FIRST-BALE AWARDS GIVEN, TOP FARMER NAMED AT F-M BARBECUE

Area's First Cotton Is Harvested

FARMERS ARE HONORED---Ronald Schilling, 36, left, was named Tuesday night as "Farmer of the Year" at the 13th annual Slaton Farmer-Merchant Barbecue. Schilling, a native of Slaton, farms some 480 acres and resides about 3 1/2 miles west of Slaton. At right are the producer winners of the first three bales of cotton, who received cash awards of $150, $100 and $50 from Slaton Chamber of Commerce. Left to right are Stonewall Jefferson of Southland, first bale; Gabriel Trevino of Acuff, second bale, and Roger Kitten of Slaton, third bale. (SLATONITE PHOTOS)

An estimated 800 persons turned out for the 13th annual Farmer - Merchant Barbecue here Tuesday night, with highlights of the event being the presentation of cash awards for the area's first three bales of cotton and the naming of Ronald Schilling as "Farmer of the Year."

Stonewall Jefferson, a winner three years ago, brought in the first bale of cotton near Southland Friday and received the $150 cash award from Slaton Chamber of Commerce.

The second and third bales followed on Saturday and Sunday and were produced by Gabriel Trevino of Acuff and Roger Kitten of Slaton. They were presented $100 and $50, respectively, by the Chamber.

Schilling, presented the plaque as "Farmer of the Year" by Mayor David Hughes, farms 3 miles southwest of Slaton. A native of Slaton, the 36-year-old farmer has 320 acres of irrigated farmland and 160 acres dryland.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schilling of 920 S. 19th St. He and his wife, Elsie, have three daughters and a son--ranging in ages from 1 to 8. Mrs. Schilling is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schacher of Nazareth.

Hughes served as master of ceremonies for the barbecue banquet. J. C. McClesky, a C of C director and superintendent of Slaton schools, gave the welcome address. He was a "pinch hitter" for Robert Davis, C of C president, who was unable to attend. Roy Lee Heinrich gave the farmer's acceptance address.

Entertainment was provided during the meal by Tony Privett and Wesley Fondy. A large number of gift certificates from local merchants were also distributed during the event.

The first bale of cotton was ginned Friday at Hackberry Co-Op Gin after Jefferson harvested the 590-pound bale just north of Southland. The cotton actually came from Garza County -- just about two miles from the four - county boundary of Lubbock, Crosby, Garza and Lynn.

Jefferson planted the dryland cotton May 3 and had only one "good shower" after that. He started pulling the cotton Thursday and hands went over about 12 acres to get the 2,380 pounds of seed cotton. Jefferson has been farming at Southland since 1938 and has rented the Iva Basinger farm since 1957.

Trevino's second area bale was taken to the Acuff Co-Op Gin shortly after noon Saturday. The bale weighed 495 pounds and the seed weighed 860. Trevino farms about one-half mile east of Roosevelt School. He has eight children, and five of them were aided by eight friends in pulling the cotton.

Attempted Burglary, Accidents Reported

Slaton Police captured a suspect in an attempted burglary of the O. Z. Ball store early Sunday morning, while a second suspect escaped, Chief Walter Head reported this week.

Police also investigated two accidents with injuries and made several arrests on various charges.

Gerald Fountain, 19, of Lubbock was charged with attempted burglary in connection with the incident at O. Z. Ball's. On their regular patrol, police spotted two men in the alley behind Ball's and the men started running.

Police apprehended one of the suspects and then found the lock on Ball's clothing store had been tampered with. A tire tool was also found near the door, but entrance was not gained.

A family of five from Johnson City escaped serious injury when their small foreign-made car collided with a car about 11:30 p.m. Friday at the intersection of US-84 and the Woodrow Road.

Taken to Mercy Hospital were the driver, Jackie N. McNeese, 25; his wife and three children--ranging in age from 1 to 6 years. The couple was treated and released the next morning, while the children apparently escaped injuries.

Bill T. Callison, 44, of Slaton was driver of the other vehicle. Neither he nor a passenger were injured, according to the report. Investigators said the Callison vehicle pulled into the path of the McNeese car, which was travelling north on US-84.

The other accident early Sunday morning involved a car driven by Charles L. Thomas, 20, of Slaton and a parked car owned by John H. Planagan of 360 E. Panhandle. Police said the Thomas vehicle was headed east and travelled across the road and hit the parked car. Jerry L. Thomas, 24, a passenger, was taken to Mercy Hospital with minor injuries.

Police Chief Urges Citizens' Support

Calling on citizens to "become concerned about city government," Slaton Police Chief Walter Head cautioned members of the Slaton Lions Club Monday that the local police department is facing some critical needs.

Speaking at the Lions Club regular weekly luncheon meeting, Chief Head cited the primary needs as more competitive salaries for officers, improved jail and office facilities, and purchase of a radar unit.

"The only way the situation can be improved is for you and other concerned citizens to let the mayor and city commissioners know your feelings," the police chief told the Lions.

Head said he realized the city has had financial difficulties and "the city commission has a hard time deciding where to spend your tax dollars." He added that he felt the commission "wants to know your opinion so they can make decisions which agree with the majority of the taxpayers."

Commenting on the pay situation, Head said the department recently lost "two fine young officers who are moving to higher - paying police jobs in near-by cities." He pointed out that patrolman start at $380 a month in Slaton "with no hope of more than $400 a month regardless of how long they stay."

The police chief also listed "poor jail facilities and lack of space" in the police building. "It smells like the sewers because of bad plumbing problems," he added.

He said the department needed a radar unit to patrol school zones and other areas in the city. Due to new regulations, an officer cannot charge a motorist with exceeding safe and prudent speed, he stated. The ticket must list the speed at which the motorist was "clocked."

Head said he would not allow his officers to pursue a speeder in a school zone. "That would (See CHIEF, Page 12)

Tigers Tackle Brownfield In Season Opener Friday

As one of the district favorites for the first time since 1965, fans can remember, the Tigers launch a tough conference schedule Friday at Brownfield with hopes of proving their potential.

