Representative Plans Made for July 4th Event

Plans were made by directors of Slaton Chamber of Commerce to promote Fourth of July in the Slaton city. At that time, various organizations had not been but directors at the celebration held again if the city participate as to coordinate the activities, it was reported. Chamber directors, in their monthly meeting Tuesday morning, noted that the proceeds above expenses from the various functions go to

Mercy Hospital, as part of the fund needed to pay for hospital remodeling to meet standards required to keep it in operation.

Directors also voted approval of a design for a new sign outside Slaton, and voted to sponsor appearance of a large group of antique autos in the city on either Aug. 1 or Aug. 2. The antique cars will be on display in Lubbock at that time, and will be brought down here for six hours or so on one of those days. About 75 cars would be exhibited, according to Chamber Manager Tom Roy.

Coy Evans, Chamber president, presided at the Tuesday session.

Thefts, Wrecks Are Reported

Thefts and a couple of wrecks highlighted reports of investigations by Slaton police officers during the last week.

On Tuesday Ira A. Keys, 220 S. 5th, reported that two tires had been stolen from his pickup parked at that address.

A wreck at Industrial and Woodrow Rd. Friday involved a 1968 car driven by Jose Guadalupe Aldope of Tulia and a 1971 semi-trailer dump truck driven by Garland Verdell Graves of Slaton.

On Sunday, a 1970 auto driven by Ray Pequeno Jr., 915 S. 7th, struck a parked car owned by Severo Gonzalez, at FM 400 south and the gin road.

TWO INJURED IN ACCIDENT — Bob Mohon and Robert Evans, both associated with Slaton Flying Service, were badly burned when this helicopter caught fire after the two had landed a few hundred yards southwest of the runway at the airport Tuesday afternoon. The chopper was destroyed by the blaze, believed to have been caused by a gasoline leak. The area behind the craft here was burned off. (SLATONITE PHOTO)

Two Slaton Men Hurt As Helicopter Burns

Jones, Slaton, reported loss of a wallet, 8-track stereo tape and speaker from his car while it was parked on West Panhandle. Total value of the missing items was set at $18-$20.

An "old model" Honda 70 cc motorcycle with 1972 license plates was discovered in an old building in the east part of town Sunday by the owner of the building, who called police. A check of the license number and serial number disclosed it had not been reported stolen.

Two well-known Slaton men suffered severe burns Tuesday afternoon as a helicopter burst into flames shortly after they had landed in a weeded area off the end of the runway at Slaton airport.

In critical condition Wednesday in the intensive care unit of Lubbock Methodist Hospital was Bob Mohon, 34, former president of Slaton Lions Club and former Lion of the Year.

In satisfactory condition, according to hospital official Wednesday, was Robert Evans, 30, one of the owners of Slaton Flying Service. Evans suffered burns, mainly on his legs and right arm, and Mohon reportedly was burned on the arms, left leg and head. Mohon, father of five, formerly manager of Wendell TV in Slaton and co-owner of Miniature Hills Golf Course here, is an instructor for fixed-wing aircraft at Slaton Flying Service, but was himself taking instruction in operation of a helicopter under the tutelage of Evans when the accident occurred. The pair reportedly was practicing agricultural spraying techniques Tuesday.

Unofficial accounts of what happened indicated that the two had landed in the heavily weeded area a few hundred yards southwest of the south end of the runway because one of the men, Evans, had something in his eye. A little later, as they were preparing to ascend, the craft burst into flames. There was an unconfirmed report that leaking gasoline from the craft into the weeds ignited.

The two were burned as they escaped the flaming craft. Slaton fire department units and an ambulance were at the scene a few minutes after 3 p.m. and the two injured men were removed. A large area of the grassland burned off, and the blackened chopper framework remained upright on the ground. Firemen stayed on duty in the area around the destroyed craft for some time, to keep the blaze from spreading out of the dry-lake area.

Federal officials said the cause of the fire was still under investigation.

