

TSTA Proposes Teacher Raises

AUSTIN -- With Texas continuing to drop farther behind other states in teacher pay, the Texas State Teachers Association will propose to the 61st Texas Legislature fast relief in the form of more than a $1,000 teacher pay raise in the next two years, and additional raises in succeeding years.

L.P. Sturgeon, executive secretary of TSTA, this week released figures compiled by the Texas Education Agency and the National Education Association showing Texas to stand 38th among states in average yearly teacher pay, the lowest Texas rank in 20 years.

Today, Sturgeon formally announced the TSTA legislative program designed to remedy the problem.

Higher salaries for Texas teachers is just one part of the plans TSTA will recommend to legislators when they convene in Austin on Tuesday (January 14). Other proposals aim for greater professional status for teachers.

"The entire program is designed to improve the quality of public education for Texas children," Sturgeon declared.

The NEA national study showed the average annual teacher pay in Texas this year is estimated by TEA to be $6,619. This is $1,280 below the estimated national average of $7,908. Thirty-seven other states -- including neighboring New Mexico, Louisiana, and Oklahoma -- pay more than Texas.

These average figures deal with total salary paid all classroom teachers. TSTA and the Legislature deal with the minimum salary for beginning teachers and yearly increments for teaching experience. Many local school districts exceed the minimum and this additional salary is included in the average.

To boost Texas' standing, TSTA seeks to raise the beginning teacher's salary in two years from $4,734 to $6,000 for a bachelor's degree and from $5,040 to $6,600 for a master's degree.

In 1971-72 a long-range compensation plan would take effect. Under that, a beginning bachelor's degree teacher on the minimum schedule could reach $10,000 in ten years and a beginning master's degree teacher could attain $12,000 a year in the same period. Those already in the profession would reach the top in shorter time.

To accomplish that goal, 10 percent increases are proposed for 1974 and 1978.

The full list of TSTA-recommended legislation, and estimated costs to the state:

1. A basic bill including teacher salaries, more maintenance and operation funds for local schools, and added school transportation money. Increased salaries would cost the state an estimated $65 million the first year of the biennium and $141 million the second year, an average of $103 million yearly. Maintenance and operation would require $6 million and transportation $4 million per year.

2. A bill guaranteeing sick leave protection for all public school teachers. Estimated state cost, $2.5 million per year.
3. A practice teaching bill providing a standard program to meet the legal requirement for student teaching, involving public and private colleges with public schools which serve as learning laboratories for prospective teachers. Estimated state cost, $1.5 million per year.
4. A bill clarifying the mandatory status of the continuing contract law for teachers. A law passed two years ago was ruled voluntary by the attorney general. No cost would be involved.
5. A bill creating a "Professional Practices Commission." Teaching would be declared legally to be a profession, and a professional practices commission representing all segments of the profession would be created.

This commission would make advisory recommendations to the State Board of Education regarding disciplining of educators who violate the professional code of ethics.

6. An enabling act following statewide approval by Texas voters last November of Constitutional Amendment No. 9 to improve the Teacher Retirement System.
7. A 45-minute period for preparation and planning by teachers each day. No cost to the state.

In addition, Sturgeon said TSTA will support certain other legislative measures recommended by TSTA members, the State Board of Education, and other groups interested in improving public school education.

Sturgeon pointed out, however, that TSTA probably will not recommend bills on subjects other than those listed in the TSTA program.

Part of the salary recommendation includes ten-month contracts for teachers beginning in 1970-71. Teachers now are paid on a nine-month basis. This would not mean a longer school term, however.

The teacher would continue to instruct children for 180 days as presently required. In addition, they could be assigned duty for 10 extra days as presently required. ## Baptists Plan For Crusades

An enthusiastic campaign to enlist 500 pastors, laymen and musicians for a series of evangelistic meetings in India, has been announced by the New Life Foundation of Houston.

Four crusades are scheduled--one each month, August through November--according to the Rev. Joe West, foundation director and coordinator for the crusade.

there in evangelistic meetings. Last year the foundation conducted crusades in Australia, Taiwan and Brazil. Future plans call for meetings in Europe, Africa and South America.

