

Slaton's Outstanding Athletes Honored At Banquet

By DALTON WOOD

Practically every Slaton athlete who moved a muscle this school year was recognized last Friday night at the Tiger Club's annual all-sports banquet, and several were singled out for exceptional performances in their particular fields.

Appropriately, the 1974 state Class AA championship girls basketball team, the Slaton Tigerettes, came in for a large portion of the laurels at the annual event. Also, special awards were presented to the outstanding boys basketball player, Phil Whaley, and to the outstanding football player of last season, Greg Sokora.

The Fighting Tiger award, sponsored annually by the Slatonite, was presented to Joe Alspaugh, defensive back for last year's Tiger football team who was determined by the Slatonite officials and by his coaches as being one player who gave outstanding effort in every situation. The senior player is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Alspaugh.

Sokora, who recently signed a letter of intent to play football for Texas A&M, was easily the outstanding player of the football season, one who played excellent football both on offense and defense. According to some local observers, he is the first Slaton High School football player ever to sign with a Southwest Conference team.

Sokora was all-district and all-South Plains, as was Whaley in basketball.

Freshmen athletes served the meal, and Bill Ball was master of ceremonies. Tiger Club President Pete Williams presented next year's officers, Curtis Aycock, president, Mrs. Aycock as secretary-treasurer and Skip Tumlinson as vice president.

Athletic Director Bill Curry recognized the varsity football team, noting that Bobby Breedlove, Dwayne Mosser and Alspaugh also received all-star honors.

Curry also presented the tennis team, observing that Kathy Eblen is defending district girls singles champion, and Curry recognized varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders and Mrs. Auden Nowell as cheerleaders' sponsor.

Coach Gay Benson, after first introducing the freshman and junior varsity girls teams, presented the Tigerettes, observing that all six of the starters were all-district, that Jan Davis, Kay Stephens and Rosemary Scott were on the all-state tournament team, and that Miss Stephens would represent the school in the coaches all-star game in Brownwood this summer.

The Tigerette team leaders then took over briefly to hand out some awards of their own. Top fan awards voted by the girls went to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chappell, Mr. and Mrs. J. Martin Basinger, bus driver Carl Lewis and John (Lizard) Wright.

Also in girls basketball, the free throw award went to Jan Davis, best sport award (voted by the girls) to Lu Anne Fondy and Doris Meurer.

Top athletes scholastically were Kay Stephens and Dwayne Mosser.

Coach Jim Bales presented the boys basketball team, recognizing Whaley and Billy Ray Thomas as all-district. Coach Jacky Stewart introduced the junior varsity boys basketball and golf team, boys and girls. Coach Weldon (Doc) Mize presented the track teams, complete with nicknames.

Between 9:30 and 10 p.m., featured speaker Bob Wright, a former football coach who now is a recruiter for Texas A&M, was introduced. Wright told the group that in order to be successful in athletics or in life, one must believe in (1) himself, (2) in God — "I don't think anyone can be happy in these times without a belief in God" — and (3) in the constitution of the United States and what it stands for.

Lions Queen Contest Set For Saturday

Slaton Lions Club will have its annual Queen Contest at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the high school auditorium, when some 36 candidates will compete for the crown.

The current queen, Rhonda Moseley, will crown the winner after all contestants appear on stage. Master of ceremonies will be Coy Biggs.

Juanell Wood, Lions Club Sweetheart, will play special music on piano. Decorations are by Pauline's Flowers, and queen's counselors are Mrs. Steve Smith, Mrs. Jimmy Sikes and Mrs. Dubbin England. Contest Chairmen are J. E. Eckert III, Jimmy Sikes and Dubbin England.

"We hope everyone in the community will come out to see these young ladies," said Bob Mohon, president of the club.

Admission to the program is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students.

Contract Let For Tennis Court Work In Park Here

A contract calling for resurfacing of the four tennis courts in Slaton City-Country park, plus the construction of one more court, was awarded to a Lubbock contractor this week by the County Commissioners Court.

