

Tigerettes Bow In Finals

Slaton's Tigerettes were bridesmaids again in the regional tournament at Lubbock last Saturday as they once more went down 39-31 in the finals to defending state AA champion Spearman, and again it was the fantastic shooting of Leann Shieldknight which halted Slaton's bid for the Tigerettes first trip to the state tournament.

The first eight times she shot at the basket, Miss Shieldknight swished the ball through. At halftime she had hit 11 of 13 from the field and 1 of 1 free throw for 23 of Spearman's points at the half, when the Lynettes led 25-15.

After Shieldknight's first two goals made it 4-0 at 6:15 left in the first period, Slaton's Karla Kitten matched this with two field goals to tie it at 5:26. But this was to be as close as the Tigerettes came, as Spearman's guards did a good job of keeping the Slaton girls away from the basket, especially in the first half. Slaton trailed 14-7 at the end of the first period.

Slaton Guard Petra Gipson suffered torn knee ligaments in the second quarter and had to be carried from the court in pain.

Trailing 10 points, it looked bad for Slaton at halftime, but the Tigerettes came fighting back to outscore the Spearman team in the second half. Guard Kay Stephens, who with Miss Kitten from the Slaton team made the all-tournament team,

Push For Heart Fund Planned

Volunteer workers will canvass homes in Slaton for campaigns for the Heart Fund starting today, with primary emphasis on Sunday, when the Heart Sunday drive will wind up the campaign.

