WORK

NAVER, director of the White House Office of Consumer Affairs, writes a related column which we sometimes see, and one of her recent ones is about this question: "If you had to get into your living room tonight and find it filled with fire, what would you do?"

There are several possibilities. Here are some:

1. I would hunt up my wife and ask her to get the new draperies would look good in the room.

2. I would look behind the draperies to see if the youngsters were hiding back there with a diaper.

3. I would go to the garage, get my aluminum ladder, climb up on top of the roof and scream for Don Kendrick.

4. I would suggest any of these things.

5. I would first should get everybody out as fast as possible, then call the fire department, and then, and only then, try to put out the fire with a fire extinguisher.

6. Maybe at that point I would start a backfire in the hallway.

7. I would try to convert the Sudan and Amherst papers, and immediately starting printing the Shallowater papers by hand. Only trouble was, we were out of ink, and had to learn a lot of things the hard way, which brings to my mind the "Santa Claus" bride incident.

8. I would ask a young woman from Shallowater to marry me and send us a photograph of herself in wedding dress. I would blow it up by not exposing the film, and the picture came out.

9. I would try to run when we were trying to run. I was just too exhausted to run. I kept looking at that dark spot running about half the papers I had called for Jay House to stop the train somewhere that you could see on a printing plate by rubbing a common pencil eraser, and I did this on the dark portions of the plate, and we started the press again. I rubbed a little harder, and more. Still no change; her face was there. So we stopped once more.

10. "I worked," I said, but I rubbed around the bottom part of her face just finish running them as it is. It worked. Too good, because the girl's face disappeared and had to have a large white beard, and Santa Claus. It looked terrible, and we ran the rest of them that would never find out where she had been. To my knowledge, she never may be looking for us, and we will blame her.

11. The sequel to this story. A couple of years ago, one of the men associated with Max Steger, who worked at Sears, was sure was glad nobody around was connected with the newsstand him why.

12. "I explained. 'I just discovered that my co-workers is Santa Claus'."

Telephone Listing Plans Stir Controversy Here

NEW SHINE FOR 1809--Old Santa Fe engine 1809 gets a new paint job from Santa Fe employees, adding to the appearance of the locomotive which has been on display in Santa Fe Park near the depot in Slaton since the early 1950s. L. W. Lewis is working on the ground level at left, and C. B. Eickenhorst is working at far right, out of the picture. At top wielding a spray rig is J. C. Powers, third generation of Santa Fe employees to work on this engine, as his father and grandfather before him have been associated with it in the past. (SLATONITE PHOTO)

The question of how Slaton subscribers would be listed in the phone book when calls between Lubbock and Slaton become toll-free in January had the Slaton business community buzzing this week after Mayor Bland Tomlinson began seeking opinions of subscribers here on which of two ways they would prefer the listings be made.

Officials of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., meeting with some business leaders and some city officials last week, indicated tentative plans to list Slaton subscribers alphabetically in with the Lubbock subscribers, integrating all the listings. The alternative system would be to list Slaton separately in the back of the phone book ahead of the yellow pages.

Under the integrated listings system, the cover of the directory would carry the names of both Lubbock and Slaton, and each page in the book would carry the notation that numbers beginning with 828 are Slaton numbers.

Mayor Tomlinson, saying that he did not believe the general public was aware of possible alternatives in the listing procedure, requested that any persons with an opinion one way or the other make their opinions known by calling the city hall, 828-6305. In addition he sought to make a telephone survey of 100 subscribers to get their opinions, he said. He observed that the phoned-in opinions should be registered today (Thursday), since another meeting with phone company officials is scheduled for Friday.

Several Slaton business leaders expressed strong support of the proposed plan to list Slaton numbers alphabetically with Lubbock numbers. These persons declared that an integrated listing would be of much greater benefit to the entire community than having Slaton listed in the back of the book.

Mayor Tomlinson declared that he had no strong opinion one way or the other, but did want to represent the majority viewpoint of Slaton citizens in discussions with the telephone company representatives.

Despite all the agitation, telephone company officials gave no indication they would be influenced one way or the other in regard to the listing procedure, but did indicate the matter would be discussed at Friday's meeting.

Details regarding the extended service are to be given soon by telephone company officials, who told the Slatonite they hoped to have the information ready by next week.