Stadium time is set for 8 p.m. at the new stadium as the Tigers meet with an improved Class A Brownfield team. Slaton, dropping in 3-AAA last season, defeated the Cubs by 33-8 in one of their better performances.

Coach Ernie Davis, entering his fifth year as head coach, was a little apprehensive this week after the Tigers missed a scrimmage session.

"We needed another scrimmage to see how some of our boys would perform at certain positions," he stated.

Slaton was scheduled to scrimmage Lubbock Dunbar here Friday evening, but the visitors didn't show as the Tigers and hundreds of fans waited. Davis said the Dunbar coach apologized for the mistake, saying he was mixed up on the date.

However, Coach Davis reported the team in good physical condition and anxious to get into action. The Tigers have been bothered more with blisters on their feet than with more serious injuries.

The Tiger boss said the opener with Brownfield "is going to be tough . . . our boys will have to be up and get after it if they hope to win." He was quick to add that "these kids want to win."

Davis listed his probable starters on offense and defense, and it will be primarily a senior team. Only one junior -- guard Brad Winchester -- was named on the defensive crew. Two juniors -- guard

Steve Mosser and tackle Willie Freeman -- were named on the offensive team. Three seniors were tabbed for two-way duty -- end Paul Payne, center-tackle Charlie Geer, and halfback - safety Frank Self.

Here's the probable offensive starters: Ends Payne and Allen Sanders, tackles Tommy Hargraves and Willie Freeman, guards Ollie Rainwater and Mosser, center Geer, quarterback Terry Mosser, halfbacks Self and Donnie Rogers, fullback Alan Fondy.

On defense: Ends Allen Walters and Payne, tackles Dick

Davis and Geer, guards Winchester and Charles Thomas, linebackers Glen Akin Jr. and Ted Dixon, halfbacks Bruce Schuette and Dub Simmons, and Self at safety.

There are 15 lettermen on these two units, plus the three juniors and halfback Rogers who moved up from the junior varsity of last year.

Davis' main concern as the grid opener approached was whether or not all the boys were in the right place. He pointed out this was the main objective of the scheduled scrimmage with Dunbar, to test some of the gridgers at their positions. "We could be making some changes after our first game," he added.

The Tiger mentor thinks Brownfield will have an improved team this season, and reports on their scrimmages with Canyon and Seminole bear this out, he stated. He is concerned about stopping the wishbone-T used by the Cubs, featuring a 5-6, 216-pound fullback, Harold Jackson.

Jackson was a junior who did not play last year. The Cubs also have 6-5, 200-pound Mike Roberson, and returning starter Chuck Price, 150, in the backfield.

Brownfield's new coach, Harold Teal, thinks the Cubs will throw more this year with junior letterman Mark Nall, 160, handling the quarterback post. The Cubs return 14 lettermen, including five offensive and five defensive starters.

Successful football always gets down to blocking and tackling, and Coach Davis is hoping the Tigers have the muscle to get the job done. The key could be the Tiger tackles--

If you are 35 years old or older, the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness urges you to see your ophthalmologist every two years from now on—because you're in the age group most often struck by glaucoma, a blinding eye disease. Glaucoma cannot be cured, but, the Society says, with early detection and careful treatment, it can be controlled. Because you could have glaucoma and not experience pain or other obvious symptoms, these periodic visits to your eye doctor are essential.

It's a woman's WHIRL

BY LAVON NIEMAN

Football season is really in the air. Men are talking the game and if women aren't sure just what a "three or seven technique" is, then you might hear them discussing what new outfit they plan to wear to Brownfield Friday night and to the Texas Tech game Saturday.

Tigers, we of the female gender may not know what the game is ALL about, but there'll be a bunch of us out there rooting for you Friday night.

I remember the last football game I attended at the Brownfield stadium. We had just moved to Brownfield from Lamesa and since I didn't know anyone, Speedy hesitantly asked me to sit in the press box with him and help spot while he kept everything down on paper. Well, that sounded good to me. After all, he always had a nice warm seat out of the rain and sleet. That seat in the press box sounded better the more I thought about it.

By the time for the kickoff, the press box had filled with scouts from other towns, along with news media and announcers. The smoke from all those cigars and cigarettes just about had me, but I was determined I'd enjoy that nice warm seat by my husband (after all, other women got to sit with their husbands and ask foolish questions if they needed to know what was going on).

Seems to me Brownfield had the ball first and didn't do too good, but when it came Lamesa's turn, they went all the way for a touchdown. Now, I didn't have time to think that I was supposed to now be a Brownfield fan -- because after all I had graduated from Lamesa High and lived there several years. In fact, I just didn't think, I jumped up and down and started yelling for joy that Lamesa had scored. Well, I seemed to feel everyone in the press box looking at me. It dawned on me, things like yelling and jumping for joy just aren't done in a press box. So, I quietly got up, went outside the press box, found me a seat by no one I knew and yelled all I pleased. That's my first and last experience in a press box during a varsity football game.

I hope you'll read "The Pants Corner" in today's Slatonite. It will be a weekly featured advertisement giving fashion news, bargains and tips. Wanda Hutto, owner of Sanders Pant & Top Shop will write the tips each week and we think it will add something to our society pages.

MAMA. At six years--our Mama knows everything. At 10 years--Mama knows a lot. At 15--we know as much as Mama. At 20--decidedly Mama doesn't know a great deal. At 30--we should be able, all the same, to ask advice of Mama. At 40--Mama knows something after all. At 50--Mama knows everything. At 60--Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could only still ask Mama?

Cook Of The Week

Mrs. Talkmitt Cooks For Family Of Nine

BY MARGRET BARTLEY
Mrs. Monroe (Lorine) Talkmitt, of Wilson, cooks for a family of nine, and has loved cooking all her life. She has been married 22 years, and lives on a farm near Wilson. We are featuring her this week in our Recipe of the Week series.

