Rhonda Moseley Named Lions Club Queen

Rhonda Moseley, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moseley of near Slaton, was chosen Saturday night as the 1973 Slaton Lions Club Queen. Miss Moseley was selected from a field of 25 contestants by a panel of out-of-town judges at the annual pageant presented in Slaton High School auditorium.

A sophomore at SHS, Rhonda appeared dazed, but excited when her name was announced as the winner of the coveted honor. As Slaton Lions Club queen, she will represent the club at many functions during the year, and will be this club's representative in the district Lions Queen Contest May 18.

During interviews of the five finalists in the contest, Rhonda told master of ceremonies Dee Bowman and the crowd attending the event that she is certain of God's existence, that she loves her parents and enjoys living in the country.

First runner-up in the contest was Lynne Wendel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Wendel. Second runner-up was Kathy Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Adams. Also in the finals of judging were two other contestants, Martha Cox and LaDonna Jones.

After announcement of the final winner, Miss Moseley was crowned by the 1972 Lions Club Queen, Loretta Dillon. Miss Dillon, who was also winner of the district Lions Queen title, explained to Rodriguez that in view of a number of complaints already voiced by residents living in the vicinity who objected to the plans for opening a dance hall, that the group felt it best to refuse the permit.

went on to the state contest and there was voted the Miss Congeniality title, an honor determined by voting of the other girls in the state contest.

Queen contest chairman Saturday were Wayne Edwards and Larry Smith, while Mrs. Larry Smith, Mrs. Steve Smith and Mrs. Jimmy Sikes were queen's counselors.

Juanell Wood, Lions Club Sweetheart, played the piano as the contestants moved across the stage. Decorations for the event were by Pauline's Flowers.

AVE SOME friends who are painters, before they read any further, I want to tell them I am not talking about them in any of the typical painters. It's all other guys.

For all, it is spring painting time, and I brought the subject to mind was reading tips on painting as provided by the old Agricultural Extension Service College Station, which, so far as I know is to ascertain, does just about anything in the world except post-poning agriculture. (I don't know where you could extend it to, anyway, around here).

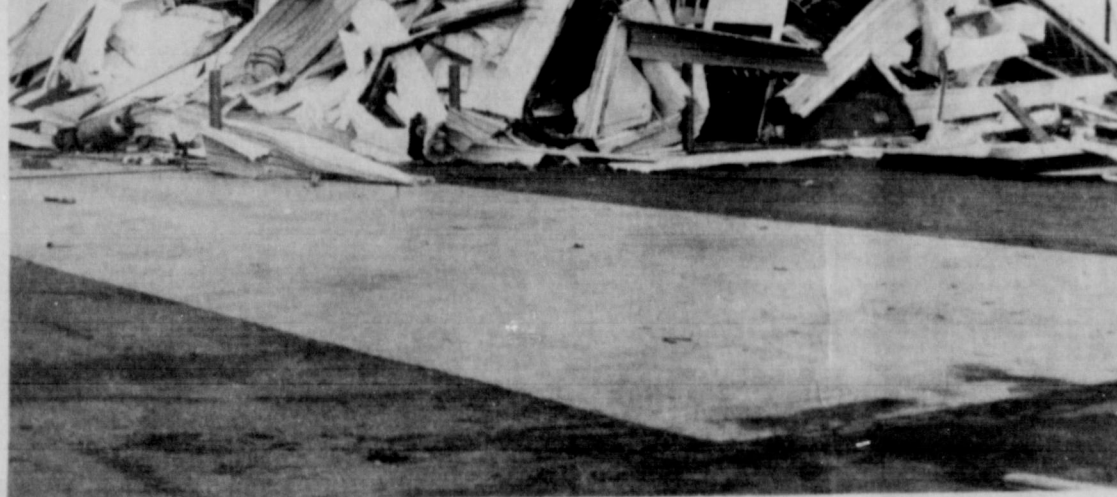

It says the woman from A&M, "The painter can cut drying time, fumes and odors by creating good cross-ventilation. This, of course, means a lot of coming at you from two different directions, so stand a car salesman at one end of the room and a politician at the other. (After all, there's no reason why you should be the only people upset by it).