Commissioners Ask Bikers To Observe Safety Rules

By SANDY MARTIN
Ks and bicycles are a natural combination for summer, but city sidewalks are no place for bike riders. In recent weeks, numerous complaints and several bicycle - pedestrian accidents have occurred in Slaton. Because of this situation, city commissioners have asked that bike riders review and use some simple safety rules and that motorists watch carefully for the unprotected bikers. Two Slaton residents have been struck by bicycles within the last two weeks. Riding on the sidewalk of a business district such as the Slaton square is expressly warned against by the Department of Public Safety in the latest Texas Drivers

Handbook. Although no city ordinance forbids riding on the sidewalk, the Commissioners have asked riders to stay off the sidewalk or walk their bikes on the sidewalks. Slaton Police Chief Fred Clark warned cyclists that they are supposed to observe the same laws as motorists. "We can ticket a bike rider for running stop signs and failure to yield right of way and other things." He said most Slaton bikers obey the laws well, but he also cautioned riders to use reflectors and other lights so that they can be seen at night. Most 10 speeds are equipped with head lights, but older model bikes may need extra reflectors or the rider may need to use an arm light. Several citizens have also complained about bikers on the new tennis courts. Although the new surface is flat and ideal for bike riding, it was not designed for cyclists. Persons playing tennis should not have to be interrupted by bikers on their courts. Also, skid marks left by bikes are marring the new surface. Other bike laws which should be observed include the following: — Bikers should ride as near to the right side of the roadway as practicable, exercising due care when passing a standing vehicle or one proceeding in the same direction. — Bikers must ride on bicycle paths when they are available. — Riders must not ride more than two abreast. — Riders must sit upon a permanent and regular seat. — Single bikes must not carry more than one rider. — Bikers should move off the street to stop, park or make repairs. — Bikers should walk their bikes across dangerous intersections.

Cycling is fast becoming a popular pastime with Slaton residents of all ages. Sophisticated, imported 10 speeds and slower, reliable standard bikes are sharing city streets in growing numbers. Although almost anyone between five and 85 years of age can ride a bike, there are laws and rules which make cycling safe as well as enjoyable. The Slaton City Commission wants bikers to enjoy themselves and at the same time make the sidewalks and streets safe for everyone else.

Girls Participate In Exchange

In sponsoring the exchanges, Lions Club pays for one third of the cost of the trip and the rest of the cost is taken care of by the students.

Given their choice of countries to visit, Lynne and Rhonda chose Sweden because they wanted to go to Europe. Landy selected Brazil because "it sounds like a nice place to visit."

Lynne and Rhonda will both be in the city of Orebro. Rhonda will be staying with the Barnner family and Lynne will be with the Sjodahl family.

Rhonda, Slaton Lions Club queen last year, will spend three weeks with one family and then she will stay with a different family for the remaining time. Landy doesn't know yet with whom he will be staying, but he will be in Rio de Janeiro.

The trio probably will speak to the host families' Lions Clubs and appear as special guests of those clubs.

While Lynne, Landy and Rhonda are away, an exchange student from Japan will arrive here around the first of July.

Lasater said the Japanese boy will stay with three different families while he's here.

Lynne Wendel, who will be a Texas Tech freshman this fall, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Wendel. Rhonda, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moseley, will be a Slaton High School senior, and Landy will be a junior at Tech. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Truett Bownds.

Former Slaton Resident Attends Boys State

Craig Nieman, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Speedy Nieman of Hereford, attended the American Legion Boys State in Austin June 12-18. He and one other Hereford High School boy were nominated by the school faculty and then selected by the local American Legion Post.

A senior at HHS, Craig attended Slaton schools until mid-term of his freshman year. He was on the student council at SHS. While at HHS he has been photographer of the yearbook for the past two years, played on the basketball and baseball teams and is vice president of Key Club.

He is also a member of Fellowship of Christian Athletes and attended FCA Camp last summer and plans to attend again in August. He has just recently returned from a Baptist church camp in Colorado which 75 youth from the First Baptist Church in Hereford attended. Craig works as a part time photographer for the Hereford Brand newspaper and is employed this summer by North Plains Printing.

