seat-becoming the first woman board member since the 1920's.
Clark Self Jr. was third in the eight-member field with 161 votes, just 38 votes behind Mrs. Burks. W. J. Shafer was fourth, followed by Pete Williams, Dorothy Mitchell, Earl Foerster and D. P. Casey.
A total of 577 votes, including 59 absentee ballots, were cast in the election. Supt. Lee Vardy said he thought it was about the third largest vote turnout for a trustee election here. Incumbents Joe Miles and Willie Heinrich did not seek re-election.
Besides the large number of candidates, the big turnout could probably be attributed to the fact that several farmers were on the ballot and the rural vote was heavy this year.

The new board held its first meeting Tuesday night and elected Ted Swanner as board president. Don Kendrick was named as vice president, and Tommy Davis elected as secretary. Swanner was the only trustee unable to make the Tuesday night session. Other members are Dr. M. J. McSween and Jack Clark.
In other business, the board discussed the Head Start program, heard a request from the Community Action Board of Lubbock County, heard a request from basketball coach Kenneth Housden, approved a new liability insurance program, and canvassed the votes of the trustee election.

T. J. Patterson, acting director of CAB, appeared at the board meeting to request office space at the Evans School building for a multi-service center of the CAB. The board also engaged Patterson in a lively discussion concerning the location of the summer Head Start program.
The regional office of the Office of Economic Opportunity had recommended that the Head Start program be moved from Evans school to either junior high or West Ward. Board members argued that the move would defeat the purpose of the program here, since enrollment would probably decrease greatly with such a change of location.
Patterson, who indicated his primary concern was with the neighborhood center, said the regional directive was aimed at achieving better "social awareness". He admitted that probably 75 percent of the children in the program lived near Evans, but he said holding the school in a predominant Negro area did not prepare the students for an integrated situation.

Dr. McSween asked Patterson if the physical plants made any difference in the program. He answered that the idea was that the school might draw a more integrated enrollment at junior high or West Ward.
Davis made a motion that the Head Start program be conducted at Evans school, "or not at all." The motion died for lack of a second. Trustees apparently wanted to wait and see whether or not a change in the location was forced by OEO.

The board did, however, agree on the multi-service center site for Slaton. Later in the meeting, trustees approved the use of office space at Evans for a CAB neighborhood center. It would probably be used only one day a week.
Patterson said about 5 percent of the people coming to the multi-service centers in Lubbock were from the Evans area of Slaton. He pointed out that the multi-service center is designed to help people become better citizens. "It is not a handout agency and not a welfare office," he stressed. "We want to show people the right direction when they need some type of assistance."

Coach Housden appeared at the board meeting to request a change in coaching schedules at high school. He said he was primarily concerned about basketball and needed more time with his teams. He asked to be relieved of some of his football coaching duties in order to have more time to work with basketball. He also thought boys should have more freedom of choice on the sports in which they participate, without too much emphasis on football. He said he had talked with athletic director Ernie Davis a number of times about the situation, but nothing has been changed. The board agreed to study the situation.

QUESTION OF RUNOFF ELECTIONS POSED

The election of city officials was completed Saturday when voters of Ward 2 (northwest) gave Otis Neill a 143 to 113 victory over Robert H. Davis.
Four new city commission members took the oath of office the past week, including Mayor David Hughes, Neill and Floyd Guelker (Ward 3) took the oaths Monday, while Hughes and Edwards were sworn into office last Thursday.
In the special election Saturday, a total of 256 votes were cast -- compared to 422 cast in the ward for the mayor's election last week. Neill fills the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. Hughes to enter the mayor's race. Neill's term will be for one year.

The new commission held a brief meeting Monday afternoon, following the canvassing of votes for the special election, and immediately was presented with a unique question. Ex-mayor Jonas Cain appeared at the meeting to ask whether or not the city was supposed to hold runoff elections when a candidate did not receive a majority of the votes.

