BIDS CALLED FOR AUSTIN ADDITION

School Starts $115,000 Building Plan

Slaton School Board approved approximately $50,000 in expenditures from a $115,000 building fund during a regular monthly meeting Tuesday night at the school business office.

The trustees also called for bids on an addition at S.F. Austin school, with this major part of the building program expected to hit around the $50,000 mark. The addition at Austin is for two classrooms and restrooms to be added onto the south end of the building.

Trustees reviewed all building needs, cutting several items from the program to trim the total near the $115,000 mark. The school recently sold $115,000 in un-issued bonds to be used in the building program.

The board also reviewed bids on some of the items in the program, approved some personnel changes and hired several new teachers, discussed the Plan A Special Education program, reviewed a financial statement and approved bills.

On recommendation of the superintendent, the board approved the appointment of May Belle Kern as supervisor of the Plan A program, Joe Sparkman, junior high teacher and coach, was named to replace Mrs. Kern as curriculum supervisor. The board also approved the appointment of Raymond Wood as junior high counselor, Jack Nurinix, diagnostician, and Loyce Elliott, counselor, were also approved for the cooperative special education program.

The board also set a meeting of the Equalization Board for July 27, 1971. Approved as members of the equalization board were Jonas Cain, Ted Swanner and Earl Foerster. Taxpayers who have protests should appear at that meeting.

Immediate and longrange needs for the building program amounted to more than $120,000 and trustees had to determine some priorities for the projects listed. Exact amount of funds available won't be known until bids come in on the Austin addition, however.

Approved in the building program Monday night were a portable building at West Ward (for kindergarten classes), $19,100; new roofs and roof repairs at West Ward, junior high, and high school -- $15,045; and remodeling the old high school bandhall -- $974. In addition, interest and sinking funds will take $5,750; architect's fees will be about $4,800; bonding company payments about $2,900.

The board tentatively approved remodeling work at the business office -- making space for one more office, bricking up the front windows, and installing paneling and central refrigerated air and heat. More bids are due on the job, but the estimated cost is about $6,000.

The board will probably meet again in a few days to make a decision on several items in the building program. One is a remodeling job on the old field house at high school, which is reportedly needed for classroom use and for an ROTC rifle range. This would also entail some remodeling in the old gym to make room for another athletes' dressing room.

Cut from the proposed program Monday night were funds for a cinder track ($4,500) and stage curtains for the high school auditorium ($2,000). All of the items approved Monday night were on projects needed to be underway before school starts again.

Trustees approved the advertisement of bids on the Austin addition, with bids to be opened on Aug. 10 at 7:30 p.m. Architect Herb Brasher presented plans and specifications to the board for approval. Supt. J.C. McClesky was authorized to

Hike in Sewer, Garbage Rates Proposed in City

Prospects for an increase in sewer and sanitation rates loomed as a strong possibility for Slaton residents this week after Slaton City Commission cited the need for additional revenue during a regular monthly meeting Monday night.

Mayor Bland Tomlinson recommended an increase of 50 cents a month in both the sewer and sanitation rates, which would raise them from $1.25 each to $1.75 each per month.

"We're still charging on the basis of 1962 rates, when everything else has gone up," the mayor said. He said he believed a rate increase was "past due", adding that the city was "going in the hole" on sewer and sanitation charges.

Other commission members agreed that these rates were probably the most logical area to secure additional revenue. Commissioner Otis Neill suggested that citizens "be informed" of the need and the reason for increasing sewer and sanitation rates before any action was taken.

After the proposal is announced this week, the commission will probably evaluate the reaction and call a special meeting this month to decide whether or not to make the rate increases effective next month.

representatives of the South Plains Association of Governments to discuss needs for new police facilities here. The mayor showed proposed plans for a "Criminal Justice Building" here which would house the city police department, corporation and justice of peace courts, and have office space

Absentee Voting Starts in City Ward Election

Absentee voting for the special election in Slaton's Ward started Wednesday and will continue through July 30.

Election date is Aug. 3 when voters in southeast Slaton will choose a City Commissioner to fill out the unexpired term of George Quintero. Three candidates will appear on the ballots -- W. E. Strain, Norberto Diaz, and Eugene Mask.

The election was called by the City Commission in June after Quintero resigned to accept employment with Slaton Police Department. The two-year term will expire in April, 1972.