More painting, remove as many furnishings as possible from the room (along with baseboards or children you may have around), and cover any that remain with drop cloths or newspapers." The boss is mine, as the bowlegged cowboy advises that you "paint like a

Dance Hall Permit Denied

Slaton City Commissioners in a special called meeting Wednesday afternoon declined to issue a permit to a Plainview businessman who sought to open and operate a dance hall on 20th St. in a building formerly occupied by a bowling alley and then a furniture business.

Pete C. Rodriguez of Plainview appeared before the group with the request for a permit. However, the commissioners

Burglaries Head List Of Crimes For Week

A pair of burglaries headed reports on file at Slaton Police Dept. this week, but officers also had some unusual cases, including a stolen tree and a case combining charges of indecent exposure, drunkenness, carrying a prohibited weapon and destruction of public property.

On Friday night, Charlie Hernandez, 340 E. Scurry, reported that someone had entered his home by prying a door open and had taken a piggy bank containing $10 in change, three phonograph records valued at $3.95 each, and some chalk. Tyrone Powell, 435 E. Powers, reported Wednesday that his home had been burglarized with the following items taken: one stereo component system valued at $200, one portable television set worth $75, a black strobe light valued at $20, a .22 caliber single shot rifle, $20, about $6 in pennies, a 5x7 American flag valued at $3 and tapes listed at $30.

Mrs. Bill Smith reported that a 6-foot slash pine tree had been stolen from the Railroad Park, where members of the Women's Chamber of Commerce had planted 12 trees last week by the old locomotive No. 1809.

A 50-year-old Slaton Negro woman was arrested by two officers who said they observed her in an act of exposure in public. She was charged with drunkenness and indecent exposure, and a search of a purse in her possession turned up a loaded .22 caliber pistol, bringing a charge of carrying a prohibited weapon. The woman told officers she didn't know how the pistol got into the purse, and besides, it wasn't her purse anyway.

After she was placed in a cell, officers said, a mattress in the cell was set on fire and had to be extinguished. This resulted in a charge of destruction of public property.

Being guests of the Slaton Rotary Club last Thursday was a different way of marking a birthday anniversary for me and my co-worker, who celebrate a mutual date. It was great to hear the mellow voices of those Rotarians blended in singing "Happy Birthday". By the way, we were guests of our boss man, MR. O'NEAL. It was indeed a pleasure. Not everyone has the privilege of helping their made the members realize the seriousness of the problem. Mrs. Crandall then introduced her program theme for the next year, which will be Ecology. Mrs. Joe Brooks and Mrs. John Landreth were welcomed to the club as new members. Refreshments were served to 18 members by Mrs. Cartrite and co-hostess, Mrs. Hern Pettigrew.

FOOTNOTES

BY MARGRET BARTLEY

Guess what? . . . If you have finally gotten used to the time, you will be very happy to remember that we go back on daylight savings time at 2 a.m., April 29. That's the time to move your clock one hour forward, and it will remain so until the last Sunday in October. I never have been convinced that they are "saving" me any time. I get up in the mornings at 7 a.m., which will then be 8 a.m., so that means that I will have to get up at 6 a.m., which will then be 7 a.m. I put the kids to bed at 10 p.m., which will be 11 p.m., so I'll have to put them there at 9 p.m. which will be 10 p.m. and still nearly daylight during part of the summer. They're going to LOVE that! Even now, they don't even want to eat supper until the last light has faded and they can't play outside any more. On DST they will have to eat, bathe and go to bed before it really looks like night. But, I can guarantee you, that instead of wanting to get up an hour earlier in the mornings, they will want to sleep another hour. In fact, if they got to sleep until noon, they'd want to sleep another hour! The one exception to that last statement is on Saturday mornings. The only day we CAN sleep late, and they're all up by 6 a.m. so they won't miss any of the cartoons on TV. I've heard those things so many times I can nearly quote what they are going to say next. I think they should go back to old Roy Rogers and Buster Crabb cowboy movies or something.