Knox, Gailey and Meador of Lubbock was the firm bidding lowest on the job, and was awarded the contract for $22,419. The bid included $17,100 for renovation of the four existing courts, with the alternate bid of $5,319 for another concrete surface court to be built just east of the existing ones.

County Commissioner Max Arrants said there were five bids on the project. Arrants pointed out that the work on the courts, which he said should start as soon as the high school team is finished with them this school year, would leave some work still to be done on the complex. Specifically, he said there was not enough money available to put in any new fencing.

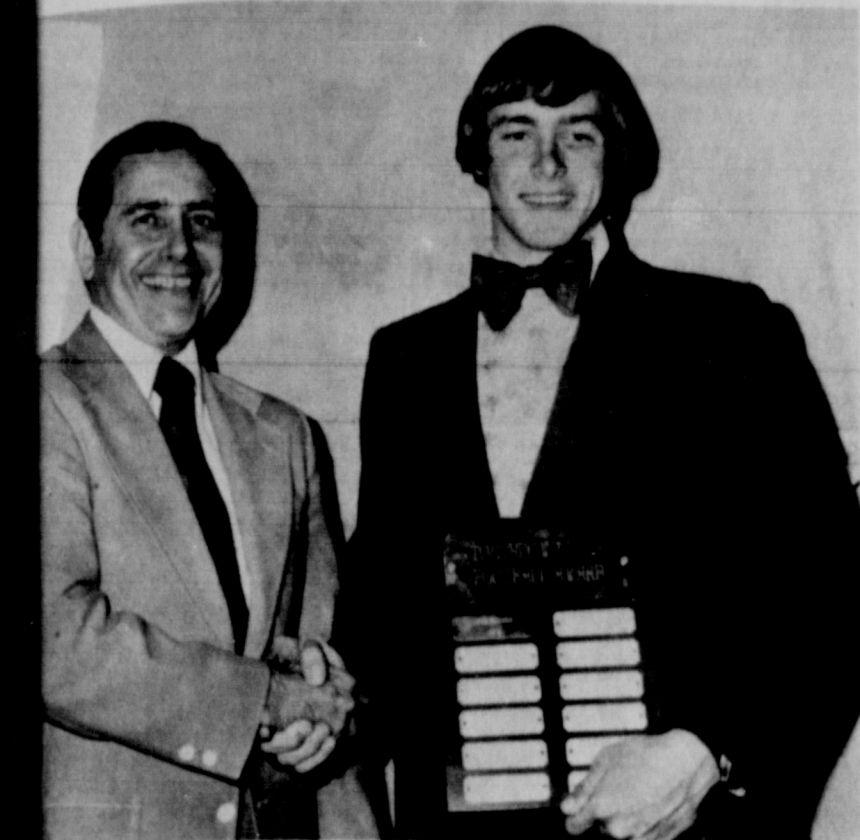

While this statement apparently could mean that Slaton would have five newly-surfaced courts and one of them would have no backstops at all to go with the dilapidated ones now standing on the other four, Arrants expressed hope that some of Slaton's civic clubs and other organizations would take the fencing on as a project. Cost of fencing around five courts has not been estimated, since the county did not get bids on this, but some of the tennis players in the area are urging that the fencing go all the way around, with openings designed to discourage bicycle riders and other non-tennis activities on the courts.

Commissioner Arrants indicated that new concrete surfacing would be poured on top of the existing surfaces, building up the level of the courts by about four inches. He said the concrete would be extended to within about a foot of the existing backstops.

TRANSFER DEADLINE SET FOR MAY 1

Deadline requesting transfer for students who live outside Slaton school district and wishing to attend Slaton schools is May 1.

Deadline prior to this year for transfer students has been June 1.