Rev. West also announced the completion of a 16 mm. color film on India entitled, "Who Will Walk Among Tears." Produced by the foundation, the film presents the needs and challenges of India. He said it is available to churches and other interested organizations free upon request. It can be ordered from the Public Relations Department, 103 Baptist Building, Dallas, 75201.

Known as the All India New Life Crusade, the mammoth nationwide endeavor is being sponsored by the 6500-church India Prayer Fellowship.

"Our teams will go into the Indian churches and give them practical help and counsel in how to share the message of Christianity with the masses around them," Rev. West, former pastor of the West-Hemlock Baptist Church in Houston, said.

All the local meetings will be held in established churches and Christian schools," he added. "Christians are not allowed to meet in large auditoriums, in parks, or on the streets."

Rev. West noted a particular interest in India because at the present time only medical missionaries are allowed to enter the land. "There are more than 500 million people there yet most of them have never had an opportunity to hear the Christian message," he said.

He also believes there is a silent stirring in the hearts of Christians in America because the church isn't doing more, in a physical and spiritual way, for the underprivileged people of the world.

Mrs. C.T. Richardson was acting hostess and served German chocolate cake and coffee to the following members: Misses B.T. Hamilton, R.H. Beulah, W.D. Martens, John Welch, Jonnie Williams, Beulah Newton, Naomi Burgess, Miss Ruby Jones and the hostess, Mrs. Richardson.

Mrs. and Mrs. L.S. Griffin took Mrs. Griffin's sister, Mrs. Kathryn Hensley to Hereford Tuesday morning where she took the bus to Oklahoma City. Mrs. Hensley will see her eye doctor and return to Earth in a few days.

LANDSCAPING By A.L. Woodlawn
GARDEN CENTER NURSERY
Clovis, N.M.

Before the New Year resolutions get completely cold, we would like to point out one other item. In taking stock of the past mistakes in landscaping, we would like to invite you to consider the prospects, advantages and some of the disadvantages of the popular and practical rockscape.

Rockscape is not an answer to all problems and problem areas. It has worked wonders in several and has continued to dress a yard and has reduced the cost. The main item of rockscape is the conservation of water. Study a minute the principle the old timers used in most of the western country of catching the rain water from the house top, storing it in a cistern and having water instead of not having or having to haul water from a distance. The underground water source was tapped and some thought that it would last forever. In the short time that a lot of us can remember the water table has dropped and in some areas has failed completely. Getting back to the cistern idea and rockscape we find that a rockscape, properly prepared is not only pleasing to the eye but also furnishes a trap, or cistern, to catch the rainwater and store it until needed by the plants we can use to further dress the yard.

The principal of rockscape involves a film to cover the soil in order to cut out the infrared light to discourage growth and mulch the surface to cut off capillary action and thus reduce evaporation. The film is covered with rock to reduce weathering or wind damage and add color as well as pattern to the overall picture. The film we use has been 6 mil-black plastic and the cover has been a variety of rock, and that is where the idea of rockscape comes in. The water trapped under the film cannot work back through the film and escape into the air. The plants will use it because water will move to the roots because of the laws of nature that moves from the more dense to the less dense. As the plants use this water it creates somewhat of a dry place to store rainfall when and if we are fortunate enough to get any. At the same time we can adapt a variety of plants to our chosen locality, enjoy them at less cost. Also we are looking to the wetter regions for a source of water when we could conserve what we have given to us.

From The Chief's Desk

Automobiles are big and powerful. At no time should they be used as though they were a toy. This was proven very recently when two groups of boys treated their vehicles without the proper respect, and both ended up in trouble.

Anytime any individual or individuals forget to have the proper respect for a powerful automobile, there could be only one result. . . usually disaster or tragedy.

Any type of motor vehicle is not a toy. . . they cannot be treated as though they were a toy or a plaything which can easily be discarded. When something of this nature is mishandled, it can be costly, not only in money, but more important, someone's life could be lost.

