RENEWAL

Homer Henderson

"Behold, I make all things new!" (Rev. 21:5) Such is the Word of God. "If any one is in Christ, he is a new creation; the old has passed away, behold, the new has come." (II Cor. 5:17) God is a God who renews the life of his people. His love, taken seriously and received in faith, actually "re-creates" us. We find new meaning in life. We see things from a new perspective. How are old things made new and new things laid hold of?

Recently, the World Council of Churches published a series of Bible Studies available to all Christians for study in preparation for the Fourth Assembly of the World Council in 1968 at Uppsala, Sweden. I want to share with you some thoughts from the first study, "The Promise of the New", based on Jeremiah 31:31-34.

"God is a God who makes covenants. Christians are always reminded of this since our Bible consists of Old and New Testaments", a word which comes straight from the Latin for covenant. This is a rather strange way to think about God. It might seem more natural if we thought of God as the One who did what He did once for all, with no room left for decay or renewal. But the reader of the Bible finds a God who "tries and tries again". His dealings with the world with mankind, with Israel, and with the Church are described as a series of covenants. When Paul speaks about Israel and its covenants—in the plural (Rom. 9:4)—he thinks not only of Sinai, but also of the covenants with Adam, with Noah, with Abraham, with Joshua, with David.... He thinks of Israel's history as marked by ever new covenants. It was along this line that Jeremiah promised a new and better covenant. Such is the Biblical way of understanding God's ways.

"Jeremiah lived in a time of trouble for the whole of the Near East (7th and 6th centuries B. C.), the center of world culture at that period. His time was very like our own. He saw great powers rise and decline. Assyria, the great colonial power, unrivaled in might and prestige, fell in 626 B.C. The Medes and the Chaldeans had a short reign. Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon was rising to power, and conquered Jerusalem in 586 B. C. Jeremiah lived and prophesied in that half-century of political and social upheaval, of frequent wars, and of large-scale migration....

"Such was the time of unsettlement in which Jeremiah prophesied a new and better covenant. It is doubtful whether Jeremiah's contemporaries understood these words as directly relating to the new covenant in Jesus Christ.... There can be no doubt, however, that it had a definite meaning for Jews of the time of Christ. The passage is quoted in Heb. 8:8-12 and 10:16-17, as directly applying to Christ. And our Lord identified his own death and resurrection with the New Covenant when He declared, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood." (I Cor. 11:25)

"Thus we find, as always in the Bible, both continuity and discontinuity. When God creates something new, He renews what was given of old. The new commandment is also an old commandment, and yet it is a new one, as we hear in I John 2:7-8.... We learn how God's way of making things new is not always the kind of renewal we often dream of in our selfish desires. True renewal takes us through the hiddenness of the Kingdom and the suffering of the Cross. We learn from Paul that we possess this newness as hope, as a promise in the midst of death and decay."

So, in a world where we suffer and die, where we become hostile and warlike, where we build walls of separation among persons and

Revival Services at Nazerene Church Sun.

REV. MERLYN KLINK

Revival services get under way at the Church of the Nazarene this Sunday and will continue through the week, closing on Sunday night July 30. The Sunday services will be at 10:45 and 6:45 and the week night services at 8:30.

Workers for the meeting are the Rev. and Mrs. Merlyn Klink of Lubbock. The Rev. Mr. Klink is a graduate of Bethany Nazarene College at Bethany, Oklahoma, and has had eight years experience as a Home Mission pastor. Presently he is doing graduate work at Texas Tech.

Mrs. Klink will preside at the piano and will assist in the special music. She is the daughter of the Rev. Roy McCoy, formerly of Ropesville.

The public is cordially invited to attend and take part in these services.

Methodist Week Of Renewal In Progress

First Methodist Church cordially invites the community to hear Dr. Jordan Grooms this evening at 8:30 p.m. Dr. Grooms is the former pastor of Amarillo's Polk Street Methodist Church where he served for seven years. He is now the District Superintendent of the Brownfield District of the Methodist Church.

Jordan Groom is widely known in both Protestant and Catholic circles as a man richly endowed by the Spirit of God. He comes to our community not primarily as a Methodist Churchman but as a Christian. On this night especially during the Methodist Week of Renewal, the public is invited to attend.

Tomorrow evening, Keith Wiseman, minister of the Wesley Methodist Church in Levelland will be the concluding preacher for the week at 8:30 p.m.

Lions Are Loose

The Ropesville Chapter of Lions International met Monday night, July 17, and planned several activities of interest to this community.

On July 27th, from 2:00 to 8:00 p.m., the Lion's Club will sponsor a Blood Drive for the Hockley County Blood Bank. The committee composed to work with that organization include Lion Gene McKee, Lion T. J. Redman, Jr. and Lion Charles Shannon.

