Frenship Wins Catfight 41-8

in his final game, re-injuring a hip early in the first quarter. At that he carried the ball six times before being hurt, gaining 22 yards, and hobbled in for a couple more plays on the field.

defense, recovering a fumble before it was obvious he couldn't continue. In every game except this last one, he averaged 18 to 22 tackles per game.

Another bright spot was the performance of a couple of sophomores, Gary Aycock and Bill McClesky. Aycock took a beating all year at quarterback, but still accounted for 653 yards in total offense, with 584 of this being on passes completed (39 out of 111, with 13 interceptions).

McClesky, who punted for a 47.3 yard average in the final game, also ran with the ball 20 times for 98 yards and the Tigers' only touchdown. He was Slaton's top pass receiver for the year, catching 14 for 284 yards.

Sokora, incidentally, totaled 961 yards total offense for the season, including a 5-yard average rushing 148 times for 733.

In the early moments of Friday's game, Slaton drove to the Frenship 10, but Ricky Denzer missed a field goal try from the 15. Van Gilder ran 54 yards and the blue Tigers led 7-0 with 1:38 left in the first quarter. Van Gilder pulled a re-run early in the second, Danny Preston ran 3 yards for a TD, and Kelly Sewell went 40 yards with an interception to make it 28-0 at halftime.

The black and red Tigers played better in the second half, and in the third period put on a good drive which fizzled out at the Frenship 2, when Aycock was halted just inches short on fourth down. Big gainers of this drive were running back McClesky and Phil Payne and a 22-yard pass from Aycock to End Clarence Hammons. Neither team scored in the third quarter.

Preston scored midway of the fourth from 3 yards away, then Van Gilder broke for 37 and a TD at 3:50 to make it 41-0. McClesky recovered a fumble to start Slaton's TD drive, then caught a 24-yard pass from QB Keith Bumpass to the 8, and three plays later went over from the 2. Bumpass hit Hammons for a 2-point pass.

One of the more interesting segments of the game came with just seconds left when Frenship faced a first down with 47 yards to go. The visiting Tigers drew 140 yards in penalties in the game to 71 for the hometown Tigers. Each team had one player ejected from the game. Near the end of the game, Frenship drew a couple of 15-yarders in a row, and while the second one was being stepped off, one of the Frenship players apparently picked up the official's flag and hid it in his pants. This brought a delay while the officials looked around the field for the flag. Then another 15-yarder was added for unsportsmanlike conduct. There was another foul on the final play, but the officials decided to let the game end anyway.

Bale Count Still Rising

Total number of bales ginned in the Slaton area continued to climb steadily this week as the figure mounted from last week's 35,076 to 47,076, and this was without the total ginned by one firm whose total was not immediately available.

Gins who reported were: Slaton Co-Op 14,000; Acuff Co-Op 7000; McClung Co-Op 3139; Union Co-Op 4190; Posey Gin 2135; Basinger Gin 1250; Wilson Co-Op 4210; Wayside Gin 3725; Gatzki Gin 1200; and Moses Gin 2100.

The weather turned windy and blustery Monday, but for the most part, it was ideal for harvesting. The crops still had no killing frost, so chemical defoliating continued.

Mrs. Armstrong Winner Of Final Football Contest

Allen Miles, 1515 W. Garza, won second, even though he missed 10 games, utilizing the tie-breaker score, which he guessed at 42. The actual total was 49, and third place winner Bradley Kitten, Rt. 1, who also missed 10, picked 37 points.

Mr. and Miss Flame Named

This week and one more the Fearless Forecasters will display their shrewdness by picking winners of 12 games. Last week, talent finally triumphed over luck as Dalton Wood had the best record for the week, missing five. Leader J. W. Holt missed six. Due to unfortunate circumstances during the previous 11 weeks, Wood remains in last place by a single game. Joe Sparkman, Pete Williams and Bill Ball missed seven each.

Ball would have done better, but he obviously wasn't aware that Northern Illinois' kicker occasionally misses one.

SLATONITE CLOSING
The Slatonite will be closed Thursday and Friday for the Thanksgiving holiday.

LAST a lot of folks around here are to get to relax for a day or two. We're about the Thanksgiving holiday, of with quite a few businesses to be more than just one day, and with a few perhaps working in the fields, most will be getting turkey down their throats and playing football games.

A little bit of turkey goes a long way with family. We like it okay, but usually we get turkey and dressing at Thanksgiving Christmas to do us all year. It's still pretty to beat steak.

Some of the stores were advertising turkeys." My co-workers were that I didn't know what that meant, they tried to explain that this means it only you don't really bake it, or something like that. Anyway, it really hasn't all these years, since my wife and I arrangement where she cooks and I the term "basted turkey" was new to who its daddy was.