WRIGHTS — Bob Wright, left, Texas A&M recruiter who was principal speaker at annual all-sports banquet Friday, shakes hands with Greg Sokora, who has signed a letter of intent to attend A&M. Man Shot By Officer

LONG ago I had occasion to get on the track at the high school. Now I wasn't you understand; I was just walking toward a reviewing stand that had been set up. As I gazed down the track my eye followed it on around the back to where I was, I asked one of the school administrators who is supposed to know all sorts of things, if this track was longer than 440 yards.

He assured me it has been measured to the exact 440 yards. Contemplating the task of running around that oval, I was convinced that 440 yards is a whole heck a lot further than it was when I was in high school. And I begin to have a great respect for the youngsters who run it in 50 or even 60 seconds. I couldn't make it around that track if Godzilla were after me.

It is interesting that a lot of people my age and older are running or jogging regularly, about a mile every day and all that sort of thing to keep in good physical condition. And I think, even if I don't want to join them, I like to take some exercise, but running is not for me. The fastest man I know is Dick Hartman, who runs from a standing position 20 feet from the starting line to first place in the 100 yard race from the time the Lions Club says "A" to when he says "men", a word (amen). If he could maintain that pace for 100 yards, he'd make Jesse Gelsinger look like a tortoise.

The April issue of Reader's Digest has an article by author Vance Packard which says that we may be on the way to a nation of illiterates. Figures from the National Achievement Tests (SAT) taken by more than a million high school seniors show that average scores have been declining at a seven per cent decline in 10 years.

An extensive study of writing ability is being conducted, and first samplings of about 100 Americans showed that by age 13, the best of students could handle the demands of writing. By age 17, only one out of five could "put together simple ideas and express simple ideas in general, in a clear language."

There are still some of us around, though, who are a little better than most.

... HANDLE St. Peon says the most important thing to do until the doctor comes is to rest and borrow some money.

A 22-year-old Slaton man was shot through the neck by a Slaton patrolman after the man allegedly attempted to slash the officer with a knife and then refused to halt upon the officer's command.

Johnny Maldonado, 22, was listed in satisfactory condition Wednesday at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, where he was taken after the incident Saturday night. He also was charged this week in the district attorney's office with aggravated assault on a police officer. The charges were filed by the sheriff's office, after county officers were asked by Slaton Police Dept. to take over the investigation of the entire incident.

Maldonado was shot by Patrolman Rickey Majors, who fired one shot from his .38 caliber pistol.

"As far as I can determine, the officer was completely justified in taking the action he took," said Police Chief Fred Clark. Clark showed a Slatonite newsman a shirt which he said Majors was wearing, and pointed out two slashes in the shirt. Majors was not injured, however.

Majors' report, attested by other officers at the scene of the incident, showed that the patrolman was part of a team of several officers who answered a call to 1225 S. 6th St. where a fight involving knives reportedly was in progress at 11:54 p.m. Saturday. The report said Majors saw several people running from the house at that address when the officers arrived. "I viewed two subjects running toward Car No. 1 driven by Patrolman (Roger) Cooper," who grabbed one of them. The other man then ran around the east side of the police car, where Majors stepped in front of him and called on him to halt. The man reportedly then swung at Majors, slashing his shirt. Majors said the man then ran away, was pursued by the officer, then turned and slashed again, then put his hand into his pocket and ran again. Majors said he called again for him to halt, and when the man turned and went to his pocket again, Majors shot him.

Majors turned his weapon over to Sgt. Jerry Edwards at the scene, and a knife was taken from the wounded man. An ambulance was called, and Majors assisted putting the man into the ambulance.

Sewer Extensions Here Considered By City

City commissioners discussed extensions of sewer lines in a couple of areas of the city, talked about putting water bills on a computer setup, and heard questions of two visitors regarding a proposed park in Ward 4 in the regular semi-monthly meeting of the group in city hall Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Eula Clemons and Homer Brown, residents of Ward 4, posed questions regarding the proposed city-county park in that area, for which the county recently purchased some property. They were assured by Mayor John Landreth and the commissioners that the park is to be a public park for use by all citizens.