He traveled to Austin by chartered bus with other area Boy Staters. After attending the Texas Press Convention in Arlington this week, his parents plan to meet him in Austin for an extended vacation before returning home.

Foreign nations with "Signatory Associations" who were represented at the Conference included Belgium, England, France, Germany, India, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, Poland and

Spain. Pursuant to the Universal Cotton Standards agreement, first effected in 1923, all Signatory Associations are given the opportunity to examine and approve Key copies of the Universal Cotton Standards

LOCAL BOYS STATE DELEGATES IN AUSTIN

The thirty-fourth annual American Legion Boys State sponsored by the Department of Texas and held on the campus of The University of Texas, at Austin, got under way June 12 as 872 high school boys from all parts of Texas, and two from Mexico, registered.

Among those registering from Slaton Post 438 were Jimmy Keith Bumpass, 1525 W. Crosby; Charles Elmer Waugh, 355 S. 9th St.; Don Clay Mitchell, Rt. 2; Craig Louis Wilke, Rt. 1; Michael Joseph Bednarz, Wilson; Bill George Jones, 935 W. Dickens; and Jay Dwayne Lynch. Ralls who were sponsored by local

American Legion Posts. Following registration, each citizen was assigned to one of two political parties — the Nationalist or Federalist. Each citizen then functioned as a member of his party, he attended its precinct, county and state conventions and voted in its primary.

Boys State helps to develop civic leadership and pride in American citizenship. This program arouses a keen interest in the detailed study of our government and bring better understanding of our national traditions and beliefs to the more than 28,000 young men who are participating this year.

In Boys State, the American Legion provides the type of program where the young citizen has the opportunity to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it. The boy "learns to do by doing."

The program takes an added significance since the vote has been extended to 18 year olds. Most Boy Staters are in the 16 to 17 age category.

Highlight of Boys State was a trip to the Capitol on Tuesday morning where each elected Boys State Official was given an opportunity to serve in his respective office for a day.

Boys State enrollment this year brings the total to 18,351 junior high school boys who have attended since 1940, when Boys State was first inaugurated in Texas.

Cold-Tolerant Cotton May Become Reality

Early maturing, cold-tolerant cotton is a producer's dream which may become fact in a few years, according to a research scientist in Lubbock. If so, the development could lead to an annual recovery of $18 to $24 million in lost revenue from low-micronaire cotton, and improved fiber quality and cotton seed for textile and processing industries.

Dr. Jack Gipson, cotton physiologist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, said that his research since 1963 has shown that low fiber and seed quality are generally associated with cold temperatures which retard the rate of cotton boll development. As temperature drops below 70 degrees Fahrenheit, the metabolic functions of the cotton plant begin to gradually slow down, ceasing almost entirely at about 60 degrees.

Low temperatures encountered on the High Plains in September and October, Gipson explained, account for most of the slow-down in boll development. Minimum temperatures average about 57 degrees in September, and 46 degrees in October, though it is not uncommon for the mercury to plunge to 41 in September and down to a frigid 34 in October.

July and August minimum temperatures fall in the mid-60's range.

"The detrimental effects of low temperature on fiber micronaire is of particular importance to High Plains producers," Gipson noted. In the 25-county cotton producing area, an average of 60 percent of the annual crop fell in the penalty range of 2.4 to 3.4 during the 10-year period between 1963 and 1972. This means that of an annual two million-bale crop, some 1,200,000 bales would be penalized to some degree for low micronaire. Based on a common discount of $15 to $20 per bale, the economic loss of High Plains revenue is staggering. And these are conservative figures.

"Both production records and research data," the researcher said, "compelled us to look for a way to deal with low temperatures."

From previous research with Dr. L.L. Ray, TAES cotton breeder, Gipson knew that certain varieties were better adapted or more tolerant to low temperature than others. This meant that genetic potential did exist to deal with low temperatures.

With this premise as the basis, the two researchers began in 1972 to select early maturing strains for testing. All of the lines were developed at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center north of Lubbock, where the two TAES scientists are based. The plants now are being subjected to temperature stress from emergence to killing frost and evaluated for earliness and potential cold tolerance.

