

Three Year Pacts To School Chiefs

Board Renews Teacher Contracts

Approval of teacher contracts and extension of administrative pacts highlighted a regular monthly meeting of Slaton School Board Tuesday night.

New three-year contracts were extended to Supt. J. C. McClesky, athletic director Ernie Davis, the four school principals, and business manager Buford Duff.

The superintendent's contract, still with two years to go, was extended one year while the others had two years added on to their one-year pacts. All current teacher contracts were offered one-year renewals.

In other business, trustees approved the textbook committee's report on adoptions for the 1970-71 school year, discussed a kindergarten program, studied a proposed athletic budget for next year, and approved bills.

Supt. McClesky reported an average daily attendance of 1,782 students the past six weeks, compared to a total enrollment of 1,807.

The school chief also reported that a kindergarten program with age and income limitations would be mandatory for the school to offer next term. Limitations are reduced each year and, according to state plans, all children will be required to attend kindergarten by the 1977-78 term.

The program next term must be offered to "educationally handicapped children who are at least 5 years, 5 months old at the start of the school term. Attendance is voluntary, however.

For the purpose of the program, an "educationally handicapped" child is defined as either-or: (1) A child who cannot read, speak and comprehend the English language to the extent that he is not familiar with the common English language words that are necessary for normal progress in the first grade, (2) A child who is from a family whose annual income is $3,000 or less.

A child who is not educationally handicapped is not eligible for enrollment in the kindergarten program until 1973-74.

The superintendent briefly discussed a "two-track" system in high school, with plans being made to start initiating the program next term. Idea is to offer vocational classes for students who do not plan to attend college after graduation.

Although the local fund assignment for next year will be increased about $12,000, the superintendent was somewhat optimistic about the school district's financial condition.

"If we remain frugal for another year, I believe the district should reach a good financial condition," he told trustees.

Teacher salary increases approved by the state, the new kindergarten program and other items will bring about the increase in the local funds needed, it was pointed out.

Snowstorm Hits Area

A massive late-winter snowstorm covered the Slaton area in a blanket of white Wednesday, adding more moisture on the heels of a heavy rainfall accumulation last Friday.

The weather forecast early Wednesday called for snow to accumulate up to three inches. The late wintry blast was reminiscent of big snowfall ranging up to 13 inches on March 15-16 last year.

Thunderstorms and accompanying light shower activity had dumped almost three inches of moisture on the Slaton area Thursday and Friday, providing an invaluable boost to seasonal cover crops in the area and added significantly to the best underground moisture seasons in years.

The rainfall, reported by most residents as consistent throughout the area, ranged from 2.5 to 3 inches by most reports. Heavier amounts of 3 to 4 inches were recorded further south of Slaton and around the Post area.

Most farmers observed that the rainfall was "out of this world" insofar as area agriculture prospects are concerned. The good moisture base is expected to cut down on the necessity of extensive pre-irrigation come planting time for cotton.

Driving was slightly hazardous around the city Wednesday morning as snow continued to fall. Traveler's warnings were also posted around the area by the highway department.

The temperature dipped to 26 degrees here Wednesday morning after a low of 38 degrees Tuesday morning. High was predicted for 30 Wednesday, after the mercury had climbed to a week's high of 78 on Monday.

'DAN DAVIS FUND' LAUNCHED BY SLATON HIGH STUDENTS

Slaton High School students have started a drive to help pay expenses while Dan Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Davis, is in the Texas Rehabilitation and Research Center in Houston. This is his second stay there within a month.

Patti Neill and Georgia Geer are co-chairmen of the project with every class at SHS pitching in to help. In fact, each class claims it will raise the most money to help their friend.

The "Dan Davis Fund", which is established at Citizen State

Bank, now has a balance of about $300. The local American Legion Luthers Powers Post donated $100, the freshman class donated $100, $65 was donated by individuals at the Lions Club Queen contest Friday night and the rest was given by individuals.

The senior class is sponsoring two Benefit Basketball Games Thursday, March 19, in the SHS gym. The senior girls will be playing their mothers and the boys will be playing their fathers. The public is invited to attend.

Then on March 20, the SHS basketball girls are sponsoring an assembly at 11:15 a.m. when "all sorts of crazy things" will be featured in a style show.

A barbecue will be held in the junior high cafeteria from 12 to 3 on Sunday, March 22 with all proceeds going to the fund. Johnny McCormick will be the chef cook. Tickets are on sale at $2 for adults and $1.25 for children under 12. Those wanting tickets in advance should contact Georgia Geer, phone 6435.