A check of the city charter was a little confusing. The last article in the charter spelled out rules which apparently pertained only to the election of April, 1929, after the charter was adopted. City Atty. Carroll Smith agreed that the wording of the article was "vague and could be interpreted either way."
Smith also noted that if a city charter does not specify, then State law provides the candidates win with a plurality in cities under 200,000 population, but must have a majority in cities over 200,000.
The commission discussed the matter at some length, and decided that no action was necessary. It was pointed out that the mayor's race was validated last week by the "old" commission members. It was further pointed out that a precedent had been set in past elections where no runoff was held.

Slatonites Slate TCTA Meet This Week

Voting on constitutional revisions, new state officers, and Resolutions for 1969-70 will highlight the business agenda for delegates attending the 13th annual State Convention of Texas Classroom Teachers Association in El Paso, April 11-12.

Jerry Gentry, president of the Slaton Classroom Teachers Association, and Mrs. Gladys Morgan, president-elect, will represent Slaton at the convention.

Also planning to attend from Slaton is Bill Carnes, who is completing the first year of a two year term as member of the state executive board.

A 47,000 member, state-wide organization whose membership is made up exclusively of classroom teachers, TCTA has local associations in 215 Texas school districts. TCTA is the largest affiliate of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Headquarters for the convention will be the Sheraton El Paso Motor Inn. Business sessions will be held at El Paso High School. Mrs. Kathryn Townsend of Victoria, president of TCTA, will preside at the two-day meet.

Among important resolutions to be voted upon by the delegates will be those urging legislation to move Texas teacher salaries on the top of the national pay scale; to support a clear and feasible Professional Practices Act; and to provide a mandatory state-wide professional consultation agreement with school boards.

Nominees for president-elect of the association are Mrs. Evelyn O. Axelson, Orange; Mrs. Vivian Bowser, Houston; and Oather Raynes, Dallas.

Vice-presidential candidates are Mrs. Jackie Blackstock of El Paso and Mrs. Edna Stephenson of Borger.

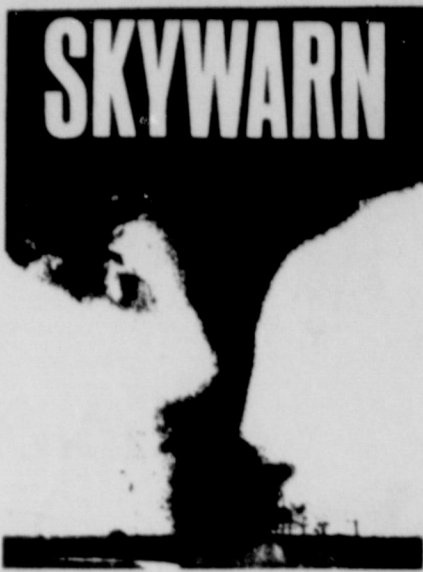

Miss LaVerne B. Wong of Waco, current president-elect of TCTA, will automatically assume the duties of president June 1.

Two speakers from the National Education Association will highlight the convention.

Delegates attending the NEA Luncheon Saturday, April 12, will hear Dr. Jack H. Kleinmann, director of the Office of Planning and Organizational Development.

Mrs. Mary Condon Gerau, legislative consultant, Office of Legislation and Federal Relations, will be the principal speaker at the concluding TCTA Banquet.

El Paso arrangements are being handled by Mrs. Margaret Thompson, president of El Paso Teachers Association.

In Time of Tornadoes

Published as a public service by The Slatonite

The Weather Bureau, a part of the Environmental Science Services Administration (ESSA) of the U.S. Department of Commerce, provides the first line of defense against tornadoes. The Weather Bureau is aided by hundreds of local network observers.

If you find yourself at school during a tornado warning—or wherever you may be—there are certain safety rules to follow, ESSA says.

- If your building is of strongly reinforced construction, stay inside, away from windows. Remain near an inside wall on the lower floor where possible. AVOID AUDITORIUMS AND GYMNASIUMS with wide, free-span roofs.

- If the building you are in is not reinforced construction, go quickly to a nearby reinforced building, or to a ravine or open ditch and lie flat.