Some base rate increases will go into effect here when Lubbock and Slaton are connected, with businesses expected to bear the major portion of the increase.

Phone company officials indicated last week that Slaton phone users would be able to call toll-free to all numbers on Lubbock exchanges, but not to exchanges in other phone systems which now have an arrangement with Lubbock for toll-free calls. In other words, Slatonites apparently will not be able to make toll-free calls to A. Cuff, Woodrow, Shallowater, Hurwood and such areas, but will be able to call anyone now on the Lubbock exchange whose numbers start with 7.

'Junk Cars' Are Targeted

Three wrecks, thefts and burglaries, and first official steps to get "junk cars" removed from a number of locations in the city headed reports of police activities during the past week.

Sixteen persons were notified of violation of city ordinance 352 in regard to vehicles parked in the city with expired license plates or with no registration. Owners of the vehicles were given 10 days to take action.

Last Wednesday, a wreck at 15th and Lubbock at 1:30 p.m. involved a 1962 auto driven by Robert Harold Pace Jr. of Post and a 1972 car driven by Linda Jean Layman of Tulsa.

On Saturday a 1968 car driven by Robert Ira Breedlove, 435 W. Garza, was in collision with a parked 1968 car owned by James Ed Vickers of 1150 W. Crosby.

On July 25 at 8:01 p.m., 1966 cars driven by James Arthur Conwright and Jesus Chara, both of Slaton, collided at 6th and Jean, with total damage estimated at $550.

Several windows and four panes from a door were reported broken by vandals at Templo Battista, 145 E. Fandhandle on Tuesday.

Slaton Wrecking Co. on industrial Drive reported loss of $5 in change from a cash register after burglars gained entry by making a hole in the roof. Damage to the roof was estimated at $20.

Bill Nall, 1140 S. 6th, said a tire, jack and set of booster cables had been stolen from his pickup Monday. Total value of the stolen items was set at $25.

Billy Whitehill, 255 S. 4th St., reported theft of a bicycle valued at $25 Sunday.

A portable television set valued at $70 was listed as stolen from the residence of Joel Olivarez, 735 S. 8th St. on Friday.

Warrants were issued for the arrest of eight persons for failure to appear on traffic citations.

Three Win Bikes In Slatonite's July Campaign

The Slatonite wound up a month-long subscription campaign which added 181 new subscribers to the readership, with three youngsters in the campaign getting new bicycles as premiums for selling at least 20 new subscriptions.

On the last day of the campaign, Topsy Alford, 11, brought in his 20th new subscription and claims a new yellow bike from White's Auto Store in Slaton. First winner of a bicycle in the contest was Billy Whitehill and close behind him was Sherra Basinger.