The plants are grown in small plots and are covered each night with field growth chambers mounted on wheels and tracks. The chambers are equipped with heaters and air-conditioners to enable the researchers to maintain desired temperature levels.

Gipson explained that only night temperatures are controlled because in general, these are the lowest temperatures. Day temperatures usually are adequate. In their study for the 1974 crop year, seven experimental strains and three standard varieties are being evaluated, he noted.

Of the seven experimental strains, three were selected for performance under low temperature stress in 1972, the seed increased in 1973, and are now being put through another cycle of low temperature stress to determine the extent, if any, of increased cold tolerance. Each year the strains that fail to show promise are deleted and replaced by other strains with potential cold tolerance.

The study is being supported by the U.S. Department of Agriculture with funds being made available through Cotton Incorporated.

"We are extremely pleased with the progress achieved in the first two seasons," Gipson remarked, "especially with micronaire values of two of the experimental strains produced under low temperature stress.

"We are on the right track. It is just a matter of time until we will have a cotton plant that is considerably more tolerant to cold weather than anything we are currently growing on the High Plains."

REVIEW INSURANCE PROGRAM

A regular review of an individual's insurance program is a wise move. Personal insurance, such as life, health and accident, as well as property insurance should be reviewed annually or each time family obligations change or property changes occur. Houses, for instance, have increased 30 per cent in average value in Texas during the past five years, yet less than a quarter of the residents have increased their insurance coverage. Also, with changes in financial positions, certain types of insurance may be needed.

FOUR DIE IN COUNTY RURAL ACCIDENTS
 The Texas Highway patrol investigated 24 accidents on rural highways in Lubbock County during the month of May, 1974, according to Sergeant O. C. Guthrie, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in four persons killed and 19 persons injured. The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first five months of 1974 shows a total of 164 accidents resulting in 13 persons killed and 117 persons injured. Noise is being increasingly recognized as a major factor in the aggravation of numerous "tension" related disorders, report officials of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation. This includes a variety of tension related diseases ranging from stomach ulcers and neuroses to cardiovascular and circulatory diseases.

provide follow-up services on suspected cases. Diabetes was the fifth leading cause of death in Texas in 1972 and second cause of blindness. Therefore, the value of screening can be clearly shown, since early detection plays an important role in the future of diabetes victims. Screening services are channeled to those at high risk of getting the disease. Experience has shown those at high risk to be close blood relatives of diabetes victims, those persons more than 45 years of age, the obese and the parents of a nine-pound-plus baby when the parents reach age 45. In diabetes screening, a blood sample is taken and deposited in a vial which contains a preservative to protect the blood sugar. The sample then is sent to a Health Department laboratory for analysis. If blood sugar exceeds a certain level, the individual is re-checked with a follow-up examination. Screening services are provided for other diseases by other divisions of the State Health Department. Among these are the PKU program for newborn; dental and medical screening through the Title XIX programs for children on the Welfare Department's Aid to Families of Dependent Children roles; hearing, sight and dental screening in the school system; screening of females for cancer; tuberculosis testing; and screening for venereal disease. Screening goes hand in hand with prevention. It is difficult to measure the effects of preventive medicine, and this difficulty adds to the lack of understanding in expanding its role. Preventive services may be classed as primary — averting the occurrence of the disease; secondary — prevention controlling progression of a disease from its early stage to a more severe stage; and tertiary — prevention which involves rehabilitation, as in the case of a stroke victim. Providers of preventive medical services include such major groups as doctors, dentists, veterinarians and other professionals. One of the easiest preventive services to recognize is in the field of immunization. A look at the State Health Department's morbidity reports emphasizes the drop in such diseases as diphtheria, measles, rubella, polio, pertussis — diseases which in the past came to be expected as natural risks. Last year, for the first time, not a single case of paralytic polio was reported in Texas. Compulsory immunization of school children, plus emphasis on pre-schoolers, helped produce this record. There has been another change in the health field in the direction of prevention. This is in the field of epidemiology. To the layman, an epidemiologist can best be described as a disease detective. Major concerns of epidemiology are discovery of factors essential to or contributing to disease occurrence, and developments of methods for disease prevention. Historically, epidemiology had its birth in relation to the study of the great epidemic diseases such as cholera, plague, smallpox, yellow fever and typhus. Until the 20th Century, these epidemic diseases were the most important threat to human life and health. The so-called new epidemiology has extended the concept of public health control to encompass all causes of illness, disability and death. The Health Department's Divisions of Occupational Health and Radiation Control are, in a large sense, practicing preventive medicine by finding and eliminating circumstances which effect the health of workers in Texas. so it is that the State Health Department, through its many different offices, is taking the lead in helping prevent disease and disability in Texas.

