On To Regional! Girls Win, Boys Going Rabbit Hunting

Slaton's Tigerettes sputtered to a 37-30 bi-district championship victory over Friona's Squaws in Plainview Tuesday night to launch what Slaton fans, players and coaches hope will be a big week of winning basketball for the high school teams.

With the Squaws out of the way, fans' attention will turn to the Tigers' showdown contest with Ralls Jackrabbits at 9 p.m. Thursday in South Plains College dome in Levelland. Then the focus will swing back to the Tigerettes, who will meet Comanche at 1 p.m. Saturday in the first round of the regional tournament at Coronado High School gymnasium, Lubbock.

The Tigers will be hoping the third time is the charm as they tackle a tough Ralls five which has beaten Slaton twice in close games this season. Slaton is winner of the last half of District 4-AA play, and Ralls won the first half. Coach Kenneth Housder's Tigers beat everybody except Ralls in the last half of the loop schedule. Greta Stricklin's 19 points against Friona saved the day (or night) for the Tigerettes, who hit a low percentage from the field. Slaton took a brief 4-1 lead in the first period, then Friona went ahead 7-6 at the quarter, and stayed ahead for most of the game as neither team appeared able to find the basket. Guards for both teams did a good job of containing or rattling the forwards, and the usual top scorers for each team had low totals. For Slaton, Karla Kitten went 0-10 from the field, but started hitting on free throws when they counted in the last quarter to keep the Tigerettes in contention. She had a good 12 of 17 free throws and hit nine in a row in the last half to actually provide enough points for the victory margin. Miss Stricklin hit 7 field goals and 5 free tosses to lead all scorers.

Friona's Diane Day, who has scored up to 39 points a game this season, was held to only 9 points, hitting 3 of 10 from the field and 3 of 10 free throws. Sharon Smith led Friona with 16 points. Slaton turned over the ball 17 times, the Squaws 19.

Friona led 19-15 at halftime. Slaton finally tied it up with 7:26 left in the game as Miss Stricklin hit the basket. Friona regained the lead, then two of the three starting guards for Friona fouled out. The lead swapped around several times in the fourth period, with Kitten's free shots finally putting Slaton ahead at 32-30. Stellar guard Elnora Moore of Slaton fouled out at 4:22, but Stricklin's four charity tosses in a row put it out of reach of Friona as Slaton stalled and drew fouls.

WHO'S THAT?--A Slaton player believed to be Greta Stricklin stretches for a shot at the basket Tuesday. Slaton won the game and the bi-district championship, 37-30 as Miss Stricklin led all scorers. The Tigerettes will play Comanche in the first round of the regional tournament. (SLATONITE PHOTO)

Barnes, Cowboys Due Here Tuesday

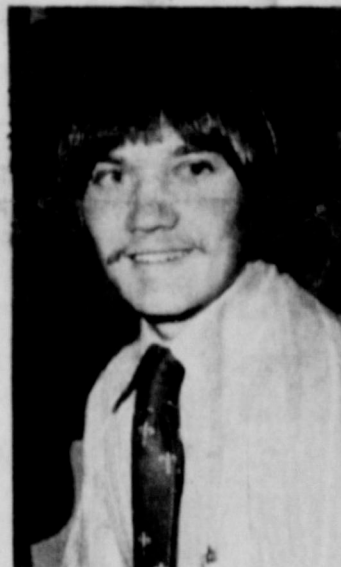

Three of the top stars from the world champion Dallas Cowboys will be aboard the Ben Barnes Victory Special when the lieutenant governor makes a whistle-stop at Slaton Tuesday afternoon on a campaign tour of the state in his bid for governor. Bob Lilly, Walt Garrison and Dan Reeves, all of whom had key roles in the Cowboy defeat of Miami in the Super Bowl earlier this year will be among the celebrities who will be here.

Barnes will mingle with the crowd as the group stops here briefly. Anyone wishing transportation to and from the Barnes rally is requested to call 828-6543 by 5 p.m. Monday. Barnes, with his wife, Nancy, plans approximately 30 stops in three days of train campaigning from Amarillo to Houston. The train is expected to be at the Slaton depot about 12:30 p.m. Tuesday. "We are going to take this campaign right to the people and discuss the issues with them where we can look them in the eye," Barnes declared. The train will be made up of four cars plus the engine, and along some parts of the route it will be the first passenger train to run in several years. Overnight stops will be made in Brownwood and Temple.

Barnes said he was "extremely pleased" to have the support of Reeves, Garrison and Lilly. "Their presence on the train in support of my candidacy for governor is a great thrill and Nancy and I are grateful," the lieutenant governor added.

Barnes will speak briefly at each point from the back platform of the train just as former President Harry Truman did in 1948 and former Governor John Connally did in 1962.

FRIDAY, I received in the mail a form from the public relations department of an insurance company regarding what they call "the grim statistics on home accidents. Suggestions just might prevent a death or serious injury among your readership," they release.