Possible extension of sewer lines to serve seven were the other main items investigated by officers here during the week.

Barry Wicker, 615 S. 15th, reported the windshield of his 1964 car broken by a cue ball early Sunday morning. And John Thornbury of Bryant Farm Supply reported a window on the north side of the building was broken by a rock Monday. Replacement cost was set at $54.68.

Also on Monday, Jessie Palacios, 855 S. 4th, reported his home had been burglarized and that a television set and portable radio were missing.

A wreck at 4th and Lynn Saturday involved a 1974 vehicle driven by Carlos Trevino, 500 E. Crosby, and a 1971 car driven by Felix Flores, 255 S. 3rd., with damage estimated at $50 to each vehicle.

homes in the vicinity of Geneva and Flint streets was discussed, with commissioners in apparent agreement that the project is needed. However, no action could be taken on the matter, since it was not listed on the agenda. They also talked about sewer line needs around 13th and Dayton and on the extreme western edge of the city along FM 41.

Highway Patrolman Jim Dulin appeared to express appreciation to the city for its support of him and his family and for the Department of Public Safety in the seven years Dulin has been with the THP here. Dulin revealed that he is resigning, and commented that "it's one of the hardest things I've ever done." He plans to devote full time to farming.

City Secretary Alex Webb told the commission about the possibility of savings which might be effected by putting the city water bills on a computer basis, after having talked with officials of a Plainview firm which computerizes water billing for Plainview, Lockney and Spearman.

JIM DULIN RESIGNING FROM HIGHWAY PATROL

Jim Dulin of Slaton, Texas Highway Patrolman for the last seven years, has resigned from the Department of Public Safety to devote full time to farming in the Slaton community. His resignation will be effective April 15.

Dulin, his wife, Gloria, and three children, will continue to live in the community.

FOOT NOTES

This great weather is just what the doctor ordered for our Spring Fever. It sure makes you want to get out the garden tools and seeds and go to work. According to a national report, more people in the United States are planning to have backyard gardens than ever before. (A few years back when everyone had a garden, there just weren't this many people around.) But there are few things that are so satisfying, as to go to your own (personally tilled) garden and get an armload of good groceries. One other thing is nearly as good, and that is having enough to share with some friends or neighbors.

Since I planted a few tomato and pepper plants early this week, I was informed by two "experts" in the field, that one should never plant the garden until after Easter. It seems we usually have a good freeze about that time. Well, they didn't tell me that last week, and right now I don't feel like digging everything up. So, I just won't finish my garden until after Easter! How's that?

Speaking of nice weather brought in our Civil Defense director and fire chief, Don Kendrick. He reminded us that with the nice weather comes the tornado season, and we need to review the tornado signals for Slaton. The regular fire signal is four siren blasts, lasting only about 20 seconds. The tornado warning is the same signal, lasting from 3 to 5 minutes. And, the signal will only be given when a tornado has been sighted and is a TAKE COVER signal.

Civil Defense and fire department volunteers, along with the police department, always keep a watch in bad weather, and the signal will only be given when it seems that Slaton is in danger.

We would like to remind you once again that the Volunteer services still needs volunteers to help out at the rest home, hospital, phone service or taxi for someone who doesn't drive. Call the Chamber of Commerce office, 828-6238, if you have a spare hour or two to volunteer.

Saturday night is the annual Lion's Queen Contest at the high school. Everyone is invited to come out and see the 36 girls as they appear on stage.

Sunday afternoon is the time for something new for the Girl Scouts as they present a fashion show and program in the Club House. Everyone is also invited to attend this event.