- If you are in a car or open country, move away from the tornado's path at a right angle. If there is no escape time, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ravine or ditch.

- In homes, the basement usually offers the greatest safety. Seek shelter under a sturdy workbench or heavy table if possible. If there is no basement, take cover under heavy furniture in the center of the house. Keep some windows open, but STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS.

- When the announcement comes that your area is under a tornado watch, this means that the Weather Bureau has determined that conditions are such that a tornado could develop. At this time, there is no need to take extra precautions. Just stay tuned to your radio or television.

A tornado warning means that a tornado has been sighted in your area. At this point, persons in the indicated path of the tornado should immediately take safety precautions.

On the average, tornado paths are only a quarter of a mile wide and seldom more than 16 miles long. In spectacular exceptions, tornadoes have caused heavy destruction along paths more than a mile wide and 300 miles long. Tornadoes usually move at about 25 to 40 miles an hour. The forward speed can range from almost 0 to 70 miles an hour.

When they do strike, they are violent. In a matter of seconds, a tornado can turn a populated area into a mass of rubble.

To further the efforts to avoid loss of life along a tornado's touch-down path, ESSA has initiated SKYWARN, a tornado safety campaign to expand the network of volunteer spotters and encourage the widest possible participation in tornado-preparedness programs.

ESSA has available through the Government Printing Office many pamphlets such as Tornado and Tornado Statistics 1953-1967. Included in both are tornado safety rules suitable for posting.

Pamphlets should be ordered by number from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. Tornado, a 16-page pamphlet, contains pictures, definition of tornado formation, and some statistics. Number 1968 0-327-116, it costs 20 cents.

Tornado Statistics 1953-1967 is a leaflet containing statistics on tornadoes and the safety rules. Number 1968 0-306-755, it costs 5 cents.

UNLESS you live in Oregon or Nevada, chances are you will face numerous tornado warnings in the approaching tornado season.

And if you live in Texas—or in any other state along Tornado Alley—you have probably gone through the tornado watch-tornado warning bit many times.

Mathematically, chances that your home or school will be struck by a tornado are small. The probability of a tornado striking a given point in the area most frequently subject to tornadoes is 0.0363—about once in 250 years.

But tornadoes don't understand mathematics. Austin was struck by two tornadoes in rapid succession on May 4, 1922. And Codell, Kansas, was struck on May 20—in 1916, 1917, and 1918.

Tornadoes are most frequent in April, May, and June. Over a 12-year period (1953-1965), there was an average of 628 tornadoes a year in the United States. Texas hit the jackpot with an average of 109. Tornadoes occur in all states; but in the period studied, Oregon and Nevada had a yearly average of less than one.

The greatest concentration of tornadoes, 23 percent, occur between 4 and 6 in the afternoon. And 82 percent of all tornadoes come between noon and midnight.

Memo From Mac
by R.B.(Mac) McALISTER
State Rep., Dist. 76, Place 3

Lubbock's influence in the State Capitol is the best ever with Governor Smith at the helm. Now the Lubbock Representation will spread to the other side of the House. This week the engagement was announced along with the June 7th marriage of Speaker Gus Mustcher to Mrs. Donna Axum. Donna became a Lubbockite last year when she joined the Texas Tech faculty. Donna will plan to do television in the Austin area as she has done in Lubbock. Yours truly along with Representatives Parker, Caldwell, and John Allen serenaded the Speaker just before Tuesday's session with a medley of two songs, "Wedding Bells Are Breaking Up That Old Gang of Mine" and "There She Goes - Miss America".

The most influential man in the house, in many ways is the Sargent At Arms. When serious legislation is being considered the Speaker is quick to admonish every member to take his seat, to give complete attention and if he doesn't, the Sargent is ordered to make him do so. Veterans in the House say this years session has more distinction and decorum than the average. Speaker Mustcher believes "Horseplay" should come before and after the daily session, and I am sure our constituents feel the same way. Let us hear from you.