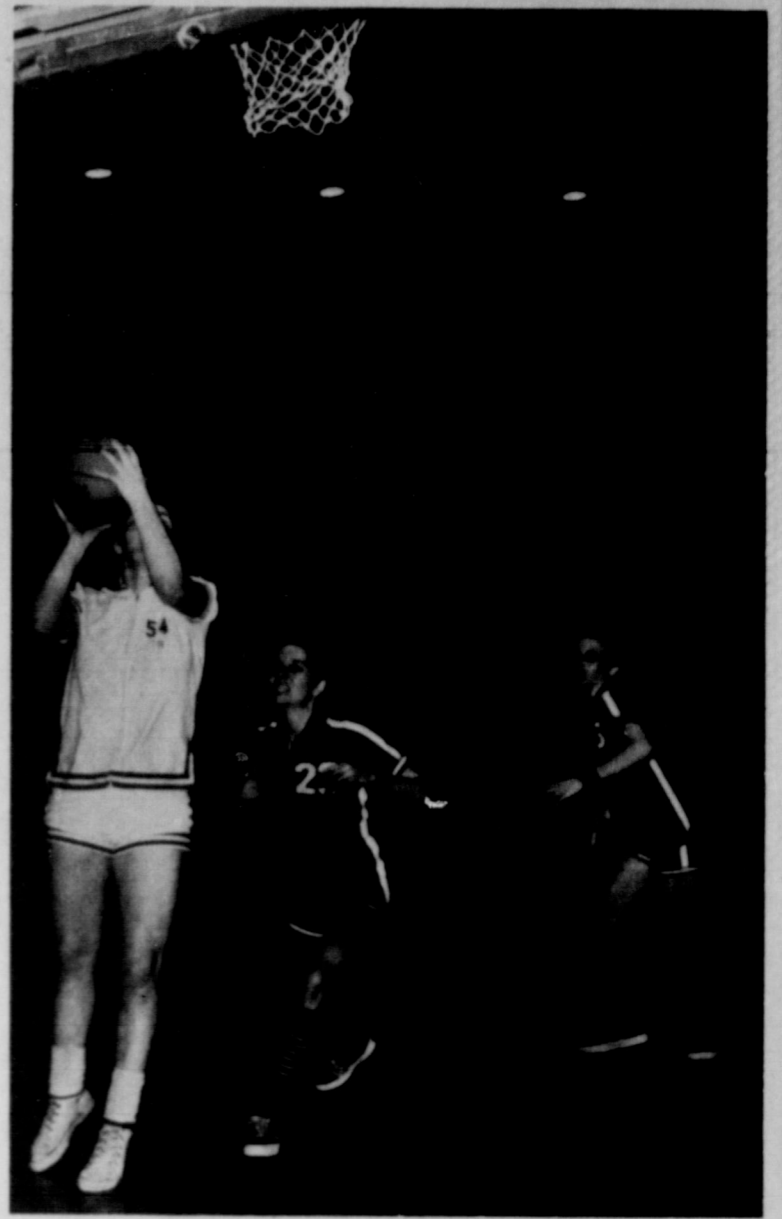

Mrs. Kay Smith is chairman of the local drive, and Mrs. Jo Holt is publicity chairman. They reported about 75 volunteers will be making the canvass, mostly on Sunday, although some will be out today and through Sunday. Collections will be made from businesses in town prior to Sunday, Mrs. Smith said.

and guards Loretta Dillon and Scharla Johnston did a good job of containing Miss Shieldknight in the second half, but the sharpshooting all-stater wound up with 31 points.

It was 33-25 at the end of the third quarter, and in the fourth, some good shooting by Greta Stricklin and Miss Kitten brought Slaton to within four points -- 35-31 -- with just 3:10 left in the game. But Spearman managed to win it by playing deliberate ball and hitting free throws after Slaton was forced to commit fouls.

Miss Stricklin led Slaton scoring with 14, while Miss Kitten had 13, as the Tigerettes wound up the season with a 29-5 record.

In the semifinal game, Slaton easily overpowered Coahoma 62-36 as Miss Stricklin fired in 21 points, Jan Davis 18 and Miss Kitten 12. For Coahoma, Sherry Griffin had 16 points and Sally Echols 11, but it was no contest as Slaton had quarter leads of 20-8, 40-20 and 48-26. Especially in the first half, Miss Stricklin was shooting with deadly accuracy.

TWO MORE FOR LEANN -- No. 54 for Spearman wasn't really a girl, it was a machine for putting basketballs through hoops with strings tied to the bottom. Here Leann Shieldknight, who passed the 3,000-point career mark against Slaton in the regional finals, jumps up to shoot at the basket. She hit 11 of 13 from the field in the first half. Slaton guards Kay Stephens (center) and Scharla Johnston undoubtedly are yelling in hopes Miss Shieldknight will miss. She didn't miss. (SLATONITE PHOTO)

NEONE ASKED ME the other day how about writing a column every week. This close to an unanswerable question as received lately. Actually, sometimes easy; at other times it is harder than digging ditches (or at least, I suppose it is-- I don't ever recall digging any even at the).

explained that quite frequently I just sit at the typewriter and wait for a brilliant idea. After 30 minutes or so of this, the invariably will come along and wake me, at which time I discover the paper is blank.

Really an exaggeration, but truthfully, I stare at the paper for as long as 10 minutes trying to come up with something to write.

one could get a better idea of how to do it just by my relating the preparation before actually starting to write. Take this, for example:

Monday, the day I figure I have my column written, in order to set up in type, and not interfere with scheduled activities. I sit staring at the typewriter, wondering what I'm going to write about, and wondering if I have a chance to do it without being interrupted. I sit at the desk and spot a note I wrote myself. I have to call this guy before he goes beyond the reach of my typewriter devices at that time. I wonder how he manages that. I make the call, and the interview until the next morning.

shrewd move. After all, who knows what will happen between now and tomorrow? Maybe something will develop which will make the story unnecessary.

I stare at typewriter. Deep down in the recesses of my mind an idea struggles to be born. Advertising manager enters the room with 15 different ideas, smothering the little column idea forever. He leaves. I look at typewriter, and insert sheet of paper. Phone rings. Someone is here from Weirsville, Calif. He is here in 1922 and has just been elected California state president of the Men's Club of the Daughters of the American Revolution. I send the ad manager to take over, in revenge for his interrupting me. Now 2:30 p.m. and there are no words left in the typewriter. I stare at it desperately. A man comes by the door and suggests we go get coffee. We go for coffee.

I'm back in office, eager to write. Phone rings. I glare at it and get very brusque with party on line. The line turns out to be good friend and partner, not the sort to be brusque with. At 3:15, we end the conversation, and I go to find another good pal waiting to go for coffee.

I don't care much for coffee, but I love the companionship of those who do care for coffee--or maybe I don't like it either. Anyway, I have a chance for coffee, because the coffee is always so stimulating. And I always overhear from the next table.

