public funds, graft, political murder.

A few years ago these same men were mousy, quiet, biding their time. Today they're arrogant, truculent, threatening.

In court they thunder at the judge and thunder at the jury, daring them to convict. The day is coming, and soon, they shout, when the "right" will triumph, when the hated foreigner will be thrust from the sacred soil of the Fatherland. On that day true Germans will know what to do. They'll punish the enemies within and the enemies without.

This courtroom strategy is working like a charm. The frightened jurors are acquitting the Nazi bully boys one after the other.

Now let's get back to the Grand Jury room in the Duval County Courthouse here in San Diego.

Red-headed George Berham Parr, of Duval, has been hailed before the jurors and questioning him is Sidney Chandler, assistant to Attorney General John Ben Sheppard. Chandler doesn't get very far with the Duke. Parr stands on his constitutional rights, invoking the "Fifth Amendment" — that a man may remain silent if his testimony might incriminate him or even tend to incriminate him. Then the jury adjourns and Chandler mops his brow in frustration.

"Sidney," Parr said, "I've got something to say to the jury."

Chandler, curious, told him "Go right ahead."

Parr turned quietly to the jury and eyed each man in turn. He knew each man by his first name, and he reminded them of that. One grand juror was a Parr tenant, another an employee, several owed him money.

Then Parr's voice rose in fury to a crescendo. He shook his fist in the face of each man, shouting that soon there would be a new State government in Austin, a new government in Washington—and George Parr would again be firmly in the saddle. Then there would be a reckoning, a settling of scores.

One grand juror described the scene to me this way: "He yelled and screamed so loud you could hear him in Alice ten miles away." County employees came out of their offices and stood on the stairs outside the Grand Jury Room, listening in awe. Parr's harangue went on for twenty minutes.

"I respect you as Grand Jurors," he raged, "but only so long as you sit in this room. Outside of this room I don't have to respect you a G... D... bit, not a damn bit. Outside of this room I do as I please. Remember that! Remember that, all of you!"

That Grand Jury, white-lipped and frightened, listened — but right there the parallel ends. Unlike the cringing juries in Germany that jury in Duval braved the threat of wrath to come and voted thirty-one indictments against members of the Parr machine.

We'll take just one more example of intimidation, an effective weapon in the hands of any efficient political boss or any dictator. Here in San Diego those terms are interchangeable.

On Monday, July 16, my writing partner and myself sat in the courtroom in San Diego, District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin presiding. The suit, brought by Manuel Trevino and Manuel Olivares, was to contest the results of last April's civic elections in San Diego when Parr forces captured four out of five seats on the city council.

The action was of particular importance because if it succeeded in unseating one of two Parr men, Alberto Garcia or Leopoldo Sepulveda, the Duke of Duval would have been stripped of his private army, the San Diego police force.

Here's the way it works: Never in its long and stormy history has San Diego had a police department. None was needed because the sheriffs of Duval County and Jim Wells County, together with their deputies, were well able to handle things to the taste of George Berham Parr. At one time Duval County alone had as many as 200 deputies, gun-slugging pistoleros. Some people put the figure as high as three hundred.

But Parr no longer controls the sheriffs. So the San Diego council dutifully gave him a police force with Manuel Amaya, former deputy sheriff, as chief.

Amaya and his constables are officially paid $50 each per month. Under Texas law a peace officer must be paid at least $40 per month from the public purse before he has the right to pack a pistol.

I have talked to these men, sat with them in the Windmill Cafe, favorite haunt of Parr supporters. They eat well, dress well, have their own cars and show no signs of poverty. Yet their official pay is less than $12.50 per week. Parr reputedly makes up the difference out of his own pocket.

I watched these men in action in Judge Laughlin's court room that hot and sleep afternoon.

It was a job of straight, out and out intimidation of witnesses.

One lone Texas Ranger, Wiley Williamson, sat near the judge's bench, keeping a wary eye on the scene.

Parr's policemen, their 45's loosely holstered, circulated about the big room, here whispering into the ear of a witness, there patting another on the back, digging playful knuckles into the ribs of yet another.

The policemen were smiling, jovial, friendly. But the witnesses weren't smiling. They had fright written all over them.

Through a Spanish interpreter the witnesses, dozens of them, were sworn in as a group. Then the questioning began, with the interpreter relaying the questions and answers. It was amazing how much the witnesses couldn't remember. Their voices were hardly audible.

They couldn't remember, for example, whether they'd ever been convicted of a crime and so lost their right to vote. Or whether they'd received pardons from the governor and so regained their civil rights. One after the other they shuffled to the stand, and one after the other they "could not remember."

My partner and I were in the courtroom for but part of one afternoon of the four day hearing. That was enough to see Parrism in action.

At the conclusion of the hearing Judge Laughlin ruled that one Parr man, Leopoldo Sepulveda, had lost his seat to Manuel Trevino. The election of Alberto Garcia was confirmed, but the anti-Parr forces now had a three to two majority on the city council.

The case was immediately appealed, the Parr man keeping his seat for the time being.

Thus George Berham Parr keeps his police force.

(Note: since this article was written another election was ordered by a higher court and Parr lost control of the city government. Thus his last means of keeping his pistoleros armed was taken away. Earlier he lost control of the Commissioners Court after a months-long series of court battles with Attorney General Sheppard, and saw his old enemy Donato Serna installed as Duval County auditor after more than a year of resistance which took the case up to the Texas Supreme Court. Putting an impartial man in the county auditor's position, Sheppard explains, was the key to blocking Parr from the misuse of county funds. The San Diego city government was Parr's last ditch, from which he is now evicted.)