The local Lion's Club will endeavor to create a City Park around the Community Building. The City has given its approval but cannot support it financially. Thus, the major load of work and expense will be handled by the Lion's Club. Trees must be set out, and grass planted, land leveled, and many other improvements. When and if anyone decides to help, it will be appreciated. August 4th has been designated as a Work Day and everyone is invited to come work. This will be from 8:00 a.m. until 12:00 p.m. It is felt that Ropes is in need of a park like this for recreational activities.

The Broom and Mop Sale which takes place each year will be held about the last of August or first of September. If you will be in need of any such equipment, you may contact a Lion and if needed, it may be delivered to you at that time.

The favorite Pancake Supper will be served after the first home football game this fall.

In the interest of public welfare this article is being published to inform our community that the Lions are loose.

RETURN HOME FROM MISSISSIPPI

Rev. and Mrs. Phillip Goodrum returned home Monday from a ten day trip to Mississippi where he had been engaged in a very successful revival meeting.

The revival was held at Coat Baptist Church, a little country church near McGee, and about 60 miles south of Jackson.

Rev. Goodrum stated that their way of life on economic standards, is very different to ours, but also seemed very satisfactory. The farms consist of mostly ten to twelve acre plots, with corn fields, and lush gardens, with the vegetables now in season, and so plentiful they are going to waste. They have no irrigation.

Reunion Held In Tennessee

There were 110 descendants present at the family reunion of the George held in McMinnville, Tennessee July 9th.

There were 21 of these children and grandchildren of Hannah (George) Martin attending from Texas and California, which included the first visit of Mr. and Mrs. Butler Martin and Valerie since 1919. The other children traveling from Texas were:

- Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Caffee and son and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Earl and son of Honey Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Tyree Martin, Jimmy and Johnny and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Littlefield of Ropes; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bridges and Andy of Seagraves; and Mrs. Norma Faye Ward of Lubbock.

This reunion will be an annual affair, and will be held the second Sunday of July.

While there they visited the old school house which they attended, the old log homeplace, which still stands exactly as they remembered it, the graves of their grandparents, and many other interesting places remembered from childhood.

(Following is a poem submitted to us by Mrs. Robert Hall, written by the Hall's son, Kenneth.)

by Kenneth Hall

On the first day of the week Periwinkles congregate. At first they mingle around the edifice

Soon they take their places in a row,

And prepare for the wind to blow. Some close their eyes and nod, Others continue in a visit,

While only a few still know The reason for being there.

As the breeze blows Each bends a little, Some more than others.

But when the zephyr ceases Each straightens to his own straightness,

Maybe tomorrow a gale will blow And a periwinkle will remain bent, Or possibly broken

From the burden of the wind.

MRS. HUGHES VISITS IN ROPES

Mrs. Lola Hughes of Hereford and two friends from Hereford and Amarillo, were in Ropes Sunday where they attended services at the First Methodist Church, and also visited in the home of Mrs. W. O. Drake.

First Baptist Church to Begin Revival Meeting

First Baptist Church is to begin a series of revival services Sunday July 23 with the morning worship hour. Services are scheduled daily through the following week.

The Rev. John Ferguson of First Baptist Church in Denver City will be the evangelist. Mr. Ferguson will be present for the Sunday evening service on the 23rd and will conclude with the Sunday morning service July 30th. Mr. Ferguson has served successful pastorates throughout our state and is enjoying a very successful one at Denver City.

Mr. Ralph Edwards of Calvary Baptist Church in Lubbock will direct the music program during these days of revival. Mr. Edwards served Calvary Baptist Church for some four years before serving in Kansas City with Dr. Melvin Thorn for four years. Dr. Thorn had served the Calvary Baptist Church for several years before moving to Kansas City. Mr. Edwards has recently moved back to Lubbock to fill the same position he held before moving away.

Services are scheduled at the regular time on Sunday with worship time at 11:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. Services Monday through Friday are scheduled at 10:00 a.m. and 8:30 p.m. Prayer groups will meet prior to the evening services at 8:10 p.m.

We, the First Baptist Church, extend to you an invitation to come and worship with us during this time of renewal effort. We feel that Mr. Ferguson is a very capable minister of God's Word and that by hearing him and worshipping with us you will be adding to your life.

Lions To Sponsor Local Blood Drive

The Lion's Club of Ropes will sponsor a local blood drive for the Hockley County Blood Bank. This drive will be once each year unless there is an emergency. Anyone in Hockley County may receive blood without charge through the Blood Bank.

If you are healthy and between the ages of 18 and 60, you are probably a perfect donor. You are requested to be at the school cafeteria between 2:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. The date is Thursday, July 27th.

There are pamphlets available around town which tell in detail about how this Blood Pool operates. Please get one and read it. It will be greatly beneficial to you. Those between the ages of 18 and 21 may donate with the approval of their parents. Donors must weigh at least 110 pounds.