I return to office and decide it's time to get out of the office for awhile. I'd been sitting too hard since noon.

I decide it's too late to go back today, so I figure I'll just wait and tonight and write a column. Supper about 8, and television set is too loud and concentration on column written (this is after I'd already decided it late to go down to the office). Finally I log typewriter into living room, with what I'm going to write. This, I say, I will have to be one of those times just stick a piece of paper into the typewriter and start writing whatever comes to

I could have recalled that idea I had once during the day.

Stock Show Set Here Saturday

Judging will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday in the third annual Slaton FFA and 4-H Junior Livestock Show and Sale, to be presented at the agriculture show barn of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce. The barn is located on north 20th.

The junior stock show has been a tradition here since the school system first taught vocational agriculture. This is the third year for the auction and show sponsored by the Agriculture Committee of the Slaton Chamber.

Milt Ardrey and Alex Bednarz, co-chairman of the Ag Committee, urged all citizens of the community to attend the show and sale. Paul Johnson and Don Mitchell, vocational agriculture instructors at Slaton High School, reported that entries this year should total about 100 head, an increase over the number exhibited last year. Only barrows and lambs are entered.

"This is one of the best local shows in this area," Johnson said, "even exceeding some of the county shows, and we would like to thank the merchants who make it possible."

Commenting on the value of the show to the young exhibitors, Johnson said: "For some of these boys and girls, this is the end product of about six months work with lambs or about four months work with barrows. Most of them would rather win this show than any other."

Show judge will be Richard Miller, farmer and livestock operator from Ropesville. Ribbons and trophies will be awarded to winners.

The sale starts at 2 p.m. Auctioneer will be Coy Biggs, who donates his talents to the show. Buyers of champion stock will receive banners.

Giving out the awards will be FFA Sweetheart Susan Hopper, who has held the title of chapter sweetheart for three years.

Parents and all other interested persons were urged to come out for the show and sale.

Candidates File For City Posts; Evans Withdraws

One candidate for mayor withdrew from the race this week, and another signed up. Two candidates for the two commission vacancies also have filed during the last week.

Roger Evans, who had announced for mayor last week, withdrew after discovering that the law prohibits anyone who works for the city from holding the office of mayor. Evans Flying Service operates the municipal airport, and Evans said he could scarcely afford to give this up for the $15 per month mayor's job.

John N. Landreth, 805 W. Lubbock, has filed for the mayor's race, joining Tommy Brunson, who had filed earlier. The job is being vacated by Bland Tomlinson, who has said he would not run again. Also announcing they would not run are the two commissioners whose terms expire, R. J. Clark in Ward 3 and J. S. Edwards Jr. in Ward 1.

Filing this week for the Ward 1 spot was Bryon Crandall, 730 S. 18th; and filing for the Ward 3 post was J. P. Spears, 305 N. 4th.

All of the candidates who filed for the election this week are retired Santa Fe Railroad employees. Brunson also works for the railroad.

Filing deadline for the election is March 2.

Light Bulb Sale Slated Monday

Members of Slaton Tiger Club will be calling on homes in the city Monday evening, starting about 6 p.m., selling light bulbs. Funds raised will go to promote Slaton High School athletic activities, according to President Joe Sparkman.

Light bulbs sell in 8-bulb packages, at $2.63 per package, including tax. Sparkman requested that anyone wanting bulbs who isn't reached at home Monday get in contact with him and he would see that the bulbs are received.

Hospital Project Contract Okayed

A major step toward the long-awaited remodeling and renovation of Mercy Hospital was taken Tuesday night as the Slaton Hospital Memorial Foundation's board of trustees voted to award a contract for the hospital project to Bundock Construction Co. of Lubbock.

Three primary portions of the renovation project are specified in the contract, all concerned with patient safety and protection, and all in keeping with recommendations of the accreditation committee whose earlier findings were a major factor in the decision of the Sisters of Mercy to turn the hospital over to the community.

H. R. Bundock, owner of the construction firm, was present at Tuesday's session. The firm's contract is on a cost-plus basis, with the total cost of the three-pronged project estimated at $103,700. The contract calls for a new fire stair tower to be added at the north end of the building; for installation of automatic sprinklers in designated areas of the hospital, and for new wider and more fireproof doors on patient rooms.

