EBLEN, SOKORA, GOLF TEAM WIN

Seven SHS Athletes Going To Regional

Slaton High School's golf team won the district championship last week and will go to regional at Andrews Thursday. As Slaton athletes ended a full weekend of activities, Kathy Eblen won the district girls singles crown in tennis to qualify for regional play, Greg Sokora qualified for regional track at Odessa by winning the 440 dash, and a Slaton group in a track meet for students with learning disabilities won first places and qualified for a state meet in Houston.

Kelly Copeland won medalist honors for Coach Jackie Stewart's SHS golfers as he shot a 78 and defeated Travis Lee of Denver City on the first hole playoff for medalist honors. Mike Lewis had 83, Keith Bumpass 85, Alan Lewis 86 and Glenn Heinrich 90 as the Tiger swingers came in with 332 in the tournament at Lubbock Meadowbrook, finishing 3 strokes ahead of the Denver City A team and ahead of the other 10 teams in the tourney. Slaton's B team was sixth in district, with 389. For the B team, Darrell Bednarz had 89, Ronnie Valadez 99, Richard Sadler 100 and Gary Aycock and David Mosser 101 each.

Slaton golfers played in four tournaments this season, winning first at Floydada, Slaton and in district, and second at Colorado City behind Lamesa. Alan Lewis was medalist with 73 at Slaton, and he and Mike Lewis tied for second place medalist honors at Floydada.

Sokora sped 440 yards in 51 seconds to win that event and a chance in the regional as Coach Weldon Mize's track team competed in district at Denver City last week. No other Slaton tracksters qualified. Placing in the district meet were Matt Kitten, 5th in mile with 4:55; Larry Washington, 4th in high jump at 6-0; and the mile relay team 6th with 3:41. Sokora, Terry Mize, Phil Payne and Joe Alspaugh made up the relay team. Coach Mize noted that the track team included only two seniors.

Sokora will run first in the preliminaries at Odessa about 5:30 p.m. today.

Kathy Eblen, just a sophomore, won the district girls singles title in tennis at Denver City Friday and will play in regional today at Odessa. She was the only member of Coach Kenneth Housden's squad to qualify, although the other girls on the varsity won enough matches to give Slaton the district girls division trophy. Denver City, however, won the district team trophy for total points, which Slaton won last year. Slaton had no seniors on the tennis team this year.

Vondell Wood and Juanell Wood of Slaton lost in the finals of girls' doubles 6-2, 7-6 to Susan Slentz and Rita Reed of DC. Earlier, the Wood twins beat Betty Parks - Kay Harrison of Roosevelt 6-3, 6-3, then stopped Alexia Lindt - Pam Livesay of DC 7-6, 6-1 in the semis.

Also advancing to the semis were Jan Davis and Melissa Locks of Slaton, who beat Tina Belcher-Ella Brown of Roosevelt 9-7, 6-2, then lost a close match to the eventual winners, Slentz and Reed, 6-4, 6-7, 6-1.

Kathy Eblen won her title by beating Donna Morris of Roosevelt 6-3, 6-4 in the finals. Earlier Miss Eblen beat Cheryl McClintock of DC 6-0, 6-4; then stopped Eloise Henderson of Roosevelt 6-3, 6-4. Kayla Curry of Slaton lost 6-1, 6-0 in the first round to Rena Reed of DC.

Gary and Larry Ayers of Slaton lost to Sisney-Warren of Tahoka 6-4, 6-1 and Richard and David Evans lost 6-0, 6-0 to Alan Stubblefield - David Criswell of DC in first round doubles. In boys singles Jerry Montgomery beat Gary Thornton of Roosevelt 6-2, 7-5, then lost to Kenneth Cummings of DC 7-5, 6-0.

Gary Jones-Jerome Schwartzner lost to Slentz-Lambert of DC 6-0, 6-3 and Danny Kenney-Tip Culver lost to Wiechert-Frieze of DC 6-1, 6-3 in freshman doubles. In the freshman girls division, Karla Kendrick-Laura Voigt of Slaton lost 6-3, 6-0 to Moore and Andrews of DC.

EDITOR Lloyd Bentsen sends us a reminder which we usually don't print, but which he had some interesting things on the mountains of paperwork which the government at all levels, state, county and city, is accumulating. He stated that "we must simplify language and, above all, simplify regulations."