The entire student body will want to take part in the sophomore's project as they have (See DAVIS, Page 4)

SCHOOL RACE DRAWS SEVEN

Only one more candidate filed last week as deadline time came for persons seeking election to city and school posts.

Clark Self Jr., owner of Self Furniture, announced as a candidate for the Slaton School Board last Thursday. His entry gave voters seven candidates from which to choose three new trustees.

The picture on the city level stayed the same with Otis Neill and the Rev. Johnnie Moore as candidates in Ward 2, and the Rev. F. D. Conright unopposed in Ward 4.

The school board candidates drew for places on the ballot and will be listed in the following order: Sharon Head, Rev. Emilio Abeyta, Clark Self Jr., F. C. Kitchens, Joe Gamble, J. F. (Jake) Wendel, Alex Bednars.

Voters of the school district will vote for three, and the three persons polling the most votes will be elected to the board. Absentee voting starts Monday in the school business office, 300 S. 9th St. Election day is April 4.

In the city commission election, absentee voting has been set from March 16 through April 3. Voters who will not be in the city on election day, April 7, can cast ballots in the city secretary's office during the absentee voting period.

Dance Halls Target Of New City Law

Slaton City Commission took a big step toward control or elimination of "honky tonks" with passage of a dance hall and public dances ordinance during a regular meeting Monday night.

Slaton Police Chief Walter Head had been seeking stronger legal means to combat the operation of such establishments. He emphasized that after-hours operation of some joints drew "undesirables" from other towns in the area.

The new ordinance, passed on first reading Monday night as an emergency measure, provides for the licensing of dance halls and spells out strict sanitation requirements on public dances.

In other business Monday night, the commission heard another citizen's complaint on sub-standard housing conditions, discussed the city's liability insurance coverage, discussed collection of delinquent taxes, and approved monthly bills.

Members of the commission attending were Mayor David Hughes and commissioners J. S. Edwards and Otis Neill.

Although Ordinance 334, concerning dance halls and public dances, goes into effect immediately, the commission voted to give establishments 30 days to comply with the new law. A legal notice on the ordinance is published in today's Slatonite, so enforcement is expected to start on April 11.

Steve Ruiz, along with his father, appeared at the commission meeting to lodge complaints about uninhabited houses in the southeast part of town. Ruiz said the buildings were a "menace to the health and welfare" of residents, pointing out that one boy had been bitten by a rat.

He further complained of homes where no toilet facilities were provided, not even an outdoor toilet. The mayor pointed out that city law provides that houses within 150 feet of a sewer line must hook onto the line and have adequate toilet facilities.

The commission has discussed the sub-standard housing situation in previous meetings, and the mayor said some 75 such houses had been spotted in an unofficial survey. The commission has attempted to secure voluntary permission to

Jury No-Bills Slaton Man

The jury, which returned 58 indictments, no-billed Norberto G. Diaz, 30, a former policeman who has been charged with murder with malice in the Jan. 24 shooting death of Anselmo Garcia Jr., 22, outside a Slaton pool hall.

Diaz, who had been on the police force almost four years, had resigned on the day prior to the shooting incident.

OES Commemorates 55th Anniversary

A special program, commemorating the 55th anniversary of the Slaton Chapter No. 585, Order of the Eastern Star, was held Tuesday night in Masonic Hall with recognition given to all past worthy matrons and patrons.

Using the colors green and white, a "yesterday" theme was carried out in the hall and dining room decorations. Spring flowers were arranged in old fashioned hats, candles and old fashioned lanterns were used for lighting, commemorating the organizational meeting of the Slaton Chapter in 1915. Twenty members were present for the initial session, only one of whom survives. She is Mrs. Eva Smith who now resides in Wichita Falls.

Work of the past matrons and patrons was related according to decades by Mrs. Willie Kate Schmidt, program chairman. She told of the early years when the chapter's meeting room was located over the Higginbotham Lumber yard with oil lamps used for lighting and coal stoves for heating. The group then moved to the old Teague building, and finally in 1927 to their new quarters (the present Masonic Hall) which was equipped with gas and electricity. This and other notable events in the 55 years of the chapter's progress was told in rhyme by Mrs. Schmidt. She pointed out that the highlight of the 70's was the recent admission of Mrs. Beulah Hampton to the Eastern Star home in Arlington. This home is a project of the local chapter.