W. R. (Bill) Sewell, chairman of the board, observed that in the current extended campaign to raise some $70,000, about half the total has been raised or pledged. He said a renewed effort is planned soon to push the total higher.

Sewell presided at the meeting, and other board members present were T. J. Wallace, Willie Nesbitt and Mrs. B. H. Crandall, who has replaced R. C. Hall Jr., who resigned because of other duties. Also present were board secretary Harvey Morton and Mercy Hospital Administrator Phillip McDonald. Board members absent were Alex Bednarz and Dr. Jay M. McSwain.

McDonald reported that hospital occupancy now is running at about 50 per cent, meaning that at most times there is room for 15 or more new patients in the 35-bed facility.

The administrator also noted that two representatives of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals are scheduled to pay an inspection visit of Mercy Hospital next week.

Resident Finds Young Burglar In Her Home Here

A woman awoke to find a burglar in her home here last Saturday morning, and the young Mexican male intruder left with her purse containing $20 cash, she told officers. Mrs. Judy Massey, 1140 S. 6th St., said she awoke at 5:30 a.m. to find the youth standing in the bedroom doorway, holding a pair of scissors.

Mrs. Massey said the intruder told her he would not hurt anybody, but that he wanted some money, a radio or a camera. She told him she had $20 in her purse and he told her she already had that. He then left the house, taking the purse.

Last Wednesday a wreck at Industrial Drive and FM400 involved a 1968 car driven by Albert Alfaro of Rt. 1, Slaton, and a 1970 pickup driven by Roger Lusk of Lubbock. Total damage was estimated at $300.

On Thursday, Bill Crone, owner of White's Auto Store, reported that someone had taken a battery from a pickup parked behind the store. Value of the

BOARD AIRS GARBAGE SITUATION

Eighth Grade Graduation To Be Halted

Slaton school board last Thursday night voted to eliminate eighth grade graduation exercises after this year's ceremonies, amended rules regarding keeping pupils after school, voted an "open campus" policy for seniors starting next year, and rared up in anger at a proposed 143 per cent increase in garbage collection rates.

The board also voted an extension of contracts for Athletic Director and Head Coach Bill Curry, members of the coaching staff, principals and other administrative personnel. The board session, attended by principals and representatives of Slaton Classroom Teachers Assn., lasted past midnight. Supt. J. C. McClesky, Administrative Assistant Joe Sparkman and Business Manager Edwin Knight also were present, as were all members of the board except Clark Self Jr.

Members of the CTA and the principals discussed problems regarding keeping students after school for individual help, with junior high school Principal Ernie Davis noting that the teachers make an extra effort on their own time to help those students who need it, and he indicated that perhaps half the students in junior high are falling in some areas, and need help.

After a lengthy discussion, the board voted to amend the policy handbook to stipulate that a child may be kept after school, without permission of the parent, but that in each such instance an effort would be made to notify the parent. It also was stipulated that a child may not be kept after school longer than 30 minutes.

The board voted to end 8th grade graduation after this year, instituting an awards program to go along with graduation this year, and expanding on the awards program next year and in future years. Replacement of the graduation with an awards program had been recommended by the teachers' organization and by Supt. Mc-

Clesky, although he had suggested a more gradual phasing out of the tradition. It was noted that only a few Class AA schools retain the graduation, and the board expressed the view that an awards program

FOOT NOTES

BY MARGRET BARTLEY

Me, and a lot of other Wilson folks, were really disappointed when the Mustangs lost to Meadow Tuesday night in the first game of the district play-offs. It looked like a tight game as they matched one another point for point throughout. The final score, in case you don't want to read the sports story, was 54-47.

Here I am again off and running as I try to get kids started in the Little Dribbler's program. Something like this becomes so important to the kids, you have to re-arrange your life to fit their schedule it seems.

For a while we had six different events that family members were supposed to attend, all on the same night. Now it is spread over the whole week, with one activity overlapping another and a choice has to be made on which to attend and which to miss. I managed to miss all of mine last week, trying to get the kids there and pick them up on time. I'm told I'll miss all this when they're grown and gone, but it sounds to me like it might be a good miss. I'm so tired of hurrying from one place to another.