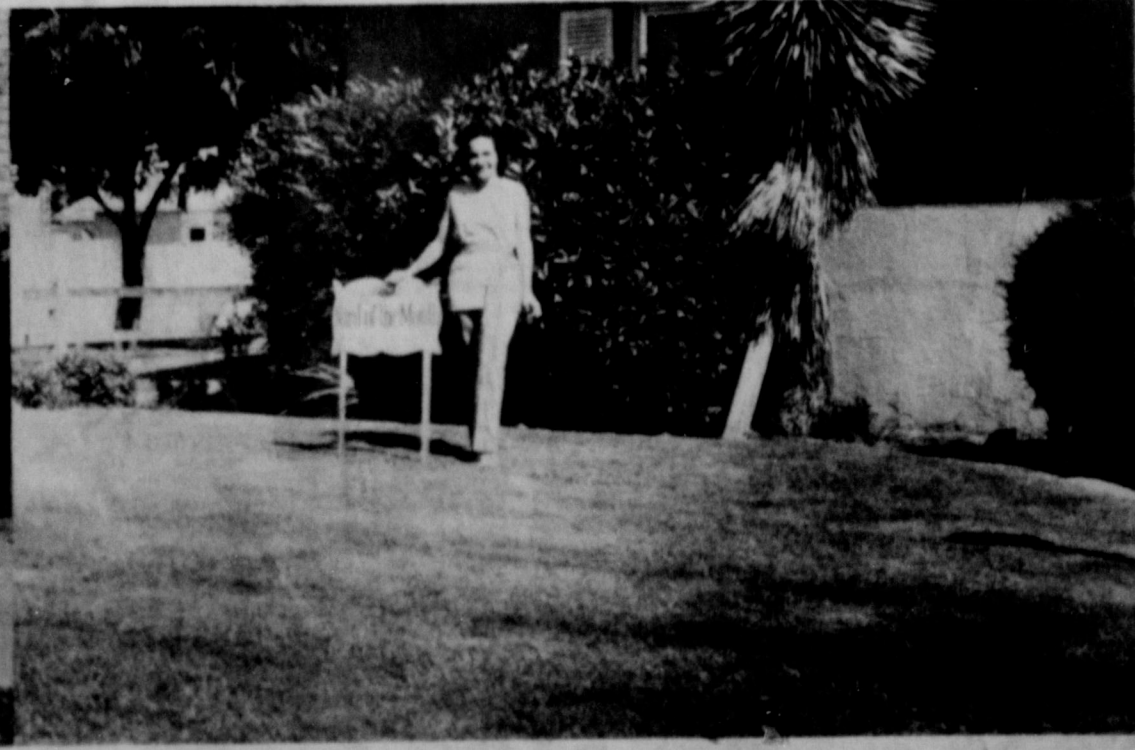

With the close of the subscription campaign, Publisher Dalton Wood announced that effective immediately price of one year's subscription to the Slatonite in Lubbock and adjoining counties is being increased to $5.00. Subscriptions mailed to all other points will remain at $6.00 per year, he said, noting that the local increase is necessary because of increased costs of producing and distributing the newspaper.

EARNs WHEELS--Topsy Alford, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Alford of 1585 W. Crosby in Slaton, was the third winner of a bicycle in the Slatonite's subscription campaign which ended Monday. Topsy's sister, Jenny, 9, helped out and is sure to insist on her turn at riding the bike from White's Auto Store, represented here by White's owner Bill Cirone.

ITEM: Herbicides (weed control chemicals) are not practical in most home gardening situations. There are several reasons for this, one being economical - material is needed in such small quantities compared to the area to be treated. Another reason is that some vegetables may be sensitive to certain types of herbicides. Mulching is perhaps the easiest and most practical way to control weeds in the home garden.

ITEM: Charcoal grills should be used outside where there is plenty of ventilation and no danger of carbon monoxide poisoning. You may invite tragedy by moving outdoor cooking equipment inside closed garages, porches, cabins, tents, or station wagons to escape bad weather.

Austrian Cherry Cake Has Colorful Heritage

The importance of pastry to the Viennese is a part of Austrian life that has been integrated into the country's social and political history. Romans brought the first cake (a simple form of what we now know as gingerbread) to the old outpost on the Canube known as Vindobona. The Viennese talent began to show itself, even back then, for adopting anything foreign that appealed to them and modifying it until it became "typically Viennese." And, thus, Vienna has become the pastry capital of the world. One of its inventions was that of the proprietor of the Dobos Patisserie, who developed a way of making a torten (layer cake) consisting of many thin layers of cake, alternating with layers of filling. Today, the name Dobostorte can connote any one of hundreds of variations of this idea, and SOLO Austrian Cherry Cake is one of them.

This delicious confection utilizes two "instant" ingredients available in most food stores: pound cake mix and SOLO Cherry pastry filling in the 12 ounce can.

- SOLO AUSTRIAN CHERRY CAKE
- 1 package pound cake mix (or 1 purchased baked pound cake)
 - 1 egg yolk
 - 1-12 oz. can "SOLO" Cherry Filling
 - 2 cups confectioners' sugar
 - 2 teaspoons grated orange peel
 - 1 tablespoon orange juice, approximate

Bake and cool pound cake mix as directed on package - or, you can purchase a baked pound cake. Cut the cake horizontally into six thin layers. Spread "SOLO" Cherry filling between layers. Cream butter; gradually add 1 cup confectioners' sugar. Beat in egg yolk and orange peel. Add remaining confectioners' sugar with enough orange juice to make a spreading consistency. Cover top of cake with an orange frosting. A little "SOLO" Cherry filling can be swirled into the frosting if desired.