The Slaton Care Center is looking for volunteers to form an auxiliary. Contact Madeline Keith, Social Activity Director if interested. 828-6268

PRaise THE Lord

By LENDA WOOD

Much has been said during the last few years regarding demons. I heard two different well-known evangelists on TV recently who made the same statement regarding persons who were demon possessed.

The demon-possessed man they spoke of was Legion, in Luke 8:26-39. A legion is 6,000, so he may have been possessed by that many or more demons. He was naked, insane, violent, didn't live in a house but among the tombs. Filth is also associated with this occasion, because when Jesus commanded the demons to leave, they asked to enter swine rather than go to the "deep" (the bottomless pit). Swine were unclean animals, and back in the Old Testament they were a forbidden food.

Now, could it be that today that some of these dirty unkept people that you see every now and then, are made to be this way because of demons? And the streakers of today — perhaps that's because of demons.

You know, when we talk about the terrible things that are happening today, we usually say, "What on earth possessed him to do such a thing?" Or when you see someone do something that is so unreasonable, you might say, "What's come over him?" (Or what possessed him?)

The only way to get rid of demons, or the hold of Satan himself, is to come to Jesus, the same way as Legion did. And when Jesus commanded the demons to leave, Legion sat at Jesus' feet, fully clothed and in his right mind, completely healed.

Notice that Legion desired to "sit at Jesus' feet", or to learn of Him. How much do we allow ourselves to sit at His feet?

If we as Christians are walking in the spirit, we have the authority to command demons to leave. And they will obey. Mark 16:17, "And these signs shall follow them that believe; In my name shall they cast out devils. . . . Luke 10 tells about the 70 that Jesus sent out to spread the good news, and they returned rejoicing and told Jesus,

"Even the devils are subject unto us through thy name." Jesus told them he had given them power over all the enemy.

Never forget that Satan walks like a lion all over this earth seeking who he may devour. He is the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that works in those who are disobedient to God.

When we as Christians exercise our authority against Satan and his demons, we must remember it's not our power, but the great power of God that works.

A policeman can hold up his hand and stop many automobiles because of the authority vested in him as a policeman. He does not stop the traffic by his own power and strength, but the drivers of the cars obey because they respect his authority.

As Christians, we have authority to cast out demons. But we cannot expect to go out and cast out demons simply by using the phrase "In Jesus' Name" either! We must be walking in the spirit.

Praise the Lord, for his power is great, and his promises are unlimited!

FREEDOM TO WORSHIP

The freedom of worship guaranteed by the constitution is, perhaps, the greatest blessing of this wonderful country in which we live. But accept this as freedom FROM worship? Millions of Americans who will choose to travel, or labor on the Lord's Day in reverential service due to the God of our blessings.

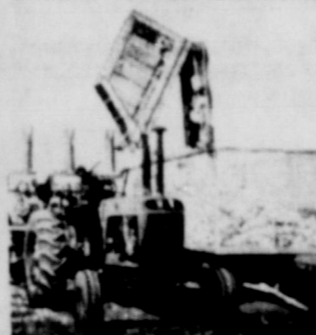

Is it right for us to breathe God's sunshine and rain, eat the produce of His earth, then turn our backs as though we owe Him (Acts 17:24-27)? It is the sincere prayer of the meeting at 11th and Division that you worship God on Sunday. You will find a sign at all of our services:
