Brownfield Girl 2nd. Place Winner In 4-H Dress Revue

Renee Nelson of Brownfield was first runner-up in overall competition at the 1972 State 4-H Dress Revue here Friday in the Baker Hotel.

RENEE NELSON

LeJean Hill of Dalhart was overall winner. Edna Sustek of Bryan was cotton division winner and Janel Rod of El Campo took top honors in the wool division. Held in conjunction with the State Fair of Texas, the annual revue is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

Miss Nelson, 15, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Graves Nelson of Route 4, Brownfield. She has been in 4-H five years as a member of the Terry County 4-H Club and is a student at Brownfield High School.

For her top placing in the revue, Miss Nelson designed and created a wool ensemble featuring cape and jumpsuit lined in satin acetate and polyester. The rust-colored cape was topped with a detachable hood and included a pointed collar and topstitched tabs to hide the arm slits. Fur trim edged the bottom of the cape and the hood.

An off-white and orange stripe highlighted the rust background of the knicker-length jumpsuit which was belted in rust-colored suede. It featured pointed collar and long sleeves which ended in cuffs with top-stitch trim.

With the ensemble, Miss Nelson wore rust-colored knee socks and suede shoes to match. Miss Nelson estimated the ensemble took 120 hours to construct.

"I had to buy the fabric in January in order to find 100 per cent wool, and I had to choose a pattern that would be in style in the fall."

She referred to her "lack of enthusiasm for sewing a wool fabric in June. It's hot!" she grinned.

Winners and finalists staged a fashion showing for the public with two revues Saturday in the Women's Building Auditorium on State Fair grounds in which Miss Nelson participated.

The overall runner-up has served her local 4-H club as secretary and was district council member. She has been county delegate to the district dress revue four years, and served as coordinator of it.

She is active in church youth work, as a member of the Young Peoples Organization, and is a member of the Young Republicans.

In addition to sewing, she names jazz, tap, ballet, piano and "most sports" as her special talents and interests.

Powder Puff Football Game

Those who missed seeing the Powder Puff Football Game Thursday night really missed something. It was a trying experience for the girls who were playing. The Sophomores and Juniors took on the Seniors and Freshmen. Karen Arp scored the only touchdown for the Juniors and Sophomores early in the first quarter. The extra point attempt failed.

The Senior's and Freshmen's only touchdown was scored in the second quarter. Their extra point attempt failed, also. Each player wore a belt around her waist, with flags attached for easy removal. Most people are lead to believe that "Flag" football isn't rough at all, but they are mistaken. Those girls who played had to be a lot tougher than anyone would expect. Glenna Marcy lead the pack with the most tackles. The game ended in a tie, with the score 6-6.

More Volunteer Fireman Needed

FELLOW CITIZENS OF ROPESVILLE

The declining interest in our Volunteer Fire Department has become a matter of concern for me and other members of our city government. The last few meetings have had only five or six members in attendance.

You may or may not know that this poor kind of fire protection is an extra expense to the citizens of this community. The State Board of Insurance takes into consideration the type and quality of fire protection available when setting our fire premium rate. At the present time property owners in Ropesville pay 30 percent more on their fire premiums than would be paid on the same building in Anton.

At present the Ropesville Volunteer Fire Department is required to have an average of seventeen members present and two hours practice at each meeting to receive an insurance credit. We are not meeting this requirement, therefore our fire insurance rate is higher.

We are making an effort at this time to renew interest in the department among present members and encourage other citizens to join and take part in this organization. We are without a fire chief at this time and a new one will be elected shortly.

The next regular meeting will be Monday, October 23 at 8 p.m. Come and join and help build a fire department that will be of value to the community.

Looking at WASHINGTON

The New House-Effects Of Sweep-Norway, Denmark-Pompidou's Mischief-

Washington, D. C. -- Republican chances of capturing control of the House in next month's election have improved since the President assumed such a huge lead in public opinion polls.