Carelessness causes most accidents. You cannot drive properly while turning almost around to visit with someone in the back seat or while reaching for something in the floorboard of the vehicle. Only a moment's carelessness could mean your life, or the life of someone else.

Drive cautiously. . . treat your vehicle with respect. . . and it will serve you well. Drive carefully. . . and you may never drive again.

Mrs. Finley Pierson

Post Office Cake' Still a Favorite

Mrs. Finley Pierson is known to her friends as a very fine cook, and particularly of delectable cakes. Perhaps the best known recipe she uses is one known to Mrs. Pierson and her friends as the "Post Office Cake."

The original recipe came from the late Mrs. A.J. Gardner, then an employee of Muleshoe Post Office. She handed it 'through the bars' to her friend and neighbor, Ruth Pierson. They each had sons in Service at the time and these 'boys' were part of a group of five friends who had attended elementary school together, played together, and later entered the Service of their country at the same time - said to be "more like brothers than friends". The mothers of these young men were keeping food packages going to their sons and very often the packages contained a "Post Office Cake," "Grandmother Mattie Duke" kept them supplied with angle-food cakes.

The five friends were W.B. (June) Wagon Jr., a Muleshoe grocer; John J. (Dick) Deshazo, son of the late J.J. and Mary Deshazo, now a traffic engineer for the City of Dallas; Bruce Horsley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chet Horsley, now in the roofing business in Denver, Colorado; Paul Gardner, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Gardner, and son-in-law of Mrs. H.C. Holt; and Bill Pierson, a Lubbock, son of Mr. and Mrs. F.B. Pierson, employed by Retail Credit Association.

POST OFFICE CAKE
Mix one cup water and 1/2 cup cocoa in small pan and bring to boil, stir in 2 level tsp. of soda, set aside. Cream 2 c. sugar into 1 c. Crisco. Add three eggs into this mixture, one at a time, beating vigorously. Add 1 c. buttermilk alternately with three cups of flour, and 1 tsp. of red food coloring and 1 tsp. vanilla. Stir the cocoa mixture into this. The mixture will make a 'thin cake'. Bake at 350 approximately 45 minutes in three large layer pans.

This cake brought $5.00 during the War period and later when sold at bake sales if iced with 'Milton Dollar Fudge', made as follows:

4 1/2 cups sugar
1 stick butter
1 large can evaporated milk
3 6 oz. pk. chocolate drops
1 jar marshmallow cream.
Bring to boil and boil six minutes, stirring constantly. Add one to two cups pecans and 1 tsp. vanilla.

This is more than enough to ice between the layers and the outside of this large cake. The remainder can be spread in a pan and cut into pieces for candy.

If you have not been fortunate enough to have tasted this cake, perhaps you have enjoyed other examples of this fine cook's culinary ability. During all the years she has been a homemaker, Mrs. Pierson has expressed her love and concern for friends by 'taking a dish' of something.

Ruth Haney Pierson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. I.W. Haney, was born in Indian Territory at the small community of Okra. The family moved to Norman, Oklahoma about 1908 where the family group later completed by the birth of two sisters, Opal (now deceased) and Jewel (Mrs. David Anderson of Muleshoe). "Because my father was a dreamer and wanted me to have more than the eighth grade education offered where they lived, I was 'boarded away from home' to complete my high school education," Ruth said.

Upon graduation from high school, Ruth was married to Finley Pierson January 21, 1924 in a Methodist parsonage at Oklahoma City. After marriage Ruth attended Oklahoma University and this, with practice teaching done, and examination taken, entitled her to a teaching certificate. She taught school for a short period just prior to moving to Muleshoe with her family in 1926.

on the work and it was the usual thing to have rummage sales, bake sales and dinners of various kinds for this purpose. Telephones were scarce and two-car families not so numerous are now, so very often women walked to a fellow-member's home to deliver an assignment on program, or to collect a cake to be sold "The same was true for P-TA work during those days," said Mrs. Pierson, who recalls her mother, Mrs. I. W. Haney was president of the first P-TA in Muleshoe, probably during the year 1926-1927.