Life of Star Is Planetarium Topic in April

The life of a star, through birth, infancy, youth, maturity, and later years until its death is traced in the Planetarium show each Sunday at 3 p.m. during April at West Texas Museum.

Present estimates of the life span of a star are as high as eighty billion years. Stars we see are in all stages of development; some have just been born, others have passed their "childhood diseases" and are in their prime, and still others are declining.

Our own sun will be discussed. The supply of energy inside the sun is such that it becomes increasingly luminous and hot. In ten billion years the sun will be 100 times as luminous as it is now.

Life, as we know it on earth, will disappear. Average temperatures on mountaintops will be in hundreds of degrees Fahrenheit. Oceans will "boil away" a long time before the temperatures reach their maximum.

Admission to the Planetarium is 50¢ for adults, 25¢ for children, and free to members of the West Texas Museum Association.

Upcoming topics at the Planetarium are: May - "Eyes and Ears of Space"; June - "Thirty-two Moons"; July - "Mars, the Red Planet"; August - "Climate Capers".

Besides the Sunday lecture-demonstrations, other Planetarium shows may be arranged in advance for groups by calling The Museum.

Ring Finger

A wedding ring is generally worn on the third finger of the left hand because of an old belief. People supposed that a vein runs directly to the heart from this finger, thus heart and hand are offered together. Although the belief is not true, the custom continues.

Olen Crews, Rt. 2, Wilson, Rodney returned home from Viet Nam, recently after a year's stay of duty.

The next church social will be Wednesday night, April 30, Rev. and Mrs. Roscoe Trostle's daughter, Mrs. Rodney Thomas, a student from McMurry College, visited her parents during the Easter Holidays.

Scout-O-Rama Opens Saturday

More than 4,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers from 130 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts in the South Plains Boy Scout Council will present their annual Scout-O-Rama on Saturday, April 12, according to Colonel Haynes Baumgardner, chairman of this year's shows.

Three separate Scout-O-Ramas will be conducted from 1 to 8 P.M. They will be at the Panhandle-South Plains Fairgrounds in Lubbock, at the Agriculture Center in Plainview and at the Gains County Show Barn in Seminole. The shows will demonstrate and fun of Scout-O-Rama. Scouts will spend as much as wish, visiting the displays during the period of each show.

This year the Scout-O-Rama ticket admits an entire regardless of the scouts receive prizes for their unit. The top four units will have a free Astro-World and Gains County Show ticket.

Prices will be the same as last year, $4.50 for adults and $3.50 for children under 12. Beginning April 11, ASTROWORLD will be open on Fridays from 6 to 10 p.m. at $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for children.

Live shows by ASTROWORLD's young professionals who were so popular in the 1968 season, which opened last June 1, promise a whole new lineup.

In all, there will be some 65 entertainers performing on weekends this Spring. Beginning with the daily season, there will be well over 100 performers.

Upcoming topics at the Planetarium are: May - "Eyes and Ears of Space"; June - "Thirty-two Moons"; July - "Mars, the Red Planet"; August - "Climate Capers".

Besides the Sunday lecture-demonstrations, other Planetarium shows may be arranged in advance for groups by calling The Museum.

Other activities scheduled this week are the Adult Education Course set to begin Monday and run through Thursday and the newcomer's Bus Tour on Tuesday.

HOPE

An aura of hope pervades the American Cancer Society's offices. No claims of miraculous cancer cures are being made -- or even predicted. But, nonetheless, there is a distinct feeling the battle against the dread disease is slowly and surely being won.

The reason for this hopeful feeling can be found in many areas. Last year, for example, the President was informed that the number of Americans alive and cured of cancer had grown to 1,500,000, a hundred thousand higher than the year before. To be considered cured of most types of cancer, a person must have been free from all evidence of the disease for five years after treatment.

Discoveries of new drugs have helped in the fight against leukemia, cancer of the blood-forming tissues. These new drugs, together with more efficient utilization of earlier drugs, plus more specific techniques have helped a number of leukemia patients live beyond five years. This progress has convinced some scientists that a cure for leukemia may be found sooner than for many other types of cancer.