The hope that the G.O.P. can gain control of the lower house (where chances are better than in the Senate) is exemplified by the recent visit of Vice President Spiro Agnew to Mississippi, and to other states where Republicans usually have had little chance traditionally in congressional elections.

In Mississippi there are currently three G.O.P. House candidates with respectable chances to change an old pattern in politics, and Agnew was careful to praise all three--though he avoided offending Senator James Eastland, a powerful Democratic Senator who heads the Judiciary Committee, by praising his G.O.P. opponent.

Control of the House by the G.O.P. will be brought within reach if a Nixon landslide produces a gain of ten or fifteen seats in Dixie--or more. Although Dixie Democrats often vote with the G.O.P. on legislation, they vote with Democrats in organizing the House and this in the past has almost assured the Democratic Party of House control, for there are well over a hundred House members from the South.

Norway's surprise rejection of membership in the European Common Market was helped along by French Prime Minister Pompidou's calculated mischief, in the eyes of many Washington and London diplomats.

On the eve of the vote in Norway, Pompidou announced he favored admitting Spain to the EEC; this caused a furor in both Denmark and Norway, where referendums on joining were about to be held. Both governments issued statements that they would object to admission of dictator Franco's undemocratic regime. But the damage had been done and in Norway, a few days later, voters already frightened over the possibility of being swallowed up in an organization French thinking might dominate, rejected membership by a narrow margin.

However, in the week after that surprise vote Pompidou's tactics were exposed and appreciated for what they were and Denmark's vote in favor of joining was bolstered by the Frenchman's ploy. Behind Pompidou's efforts are the old theme of Latin glory, versus the Anglo Saxon or English speaking world.

Northern Europe, of course, is not Latin. Standards of education, living and stability are higher, among other things. Whereas France might dominate smaller Latin countries such as Luxembourg, Belgium, etc.--and greatly influence Spain if that country joined, the northern European and Protestant countries are certain to look more to Britain for leadership and fair play. Thus Pompidou's sneaky effort to retain France's so-far dominance in the Common Market succeeded to a degree.

U.S. Radio, TV?

The case for a government radio and television service across the country continues to attract interest. Under the free enterprise system as we know it in the United States there is no such service provided the people by the government.

In the past the vast majority of us have been satisfied with our unique system, matched hardly anywhere else throughout the world, for two reasons. First, we take pride in keeping government out of things, or did. And we pay lip service, at least, to the theory that radio and television should be privately owned and operated in a free enterprise concept, because that supposedly prevents any administration from using them for propaganda purposes.

Are these basic assumptions, under which we have turned over the prime frequencies and channels to private owners, really valid? There is growing doubt.

One admires much about the British system, in which there is both commercial and government radio and television. Not having a government radio station and television channel, Americans are missing an almost unbelievable number of services, which people in European and other nations enjoy, have long enjoyed and take for granted.

While no one would propose to abolish any private station, and while they would vastly outnumber a single government station, and attract larger audiences, a government station and channel could provide every American with wonderful educational and cultural opportunities, plus much official and occupational information. The more one examines the possible blessings, in fact, the more attractive a government station and channel become.

As in Britain, or as we have arranged it with the Federal Reserve Board, the board or commission which would operate the government station could and should be made completely independent of politics and succeeding administrations in Washington. In that way the American people could at last benefit significantly from the miracle of air communications--to enjoy quality, non-commercial services and coverage of important musical, cultural and educational programs not now available to them because sponsors understandably won't pay for programs reaching only small segments of the population.

State Capital NEWS

By: Bill Boykin

BOYKIN

Gov. Preston Smith kept legislators guessing whether he would call them to work in another special session immediately after conclusion of the fourth called session.

Regardless of the outcome of deliberations on competitive rates for auto and home insurance, the session managed to pass a respectable number of the nearly 30 pieces of legislation submitted by the Governor.

Nearly a week before adjournment deadline, lawmakers handed the Governor bills he sought to restore some of his fiscal-budgetary authority. They gave him an emergency fund, authority to use it to head off fiscal crises and provided for some gubernatorial power to review need for budgeted spending.