ALL MEMBERS OF THE PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC. ARE NOTIFIED THAT A MEETING WILL BE HELD IN THE DISTRICT COURT ROOM AT LEVELLAND ON TUESDAY, MARCH 5TH

Pictures of Atomic Explosions Are Shown Ground Observers Corps Is Organized Here Monday Night

Monday night some ten persons met in the high school building, and under the direction of a sergeant organized a ground observers Corps.

Charles Shannon headed the movement and is chief observer. The observation center is at the Weaks Gin, some four miles west of Ropesville.

Almost an hour was spent in teaching the members how to observe airplanes and how to report them. Following this a film was shown (a film not released to the public) showing how to distinguish an atomic explosion from an ordinary explosion.

We don't think those in attendance will ever forget what they saw.

The sergeant in charge stated: "You know, I know, and all the higher officials of the government know that it is only a question of time until we will be at war with Russia, and what you are seeing on the screen can happen here. It is the duty of the Ground Observer Corps to keep it from happening."

Shown was the explosion of different size bombs in water on land and in the air. As the bombs exploded the light was so intense that all objects disappeared, and as the seconds passed they became visible again through a blood-red haze. In the distance the fireball, with flames showing from within, rose toward the heavens, with the stem of the mushroom developing after the fireball had left the earth. In one of the two instances the stem pushed up through the fireball. In the explosion of the largest atomic bomb yet exploded in the Pacific, the pictures were taken from a plane which was seventy miles away, and the light and heat were intense at that place. The sky at first, after the first flash of blinding light faded, appeared a dirty yellow, then in the midst of the clouds and smoke, it was as if a gigantic fire was blazing in the sky, the fireball shooting upward to an altitude of 100,000 feet. It was awe inspiring, spine tingling, and a cause for thought.

It was explained that the one bomb dropped in Japan killed and injured more people than the tons of bombs dumped on Germany by the combined air forces of both Great Britain and the United States during World War II.

The first meeting of the Corps will be this Sunday afternoon from 2 to 6 p.m., and all interested persons are urged to attend.

Another meeting for training will be held in the high school building Friday, Mar. 22. We need at least fifteen members to meet the requirements. All interested persons are urged to contact Charles Shannon.

Those present for the meeting were Charles Shannon, Tommy Littlefield, Tyree Martin, Donald Blackman, Jack Ogle, Bob Whitlock, Tom Wall, John Proctor, and Troy Morris.

FIRE DEPARTMENT MET IN REGULAR SESSION MONDAY

Sixteen members of the Fire Department met in regular session on Monday night. This is one short of the required number.

It was pointed out by the Fire Chief, Wilburn Burks, that the business men of Ropes were short on representation. Out of the sixteen present there were actually five business men, J. R. Smith, Walt Fraley, Tyree Martin, John Proctor, and Troy Morris.

The attendance has to show an average of 17. If the business men of the town would attend these meetings the average would go above that. If they do not attend the insurance rate is likely to go up. It is to the advantage of each citizen of Ropes to attend if for nothing else to keep the insurance rate down.

An effort is to be made to get more business people, and others living in Ropes to take a greater interest in the Fire Department.

Lubbock Youths Arrested Ropes School Break-in Solved by Confessions

According to a story appearing in the Lubbock Morning Avalanche on Monday the break-in and robbery of the Ropesville High School building was solved when three boys were questioned by Lubbock law enforcement officers.

The fact that they were under sixteen years of age their names were not published. The story, as given by the Avalanche, is as follows:

"Three Lubbock teenagers, being held here early today by sheriff's deputies after they were flushed away from a safe-peeling job in a New Deal firm Sunday, had confessed to pulling at least eight burglaries in the past two months.

"One member of the trio was nabbed by armed neighbors who spotted him in Jerry's Food Market about 9:40 p.m. Sunday. Two of the group were apprehended about 1:15 p.m. in the 2300 block of Avenue H, officers said.

The series of events leading to the capture of the teenagers started when Robert West of New Deal, returning home from a movie, saw a metal guard had been removed from a window on the rear of the store and the panes broken from the frame.

Suspecting a burglar might be inside the store, West called E. D. Norman. The men armed themselves with a .45 caliber pistol and a shotgun and took stations at the front and rear of the store.

However, the youth inside the store saw the men approach, and jumped through a plate glass door at the front of the store and dashed across a highway in an attempt to escape.

The men fired shots into the air and the youth halted. He was held for deputies. The officers learned that two other youths had served as "lookouts" for the burglary and broadcast a pickup for the two.

The 15-year old youth that West and Norman captured was carrying about $13 in change that he said was the entire loot from the burglary.

Jerry Sandlin, owner of the store, said he didn't know exactly how much money was missing. Although the attempted safe job was unsuccessful, change in the store's two cash registers 'might run as high as $70', Sandlin said.

The store had been "thoroughly ransacked" in a search for money, Sandlin added.

When deputies brought the three youths together in the sheriff's office, they soon confessed to eight burglaries committed in Lubbock County since late December.

On the list were Chris Harwell, George R. Bean and Walter Posey elementary schools in Lubbock, four more schools at Wolf-forth, New Deal, Ropesville and Woodrow, and a service station on Clovis Road, but officers said little had been taken in each case.