Surprising number of people are trying miles-an-hour thing, so we tried it the night. I wasn't doing the driving, but we passengers in the car. Anyway, this of four went to Plainview from Slaton, of about 53 miles, driving 70, and the way back we went 50. It only took eight minutes longer for the return and there were fringe benefits we never of, in that we were able to see things we would have noticed driving 70.

What did we see? All kinds of things, daily: Two skunks, a fox, a coyote, three a mouse, a falling star and the little coyote was standing next to the street Slaton.

See more, you're safer because you quicker, you get better mileage and preserve the precious fuel, doing your bit, all driving 50.

Next time a policeman stops you for in a 30-mile zone, tell him the has recommended that all drivers go you're just trying to cooperate.

DAUGHTER VISITS

Add a few drops of ammonia to sudsy dishwater to cut through grease and keep silver flatware bright.

BY MARGRET CRISPIN

Times have changed since the days of the pilgrims, but we still have so much to be thankful for. We hope that this Thanksgiving Day will find you counting your own blessings as you gather around the holiday table with your loved ones. We pray that Americans may prosper even more in the years ahead and on Thanksgivings to come.

A friend of mine told me that she hated to see holidays come, after she had lost her husband. And then a friend of hers sent her this little thought: "Whoever you are, there is some other person who thinks you are perfect. There is some work that will never be done if you don't do it. There is someone who would miss you if you were gone. There is a place to be filled, that you alone can fill."

If we follow the lead of the retail stores, we probably will have a Christmas tree up shortly. When kids go into a store these days, they may well become confused as to which comes first, Thanksgiving or Christmas. I remember when we put up the tree the week before Christmas. Then it seemed like Christmas, and we started wishing! Now, preparations and decorations are put up and started so early, the kids have time to make out a list as long as your leg. You are doing good if you can keep the tree out until Dec. 1, which still gives it time to dry up and lose half the needles before Christmas.

Back to Thanksgiving... Slaton will be having a community Thanksgiving service Wednesday night at 7:30 at First Baptist Church. Everyone is invited to attend, and several area churches will be participating. The Wilson First Baptist Church will be having a Thanksgiving breakfast, Thursday, beginning at 7 a.m., with an appropriate message to follow. The community folks are invited to attend that service also.

Life's best bounty is what YOU give. Make this Thanksgiving the best one yet, by giving of your self, to your family, friends, and neighbors. Let's show gratitude for what we have and the grace to selflessly appreciate it. Blessings to all.

Nutrition Program Touches Many Lives

THREE WORDS -- Expanded Nutrition Program -- have meant a world of difference in the lives of more than 9,000 limited income families of Lubbock and Slaton, within the past five years.

Through the Expanded Nutrition Program, limited-income homemakers and youth learn the principles of nutrition and food preparation, including use of Food Stamps; meal planning; food buying; food storage; sanitation; and money management.

Teaching is currently being conducted by 12 program aides and 27 volunteer leaders. Instruction is carried out by home visits and small group meetings.

Program aides are hired from within the area in which they work. For 3 weeks before beginning work, they undergo intensive training on working with families, making home visits and learning foods and nutrition information. This training continues with one half-day session weekly for as long as the aides are employed. Volunteer leaders for the youth nutrition classes also receive special training. One County Extension Agent and two program assistants train and supervise the program aides and volunteer leaders.

For more information contact Mrs. Judy Sanders, Extension Agent-ENP, 763-5193.

Child Killed In Area Wreck

A 4-year-old child was killed in a head-on collision of a car and pickup on FM 40 near Acuff Saturday morning.

Services for Coby Lynn Odom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Odom of Arlington, were held in Lubbock Monday with Wayne Hinds of Lubbock Christian College officiating.

The child was a passenger in a car driven by his aunt, Mrs. Mary Lyde Roger of Acuff. According to the Department of Public Safety investigators, the car was westbound on FM 40 and met the pickup on a curve. Driver of the pickup, Koe Farmer, was not hurt.

Watching your waistline? Try seasoning vegetables with herbs and spices -- they add flavor and excitement, but no calories, says M.s. Karen Walker, foods and nutrition specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Keep matches and lighters away from children. Be especially watchful of those long fireplace matches on the mantel or at the hearth.

Senior Citizens

Senior Citizens met with 52 present for the Thanksgiving meal last Friday. Mrs. Fannie Patterson called on Mr. Sexton at the business meeting for the opening prayer. Song services were led by Sexton with Mrs. Abbott at the piano. Rev. Merriel Abbott gave a devotional, reading from Psalms 103. The subject was giving thanks to God for all blessings. Rev. Abbott gave the closing prayer and thanks for the meal. The Abbotts' children joined them for the meal.

The group was glad to have Mrs. George Evans back after a stay in the hospital.

The club sent lunches to Mrs. Fannie Teague in the hospital and Mrs. J. M. Stephens in the Nursing Home.

There will be no meeting until Nov. 30.

Games of 42 and dominoes were played and enjoyed by all. All new members and visitors are welcome.