One extra fast afternoon went something like this: Harry to pick up school kids; Harry to pick up little one from babysitter; Deliver one to Scouts or to basketball practice (make choice); Take other two home and stuff with bologna sandwich; Wash face; Deliver one to Scouts and at same time pick up first; Take first home and stuff with sandwich made with heel of bread because brother ate too much and there's no time to go to grocery; Pick up second child, take with me to first half of my meeting; Leave to deliver second to basketball practice; Take first to sign up for another activity where parents must be present; Leave late to pick up second child 15 minutes after meeting is over and child thinks he is forgotten; Find no one at meeting place, go home to see if leader took child home; No; Hunt over city for said child while leader is hunting over city for me; Finally give child up as lost; Stay at home. Leader delivers child; All children hungry; Eat again; Get Homework; No time for bath today, put off until morning; Get kids in bed; Flop on couch to rest a minute during good movie; Go to sleep. Wake up at 4:30 a.m. on couch, T.V. off, cold, crick in back. Go to bed; Alarm set to go off when eyes close. Get up and get ready to go again. . . . Thank heavens I don't have too many like that one!

Gripe's over. Happy days. . . . MB

James Pinson Speaks To Garden Club

"Beauty in the home doesn't have to be expensive." These were the words of James Pinson to the members of Slaton Garden Club when they met in the home of Mrs. Benis Hanna for their February meeting.

A true artist in his field, Pinson brought fabrics for drapes and upholstery and explained how he studied house plans and harmonized fabrics with carpeting and furnishings. One fabric was a print design called the Fortuni process, developed by the Italian family, Fortuni. Many attempts have been made to copy it, but none have been successful.

Pinson studied interior design on the West Coast, then in Paris, France. He was a student of the world renowned Corbusier of the College of Fine Arts in Fontainebleau near Paris.

Presently teaching two classes each week at Tech, Pinson also has his own studio in Lubbock.

He is a nephew of Mrs. L. A. Harral, a member of Slaton Garden Club.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Clifford Young presided. She reported that a tree donated by Mrs. Bill Smith, had been planted in Russell Park in the Club's name, in observance of Arbor Day.

After the meeting, refreshments in a valentine motif were served to 16 members and two guests. Mrs. Grady Wilson assisted with hospitalities.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Home
Song writers and poets through the ages have been writing about the beauty of the "home." Yet few of us today sing the praises of "Home, Sweet Home." In this day of mass communications and transportation, many say that the traditional idea of "home" is gone forever. "Home" to many of them is just a place to sleep and eat.

But this is not the truth! The home is still the center of love, learning, and happiness for people who know and understand the real and important values of life. The home is a place of rest, not just physical rest, but a place for spiritual and emotional rest. The home is a place of nourishment for the body, soul, and mind.

The lyrics of a recent song said: "once there was a way to get back home." Only those lyrics are wrong. There still is a way, if we only try to seek it. It is available and it is right under our noses. It starts with love and its goal is happiness. You can start right now. Turn your house into a home, through love and faith.

And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, enquire who in it is worthy, and there abide till ye go thence.
-- Matthew 10:11

The home is the center of life, as it always has been and always will be. It has such an important role in all the lives it touches. We must see to it that our homes stress the right attitudes and beliefs. We must also see to it that love and truth are the foundation, so that we and all the members of our households may be considered worthy in God's sight.

Read Matthew 18:18-20

"Where two or three are gathered in my name in the midst of them." (Matthew 18:20, RSV)

In my boyhood, I went to midweek prayer most always someone quoted the verse that three were gathered in Christ's name. The little company felt they were too few to be heard and the verse was compensation for their weakness.

A generation later I was in a smaller group earnestly. Someone said, "Even if there are three who agree that this must be done, our strength by which we can do it." The tone was of assurance.

We become weak if we use the phrase mechanism. But if we consider that two or three in common accord, we become strong. The source of Christian power. Jesus talked to his disciples one by one. He sent his two's to proclaim the kingdom.

The determined dedication of the few, not hundreds, has transforming power.