These additional bills were among those finally passed and sent the Governor:

- *A $13.5 million appropriation for medical school building at Texas Tech University, Lubbock, and the University of Texas medical school at Houston.
- *An $8 million appropriation for a new school for the mentally retarded at Fort Worth.
- *A $317,000 appropriation to pay leftover costs of May-June primary elections.

*Exemption of aviation schools regulated by the Federal Aviation Agency from control by the Texas Education Agency under the new proprietary (private trade) school act.

*Authority for Midland to disannex from the Odessa junior college district.

*Establishment of Texas Film Commission as a statutory permanent agency.

COURTS SPEAK--The State Supreme Court refused to order a Houston judge to approve fees of court-appointed attorneys for poor defendants in a criminal case.

The High Court also refused to hear appeals of contests involving League City's tax system.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals found H. D. Nicholson was qualified as a candidate for district judge in Navarro County though he had not had a law office for the last six years.

AG OPINIONS--Third parties except the state and its agencies, whether individuals, associations, or corporations, may legally contract for dental care of citizens only by complying with the non-profit corporation act, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held. Martin's opinion said the Department of Public Welfare and other state agencies can so contract under the medical assistance act.

In other recent opinions, Martin held:

*House members cannot buy their old desk chairs, since state property must be disposed of according to statute.

*A Forth Worth ordinance regulating and licensing bail bondsmen in municipal courts does not conflict with the constitution or statutes.

*Nepotism law exemptions (for those with two years' state service prior to election of relatives) apply to year-round legislative employees but not to those who work only during legislative sessions.

*A new law authorizing Midland to disannex itself from the Odessa junior college district is constitutional.

*A local salary bill for assistant school superintendents is unconstitutional because it applies only to one county.

AWARDS PRESENTED--Cullen Luttrell of Sonora, maintenance supervisor for Sutton and Schleicher counties, received the third annual Lady Bird Johnson award for Highway beautification.

Luttrell's prize was 1,000 -- presented by the former first lady.

Television personality Arthur Godfrey participated in the awards ceremony.

Finalists included Luttrell, Milton C. Cambell of Ralls, Herbert H. Smith of Rusk, Melvin E. Bayless of La Grange and Rivera of Falfurrias.

AUTO TEST LOCATIONS PICKED--McAllen and Austin have been designated additional Texas test locations for the first official nationwide four-part General Automobile Mechanic test to be given November 21.

Other Texas test locations already approved by Education Testing Service of Princeton, N. J., are San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Amarillo, Beaumont, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston and Odessa.

Recertification tests every three years will assure mechanics they are keeping up with vehicle changes and servicing developments. The exams are available to nearly 800,000 mechanics in the U.S. on a voluntary basis.

APPOINTMENTS--H. G. (Pete) Andrews Jr. was named by Governor Smith as a member of the State Board of Public Welfare. He succeeds Will W. Bond of Hillsboro.

Suck That Root

In the old days drummers peddled many bottled wonders, supposed to cure anything from chest pains to a broken leg. Various brands of herbal medicine attracted the loyalty of various people, but much of the attraction was in its alcoholic content.

Now comes Dr. E.G. Dimond, of Kansas City, after a second trip to China in two years, who says that herbal medicines are often used effectively by the Chinese. (Dimond was one of the first U.S. doctors to believe there was something in acupuncture.)

He says the Chinese have a tremendous amount of information recorded and codified on their herbal medicines and that they can be effective in some cases. While the United States has turned completely to synthesis, abandoning analysis of botanical medicine, Dimond suspects there is a place for both.

For one example, he says he has seen case histories where herbal treatment has alleviated heart disease.

There might be something, after all, to the use of roots, herbs and plants in treating humans.

Bertrand Adams of Austin and Frank Hutchinson Jr. of Austin were appointed to positions with Texas Industrial Commission's new state office of minority business enterprise.

TEACHERS COMMISSION NAME Twenty four persons were named to the new State Commission for Professional Competencies.