Agencies churn out paperwork at the rate of 10 billion sheets a year. That's enough to fill 50 major ball parks.

It has been estimated that it costs $18 to print, shuffle and store all that paper, and that it costs small amounts more to fill the forms, such as Internal Revenue forms, wage and price forms, unemployment forms, health forms, "accident report" forms, quarterly this year.

Bentsen complained that "Too often, we write one page of law—in clear simple terms—only to see the bureaucrats turn that one page into 50 pages of guidelines and regulations that confound the public and reflect what Congress was not doing."

The Lord's Prayer has 56 words. The Gettysburg Address 266, the Ten Commandments 297 words and the Declaration of Independence just 300. But a recent report from the Federal Government dealing with the price of cabbage contained 26,911 words.

Hope remarked after World War II that the secret weapon was to try to win the war for a few more years than the enemy. This way, Hope said, the enemy would have starved, because every foot of land in the nation would have been used for filling cabinets.

It is the way the government operates, the way we have to operate when we are in a war, is calling the shots. If the enemy can reverse the trend, he'll be sorry about getting re-elected.

We received one of those letters last week which uses "Ms." instead of "Mrs." or "Miss." It still looks like a typo to me. . . . Cattle ranching in Texas, says the state legislature could get worse, with meat prices going up. . . . Along the same lines, that back in 1916 when there was a short supply, the state agricultural commissioner ordered his staff to try the idea of pushing jackrabbits. That year and termed a success. . . . The rabbit was served with water, there's a hare in my country style, broiled, and served with a meal was praised by those who tried the idea never caught on. . . . I've tried couple of times, but so far I'm hungry enough to really enjoy them. I'm concerned, bunny tastes are the subject of a release from the A&M Extension Service this week. Dorothy Taylor, family life specialist, suggesting that Peter Rabbit is the best Easter story. She has the young child a book of Peter Rabbit. She even suggested that the song "My Dog" by Marchette Carter, written by Robert Browning, is able to "kindle the imagination of animals to children." I've heard that one, but I remember the song "Mary Had a Little Lamb" which is a real improbability.

New Lions Queen To Be Selected

Slaton Lions Club will select a new queen Saturday night as the annual queen contest is presented in Slaton High School auditorium. Crowning the new queen will be the current queen, Loretta Dillon. Miss Dillon not only is the local Lions queen, but also won the district Lions queen contest last year and participated in the state contest, where she earned the congeniality award.

Queen contestants -- 25 of them -- will appear on stage, then the list will be pared to finalists by out-of-town judges. After interviews with the finalists, the queen then will be selected.

Dee Bowman will be master of ceremonies, Wayne Edwards and Larry Smith are contest chairmen, and Pauline's Flowers is in charge of decorations. Juanell Wood, Slaton Lions Club sweetheart, will present special music during the contest. Mrs. Larry Smith, Mrs. Steve Smith and Mrs. Jimmy Sikes will be queen's counselors.

The seventh annual Lions Queen Contest will begin at 7:30 p.m.

School Board Eyes Building Trades Class

Slaton school board Tuesday night swore in a new member, voted to buy a building and sell a bus, adopted a new policy handbook, re-elected officers and voted to seek approval of a building trades course in high school.

New school board member J. Martin Basinger took office, and two incumbents who were re-elected, Clark Self Jr. and Rev.

Codification Of Ordinances Is Approved Here

Codification of existing city ordinances in organized form by City Atty. Harvey Morton was approved by the Slaton city commission Tuesday night as the new commission approved an ordinance to that effect. Prior to the action, Morton explained to the group that in the past it was difficult to locate an ordinance pertaining to a particular subject without long searching.

He also noted that some ordinances which later were superseded, but which had remained on the books here, had been thrown out. One of those, he noted, made it unlawful to go faster than 15 miles per hour in downtown Slaton.

The commission discussed at length a long-standing dispute with a Slaton man who has refused to pay his taxes--now totaling about $1,300--because of a claim that the city owes him $846. The resident says he loaned the city the $846 to install sewer pipe across the loop. Commissioners agreed to discuss the matter with the man.

Mayor John Landreth reported a women's group planned to replant trees to replace some dead trees in the locomotive park.