PRAYER: Father in heaven, help our little family, our closest friends, our circle of agree on what we want to ask of Thee. So our assurance that Thou wilt grant our request. Amen.

Stain Removal Steps Given

COLLEGE STATION-- Chocolate candy may be nice for Valentine's Day, but it can leave an ugly stain on fabrics.

Marilyn Brown, consumer education - clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, listed some simple steps for eliminating such stains.

"First, soak the area where the spot is located in cold water.

"Next, rub detergent into the stain while still wet. Rinse thoroughly and let dry.

"After it's completely dry, examine the area to determine whether a greasy stain remains. If so, further treatment may be necessary."

One such treatment involves use of cleaning fluid and chlorine bleach. Since these products cannot be used on all fabrics, a simple test is a recommended precautionary measure.

"Apply cleaning fluid or chlorine bleach to a hidden part of the garment--a seam allowance, hem or even shirt-tail. Examine the area where the products were applied to determine whether the fiber was damaged or the fabric's color or appearance changed.

"As a rule, chlorine bleach cannot be used on non-colorfast items--wool, silk, acetate, spandex (elastic) and polyester."

If the test shows the fabric isn't affected by either product, then sponge the stain with safe cleaning fluid and rinse. Launder the garment in hot water using chlorine bleach. If it still remains, repeat the cleaning fluid treatment.

Our Western Party turned out to be a whiz. The lobby was decorated with barn lanterns and crepe paper with cowboys of all types, drawn on poster board hanging on the walls.

"The Country Boys" of Lubbock gave an hour of Blue Grass music, and a quartet made up of Judy Sage, Bobbie Hogue, Danny Beasley and Lou Ann Beasley, sang western numbers.

Ida Rushing and Ronnie Warshaw did a couple dance numbers, "Cotton Eyed Joe" and "The Schottische". Prizes of western attire was given to three lucky winners -- Mr. John Butler, Mattie Landon and Mary Ehler.

Green punch was served to about 65; also chocolate and cherry covered heart cookies were served. Vera Johnson did a couple of numbers on the piano.

Welcome Home! Ada LaHue is back from the hospital, after spending several weeks, recovering from an injury from a fall. Most of our folks are over the flu and are back in the swing again. We are missing Nova Wilkins who works in our kitchen. She is in Arkansas visiting her parents who are very ill.

Sunday services were enjoyed Sunday with Bro. Prentice and his church group bringing the devotional. Songs were sung by the group, a special duet was sung by Sadie V. Creswell and Dorothy Bownds. A trio by Judy Sage, Bobbie Hogue and Lou Ann Beasley; and Roosevelt Gentry gave one of his readings of poetry.

John Butler was seen dancing a little "jig" with our LVN at the party. John had on his "boots" and red bandana hankie around his neck. He says his favorite pastime is good ole country songs and dances.

With no other news I close, with this thought -- "A smile is a curve that can set a lot of things straight."

Friday, Feb. 16, we didn't have school because the teachers had a work day. Monday, the teachers were all wearing "I Care" buttons. They said that since they influence the lives of children every day, they must constantly be thinking, "I Care". The teachers are using the pin to remind them to care enough to do their very best. We, as students, should care enough to give our very best in return.

We asked some people at Junior High what they care about:

Mrs. Schlueter -- Kids' education.

Coach McDonald -- Sunflower seeds.

Coach Copeland -- Me, myself, and I.

Gloria Garcia -- My education.

Linda Valderaz -- Helping Margie Gonzales with her alto saxophone.

On Monday, Mr. Davis talked to the sixth, seventh and eighth graders about rules that are set up to make our school a better one. We need to remember to stay off the grass so that it will be pretty this spring. We need to use the trash cans for litter instead of throwing it down on the school grounds. Also, we should try harder to conduct ourselves in an orderly manner in the halls and classrooms. All of these things will help to make a school which we can be proud of.

During the lunch hour the boys and girls are both permitted to use the east playground. This is nice.

Tuesday in Coach Hearn's class, we played football. One person throws the ball, and whoever catches it goes to the board to answer the question. See ya on the east playground tomorrow!