Mrs. Pierson is a long-time member of "As You Like It" Club, a group of friends who meet monthly for fellowship 'a spot of tea' besides. They sew, knit, crochet or just chat during the afternoon and keep friendships alive.

Mr. Pierson was employed for a time by Higginbotham Lumber Company in Muleshoe and later by Charles Lenuu Lumber Company, where he is still employed. In addition to enjoying cooking and homemaking, both of which she does well, her friends know Ruth enjoys antiques, hats and reading fiction and devotional books. She says "I would love to have a good clean novel to read, if I know where to find one."

Among her prized antiques is a beautiful old walnut 'pump organ', a gift of her son and daughter-in-law, Bill and Myra Pierson, of Lubbock. At present the organ is being renovated and Ruth says she is going to practice her music and enjoy playing it.

In listing her hobbies, Ruth confessed to "pretty much a love for my grandchildren." Neighbors and friends know of the tempting delicacies she cooks for them and how they used her house for a half-way house en route home after school, her interest in their school activities and their welfare in general.

The Pierson children are Bill, mentioned above, who is the father of William II, Teresa and Weldon, and Mrs. Horace Edwards, mother of Gary, a Texas Tech student, and Mark, a student at Muleshoe high school.

Soon after the Piersons moved to Muleshoe, she was enlisted as an assistant teacher of Wesley Sunday School at the Methodist Church, at that time a class for both men and women. Mrs.

Pierson recalled names of people included in the class and is appalled that she taught people of their mental caliber.

She was very active in the women's Society of Christian Service in 1940.

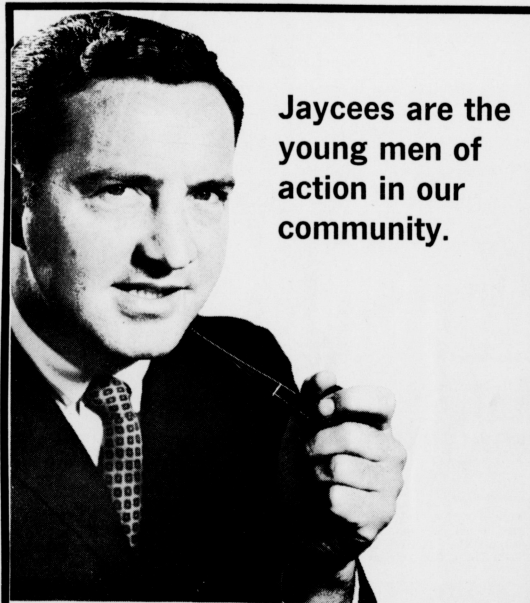

She served as president of the local society three different times, the last of these for four years under Rev. Hanks. A sub district president for a five-year term, she was given a leader's pin in addition to the Life membership pin given by the local society.

Love of family is very strong in Mrs. Pierson and friends know her to be a devoted wife, mother and to have always been a dutiful daughter. Tradition is also of importance to her. To keep a beautiful house beautifully to serve nutritious meals attractively, to be a part of her grandchildren's lives and to take good care of Finley, these are Ruth Pierson's objectives and she does them well.

'Oklahoma' Rated Big Success

*** MHS Speech Winners, Friona Speech Tourney ***

Muleshoe High School's famed Speech department walked away with top awards at the Friona Invitational Tournament, held January 11 in Friona.

Director Kerry Moore accepted a Sweepstakes trophy on behalf of the competitors who compiled 164 points.

In extemporaneous speaking, Sue Darsey won first in the girl's division, in the boys division of extemporaneous or informative speaking Mark Edwards won third, Jim Mardis took top honors in boy's persuasive speaking.

Muleshoe won high awards in poetry and prose when Leland Ferris placed first in boys poetry interpretation and Renee Dyer won the girl's division. Joe Duke placed first in prose interpretation and Sheryl Mason tied for third place.

Martha Jane Chapman and Betty Harbin defeated Lubbock Christian High School in the final round for first place in Girl's Debate and boy's team composed of Bucky Taylor and Delton Bass lost to Friona on a split decision of the judges in the finals. The boys took second place to bring total points accumulated by the debate teams to 55.