With this pretty spring weather, the kids are anxious for school to turn out so they can . . . (they're not sure, but just KNOW they'll think of something good.) I know the feeling. It seems such a shame to stay inside on these beautiful days, after all the cold, bad weather we have been shivering through all winter.

Have you finished all the Easter shopping, or sewing, as the case may be? Not myself! Always seem to wait until the last minute.

And, did you ever forget to buy extra eggs for the Easter weekend? If you have kids around the house, that can be a disaster. But it's not much worse than having Grandma buy them all a rabbit or chicken. (GUESS WHO has to fix a pen that is dog-proof and who gets to feed the little darlings.)

SPAG Meeting Set April 19

The South Plains Association of Governments' Criminal Justice planning committee will meet April 19 at 2 p.m. in the South Plains College Library at Levelland, according to Walter Head, coordinator.

Committee members who represent the 15-county SPAG region will present 1972 crime statistics for each of their cities and counties to determine the major crime problem in the region.

It is the purpose of the Criminal Justice planning committee to determine problems and needs in the region's criminal justice system and to formulate a comprehensive regional plan based on these findings. The regional plan is updated and published annually, and serves as the basis for all Criminal Justice grants in the South Plains region. Utilization Sheets will also be discussed at this meeting. A Utilization Sheet identifies each anticipated grant application and the amount of funds requested for a specific criminal justice program. Without a Utilization Sheet in the Criminal Justice Plan, no local government or public agency will be eligible for Criminal Justice funds in 1974.

According to Walter Head, SPAG Criminal Justice Coordinator, "All elected officials, or a representative, should attend this planning meeting if they anticipate seeking criminal justice funds in the coming year."

Bob Hill, Planning Coordinator, and Jerry Clay, Regional Coordinator, from the Texas Criminal Justice Council in Austin, will be present to document this meeting as a model for other councils of governments to study.

"With the blessing of freedom comes the fatigue of supporting it."--Thomas Paine.

ONCE IN AWHILE I get the same lonely feeling that General Custer must have had. That's when there are fifty people testifying on a bill and I'm the only one on the eye side. The jet fuel tax bill calling for a 5¢ tax on every gallon of retail-sold jet fuel, HB 1173, got a negative response. But I was successful in getting it in the hands of the Revenue Taxation Subcommittee to research the entire concept of jet tax for use in future months or years. Personally, I think aviation gas shouldn't be taxed, but from testimony I gathered that a one cent tax on jet fuel could raise around $10,000,000 without hurting anyone too much.

MANY TAXPAYERS CAN USE NEW SHORT TAX FORM, IRS OFFICIAL SAYS

DALLAS -- Many individual taxpayers in Texas can use a new short tax form when they file their income tax returns this year, W. T. Coppinger, District Director of Internal Revenue for North Texas, said today.

The new Form 1040A will make filing an income tax return easier for more than 32 million taxpayers in the United States, Mr. Coppinger said.

The vast majority of taxpayers who take standard deduction can use the short Form 1040A no matter how high their income is, as long as the income is from wages, salaries, and tips.

In addition, taxpayers who have no more than $200 in interest income and $200 in dividend income may also use Form 1040A.

Although taxpayers who use the 1040A must take the standard deduction, they can still claim a limited tax credit for political contributions. Taxpayers who use the Form 1040A can also allocate one dollar of their tax money to the Presidential Election Campaign Fund, by filing out and attaching Form 4875, Mr. Coppinger said.

For further information, about the short Form 1040A and who can use it, taxpayers should check the 1040A instructions.

FEEDLOT POLLUTION -- According to two Extension animal waste management specialists, feedlots are not a major contributor to pollution.

Feedlot operators work hard to manage wastes to maintain good public relations, both with other businesses and with farmers. Pollution is also minimal since only about two percent of the solid wastes of feedlots reach a stream. The specialists say that one human contributes 10 times as much toward water pollution as one feedlot animal. Laws are also in effect requiring feedlots to control runoff.

this one bill than any other this session. My judgment dictated I vote against the bill as it was presented.