Mrs. Talkmitt sends her homemade bread to bake sales and cake auctions, instead of pies and cakes. One loaf sold for $4.50 at an auction last fall. The Talkmitts have two daughters, Janis, 18, who is enrolled in Tech, and Twilla, 14; two sons, Darrow, 16 and Quintin, 8; and three foster children, Rosario, 14, Luciano, 11, and Robert Ortiz, 8.

Although she doesn't bake much during the summer months, Mrs. Talkmitt bakes at least 200 loaves of bread a year. We are featuring her bread recipe this week, along with one for Hamburger Goulash, which really is a favorite with the children.

HOMEMADE BREAD
1 pkg. Fleischman yeast
1 teaspoon sugar
4 1/2 cups water
10 cups unsifted flour
2 tablespoons salt
(yield-3 loaves)

Dissolve one package yeast with one teaspoon sugar in 1/2 cup lukewarm water. Let rise undisturbed for 10 minutes.

In a large bowl, mix yeast mixture with two cups of lukewarm water and two cups unsifted flour, and let rise in a warm place about 30 minutes. (You should always keep your mixture out of air - conditioner drafts)

Knead. Add two cups warm water again, and four cups flour mixed with two tablespoons of salt. Stir well. Add four more cups flour and work with hands until dough is not sticky. Form into large ball and grease lightly all over. Let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk. (About 1 1/2 to 2 hours)

Divide into three equal portions and put in three greased loaf pans. Let rise about 1 1/2 to 2 hours, or until doubled in size again. Bake at 425 degrees for 10 minutes ONLY, then turn oven to 350 degrees and bake for 25 minutes. Remove from oven and let set in pans for 5 minutes before removing.

To keep the bread, it should be wrapped in plastic bags while slightly warm, so a hard crust won't form.

HAMBURGER GOULOSH

1 T. chili powder

An eye examination could possibly save your life as well as your vision, says the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness. A number of serious body disorders and diseases can first be indicated by abnormalities of the eye. All the more reason to have regular eye examinations, advises the Society.

Newt Hielscher, "humorist with a message", will be the guest speaker at the annual membership meeting of the South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc. The meeting will be held in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum, Tuesday, Sept. 15, at 6:00 p.m.

Cataract is the leading cause of blindness in the United States today, according to the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness. Surgery, the only known treatment for cataract, is safe and effective in 95 out of a hundred cases. The Society gives the reasons for cataract remaining so high on the list of causes of blindness as ignorance to the fact that treatment is possible, and the unfounded fear of many cataract sufferers of the surgery itself.

The annual meeting of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. has been set for 9:30 a.m. Sept. 29 in the Municipal Auditorium on the Texas Tech campus.

According to Donald Johnson, PCG executive vice president, speakers for the two hour morning program will include J. Dukes Wooters, newly appointed general manager of Cotton Producers Institute, and Charles G. Scruggs, editor of Progressive Farmer magazine and chairman of the Texas Legislature's interim study committee on natural fibers and textile development.

The program calls for adjournment of the PCG meeting at 11:30 a.m. to permit those interested to attend a Cotton Producers Institute presentation scheduled for noon in the Red Raider Convention Center.

The first application of low volume malathion in the High Plains Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program was successfully completed on Friday, Sept. 4. And according to Ed Deas, field service director for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the organization responsible to producers for the program, "this is an excellent start."

Dean said "It rained Aug. 31, the first scheduled day of spraying, but after that the weather cooperated beautifully and spray planes flew with only minor interruptions for the next four days." The first dose of weevil-killing insecticide this year covered just under 100,000 acres, about a third less than was covered by the first application in 1969.

"Extensive surveying this year discovered fewer infested acres than were found last year," Dean explained. He cautioned however that it is impossible to tell at this stage to what extent the control zone may have to be enlarged as the season progresses. "But," he said, "we know from past experience that additional infestations will crop up and the control base will have to be broadened."

In 1969 it became necessary to add over 50,000 acres to the control area that was sprayed in the first application. Weather permitting, program officials hope to begin erial spraying again on Sept. 7 in order to complete the second application on approximately the same acreage by Sept. 11. These first two rapid-fire shots are designed to reduce populations and either stop or reduce migration by breaking the weevil's reproductive cycle. Subsequent applications, on a 12 day schedule, will continue until the end of the season to kill remaining weevils before they can attain "diapause," the stage in which they hibernate through the winter.

The farm bill recently reported by the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry is now slated for consideration in the Senate floor during the week of Sept. 14. The outcome remains in doubt. Amendments will doubtless be offered to change the Committee's bill in several respects, but the major conflict is expected to build around the limitation of payments to individual farmers. The Senate Committee version goes along with the $55,000 per crop per farmer. The Senate Committee version goes along with the $55,000 per crop per farmer limit passed by the House. But the body of the Senate, in an amendment to the agricultural appropriations bill, previously endorsed a limit of $20,000 per person. And proponents of a limit at that level will mount a strong effort to override the Committee's recommendation.

Diane Jaynes Participates In VAST During Summer

Miss Diane Jaynes, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Stan H. Jaynes of 805 S. 22nd Street, Slaton, spent this summer in Blairsville, Ga. as a volunteer with a program titled Summer VAST (Volunteer Appalachian Service Teams). This church and community service program is sponsored by Hinton Rural Life Center, a leadership training facility of the United Methodist Church, in cooperation with the Southeastern Jurisdictional Council and the General Board of Education of the United Methodist Church. VAST affords various opportunities for college age students to be in ministry in Appalachia.

Miss Jaynes was assigned to serve in Georgia with another VAST volunteer, Miss Kelva Corbett of Citronelle, Alabama. Their period of service began June 14 when they, along with 16 other volunteers, reported to Hinton Rural Life Center, Hayesville, N. C., for a week of orientation training which included sessions dealing with rural Appalachian culture, community processes, social change, leadership and communication skills, theology of mission, visitation techniques, creative activities, et cetera. As a VAST volunteer, Miss Jaynes and her team mate have worked with the Union County Cooperative Ministry, which includes eight United Methodist Churches, in setting up and conducting Vacation Church Schools, working with youth fellowships, teaching Sunday School classes, singing in the choir and playing the piano in situations where there were no local pianists available. Community activities included, among other things, assisting in such community projects as Head Start, health services, home visitation, children's Story Hours, and the Georgia Mountain Fair, which was held in a nearby rural town.