The program opened in ritualistic form with Mrs. Judy Lanford, acting worthy matron and D. J. Bailey, worthy patron in charge. Pearl Landmon, a member of the fraternal visit committee, and F. C. Odorizzi of Lubbock, a member of the Masonic educational committee, were presented to the east. Thirteen past matrons and seven past patrons were escorted to the north by Mildred Lokey. M. Chamption of Amarillo; and Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Odorizzi of Lubbock.

Yellow and white spring flowers were used as a centerpiece in the dining room and the anniversary cake was decorated with a gold lettered "55". Green punch and cake were served with Judy Lanford presiding at the punch bowl, and a silver service was used for coffee. Hostesses were Mrs. Lee Moore, Mrs. Vera Ayers, Mrs. Lanford and Mrs. Schmidt.

Past patrons present were R. L. Smith, Jack Smith, Bevis Hama, R. M. Chamption, Ray Ricker, Douglas Wilson and O. B. Landmon. ### It's a woman's WHIRL

BY LAVON NIEMAN

Different things have happened during the past few weeks to lead me to believe that Slaton has the best bunch of high school kids anywhere. There are always those who don't get enthused about anything (just like adults), but I do believe the majority of our students are headed in the right direction. As I visited in the basement of the Latin Baptist Mission last week, I saw girls working with little school children, trying to help them do their home-work. This impressed me, because this world has become so busy and involved I wasn't aware this many would give their time each week. Then there's the Candy Strippers that give their time at Mercy Hospital and do a fine job. And then, I found out that our SHS kids really do care more about a friend "in need" than having everything for themselves. When they became aware of the high medical expenses for Dan Davis, a sophomore, each class was eager to raise money to help. I could go on and on. Something seems to be happening in the hearts of our youth to make them want to tell others about Jesus and the difference He can make in a human life. Through prayer from us adults for the youth, and through prayer by our youth... all things are possible. Who knows... there may not even be a "Rock Festival" near Slaton. Anyway, that's my prayer. Think about it.

Basingers Honored

Over 180 guests registered at the open house given Sunday honoring Mr. and Mrs. Albert Basinger of Albuquerque, N.M., on their 50th wedding anniversary. The open house was a real reunion for some of their friends as some hadn't seen each other in 35 to 40 years. The open house was given in the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Guests were registered by Mrs. Ronnie Dunn. Receiving gifts for the couple were Mrs. Paul Basinger and Mrs. J. C. Leake.

Refreshments were served from a milk glass punch set, iron stone coffee service and a gold leaf nut bowl. A centerpiece of candleabras filled with cascading white carnations back dropped with candy tuff and polished leather with lighted tapers decorated the table which was laid with a white cut work cloth. A white three-tiered wedding cake decorated with gold leaves and bells was served by Mmes. Donald Basinger, Clarence Basinger, Sam Ellis, Dick Morton, Ed Lowe and Miss Laura Lynn Basinger.

Others in the house party included Mmes. J. Martin Basinger, Harmon Chilcutt, Paul Winterrowd, E. O. Boyd, Virgil Smith and Miss Lana Foster. Guests were registered from several cities and states.

Thanks for your cooperation with the news this week. "The trouble with being a leader these days is that you can't be sure whether people are following you or chasing you."

Recent Rains Termed Best Yet

Hello friends and neighbors! How about that wonderful rain that we had on Thursday night, Friday and Saturday morning?

We got close to 3 inches and it fell just perfect! The farmers around here are saying that it is the best rain we have ever had at this time of year. How very thankful we should be!

Recent visitors in the D.D. Pennell home were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cederholm, Mrs. Lena Ferguson and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Long, all of Post, and Mrs. Bessie Howard of Slaton. Their grandson, Heath Pennell of Plainview, spent the week-end with them while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Pennell, were in Ruidoso, N.M.

Looks like we are losing another family from our fair community. Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Myers will be moving to Post very soon. They haven't lived here very long, but those of us who have come to know them surely do hate to see them move.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis visited with relatives in Oklahoma over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Callaway spent the weekend at Conchas Lake and Dam in New Mexico. They pulled their trailer up there and were supposed to meet several other couples, but the weather scared everyone off except the Callaways and one other couple.

FISHING? Edmund and I went out to White River on Sunday afternoon. We took a whole car load (well nearly) of fishing equipment along, but after watching other fishermen asking a few questions, we found out that the fish just weren't biting, so we didn't fish any. The lake was very pretty and it felt good, just being that close to where the fish are! Later, we visited with Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Voigt and family at Crosbyton. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Voigt from Slaton were also visiting with Leroy and family.

A belated "Happy Birthday" to Jerry Winterrowd who celebrated his birthday on Friday, March 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long and J. H. Poindexter from Lubbock went to Snyder, Okla. on Friday where they visited over the weekend with the George Long family, the Frank Long family and Albert Long family. They also visited with Mr. Poindexter's sister, Mrs. Susie DeShazo. While they were away, Cathy Long stayed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Spence Bevers. On their way to Snyder, the Longs stopped in Vernon and visited with a nephew, Scotty Calvery.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Mueller from Artesia, N.M., visited over the weekend with Mrs. A. Wilke.

The senior play last Thursday night was just great! Mrs. Kuykendall is to be commended once again for the fine job of coaching these kids and getting them ready for the "grand premier".

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Purdy and children have moved from the F. E. Weaver house to the Rinne house on the Wilson highway.

Here is a little "gem" for the day: "You cannot prevent the birds of sorrow from flying over your head, but you can prevent them from building nests in your hair."

Slaton Nursing Home Personalities

Featuring ... MRS. KATIE NIEMAN

Mrs. Rebecca Catherine Nieman, who resides at Slaton's Nursing Home, will celebrate her 90th birthday Sunday, if she had one birthday wish, it would probably be to have a visit from her four children and their families.

Mrs. Nieman lived in or near Wilson since 1916 before moving to the home a few years ago. She enjoyed having her own home and having friends, relatives, grandchildren and great-grandchildren over to eat her homemade cookies and bread.

This Wilson pioneer came to America in 1887 when she was just a young girl from Oldenburg, Germany. They came on the Battleship Maine and landed at Galveston. The family settled at Shiner.

On Nov. 13, 1901 the former Miss Friederick Rebecka Catherine Muller was married to Fritz Nieman in Shiner. He also came to America from Germany in 1887, but on another ship. They lived at Shiner until moving to a farm near Wilson in 1916. Mr. Nieman died in 1937.

To this marriage was born four children, all of whom are still living. They are Adolph of Levelland, Mrs. Alma Maecker of Wilson, Edwin of Morton and Willie of Lake View near Tahoka. She has 15 grandchildren, 39 great-grandchildren and two great-great grandchildren. A devout Christian, Mrs. Nieman is Lutheran. She never missed a church service at her church in Wilson when her health was where she could attend.

Although her eyes are weak now, Mrs. Nieman can still be remembered for all the beautiful crochet she put on pot holders and gave to loved ones.

The 39 candidates were judged on beauty, personality and poise--each counting one-third. Out-of-town judges were Melba Jackson, Mel Lisman and Gordon Deering.

Special music was provided by the Slaton High School Girls' Choir and Mixed Choir, both under the direction of Mrs. JoAnn Joiner, choral director. Susan Cagle and Joe Johnson also presented specialty numbers, and Julie Wyrick provided piano accompaniment. Mr. and Mrs. Joiner also sang a duet.

Judges selected 10 finalists before naming the top three. Others in the top ten were Carol Mosser, Judy Eilen, Patti Neill, Petra Gipson, Glenn Williams, Cynthia Akin, and Benita Zapata.

Up in the Air BY ROGER EVANS We are real proud of the progress that has taken place at Slaton Municipal and sure would like for one and all to drop by in their spare time and see what's going on. (Sunday afternoon is a good time to come out and watch the glider pilots act like soaring eagles). The airport sort of started bursting at the seams and the first thing we knew we were all out of storage space. We have added a room to work on aircraft engines and added a large hangar to store additional aircraft. Also moved in a 12 by 50 metal building to be used as a class room for ground school. Thanks to Cecil and Forrest Lumber for the two pecan trees they added to the landscape. You know Slaton people are the finest in the world and its sure great to be a part of the community. We have always wanted Slaton to be proud of the Airport and we are doing everything possible to make it the best small airport in the country.

Pupils Study About Enlarged Pupils

Laughter rolled out of Coach Jackie Stewart's third period health class one Monday morning all because the class studied how an eye works.

After explaining how the pupil enlarged in the dark, Coach Stewart added that when most people lie, the pupil is affected in the same manner.

Somehow the subject changed, and Coach Stewart launched into one of his famous hunting trips. Laughter soon broke out though when a voice in the back of the room spoke up, "watch his pupils, everyone!"

Phrases to Ponder

What would the world be like if everyone's speech was taken at face value? Or what would it be like if everyone read only the dictionary meaning into words and phrases? Such literal communication would not only make life dull, but most of the common slang phrases would be tossed out the window, or is that swept under the rug, or ... oh, forget it!

He played dumb. (Is that a new game by Parker Brothers?) Would you hold my seat for me? (Gets heavy, doesn't it?) He held up a service station. (Strong, isn't he?) Call me a taxi. (Okay, you're a taxi.) He drove her crazy. (Is that some sort of new foreign car?) She caught the bus. (That was somecatch!)

He passed by the skin of his teeth. (I always thought it was enamel.) She burns me up. (That hot, huh?) You've got to take the bull by the horns. (Go ahead, you fool!)

He came within an inch of his life. (That's cutting it pretty close.) Don't beat around the bush. (Mow over it.) Lay your cards on the table. (I can't get them out of my sleeve.) Get it off your chest. (Are you kidding?) She gave him the brush off. (With all that dandruff, he needed it.)

Would you carry me downtown? (You're too heavy.) He's all washed up. (You mean he finally took a bath?) She's a dumbbell. (A fifty or hundred pounder?) He made a good impression. (He always had big feet.)

She upset his apple cart. (She always was a rough one.) Come clean. (A little water never hurt anybody.) He got cold feet. (That's what he gets for going barefoot in the snow.) She gave him a cold shoulder. (Some present!) Let's clear the air. (Pollut-

EDITORIALS

Have you entered an event in the Interscholastic League Contest? Not very many people in SHS have. What is the reason? One of the reasons most students do not enter is because they are afraid their friends will make fun of them. But all crowds follow in each other's footsteps; so if you show interest and enter, your friends will become interested, too.

Another excuse most Slatonites come up with is they are not smart enough or do not want to make a fool of themselves. How do you know how smart you are or how you might come out in the contest without giving it a try?

Although some teachers do not work with these events, SHS students should show they care by entering at least one event. If you show an interest, the teachers will be glad to sponsor you.

There are many events that you could enter such as typing, number sense, science, journalism, shorthand, slide rule, and spelling. Why don't you plan to enter an event this year?

Teenagers Find Need For Teaching Here

For six weeks a group of devoted Slaton girls, with the assistance of Mrs. Clarence Caywood, have been doing a community service that few people are aware of.

These teenage girls admit that they are the ones reading the most rewards. They are meeting each Monday from 4:15 to 5:30 p.m. in the basement of the Latin Baptist Mission on East Panhandle to help youngsters with their homework and problems they are having in learning.

The project started with members of the Young Women's Association of Westview Baptist Church thinking positive. They thought if this program works in other towns... why not in Slaton?

Now girls from other denominations have joined them in the work. The girls are Susan Cagle, Janet Gossett, Glenna Smith, Cindy McWilliams, Sue Brake, Sandra Brake, Debbie Breedlove, Barbara McCain, Vicki Milliken and Karen Fleming.

The program, which is certainly non-denominational, is for students from the first through the third grade. There are between 37 to 42 boys and girls who attend regularly. Refreshments are served to the children before they leave. Mrs. M. E. Cagle is serving as refreshment chairman and she says various women donate the punch and cookies.

We asked some of the workers how they got interested in the project. One said "We have fun helping them". Another said, "I have a brother who has trouble with his school work and became to realize how difficult it is for some students".

Another enthusiastic worker said, "I get a pleasure out of seeing them learn. They do better each week". Then another said, "I plan to go into teaching and I think this will be one way to find out if this is what I like".

An elementary teacher told this group of girls not to be discouraged because some of the students would be so slow. Many of them have very little help from home because their parents are not well educated enough to do the work themselves. Then others come from such large families, there seems to be no time for personal help with homework.

About Mercy

"And they lifted up their voices, and said, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us." —John 17:13

Wherever Jesus preached upon earth, hands and voices reached out, seeking aid, forgiveness and courage to pursue a persecuted faith. The quality of mercy shown clearly throughout the life of Christ upon earth; it persisted even unto death upon the cross.

Some of us believe mercy is only something to be received from the hands of a master, a king, or a victor in battle. We do not realize that mercy is ours to give as well as receive, as is love, kindness, and joy.

When you think of mercy, consider such things as forbearance, compassion, willingness to forgive and be kind; leniency.

As Jesus preached and lived mercy, so may we attempt to give this precious gift to any fellow man.