THERE ARE THOSE who would gain a spot in the public eye and use this right of free speech in America to tear at the soul and spirit of our nation. During the past weeks when our POWs were returning and the antion was saying "Welcome home and well done," there was an ear-catching minority who screamed, "Their tales of torture are fiction, prompted and orchestrated by a frustrated government." I have introduced a resolution in reply to these people, asking that they send a letter of apology to all returning POWs including those from Texas.

TODAY'S THOUGH: "Being a legislator is like milking cows--you do it every day."--Anonymous

RE: LEGISLATOR PAY raise. The people of Texas have refused to give the legislators a pay raise and I think I can understand why. Legislators are, basically, part-time employees at the present time. The citizens, I think, feel that a pay raise for a 140-day working schedule every two years is not in order. It's my feeling that we're not really in a position to discuss pay until we've convened for the Constitutional

IT'S BEEN A subject of controversy for eight years and the gas utilization bill was debated and finally voted on on April 12. I have had more mail on Convention next year and set out the exact duties and length of annual service of a state legislator. Frankly, I think the increase in salary to $15,000 per year would have as much chance with the voters as a marshmallow in a cup of hot chocolate.

HOUSE RULES PROHIBIT introduction of Gallery guests from the floor by a Representative. So almost each day some legislator mischievously greets his near and dear by saying, "Mr. Speaker, is it a violation of the rules to recognize (whoever) in the gallery?" The Speaker smiles and nods and replies that yes, it is, and everyone's happy. Which reminds me. In spring, a good place to visit is the State Capitol. High school classes are welcomed cordially, and any musical group that comes is invited by the Governor to sing in the rotunda.

PROFILES IN POLITICS: That's the subject of a new addition to my weekly MEMO. This week it's a man from Houston, 28-year-old Anthony Hall. He's a member of the Black Caucus, holds down appointments on three committees, Appropriations, Labor, and Intergovernmental Affairs, and has been made Chairman of the Permanent Subcommittee on Employment and Unemployment. Hall, who ran "on a basis of what I realistically thought I could do for the people at home," says his most important legislation so far is House Bill 669, a minimum wage bill and House Bill 316, which would provide that 2/3 of the City Council in Houston be selected from single member districts. He says if he can go home in May having accomplished "just some of the things, not all," that he wants to, then he'll feel he's done what he came to do.

Accent on Health

The young man on crutches and wearing a short leg brace who made his way painfully along the covered walkways of the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital, Carville, La., was not a patient with Hansen's disease (leprosy) despite his presence at the leprosarium. Instead, his disabilities had resulted from an accident.

Two years earlier while changing a tire on the side of a highway he had been struck by a passing automobile. Following a long period of hospitalization, treatment and therapy he was fitted with a shoe containing a special insole. By wearing this shoe with its insole he should have been able to walk unaided, in the opinion of his doctor, but each attempt caused extreme pain in one foot.

Now, as a last resort, the patient had been referred to Carville's rehabilitation unit in the hope that health authorities there could find a way to help the young man.

Officials at the Texas State Department of Health are encouraged that a new rehabilitation technique researched and refined at Carville will be able to aid thousands of handicapped persons. The Texas State Department of Health, which has operated a leprosy control program and a crippled children's services effort for many years, believes the new development will have great impact on the proper care received by both groups of patients. Now doctors will be able to determine exactly the cause and effect of a person's handicap, and with the assistance of research scientists, will be able to develop corrective shoes and other devices to help solve those problems.

Health officials at Carville soon found that an area of the man's foot had become supersensitive from the nerve injuries he had sustained in the accident. Next, they turned their attention to the insole within the shoe that the man wore, consulting with Carville experts who specialize in fitting footwear to the insensitive and deformed feet of Hansen's disease patients. Shoes must fit these patients perfectly with pressure equalized over the soles of their feet or else bruises and blisters will occur. The accident victim's shoe had to fit exactly right to equalize pressure and limit the friction on that super-sensitive area of his foot. To check on stress, a pressure-sensing slipper-sock, designed and manufactured at Carville, was produced with the help of the Southwest Research Institute in San Antonio.