COTTON TALKS

High Plains Boll Control Program for 1973 is being rolled up aerial spray-ings with "perhaps best overall results in any of the past years," according to Service Director Ed Platts of the High Plains Cotton Growers Association, Lubbock.

Platts said spray contracts performed well, the best for the most part, and that there are weevil populations reduced to very low levels.

The program was initiated in 1964 as a means to control the huge acreage of cotton above Lubbock which borders the High Plains on the East.

The program, acclaimed as a success across the state, is now being hailed as the best weevil eradication program. The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized by Congress in the Agriculture and Conservation Act of 1964 to carry out a beltwide effort when and where practical.

The High Plains Program required spraying of 643,000 acres with some heavily infested fields treated as many as six times. The total acreage in the 1972 season was 542,000, and these figures compare with well over 1 million acres sprayed in each of the first few years of the program.

Using non-toxic, ultra low volume Malathion as the insecticide, the weevil's reproductive cycle is broken with Spring applications, and additional dosages are flown on in the Fall before remaining weevils can go into hibernation.

The program's control zone lies primarily in Dickens, Motley, Floyd, Briscoe, Hall, Crosby, Garza and Kent counties, with smaller acreages treated in Dawson and Borden counties.

Asked how long the control program or "holding action" on the Plains will be continued, Dean said "We dare not turn the weevil loose at this stage, and plans are to carry the program on until such time as a beltwide or at least a Statewide program can be utilized to relieve the pressure."

The 2,707,000-bale cotton crop estimated for the 25 High Plains counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, indicates a new record for total production on the Plains, but falls well short of the per-acre yield record set in 1965.

In 1965 the area turned out 2,301,100 bales from only 2,149,200 acres for an average yield of over 513 pounds per acre. This year's production, to be harvested from an estimated total of almost 2,710,000 acres, anticipates an average of only 479.5 pounds per acre.

The previous record for total production was set in 1961 when the 25 counties gathered 2,443,900 bales off 2,416,000 acres, a yield of 485 pounds.

Finding Security In Retirement

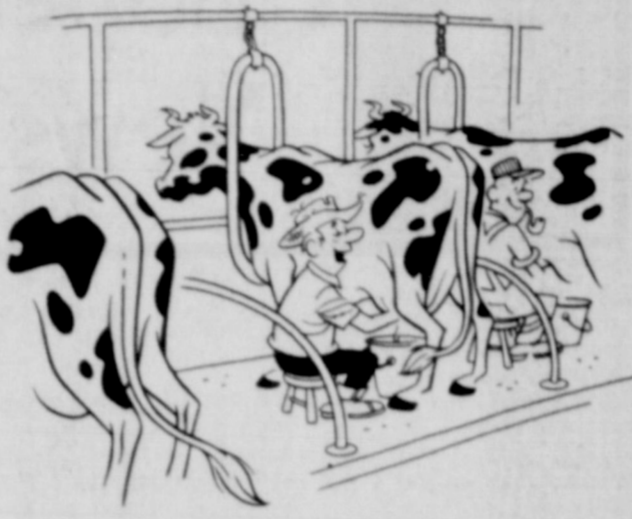

It is a great deal better to live it up than to live life out. This is the attitude of more than 21 million Americans who are over 65. There is a large majority doing just that — enjoying their later years right up to the hilt, due to careful planning and adherence to the basic rules of saving and investing.

The only real sad part about growing old is not being able to afford it. Too many people are not prepared — they have not faced up to the economic realities of retirement. The key to solving the problem is wise planning before retiring. Forewarned, as they say, is forearmed. Social Security payments, pension benefits — even Medicare — will not really suffice in many areas. A steady income from investments and savings, made while one is in his productive working years, fills the bill.

The peace of mind garnered by proper planning — and the accompanying sense of independence — are worth every bit of the effort it takes. Living life "out" is a gloomy prospect indeed. Basking in the sunny rays of a healthy retirement income — well, that's called "living it up."

An intelligent approach to planning for the future, begun early in life, is the answer to finding security in retirement.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Thought For

Change For The Better

There are winds of change in the air about us. There will always be wars and rumors of war, worrying about the economy, and wondering what will be next. But there is something that each of us can be doing — something meaningful and worthwhile — we should try to change our lives for the better. And right now is the right time.

We all need to get back on the path to God. We must change within our own lives the feelings of hatred, deceit and apathy into love, honesty and the pursuit of God's will for our lives. We as a nation are ripe for change, but it is up to each of us to bring in the harvest within our own hearts.

We would surely be destined toward greatness if we would let God in on our plans, and let our lives fit into God's plan. But we must begin somewhere and at some time. Why not start right here, right now? Can you feel the winds of change?

American consumes are now eating twice as much beef per person as we did 20 years ago, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Texas A&M University System.

Luke 18:10-17

Whether we are Jews or Greeks, whether slaves or men... one Holy Spirit was poured out for all of us. (1 Cor. 12:13)

I was walking through the woods and over the ridges near our summer place. It was a bright morning, early summer, and I paused to thank God for the peace, solitude, and all the natural loveliness about me.