Other life-saving factors, the Society notes, are the increasing awareness by women of the value of the annual Pap test for uterine cancer and the slow but steady recognition by the public of the need for regular physical checkups.

These are but a few of the hopeful factors today which surround the whole subject of cancer. Yet, the battle still has a long way to go. Research must be intensified and carefully channeled, but there's a glimmer of light in the horizon. And we recommend the American Cancer Society's 1969 theme: Help yourself with a checkup and others with a check.

LETTERS to EDITOR

Dear Mr. Editor:

Each year the American Legion Auxiliary sponsors a Texas Bluebonnet Girl's State, Austin, Texas.

The local unit here until last year always paid for one girl or two. The American Legion and the Lions Club were good enough to send an extra girl in 1968.

This 50th Year of the American Legion we wish so much to send more girls. The deadline for two girls from one school is at hand and there has been no donation except one from the American Legion. Truthfully we have had to rob Peter to pay Paul so as to speak to get the registration of one in and need this money back in our funds.

Often after the girls take off on the bus many citizens ask why more did not go. More don't go because there have been no volunteer donations. This year the Unit voted to openly solicit or accept donations from anyone who desired, church or club groups or citizens who know Girl State is the best security our communities have for future leadership among women. A girl, honored to go, returns having learned leadership that will aid her community, state and nation.

Every citizen of Girl's State it is said, will for the rest of her life cooperate for the things that are good for her school and community.

To hear the Girl's State Speak

all would know that they have a right to say: GIRL'S STATE IS THE BEST STATE IN THE LAND. At St. Edwards Academy in June will walk 450 of the top girls of Texas. The American Legion Auxiliary invites all to help them help representatives from Slaton participate. Fee is $90.

The committee is Mrs. Glen Payne, chairman; Mrs. Robert L. Jones, secretary and Mrs. Speedy Nieman as publicity. Finance chairman is Mrs. Ovie Pinchert aided by Unit president, Mrs. Ellis Schmid, Mrs. J. A. Elliott is unit treasurer. The vote for the top girls will be given as soon as the Department of Texas releases their registration and will be announced in The Slatonite.

The Auxiliary thanks the Slatonite for its cooperation in always its publications of the phrases of our program.

Mrs. Ellis Schmid
Unit president

Dear Speedy and Lavon:

I appreciate very much your excellent sketches of the eight candidates in the recent school trustee election, but more important, I appreciate the democratic manner in which this was handled.

May I congratulate you for the fine job you have done and are continuing to do for the citizens of our community.

Sincerely,
Bettye Burks,
Executive Secretary

How To Cope With Housewife Boredom

It isn't him, it isn't them. It isn't you.

So, if boredom bugs you, don't blame your husband, the children or yourself. Instead seek a cure for boredom and you may gain a whole variety of new pleasures.

Your best-intentioned friend may give you absurd-sounding advice if you confide that the day-to-day routine is getting you down. "You have to get out more and do more things," she may say.

Isn't that a laugh with a schedule as full as yours?

If you're like most women, you are probably either (a) a member of something you wish you were out of; (b) tied to a project you feel you OUGHT to complete though you don't feel like it; or (c) a victim of the common psychological tendency to put unpleasant housework off by doing a lot of little things that aren't really necessary.

Take a tip -- do less! Duck. Pass the buck. If you want to get out of the group, make up your mind and do it. Tired of the project? Drop it, and make it up to the family (if it's something for them) by tossing them a special banquet. In housework, do the bad part first, then let the small stuff compete for your attention with more pleasurable activities.

But don't stop there. You can save time in other ways. Make a deal with another mother to pick up your children after school, then do the same for her a week later; you both get an afternoon off!

Spend 49¢ on a package of paper plates, then skip dishwashing for as long as they last.

Tack a "duty sheet" to the refrigerator door showing which child is to do what household chore, and when. Why should you be the horse? Skip the late at night movie in favor of bed, then get up two hours early and just loaf.

Schedule the household chores, instead of just doing them "as they come up," and you can arrange an extra day each week free of toil.