The Commission will serve through September 30, 1974, and will include the presidents of professional organizations to be named later.

It will recommend statewide guidelines for teacher competency to the State Board of Examiners during a two-year period. The Commission will try to identify skills, personality, and qualifications which will make school teachers effective in the classroom.

YOUNG OFFENDERS MAY BE FREED--An Austin district judge's ruling may lead to freedom for several hundred reform school inmates who had no attorneys when they were committed.

Judge Charles Mathews told the attorney general's office to find out by November 8 which of the juvenile offenders waived rights to counsel. Mathews said a 1967 U.S. Supreme Court decision would require release of juveniles who had no lawyers and did not waive right to counsel. A Travis County legal aid official seeks release of 514 youngsters.

FIRE ANT PROGRAM STARTS--A joint federal, state, local program designed to control imported fire ants in Fort Bend County is set to begin this month, Agriculture Commissioner John Whit said.

About 495,000 acres will be treated with Mirex ant bait which has approval of the Environmental Protection Agency.

Mirex is a slow-acting compound and takes 10 to 14 days to kill the ants. It is not toxic to fish, fowl, animal or humans, White said. The program is expected to last about three weeks.

The House told Texas Highway Department by resolution it shouldn't build the controversial new departmental headquarters across the street from the governor's mansion and capitol.

Revenue from cigarette taxes dropped $106,729 from September 1971 to September 1972 -- to $15.34 million.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,

I had been going with my boy friend for almost two years when we had a quarrel and he stopped dating me. I called him up and we talked things over and started dating again but things were not the same as before. We never seem to agree on anything--he would want to go one place and I would like another. He would criticize my make-up and I didn't like his hair-cut. So he stopped calling me but I always thought he would come back.

But several days ago a friend of mine told me he was going steady with a girl who lives in another town. This made me so angry that I don't know what to do. Would it help if I called her and told her that he was my steady? I don't know what kind of girl she is to try and take someone's boy friend away. What would you do if you were me?

Dot--Ky.

Answer:

I would do nothing but be pleasant to my former boy friend whenever I saw him, if I were in your place. You say that you had broken off relations with this boy so I would not consider him your steady under the circumstances. It would certainly not serve your purpose to call this other girl unless you wish to cause more friction and bad feelings between you and this boy.

Louisa.

Of course, this type resident must vote absentee by personal appearance in the County Clerks office also.

The County Clerk's office is located in Room 201, second floor of the Courthouse, Lovelland.

Plans For Increasing 1973 Cotton Income Urged On Dept. of Ag.

Cotton program provisions aimed at increasing the 1973 income of High Plains cotton producers were urged on the U. S. Department of Agriculture by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. in a statement submitted to the Department October 13.

The Lubbock-based cotton producer organization, representing growers in 25 counties, made its recommendations in response to a September 16 Federal Register announcement that USDA will soon decide on the cotton loan level for 1973, Commodity Credit Corporation sales policies, the percentage of set-aside to be required, bagging and bale tie specifications and other variables under the Agriculture Act of 1970.

"We are asking USDA for a higher loan, for CCC sales policies that don't give government cotton an advantage in the marketplace over grower-owned cotton," said PCG President Ray Joe Riley of Hart, "and we are asking that the 20 percent of base allotments required for cotton set-aside not be changed in 1973."

The Act of 1970 says the loan level shall be set at 90 percent of the previous two-year average world market price for middling-inch, 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire cotton at average location, except that the Secretary of Agriculture may adjust the loan downward if he deems it necessary to keep the price of U. S. cotton competitive in domestic and foreign markets.

PCG's recommendation to the Secretary for 1973 is "That the loan level for 1973-crop upland cotton be set at the highest level permissible under the language of the 1970 Act...."