Niemeier-Bates Nuptials Are Repeated In Methodist Church

Diana Lynn Bates of Slaton became the bride of Terry Robert Niemeier, Saturday, March 23, at 3 p.m. in First United Methodist Church in Slaton. The Rev. Henry Chisolm, minister of First Presbyterian Church, Slaton, performed the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hill, Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Niemeier of Pampa.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Victorian dress of ecru embroidered Maderia cut-work, patterned in a floral design. The high Victorian neckline was edged in a double row of Cluney lace edging. The near natural waisline was sashed in a wide cummerbund of matching ecru satin with long streamers down the back. The long hemline repeated the lace edging.

She wore a matching picture hat of Cluney lace with a satin band and streamers. She carried a white Bible and nosegay of iris and baby's breath.

Barbara Pitts of Lubbock served her sister as matron of honor. She wore a gown of lilac dotted voile. The picture-frame neckline and short bell sleeves complimented the hi-rise waisline that was sashed in white velvet ribbon. She wore lilacs in her hair, and carried a long stemmed white-carnation with lilac bow.

J. E. Eckert III, of Slaton, served as best man. Ushers included Steve and Randy Hill of Lubbock, both brothers of the bride.

Mary Ann Bridges of Lubbock was organist, and Dee Bowman, minister of Auburn Street Church of Christ, Lubbock, was soloist.

A reception in Fellowship Hall of the church followed the ceremony.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will make their home south of Slaton.

Slaton Will Host School Tennis Tournament Today

Players from four area schools will compete with Slaton tennis players today in a one-day invitational tournament.

Coches Bill Curry said players from Tahoka, Post, Roosevelt and Petersburg would be on hand for the action scheduled to start at 9 a.m. In early-round matches, a 4-point scoring system will be used to speed up play, since Slaton has just four courts.

Medals for the tournament winners were donated by Slaton Lions Club.

The tournament will be a tuneup for district action for the 5-AA teams. The district tournament will be at Denver City next Thursday.

Eight members of Slaton's tennis team competed against players from Forsan in Big Spring last Saturday, winning nine matches to seven for Forsan.

The patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit. (Ecclesiastes 7:8)

Peggy, a young friend of mine, and her husband are living with his parents until they can find a place of their own. She invited me over for lunch, and after we had eaten, she washed dishes while I dried them.

As she started to empty the pan of dishwasher, I said, "You've forgotten those two cups and saucers." Peggy continued to empty the dishwasher and said, "No, I didn't. She (meaning her mother-in-law) doesn't wash my dishes so I don't wash hers."

In explaining, Peggy said "One morning I only had two cereal bowls soiled. She washed all her dishes and left those two bowls. So now I don't wash any of her dishes. I do feel sort of funny about it — but I've got my pride, too!"

Too many times we let our pride stand in the way. It takes just a moment to ask forgiveness or ask for an explanation in friendly spirit. Instead, we hang on to foolish, vain pride, and a little argument starts building a fence that becomes an unscalable wall.

Prayer: O Lord, we know that if we let it, pride can destroy love, communication, our joy of living. Keep pride out of our hearts so that we may have room for love. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Thought for the day: Forgive and forget for God's sake.

DON'T WORRY

"Be not therefore anxious for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient is the evil thereof." (Matt. 6:34) Worry over the affairs of life display not only a lack of trust in God, but an ignorance of the detriments of worry on both body, mind and soul, promised that all the material necessities of assured if we faithfully put God's church righteousness first (Matt. 6:33). When we let our endanger our material equilibrium, jeopardizing our spiritual existence.

We often can be reprimanded justly in Christ "O ye of little faith." May God help us so that he is ever concerned with our problems will effectively take care of them, if we will faith in him and devotedly walk in his path, no place in the faithful Christian's life.

Indoor Plants Need Cleaning

COLLEGE STATION

Without Mother Nature's cleansing rainfall, indoor plants need help to keep their leaves dust-free, one authority points out.

"To keep houseplants looking their best, carefully clean them once or twice a month," advises Dr. William C. Welch.