PRaise THE LORD

By LENDA WOOD

Much is being written these days regarding the end time. Prophecies are being fulfilled at a rapid pace -- the Jews are returning to their homeland by the thousands, the land of Israel is fertile and coming alive, etc.

The Bible says that no man, or even the angels, know when the time for Jesus' return will be. But the Bible also says that we don't have to be ignorant about these happenings. It says that we should use our understanding -- the same understanding that when we see trees and flowers budding, we know that spring is just around the corner. When we see these things being fulfilled, then we understand that Jesus' coming is just around the corner.

"When you see all these things beginning to happen, you can know that my return is near, even at the doors. Then at last this age will come to its close. Heaven and earth will disappear, but my words remain forever." (Matt. 24: 33-35.)

If you knew that the end of the age was waiting at the door, would you be more concerned about souls?

The "time" for His appearing is ripe. Supposing it happens today. I know it's hard for us to even imagine such a thing. Are you looking forward to this event with love and joyful expectation, or with a little fear? The Bible says that perfect love casts out fear. If we love Jesus, have received Him, and trust Him, then there's no need for any fear at all.

Can you imagine what it will be like when the heavens and earth pass away, or disappear? Just think about that for a few moments. Such an awesome thought! Everything will disappear except one thing -- the Word of God.

So, are we feasting on the Word, and devouring it today? If we abide in Him (the Word), He abides in us. The Word is what will live on -- nothing else.

And God also promises to feed us if we're hungry for His Word. Did you ever try to feed a little child who was not hungry? Supposing he's been sick, and you, as a Mother, know that he needs to begin to eat some solid food. But he refuses to eat until he begins to desire it himself. God is willing to feed us, but we can't digest it until we begin to desire it for ourselves. He does not force us to eat. The choice is ours.

He desires to so fill us with His Word and His love that rivers of living waters will flow out of our very insides!

The song says it best this way:

"And Jesus said, 'Come to the water, stand by my side. I know you are thirsty, you won't be denied. I felt every tear drop when in darkness you cried, And I strove to remind you that for those tears I died.'"

THE BALL? -- Slaton's Gretta Stricklin appears to be touching the ball held by a Coahoma player as Tigerette Forward Jan Davis also gets into the act. Miss Stricklin was Slaton's top scorer in both games of the regional Saturday. (SLATONITE PHOTO)

Cooper School Bond Vote Set

Voters in the Cooper School District will ballot March 17 on alternate proposals to sell bonds totaling either $300,000 or $350,000, for expanding the elementary school facilities and renovation of the middle school structure.

One proposal set forth by the Cooper School board in special meeting this week calls for $210,000 for a 12-room addition to the growing elementary school, and for $90,000 to renovate and remodel the aging middle school. The alternate proposal calls for these two projects, plus $50,000 for construction of a new band hall. The band now has a room in an older building.

According to West Texas Times Publisher Norman Williamson, who attended the board meeting, approval of the bond issue would mean a possible tax levy totaling $2.30 per $100 valuation by 1974. This would be in the form of $1.50 for local maintenance and 80 cents for debt retirement. The tax rate in the district now totals $1.90, of which 65 cents is for bonded indebtedness.

Larry Mason finished with 15 points, Ricky Wright with 14 and Alton Lloyd had 10 for the Bronchos.

Danny Crowson and Chris Coleman each had 13 for the Mustangs and David Savell had 10. Meadow held Danny Trotter to only four points before he fouled out.

Drivers Ed Program Is Challenged

Children of less affluent Texas families are being denied the life preserving advantages of Driver Education, according to Robert F. Miller, Dallas Vice President for Traffic Safety, Texas Safety Association.

Speaking before the Education Committee of the House of Representatives, Mr. Miller urged adoption of HB 222 that would place driver education in the foundation school program. "Because Driver Education in Texas is not a part of the foundation school program, the cost to the student is prohibitive in many cases," Miller stated. "There is no set fee. Some students pay as much as $60 to take the Driver Education course, and others as little as $15. This is the worst kind of economic discrimination."

"The size of fees charged in many school districts in the state are keeping teenagers from lower income families from enrolling in Driver Education courses. Because of this, many young drivers and the people they meet on the highways are more vulnerable to traffic crashes. The size of the fees currently charged could well be one reason why only 61% of eligible Texas teens take Driver Education. This could also be the reason that traffic crashes are a major killer andcripper of teenagers," Miller said.