Calculations within the industry show that 90 percent of the average world market price for the period August 1, 1970 through July 31, 1972 comes to around 24.5 cents per pound and certainly no lower than 24 cents. The difficulty in arriving at an exact world market average for middling-inch cotton in the U. S. stems from several things. First, middling-inch cotton is not traded widely enough around the world to establish a meaningful average, therefore the average for strict middling-inch-and-a-sixteenth cotton is used and must be adjusted to a price for middling inch. Also, to convert the world price back to a U. S. price, freight costs, insurance costs, handling charges, currency differentials and a number of other items must be taken into consideration.

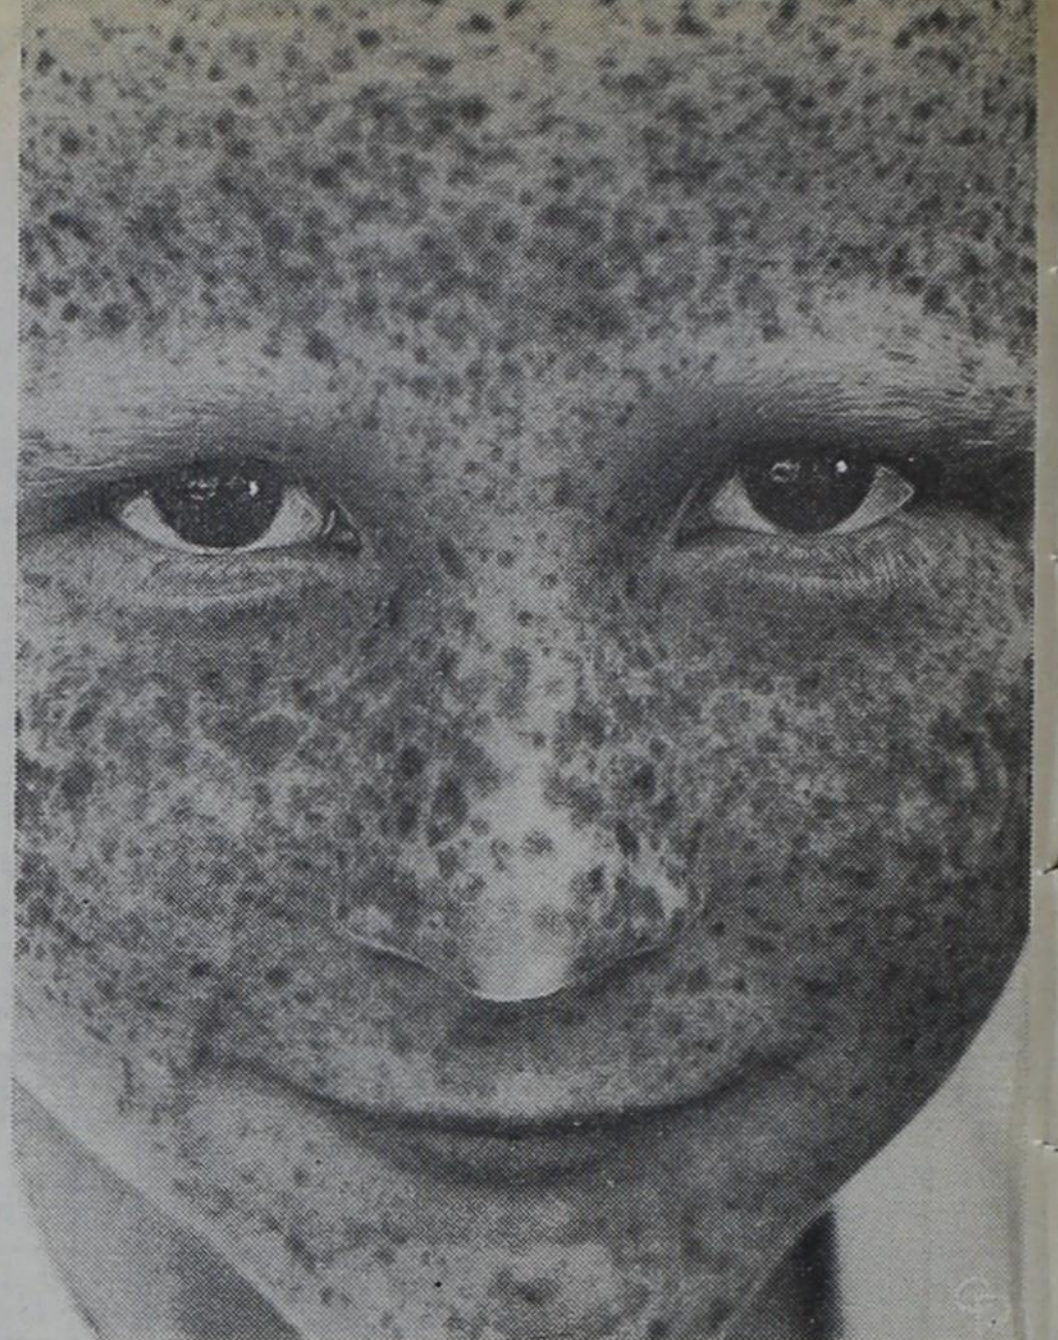

Of the loan for 1973 PCG's statement went on to say "There is wide agreement within the industry, including merchants and mill owners, that a market price of 25 cents per pound will not seriously affect cotton's competitive position with substitute fibers."

It was also pointed out that a higher loan is needed to protect producers against the disastrously low prices that appear to be the fate of 1972-crop cotton, and that without greater price protection producers could be expected to plant minimum acreage to cotton in 1973.

This brings up "the very real prospects for a continuous cycling from short supplies and high prices to long supplies and low prices and back again," which PCG pinpointed as the "greatest single existing threat to the U. S. cotton industry."

What is frost? Can it occur when the temperature is above thirty-two degrees?

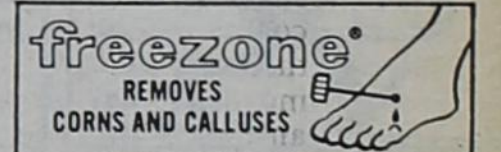

Frost is nothing but frozen dew and, naturally, dew will not freeze until the freezing point is reached at thirty-two degrees. So it has to be freezing to produce frost.

What confuses most people on this point is the fact that the temperature has to touch thirty-two degrees only briefly to freeze the minute water particles on blades of grass, etc. The frost might last an hour or two--and be visible in shady areas long after the temperature reading is above freezing--but you can be sure it dropped to at least thirty-two when you see frost.