Donors must be free of colds, etc., be taking no medication, and be in generally good health. If you have had viral hepatitis (yellow jaundice), attack of malaria or therapy for malaria in the last two years, operation or serious injury in the last six months, pregnancy in the last six months, syphilis or tuberculosis, rheumatic fever or heart disease, or diabetes, you may not donate.

Donors should eat no fatty or high protein foods four hours before donating. These include dairy products, eggs, meats, etc. It takes only 35 to 50 minutes to donate a pint of blood. Donors may drink black coffee with sugar and eat dry toast for breakfast before giving blood.

The residents of Ropes and this community should take advantage of this opportunity. Any resident of Hockley County can receive this blood, even if they have not donated blood, however, blood may not be available unless you and others have donated it. This is a non-profit organization designed to improve our community. Anyone that needs blood should contact any of the men who are directors or the President, C. B. Joiner, phone 894-5427, Levelland.

See you at the cafeteria July 27!

Oil-Gas Roundup

More than $44.0 million a year of economic stimulation for Hockley County flows from its oil and gas wells each year, an annual study by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association showed recently.

"As one of the 206 producing counties in Texas, Hockley County's economy is sensitive to fluctuations in the oil industry generally," commented W. A. Landreth, Fort Worth Association president. "Long range the demand for oil looks strong and current production rates continue to provide Texas a major source of its income. On the other hand, Texas operators are beset by competition from other oil producing areas, government ceilings on natural gas prices, heavy tax payments, and a price for crude oil that is insufficient to encourage the amount of exploratory drilling that is needed to find future reserves."

Based on latest U. S. Bureau of Mines production figures, Hockley County in 1965 produced 13.6 million barrels of crude oil, valued at $40.1 million and 29.8 billion cubic feet of natural gas valued at $3.9 million, and ranks 24th among Texas counties in production.

In addition, plants which process natural gas for liquids such as natural gasoline, butane and propane in 1965 produced more than 100.3 million gallons of liquids valued at $4.8 million.

A major distribution of income from sales of oil and gas went to county landowners in royalty payments totaling more than $5.5 million.

In 1966, a year that saw drilling in Texas fall to its lowest level since 1947, oil and gas operators drilled 83 wells in Hockley County. Of these 10 were wildcats seeking new fields.

The Association estimated that operators in the county spent more than $6.5 million in drilling last year, of which $2.3 million was lost in dry holes.

Sharing heavily in the county's production each year is the State Treasury, which received $2.1 million in production taxes in 1965 paid by the producers and royalty owners. Crude oil production paid $1.8 million and natural gas production, $269,500.

Texas Employment Commission figures for 1966 show that some 597 workers directly employed in oil and gas operations accounted for a payroll in excess of $3.8 million.

Additional value is given oil and gas from the operation of processing plants. The Oil and Gas Journal lists 1 petrochemical plant, and 3 natural gasoline plants in the county with a capacity of 152.0 million cubic feet per day.

Nola Knows

By Nola White

Dear Nola - I have a sure-enough honest-to-goodness problem that I'd rather die than let anybody know about. My husband is a fine man and a good father, but he uses make-up. I mean he gives himself facials uses night cream, colors his hair, plucks his eyebrows—the works. This started about four or five years ago, and I kept thinking he'd get sick of it and quit, but he's using more stuff every day. Do you think there's something wrong with him?

Concerned Wife

Dear Wife - Yes, I think he has a very common problem. He's growing old. He needs all the reassurance you can give him that "the best is yet to be." Many people find the ageing process totally unacceptable. You'll be doing him a big favor if you can make it easier for him.

Dear Nola - I think my husband is the meanest man who ever lived. He's a sadist if there ever was one. He has planned a two week vacation, even buying the tickets without consulting me. You know what he planned? A cruise! He knows that I get deathly sea-sick because we went on a cruise for our honeymoon and that was a miserable failure. Why would he do such a cruel thing?

Sea-sick Sue

Dear Sue - Maybe he's hoping you have gotten your sea-legs since the honeymoon. Consult your doctor. There are several products on the market for this malady. If your doctor feels you will be benefited by one of them, try to go and enjoy the vacation; if he feels you are a hopeless case, tell your husband you're not going.

Dear Nola - I work in a laundromat and there's something going on that I don't think is right, and I don't know what to do about it. This certain woman is a regular customer, so I don't want to make her mad. We have a basket where we put all the items that people have left in the washers and dryers so that they can come back and retrieve missing socks, etc. Well, this lady goes through the basket every week, and I know for a fact that she takes things that don't belong to her. If she can find two socks that half-way match or wash cloths or anything like that, she takes them. What can I do about this without losing a customer?
Attendant

Dear Attendant - Why don't you keep the basket in your office? Customers can describe their lost items to you and let you search for them.

Send your letters to Nola Knows, Box 411, Temple Texas. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