We lost our first district game to Dumas, however, we were not too disappointed in the way we played. The deciding factor in the game was the size of the Dumas team and our inability to hit consistently from the field. The boys hustled well and probably played as well as they could.

This weekend we will be traveling to Canyon on Friday night and then continue on to Perryton Saturday. Canyon and Perryton are rated as the stronger teams in our district and we will need an outstanding effort from all of our boys in these two games. The boys have worked very hard this week and will be ready for these two games.

We appreciate the crowd and their support in the game against Dumas. Our next home game will be with the Tulia Hornets on Tuesday, January 21. Come out and back the Mules and Mullettes in the game against Tulia.

Accolades for Stars And Stage Assistants

By Lana Washington

The musical, Oklahoma presented by M.H.S. was truly one of the finest ever. Many long hours of work and study were put forth by cast members in order to have a successful program. There was superb direction for the musical both in adult and student directors: Mr. Kerry Moore, Elizabeth Black, Mila Beth Gibson, Jeff Ingham, Jim Harvey (adults) and Martha Jane Chapman and Mart Francis (students). Each one was dedicated to the task of making the play a success. The art work in the program was performed by Elizabeth Black with the help of some very talented students. Mrs. Black is the M.H.S. art instructor. The stage lighting was tremendous, especially in the slow motion scene and Leland Ferris deserves a round of applause. I have heard many comments on the excellence of the actors and actresses who participated. Rebecca Phelps presented a perfect portrait of Aunt Eller. More than once people have commented on the smoothness of performance Saturday night when several changes were made in characters because of illness. Renee Dyer and Cindi Short both did wonderful jobs in their change of parts, even with so little time to prepare. Sheryl Mason, as Laurey and Steve Woodard as Curley deserve special praise for their displays of outstanding acting and singing abilities. Trevor Ford portrayed a rough, tough hired hand extremely well. Through outstanding make up techniques and the application of a beard, Bucky Taylor really "looked the part" of the little old man concerned for his daughter to have a future life with a man capable of a large dowry. His daughter, Ado Annie (played by Betty Harbin) was a fun-loving young lady who couldn't seem to keep her mind on one man for any length of time. Ray Sanchez put his "all" into his acting as he competed for Ado Annie's hand. The dancers looked very professional as they displayed choreography taught them by Mila Beth Gibson. Those who played the parts of hired hands were a definite asset to the production. I feel that the stage crew and the orchestra are also to be commended, for without them there could be no play without a great deal of unnecessary problems. I believe that the slow motion scene in which Trevor Ford, Steve Woodard, and Sheryl Mason participated was perhaps the most inspiring and climatic scene of the entire play. It must have taken great coordination and concentration to perform this portion of the play. For the overall production, those who participated, and those who helped to make it possible I say, "BRAVO!"

The hard work of other people often explain the success of abilities. Trevor Ford

OUTSTANDING PRODUCTION--"Laurey Williams" (Sheryl Mason) listens intently to the bidding--wondering who will be the highest bidder for her hamper of food. Waid Griffin as "Ali Hakim" plans to bid as "Andrew Carnes" played by Bucky Taylor tells him who the basket belongs to. "Oklahoma" has been acclaimed locally as an outstanding production by the Fine Arts Department of Muleshoe High School.

Panel Discusses Dating, Curfews

In conjunction with the study of dating and engagement, the Homemaking 11 girls last week arranged a series of panel discussions on dating which were attended by about 300 students during the day. Each class prepared a number of questions to be discussed and invited several boys, adults, and classes to join in.

Third period, Lana Moore narrated a panel consisting of Mrs. Lucy Smith, Mrs. Beth Manning, Keith Griffin, David Lee, Lee Ann Yerby and Deborah Wagon. They discussed what to do on dates in Muleshoe, opinions about lame dates, and a reasonable time for high school students to be in.

Coach Dick Stafford was moderator for the fourth period panel whose members were Mr. Black, Mr. Ethridge, Danny Shipman, Bobby Burge, Sheryl Mason and Renee Dyer. They had a lively discussion about forward girls, going steady and unreasonable parents.

