ROPES EAGLES SHOWING STUFF

With a start in which they failed to win a single nonconference game, the Ropes Eagles suddenly came to life, and have lost but one conference game -to Meadowand that game is a question mark, according to townfolk who witnessed it The referees, it is stated, lost their eyesight, and with Ropes driving toward the goal, a Meadow player was allowed to keep a forward pass which he caught on the first bounce.

One school official told us, "We know the decision was wrong, and after the game the other referees admitted a mistake had been made, but we could do nothing about it."

"You can in no way blame the Meadow players for what happened," said this same official. "They had no part in it-it was the rotten decisions."

However, to prove that the Ropes team has the stuff, on Friday night of this week they wallowed Amherst on the local field, 24 - 12.

Their playing shows the work of a master hand in the coaching.

As the teams now stand over the district, Ropes, Meadow, Whitharral and Whiteface now stand tied for first place.

If two teams are left on top, we understand, there is a play-off. If three teams are on top, we are told officials meet and choose the champions.

Since only two of our party had ever visited the State Fair, we also called in that city and spent some four hours there. We suppose it was a wonderful fair as so many people were there. We could not get the "missus" to take any of the fantastic ALL SIZES, 2-way cuffs, rides with us, so we did not do anything drastic. The electric building, with its amazing display of home appliances, made us almost long for the time when we will retire and can set up a home of our own.

We did not plan to stop at Carrolton, but a rear wheel bearing in our old wagon decided to retire from activity, and we had to have it replaced. This, perhaps, was one of the extreme highlights of the trip but from the friendliness of the place where the repair was made.

We never saw them before and may never see them again, but they accepted us as if we were long lost brothers or acquaintances. If we need their services again, we will certainly do our best to go to them.

We then moved on to Marietta and Ardmore, Okla. At Ardmore we visited Lake Murray which is certainly a spot of scenic beauty if there ever was one. The trees had not begun to take on much of their fall covering, but the green of the oaks against a deep blue sky dotted by a few floating clouds made one to know just a little of what the Psalmist meant when he said, "The heavens declare Edwin Whitehead, son of the Glory of God and the