Then suddenly I saw myself as a beggar squatting street corner. The sun was hot and the loaves, ragged about my shoulders gave little protection. Someone me a crust of bread.

No longer did it seem proper to thank God for had, for the beauty, peace, and privacy I enjoyed. It was to thank God that I was not like other men, that truth were my brothers. It was more fitting to thank for what did matter — that I was like them in the love of God and to entertain His spirit within.

That was really all I had to be grateful for, and I was everything. PRAYER: Heavenly Father, teach us a thankfulness free from gloating, and help us test our by Thy spirit. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

GOOD NUTRITION
Good nutrition is an all-day matter involving all foods eaten throughout the day — for breakfast, lunch, dinner and snacks. But a good day — nutritionally speaking — starts with a good breakfast.

According to many nutritionists, breakfast should supply about one-fourth of the day's calories, vitamins, protein and minerals. A breakfast of juice, cereal and milk, bread and spread, and a glass of milk meets these nutritional requirements for most people.

SAVING FAITH

"So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing word of God." (Rom. 10:17) That we are saved none who is conversant with Bible teaching will Paul wrote (Rom. 5:1): "Being therefore just by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Christ."

Sometimes there are those who insist that just comes by faith alone, but the scriptures carefully out that only a working, obeying faith is a saving "For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor anything, nor uncircumcision; but faith working love." (Gal. 5:6)

In Hebrews 11 we are told that "by faith" offered unto God" (v. 4); Enoch "had well-pleasing unto God" (v. 5); Noah "moved with fear, prepared an ark" (v. 7); Abraham "obeyed" "offered up Isaac" (v. 17); Moses chose "to share ill treatment with the people of God, than the pleasures of sin" (v. 25); "forsook Egypt" "kept the Passover, and the sprinkling of blood" Israel "passed through the Red sea" (v. 29); "the of Jericho fell down, after they had been about for seven days" (v. 30); Rahab "perished them that were disobedient" (v. 31).

These were all justified by faith, because accepted and did what God taught them to do. New Testament James wrote (1:22): "But be ye of the word, and not hearers only, deluding yourselves." And he issues this challenge in James "Show me thy faith apart from thy works, and works will show thee my faith."

May our faith be so strong that it will lead us the Lord, thus enjoying the salvation he also provide (Heb. 5:9).

November Is 'Food And Fiber Month'

COLLEGE STATION -- November -- a month steeped in tradition, a time of harvesting, a time for thanksgiving! And what better time than to pay tribute to the great agricultural industry in Texas for the high quality food and fiber products that are available to consumers.

That's why November has been designated as "Food and Fiber Appreciation Month," points out Dr. William Vastine, economist in marketing and food distribution for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Farmers and ranchers and those engaged in processing and distributing food and fiber products deserve a great deal of credit for the everyday miracle of feeding and clothing the people of this state and nation," contends Vastine. "And, with Texas being a leading state in exporting agricultural products, we are now providing food and fiber for many other countries as well."

Consumers in the United States spent more than $125 billion for food in 1972, making food retailing the nation's largest retail industry. In Texas the amount totaled about $6.4 billion.

Vastine attributes this continued growth in the food industry to increased per capita disposable income for a growing population and the increased demand for services associated with food. Unemployment is down and with more than 40 per cent of all wives now working, eating out and convenience foods are also adding to the boon in the food industry.

"With present-day technology and expertise, agricultural producers now account for only about five per cent of the nation's population. Yet, they do an efficient job; in fact, they produce enough food and fiber for themselves and more than 50 other people," notes the economist.

"Yet, as more and more generations of families become further removed from farm and ranch life, agricul-

Progress is being made in an effort to standardize, insofar as possible, the basic provisions of cotton contracts for 1974 and future years. But it is generally agreed that this will not solve the contracting problem of most concern to cotton producers -- the problem of contract performance.

The Texas Cotton Association, the American Cotton Shippers Association and a committee of the National Cotton Council all are working toward a standard contract. Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and a member of the NCC committee, stated recently that "This is something we need as an aid in promoting better understanding of each party's contractual obligations, but it is not something that will assure producers that buyers can and will live up to contract terms."

It is also noteworthy that the Food and Fibers Marketing Subcommittee of the Texas House Agriculture Committee is holding hearings to determine if buyer licensing or other means can be found to protect producers against loss in the event buyers default on contracts. But the Texas Legislature doesn't meet again in regular session until 1975.

Meanwhile Johnson is advising cotton producers in PCG's 25-county area that their best protection for natural producers are sometimes forgotten and their role in our society and economy is overshadowed by other 'more contemporary' events and happenings.

"But they along with the people engaged in the overall agribusiness industry continue to be the backbone of this country, providing what is so often taken for granted -- high quality food and fiber products," Vastine points out.

