Columbus barbecue, so that more profits will be realized and more money will go into the Mercy Hospital fund. All activities at the park Wednesday -- mostley in the afternoon -- will benefit the hospital fund, after the first $500 is taken out to pay for the fireworks.

A huge display of fireworks is planned at dusk -- probably about 9 p.m. -- under supervision of the Slaton Volunteer Fire Dept. Money from the park activities goes to pay for the fireworks, then additional proceeds this year will be added to the fund to renovate Mercy Hospital, a project already underway by virtue of contributions from many groups, businesses and individuals in the Slaton area.

Jerry Kitten, Grand Knight of the Knights of Columbus, said "We're anticipating at least $2,000' from the barbecue sales. The K of C men will make the barbecue, which will sell for $2 per plate (adults) and $1 for child's plate. Other organizations will assist in the barbecue sales starting at 11 a.m. and also will have other booths of sale items such as homemade ice cream by members of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce and Athenian Study Club, which also will be in charge of children's games. The Slaton Home Demonstration Club will have a cake walk and members of Our Lady of Guadalupe Church will sell Mexican food.

The K of C barbecue also will be sold for carry-out. Also, the K of C will be selling their popular barbecue hamburgers in the afternoon, at 50 cents each. Kitten saidorganizations which will help in the food booth include VFW, American Legion, Tiger Club, Junior ROTC, Lions Club and Boy Scouts.

Forty youngsters are entered in the Little Miss Ideal Slaton and Little Mr. Ideal Slaton event, according to Mrs. Wanda Hutto, chairman of the sponsoring Retail Trades Promotion Committee. A stage will be set up in the park for the presenta-when all contestants will be presented on stage.

The contestants will meet with the judges at 2:30 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce meeting room. The contest will be judged on appearance, personality and talent (optional). Youngsters may present a talent at the 4 p.m. event if they desire, or may omit this part, Mrs. Hutto said. Wearing apparel will be left up to the choice of the parents, it was reported.

Noting that the response to this year's contest was very good, Mrs. Hutto said that plans are to make the competition an annual event.

Winner of the contest will receive a trophy. No runnersup will be named.

Other July 4th activities planned here include a miniature golf tournament, the annual golf tournament sponsored by O. Z. Ball & Co., a ping pong tournament in the clubhouse, a doubleheader Babe Ruth baseball

Ping pong tournament contestants are to sign up at the club house starting at 1 p.m. with play to begin at that time. The Lions Club dunking board, a popular attraction at the Independence Day festivities in past years, again will be operated. This crowd-pleaser features someone sitting on the board above a tank of water. For 25 cents, a customer gets three chances to dunk whoever is sitting on the board, by throwing a ball at the tripping mechanism.

Starting at 1 p.m. with Highway Patrolman Jim Dulin on the board, each victim will be the target to 30 minutes. At 1:30 p.m. Keith White will be up. Others to follow, in order, will be Lions Club Queen Rhonda Moseley, Lion Sweetheart Juanell Wood, Melvin Kinnison, Dalton Wood, Wayne Edwards, Bob Mchon, R. G. Copeland, Joe Sparkman, J. W. Special Summer Program Aids Youngsters

A summer program of special training for students with learning disabilities not only is helping the 32 youngsters enrolled in the program here, but also is giving teachers valuable training in working with students in this category.

Students and teachers are from Slaton, Roosevelt and Cooper school districts, as the program is being directed by Mrs. MayBelle Kern, director of special programs for the three schools. Mrs. Kern explained that although all of the special programs during the year in these districts are tailored to fit individual needs, this summer of students to teachers is two to one. The activities are set up so that there are teams of four students, two teachers and one psychology student from Texas Tech working together.

This means there are eight psychology students from Tech counseling with students, parents and teachers. Supervising the program, which runs four weeks for the students and six weeks for the teachers, are Mrs. Betty Snyder and Mrs. Martha Kirby, both of St. Christopher's School in Lubbock. Consultants taking part are Dr. Charles Jones, professor of special education at Tech, and Dr. Robert Anderson, professor of psychology. In addition there are the 16 teach-

Here's a note to remind mothers that they should have their Little Misses and Little Misters at the Chamber of Commerce office at 2:30 July 4, for an interview with the judges. Interviews will last until 3:30, and then contestants will go to the park for the presentation of candidates and final judging.