In working with the youth, the two volunteers planned programs and activities such as ice cream socials on the town square, hiking on the Appalachian Trail, swim and work days, and skating. According to their reports, one of the highlights of the summer was the planning and coordinating of the Youth Camp where junior and senior high age youth were charged $1.00 a day to cover the cost of food, housing and activities. During the week the youth participated in study session, camp meeting services, folk games, boating, swimming and hiking.

In giving a summer in service to others, Miss Jaynes, a member of First United Methodist Church in Slaton and a junior at Texas Tech University, states that the returns have been the rewarding experience of meeting many warm and wonderful people.

Friday night at 8:00 p.m. The Pirates have played two scrimmages earlier this month with Friends and Dalou.

The Spur game of October 9 has been changed from Friday to Saturday night, October 10. This is Spur's homecoming, and they requested that the change be made. The rest of the schedule remains the same.

YOUNG FARMERS The Cooper Young Farmers held a tour Tuesday, with approximately forty - five people attended.

The tour consisted of several varieties of cotton, hybrid millet, maize, a S.P.F. hog operation, a cattle feed lot, and a laying hen operation.

"For with God nothing shall be impossible." --Luke 1:37 In these modern times, many of us have become so accustomed to progress and change that we are difficult to impress. At least, we try to give this impression. Behind our dark glasses aren't true, of course. There is always something new under God's sun. It is not all good and it is not all perfect. But, much of it is wonderful and worth seeing. The important thing is that we should all be aware of the fact that all which is not perfect or wonderful can be made better. It shall not be made better because God, to whom nothing is impossible, worked a miracle--but because we raised our dark glasses and lifted our eyes to see something that needed to be done... and did it.

Nursing Home News

BY BOBBIE GREER It's a nice day today and everyone is feeling fine. We are still making Christmas balls and pillows for craft. Ludie Geer has made a lot of pillows. We still need lots of old beds to use for our Christmas balls. So if you have any that you don't want, we may be able to use them. We had a treat last Friday when Rev. Vernon Baggerly led the 11:30 devotional. Everyone enjoyed having him, and he has been so nice to come anytime we call him. We appreciate this a lot. Rev. J. L. Cartrite led the Sunday afternoon service, and music director, Murray Vise played the piano with Tony Privat leading the song service. Eight members of their congregation came with them to visit the home. Thanks to all who came. Mary Ehler and Mrs. Georgia Davidson are on the hospital list this week.

Short Staple Cotton In Short Supply

"Looks now like the tightest supply situation will exist in the cheaper short staple cottons, as was the case last year," says the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. "There is virtually no short staple cotton in government stocks or in private hands. But the High Plains, if varieties planted are properly pegged, should produce significantly more cotton stapling below an inch than in either of the past two years."

Wilson Opens Grid Campaign Against Anton

The Wilson Mustangs open their 1970 grid season at home Friday night, hosting the Anton Bulldogs in a non-conference game.

Kickoff is set for 8 p.m. on the Wilson gridiron Friday, and Coach Al Mitts hopes his gridgers can pick up another district title this year.

The Mustangs won the 5-A championship last year and lost to Sundown in 4-B district while posting a 9-2 mark. Wilson was moved back into 4-B this season, and will be meeting Sundown in district action this season.

Wilson lost its big ground gainer of last season, with the graduation of Stephen Brieger. He gained more than 1,500 yards and scored more than 100 points. The Mustangs have senior quarterback David Wiedert, however, after an injury sidelined him last season.

Wilson also has a massive forward wall for a Class B school. The line will average about 197 pounds per man, led by huge tackles Mark Gatzki, 260, and Richard Savell, 249, boosting the average.

A good turnout is expected for the opener Friday night at Wilson launches the new football campaign.

'Saddle Pals' Riding Club Elects Officers

New officers were elected last week for the Saddle Pals Riding Club. Elected were: J. W. Basinger, president; Cecil Bland, vice president; Wayne Hill, parade marshal; Billy Lester, assistant parade marshal; and Maria Timms, reporter.

The club met Aug. 29, between Southland and Post at the Bland's and rode 2 1/2 miles to a lovely spot for a picnic. The weather was cloudy and perfect for riding.

Only three members were absent. The group had lots of food and fun and on the way back, there was time for pictures and games on horseback. The regular meetings are held on the second Thursday of each month and all horsemen and their families who live in this area are encouraged to come and visit with the club.

American Medical Association was organized in 1847.

Our Friday Night Hero

Friday night, in virtually every city and hamlet from the windy plains of the Panhandle to the sun-kissed Rio Grande Valley, from the piney woods of East Texas to the Big Bend country, Texas' September Song will again ring through the air. High school football, played as only the youth of the Lone Star State can play it, will light fields and fill stands everywhere.

It's a time when a very special breed of youngster steps into the spotlight - some rather bashfully, others as if to ask what in the world took so long. He's the school-boy football player, a magically complex kid with short-cropped hair and a skinned nose; a boy who looks upon his evening chores with a stone-faced stare - a little afraid, yet determined; unsure, but eager to give it his dead level best.

He's the kid down the block; son of a lawyer or banker, postman or plumber prepared through daily sacrifice to give his part, modest, but firm in his belief that his particular team is the best around.

He's the super hero who makes the sportswriter's job easy and the college scout's mouth water - the scrub who prospers in that quiet satisfaction that comes from just being a part. Both approach their respective duties with the same vigor and enthusiasm, determination and dedication. In doing so, the great and not-so-great stand on equal ground.

The high school football player is tomorrow's poet and scientist, teacher and politician, trying today in the way he knows best, to show that he deserves admittance to that fascinating, often bewildering world of manhood. He's today's hope - assurance that tomorrow will be a brighter day.

He's his own worst critic but the first to applaud the performance of his best buddy. He likes nothing more than winning but respects the rules which govern the game.

He dreams the dreams of youth - glory, stardom, success, and adoration. By the same token, he accepts loss with the same humility and pride generally reserved for those who occupy the winner's circle.

He likes out of town trips, pep rallies, short workout days and the swelling pride that comes from seeing his name in the morning paper. He's the natural athlete to whom everything comes easy; the skinny kid who spends long hours perfecting the most simple of tasks.

He's the hero of little brothers, girl friends, and mothers who live in the constant fear that her boy will be injured. He's the culmination of dad's dream - a youngster he can proudly point to and say, "That's my boy..."

On his shoulders ride the hopes of the entire community - the students, the man on the street, and all those who have worn the school's colors before him. He readily accepts the challenge, without reservation or doubt, vowing to perform to the best of his ability.

He's too busy doing wind sprints to bother with stealing hub caps, too tired after an afternoon of blocking and tackling to build protest signs. He may not get the same size headlines as those who are threatening the very foundation of our society, but he'll run until he's ready to drop if it will help defeat an upcoming opponent.

He's the kid who blushes from praise yet bristles if you degrade his teammates or coaches - the kind of fella who can make you feel almighty small when, criticizing a defeat, he answers simply that "we did our best".

He's what the Red, White and Blue is all about; as American as apple pie; refreshing as the cool breezes which signal him to center ring.

It'll be good to see him again.... (Amarillo Globe-Times)

Cooper to Host Lorenzo Friday In First Game

The Cooper Pirates kickoff their 1970 grid campaign at home Friday night, hosting the Lorenzo Hornets of District 4-A.

Coach Pete Hurst and his Pirates counted only one non-conference loss last year and that was to 4-AA champion Frenship. Cooper returns 18 lettermen who hope to improve on the fine 7-3 record of last season.

The Pirates offense Friday night will be guided by veteran quarterback Jack White, a fine passer who is starting his fourth straight year at the man-under post. Cooper has three fine running-back prospects, too, in Johnny Aleman, Dennis Smith and Gilbert Martinez. The latter was White's favorite receiver last year.

Coach Hurst thinks the key to a successful season might be with the offensive line, and the forward wall will be getting a test in the first contest.

The Pirates have a tough schedule before getting into District 5-A action. They take on the Class AA Roosevelt Eagles in the second game of the year.

Junior Varsity Has Scrimmage

Slaton's junior varsity Tigers held a scrimmage session with the Lubbock High B-team at Lubbock last Thursday.

Coach Bill Shaha reported he was pleased with the effort displayed by the squad, which numbers about 24. The junior varsity has a nine - game schedule which starts Sept. 17 at Frenship.

Sophomore back Ron Bartley was impressive in the scrimmage last week, breaking on two long runs. Fullbacks Tommy Walters and Kenny Schuette displayed power running, and sopho quarterback Steve Nieman showed potential as a passer.

Soph tackle Curt Woolever was a defensive leader. Other line standouts include Dwayne Buxkemper, Stan Jaynes, Clyde Kitten, Leslie Melcher, Tommy Taylor, Dan Butler, Jerry Hopper, Brad Lamb and Hector Alvarado.

to offensive end and he handles the place - kicking duties. He has been consistent on points-after and is threat on short field goals.

DANIEL ROSS HUGHES STEVE VINEY

Roosevelt, Now In AA, Opens At New Deal

Roosevelt Eagles take their 1970 grid season where they're in a new class -- playing 4-A season with the Lions in moved up to 4-AA.

says his line may not be as quick. Roosevelt had scrimmage sessions with Crosbyton and Hale Center the past two weeks, and Powell feels the squad "accomplished a lot" from the practice contests.

Powell, starting his fourth year as head coach, plans to carry about 27 or 28 gridgers on the varsity -- leaving about 25 for the B team. He has a young team with only nine seniors on the squad.

The senior returnees include three fine ends -- Ross Hughes (150), Ricky Daniel (170) and Steve Viney (150). Hughes was all district last season and Daniel and Viney both made honorable mention.

Other senior standouts include fullback Steve Maines (170), tailback Johnny Brown (160), halfback Robby Fletcher (150), and center Steve Holland (155).

Junior Don Jackson (155), who saw lots of action last year, will be the quarterback, and junior letterman Walter Mann (185) gives speed in the backfield. Junior lettermen tackles Jimmy Matsler (195) and Armando Gonzales (190) lead the Eagle line.

Powell named these probable starters for the opening game Friday:

DEFENSE -- Hughes and Gonzales, ends; Dickey and Matslers, tackles; Holland, nose guard; Brown and Danny Poyner (155 Jr.), linebackers; Steve Viney (150 Sr.), rover; Maines and Fletcher, halfbacks; and Daniel, safety.

TIGERS---

both offense and defense. Top performances here could help mold the front lines that spell the difference.

Leading the line play are returning starters Geer, Thomas, Rainwater, and ends Payne and Walters.

The all - important line - backing posts are manned by returnees Dixon and senior letterman Akin, who moved from defensive halfback. The Tigers have an experienced secondary in Simmons, Schuette and Self.

The Tigers will go with the wing-T offense again this season, hoping to display a balanced attack and control the ball. Senior signal - caller Mosser may throw the ball more this year, and Davis is hoping Rogers--the fastest man on the team--will become a break-away threat.

Fondy, who was a starter at halfback last season, should provide power up the middle for the Tigers. He was third in rushing on the team last year, second in scoring, and first in pass receiving. He is also the punter and averaged 33.7 yards a kick last season.

Self was used mostly on defense last year, but his speed is being utilized on offense to start the season. Schuette, returning defensive halfback, will probably see action on offense, too.