Strain is employed with Santa Fe; Diaz is a service station operator, and Mask is self employed -- doing custom yard and dirt work.

City to Crack Down on Trash Burning Rule

Slaton residents were cautioned this week to comply with the city ordinance against the open burning of trash.

Mayor Bland Tomlinson, with agreement from Slaton City Commission Monday night, said that the city will start enforcement of this ordinance. He said one warning would be given before a citation is issued.

Complaints on trash burning had increased lately, including burning of trash at the dump grounds. The mayor said a check revealed that part of the problem at the dump grounds resulted from "hot" trash being transported to the grounds.

The mayor also told the commission that Slaton was beginning to have a problem with firms and citizens from southeast Lubbock using the Slaton dump grounds. Biggest loads have been from firms in that area, he added.

The commission agreed that "trade area" patrons would be welcome, but that large amounts of refuse from Lubbock firms could not be handled over a period of time. No action was taken at the meeting.

Chamber Endorses Show Barn, Signs

Slaton Chamber of Commerce directors voted to support and underwrite two major civic projects during a regular monthly breakfast meeting Tuesday.

Directors approved a project by the agricultural committee to build a stock show barn here at an estimated cost of $11,500. Also endorsed was a street-sign project initiated by the Women's Division, with a goal of placing signs at about 100 intersections in the city. Estimated cost is $1,100.

Milt Ardrey and Jay Gray, co-chairmen of the agricultural committee, presented plans on the stock show barn. The committee reported that Slaton School Board approved the donation of a plot of land for the barn. Proposed is a steel building, about 50 by 100 feet, to be located on the southwest corner of the Babe Ruth parking lot.

Directors voted to underwrite the building campaign, soliciting help from interested citizens and civic groups. The agricultural committee hopes to have the building completed this fall and ready for use. It was pointed out that the structure could be adapted for various uses, other than stock shows.

Directors discussed the street-sign project and looked over a list of unmarked intersections where the signs are proposed for installation. Cost of the signs and brackets was estimated at $1,100. The City of Slaton has agreed to provide poles and install the signs. The Women's Division reported that $250 has been donated to the drive.

Glen Akin, civic affairs committee, reported a successful July 4th Celebration. He said general chairman Ronney Jones is hoping for a "break-even" situation when all bills are paid.

The board also discussed the possibility of getting shrubs and trees started in Russell Park through its parks and recreation committee. The City has cleared off the land in preparation for developing the park in west Slaton. No action was taken on the project.

Ten of the 15 directors were present for the Tuesday morning meeting, held in the C of C meeting room. J. C. McClesky, president, was in charge of the session.

Man Indicted For Stabbing Police Officer

Slaton policeman Sgt. Tony Chavez was stabbed in the back while attempting to make an arrest on E. Division St. early Saturday morning, and a grand jury Tuesday indicted a suspect for attempted murder.

Charged in the case was Jesse F. Garza, 27, of Southland. Sgt. Chavez was taken to the hospital following the incident, and was treated and released. Bond for Garza was set at $10,000 Monday by JP Charles Smith in Lubbock.

The grand jury, in 99th District Court, returned 58 indictments. Among those were another against a Slaton man, Amador Sepeda Jr., 22, for assault with a prohibited weapon. Slaton police said Sepeda pulled a pistol after being stopped on a traffic violation.

According to police officials here, Chavez was stabbed following a disturbance in front of a house at 1325 E. Division. Officers Chavez and George Quintero reported a car was parked in the middle of the street at that address, and several men were standing around the car drinking beer.

After the officers told the men to move the car and do their drinking somewhere else, Chavez said, the men started using profane and abusive language. Later, as two more officers arrived, Chavez at - tempted to arrest one of the men and another stabbed him, the report stated.

More officers arrived on the scene as the suspects went into a residence. Police surrounded the house and took three men into custody.

Police investigated one accident the past week. Cars driven by Alejandro Jimenez, 19, of Dallas and Danny M. Chapman, 18, of Slaton collided at US-84 and Woodrow Road. Police said Chapman's vehicle was headed southeast on US-84, and the Jimenez car was traveling east on Woodrow Road. No serious injuries were reported, but extensive damage resulted to the cars.

Water Usage Nears Peak

Water usage in Slaton, rising to peak figures with the advent of hot, summer weather, showed big increases the past two months with May's total being even more than June.