Dee Bowman will host the ceremony in the park, beginning 4 p.m. Some type of stage will be available, and the youngsters can be dressed in whatever they please. There will be no talent competition for them, because the stage will possibly be a flat-bed trailer, and it would not be suitable for most talents exhibits. The out-of-town judges, all of whom work in connection with children, will make the final selections. Only children already registered for the contest will be eligible for the competition.

We had Little League parent's baseball at Wilson Tuesday night to finish the season with a bang (a laugh is more appropriate!) The mothers' teams played softball and the daddles followed with a hardball game. (One community had to call off their fathers' game because they ended up with nine "former pitching stars" and no one could play the base and field positions.) But the Wilson folks had a couple of good games, and ended up with a good crowd. Now, the Little Leaguers can tell the old folks how they should have played the game.

The Athenian Study Club will be in charge of children's games for the July 4 celebration in Slaton. They will begin at 4:30 p.m. at the East end of City Park. Children ages 4-6 can participate in the animal walk, potato in spoon race, and water-in-cup-on-head race. Seven - nine year olds can run in the sack races, three-legged races, and wheel barrow race. The ten to twelve year olds will have an egg throw, three legged race, and potato race.

Like to go to the races? They are held every Friday evening beginning at 8 p.m. at Arena Park Raceway on the Tahoka Highway, near Lubbock, each week. Drag races are held each second and fourth Sundays at Lubbock Dragway, on Hwy 400, two miles South of Idalou. I've been to both lately, and they sure have some speed-demons. It'd be nice if they could keep them all out on the track, instead of on the highways. And, thank you, but I don't need any comments on my driving.

Quite often we hear of a friend or acquaintance who has suddenly been stricken with a case of "food poisoning." Or, occasionally, a community may experience an outbreak of food poisoning from foods improperly packaged or improperly handled during and after preparation.

Since summer normally is the canning season when fruits and vegetables are at their peak, now is a good time to re-emphasize canning precautions.

Health authorities reported that more than 62 per cent of all cases of botulism were due to string beans, asparagus, fruits and other vegetables canned at home. Another 24 per cent was due to the preparation of animal products. You probably have had no problems with home canning and freezing. But then you may have been lucky.

Botulism is caused by a deadly poison -- a toxin -- produced a germ found abundantly in the soil. This germ is one of the spore-forming bacteria and is very resistant to normal heat and cold. It can grow without air, which makes it such a sinister threat in home canning. The germ itself doesn't cause illness, but the toxin it produces can be fatal to man. Although some outbreaks have been caused from commercial products, the vast majority of botulism cases have been due eating improperly processed home-canned foods.

The pressure cooker method is safer and preferred for canning. Still, precautions should be taken as to length of time and degree of temperature for preparation of any food. Studies on the heat resistance of the spores of the botulism germ prove that home canning by the cold pack method, still widely used in Texas, is extremely dangerous. All homecanned products should be boiled for at least three minutes with thorough stirring before serving.

Canned foods could be free of abnoxious odor, appear in good condition and still contain organisms of botulism. Never used canned goods that are puffed out on the ends or spurt when opened. And, never taste a suspect, canned food before it is cooked properly. You can even get botulism by smelling a contaminated food, Botulism's symptoms relate primarily to the nervous system. Change in voice, such as hoarseness, often is the first sign noted. It is a serious intoxication (not an infection) characterized by weakness, dizziness, headache and constipation. However, vomiting and diarrhea may occasionally initiate illness. Symptoms usually appear within 12 to 36 hours, sometimes several days after eating contaminated food. About two-thirds of patients die within three to seven days, usually from respiratory or cardiac failure or from infectious complications.

Prior planning can mean a brightly colored landscape this fall, says a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Four popular plants known for their fall brilliance are the chrysanthemum, candle tree, copper plant and Joseph's coat. Chrysanthemums need well-drained soils with ample water and fertilizer. The other three plants also prefer rich, moist soil. Mums should be transplanted in June or early July and terminal buds should be pinched back through mid-July to promote side branching and more

WORMS SLOWING MESQUITE CONTROL -- Cutworms are hampering mesquite control operations in parts of West Texas, says a range brush and weed control specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The insects are stripping mesquite trees of their foliage, thereby making spray programs ineffective. An alternate method of mesquite control should be considered where more than 10 percent of the mesquite trees have been affected by the cutworms.

A stray dog which had come to neighbors was taken in for observation by the Sheriffs De-partment. Later another dog was taken in for observation by the Dog Pound when it was seen that the youth was bitten by two dogs rather than just one.

Protein-Rich Foods From Cottonseed

nounced that a new plant had been discovered which could produce food and fiber at the same time, the news would be heralded around the world.