Allen Sanders, a reserve center last year, has been moved

LETTERS to EDITOR

Two Views of City Business

Editor,
The Slatonite,

We propose "pay as you go" for the city dads--it has worked for the State of Texas and even as far back as Sam Houston and the Republic of Texas. Interest today is terrifically high. We will probably be pilloried but we protest the proposed program of city deficit spending; and note with great misgivings and trepidations The Slatonite's top center front page news story in its August 27th, 1970 issue in which the present Mayor wants the sanitation, water and sewer rates raised and the quotation, "if all we intend to accomplish is to be in the black, we can continue doing nothing".

Bill Ball, when Chamber manager was quoted as saying something like Slaton's future was probably geared to being Lubbock's bedroom, kitchen and den--and, that is, for the moment, at least, our one best hope--we can only do that by being a town that the average person can afford to live in--and a local governmental spending spree isn't the way to achieve that.

Sometime ago the Mayor was quoted by the Slatonite as saying that Slaton was in the black--for the first time in 15 years (and this was brought about because of the sacrificial voting by the people of Slaton of a city sales tax which is bringing in more money at the rate of some $60,000 a year).

Now, the spending story says, that is not enough and the spending of $74,600 is advocated. If anyone thinks the average Slaton family should have the thumb-screws put to them with increased water, sewer and sanitation rates, he should take a drive around Slaton and see how many of even the front yards were allowed to wither away and die this summer--because the city bills were already too onerous; and yet higher rates are advocated; it is unthinkable.

The sanitation and sewer charges are diabolical figments of bureaucratic cruelty to the citizen and reminiscent of the infamous Peruvian window tax. They should be abolished.

We don't find many that advocate spending but if there are a sizable crop then lets have an election even if it is only a recall election.

The last administration paved, paved and paved and put a crimp in a lot of people's budgets; then, the city and school spent $12,000 appraising the property -- yours and mine for tax purposes. Idalou got a Lubbock tax man to do it and it cost them some $750 and nobody got spreadeagled, either.

After the tax rise and before January 1, 1970, the Santa Fe dug up some of its Slaton tracks and by 1-1-71 quite a few of the other permanent improvements that have been in Slaton for decades are slated to be gone--every brick and window pane, for instance of the roundhouse --and when they are gone there will be little likelihood of their being rebuilt. What is true of the Santa Fe properties being dismantled to save ad valorem taxes can well be true of a host of smaller firms and individuals.

The people of Slaton can stop the spend, tax, spend syndrome by bending the ear of our elected commissioners with our views.

Yours for a better Slaton,

Dear Sir:

I am writing this letter in hopes of arousing the responsible citizens of Slaton.

Several weeks ago our Mayor, Dr. David Hughes, brought proposals to the city Council that at that time required their immediate attention. Mayor Hughes reminded the council that many of the proposals had been before the council several times in the past twelve to fourteen months and they had repeatedly been passed over. They were again passed over at the recent meeting.

I personally was appalled at action of the council. Our city is years behind most cities on the South Plains. Without a doubt, it takes money to run a city. It is the responsibility of our city fathers to raise adequate revenue to cover these needs and any uncalled for delay will inevitably effect the welfare of our city.

The city equipment is in dire need of replacement or repair. City streets are in extremely poor condition, the building that houses our Police Department is a disgrace. To have a city that we can be proud of naturally costs money. I would rather pay a little more in taxes, water bills, sewer and garbage pickup than to be ashamed of the city where I live. In my opinion it is asinine to expect the city employees to work for salaries they now receive.

ACCIDENT SCENE--A two-car collision on US-84 bypass and Woodrow Road Friday night resulted in injuries to a Johnson City family. The car in the foreground was driven by Bill T. Callison of Slaton, and the other vehicle by Jackie N. McNeese of Johnson City. Mr. and Mrs. McNeese and three children were taken to Mercy Hospital for treatment.

We have a fine group of young people here in Slaton, but what does Slaton have to offer them? How many of them will want to make a life here?

In private I hear businessmen say they are concerned for our city. In private I hear parents say they are concerned for our city. Is it not time that each of us who live here, have families here, who make their living here, say something publicly?

Today our city is twenty to thirty years behind time. Is there not anyone who cares? I do not think that we can continue to be complacent, and watch our city decay. If this is your kind of town--prove it! Let your voice be heard.

ASC Community Candidates Are Named in County

Candidates for Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation community committee posts in Lubbock County have been announced by Gale Ballard, Chairman of the County ASC Committee.

Nominees in this area, Community C, are Bill Alspaugh, R. C. Hall Jr., F. W. Hancock, Nestor Kitten, Johnny Melcher and G. H. Ragland.

In September, eligible farm voters will elect three members and two alternates to serve one-year terms in each of the four ASC communities in the county. ASC community committees assist in carrying out Government farm programs locally and help keep farmers informed of purposes and provisions of these programs.

Also, shortly after they are elected in September, the community committeemen will convene to elect one member and two alternates to the County ASC Committee and to choose the County Committee Chairman and Vice-Chairman. The three-member County ASC Committee is responsible for administering all ASCS farm programs in the county.

Slatonites Collect Money For MD

Inspired by the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon and because they wanted to help others, several Slaton residents went door-to-door Monday collecting money for the cause.

Martha Elder, dispatcher at the Slaton Police Department, told The Slatonite that a total of $147.92 was brought to the station. There were also other contributions made by Slaton residents.

One group of children and two women began knocking on doors at 9 a.m. Monday morning and spent most of the day collecting. They were Tina, Janenne and Julie Hubert and Mrs. June Hubert, Charlene Dennis, Cora and Charlie Kuykendall and Mrs. Geneva Wilkerson.

Others who collected for MD were Debbie Shackelford, Cindy Dixon, Mrs. Maxine Dixon, Willie Meyer and Bill Dixon.

NOTICE to those a picture was taken of. For some unknown reason, the pictures taken were blank when the film was processed. We at The Slatonite are very sorry.

Two Views of 'Patton'

TROY MARTIN in The Canyon News: I saw the movie "Patton" over the weekend. Patton was a motorized Stonewall Jackson with a sense of history. He probably contributed as much to our winning the war in Europe as any other man.