Water department figures show that Slaton residents drew 29,101,000 gallons from city taps in May -- compared to 28,171,000 gallons in June.

Both figures were up over the same months last year. May's total was about 4 million more gallons than May of 1970, and the June total was up about 1 million gallons over last year.

Peak day this year has been the 1.47 million gallons pumped on May 26. Almost 1.4 million gallons was the high figure last month, occurring on June 30. Low day for June was the 611,000 gallons pumped on June 15.

Average for June was some 845,000 gallons a day. The high water usage is expected to continue through July.

Club Meets At Cloud Croft

Going to Cloud Croft, N.M. is "mixing business with pleasure", according to members of the Jolly Quilting Club, when it came time for Mrs. Ford Stansell to have the club at her home for its regular monthly meeting, she suggested they meet at her cabin at Cloud Croft. The idea sounded so good that all but two members made the trip.

The group of women made two quilts while they were at the Stansell cabin. They left here on Tuesday and returned last Thursday. Members attending the "three day meeting" were Mmes. Stansell, Sam Phillips, club president, Neva Burns, Kenneth Davies, Lois Rogers, Ruby Collins, Glen Hill, Charlie Walton, and C. E. Corley. The two members who were unable to go were Mrs. J.F. Richey and Mrs. Nestor Kitten.

FOOT NOTES

BY MARGRET BARTLEY

Tell me! What's a mother to do when the kids have gone off to grandmother's house for two weeks? Get everything done that the kids always mess up before I get through with it, or mope around feeling sorry for myself and wondering if the kids are looosome for me? (They just left yesterday).

That won't do. When they get back, something has to be different. Change the beds from bunks back to twins, or put up new curtains; just anything so they can say "Look what Mama did while we were gone! Oh well, I'll get in the mood in a day or two, and then I'll really get to work."

In the meantime, the two year old is still at home, and he doesn't have anyone to play trucks, baseball, or to play out in the yard with him so Mama can get something done.

I decided it was time for the two year old to move from the crib to the bottom bunk bed. The eight year old boy sleeps on top, and is so restless that he still needs the side rails. The little one, used to rolling from side to side and upside down inside the crib rails, will probably need some type of guard, even on the bottom bunk. It's still a long way to the floor. I have one idea I'm going to try out on him. We have an old table tennis set that hasn't been used for years. I think the net from that set should just about reach the length of the bed, and will tie on the posters at each end. With the beds against the wall, and the net on the open side, it should be baby-fall-off-proof. We'll just have to try it and see.

Come to think of it, maybe two years old is just too young to put in a big bed, w-a-y off in the back bedroom.

Have you been to the annual family reunion yet? You get to see how all the kids are growing up, and who they're going to look like. Also get to see all the new babies that have come along since last year, and see how the older people are holding their age. It's kinda funny how everyone looks a year older, except you, of course. Grandma and grandpa are the center of attention, since everyone lives so far off and we don't get to see them very often. The new babies come in second as a matter of discussion, and then of course the newlyweds. When you go over what everyone has done in the last year, the next subject of discussion are the ones who aren't there. That always makes good (?) conversation.

It just happens once a year, and next year there will be a whole new crop to talk about. But isn't it nice when you can see those members of the family that you just get one or two letters from a year, and a Christmas Card?

You know, a day-off from work is funny. Either you work so hard at home trying to get all the things done that you don't otherwise have time to do right, and you are too tired to go back to WORK, or you find so many places to go and people to visit with, that you really didn't get anything done, and you need another day off.

Oh well, that's just my side of life. Yours may be worked out so that everything goes just right and on schedule. If so, I'd sure like to know how you do it!

A Little League coach friend of mine said when he felt real bad about the way the games were going, or when he received a black frown from an irate mother, he had this little clipping to make him feel better.

COACH SUES BOY'S MOM

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) --- A Little League baseball coach has filed suit in district court seeking to bar the mother of one of his players from the ballfield when he is coaching. Quentin Bohrer also asked $60,000 in damages from Mrs. John Christopherson, alleging the woman beat him during a practice game.

He claimed Mrs. Christopherson's 9-year-old son showed up for practice without his proper uniform. The youngster was told to go home and change. Mrs. Christopherson, the suit claims, grabbed Bohrer and beat him on the chest and face and then used vulgar language against his 15-year-old daughter.

Bohrer asks for $50,000 general damages, $65 for loss of work and $10,000 punitive damages. He also wants an "injunction against the woman keeping her away from all practices and games he is coaching. Things may look bad, but not THAT bad!

Diane Kuss Tours Hawaii

Diane Kuss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kuss, returned recently from a 14 day tour of the Hawaiian Islands.

She was one of 22 vacationers from all parts of the United States on the Gramercy Tour for singles handled by the Travel System out of New York. They flew by Continental Airlines and were passengers on the famed 747 from Los Angeles, Calif. to the islands.

The group arrived at Oahu (Honolulu) June 26. They were guests at the Ala Moana Hotel. While there they flew to the outer islands of Kauai, Maui and Hilo, and visited there for six days before returning home. Diane said they especially enjoyed their tour guide who was Marty Moe, a native born Hawaiian who spent his childhood there.

TAX-MAN SAM SAYS ---

It's not any news to Texans that folks in Texas are different and that the laws may also be different. There are still a lot of Texans around that don't know about the effect of the Texas Community Property Law on their Federal income tax. Retired Texans can often get a substantial tax saving through having a double retirement income credit on their tax return. On the other hand they may also lose their retirement income credit through the community half of the income earned by their spouse. You can get Publication 555 from Internal Revenue Service office. This publication tells you how community property affects you.

for the Department of Public Safety, sheriff's deputy, and the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

The mayor explained that a facility of this type would "have a better opportunity" of being approved for a Federal grant. The city will make application and, if the project is approved, could receive up to 50 percent of the funds for the structure. The building would include jail cells for men and women, and a juvenile detention cell.

The mayor reported that city wells had been used for several days after citizens had complained about the taste and smell of water being pumped from the Canadian River lines. Tomlinson said the taste apparently resulted "from a turnover in Lake Meredith." He also reported a leak had been discovered in a city storage tank. It was estimated to be losing about 3,000 gallons of water a day. Due to extensive repairs which would be necessary, it was decided not to take any action unless the leakage becomes more severe.

The commission approved a transfer of $20,000 from the water and sewer fund to the general fund--the first transfer which has been made this year. It was made necessary because of the cost of sealing city streets -- a project which was not budgeted. The city agreed on a 70-30 sharing basis with the school on an appraiser's fee. The appraiser picks up new property for the tax rolls each year. The city agreed to pay 30 percent of the $600 annual fee. The commission also agreed to pay a portion of the fee for last year, with the amount to be determined by how long the city has benefited from the service.

The amendment to the zoning ordinance adds a definition of mobil home parks and travel trailers, and sets out the location of them in B-2 districts. The mayor announced that no contact had been made as yet with Santa Fe officials concerning a bid on railway company water wells which had been offered for sale. The proposal had been discussed at the last commission meeting.

Mayor Tomlinson and the three commissioners were present for the meeting. There is no commissioner from Ward 4 at present. Also attending were five representatives from insurance companies, City Sec. Alex Webb and City Atty. Harvey Morton. The commission took no action on the health insurance program for employees, but will consider the proposals made by three companies Monday night.

Former Slaton RR Retirement Annuities Up

A bill increasing regular railroad retirement annuities by 10 percent has been signed into law by President Nixon. This increase, which is retroactive to Jan. 1, 1971, will be payable to the majority of annuitants on the board's rolls. Most annuitants entitled to this increase will receive it in their Sept. 1 checks, together with retroactive amounts due for earlier months of the year. Those annuitants, mostly widows, who received 10-percent increases from the board earlier this year will not receive additional increases under this new legislation.

Ken Atnip, former Slatonite, will be program manager for a study contract which the Air Force awarded to Boeing - Wichita, it was announced recently by the Wichita, Kan. division of Boeing Aircraft. The Air Force is studying the possibility of one tanker aircraft providing simultaneous in-flight refueling for several military jets via the $450,000 contract awarded to Boeing. At present, the Air Force can refuel only one fighter aircraft at a time from its standard tanker, the Boeing KC-135. Should results of the Boeing study prove feasible, this number could be increased to three. Atnip, who visited his parents -- Mr. and Mrs. H.E. Atnip of Slaton--over the July 4th weekend, said goal of the study is to design a system aerially convertible to accommodate both boom and probe-equipped tactical aircraft operated by the Air Force and other services.

Atnip graduated from Slaton High in 1947 and received his BS in mechanical engineering from Texas Tech in 1953. He earned his master's degree from the University of Wichita in 1960.