The panel in fifth period was narrated by Betty Harbin, whose panel was composed of Mrs. Lucy Smith, Mr. Moore, Joe

Learn and Live Local Entrants Win Top Prize

Pat Riley, John Elliott, Dawna Locke and Sharron Davis. They discussed the question of couples meeting in town, girls drinking on dates, misunderstanding parents and reasonable curfews.

The general evaluation of the panels has been that they were entertaining, interesting and informative.

Homecoming Next Week

by Janet Ellis

The basketball homecoming game for this year will be Tuesday night January 21. The boys and girls will play against Tulia in the Jr. High School gymnasium. The girls game will start at six-thirty. The boys game will follow with the crowning at halftime. The candidates for king are John Woodard, Ricky Botkin, and Dennis Beene. The candidates for queen are Debra Hayes, Karen St. Clair, and Ann Douglas.

We hope to see everyone there.

WOE IS ME!--In this scene, Waid Griffin is telling a bunch of his friends that he is going to have to get married. He has finally been caught and will have to pay the price. He dreads married life. Pictured in the background, from left to right, Johnny St. Clair, Delton Bass, Royce Harris, Gary Ethridge and Lance Puckett.

KILLED-BY HIS OWN KNIFE--Here Curly is trying to disarm Jud, but in the process Jud falls on his own knife and is killed. A quick trial is held and Curly is set free.

THEY'RE FIGHTING--OVER ME?--In this scene Jud Fry, played by Trevor Ford, and Curly McClane, played by Steve Woodard, are fighting over Laury, played by Sheryl Mason. Jud is trying to stop the wedding of Jud and Laury.

I HATE YOU, JUD FRY!--In this scene Laury is telling Jud to stay away from her. She even goes so far as to tell him to get off her land.

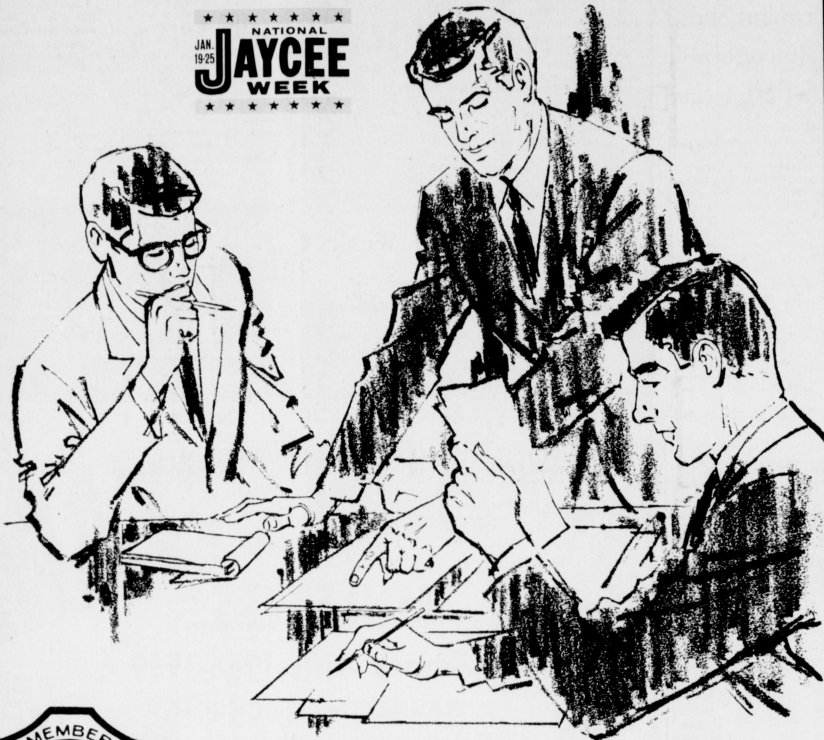

JUST A FRIEND OF THE FAMILY--Waid Griffin kisses Ado Annie, played by Betty Harbin, goodbye. In the Play, 'Oklahoma', Waid was a traveling salesman with an eye for the pretty girls.