The landscape horticulturist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, noted that a wet sponge or soft cloth -- rinsed frequently in clean water -- offers a dependable method for cleaning smooth-leaved plants.

"If leaves are extremely soiled, use a solution of mild soap and water."

"Those with many small leaves may require a gentle water-spray outdoors -- with plenty of water."

"Either way, water should be at or near room temperature -- cold water can cause leaf blemishes," he explained.

Water the plant thoroughly several hours before application of a commercial leaf polish to avoid possible damage, Welch emphasized.

FLAME RETARDANCY OF COTTON, WOOL BLENDS

In research on flame retardancy of cotton, wool and blends, an unexpected contribution to polyester dyeability has surfaced. Polyester, as is well-known, must be dyed at high temperature under pressure or in the presence of solvents called "carriers."

The process for flame-proofing polyester in blends renders the treated polyester dyeable at atmospheric pressure. This simplifies the union and cross-dyeing of cotton/polyester or wool/polyester blends and furthermore introduces economies.

Other investigations involve the chemical finishing of cotton, wool and mohair. TRC's easy care and durable press finishes have yielded cotton/wool fabric with higher flex abrasion resistance than the untreated material. The treated fabrics are harsher in feel, however. Future work will be directed toward softer goods.

Laboratory processing has produced, by mixing pretreated and untreated wool blends which are capable of require special attention, the specialist added. "To avoid bruising them, use a camel hair brush to carefully dust leaves."

being dyed two colors, or colors of the same hue on different levels in one dye-bath. Similar results have been possible with blends of untreated and pretreated cotton.

The studies are being sponsored by the Natural Fibers and Food Protein Committee of Texas.

A Message to the High School and College Age Students of Slaton. . . (and those who love them) From the President of West Texas State University

You are standing on the threshold . . . perhaps the threshold of greatness, but at least on the threshold of what can be a rewarding career. West Texas State University is also on the threshold . . . we think it is the threshold of greatness.

There is a new excitement on our campus. Everyone associated with the University tells me they feel it, students, faculty, alumni and our many boosters throughout the Panhandle.

The excitement started ten years ago when we achieved University status. We began getting many new facilities including a new library, science building, research center, classroom and administration buildings and a new Student Activities Center which is second to none in the United States. We have new programs of a dozen different kinds . . . even one for horsemanship.

Much of the money for these programs and facilities has come from individual citizens, companies and foundations. These benefactors say, in effect, that our area should be the site of a significant university . . . a university with facilities and programs which attract outstanding faculty and students from all over the nation, even the world.

WTSU is growing but it is not so big but that our teachers can take a personal interest in each student and relate to him as the individual he is. Though we have a higher percentage of Ph.D.'s on our faculty than most universities, (over 50% . . .) our classes average fewer students than most, (under 20).

Our students are very much a part of making things happen at WTSU. They are interested, involved and excited. Their learning experience is bigger than the classroom . . . it is as big as life itself.

Tell us which of these areas of study interests you and we will tell you more about that program at WTSU. Clip this coupon and mail it to me personally. I'll see that you get the whole exciting story without obligating you in any way.

Lloyd D. Watkins

Dr. Lloyd Watkins, President

P.S. Don't let financial considerations keep you from exploring the idea of coming to WTSU this summer or fall. Scholarships and other financial assistance are readily available.

TRC'S VISITORS ON INCREASE

The November, 1973 (Vol. 11, No. 3) issue of Textile Topics made mention of the number of persons visiting the Textile Research Center during 1973. Since the Daiwa Spinning Company, Ltd. announced that their new Levelland plant will begin operation with 50 Toyoda open-end machines, there has been an increase in the number of visitors at TRC. Most of the interest has centered on their open-end spinning facilities.

The Center welcomes visitors at any time, and those wishing to see the research operation should schedule their visit between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Arrangements for tour groups can be made with Joseph E. Simmons, TRC's Information Specialist.