ITEM: Corrugated-paper furniture is the latest development in the low-priced furniture field. You can buy tables, stools, seating units—even clocks and lamps—in bright colors. They are lightweight and can be knocked down.

$1,000 Premium Set For Top Barrow In Plains Fair Show

LUBBOCK--A cash premium of $1,000 will be awarded to the grand champion barrow in the new barrow show slated in conjunction with the 55th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair here in Sept. 25-30.

The terminal barrow show replaces the swine show of previous years and total premiums of $5,675 are being offered in this event, up nearly $1,000 from last year. Fair officials are hopeful that this show will be the forerunner to one of the top events in the Southwest and nationally as well.

Only 750 barrows will be accepted for the inaugural, according to Lee Roy Colgan, Dawson County extension agent from Lamesa and the superintendent of the show. A non-returnable $5 entry fee is required per barrow. Entries received after the 750 limit has been reached will be rejected.

There will be no "take home" barrows. All entries will be sold to the highest bidder at the conclusion of the fair. Barrows will be divided into three classes at weigh-in: light, 200 to 215 pounds; medium, 216 to 230 pounds; and heavy, 231 to 250 pounds.

The two breeds which have the largest number of barrows weighed in will be the two designated divisions. Competition is open to the world, and entries are being expected from throughout the Southwest and portions of the Midwest.

Champions in the breed with the largest number of barrows, the second largest number, crossbreeds and all other pure-breeds will receive $100 cash award plus a banner. The reserve champions in each of the four divisions will receive $50 and a banner each.

A cash award of $25, plus a banner, will be offered as the herdsman award. The reserve grand champion will receive $750 in cash and a banner. The top award of $1,000 to the grand champion is the largest single cash award ever presented by the fair association.

Officials connected with the fair's swine shows over the years recommend the switch to the barrow show this year and keen competition is anticipated. Commercial breeders, 4-H and FFA members and others will be competing for the same awards. A number of entries already have been received. Entries close Sept. 11 unless the maximum number has been received prior to that date.

Wayland College Law Enforcement Program Gets Full Accreditation

(PLAINVIEW)--Word from Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education was received recently by Dr. Roy C. McClung, president of Wayland Baptist College, that the law enforcement program of the college has been accredited by the commission.

In a letter signed by Fred Toler, executive director and W. W. Burrow, Director of education programs of the commission, Dr. McClung was informed that the Wayland law enforcement program "meets the core curriculum requirements and is accredited by the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education for peace officer certification."

The letter further stated, "We commend you for your leadership in law enforcement education and encourage you to continue with us in professionalizing the Texas Peace Officer." The letter continued, "No longer is the policeman a mere functionary who deals with the uneducated 'dregs' of society of yesterday; on the contrary, he must measure up to the generally higher level of education of today's society which he is supposed to help run smoothly."

The four year program leading to a bachelor of science degree in law enforcement at Wayland began last fall with some 30 persons in the new program. The spring semester saw more than 70 students in the program.

Extension classes were formed last spring and met in the Lubbock courthouse.

Meet Woodsy Owl. He represents a major step forward in our fight against pollution.

A major step forward in getting our smoggy skies blue again. A major step forward in saving our forests, lakes and wildlife. And a major step forward in improving the quality of our environment. You'll be seeing and hearing a lot about Woodsy. He knows how you can fight pollution... and he needs your help.

Woodsy has a hooter. When he blows it, it goes Hoot! A Hoot is a pollution stopper. Some of Woodsy's Hoots are: Trees make many things possible, plant a tree. Recycle all cans, bottles and papers. Man paints houses only nature should paint forests. Sh sh sh sh...nose pollutes too. Trees and flowers can't hold their breath...smog's a killer. Tuned-engines mean less smog. Keep your engines tuned.

In months to come you'll be hearing many more Hoots...over one hundred. If you have good Hoots...practical ways people can fight pollution, send them to Woodsy Owl, U.S. Forest Service, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Give a hoot! Don't pollute.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"How about a great big smile this morning... THAT'S IT..."

COTTON TALKS
FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Condition of the High Plains cotton crop early in the last week of July ranged from "poor" to "excellent" and averaged out overall to about halfway between "fair" and "good", according to a survey of area ginners and producers conducted by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. during the week of July 23.