"We won't need a cart... I just want to pick up a bar of soap," unquote."

1974 will be a thorough investigation of any party with whom they consider contracting.

"It is foolish for producers to assume that everybody in the cotton contracting business will have the ability to pay contract prices should the market go against them," he says, "and odds are that any producer who contracts in such a careless manner sooner or later will find himself party to a one way contract under which he has all to lose and nothing to gain."

Before signing a contract to deliver cotton at a specified price the producer should take special pains to assure himself that he is not the only party with the ability to abide by contract terms, Johnson advises.

"First, the producer should learn as much as possible about the man with whom he is doing business. He should consult with his banker, and with the buyer's banker. He should ask the merchant for the names of producers with whom he signed contracts last year.

Eagles Slam Denver City, Advance To Playoffs

By JIMMY MATSLER

The first game of the season, Roosevelt's John Blackwell rushed for 102 yards. Then on successive weeks he got 181 and 127. The last three games Blackwell has been limited to less than 70 steps. This is clearly a diminishing trend. Right?

Wrong. Last Friday night he was his old self again, as he tore through the highly touted Denver City defense for 167 yards on 18 carries, leading the Eagles to a 21-6 victory at Roosevelt. The win tied the Eagles with the Mustangs for the district crown, and gave Roosevelt the District 5-AA playoff rights. Having successfully defeated the state's No. 2 team, the Eagles now will face No. 3 Hamlin at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Shotwell Stadium in Abilene.

Although Blackwell was the offensive punch, the Roosevelt defense was at its finest. The entire defensive unit of Mike Patschke, Buster Washington, Garrett Mitchell, Kenny Perry, Gary Stennett, Joseph Brown, Charles Lipps, Tim Jones, Steve Cook, Gilbert Brown, and Lee Anderson was outstanding. They limited the potent Mustang attack to a mere 127 total yards, and forced three turnovers. In the entire first quarter, when Roosevelt was trying to set the tempo for the game, the Mustangs netted six total yards and no first downs on nine plays.

The Eagles showed they were ready to play from the opening play. DC won the toss and elected to receive. From their own 34 Jim Amerson gained one. Rodney Deaton was trapped by Anderson for a six yard loss, and Amerson got back the six on third down. The Mustangs were forced to punt, and Roosevelt took over on its own 31. On the Eagles' first play from scrimmage Blackwell took the handoff from quarterback Chris Marshall, started outside, and streaked up the field to daylight. The Eagle tailback broke clear, and no one was going to catch him from behind. G. Brown added the extra, and with 9:41 left in the first quarter, Roosevelt led 7-0.

On Blackwell's run, the local sportswriter, yours truly, got so enthused that he proceeded to leap up and down until one of the boards of the stadium fell through. Luckily he escaped with only scraped shins and a damaged ego.

Denver City's only score of the night came following an Eagle fumble. Junior wingback Rudy Trevino couldn't find the handle on a pitch, and DC pounced upon the ball at the Eagle 29. Three plays later the Mustangs had second down and 12 for a TD. From there QB Gary Lehnert went in on the power sweep. Bryan Lambeth's attempted extra point was wide to the left, and with 8:24 left in the half, the Eagles still clung to a 7-6 lead.

The third period was a rock 'em, sock 'em affair which ended in a stalemate. Neither team got into the scoring picture, although the Mustangs once got the the Eagle 27. From there four plays netted minus three yards and the Eagles took over.

The fourth quarter belonged entirely to the Eagles. Having stopped the Mustangs at the Eagle 30, the Roosevelt crew promptly drove 70 yards to paydirt. This drive consumed 5:33 of the clock, and only 8:11 remained in the contest. QB Marshall went the final 12 steps on the option play. Wingback Trevino avenged his earlier fumble by laying a block that cleared the way for the tally. G. Brown again converted, and Roosevelt led 14-6.

The Eagles put the final nails in the coffin on their next drive. Roosevelt drove 52 yards in eight plays to get their third touchdown. Blackwell threw the final 19 yards, breaking at least three tackles.

Statistically the Eagles dominated the game also, as they piled up 242 yards rushing as compared to 117 by DC. The Eagles added 14 via the air, while the Mustangs got 14. Roosevelt ran 54 plays to 40 by the Mustangs.

This week the Eagle defense faces its toughest test this year. Hamlin has over 4,000 total yards, led by a super halfback, Johnny Jones, who has an amazing 2,028 yards rushing this year. Jones is but a junior, and he has gained more than 4,000 yards in his high school career. He has scored 164 points this year.

This year Hamlin has scored 404 points to 83 for the opposition en route to a 10-0 record. At least four Hamlin players run the 100-yard dash in 10.0 or better. The Pied Pipers also have a lineman, Steve McKissack, who weighs 240 pounds and runs the 100-yard race in 10.2.

AUSTIN--Governors from 17 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands will converge on Lakeway and its World of Tennis Sept. 8-11 for the Southern Governors Conference in 1974.