I can feel nothing but disgust for those who criticize him while enjoying the fruits of his efforts. True, he slapped a young man who broke in battle but his iron will and experience probably saved lives of thousands of others.

He was Eisenhower's answer to blitzkrieg. He was highly respected by both Jodi and Rommel. His lightning thrust across Europe may well have saved England and even the world from Nazi conquest.

Let the H. M. Baggarly who criticize Patton chew on this a bit. The Germans were perilously close to perfecting an atom bomb of their own.

Suppose we had let the war in Europe drag out as it could have with politically oriented generals such as Ike and Omar Bradley in charge. Suppose Hitler had gotten his atom bomb.

He had a V-2 rocket for a delivery system and could have annihilated the British Isles and possibly laid waste to the cities of America.

I only wish we had a few more Pattons and McArthurs now. Things might be different.

H. M. BAGGARLY in The Tullia Herald: Ray H. Greene of Gilmer, in a letter to the editor published last week, sort of took issue with us over the Patton movie. He wondered if we had seen "the same movie."

We had likened George Scott, who played the part of Patton, to a combination of Bing Crosby and Will Rogers, a lovable character that tended to make Patton the Eisenhower villain, that tended to the point that "the end justifies the means." Greene thought Scott interpreted Patton to be at least marginally related to general he portrayed in "Dr. Strangelove." He saw Patton as a dangerous "latent madness."

The movie has been controversial respect. Some reached our conclusion of Editor Greene.

We would certainly agree that at a point. Back of Scott's veneer of one could easily read madness and insanity.

But Editor Greene forget me he forgot that we saw the movie. Amarillo audience! And our conclusion based largely on the reaction of the audience. It all but cheered us as we clashed with his military superior definitely considered Patton the audience laughed when Patton the soldier! We suspect that had a vote more Amarilloan; in the audience supported Patton than sympathetic sick soldier.

But what else could we expect rightwing stronghold as Amarillo?

We would expect Amarillo, and of Canyon. . . to be analogist for the incident to prove that Eisenhower Communist and desired to sell Russia!

Everything that happens in the handle must be evaluated in the our political environment.

We Had Something

Editor Bill Thompson of the Paris (Texas) News ran across an item that he thought worth passing on to his readers. Bill doesn't know who wrote it, and neither do I, but I agree that it describes "growing up" pretty much the way it was with those who shared their school days with me. Read on:

"I didn't have a very happy childhood--" "But nobody worried very much about it. I was too busy, I guess -- cutting lawns, shoveling snow, running errands, delivering groceries for 10 cents a load, selling newspapers, doing house chores, going to school. I passed my grades, too. If I hadn't, I'd have had the hide strapped off me."

"No one concerned himself about my amusements. What fun we had, we made. But if we did any damage--like breaking a window in a ball game--we paid for it by working it out."

"I don't suppose people understood me; but if I had said so, my mother would have asked: 'Why should they?' And no one ever gave a thought to my 'problems.' They were mine, weren't they? Mine to solve. Why should I expect anyone else to

"We never heard phrases like of living, 'subsistence level' or requirements.' Our standard of whatever my father earned. If it was laid off, we stopped spending thing but food and a lot less of dad spent every waking hour looking any work. We lived on savings and became too tight we'd move in with or the relatives would move in. We there had been no relatives, we'd to the only place left--the County Jail but that would have been an admission we couldn't take care of ourselves."

"I guess we didn't have much had something that was infinitely important; infinitely more rewarding self-respect, because whatever we earned."

"It seems to me that is why is the strong nation it is today--stay strong only so long as there are Americans more interested in earning getting."

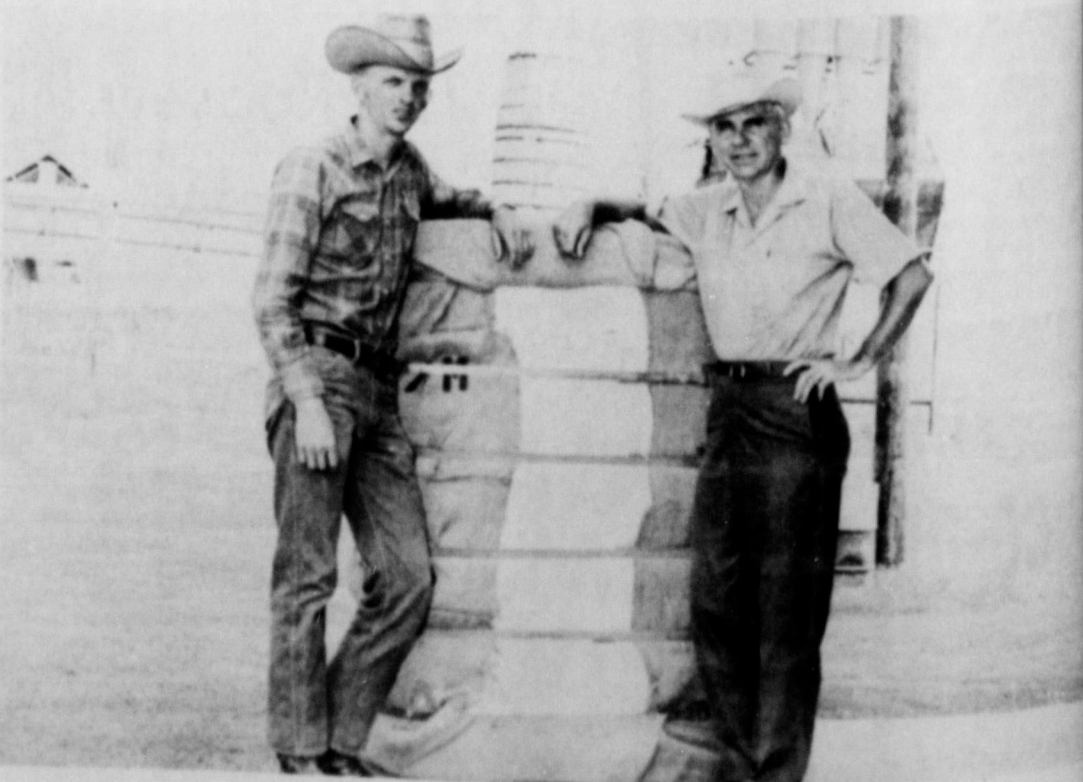

First Bale

Stonewall Jefferson was the producer and Hackberry Co-Op the ginner of the Slaton area's first bale of cotton. The 590-pound bale was harvested near Southland and ginned Friday. Shown with Jefferson are ginner Les Martin and Jinks Johnson and, at right, gin manager Dan Stewart and Slaton Chamber of Commerce committeeman Mill Ardrey.