Standing acreage in the 25 counties in PCG territory at the first of July was estimated to be 2,602,000 by the joint PCG-Lubbock Cotton Exchange Estimates Committee, and information from the recent PCG survey generally supports that figure. However the PCG-Exchange Committee will meet again Aug. 2 for a re-evaluation of county-by-county acreage figures and to compile the season's first projection of prospective production volume. The committee's findings will be released on Sunday, Aug. 6.

The last week of June and the first two weeks of July brought widespread damage to the area crop from hail, wind and ascochyta (wet weather) blight. But dry, sunny weather followed over most of the area and has continued since about July 15, to the benefit of crops in all except extreme southern counties which are again in need of rain.

Agroscionists at the Texas A & M Research and Extension Center north of Lubbock note that blight and wind damaged cotton now appears to be well on its way to recovery in almost every instance. Dr. Lavon Ray, head of cotton research at the Center, said "Some fields have definitely had stands and potential yields reduced by the excessive wet weather and blowing sand, but most are improving with every day of high temperatures and with continued good weather and a normal frost date stand a good chance of making an acceptable crop."

Generally speaking, moisture conditions in dryland areas are a definite plus factor. Excepting most of Howard and Martin counties and parts of Dawson county, dryland cotton has an excellent chance of producing

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News
Farmcast
Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

The Texas calf crop this year is expected to be the highest since 1924, the Texas Crop and Livestock Service reports. A calf crop of 5,444,000 head is expected this year; this compares with 5,286,000 head last year.

Nationwide, the 1972 calf crop is expected to total 48,445,000. This is three percent more than 46,974,000 head produced in 1971. The 5,444,000 calves expected in Texas this year is more than twice the number expected in second ranking Missouri, Oklahoma is the third leading state in calf production.

SHEEP and lambs on feed in Texas as of July 1 is down 18 percent from a year ago. Sheep and lambs on feed totaled 150,000. Marketings of fed sheep during March through June at 226,000 head were 1,000 below the same period last year.

Sheep and lambs on feed are those intended for slaughter being fed a ration of grain or other concentrates or on succulent pastures and expected within the next three months to produce a carcass that will grade good or better.

SCREWORMS continue to infest Texas livestock as well as wildlife and domesticated animals such as dogs. Little or no relief is expected from the screwworm infestations until cold weather sets in this fall and winter. Livestock owners are urged to continue to check their livestock regularly and to treat wounds on livestock for screwworm control.

LESS pollution from wind erosion has been noted this year compared to last year. Wind erosion in the Great Plains moved downward from damage totals a year ago.

Texas, with 1,145,150 acres, or about one-half of the total nationwide, reported the most wind erosion damage this season. Nationwide, land in condition to blow is reported at 3,269,060 acres this year compared to 6,693,695 acres for 1971.

Crops are continuing to make generally good progress throughout the state. Cotton is reported to be making excellent progress on the High Plains and Low Plains due to recent rains. The crop is doing nicely in the Blacklands and East Texas except for insect problems. Harvest in the Lower Rio Grande Valley has been delayed by rains.

Corn is making good growth in most areas of the state. Grain sorghum harvest is more than 20 percent complete. Yields have ranged from good to excellent in Blacklands and parts of south and south central Texas.

Soybeans and peanuts are making good to excellent progress. Rice harvest is making fair progress but rain has delayed harvest operations. Harvest for the state is nearing the 20 percent completion mark.

As for commercial fruit, peach harvest continues in most areas with Elberta varieties now in production. This year's peach crop shows good potential with most trees having moderate to heavy nut set.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

We have the most of us, become so accustomed to change that we take things in stride. Another Apollo mission. Another heart transplant. So, what else is new?

We aren't concerned about other important things... the literature that our children read, the movies they see at the local theater, on the television screen.

We pay little attention to obvious indications of prejudice and intolerance. We aren't concerned, unless we are directly involved. Are most of us like this? Or, just some of us? Where do you belong, with the most, or with the some. And, what about me?

If the majority goes through life unconcerned, then let us join the minority. Let us look to the teachings of Christianity, to the lessons we find in the life of Christ upon earth.

Let us recognize the great and wonderful things of life and lend no support or encouragement to the wrongs which many are willing to tolerate and ignore.