Similar to nylon "foolies" stocked by shoe stores throughout the U. S., the "slipper-sock" is made of an open cell polyurethane foam which has been bonded to a thin cotton material. Small yellow microcapsules are then dusted in the open cells of the polyurethane. The capsules are tiny and fragile, and are graded to break under the kind of pressure that may be harmful to the foot. These microcapsules contain a blue liquid dye which spills when the capsules break. The dye released from a bed of broken capsules stains the sock.

After a slipper-sock has been worn, three possible color configurations may be observed, demonstrating both the location and the nature of the pressure on the foot while walking: (1) a dark blue stain indicating extreme pressure and/or an area of high friction; (2) a light green stain denoting a lesser amount of friction and pressure; or (3) a yellowish area--this means that only very little or no pressure is being experienced on this area of the foot during the activity of walking.

Now, the health authorities could see exactly what happened each time the accident victim walked naturally, without the aid of crutches. Guided by the slipper-sock imprints, they made the man another molded insole from a material called plastizote. The patient could then walk across the room completely free of pain. The areas of high stress had been alleviated and weight distribution was more on the normal parts of the sole.

The Carville slipper-socks and their companion objects--dye-impregnated gloves for hands and stump socks for patients who have suffered amputations--were designed originally as an aid for the patients of Hansen's disease. Since these patients have the opposite problem from the accident victim, insensitivity to pain, these dye-impregnated devices should prove of great value in saving their hands and feet from unknowing destruction. But one of the most remarkable aspects of these same socks and gloves is their potential benefit for millions more who suffer from a multitude of other diseases and disabilities.

Prospects look good for use of the socks and gloves with people whose problems are based on the nerve damage and resulting insensitivity of diabetes, the hypersensitivity of rheumatoid arthritis, and the special problems of paraplegics and victims of strokes. Soon, people who are being fitted with braces of various types will have them lined with capsule-filled material to identify the areas of excessive stress.

Crippled children who have bone deformity or cerebral palsy comprise another group needing specially fitted shoes. The device, of course, can be used with amputees. There are still other human afflictions with jaw-breaking medical names whose victims will benefit from the Carville capsules.

Emil C. Rassman of Midland, prominent West Texas attorney and civic leader, was installed Friday as president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at its 55th Annual Convention held in Abilene April 12 and 13.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Experience God Now!
During these next two months it is easy to experience God in your own life. Each year God gives us these beautiful months of spring - a time of rebirth and joy. Everywhere around you God's presence can be felt - if only you will try and let Him reach you. He's there pushing those new flowers of spring up from their winter's rest. You can hear Him rustling through the new green leaves of the trees that seemed so dead just a month ago. You can feel Him watching over the new animal life that will quickly multiply. You can see him in the sunlight on a spring bouquet. He is here now, and He is available to help you with your needs and problems. As it was in the beginning, God is with us. He only asks you to live a righteous life and to follow His plan for your life. What is the plan? Listen and communicate with God and you will be given the right direction.

10,395 County Residents Employed In Trucking

AUSTIN -- Trucks and buses are big business in Lubbock County, and figures recently released by Texas Motor Transportation Association prove it. In 1972, in this county alone, 10,395 persons were employed by the trucking industry. They earned $78,243,165.

According to TMTA, the state association representing the truck and bus industry in Texas, truck registrations in Lubbock County last year were 23,549, and the total value of trucks in use totaled $32,262,130.

Texas needs trucks more than do most states because 62.2 per cent of the communities in the Lone Star State depend entirely on trucks for transportation. They have no other kind of shipping service. This number includes 49 county seats and 21 entire counties. And many of the communities which have other transportation service depend on trucks for the smaller shipments which railroads cannot handle.

The industries in Texas which are linked to the truck and bus industry are many. For example, trucks are irreplaceable in the movement of Texas fruits and vegetables.

And trucks not only transport Texas fruits and vegetables to the dining rooms of the nation, but also they fill the markets and restaurants of Texas with fruits and vegetables from throughout the country. For instance, in 1971, 92.1 per cent of all fruit and vegetable shipments arriving in Dallas from other parts of the country were shipped there by truck.

Trucks are also partners with the petroleum industry, providing the only means of transportation for the 302 rotary drilling rigs active in Texas in 1970.

The 215 Texas carriers who specialize in oil field hauling had a total payroll in excess of $25 million in 1971.