With the governors will be 800 other participants and news media at the conference.

The governors and their staffs will be housed at Lakeway World of Tennis condominiums located on 100 of the development's 5,600 acres.

Texas, which last hosted the conference at San Antonio in 1962, was scheduled to be the 1975 host, but moved forward a year when the Virgin Islands withdrew its bid for 1974.

Lakeway, located 25 minutes from downtown Austin, is an outdoor feeling of lakes and hills. Nash, chairman of Selection Committee, noted that "would represent the greatest extent of a lot of prestige location."

The conference is expected to cost about $100,000 which will be covered by contributions from corporations and individuals who do business in South.

Social highlights of the conference will include a formal evening event, night while present, and others after conference have a reception and dinner at Lakeway Inn; a Texas dinner; Evening with World of Tennis; second night; annual State Dinner; approximately 800 third night in ground tennis at World of Tennis clubhouse.

Tanya Tucker To Sing

FORT WORTH -- A volume of entries for the 1974 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show are being processed daily by show officials, reports W. R. Watt Jr., general manager. The show is scheduled Jan. 25 through Feb. 3.

Watt said a primary reason for the early entry volume is that entry closing date is Dec. 1 for the National Centennial Angus Show, being held in conjunction with this year's Stock Show. The American Angus Association is observing the 100th year of the introduction of the black cattle to North America. Other cattle, all junior divisions, horses, sheep and swine entries will close Dec. 15, while exhibitors of poultry, rabbits and pigeons have until Jan. 15 to make their entries. Entry cards and premium books are available at the Stock Show office, or by writing P. O. Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas 76101.

"We anticipate more than 13,000 head of livestock will be entered in the 1974 Stock Show," Watt said.

Guest entertainment for the World's Original Indoor Rodeo, held as a major part of the annual Stock Show, will be Tanya Tucker, the "Delta Dawn" girl and her country and western band.

Tanya, the 15-year-old with the grown-up voice, will be singing her hit songs, "Delta Dawn," "What's Your Mama's Name," "Blood Red and Going Down," and other favorites during each of the 20 action-packed rodeo performances.

Rodeo tickets are available by mail by writing the Stock Show offices.

Total premiums have been increased to a record of more than $275,000.

REGULATIONS relating to cattle scabies and brucellosis are affecting some Texas counties. Federal quarantines for cattle scabies were lifted from Parmer and Potter counties. Castro and Deaf Smith are still under quarantine. Scabies are caused by tiny parasitic mites that puncture the skin of cattle and feed on the body fluids released through the wounds. Scabies does not affect the animal's meat, but can cause loss of weight and decreased feed efficiency.

Health regulations governing interstate shipment of breeding cattle from 11 counties in Texas have been changed. The action was based on the counties' compliance, or lack of compliance, with state-federal requirements aimed at eradicating brucellosis.

Kenedy County regained its modified-certified brucellosis area status while Baylor, Bell, Cass, Henderson, Leon, Mitchell, Navarro, San Saba, Tom Green, and Uvalde counties lost their status for failing to meet certain minimum requirements of the eradication program.

FUEL problems continue to haunt Texas agricultural producers. Diesel at present appears to be causing the most concern. LP gas is in short supply in some areas. The general situation seems to be one of confusion, especially concerning the mandatory allocation of diesel.

Fertilizer shortages are also being reported as are occasional reports of lack of baling wire.

REGULATIONS relating to cattle scabies and brucellosis are affecting some Texas counties. Federal quarantines for cattle scabies were lifted from Parmer and Potter counties. Castro and Deaf Smith are still under quarantine. Scabies are caused by tiny parasitic mites that puncture the skin of cattle and feed on the body fluids released through the wounds. Scabies does not affect the animal's meat, but can cause loss of weight and decreased feed efficiency.

Not doubt about it, a freezer can save you time and money when you take advantage of in-season products and special sales. But good planning is needed to gain all the benefits and avoid some of the problems you could have with freezing food.

For example, foods vary in the degree of temperature and moisture needed to retain their fresh quality. So, keep a thermometer handy to check your refrigerator and freezer for proper temperatures. Refrigerators should be below 40 degrees F., and freezer cabinets should be maintained at zero degrees.

According to the Food & Drug Administration, the Agriculture Department, food begins to thaw and cannot be refrozen. The length of time over the degrees above zero. In the regular part of the refrigerator, meat should not be held over five days. However, in the freezer at zero degrees meat can be held for several months or longer depending on type and cut.

In case of electrical power failure, do not open the freezer unless absolutely necessary. If it has been properly operated, food should keep for about 24 hours if freezer is not opened. You may safely refreeze most thawed foods if they still contain ice crystals or if they are still about 40 degrees and have been held at this temperature no longer than one or two days after thawing.