Few people have the courage to resist the crowd, even when they know the crowd is off base.

New Tricks for Halloween

They're coming - moppets dressed like witches, ghosts, monsters.
The main thing is to keep your cool, and plan ahead. If you do, Halloween might even be fun for you.

Consider these suggestions for Halloween night:
Have a progressive Halloween party. Join with four or five other neighborhood mothers. Each will hostess a half-hour happening, like bobbing for apples at one home, a treasure hunt at another, a hot chocolate and cookie party (Carnation's individual packets of Hot Cocoa Mix are handy for this) - the cookies can be molded to Halloween shapes.

• Or, if you're going to stick with the trick or treat tradition, consider mixing some good nutrition items in with candy, things like fruit, nuts, and single serving packets of Hot Cocoa Mix.

• On the all-important question of costumes, why not bring our little friends into the design of them? Even mini-kids can draw a picture of how they like to dress up. The bigger ones can, under guidance, use scissors and the sewing machine to make simple outfits.

• To create the proper atmosphere at your house, you might consider dressing in costume yourself and having a line-up of pumpkin heads of different sizes and expressions (happy face, mean face, etc.). You can bring out the best (or worst) in designing talent by having a pumpkin-carving party with the big kids helping the little ones to design the faces.

• To give the tricksters a shiver when they come in, hang black threads from the top of the front door - very cobwebby. Candle-light also helps impart the mood.

• For safety, why not have neighborhood mothers establish "check-points" along the trick or treat route, each mother holding a jack-o-lantern? This avoids the "watchdog" impression given if mother tags along with the kids. In some localities, have the youngsters carry flashlights so they'll be more visible to cars.