— a weekly message relating the world of today to the lessons of Faith and Church ...

"I have learned, in whatever state I am, to be content."
—Philippians III, 11

In our youthful days, we demand so little. Happiness is home, warmth, food, someone to love. In later years, we become more demanding. We develop a new sense of values. We ask more from ourselves, from others. We are not always content with our lot in life, with our share of the good things which are available. Sometimes we lead ourselves astray because we want too much, because we try too hard. This is not to say that we should be completely placid; but only that happiness is found somewhere on that middle ground between contentment and aspiration.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 3, 1972
Read Zephaniah 3:14-18

"He will rejoice over you with gladness, he will love you in his love." (Zephaniah 3:17, RSV)

I remember I held the piece of paper in my longest time. I do not remember (it was) a warranty. I can only recall the three words if detached. These words have affected my life great deal to say about how we are to live out our faith.

God has given us a guarantee--a promise. He will rejoice over you with gladness, he will love you.

This warranty of life is void if detached. Zephaniah warns us what will happen if we do not discipline ourselves, if we do not listen to His voice and accept no correction from Him. Zephaniah is speaking to God's chosen people. He is also speaking to us today! He tells us that God is in our midst. It is He who renews us. This is our guarantee. We will be renewed! We will be renewed! We will be renewed! We will be renewed! We will be renewed!

PRAYER: Dear God, discipline me that I may be renewed this day. Renew me in Your love; through Christ.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:

God does not rejoice over those who detach from Him.

'Chilympiad' Set At San Marcos

The third annual Republic of Texas Chilympiad, the statewide cook-off to find the best Chili Cook, will be held Sept. 29-30 and Oct. 1, at Aquarea Springs in San Marcos.

Invitations to enter the "Bowl of Red" competition were issued this week by Chilympiad co-chairman Ken Weatherford and Jon Mostyn.

"Our 1971 Chilympiad Champion Chief Fulton Battise of the Alabama Coushatta Indian Reservation at Livingston will return this year to defend his title and he will bring members of his tribal council to assist him", declared Mostyn. Chilympiad officials estimate entries this year will set a new record exceeding the forty competitors last year who cooked every conceivable type of chili. Entry information can be obtained by writing to Chilympiad, Box 2310, Chamber of Commerce, San Marcos, Texas 78666.

PERSONAL

Hello out there. Another week has gone by—where and how do they go so fast? It is just a matter of a couple of weeks and school will be starting in Southland, at least for the teachers, followed shortly by the opening of the doors for students. The teachers will start on Aug. 14 and the kids will start flocking in on the 17th.

Speaking of school, lets talk a little about "ye 'ole school-house"! It has really been getting a "going-over" these past weeks. All the rooms have been painted in beautiful colors with matching woodwork, and the floors have been sanded and refinished. A few of the rooms are getting new furniture and the halls have been lightened considerably with shades lighter paint. The auditorium will be getting a needed face lifting after school starts. I understand that the lunchroom and the gym are getting a thorough cleaning and fixing up, too, so if you are over this way, why don't you drop in at the school and see it all for yourself?

Mrs. Ed Lieske, Billy Angle and Mrs. Bertha O'Keefe have just returned from a trip to Marlin, Texas where they spent a week vacationing. Everyone in this and surrounding communities were shocked and saddened when we received the news on Tuesday morning of last week that Billy Lester had died enroute to a Lubbock Hospital from Mercy Hospital in Slaton where he had been a patient since the day before. Billy was one of those persons who believed in helping whenever and where ever he could. If there was something to be done in the community, he was one of the first ones there and he was a faithful supporter of our school. Billy was only 47 years old. We will all miss him so much. May God continue to comfort his wife, Doris, and his sons, Gary and Gregg, his mother, Mrs. W. P. Lester, his brothers; Winston, Joe and Troy and his sister, Maurine Duff.

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Crawford and Debra were Mr. and Mrs. James Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wayne Crawford and Mrs. Clinton Maner and boys, all of Lubbock. Shane Clinton spent Sunday night here with his grandparents.