The trucking industry and Texas are also partners in the transportation of livestock at major markets. In 1971, 98.2 per cent of the cattle, 97.4 per cent of the calves, 99.9 per cent of the hogs and 95.3 per cent of the sheep and lambs were transported to market by trucks.

Read I Corinthians 11:23-29

This do . . . in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink the cup, ye proclaim the Lord's death till he come.

Maundy Thursday is significant in the life of the Christian as a part of Holy Week because of the tradition that tells us that this was the day on which our Lord instituted the service of Communion.

We sometimes call the Communion a sacrament, which comes from the word, sacramentum, meaning an oath of allegiance. Communion, therefore, should be a time we pledge anew our love and devotion to the Christ of the cross and the Christ of Communion. When we do this we are expressing our love for Him and pledging our love to one another.

Each time we come to the Communion experience we need to recall this original meaning in remembrance of Christ and for His glory and good of the church.

PRAYER: Lord, we pray that You will make Yourself known to us in the breaking of the bread and renew our lives by the power of the Holy Spirit working in us. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Communion brings us together in remembrance of Christ and as a community of believers.

PRaise THE LORD
By LENDA WOOD

It seems we have so many mistaken ideas regarding coming to God, and getting God to help us.

Some feel that they are too sorry and too sinful to come to God, and that when they get themselves good enough then they'll come to Him.

This is just one more lie of the devil -- and the Bible says that he was a liar from the beginning.

We must choose who we listen to -- the devil, or God's Word!

The Word says that we can come to God just like we are. We don't have to clean ourselves up before we do it because, as a matter of fact, we cannot clean ourselves up by our own strength. If this were so, then there would be no need to ask for God's help.

Then there are those who would like to get rid of certain bad habits and feel it's entirely up to them, and maybe they've tried and tried, and have failed again and again. So they decided there's no way out, and they must live with it the rest of their lives. This, too, is a lie of the devil, because the Word says that if Jesus sets us free we are free indeed! (John 8:36).

We forget one very important fact -- when we give it all to Jesus, He gives us a new life, new desires, and we become new creatures.

I heard a young man say Friday night at a lay witness mission that before he burned his life over to Jesus he was afraid he'd have to give up his favorite pastime -- football or sports. And he was amazed at how God didn't take it away from him, instead He just gave him new desires, something even better than what he was enjoying the most!

Picture in your mind what you enjoy doing the most. Do you think it is possible that when you turn it all over to the Lord, that He could even give you something greater than that to enjoy? He can, and He does. Praise the Lord!

There have been many people who have overcome bad habits simply by determining within themselves to do so. I've heard some say, "I'm going to love so and so even if it kills me." Then some say, "God helps those who help themselves." And they think that is scriptural, but it is not. Actually, sometimes we get so bogged down that we do not know how to help ourselves, and it is when we, at that point, just surrender to God and say, "I've tried and tried, and Lord, I just don't know what to do. Will you help me? (That's when He helps us.)"

The key to letting God help us is to throw up our hands, admit we've tried everything else, and simply ask God to help. expect Him to do it. And begin giving Him thanks for His help, and give Him the glory, instead of telling everybody, "Look what I did!"

Some hesitate to ask for God's help because they feel, well today will be good, but what about tomorrow or next week, I may fail again. But we can't live tomorrow today. We must not look at what might happen tomorrow, but just live one hour or moment at a time, keeping our eyes on Him and trusting Him to be with us. And He will, Praise the Lord!

The promise that we have from the Word is that if we keep our eyes on Him, He promises to be faithful to us. Any other way falls short of what Jesus tells us to do. I suppose the devil's most favorite trick is to get us to looking at our circumstances, or bad habits, or whatever, rather than looking at Jesus.

"Turn your eyes upon Jesus, look full into His wonderful face."

HE IS RISEN

Except for Christmas, when the Christ Child was born, no single event in the history of life and death upon this earth holds such great significance as Easter.

This is the affirmation of faith, the confirmation of truth for those who believe there is a

God in the heavens and a lasting, universal hope for mankind.