Law Requires Immunization For All Age Group Students entering Texas or secondary institutions of high school must have been immunized against six diseases, according to Senate Bill section 2.09 of the Texas Education Code. According to Grace Dodson, school nurse, children may receive the immunizations from their local physicians or for those who are not under care of a doctor may go to the Slaton Health Clinic for immunizations. The clinic is located in the Housing Authority office building. It is open the first Thursday of each month. She said it will be open from 1:30 to 3 p.m. on August 5. Mrs. Dodson said "most of our students have already met the requirements, but it will be necessary for them to have records of their immunizations before registration in the fall".

The six diseases include diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis, measles, rubella and smallpox.

The immunization requirements apply to all students attending public, private or parochial schools. The only exceptions will be when an affidavit signed by a physician is presented stating the immunization required would be injurious to the student's health or when the student presents an affidavit signed by the parent or guardian stating the immunizations are in conflict with religious convictions.

At least three doses of oral vaccine for polio with one or more of the doses having been received since the fourth birthday will be required of all students under age 19.

All students must have received the smallpox vaccination within the past 10 years. Rubella immunization is not required of students past the age of 12, but one dose is required of all those under 12.

One dose of measles vaccine will be required of all students who have not had the disease or whose physician will confirm a natural immunity to the disease.

At least three doses of diphtheria and tetanus vaccine for all children from six to 10 will be required and boosters for older ages.

Schools will be required to maintain records of the immunization status of their students after the initial registration.

All students will be allowed to enter their respective school systems this summer and this fall, with the provision that their required immunizations against at least one of the six diseases are started by January 1, 1972 and completed "as soon as medically possible."

Cotton Shortage Could Hurt Market

West Texas farmers were urged to achieve maximum cotton production for the 1971 season to prevent a possible shortage in carry-over at a meeting in Lubbock, July 8. State and national agricultural officials told an audience of producers, educators and industry representatives that the predicted carry-over as of the first of August will be a mere 4.25 million bales; barely enough to meet current consumption requirements before the 1971 harvest is completed in the Cotton Belt of the South and Southwest. The meeting was directed by Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and Donnell Echols, president of the Plains Cotton Growers Inc. and chairman of the South Plains Economic Development program. Both men have been appointed to a national task force committee in a concentrated effort to stave off a cotton shortage that could prove disastrous to the industry. "For the past five years, more cotton has been sold than produced; and there are indications that there will be a minimum of carry-over this year," warned Dr. Hutchison. He added that factors such as the current drought and reduced planting can result in a cotton shortage; which will in turn force textile mills to increase their use of synthetic fibers and further injure the present cotton markets. Echols pointed out the danger of further limitations of federal subsidy payments to the cotton industry. "It is impossible to separate ourselves from the possibility of crop payment limitations," he warned in reference to efforts in Congress to reduce the maximum payment to $20,000 per crop from the current $55,000; which is half the figure of recent years. He further pointed out that lending institutions will be reluctant to make large loans in the face of smaller guarantees in the form of reduced payments. Dabney Welford of the National Cotton Council said that the estimated 4.25 million bale carry-over is the lowest since 1952; and that much of it is low-quality cotton. He explained the recent rise in cotton prices by reporting that last winter, buyers thought the 1971 crop would meet their needs; but the adverse spring weather changed their minds and the price has climbed steadily since then. On the regional scene, Dr. Robert Metzger, area Extension agronomist at Lubbock, said there is nothing really new for producers to do the rest of the 1971 season, but that certain problem areas can be emphasized. These include close attention to timing of irrigation and cut-off date. This was expanded by others to include side-dress fertilization in certain instances and perhaps a longer irrigation season; although producers should be extremely careful. "I would be hesitant to stretch the irrigation season, especially on the later end," warned Dr. Levon Ray, cotton researcher with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock. But he added that extra water to replace subsoil moisture might be beneficial on very young cotton that was planted the last of May. He said that proper irrigation should take the form of a close watch on soil moisture to prevent loss of cotton at harvest time.

COTTON TALKS

Conservation Service.

They have two choices. They can apply to county ASCS offices for "failed acreage" credit and plow up the cotton, or they can leave the cotton and harvest whatever crop it may produce.