Slater Moore, brother of Mrs. P. W. Crawford, who recently the Lubbock City-County Board, was one of the featured speakers. Mrs. Melugin, local librarian also was present for the ground-breaking event. The Slaton Branch Library has most of the Best Sellers on the latest list. The service truck arrives on Tuesdays and Thursdays from Lubbock City-County Libraries, bringing new books, supplies, and picking up books that have been turned in. The bookdrop is located on the west wall of the library, for patrons' convenience.

Got a card from the F. W. Callaways the other day and they are staying at the Ponderosa Camp on Rt. 1, Antonio, Colo. It must be beautiful up there, nice and cool with good fishing streams. If you are up that way, why don't you stop in for a visit? Bet they would love to see you! Wish I were up there right now.

The summer reading program, which began June 1, will end Aug. 12. There have been 288 boys and girls register for the reading club, and more than 100 have gained the honor roll by reading 20 or more books by July 29, with 130 striving for the honor roll by the deadline. After reading three books, readers receive a colorful Charlie Brown poster and began filling in the chart with book stickers, for each additional book read. Those gaining the honor roll will be recognized by their school and also have their names posted on a giant bulletin board in the Lubbock City-County Library.

"Nora Torres, 5th grade student, has been a great helper during the summer reading adventure," according to the local librarian, Mrs. Ted Melugin. More than 3,000 books were circulated during the month of July from the Slaton Branch Library.

Thursday morning, the ground-breaking service was held at Ave. K and 8th Street in Lubbock, for the location of the new library, to be built in the next 14 months. Greely Sanders of Slaton representing

Swine Feed Study Gets Underway

A combination ration that will reduce the cost of pork production is the object of a swine feeding study beginning this week at the High Plains Research Foundation.

Object of the study will be to find a combination of triticale and grain sorghum for feeding swine that is more efficient with cheaper costs of gain than rations now available utilizing either grain, Dr. Tom C. Longnecker, Foundation director, said.

In two previous feeding comparison tests, swine fed a triticale ration alone did not eat enough grain from the weight of 40 pounds to 125 pounds for good weight gain. However, after swine reached 125 pounds, those on triticale outgained the swine on a grain sorghum ration, Longnecker said.

EDUCATE A BURGLAR AND PROTECT YOUR HOME

Today's burglar is often a cool, resourceful professional. It is on record that on a quiet afternoon thieves will park a van in a suburban driveway while the housewife is out shopping and load up the valuables in the house... TV, typewriter, stereo players and more traditional targets of burglars such as jewelry and cash.

Skilled, daring thieves like this are hard to stop... but there is help and hope for the homeowner through Operation Identification, according to the Consumers Insurance Information Bureau.

And householders and small businessmen do need help. Latest FBI statistics show there were over two million burglaries in 1970, up 72 per cent over 1965. The 1970 property losses of $672 million were even more painful because of the low percentage of the loot recovered, most of which could not be returned because police couldn't find the owners.

Operation Identification is a burglar's education program to protect the consumer. First you provide positive identification of your valuables by etching your area code and phone number on them with an engraving pencil; second you place stickers on your windows and doors telling would-be burglars your property is marked for Operation Identification; and, finally, the burglars are educated by the publicity campaign sparked by the National Association of Insurance Agents' public service agency, the Consumers Insurance Information Bureau.

The most approachable experts on the behavior of burglars, police departments, assure us that burglars do read newspapers, watch TV (on stolen sets?) and listen to radios. So the task is to convince them that an Operation Identification home is a bad risk for them.

If they do plunder an Operation Identification house, they'll have trouble because marked property is too hot. If the thief or the fence is caught with the loot, he'll have a hard time explaining it. The police can check with a phone call to find the rightful owner.

This program does work. It has proven itself in Monterey Park, California, where it was originated by Police Chief Everett Holladay in 1963. When the program started, about one-half of the 11,000 homes in the community joined Operation Identification. Since then, only 23 homes in the identification program were burgled while the other, non-participating half, reported 2,000 break-ins.

Other communities with property identification programs reported similar results. In Saginaw, Michigan, police recovered skis, binoculars and a guitar stolen from a summer cottage even before the owners knew that the place had been rifled. The thief had abandoned the marked loot, realizing he wouldn't be able to unload it because of the statewide Operation Identification program launched by the Independent Insurance Agents of Michigan early in 1971. There were 306 burglaries reported in Saginaw in 1971, but not one in an Operation Identification house.