The message of Easter: "He is risen!"—reminds us that the life of Christ upon earth came at last to Calvary—where the message of love and sacrifice was written forever, for all time, for all ages.

2 tablespoons chopped onion

Cut pocket in each chop, cutting from fat side almost to bone edge. Drain apricots, reserving 1/2 cup syrup. Put two apricot halves in pocket of each chop. Cut up remaining apricots. Grill chops over medium heat 35 minutes, turning once. Meanwhile, in saucepan, combine catsup, onion, oil, lemon juice, dry mustard, reserved apricot juice and cut-up apricots. Simmer 15 minutes. Cook chops 5 minutes more, brushing often with sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Water Import Backers Remain Optimistic

Water, Inc. officials have expressed optimism for the future of the West Texas-Eastern New Mexico import project even in the face of study findings showing that under present project-formulation standards, the project is economically unjustifiable.

A. L. Black, Friona, president of Water, Inc., said the findings of the Bureau of Reclamation and the Mississippi River Commission revealed at meetings in Lubbock and Memphis, Tennessee, last week were not unexpected. "We have known from the outset that under project-formulation standards now in use, the import project could not be justified. The key, of course, are the standards being used and even as the two federal agencies were making the findings public, proposals for revamping project-formulation standards are in the final stages of being adopted," Black said.

The reconnaissance investigation was initiated several years ago to formulate and evaluate plans for importing water to West Texas and Eastern New Mexico to replace the dwindling ground water supply. An interim report, by the Bureau of Reclamation in 1965, established that the lower Mississippi River is the most favorably located source of import water for the High Plains.

Figures provided by the Mississippi River Commission indicate that flows near the mouth of the Mississippi, surplus to needs projected to the year 2020, might be available about one-third of the time. If it is determined that diminished flows would not adversely affect the estuarine resources of the Louisiana Gulf Coast, a portion of these flows could be available for diversion from the Atchafalaya River in the vicinity of Morgan City, La.

Water diverted from the Mississippi River would be lifted by a series of pumping plants in a canal with a carrying capacity of 40,000 cubic feet per second, through a 715-mile water conveyance system across Louisiana and East Texas to Twin Lakes, northwest of the Dallas-Fort Worth area. From Twin Lakes, the water would be transported through a 700-mile, North Texas canal system, to nine terminal reservoirs on the High Plains for distribution to lands in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

These facilities would provide the means to deliver an average of 5.8 million acre-feet annually. Of the total, 4.7 million acre-feet could be diverted to users in Texas, and 1.1 million acre-feet would be available to users in New Mexico.

The estimated cost of the huge project is $20.5 billion. Annual economic costs are estimated at $1.9 billion, of which $1.4 billion is investment cost and $0.5 billion is allocated to operations, maintenance, and replacement costs.

Further findings of the study reveal that the ratio of direct and total benefits to annual economic costs is 0.14 to 1.00 and 0.27 to 1.00, respectively.

"Some of the detailed economic figures revealed at the meeting in Lubbock do not agree with other and perhaps more up-to-date studies, as for instance, those in the Texas Input-Output Economic Study being conducted in the office of the Governor," Black said. "We feel much more detailed analysis and comparison of economic data must be made to finally determine the economic status of the import proposal," he added.

Results of the study are currently being reviewed and a final report will be released in July.

Junior High Jottings

By MARCY STEPHENS and BECKY TAYLOR

Friday was Field Day and many of us came back sunburned. It was an eventful day which we all enjoyed. Debbie Sikes and Regina Tomlinson were running the two-man sack race and Debbie fell and pulled a tendon in her leg. After lunch, a water fight took place behind the stadium. The girls defeated the boys, of course.

The eighth grade banquet theme was chosen last week. The three debating choices were: Olympic Holiday, Colour my world, and Spring Fever. "Colour My World" was chosen. Memory booklet cover design competition is now in progress.

The eighth graders are preparing their schedules for high school. Mrs. Davis, the high school counselor, was here Monday to talk to them about choosing courses.

Mrs. Edwin Knight will be teaching the rest of the school year for Mrs. Hollaman, who suffered a heart attack and is still in Mercy Hospital.