The commission also discussed plans to resurface tennis courts in park, and to construct two new courts, with the county planning to pay an equal share of the costs, and then discussed plans for repaving an estimated 50 to 60 blocks in the city.

More City Phones

The number of telephones in service - - - a barometer of community growth - - - climbed to more than 3401 in Slaton as of Dec. 1, 1972.

The figure was released by Leslie H. Stevens, Southwestern Bell manager, who said it represents an increase of 2.59 per cent in telephone growth for the city in 1972.

"Because of telephone growth in cities such as Slaton, Southwestern Bell in 1972 became the largest telephone company in the Bell system and the largest non-government owned phone company in the world," the manager said, Southwestern Bell serves more than 11,477,000 phones in a territory composed of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas, Missouri, and a small portion of Illinois.

Stevens said telephone growth is expected to continue at a healthy pace. The company forecasts that there will be 4000 telephones by the end of 1976.

Stevens said the 1973 construction budget for Southwestern Bell's San Antonio Area, of which Slaton is a part, will be $182 million, an increase of $30 million over 1972. The San Antonio Area covers approximately two-thirds of the western part of Texas.

PRAISE THE LORD

By LENDA WOOD

PLEASEING GOD!

The only way we can even begin to please God is through Jesus. I Peter 1:2 says, "the Holy Spirit has been at work in your hearts, cleansing you with the blood of Jesus Christ and making you to please him."

Rom. 15:3 says that Christ pleased not himself. But that He pleased God, laying aside his desires. Rom. 15:16 says that we "have been made pure and pleasing to him by the Holy Spirit."

When a young lady falls in love and marries the man she loves, doesn't she delight in doing things to please him? Or does she just go about doing things she likes to do, and going her own way?

It pleases God for us to be fair and just and merciful, and to walk humbly with Him, (Micah 6:8)

If we want to know what pleases the Father then we have to look at Jesus because He said He was "wonderfully pleased" with him. (John 8:29)

Gal. 1:10 -- "If I were still trying to please men I could not be Christ's servant."

Rom. 8:5-8 -- "Those who let themselves be controlled by their lower natures live only to please themselves, but those who follow after the Holy Spirit find themselves doing those things that please God. Following after the Holy Spirit leads to life and peace, but following after the old nature leads to death, because the old sin nature within us is against God. It never did obey God's laws and it never will. That's why those who are still under the control of their old sinful selves, bent on following their old evil desires, can never please God."

We need to be careful of the things we do which we excuse ourselves by saying, "We're only human." Because God does make a way for us to live and please Him.

Heb. 11:5-6 -- Enoch pleased God, so God just took him. "You can never please God without faith, without depending on him. Anyone who wants to come to God must believe that there is a God and that He rewards those who sincerely look for him."

Lately we've heard so much about how God answers the "little things" people request of him. People are beginning to believe that God really does answer prayer and are coming to realize that we have not because we ask not.

It pleases God for us to take even our most trivial needs to Him, just as it pleases a Mother for her little child to come running to her when he stumps his toe or mashes his finger. Mother just loves to kiss the hurt away. She doesn't want her little child to wait until he breaks his leg before he calls for help from Mother.

However, if we have failed to take our little problems to God, and now have a big problem facing us, then we can be assured He will help us, even though we've waited so long to ask Him -- all we've got to do is ask and believe. This pleases Him.

Our Father loves us more than we Mothers love our little children, and He just loves to kiss our hurts away too.

I was so delighted to find this: "When a man is trying to please God, God makes even his worst enemies to be at peace with him." (Prov. 16:7)

What's your worst enemy? Fear, doubt, inferiority complex, sickness, ignorance, shame, inadequacy, guilt, pride, lack of funds, too busy, any number of enemies?

ITEM: To protect blankets in the sickroom and pamper the patient, spread a pretty covering over the lap and under the food tray. For this, just pink the edges of a square yard of soft plastic or hem a length of washable cloth, perhaps adding a lace trim. Either cover will catch food spills and is easily sponged off or washed with soap and detergent suds.

Organized Crime In Texas

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This third in a series of stories on organized crime in Texas deals with so-called "victimless crime." Statistics were compiled by the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council, Att. Gen. John Hill and Col. Wilson E. Speir, Director of the Department of Public Safety, Co-Chairmen. It is the latest in a series of stories designed to make the public aware of the types of organized crime existing in Texas. * * *

"I had some girls working for me, enjoying being on the outside after a six-year stretch. Ready for some action, you know."