They stepped on a nail in a board in the back yard, driving home the point of the ad also the point of the story I had put with a hazy notion of using it some-where I had room.

When you put all your weight down on the end of a nail and you are wearing thin-soles, and an inch of the nail goes under your foot, it gets your attention immediately. You sit down and say, "Hmmm, I have stepped on a nail." Then you look at the nail. Then you try to decide if you should get a tetanus shot. Later you get a bowl of ice cream is better, so forget about the tetanus shot, even though the doctor you call tells you to get one. (After only called the doctor so he'd tell me if I need one, but he didn't seem to stand.)

When you have the problem of deciding if an injury is bad enough to keep you from going to finish the back yard fence. You think maybe it's best to finish, but be careful not to limp when the rest of the day is watching. It isn't every day you get a chance to play the role of wounded warrior.

They mention all these minor calamities, and when the story is finished, except for a gate you've figured out how to hang yet. But being done was accomplished, the whole ad almost underlined the importance of the accident story.

They said the story, 26,500 people read it, another four million are injured in the home. Falls are the largest cause of accidental death in the home in the United States last year.

On ramps, stair landings and bathtubs potential danger spots for falls. The line cabinet is a threat, especially with an elderly to take the wrong things. Other dangers include old cans of paint and thinner, local appliances and devices not properly tested, loaded guns and loaded people.

Don't forget to mention nails left turned up by unskilled carpenters.

FOOTNOTES

BY MARGRET BARTLEY

What is ecology? Six months ago most people had to go look it up in the dictionary to tell you the answer to that one. Now, we hear it every day, and know that it is concerned with cleaning up the environment.

Polluted lakes and rivers, oil soaked birds and dying fish, smog over cities, scrap yards and garbage dumps, eroded land, crumbling shorelines, mountain streams strewn with old beer bottles and automobile scraps. . . it's really too much. Like housekeeping on a gigantic scale! What can we do? Well. . . clean out the basement!

The trouble is, we can't decide whether to clear out the basement first, or the hall closet, or the upstairs closets, or the attic, or the big junk drawer in the kitchen. We don't mention the old trunk out in the garage, because we've decided that it should NOT be opened again, ever, but buried as a time capsule.

Man and his environment: Woman and her house! In housekeeping, as in nature, hidden forces are constantly at work. There is a tide which washes through the house daily, leaving its litter behind. . . newspapers, magazines, notebooks, empty match folders, Tinker toys, broken pencils, crayons, homework papers, buttons, bobby pins, guitar picks, glueless trading stamps and some urgent looking telephone notes. The larger objects collect like driftwood on tables and kitchen counters, while the smaller ones hide in drawers or behind sofa cushions or under rugs.

Getting rid of this litter is not easy, according to Good Housekeeping. It can be swept out, burned, thrown away, sorted, stacked or stomped on. . . but only about half of it ever disappears. The remainder clings and eventually sinks and mingles to become part of nature's plan. Even if it didn't, there would still be another wave tomorrow.

Wanna test it? Take your son's transistor radio for example. That's good. But the batteries from the radio, . . . are they the old ones or the new ones? Can you test batteries? Well, put them back in the drawer for the time being. There's the ear plug that he never has used, but will need desperately the day after you throw it away!

You may start the day with high ideals, but your conscience is sure to bother you when you come to your son's Cub Scout uniform and your daughter's daffodil costume from the second grade. And, don't you have a permanently pleated dress, made of stiff fabric, (the one that made you look like a pregnant accordion) that is hardly worn at all? It seems a shame to throw it away. . . and fashions do change so fast these days. . . Maybe you can cut it up next summer and make a curtain for the sun porch! Better save it!

You finally stiffen your upper lip and get in and get the job done right! That very afternoon, the neighbors hear your poor defenseless children crying out in despair: "My beer can collection, oh no!" "Where is my box of broken crayons?" Teacher told us to bring them to decorate the candles for our mother's present! Your ruin everything!"

Did you ever dream of a fantasy land, where all the socks and gloves matched; all the canceled checks were in order; the toys were all in the toy chests; the puzzle pieces were all in their little boxes; the photos were all mounted in their albums; the children's medical records, report cards, art work and baby teeth in their appointed places? Then, someone says, "Do you know where that little plastic gadget is, that screws onto the top of the thing-a-ma-jig?" "AND YOU DO KNOW!" Happy days! . . .