According to Donnell Echols of Lamesa, President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., there are at least three factors that should be taken into consideration before the decision is made, including (1) market price prospects, (2) possible effect on future payment yields and (3) the need for maximum production across the cotton belt to meet market demands.

"And it appears to me that when all three factors are considered the odds are in favor of leaving the cotton for harvest if there is a chance for even a very low yield," Echols said.

"The supply-demand situation, current spot market prices and the futures market all point to a strong demand for all qualities of 1971-crop cotton," he continued, "and with higher market prices it will be to our advantage to harvest every acre we can."

As the regulations now read, the effect on future payment yields where sub-normal crops are harvested would be no different from the effect of cotton acreage declared a total failure. In both cases the county ASCS committee is authorized to use up to 80 percent of the farm's 1971 payment yield in calculating payment yields for 1972 and 1973.

However in 1969 farmers who harvested a "piece of a crop" were given the 80 percent adjustment while farmers with failed acreage were allowed to substitute 100 percent of their previous three year average yields. And this is the cause of farmer concern this year. Echols has investigated the matter and does not believe there is any likelihood this 1969 ruling will be revived. He quoted ASCS Administrator Kenneth Frick as saying "We can't give you an ironclad guarantee of anything, but as of now we can see no reason why one situation should be treated any different from the other, and I can assure you I'll be doing everything I can to see that the man who makes an honest effort to produce a crop gets just as much weather adjustment as anyone else."

On the third factor, Echols said "If we are to retain our present markets and have hopes for market expansion we need to produce every bale of cotton possible from the 12.3 million acres planted across the belt."

Texas Senators John Tower and Lloyd Bentsen have a rare opportunity to show their support for Texas agriculture over the next couple of weeks. During that time the Senate will be considering the Agricultural Appropriations Bill sent to them by the House with a $20,000 per crop limitation on cotton, feed grain and wheat payments to producers.

Unless Senators Tower and Bentsen and others in the Senate can be prevailed upon to remove the limitation, all hope is lost. The present limitation is at $55,000 per crop, written into the Agriculture Act of 1970.

LIVING-AS YOU LIKE IT
...and get more from the GOOD YEARS

A retired salesman in a Southern city says he is having a barrel of fun coaching Little League baseball, something he could not do when job requirements kept him on the road. A couple of years ago, he began "helping out" with the team on which a grandson played. School was out for the summer, the boys had time and wanted to practice, so he worked with them. He became an assistant coach. The following year took over the team when the head coach moved to another city.

will be held on the Plains Assembly grounds. The barbecue supper will be served at 6 p.m. Don Chastain of Idalou is in charge of the music. Alvin Fleming, Brotherhood Director of the Staked Plains Baptist Association will preside and Ken Gilmore, Brotherhood Director of the Lubbock Baptist Association will lead in scripture and prayer.

Posey ALCW Collects Coupons

The Posey ALCW had its July meeting Thursday afternoon. Prayer and the Bible study was led by Mrs. A.C. Walter. The study was taken from Corinthians 8-11, and was entitled, "Should Christian Freedom Divide The Body?"

The offering meditation was given by the hostess, Mrs. Fred Schroeder. It was announced that Betty Crocker coupons are being accepted by the Kidney Foundation of Houston and the Greater Gulf Coast until Dec. 1, 1971. These coupons are being exchanged for artificial kidneys which are desperately needed. Pastor Lee Eschberger of Weimar has expressed his appreciation for all who sent coupons and states that if the coupons keep coming in as they have, there should be enough for at least four artificial kidneys.

Olive Oil
In ancient times, the olive was cultivated mainly for its oil. The ancients used the oil for medicine, for food, and for anointing their bodies.

Church of Christ Begins Revival, Bible School Sunday

Kenneth Burnett, pastor of the Slaton Church of Christ at 11th and Division St., has announced that the church will be in revival July 18 through July 23 with services nightly. Hardean Nichols of Dallas will be the evangelist for the services. He is a former pastor of Sunset Church of Christ in Lubbock.

Nichols, 43, grew up in Jasper, Ala., and attended college at Freed-Hardeman College and West Virginia University. He is married and has two daughters. He is serving on the board of development for Lubbock Christian College and has been a frequent speaker on numerous college lectureships.

He is in his seventh year a minister of the Walnut Hill Church of Christ in Dallas. Vacation Bible School will be held the same week, beginning Monday, July 19 and will be held each morning through the 23rd.