Fortunately for the sumer, such a plant has been known and used by mankind for almost 7,000 years. Only recently, however, has a practical way been developed to utilize the protein-rich human food potential of cot-ton, whose fiber usage dates back to antiquity.
The National Cotton Coun-Mrs. Charles Miller and family, cil reports that Plains Cooperative Oil Mill in Lubbock, Tex., is now finishing construction on the world's first cottonseed flour mill. Expected to be in production by late summer, it will man-ufacture some 15 million tons annually of a 65-75 per cent protein concentrate from cot-

Its initial output will go to Muscatine, Ia., where Grain Processing Corporation has contracted to merchandise the concentrate for use in baked goods, beverages, and meat extenders.

Also contemplated is further refinement of the con-centrate into a 95-100 per cent protein isolate for making nutritious snack foods and other products.

Extensive lab tests on the new concentrate reveal some interesting possibilities. For instance, its use as a partial replacement for wheat flour in baking products resulted cakes and cookies with a higher protein content than

And its substitution for soy and non-fat milk solids in beef patties produced flavorful steakburgers with pleasing texture and less shinkage in frying.

A variety of these new food products recently passed a Congressional "taste test" at a Cotton Food Day reception in Washington. While cottonseed as a protein source isn't expected to replace beef, pork, or other neats, it does promise to be pensive supplements avail-

Up until now, cotton farmers haven't thought of themselves as protein producers. But tomorrow's grower probably will. Each bale of cotton he raises from a single acre of land also provides 160 pounds of protein. That's about four times the amount of protein produced by a cowand-calf operation on two acres.

Cottonseed production in the U.S. runs about 4 million tons annually, while the rest of the world produces about 20 million. With the huge protein deficit in the world expected to become even more critical in the next few years, cottonseed's new po-tential couldn't have been developed at a better time

Reducing Heavy Thighs

For many women who have slim hopes of ever dieting or exercising off unsightly lumps and bumps from their thighs, the problem may not be normal fat at all. They may be suffering from cellulite those unattractive areas of dimpled, rippling flesh resembling orange peels that seem woman's age or weight. Although most commonly found at the top of the thighs, even on slender women, cellulite. is also found on the hips. buttocks, stomach, knees and upper arms.

This condition, while well known in Europe where it's been successfully treated, if caught early enough, was practically unheard of here in America, where women simply had to learn to live with its humiliating ugliness. They could not comfortably wear shorts, pants, were embarrassed by bathing suits and short dresses. Now, the relief they have been "weighting" for has finally come from France with body-shaping expert Madame Nicole Ronsard

27 YEARS IN SLATON -DRIVE TO SLATON AND SAVE THE DIFFERENCE

No fifths this Fourth.

There used to be a saying at Fourth of July picnics that fireworks and firewater don't mix. Well, neighborhood fireworks are pretty much a thing of the past. So this year let's keep in mind that driving, drinking and speeding don't mix either.

That's what we mean by "No fifths this Fourth." All it takes is a little driving, a little drinking and a little speeding-and you've got the ingredients for big trouble.

This Fourth if you want to drink, get somebody else to drive. And take your time. That's DRIVING FRIENDLY.

Dear Consumer

Nailing Down Your Motel Room

By Virginia Knauer Special Assistant to the President and Director

Office of Consumer Affairs What a let-down for your vacation.

You've just pulled into the motel, road-weary and hungry. And the desk clerk apologetically announces there's no room for you and your family, even though you made a reservation last week.

This-after a busy day of sightseeing and driving-is the last straw.

If, for reasons beyond our control, a room is not available for a guest to who we have confirmed a reservation, we will make every effort to get him or her a room at another hotel or motel in this area at a comparable rate and provide free transportation to that property." So, you should be able to expect a motel to assist you in finding another room and getting you to it. You should not be stranded.

You are justified, of course, in feeling that a reserved room should be held for you. AH&MA spokesmen have conceded this to me and have also said that the association is extremely concerned about this situation. Unfortunately, though, the problem is not going to go away altogether. One reason is that persons often extend their reserved stays. Someone becomes ill. Weather is bad. A plane flight is canceled. This can leave fewer rooms available for incoming persons with reservations.

It's called Floratam and gets its name from the fact that it was developed jointly by the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Floratam's strongest suit is that it is resistant to St. Augustine Decline (SAD) and chinch bugs and is also tolerant to downy mildew and gray leaf spot. Certified sod producers are now growing the new grass and supplies should be plentiful