What to do with the time you save? Plenty -- and pleasantly. Pick one from Group "A" and one from Group "B" and see what many women miss out on.

Group "A" -- Outside Activities

1. Get a job. Working in a retail store, you'll meet new people, see more of your friends, and probably trim your waistline (if it isn't a bakery). Retarded children's homes need mothers who understand. Door-to-door sales companies need representatives (it's easier than it sounds). How about helping a doctor's receptionist, or joining one of the poverty programs? There's plenty of part-time work around if you look for it.

2. Go to school. Pay, and you can take college courses. For free, a local high school may have classes two nights a week. By mail, you can learn all kinds of things. You can add to your knowledge of child psychology, learn to sculpt, or find out how tough things really were for Marie Antoinette and her crowd. Or, wouldn't it be fun to learn the meaning of terms on a Chinese menu? (In MooGoo Gai Pan, for instance, "Moo Goo" means mushroom, "Gai" means chicken, and "Pan" means sliced.)

3. Lead a protest demonstration. If you want better school facilities, more cops on the beat, rubber mats under the playground slide, or whatever, marching down to city hall may do you a lot more good than writing letters. Getting girl friends together and signs painted can be exciting, and worthwhile. Be sure you clear your plans with the police; they are almost always neutral.

Group "B" -- at Home

1. Read the Bible from cover to cover, skipping wherever you wish. Start with the Book of Proverbs. Whether you are deeply religious or close to the borderline, says Dr. Oswald Hoffmann of radio's famed Lutheran Hour, "the Bible is filled with ideas."

2. Paint! So you're not a Da Vinci -- who cares? A "how to do it" book plus some brushes and oils will get you started, and you may surprise yourself. But look, painting on canvas isn't the only way; paint walls! Or windowsills! How about painting the attic into a tropical paradise (a lot of green and yellow, fake in the trees somehow, make the top blue, and throw in a few birds -- distant ones so all you have to show is the outline)?

3. Buy a marriage manual. Let your husband see you reading it, and leave it where he can find it. We rarely see as much as we can when we travel, many people would enjoy concerts more if they knew what to listen for, and books help us to get maximum pleasure out of travel, music and marriage.

4. Joke around. Two quarts of coffee and three girl friends, each of whom is told to be ready with three jokes before she comes. Mix, and enjoy. Serves four.

5. Plan on being rich. Think of a fat after-tax income level (how about $50,000 a year?), get some girl friends to do the same, then decide how you'll spend it. Cut things out of magazines. Make a scrapbook. In this world anything can happen, and you wouldn't want to be caught unprepared, would you? Any number can play.

When the game is over, don't be surprised if you realize that you have the greatest treasures of all. Once you are relaxed, enjoying life fully, free of boredom, delighted with your friends and new adventures, you may find that you have new glee in greeting your children after school and your husband after work. You'll have the home and family that millions of girls crave -- plus freedom from boredom to boot.

Help the American Cancer Society's programs of research, service and education. The life you save may be your own.

"Thank You"

MY SINCERE APPRECIATION TO ALL WHO VOTED FOR ME IN THE RECENT ELECTION, I AM GRATEFUL FOR YOUR SUPPORT, AND I PLEDGE MY FULL COOPERATION WITH THE MAJORITY HAS CHOSEN. AGAIN, PLEASE ME SAY "THANK YOU".

Since Calvary

Their sound went into all the earth, And their words unto the ends of the world. — Psalms 19:4

Jesus died on a cross upon Calvary, and the Apostles went forth unto the world. From the example of One Great Life upon earth the message of Christianity has passed from one civilization to another; from one generation to the next.

Always, there have been doubters and unbelievers. But always, too, there have been apostles and disciples — those devoted to the task of spreading the word of God, those who practiced faith in the manner of highest example.

Police Record Two Accidents

Two traffic accidents were investigated by police the past week, one of the crashes resulting in injuries. Slaton police also made nine jail arrests, issued 16 traffic tickets and jailed three persons for the Post Police.