The theme of the Bible school will be "The Christian Family" and classes will be provided for all ages. Refreshments will be served each day, and free transportation to and from the school can be obtained by calling 828-3848.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

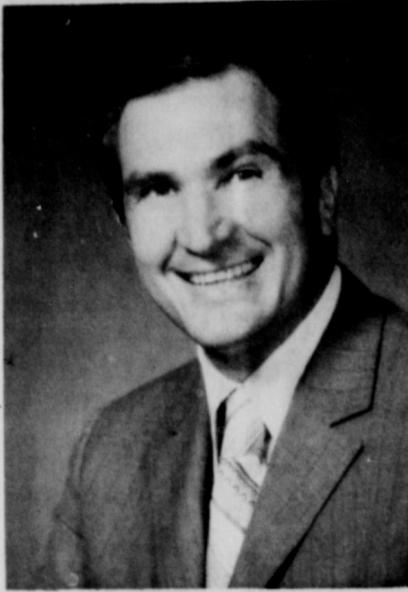

ALL SQUARES
We live in difficult times. We do not fear that savage beasts will descend upon us from the forest. We shall not be stoned nor put to the lions because we profess to be a Christian. Our problems are more in keeping with the times.

Consider the so-called generation gap. The communication line between the elder and the younger generation is constantly strained. It is no longer that the young should be seen and not heard. Much of the young generation is vociferous to the extent that the moderate voice — and message — of the elder generation is either drowned out or ignored.

The sadness is that this vociferous segment of youth, thankfully only a small segment, would cast aside some of the favorite words the "squares" of the world would live by — such as diligence, hard work, fair play, patriotism, even God.

There is, of course, nothing new about youthful rebellion. About atheism. About lack of patriotism. They have always existed to some degree. The point is, perhaps, that the time has come for the "squares" of the world to better practice what they believe and what they preach. All squares, stand up and be counted.

— a weekly message relating the world of today to the lessons of Faith and Church . . .

I am going the way of all earth. — Joshua. XXIII, 14

In the busy life we lead, all of us are going somewhere. We are mobile, a nation on wheels. We ride to the supermarket, even less than a block away. On Sundays, often we take a "ride", perhaps going nowhere in particular. Sometimes, in the spirit of going, we ignore the danger signs along the way. We forget how a summer shower can turn the street into a highway of glass. We ignore the speed limit posted on a dangerous curve. Sometimes we pay dearly for our lack of caution. Let us not speed through life too hastily. It is a better life when we follow the rules and the proper guidelines.

STATE Capital NEWS

BY VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

(Editor's Note--Bill Boykin replaces Vern Sanford as columnist of this weekly Texas Press Association feature. Sanford retired July 1 after serving TPA for almost 24 years. This column solicits questions about state government news and information. Address your questions to this newspaper, and they will be forwarded to the Austin office.)

AUSTIN, Tex. -- July 1 turned out to be a costly date for Texans. Not only did the nearly $1 million-a-day ($604 million biennially) tax bill take effect, but property owners got notice of hikes of up to 25 per cent in their insurance rates. And just the day before (see below) the State Insurance Board staff recommended an average 2.8 per cent increase in private auto insurance coverage effective September 1.

Tax bill raises the general sales tax from 3.25 per cent to four per cent statewide (five per cent in many cities which also levy a local sales tax); adds three cents a pack to cigarette taxes; increases liquor tax about seven cents a fifth; raises beer tax a fraction of a cent a bottle; jumps sales tax on new cars to four per cent (bringing in car rentals); and jacks up corporate franchise levy $1.25 per $1,000 of capital.

A 10 per cent tax on mixed drink sales went into effect last month.

A new kind of "surtax" takes effect September 1. It will cost moving traffic law violators $2.50; other misdemeanor violators tried in county court, $5, and those convicted of felony, $10.

Raise in homeowners' and other kinds of property insurance came without formal announcement other than notices to local agents.

Homeowners' rates rose 25 per cent along the seacoast (hit by Hurricane Celia last August) and in tornado - struck north-northwest territory of the state. Central area homeowners' rate jumped 22.1 per cent, too.

Extended coverage of all classes went up 25 per cent on the coast, 24.5 per cent in north-northwest and 19.7 per cent in the central area. Extended coverage for dwellings is up 25 per cent on the coast and north-northwest, 19.3 per cent in central part of the state.