Thus began the street saga told matter-of-factly by a prison inmate: a recital of prostitution, theft, bribery, graft, narcotics and gambling. This man's sordid tale didn't take place in Texas, but that doesn't mean that it couldn't have.

Organized crime, and its attendant various areas of vice, is seeking a foothold in Texas, but law enforcement officials at all levels have a close eye on the picture.

The story continues: "I had three girls hustling and was getting $150 to $200 a day from them.

"I'd wake up about 1 or 2 p.m., maybe shoot some speed, lay around drinking and talking most of the day and then go to the bars at night, throwing $100 or $200 across the bar. I was very free-hearted with the money.

"I wasn't doing any collecting, after all a guy's entitled to a rest. No stealing neither. But the cops started arresting the girls.

"Each bust meant going to jail then out, and then money for the bondsmen and lawyer. They were losing time because of the arrests, so it was a very hard time for us.

"Well, the upshot is that I had to go back to work for my bookie friend. One of his marks had wised up and he needed me to go get the money."

The moral shock of so-called "victimless" vice—prostitution, gambling, and corruption—has faded with the times.

For the most part criminal activity of this "blue" nature continues without complaint. If there is a victim, he is usually a willing victim. But someone always loses--often the "victim's" family. In the consensus of three Texas metro vice-squad chiefs: "Nobody gets as upset over prostitution as they used to. The only time we get a complaint is when a person gets clipped or something."

Most professional gamblers willingly admit that a bettor is a sucker, that the odds are overwhelmingly against the bettor. Gambling experts have estimated that for every dollar bet legally, five to seven dollars are wagered illegally. As one famous East Coast bookmaker used to tell his aides, "Boys, don't be envious of any rich customer. No matter how much money he makes in his own business, remember if he keeps playing the horses, he's working for us."

From the nickel numbers bet to the sophisticated computer-calculated wagers, Texans trusted lady luck to the illicit tune of $4.8 million a day...$33.9 million a week...$815.2 million a year on one sport--professional and college football--for one season: Sept. 1, 1971 through Jan. 15, 1972.

The Department of Public Safety figures do not include bets on horse racing, baseball, basketball or other sporting events.

These unlawful gambles put over $97.8 million into the criminal purses of an estimated 847 individuals currently known to be operating in organized bookmaking activities in the state.

Says DPS Director Col. Wilson Speir: "We found that football betting on a dollar volume basis is greater than all other sports betting combined in Texas.

"In contacting other agencies and researching DPS intelligence files, we determined that for the average bookmaking case, to make a raid, or get enough evidence for a search warrant, required 360 man hours of surveillance work."

Lacking enforceable legal aids and statutes, law enforcement personnel work under a handicap in deterring organized gambling practitioners. Badly needed is a law which would permit electronic surveillance under court supervision.

Intelligence information reveals that a number of bookies used $30 to $50 per day for public pay telephones to obtain lines (the odds) and make lay-offs (a bookie's insurance whereby he balances his bets on each side of an event) from out-of-state and Texas sources.

dollars-and-cents examples of the scope of organized bookmaking in Texas:

...A bookmaker averages 12 percent return on his betting volume. For the '71-72 football season, this amounted to a tidy $97.8 tax-free million; ...On the average, college bets make up 66 percent of the bets taken, pro football the remaining 34 percent;

...The gross investment or bankroll for a bookie to operate and stay in business in Texas is $30 thousand (for an estimated criminal investment of $17.6 million);

...A raid on a bookie costs him about $3 thousand (new location, losing bettors and business as a result of the raid).

Prostitution, gambling's kissing cousin, is another "victimless" crime according to the DPS definition: one implies a willingness on the part of the consumer to participate--with no complaints afterward--in organized criminal activity.

Vice squad chiefs point again toward today's liberalism as a reflection of public attitude on prostitution.

"Some people have a more permissive attitude toward prostitution."

Texas law prohibits prostitution and engaging in prostitution. Other laws make it a crime to keep a bawdy house or employ prostitutes.

Living outside these laws can be expensive. Brothel prostitutes split 60-40 with the house, according to the DPS report. Prostitutes working with procurers split 50-50.