New Post Office Due In Wilson

A new Post Office is slated for Wilson, according to C. B. Bolan, manager of the Oklahoma City Postal District.

Bolan said under the "open bidding plan" used by the Postal Service for this type construction, prospective bidders are invited to offer a site location in or adjacent to the business area. In their bidding package bidders may offer existing space, space to be modified or facilities to be constructed.

"In other words, the bidder must offer a site and a building as his total package," said Jim Coleman, Wilson Postmaster.

Bids are to be opened on April 17. The bidding official is Richard L. Heiligman, real estate specialist, Oklahoma City Postal District, Suite 17, 4545 Lincoln Blvd., Oklahoma City, Ok. 73105.

The Post Office is to be leased for a basic period of ten years, with options on 20 additional years.

Bidding packages may be obtained by sending $5 to Heiligman.

Gladney Home Still Busy

FORT WORTH — What effect has legalized abortion had on one of the nation's oldest and largest maternity homes and adoption agencies?

Mrs. Ruby Lee Piester, executive director of The Edna Gladney Home, here, told the press on the first anniversary of the Supreme Court's decision to legalize abortion that the effect had been minimal.

"A year ago we did not know what to expect as a result of the decision, and it was just a matter of wait and see," she said.

Many maternity homes and adoption agencies throughout the nation either closed their doors or moved into other work areas, but the board of The Edna Gladney Home was convinced that the need for the Home's services would continue to exist.

The first anniversary of the legalization of abortion fell in the same week Gladney was observing the seventieth anniversary of its state charter.

Mrs. Piester in the 11 years she has served as executive director of the Home has worked with thousands of unwed mothers, and knew instinctively that where one might choose abortion, there would be dozens who would never consider it.

It was this background that prompted Gladney to expand both its services and facilities to meet a need that was sure to continue. The closing of many homes resulted in an even heavier load for Gladney. With present facilities, the Home can comfortably accommodate 100 residents, but in the past year the number has often increased above that.

"We have always believed that the strong point in our services is to help the unwed mothers find an alternative they can live with now and in the future," the executive director of Gladney emphasized.

"The public often does not understand the plight of the unwed mother until there is a direct involvement with the problem. Many of the girls who come here are from homes where unwed pregnancy is never considered until it happens. It is our responsibility at Gladney to help these girls return to normal lives, and to find good homes for their infants if they choose to place them for adoption," she added.

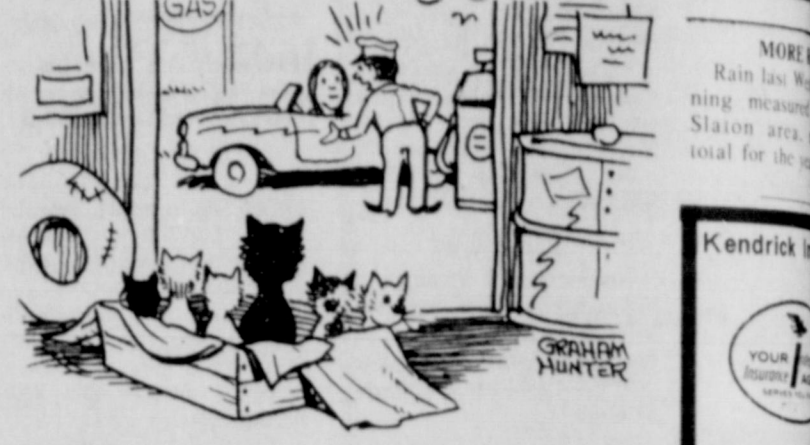

With new restrictions on child placing resulting from new laws, especially the part that became effective on Jan. 1, 1974, Gladney has received an increase of referrals from attorneys and doctors.

The Edna Gladney Home, originally the Texas Children's Home and Aid Society, received its State Charter in 1904. Since the inception of the licensing laws, Gladney has been licensed for child placing by the State Department of Public Welfare, and maternity and hospital care by the State Department of Public Health.