Conservation Practices Are Pushed

Members in the Lubbock Conservation Service at said conservation practices not only protect soil from erosion but increase production. Some people are pre-empting farmers will bring thousands acres of "set-aside" acreage into crop production in the next year," said. "This is considered to be the best and most effective way to check food increases. It's also the quickest way to increase dust storms, prevent pollution, and erosion problems un-derstand conservation practices are installed."

Students Have Various Topics

All English students are busy as beavers this semester. Mrs. Mickie Fondy, freshman English teacher, reports that her classes have been studying short stories. The freshmen students wrote original short stories. Written book reports have been completed. The remaining unit for this semester will be devoted to grammar. Mrs. Fondy says, "I have a hard time getting my sixth period class quieted down, they are all clowns." In sophomore English, instructed by Mrs. Helen Holley, the students have been learning the basic of composition. Descriptive paragraphs have been written by the students. Later this semester they are to begin reading the novel "The Scarlet Letter" and a dramatic play "Helen Keller."

Mrs. Mickie Benson, junior English teacher, has been preparing the students for composition writing. The reading program in the class consists of a drama, "The Glass Menagerie" by Tennessee Williams; and three novels: "Jonathan Livingston Seagull", "Maggie a Girl of the Street" and "Huckleberry Finn". Senior students, under the instruction of Mrs. Maxine Walker, have completed units on grammar, composition, and Greek drama. They have seen the film "Oedipus Rex" and they have read "Antigone". They are now studying the Shakespearean tragedy, "Macbeth", and will write major papers on one of the underlying themes.

Mrs. Felder Likes Counseling Job

Helping a student get adjusted to a job training situation brings great satisfaction to Mrs. Nancy Felder, vocational adjustment coordinator with the Slaton High School.

"I feel like I am accomplishing something when I get a student interested in working at a trade that he wants to learn," Mrs. Felder said.

She works with Gary Gill of Lubbock, vocational rehabilitation counselor in the cooperative agreement between the high school special education division and the Division of Vocation Rehabilitation.

The program has been designed to bridge the gap between school and the world of work for high school youth who have significant learning problems and have difficulty in completing the regular academic program.

Curriculum of this class gives priority to the development of vocational adjustment. Academic skills are emphasized only as they have a functional relationship to specific jobs or occupations.

Areas of emphasis include vocational evaluation, planning and suitable on-the-job training. This training may be secured for a full day or a half day, depending on the maturity of the student.

Other areas that are stressed are personal and social adjustment on and off the job. The curriculum includes such items as how to apply for, secure and hold a job; development of acceptable adult behavior patterns; learning of specific job assignments; and how to become a productive employee.

Walls of the classroom are expanded to include the community and Mrs. Felder is working with students at Roosevelt, Cooper and Southland in addition to Slaton. Approximately 25 students, ranging in age from 14 to 20, are enrolled in the programs.

One of these students is in full time training at Lubbock Christian College learning welding as a trade. He will be employed full time next year as a welder but will graduate with his class and get a diploma.

Mrs. Felder said that six business men in Slaton are cooperating with the program by offering the students jobs. She feels that the program can be greatly expanded in all four communities and it is her job to visit with the business men and explain the program.

Besides visiting business men, she will also visit in the homes of students who are having difficulty maintaining their grades at school or have already dropped out of classes.

Mrs. Felder counsels with the student and feels that she must help him find his proper place in a work world. One student was placed in 5 different job situations before he found the trade suitable for him. Mrs. Felder said this was an extreme situation, but that finding the right job for the student's abilities is the most important segment of her job as counselor.

However, she functions first as a special education teacher and second, as a member of the team in the vocational adjustment process. She maintains supervision of the student to aid in his success on his job.

When a student in the vocational adjustment class, after a specified period of time, has proved himself capable of holding a job that is commensurate with his abilities, has demonstrated favorable personal and social adjustment and has developed acceptable adult behavior patterns, he becomes eligible for school graduation and a diploma.

Mrs. Felder says she is rewarded "when you can see the kids are finding their place in the community and finding something to work out rather than to rely on government aid."

Health Maintenance Plan Given Praise

By LT. GOV. BILL HOBBY AUSTIN -- Most Texans are aware that medical costs are soaring, up 66 per cent in the last five years alone. Despite insurance to protect against the financial burdens of illness, consumers pay more than a third of all medical expenses out of their pockets. Little relief can be expected under our existing system of delivering medical services. The system has been described as "20th century technology shackled to a 19th century delivery process."

A new concept known as Health Maintenance Organizations holds a great deal of promise toward rectifying this situation.

Simply stated, an HMO is merely a group of persons who incorporate to provide their members with all health services for a set fee per month.

Instead of running the gauntlet of doctor, specialist, laboratory, hospital, and pharmacy, a member of an HMO often can receive all of his care under one roof.

Since a Health Maintenance Organization receives a set amount of money each year, it provides the physician with an incentive to keep people well. If a patient can be treated early enough to prevent costly hospitalization, the HMO saves money, and the benefit to the patient is obvious.