DPS analyses of prostitution uncovered a number of circuits working in and out of Texas, saying that a prostitute averages 10 to 14 days at each circuit location. As a result of local and state enforcement agency investigations, many arrests have been made.

As has been pointed out, changing morality has little to do with either prostitution or gambling in Texas.

They are businesses--lucrative ones. The customer rarely, if ever, considers the Nieman, who was elected as one of the three track captains by the 41-man track team, failed to qualify for regional in his specialty, the 440 yard dash, when he finished third with a time of 49.8 seconds.

He ran the anchor leg on the mile relay which won the first place trophy with a time of 3:29.6. He also ran a leg on the 440 relay whose time was 42.9. The 440 relay placed second.

The regional track meet will be held tomorrow and Saturday (April 13 and 14) at the Coronado track in Lubbock, beginning at 12:30 p.m.

Nieman led the Hereford track team this year with the most total individual points. He scored 79 points in five track meets.

He transferred to Hereford High at mid-term of his junior year from Slaton High where he had participated in football, basketball and track.

He will graduate in May and has not decided where he will attend college. He was recently selected from the top 15 per cent of his 283 member class as a member of the National Honor Society.

Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Speedy Nieman who published The Slatonite for eight years.

Two Persons Hurt As Autos Collide

Two persons were injured about 10:45 a.m. Sunday when a 1970 auto driven by John Karl Taylor, 58, of Dallas was in collision with a 1971 car driven by Billie Fawn Sartain, 19, of Lubbock. Taylor was treated at Mercy Hospital and released, and Miss Sartain was treated, then transferred to a Lubbock hospital. Extent of her injuries was not determined.

Three other passengers in the Taylor car were not hurt. The only other report of police activity during the week was a stolen car. Paula Martin of Post reported that a 1966 auto had been stolen from 600 N. Mexico.

Nursing Home News

By Bobbie Hogue

Sorry we didn't have any news last week, but there were too many irons in the fire and we just couldn't get it done in time.

Our sympathy goes to the family of Mrs. Verna Patterson. She was a resident of our home only a short time before her death.

Edith Kuykendall, an Aid in our home, lost her mother, Mrs. Colie J. Burns, on April 3 at Lometa, Texas. She was 81.

Martha Sain gave our home a book of green stamps. We are going to use these stamps to purchase pictures for our residents' rooms.

The Mary-Martha Circle of Wilson sent in some nice bibs to our residents. These were the towel bibs that so many use. We appreciate this fine group of ladies.

It is great to have Annie and western singing star and his band will be busy, playing the rodeo at 8 p.m., and nightly after rodeo performances, appearing at the rodeo dance set for the National Guard Armory. Admission for the rodeo dance is $2.00.

Read with us often in the hospital, getting about a chair. Robert remains in Memory wish him a speedy recovery.

The champion was Alene Line. The champion sent with the streamer and filled with cash. For the champion, rie Parker. The will be May 2 game starting.

Lucy Butler with a party in the day evening. Her and relatives gathered and cake into served to every bedspreads were along with her rie Parker.

Alene Line was in Taboka with the weekend. Our bulletin board on the laughs ployees are posted of themselves at the age of 50 names will be in the pictures with

It's our earliest red-over-yellow hybrid... yet consistently produces yields equal to later hybrids. In irrigated tests at Lubbock, Texas, the past 3 years, R 1019 has compiled the best yield average in the early-to-mid maturity group of hybrids. R 1019 also placed first among all grain sorghum hybrids evaluated at the High Plains Research Foundation in 1972 under limited irrigation conditions. R 1019 has good resistance to anthracnose and other sorghum diseases -- produces moderately large grain with high feeding value and excellent milling qualities. Huser Feed & Seed

Tips Given On Beef Choice, Prices

While a housewife's response to rising meat prices might be a beef boycott or peanut butter sandwiches, there's a long-term and more practical solution to the problem, according to Margaret Cousineau, director of food technology for Bonanza Sirloln Pits.

"With meat prices soaring, buying beef for the family dinner can be a major financial investment. . . but you can feed your family a good steak and still remain within your food budget, if you know what to look for," says Ms. Cousineau.