This discrimination affects students in other ways, too. Because they are not able to afford this vital training, youngsters from lower income families must wait two years longer to obtain their drivers licenses. Also, the families of these teenagers must pay more for automobile insurance, since they cannot qualify for the ten percent Driver Education credit given by insurance companies in Texas.

"When the importance of Driver Education is considered in relation to reducing traffic crashes, injuries, deaths, and their costs, it is difficult to understand why this program has not already been made a part of the foundation school program and placed within the reach of all Texas youngsters," Miller concluded.

CRIME RATE REVERSED

AUSTIN -- The nationwide climb in campus crime has been reversed at The University of Texas.

Serious crimes decreased 43 per cent in 1972 from the previous year, while thefts have decreased almost 50 per cent since 1971.

Much of the credit goes to the University Police Department which, while increasing the size and educational caliber of its force, has worked hard to establish rapport with students, faculty and staff. Special police - initiated projects to benefit the UT community have ranged from instruction in self-defense for women to registration of bicycles.

ITEM: Median income before taxes in 1969 was $6,700 for families headed by a person under 25 years old, about 42 percent higher for families with heads 25 to 34 years and up another 16 percent for those aged 35 to 44.

When the importance of Driver Education is considered in relation to reducing traffic crashes, injuries, deaths, and their costs, it is difficult to understand why this program has not already been made a part of the foundation school program and placed within the reach of all Texas youngsters," Miller concluded.

OVER THE TOP -- Danny Crowson gets off the floor to sink two for the Wilson Mustangs in district playoffs against Meadow Tuesday night. The game, played in Slaton High School gym, gave a 54-47 victory to the Bronchos, clinching the district title. (SLATONITE PHOTO)

It was highlighted by the presentation of the Outstanding Conservationist Award to Mr. and Mrs. George Baker, who farm 640 acres of cropland in the Hackberry community.

Baker was cited for his protection of renewable natural resources and was said to be one of the county's first farmers to use a parallel terracing system. The conservation award was made by Allen Shepperd, district conservationist.

Harvest 90 Percent Complete

Cotton ginning just keeps on going in the Slaton area, as ginners and farmers are taking advantage of every occasional splotch of good weather which comes along. A check this week of 13 area gins showed the bale count up to 89,870, believed to be a record high for the region, since some of the individual gins already have ginned more bales than ever before in history.

7147; Basinger 3318; Hackberry 6233; Wilson 7000; Wayside 5705; Gatzki 2300; Gordon 1800; and Campbell 2466.

maintained steady. Only 10 percent of all cotton classed at Lubbock had micronaire readings in the premium range of 3.5 through 4.9, 8 percent "miked" 3.3 through 3.4, 28 percent was 3.0 through 3.2, 34 percent 2.7 through 2.9 and 20 percent was 2.6 and below.

In 1962, longtime crop observers here recall, the gins operated up to March 1. This year, even with good weather the next week or so, gins expect to continue operations past that date. And some farmers in the area still weren't able to get into the fields to wind up harvesting early this week.

Slaton Co-Op Gin, with a record 23,002 bales ginned this week, expects to go over the 25,000-bale mark before finishing up. Other gins, and the amounts ginned: Farmers Gin 4,700; Posey Gin 4250; Union 6400; Acuff 15,349; McClung Average prices paid for the most predominant qualities in the 3.5 to 4.9 premium micronaire range were: Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) staple 30 - 27.50 cents per pound, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) staple 31 - 27.90, Strict Low Middling Spotted (43) staple 30 - 22.75, Strict Low Middling Spotted (43) staple 31 - 23.05, Strict Low Middling Tinged (44) staple 30 - 18.60 and Strict Low Middling Tinged (44) staple 31 - 18.70.

Success Calendar Refills-- all sizes, No. 13, 17 and 19, for 1973. All size calendar bases.

Grades of cotton classed at Lubbock remained about the same as the previous week. Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) was the predominant grade, making up 19 percent of all cotton classed.

Cottonseed prices were steady and farmers received $46 to $56 per ton for their cottonseed at gins.