Police reported that Jerry T. Dickerson lost control of his car on Garza street last Friday, and the vehicle jumped a curb and struck a fire hydrant and utility pole. Damage to the car was estimated at $1,500 and property damage pegged at $60.

Two out-of-town vehicles were involved in a collision near the US-84 and FM-41 intersection Tuesday evening. Drivers of the cars were Phillip Spaulding of Kerrville and Edward Killion of Floydada. Mark Hasbrouck, a passenger in the Spaulding vehicle, was slightly injured and taken to Marcy Hospital, where he was treated and released. Damage to both vehicles was estimated at about $700.

Police were checking a burglary at the Martha Bissard residence, 915 W. Jean. The house was reportedly broken into over the weekend, with some $8 in new pennies and $2 worth of collector's pennies stolen from a glass jar.

The Lubbock County sheriff's office investigated a burglary Sunday night at the Eugene Bednarz home four miles west of Slaton. Items valued at about $500 were taken from the home, including silverware, guns and a radio.

C-C Directors Hold Meeting

Directors of Slaton Chamber of Commerce met for a regular monthly board meeting Tuesday, holding a breakfast session at The Carnation House.

President Clark Self Jr. presided with routine business and committee reports highlighting the meeting. Carroll McDonald showed directors a new industrial brochure prepared for key agencies and organizations. The booklet includes possible building sites and available buildings.

C of C manager Ted Weaver reported that plans for a "community ambassador" program are nearing completion. He also reported on a bus tour that has been arranged by the newcomer committee, headed by Mrs. Bill Smith.

Attending the session were Self, Weaver, McDonald, Glen Akin, Jay Gray, Dee Bowman, Dick Hartman, Robert H. Davis, Speedy Nieman, Dr. David Hughes.

Rotary Hears Lake Proposal

A program on the proposed Yellow House Canyon Lakes Project was presented at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of Slaton Rotary Club last Thursday at the Community Clubhouse.

The program had been presented here several weeks ago at the Lions Club meeting. Representatives of the Lubbock Planning Department presented the program with a unique showing of color slides on two screens and a taped explanation of the proposal.

The plan calls for a series of eight lakes, beginning in the Lubbock city limits, and stretching to the largest and final lake just north of Slaton. Planners say the lakes would be a great asset to the area for water needs and industrial and recreational purposes.

Spring Festival To Feature Mexican Dinner

Something new for the Spring Festival sponsored each year by the Athenian Study Club, will be a Mexican dinner served from 5:30 to 7 p.m.

The money raised from the festival this year will be used to beautify Slaton. Other civic organizations are joining with the Athenians to make the festival more appealing.

The festival will begin at 5 p.m. and will be in the Slaton Junior High Cafeteria. Charge for the meal will be $1.25 for adults and 75¢ for children under 12. Entertainment will be provided, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The Athenians hope to raise enough money to repair the bandstand. Citizens interested in seeing the bandstand repaired may help by contributing. Donations may be mailed to Mrs. Carroll McDonald, Athenian president, 820 So. 20th St., Slaton.

ing public action. Loyalty Day was originated by the V.F.W. as a counter offensive against Communist and other anti-American May Day demonstrations. The V.F.W. members pushed the atheistic Reds and their sympathizers into the background with public patriotic activities dramatizing positive Americanism.

"Our 1,400,000 V.F.W. members are doing that on the coming May 1," Nelson said this week. "They will take the lead in dramatizing every loyal citizen's pride in being part of the United States -- and their dedication to God, Flag, and Country,"

Congress and the President have added to the patriotic fervor by officially designating May 1 annually as Loyalty Day and urging all citizens to participate in appropriate programs through their schools, churches and other groups in every community.

Loyalty Day plans in Slaton include the following activities. There will be a parade starting at 10 a.m. at the City Park. It will progress from there to the City Square, where there will be a public speaker.

First, second, and third prizes will be given for the best floats. Anyone interested in entering a float contact Dewey Nelson, Travis Mann, or Casey Walling.