Her advice is timely, coming on the heels of a report by the U. S. Department of Labor which indicates that the retail price of beef in February jumped 12.8 per cent over a year ago, and 5.7 per cent in February alone. Add to this the fact that the price of live cattle today is up 14 per cent since the end of 1972, and it's easy to project even further increases for the rest of the year.

"Most people might as well wear a blindfold when they go shopping for steaks," says Ms. Cousineau. "When they're at the meat counter in a supermarket or butcher shop, almost everyone looks for the leanest, reddest piece of beef they can find. And the person who does this will have a problem every time."

Ms. Cousineau says that the three prime characteristics to look for in a good steak or color, marbling and perimeter fat. And she should know. Her guidelines govern the purchase of nearly 30 million pounds of beef used each year by the Bonanza restaurant chain.

"Contrary to what many people believe, it's best to avoid selecting meat with a bright 'cherry red' color, which most frequently indicates a too-fresh product, one that has no age," Ms. Cousineau explains. "Age is something that enhances the flavor and tenderness of the meat, and it has to occur under ideal conditions with controlled time, temperature and humidity."

Ms. Cousineau describes aging as an action of the natural enzymes in the meat itself, a sort of mellowing that enhances the quality. And she says that one of the easiest ways for a novice to determine whether or not a steak has been properly aged is to check the color of the meat and the amount of blood juice in the package.

"If the package seems to have an abundance of moisture in it -- little puddles of juice -- or if the steak is truly cherry red, I'd recommend not purchasing it," Ms. Cousineau states.

"But if the steak is a sort of deep rose color, dry on the surface and the packaging hasn't absorbed moisture, it's a cinch that it's a good piece of beef from this standpoint and that it's been properly aged."

The fat on the perimeter of the steak is the next thing to consider, and Ms. Cousineau says it should be as white as possible. "A beige or yellowish color, or the deeper the color, is an indication that poor quality feed was given to the animal, or that the piece of meat came from an older animal."

Ms. Cousineau's final consideration in choosing a steak is the amount of marbling in the piece of meat. She describes marbling as the little streaks of fat running through the steak. This is not to be confused with gristle, which is a little more opaque. She says that the more marbling a steak has -- provided that the streaks of marbling are fairly thin -- the better the steak will be.

"In cooking, the marbling melts, causing greater separation between the muscle fibers. This creates greater tenderness and, of course, the melting of the fat also adds to the juiciness of the steak," says Ms. Cousineau.

She adds that when she goes grocery shopping, she often sees other people passing over well-marbled pieces of meat -- assuming that they are bad or wasteful cuts -- and choosing instead nice lean, bright-red steaks. "And then they wonder why their steaks aren't tender and juicy."

'Texas' Set For 8th Season

how how it was." It is often heard that "Texas" is the best of Panhandle drama and that it plays in the Palo Verde Canyon and season will run through Aug. 25 except Sunday. Each show, as storms have subsided, the dancers and the stage in a performance and the galloped off, have told their and triumph as wrote it. . . . and notes of the bugle, the audiences and plainsmen say it was, like that You would just out, and it would in somewhere

The children say, "It's interesting when you can see what it was like." The travelers from abroad (from 62 countries in 1972) often remark, "Now we understand you better." "This shows us how and why America grew." "After tonight we can see why people in the States are as you are." "Texas" is superb entertainment, fast moving, musically exciting, a kaleidoscope of color as the eighty cast members move in dances and action against the great cliff behind the stage. This is one of Paul Green's great statements of faith in America. It is one of nine windows which he has opened on nine regions of this country, revealing through each one the music and customs and struggles and philosophies of the land he is describing. "Texas" is the look into the frontier west, the vast land, the dry land, the harsh land where people were thrown on their own resources and where those who stayed had great strength and endurance. They had humor and love of life as well, and in "Texas", their story, the audience feels this. Above all, the early settlers in the Texas Panhandle were sheltered by a magnificent canyon, a thousand feet deep and a hundred miles long, carved from the flat plains by 250 million years of wind and water. Protected by these walls, the amphitheatre lays on the floor of this great abyss. The audience watches the mysterious shadows of the cliffs and watches the changes in the coloring of the Canyon walls at twilight. To visit the Palo Duro Canyon is an awesome experience. To share the gay and grim lives of the early settlers is a revelation. An evening at "Texas" is not forgotten. . . . The Palo Duro Canyon lies half an hour over paved roads from Amarillo, the crossroads of five interstate highways and five airlines. At the end of the seventh season in 1972, 499,758 people had seen "Texas". The eighth season will be June 21 through Aug. 25, nightly except Sundays. There will be a special performance on Sunday, July 1. For tickets and information please write "Texas", Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or call 806-655-2182. ADD A PATIO -- Enhance the beauty, privacy and value of your home by adding a patio this spring, suggests a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Involve the entire family in the project. Make the structure at least 8 to 10 feet wide with a firm surface gently sloping away from the house. Add privacy with a fence, vines or plants. Electric lights, an electric grill and other conveniences may also be added.