Second Bale

Gabriel Trevino, who farms one-half mile east of Roosevelt School, was the producer of the second bale of cotton at Acuff Co-Op Gin. Trevino and Acuff gin manager Charlie Hunter are shown with the 495-pound bale brought in and ginned Saturday afternoon.

Third Bale

Roger Kitten, producer of the third bale, is shown with Slaton Co-Op Gin manager Jay Gray after claiming the third bonus bale Sunday. It was harvested two miles northwest of Slaton and weighed 540 pounds. This was Kitten's third crop year.

Highlights Aired For Ag Field Day

This year's field day and open house at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock will offer several unique features, according to County Agricultural Agent Doyle G. Warren. The annual event is slated for Tuesday, September 15 beginning at 1 p.m.

Detailed discussions will be presented on cotton and grain sorghum varieties, weed control, narrow-row cotton and grain sorghum insects. These will be presented on special tours to particular field locations throughout the afternoon. Visitors may select any one or all of these tours.

Also featured will be specialists in various phases of agriculture who will be available for individual consultation. So, agricultural producers, homeowners and gardeners are encouraged to bring their questions on insect, disease and weed control, fertilizer use, irrigation or whatever for the "experts." Warren also encourages them to bring any plant specimens they may have.

A mainstay at the annual event will be general tours to the various field research plots on the Center's 300 acres, at Warren. This tour will give visitors a bird's-eye view of the many phases of agricultural research being conducted. Displays and exhibits will also be featured for public viewing. These will include plant diseases, vegetable production, soil testing, plant physiology and herbicide use. Other attractions will include a large machinery exhibit, the cotton ginning research laboratory and a research rose garden.

The theme of this year's field day and open house will be "Agricultural Research for the '70's."

Warren invites everyone in the county interested in agriculture in the West Texas area to make plans now to attend the field day and to spend a profitable afternoon.

The Center is located about seven and one-half miles north of Lubbock on U.S. 87.

The Wilson Chapter of Future Homemakers of America is sponsoring a chili supper Friday before the football game between the Wilson Mustangs and Anton. It will be held in the high school cafeteria, and serving time will be from 5 to 7 p.m. Prices are seventy-five cents for adults and fifty-cents for children. They ask for your support in order for them to carry on their program.

The Wilson Chapter co-operated with New Home in sponsoring the Lubbock County T.B. Mobil X-Ray Unit in Wilson Aug. 29. Student members did much of the work of directing the work. Linda Mears was chairman of the project with Glenna Moore and Brenda Kirbie assisting. They worked from 2 to 6 p.m. with the unit, and reported a successful day.

CHIEF ---

Ted Gentry was program chairman for the week and introduced the police chief as guest speaker. He held a question-and-answer period following his remarks.

Club president Arvin Stafford announced that District Lions Governor Roy L. Kahlich would visit the club next Monday.

Hagar Speaks At Rotary Club

Vernon Hagar, administrator of Slaton Nursing Home, was guest speaker for the regular weekly luncheon meeting of Slaton Rotary Club last Thursday in the Community Clubhouse. Hagar gave a brief description of the operation of a nursing home, explaining how state and federal regulations affect the home. He also pointed out the tremendous improvement in such homes over the past decade.

Saddle Tramps Promote New Look For Tech

Texas Tech football enters a new era and a new spirit Saturday night when the Red Raiders, under the direction of new head mentor Jim Carlen, open their 1970 season against the Green Wave of Tulane.

The Saddle Tramps, Tech men's service organization, are promoting the new look for the Raiders by introducing a slogan entitled "Spirit '70 -- The Beginning".

Tech fans attending the game Saturday night are asked to join the Saddle Tramps in visibly supporting the Red Raiders by wearing "anything red".

Saturday night's game will not be the only first for the Raiders this year. The opening game with Tulane will also kickoff Tech's first football game on their new all-weather AstroTurf playing surface. Saddle Tramps will be stationed at the entrance gates selling 3"X 3" samples of the artificial turf.

Also, as in the past few years, souvenir footballs will be thrown to the fans immediately before kickoff by the Saddle Tramps.

The new era will officially start Friday night with a pep rally in Jones Stadium. The rally, starting at 6:30 p.m., will feature Tech players and coaches and a series of new yells by Tech cheerleaders and is open to the general public.

the third bale to Slaton Co-Op Gin Sunday about 2:10 p.m. The dryland cotton was planted May 11 two miles northwest of Slaton. This is Kitter's third crop, and he covered about six acres to get the 540-pound bale. The seed cotton weighed 2,140 pounds.

The F-M Barbecue is sponsored by Slaton Chamber of Commerce and participating merchants and gins. The arrangements committee was composed of Glen Aklin, chairman, and Jay Gray and Mill Ardrey.

The Chamber's "Blue Blazer Brigade" assisted at the barbecue, welcoming guests to the event and passing out door prizes. C of C secretaries Cleo Green and Ann Haire and several directors' wives also assisted at the gate.

Moon Glow

Strange glows and sparkings have been spotted on the moon. Some astronomers think the curious phenomena, known as "lunar transients," may result from gas pouring out of volcanic centers. If so, both water and warmth may exist beneath the moon's dry, cold surface.