Many of us noticed during the field day that the teachers were wearing hand painted gray chambray shirts. Mrs. Whitley, Mrs. Miles, Mrs. Kenney and Mrs. Price were wearing these very decorative shirts. Mrs. Carnes' blue chambray shirt was embroidered.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Childers were guests at the eighth grade choir dinner in Lubbock. The class chose to eat out at the El Sombbrero. The food was delicious and we had a lot of fun. Mr. and Mrs. Wright's daughter also attended.

Mrs. Childers' language arts classes have been drawing Eggsaggerated Easter Eggs. Some examples of artistic ability have been shown by Mike Tumlinson, who drew an Eggsecutive (behind a desk); an Eggsray (in doctor's office) by Rock Smith; an Eggspedition, (traveling egg) by Jim Swanner; an Egg plant, (with leaves) by Patricia Hernandez; an Eggisle or Eggs' Isle (egg sitting on an island) by Craig Belt; an Eggsecutioner (with an axe) by Ronnie Robinson; the Dancing Leggs, (vaudeville act) by Jon Dawson; hard boiled egg, (tough looking) by Jean Carnes; Eggsercise (with barbells) by Stephen Taylor; an Eggscave (through barbed wire) by Scott Beard; and Eggssausted (crossing the finish line) by Emilio Garcia.

History Of A Rubber Plant?

It takes about seven years before a rubber tree plant produces the raw material used in making natural rubber. The tree's breeding cycle, from cross-pollination to production, takes 25 years.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

Many black bass have been caught with a plastic worm but not many anglers have caught a black bass with a plastic worm already in its mouth.

Never in our experience had we ever seen this happen—until the trip from whence we've just returned.

It occurred on Lake Livingston when L. A. Wilke and I went out for a few action pictures during the recent tourney held solely for women anglers.

When Fishing Guide Phillip Rowe, who works out of Galloway's Marina, learned that we were seeking action shots of fish in the process of being caught, he said he could catch all the blacks we wanted "and right away too". Said he knew "exactly where to find them" and furthermore he would have us there as soon as the present storm clouds blew over. A more confident angler you've never seen.

In less than an hour we were on the water and within fifteen more minutes were at his favorite "hot spot".

Well, as luck would have it, Phil's line broke on the very first cast. It just flat parted.

Phil rigged up again with hook, line, sliding sinker and his favorite red plastic worm in short order. He made twelve casts and brought up six black bass in the two-pound range. I may not have believed it had I merely heard it—but seeing is believing.

Kiddingly Wilke and I accused him of having the hole baited out; of planting a skindiver down there to hook the fish on the line; or staking out a nylon stringer full of fish, with one end of the line open.

Phil laughingly said, "I get 'em here all the time, day in and day out. It's my secret spot. I haven't told anyone where it is and I don't intend to. When you fellows return you won't even be able to find it yourselves because of its location among the jungle-like mass of little thorny trees of which there are thousands around here."

It really was a fantastic exhibition of fast fishing, no doubt about that. But that wasn't all that happened that cloudy afternoon. On Phil's seventh cast and catch, we shot action pictures of the bass jumping out of the water, diving deep, turning, tugging and twisting. Then we asked Phil to hold the bass up by its lower lip for a still shot.

It was then that our angler discovered a second worm in the bass' mouth. This worm was identical in size and color to the one he was using—just 5" long and light red in color.

On removing his hook and worm from the fish's mouth Phil learned that not only was there a second worm inside the bass but also a hook and two split shots on about a foot of six pound nylon line. The line showed wear, the lead weights were as bright as if polished, the hook was without rust except for a tiny bit in the eye, and the worm looked like new.

Someone had been using too light a line and too limber a rod for fishing in brush for black bass. Undoubtedly this fish, after attacking the bait, had gone down some 15 feet into a mass of brush and either severed the line or entwined it so tightly in the underwater timber that the angler broke the line—thus freeing the fish.

Phil picked up another rod and reel, added the newly acquired worm to the hook—and promptly caught another fish.

Incidentally, all the bass that were caught were gently released to serve as a challenge to other fishermen.

How's that for an hour's outing and 15 minutes of fast fishing?