Fire insurance coverage increases 5.2 per cent -- or 7.1 per cent for dwellings.

AUTO INSURANCE UP A-GAIN? -- State Insurance Board staff recommended an average 2.8 per cent statewide passenger car insurance rate hike effective September 1.

Board heard recommendations at a public hearing here June 30 and indicated a decision will be made about mid-August.

Industry, which won a 14 per cent boost in rates January 1 after asking 27.7 per cent, is asking 9.8 per cent increase (average statewide) on passenger car coverage.

Seven state legislators and the state AFL-CIO president argued that a decline in accidents justifies lowering rather than raising rates. Since rates are fixed by territories, not statewide, some areas under Board staff recommendations would receive reductions in certain lines of coverage.

MORE WELFARE WOES LOOM--A top court decision declaring needy non-citizens eligible for assistance, threat of increasing finance burdens from federal legislation and rising medical costs put the State Board of Public Welfare on red alert again last week.

Board was told the federal bill would "save" the state $57.1 million in existing payments -- but might double the number of Texans eligible for medical care benefits (which will cost $135.7 million next year).

Supreme Court decision on aliens would add 20,000 to state welfare rolls overnight at a cost of more than $10 million a year, Deputy Welfare Commissioner Herbert Wilson estimated.

New Welfare Commission Raymond Vowell said negotiations are under way to place limits on run-away medical care costs, while maintaining adequate services.

18-YEAR-OLDS CAN VOTE --Texas' 18-19 and 20-year-olds who are registered to vote can participate in any election starting this month, Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. points out.

Ratification by the 38th state of the teen-age voter constitutional amendment placed it into effect immediately, Dies said.

Any election which is now in progress "must allow those 18, 19 and 20-year olds to vote if they are presently registered," Dies, chief election officer for Texas, advised.

Young voters not now registered must wait until registration period reopens October 1.

COURTS SPEAK -- First case in which the Nixon administration sought to force busing in the desegregation of public schools, a federal judge at Austin gave Austin schools and U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare until July 16 to come up with a compromise plan "minimizing busing." Court found no official segregation against Austin Mexican-American pupils.

Third Court of Civil Appeals here ordered a new trial of the case involving authority of former Sharpstown State Bank president to check out bonds offered as security on a $470,000 loan. Now - defunct bank brought suit to recover its $470,000.

Both State Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals did not meet last Wednesday, due to State Bar convention in Dallas.

AG OPINIONS -- Texas Water Quality Board may contract with the federal government for increased percentage limitations on federal grants for waste treatment facilities with approval of the governor, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

*Regulations adopted by Texas Department of Public Safety Director consistent with safety standards of U.S. Department of Transportation for movement of hazardous materials can be enforced by criminal penalty provisions. Legislature validly delegated to DPS authority to prescribe duties and ascertain conditions under which law on hazardous substances may operate to impose criminal penalty.

*County may deposit all tax money collected in one general fund without regard to purpose or source of each tax, but bonds proceeds may not be deposited in general fund.

*Sellers of "earmolds" to individuals for use with hearing aids is not exempt from the requirement of being licensed by Texas State Board of Examiners in Fitting and Dispensing of Hearing Aids. *State Comptroller is not authorized to issue a duplicate warrant for payment of unemployment compensation benefits to initial payee more than year after the original date of issuance.

*Comptroller may issue warrant to contractor or seller of supplies to the State which are purchased through State Board of Control without seller's certification of correctness on invoice.

UNEMPLOYMENT UP -- Texas unemployment increased 15,500 from mid-April to mid-May to a total of 196,500 Texas Employment Commission reported.

During last year, unemployment increased 28 per cent, and number of claimants for jobless benefits jumped 42 per cent.

Seventeen of the major areas reported unemployment growth during the past month. Four had a decrease, and one remained unchanged. Unemployment rate (as percentage of work force) was 4.1 per cent compared with 3.3 per cent in May 1970 and 3.8 per cent in April.

LAND SALE SET--Leases on 97,726 acres of state-owned land in West Texas will be offered at public auction September 22 here by Board for Lease of University Lands.

Total of 316 tracts will be sold to the highest bidder in Andrews, Cooke, Crane, Crockett, El Paso, Gaines, Pecos, Reagan, Terrell, and Wheeler counties for the first time. More than 44,000 Gas Tracts in and Val Verde are up for bids.