The ceiling on beef, pork and lamb prices, placed there by an Administration ostensibly championing a free market economy for agriculture, "makes no sense at all," according to Ray Joe Riley of Hart, Tex. Riley is President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and a feeder of both cattle and lambs. Just recently Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz told the House Committee on Agriculture that the Administration favors a farm law phasing out income supplement payments to farmers over a three year period "as we depend on a growing market demand to maintain farm income."

"How," asks Riley, "is a growing market demand going to maintain farm income if the Administration imposes price ceilings to keep that demand from increasing market prices?" Cotton, feed grains and wheat, the three major commodities covered under present farm programs, are not affected, directly, by the meat price lid. "But it should be obvious that stockmen can't continue paying high prices for cottonseed meal and grain to fatten meat animals that must be sold under a price ceiling," Riley said. "Nor do we have any assurance," he continued, "that the Administration won't yield to political pressures, as it has done in the case of meat, and impose ceilings on prices of other farm commodities if those prices should reach levels offering a fair return to producers."

Are the interests of the public served by price controls on meat? "Definitely not," says Riley. "What will happen is that existing plans for increased livestock production to meet increasing demand will be abandoned, because investors won't gamble on a high risk enterprise that offers little or no chance for profit. Supplies will shrink, and unless demand subsidies to the level of supplies, meat prices will remain as high as the law allows and eventually the housewife will be looking at empty shelves in the market."

Farm programs since the 1930's have helped to stabilize farm income, thereby assuring an abundance of agricultural commodities available to the public as much more reasonable prices than would have been possible otherwise, Riley points out. "But if the Administration's thinking on future farm programs should prevail, and if the price ceilings on meat are an example of policies the Administration has in mind to maintain farm income through greater market demands, then both agriculture and the consuming public in this country will very shortly find themselves in a very unhappy situation."

Mike's pet peeve is "when my cycle isn't running like it's supposed to" and his most embarrassing moment was "when I broke my leg on my cycle." His advice to freshmen is "don't take Trig, your senior year."

There are a lot of girls who dress up and act like Cowboys, but the only girl who is truly western is Pam Martindale. Pam is the daughter of Mrs. Corky Reasoner and the late J. W. "Curly" Martindale. She was born on July 6, 1955. She is 5 feet 4 inches tall and has brown hair and blue eyes.

Her advice to freshmen is "Live your life day by day and make each day better. Don't let anything or anybody discourage you." Sweethearts Named At Annual Banquet Scharla Johnston and Kenny Schuette were elected Band Sweetheart and Beau April 3 at the band banquet held at Van's.

The Three Way Glass dedicated the song "I'm a Hog for Your Love" to Mrs. Townsend, requested by Mr. Townsend.

Scharla Johnston finally made it to the stage when a member of the Three Way Glass came and got her. The song "Sweet Georgia Brown" was dedicated to her.

The band was then asked to imagine themselves in the jungle surrounded by hungry cannibals. Rodney Kuss, LaDonna Jones, and David Evans were all skinned and then finally the whole band was put in the pot.

The group sang serious songs, too. Among these were "I Wish We'd All Been Ready," "Colour My World," and a song of their own composition taken from I Corinthians 13, sometimes called the love chapter.

The evening concluded with the band presenting a stereo to band director, Bill Townsend.

SWEETHEARTS -- Kenny Schuette and Scharla Johnston were elected Band Beau and Sweetheart.

Spring has returned to the earth and sunrises are as beautiful as ever, even when reflected from the glass walls of a skyscraper in the heart of a city. Be joyful, for Christ is risen!