Through the economies of mass purchasing and other modern business principles, HMOs provide more comprehensive medical care for less money.

At the state level of government, we must seek solutions to rising medical costs, shortages and maldistribution of health facilities, and inefficient use of manpower. We cannot wait for the federal government to solve this problem.

Experience in other states has shown that HMOs provide improved health care more efficiently than our present system.

A bill authorizing Health Maintenance Organizations in Texas was defeated in the last session of the Legislature. The State Board of Insurance, under the leadership of Chairman Joe Christie, is now studying whether under other legislation, the Board has the authority to approve HMOs.

Few debated the merit of HMOs. The major controversy developed over who should control them, the physicians who deliver the services or the laymen who use them.

Lay control over professional services is not un-American. It has worked effectively for other professional services, and it can work as well in medicine.

We must not allow the controversy over control to deny Texans the same advantages HMOs have provided citizens of many other states.

LIFE STYLE OF THE FUTURE

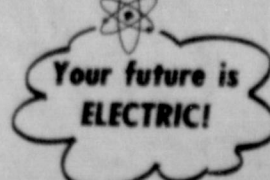

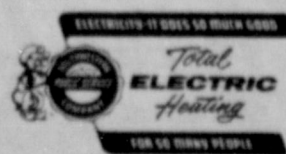

What will be the life style of the future? One thing we can be sure of . . . it will revolve around electricity. Without electric energy there is no hope of getting the pollution eliminators that only electricity can operate.

We'll need our factories, our refineries, our water treatment plants . . . all the things necessary for survival in a modern civilization.

But, without electricity none of these can function.

That's why our industry and we, as a Company, continuously plan for the future . . . contribute toward research and development of better, more efficient ways to get electricity to you.

We know we'll be needed in the future even as we are now . . . and we'll be there when the time comes . . . even as we are now . . . making sure that every kilowatt you buy is 100% usable.

AUSTIN -- Having a photograph taken is a real event for the average person. He or she usually is a bit anxious about how it's going to turn out, and since the photo often is planned for a gift-giving occasion, the subject becomes eager to have the finished product.

So, they become frustrated -- even angry -- if they run into an extraordinarily long delay; or, if after a long wait, are presented with pictures of such poor quality they're unusable, or, if the final bill is way in excess of what they've planned to pay.

Frequently, consumers have registered complaints about deceptive photography services with the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's office.

One often-complained-of practice involved tie-ins with a land promotion plan. Consumers claimed they were solicited by telephone, and told that if they answered a simple quiz correctly, they would qualify for a free weekend vacation, as well as a special price on a photograph of themselves, or some family member.

But, some complainants alleged, they either did not get the "vacation" certificate, or they found out the trip wasn't really "free," because they had to pay their own transportation and meals, and actually had "won" only a special rate on a hotel room -- under a restricted set of circumstances.

Other consumers have complained that they were promised one price for a photograph, if they answered a phone quiz right, but said that when they went to claim their color pictures, they were told they couldn't get them unless they paid an additional sum -- sometimes three times the quoted cost. And there were some who stated that they had been asked to pay exorbitant postal charges.

They turned to our office, or to Better Business Bureaus when attempts to resolve the problems with the photographers themselves didn't pan out.

The Attorney General's office won a court injunction against one firm, Living Color Studio of Borger, after church officials in Austin, Amarillo and several small Texas towns told of paying "earnest money" to have individual photos taken of church members in response to a promise of getting free church directories.

Some swore the directories didn't arrive for a year or more, and others said they never were provided. One man wrote that he had had his 12-month-old son photographed for Christmas giving; waited so long that he decided to make the pictures Father's Day presents, and when the baby finally had grown to toddler stage, he gave up on getting a "baby" picture, and asked for his money back.

The trial court enjoined the firm from engaging in deceptive trade practices, and from carrying out a business conduct which "creates confusion and misunderstanding."

We know that most photographers -- probably 99 per cent of those in business -- are honest practitioners in their field. They aim to provide a necessary and desired service. They try to build up their businesses on referrals and return customers.

Usually, if a customer is totally dissatisfied, they will offer a second sitting -- free, or at cost only.

But exceptions have been reported. So, if you're dealing with someone who does not have an established business or a good local reputation, it would be a good idea to check them out.

If you do have any problems, call your local county or district attorney, or the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's office.

Turkey Supplies Down, Demand Up

COLLEGE STATION -- The demand for turkeys will increase as the holiday season approaches, and that trend plus birds in cold storage will keep prices up over the next few months, according to poultry marketing specialists for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

According to the specialist, retail turkey prices averaged 55 cents a pound in 1972 and are now near the record levels of 1948-49. "But turkeys are still a good buy," say specialists, "when you consider how much other goods and services have increased in recent years. The average factory worker today can buy almost two more pounds of turkey with wages from one hour of labor than he could in 1959."