Dorsey-Evans Vows Read

Double ring wedding vows were repeated by Miss Karen Sue Dorsey and Robert Earl Evans in a service at 2:00 p.m. Feb. 12, in Second Baptist Church, Lubbock. Officiating was Rev. Francis Wilson, minister of Trinity Baptist Church, Lubbock. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Dorsey of Lubbock.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Wayne Evans of Lubbock are parents of the groom. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white velvet fashioned with a narrow band of venise lace at the high neckline, and on the cuff of the long bishop sleeves. Lace encircled the empire bodice, and on both sides of the tiny covered buttons down the bodice front. Matching lace edged the full chapel train length mantilla with a full length of illusion attached to an open wedding ring headpiece.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade of white Cattleya orchids and feathered white carnations with white shower ribbon. Miss Mary Fowler, of Lubbock, was Maid of Honor, Matron of Honor was Mrs. Eddie McClure, of Kansas City, Mo. Mrs. Mike Sharp of San Antonio served as bridesmaid, and Miss Ginger Evans of Lake Ransom Canyon was junior bridesmaid. The attendants' gowns were formal length red velvet, with long sleeves and A-line skirts. The high neckline and empire bodice were encircled with white velvet inset lace. Their flowers were colonial style bouquets of red and white feathered carnations. Best man was Ray Whitworth, of Houston. Groomsmen were Mike Dorsey, of Corpus Christi; John Killear, of Amarillo; and David Evans of Slaton. Serving as ushers were Sam Marshall, Jr. and Sam Smiley, both of Lubbock; and Sid Allen of Fort Worth.

Smoke Money?
 Seventeenth-century Bermudians used tobacco leaves as currency. Government employees were paid, and business transactions were made with quantities of the plant, which then was cultivated in Bermuda. The colony now deals in Bermuda dollars.

Hi, here I am, sitting at my beat-up old typewriter --- the one that is forever misspelling even the most simple words, wishing that the sand wouldn't blow, but knowing full well that it could be so much worse. This is Monday---"Hearts & Cupid's Day!" Did you give your Valentine a box of her favorite chocolates, or vice versa? Hope you did, because most of the time it is the little things that means the most to us, Right?

Mrs. Paul Winterrowd, Breonne and Jerry, were in Amarillo this past week-end visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Winterrowd. J. C. Leake, who spent a little over a week in Mercy Hospital, came home on Monday. Robert Becker and son, Joe Don, visited in the Willie Becker home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Junior Becker have recently returned from a trip to Leawood, Kansas and Kansas City, Missouri where they visited with Mrs. Joe Blythe and son, John Earl, and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Becker and family.

Jeff Becker, son of Gilbert Becker, broke his leg recently and has been confined in the Hospital, but will probably be going home in a few days. David, Dennis and Darroll Becker stayed with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker while their mom and dad were off on a trip.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY
Here's a belated "Happy Birthday" to Junior Becker and son, David, who celebrated their birthdays Feb. 8. Happy Birthday to Shane Manner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Manner, on his 2nd Birthday, February 14th. He came down to visit his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Crawford, on Sunday night and collected his Birthday present.

Edmund and Yours Truly visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Stolle on Friday night of last week. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cindorf.

IN HOSPITAL
Carl Wartes spent several days in the Post Hospital last week. Mrs. Wartes underwent leg surgery recently at Methodist Hospital, and is at home, but still isn't getting around to spray! Hope all goes well with both Mr. and Mrs. Wartes.

CONGRATULATIONS

Women's C-C Division Here Seeks Members

The Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce is conducting its annual membership drive.

It is a relatively new organization which was first begun in January of 1971. Since that time it has accomplished a number of civic projects during its first year. These projects include the sponsorship of a clean-up drive, the placing of litter barrels around the city, the area art exhibit held in the Slaton High School gymnasium, a bus trip to Palo to 489 local TFTA chapters throughout Texas. About 5,000 members and their advisors are expected to attend the 23rd annual convention, according to Dora Rose, TSTA staff member and state TFTA advisor. Mrs. Elizabeth Koonze, director of the Women's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor, will be the keynote speaker.

Duro canyon to see the production "Texas", a tour of homes during the Christmas season, operation of the concession stand at the West Texas Girls' Invitational Tournament, and the purchase of 98 new street markers placed at previously unmarked intersections.

There will be a need to continue the work for the coming year and new projects will be added, said the division president, Mrs. T. J. Wallace. "This will require the support of women who are interested in giving service to their community."

Swampy Sight
Early Egyptians used swamp water as a treatment for "dimness of sight." Today's professional vision examination includes many special tests to detect eye diseases and to determine what, if any, visual correction is needed.

These projects are being carried out by the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce. Membership is open to all women who are interested in giving service to their community.

Letters to the Editor

DO YOU CARE?
Do you care about "your kind of Town"?
Do you care what other people see when they drive through Slaton?
Do you want them to think, "What a clean, nice place Slaton is or Do you want them to say, "Gee glad I don't live in that dirty town."
Do you care what your neighbor has to live by? When is the last time you put a coat of paint on that rent house or the house you live in?
Do you care who has your trash in their yard? Wouldn't it be simple to put a lid on that trash can?
What about those junk cars? Do you care who has to look at them?
Have you looked on that vacant lot of yours? "Gee!" all that paper.
Who Cares?
I know it cost money for some things, but it doesn't cost a cent to clean up litter.
Do you Care?

Thought For Food

Beef steaks should be seasoned after browning for a very important reason. Salt, a common seasoning agent, draws meat juices to the surface which retards the initial browning that maximizes the wonderful flavor of beef. An easy rule is to season each side of the steak after it has been browned.

Just before serving pan-broiled pork chops or steaks of pork, lightly brown halved bananas in the flavorful pork drippings. The bananas, a simple touch, are divine with pork.

When grilling beef patties turn them only once. More often and they're likely to be more compact, less juicy.

The paper-like covering known as the "fell" should not be removed from the leg of lamb before roasting. This covering keeps the meat juicier, helps it to hold its shape and allows it to roast in less time.

Ag Career Day Slated At A&M

COLLEGE STATION -- Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club members are being invited to the annual Texas A&M University College of Agriculture Career Day and practice judging session March 11.

Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean of agriculture, said that in addition to the many career day displays, a special feature this year is a drawing for a registered Angus heifer. The animal is being donated by the Alamo Angus Ranch near San Antonio.

The dean said county agricultural agents, 4-H leaders and high school vocational agriculture teachers can bring an unlimited number of youngsters to take part in the practice judging.

"We would also like to encourage you to bring other students, their parents and friends who are interested in agriculture and desire to participate in the career day activities," he added.

ing seasonal cotton gin em - ployees, and, if the program was successful, the college would then be in a position to make the course available in other communities.

An Advisory Committee, composed of successful cotton ginners, was formed to help the college arrive at an appropriate training program. These men established the curriculum and said actually what should be taught in the course. It was agreed that the course should be as practical as possible with the actual ginning of cotton to be of prime importance.

The Advisory Committee established the curriculum of 81 hours to be taught over a period of nine weeks. Classes were to be held at night. Mr. Matthew Goodrich offered the Farmers Co-Op Gin in Levelland as a place to gin cotton, and Mr. Fred Owens indicated his gin would also be available. By using two gins the students would have a more varied experience than one would provide.

Another factor that was an absolute must was the securing of a well qualified instructor. Mr. O. R. Casey, Jr., a ginner with over twenty years experience, and presently ginner at The South Plains Ginning Research Lab in Lubbock, was employed as the instructor. Mr. Bill Quattlebaum of Paymaster Oil Mill Company in Lubbock made available ginning equipment to be used in the classroom.

With the curriculum established, the instructor secured, cotton gins ready, and classroom equipment provided, the class began August 23, 1971, with the intention of completing the 81 hour course in time for the beginning of the 1971 ginning season. Twelve students, some of whom could neither read nor write, started and completed the pilot program and all worked in cotton gins during the past season. All owners who employed the trainees indicated they were well pleased and will support future offerings.

Evaluation of the program by the students showed they felt it to be very good to excellent. One student, James Norrell at the Community Co-op in Levelland, indicated that the gin was down for a period of only three hours during the entire ginning season. He attributed this excellent record, in part, to the training received in the program at South Plains College.

The course included applied math for use in cotton gins, basic electricity for cotton gins, cotton gin machine mechanics, and human relations. Besides the classroom work the students spent the majority of their time in the cotton gins actually ginning cotton. The class ginned a total of twenty-one bales of cotton and became familiar with all aspects of actual ginning operations and procedures.

The response from the students, The Texas Cotton Ginners Association, and those who employed the trainees have determined the pilot program to be a resounding success. Plans are now being made to teach the course in communities other than Levelland. Communities expressing an interest in having such a program in their city have included Brownfield, Lamesa, Lubbock, Plainview, Paducah and Tahoka. Procedures are already underway to establish training programs in the communities that indicate an interest and a need for the training of seasonal cotton gin employees, and South Plains College invites additional inquiries from all interested persons.

Mayor Bland Tomlinson this week proclaimed "Tiger-Tigerette Week" in Slaton, issuing the following proclamation:

Set-Aside Rules Reconsidered

LUBBOCK -- The controversial new "set-aside" rules announced Feb. 1 for the 1972 cotton, wheat and feed grain programs have been reconsidered. A top official of the U. S. Department of Agriculture told Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, that the Department's set-aside policy for 1972 will remain "essentially the same" as for 1971. PGC, other organizations and many individual farmers had objected to the new regulations, primarily on the grounds that expensive farming operations were already underway at the time they were announced. "The enforcement of the new regulations would have cost High Plains farmers millions of dollars in 1972," said Donald Johnson, PGC Executive Vice President, "and USDA is to be commended for modifying their original decision."

USDA on Feb. 2 instructed County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) offices to disapprove farm applications for program participation if the productive capacity of land designated as set-aside was below that of acreage planted to program crops. This "disapproval" would have deprived such farmers of all program benefits. Now USDA says these instructions are being withdrawn and that farmers whose set-aside land is determined to be of sub-par productivity will not lose all payments, but suffer only a loss of a part of their payments. For cotton the "penalty" is to be an amount equal to the difference between the "set-aside yield" as determined by the county ASCS committee and the farm's payment at yield times six cents per pound times the number of acres set aside.

The 1972 regulations, as now understood, still say "When the program crop is based on irrigated yields, farmers are to be advised that set-aside acres must be acres which could be irrigated in the current year in addition to crops actually irrigated with existing irrigation facilities and available water supply."

If program crop yields on which payments are made are based on both irrigated and dryland yields (blended yields), the set-aside must be in proper proportion, the instructions say.

Exactly how these requirements concerning irrigated acreage will be interpreted and applied is not yet known. But they are thought to be a vast improvement over the Feb. 1 directive which would have required County ASCS Committees to establish the "normal irrigated acreage" for each farm, and would have prohibited irrigation of acres beyond this "normal acreage" minus irrigated set-aside.

The Washington official who relayed the set-aside news to PGC stated that, "generally speaking," County committees would be the judge of how much set-aside acreage on each farm has to be irrigated and will determine, within certain guidelines, what constitutes irrigable land on a given farm.

WRECK CAUSES INJURIES--Three persons were hurt as the autos shown in these pictures collided on Farm Road 835 at Buffalo Lakes Sunday night. Driver of the car at top, Benny Aguilar, 22, of Lubbock, was in intensive care in University Hospital. Mrs. Helen Ferguson, 42, and daughter Rita, 16, in the station wagon shown in bottom picture, also were injured.

State Feeder Pig Show Planned

The first Texas State Championship Feeder Pig Show will be held in Athens, March 6. According to Sammy V. Gunter, chairman, Willis Point, the show is aimed at improving the quality of feeder pigs and the swine industry of Texas.

Site of the show will be the state facility of the Athens Feeder Pig Sale Association located three and one-half miles north of the city on Highway 19. The event is being sponsored by the Association and the Agricultural Committee of the Athens Chamber of Commerce.

All swine producers in Texas are eligible to enter pigs in the show. The deadline is March 1. Entry forms are available from most swine associations or the Texas State Championship Feeder Pig Show, P. O. Box 1418, Athens, Texas 75751. There is no entry fee or admission charge.

An entry consists of a pen of 8 pigs, farrowed by the exhibitor. The pigs must weigh an average of 40 to 70 pounds. A pen may consist of barrows, gilts, registered, crossbred or any combination thereof. All barrows must be completely healed. The exhibitor must furnish a health certificate before the pigs are unloaded.

The show will be made up of three classes, determined by the average weight of the pigs entered. Prize money plus ribbons will be awarded to the first seven places in each class. The first place in each class will receive $35, then the money decreases to $5 for seventh place. The grand champion pen will receive $400 plus a trophy.

Bear meat is considered quite savory and palatable.

Investment Tax Credit Restored

COLLEGE STATION -- Investment tax credit is back. Farmers, ranchers and businessmen can claim a seven percent investment tax credit on their 1971 tax returns for qualifying property. Such property must have been ordered and acquired after March 31, 1971, or acquired after Aug. 15, regardless of when ordered, explains Dr. James L. Mallett, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Investment credit also applies to property where construction or reconstruction was begun after March 31 or was completed after Aug. 15, regardless of when begun. If construction was begun before April 1, only costs attributed to the period after Aug. 15 apply, explains Mallett.

Investment credit must be taken the year the property is placed in service and cannot exceed your tax liability, says the economist. If the tax liability is greater than $25,000, the limit is $25,000 plus one-half of the tax liability in excess of $25,000. Unused credits can be carried back three years and then forward seven years.

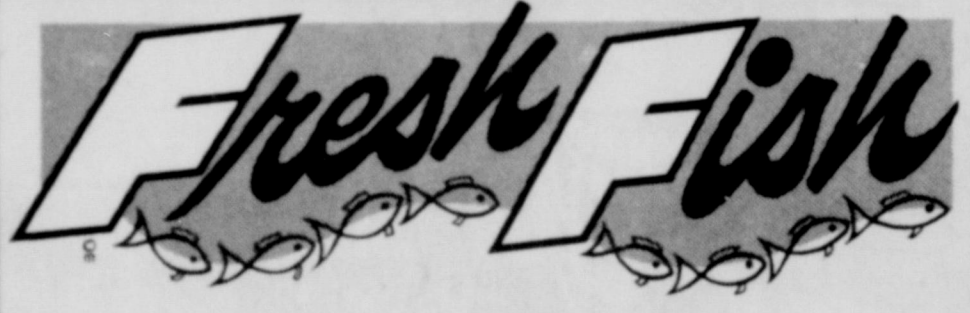

The amount of investment credit on each asset depends on its useful life. This must be the same for computing both investment credit and depreciation. One-third of the investment qualifies for tax credit if the useful life is three years but less than five; two-thirds, if five years but less than seven; and 100 percent, if seven years or more. There is a $50,000 limitation on investments in used property eligible for credit.

Property qualifying for investment tax credit must be depreciable, points out Mallett. It includes tangible personal business property such as machinery, office equipment, trucks, autos, and, for the first time, livestock (except horses), elevators and escalators. Tangible real property tied closely to production is also included, such as fences, silos, grain bins, hay barns and fuel storage tanks. Buildings not used strictly for storage do not qualify.

Tax laws prevent the creation of artificial credits by disposing of raised or non-recapture depreciable livestock and then acquiring substantially similar livestock. The cost of substantially identical livestock acquired within one year beginning six months before the original livestock was sold is reduced by the sale value.

The business percentage of property used for both business and personal purposes is also eligible for investment credit, adds Mallett.

Foreign-made equipment is not eligible for tax credit unless it was ordered between April 1 and Aug. 15 last year. This includes all property completed outside the United States and property completed in this country if less than 50 percent of the cost is attributable to value added inside the U.S. The economist explains that if investment credit property is disposed earlier than its estimated life, the credit must be recomputed. Any credit for which the actual holding period does not qualify must be paid back.

Parked Cars In Collision

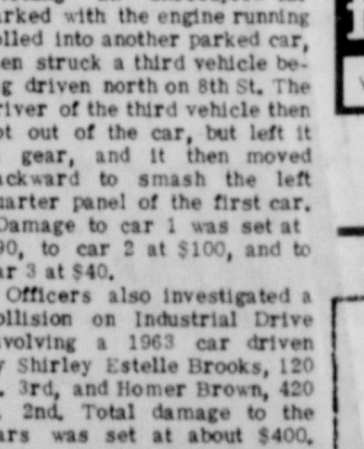

Officers at Slaton Police Dept. were shaking their heads this week after investigating a three-way collision involving three parked cars.

At 8th and Garza Saturday morning an unoccupied car parked with the engine running rolled into another parked car, then struck a third vehicle being driven north on 8th St. The driver of the third vehicle then got out of the car, but left it in gear, and it then moved backward to smash the left quarter panel of the first car.

Damage to car 1 was set at $90, to car 2 at $100, and to car 3 at $40.

Officers also investigated a collision on Industrial Drive involving a 1963 car driven by Shirley Estelle Brooks, 120 N. 3rd, and Homer Brown, 420 S. 2nd. Total damage to the cars was set at about $400.

What's In A Vote?

Last school election, did you vote for Joe because he was witty, and very popular with nearly everyone in school? Or did you vote for Mary because you think she is the best-looking girl in school, along with her great charming personality? If you voted like this, you did nothing but yourself and perhaps many other people out of one of your honored privileges. That is the privilege to elect a person to an important office who you think will represent the fullest capabilities. A student official will probably not be able to do a school ordinance which you think is wrong, or to do a school activity on his wit and personality alone. The kinds of decisions must come from qualities other than looks. It must come from qualities such as intelligence or a leadership ability. Next time you have a ballot in front of you, don't mark a person's name because he is charming or good-looking. Instead put down a person whose capabilities you will give you the best representation when you want your school represented about important school issues.

Tigers Gain District Berth

Slaton's "A" and "B" boys both tallied major victories over the Post Antelopes last week, with the Varsity boys gaining a playoff berth with Falls for the district championship. The playoff will be held in Levelland tonight at 9 o'clock at the Texas Dome on the South Plains campus. The Slaton "B" boys had an easy time at Post, as they defeated the Antelopes 55-45. Phil Whaley was the high-pointeer of this game with 22 points towards the winning cause, followed by Larry Washington with 14. Slaton's Varsity boys played a close game in the first half, but in the second half went on to control the game and romp over Post 67-57. This was a very crucial game, since this victory put Slaton in district playoff against Falls. The win also made Falls and Slaton District 4-AA co-champions since Idalou, the only other contender, was defeated by Tahaoka the same night. James Conwright and Lloyd Kitten shared high-point honors with 20 points apiece in bringing about the victory, followed by T. W. Whitfield with 14.

The Tigerettes' Varsity beat Friendship 52-26. Top scorers for the game were Karla Kitten with 24 points; second highest was Jan Davis with 10 points. The Tiger Varsity beat Friendship 80-48. Top scorers were James Conwright with 26 points and Lloyd Kitten with 14 points. Slaton Tiger Junior Varsity lost to Friendship 37-36. Top scorers for this loss were Phil Whaley with 14 points and Greg Parks with 8 points.

Conwright Leads Tiger Finals

The Slaton Tigers ended regular season play by beating Denver City 64-59. The game didn't have any bearing on district records since the Mustangs are on probation. The JV also won their game. James Conwright led the way with 20 points, followed by Tommy Taylor with 15, and Lloyd Kitten with 13. The Tigers ended the regular season with a 23-8 record. The JV won by a score of 54-46. Mike Lewis and Gary Burton led the scoring with 17 and 14.

Freshmen Girls First In Tourney

The freshman girls and boys traveled to McAdoo Feb. 3 and 5 to play in a tournament. The girls won first beating Spur 50-25 and then defeating Crosbyton 48-27. The boys won consolation losing to Spur 56-55 and then beating Crosbyton 31-24. Susan Ford, Larla Shackelford, and Billy Ray Thomas received outstanding player awards. TIGER'S CORNER By Ron Bartley

Slaton has dominated the second half in both boys' and girls' basketball. The boys won the second half after beating Post, and the girls went 12-0 through district. This is the second year in a row for the girls to go undefeated through district. A 24-0 record is something Slaton can be proud of, and also something Mrs. Gay Benson should be commended for. It really looked good when the crew from Lubbock County started working on the new track. A dream has almost been completed. The new track will be quite an asset to the Slaton athletic programs. The Booster Club and Slaton school system deserves a big "Thanks." The freshman boys and girls finished up their season Monday, Feb. 7. Quote of the week: It's not the boy in the fight, but the fight in the boy ! ! ! ! !

Middle-Aged Have Parent Problem

COLLEGE STATION -- Most American adults expect a generation gap with their children. But they don't expect one with their own parents.

"The separation between middle-aged persons and their elderly parents is extreme in many cases," said Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist at Texas A&M University. Its roots are as important as those of the separation with youth.

The separateness of parents and their married children often produces a great amount of guilt in the children, the specialist said.

Only two per cent of married children have their parents living with them. So today, a whole industry is developing to house and nurse retired parents. Society is beginning to provide better housing, medical care and activities for the 20 million Americans over 65.

This, however, doesn't alleviate the guilt feelings of the middle-aged son or daughter who thinks he should take the parent into the home and spend more time with him, but who doesn't want to do so, the specialist noted.

"The reaction of the middle-aged person becomes compounded by a series of profound psychological reactions," Miss Taylor said. "A role reversal exists. As parents become older, they lose confidence in their own judgement; consequently they become dependent. The child then must become the parent. The need for suddenly growing dominant and authoritative often brings to the surface all the old hostilities that were generated for the 20 or so years when the parents were in control."

The son or daughter may also find it difficult to teach those whose primary role earlier was to teach them.

The time demand of an elderly parent often presents another strain for the child whose chief interests focus on his own family or work. To have to deal with those who have retired from life becomes troublesome to the child.

"The role reversal that occurs between the father and mother is often upsetting to

Mrs. Jones, 38 Rites Held

Mrs. Samye Jones, 38, wife of Fred Jones of Rt. 1, Lubbock was dead about 3:30 p.m. Sunday on arrival at West Texas Hospital. Her death was attributed to a heart attack.

Services were held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in Canyon Community Church east of Lubbock with the Rev. Curtis Jackson and the Rev. Grady Adcock, co-pastors of the church, officiating. Burial was in Idalou Cemetery directed by Sanders Funeral Home.

A native of Littlefield, Mrs. Jones had been a resident of the Canyon community for most of her life.

Survivors, other than the husband, include two sons, Tim and Richard, both of the home; three brothers, Ruel Weaver of Odessa, Tracy Weaver of Petersburg and Walter Weaver of Fort Worth; and two sisters, Mrs. Kathleen Garrard of Lubbock and Mrs. Mary Boyd of Lorenzo.

In lieu of flowers, memorial may be made to the Roosevelt High School band fund, members of the family said.

Herman Morgan

Dies After Surgery

Herman Morgan, cousin of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gentry and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Johnson of Slaton, died last Wednesday after undergoing surgery. Services were held Friday at Italy's First Baptist Church. The Gentrys and Johnsons attended the services.

"The adult son or daughter," the specialist explained. "As the mother grows older she takes command, and becomes very demanding. The father no longer seems the strong, self-reliant person once depended upon. He has become retiring, submissive and gentle. He makes adaptations to life by adjusting to his inner self, and this annoys and confuses the adult child."

Resolving the guilt and being completely honest are the first steps toward saving the relationship. These come by acknowledging all the hostilities and hesitations felt toward the parent, the specialist said.

"Age is not honored in our society, and many sons and daughters contribute to their parents' loss of self-esteem," Miss Taylor said. "If you listen to them you can understand that they really do not ask much. If you share what you can realistically in time and life, life will be richer for them and for you. Again, the practice of compassion closes the gap."

VISIT MRS. HUGHIE Mrs. Bettie C. Hughie of Slaton is now a patient in Lubbock's Highland Hospital recovering from surgery. Visitors recently included her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Dawson of Denver, Colo. and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hughie, and Julie of Carlsbad, N.M.

Better is it that thou shouldst not vow, than that thou shouldst vow and not pay. —Ecclesiastes V,5

Treaties and contracts are negotiated between nations and men. The objective may be an agreement, a concession, or an end to disagreement. Sometimes, where human relationships are concerned, one may become so trustworthy that his word "is as good as his bond." This is true, even though the skeptic may warn "get it in writing!" Where do you stand with your fellow man? Consider this now and tomorrow. Never make a promise you cannot keep, that you do not intend to keep. Whatever victory you win for the now moment cannot be so important.

QUEEN OF HEARTS--Mrs. Vera Wood was named Valentine Sweetheart Monday at the Valentine party at Slaton Nursing Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Clark and daughter of Graham were the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Miller. They spent the weekend attending motorcycle races.

Coach and Mrs. Steve Davis spent the weekend in Roswell, N. Mex. where Mrs. Davis' father is ill in the hospital.

ILLNESS
More people of the community who have been ill with the flu are Beverly Miller, Jan and Sonja Hall, Sandra and Carla Searcy, Tammy Mims, Kenny Mains and Mr. and Mrs. Vance Lipps.

Mr. Lipps was admitted to Highland Hospital on Thursday as his case of the flu turned into pneumonia. If he is released from the hospital this week, as is hoped at this time, he will still have to remain in bed for three weeks.

Hollis Callaway, winner at Canyon Gin, was dismissed from West Texas Hospital Thursday after being admitted earlier in the week for observation of severe chest pains.

We are happy to report the pains have been diagnosed as pleurisy following a case of the flu and not a heart attack as had been suspected.

TOURS NEW YORK CITY
Kathy Walter, RHS Class of 69, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Walter of Route 2, Slaton, and Roy Jim Davis, RHS class of 70 and son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Davis, Route 2, Slaton, are both attending Texas Lutheran College in Seguin. The speech class, of which these two are student members, spent a week touring New York City. While there they attended the Dick Cavett Show, The Johnny Carson Show, saw Walter Cronkite and toured the United Nations Building. As a keepsake of his tour of the United Nations building, Roy Jim sent a post card with a picture of the General Assembly Hall to his parents. Roy Jim states this is a very special card as it could only be mailed from the one spot of the Whole World, Mrs. Davis says the post card bears a beautiful and unique 8¢ stamp and the postal cancellation bears the name "United Nations".

She was also chosen this year "Coming Home Queen".

"As a strong supporter of the Eagle Band her dream, at the time of her death, was the purchase of new uniforms for the Eagle Band. A dream which she promoted and shared with others to get together to make this dream become a reality. Our deepest sympathy to her husband, Fred, and sons, Tim and Richard. We shall all miss her.

Valentine Party

Our Valentine party was a great success. There was standing room only. The Country Gospel Singers entertained, with music. Those in this group are Johnny and Nelda Flannigan, and Morris Taylor. Roy Chambers sang and played his guitar. Ida Rushing and Debra Greenfield did the Polka and "Put your little foot", which we all enjoyed.

We awarded the King and Queen Valentine. This was two residents whose names were drawn for the award. Vera Wood was picked Queen, receiving a big Bouquet of red roses, and having a crown of red roses placed on her head. John Murchinson was the King. A crown was placed on his head, and he received a box of valentine candy.

Last Monday the Brownie Troop #298 from Wilson, came out to our Home and gave a Valentine program, which we all enjoyed. Favors of Valentine candy, were given to each resident. Thank you Troop #298.

Mrs. Drewery is back without after spending some time in the hospital. Rebecca Swint is reported doing better this morning. She is a patient in Mercy Hospital.

We welcome Verge Marsh as a newcomer. She transferred from the Levelland Nursing Home.

Our deepest sympathy goes to the Shockley family, in loss of Mrs. Ola Shockley. Ola was a resident of our home. We will miss her, as she was dearly loved by all.

Alene Mitchell brought us in some plastic bags for crafts. We appreciate this, and we are in need of these laundry bags, should you have some to discard of, do remember us here at the home. Our craft is very popular, and we love to see these folks participate in this activity.

Lost a key anyone? Mrs. Bertha Walker has found a house key in her room. Check with the office if you have lost one.

Our Bingo was Wednesday because of so much flu illness.

DALLAS -- Pointing to increased cotton prices as the principal factor in stimulating sufficient production to provide for expected offtake in 1972, the board chairman of the National Cotton Council said this week that cotton's markets must be supplied or many of them will be lost.

In an address to the Texas Federation of Cooperatives, Monday, Dr. C. R. Sayre of Greenwood, Miss., said that although January planting intentions show an anticipated increase of seven percent more acres over last year, this probably will not be sufficient to prevent market erosion.

Another matter of top priority, he said, is improving public attitudes toward cotton and agriculture. "The lack of recognition and appreciation of contributions made by cotton--by agriculture -- threatens our very ability to provide the food and fiber needed by every individual," Dr. Sayre said.

KING OF HEARTS--John Murchinson was named Valentine Beau during the Valentine festivities at Slaton Nursing Home.