During the stay at Gladney, girls have the counsel of caseworkers, a chaplain, a psychologist and a psychiatrist.

Housing Authority Training Sessions Set

The Housing Division of the Texas Department of Community Affairs at Austin, has organized a training program for small housing authorities throughout Texas to provide executive directors with information in management, maintenance and daily operation of their authorities.

A management training workshop was held Tuesday at the Housing Authority of the City of Slaton at 420 East Powers.

This session was the first of three to be held in this area. Helmut E. Stromquist, executive director of the Housing Authority of the City of Brady, presented information on the internal operations of local housing authorities. Stromquist, serving as a resource person, answered questions ranging from financing housing authorities to working with the board of commissioners.

Angie Martinez, training coordinator, was present. Mrs. Martinez, working in cooperation with Gladys Blair of Slaton's Housing Authority, has agreed to offer the technical assistance of the governor's office in Austin to provide consultants and training materials for executive directors whom Mrs. Blair has invited to training sessions in Slaton.

Others present for this meeting included W. E. Miller, Cole Walker of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Sexton Huntley, Post, and Mrs. Evelyn Joplin of Lubbock.

Mrs. Blair, coordinator of Area 1, and the Texas Department of Community Affairs invite and urge all the executive directors of public housing in this area to attend the second training session on April 23, in Slaton.

School Contracts Are Renewed

The West Texas State Board of Education accepted effective contracts for the next year with three independent trustees met for next year.

Mary Rowland, Dorothy Myers and Connie Reynolds, all elementary personnel, and for high school teachers Larry Gaines, Gloria Price and Eya Mitts.

Resignations of Mrs. Glenna Martin, Mrs. Nelva Hardin and Don McDonald were accepted.

The board set an equalization board meeting date of May 22, voted to move the sixth grade into junior high next year and approved textbooks and band budget.

Supt. Gary Gardner and the board announced that anyone desiring to transfer into the school district who has not previously transferred, should contact the administrative offices immediately, as should parents of current transferees who have not received a transfer application.

Principals Travis Gilliland and Ted Dockery and Band Director James Satterwhite also were present. Board members attending were Roy L. Kahlich, James L. Savell, Curtis Wilke, Alvin E. Kitten, Thomas Autry, Loyd R. McCormick and Tommy Bednarz.

Ornamentals Need Pruning

Now is the time to inspect woody ornamentals for needed pruning, says Alan J. Fires, county extension agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Prune only if you can justify removing a limb or branch. Don't prune just because it's the correct season and you need some exercise.

Diseased or insect-injured wood, dead wood and storm or accident-damaged wood should be removed as soon as possible. Older shrubs can be rejuvenated by removing the older branches

Rosemary Gonzales Teaching In Mexico

Rosemary Gonzales, senior secondary education major and daughter of Amalia Garcia, 755 S. 5th St., Slaton, is one of the 17 students from the College of Education of Texas Tech University who is spending two weeks in Durango, Mexico.

The students left Lubbock March 16 to visit cultural events and historical and archaeological sites and participate in Mexican schools as teachers' aides.

The 17 are participants in "Project Durango," a new concept in preparation for their careers as educators.

COTTON FIBER TESTING REACHES PEAK

TRC's Physical Measurements Laboratory, under the supervision of Reva Whitt, has now passed the midpoint in this year's cotton fiber testing program. In analyses for the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the laboratory has completed 17,000 strength tests and 8,000 elongation measurements on samples received from USDA classing offices in the Lubbock area. Additionally, more than 4,000 length and fineness tests have been conducted in a cooperative study with Texas A&M University.

at the base. Pruning can also help develop a desired shape or size as well as aid in producing better flowers and fruit.

When setting out new plants, pruning can help balance the top with the root system, continues the agent.

Severe pruning should be avoided if possible. It is better to prune lightly and more often to prevent sunscald to the sensitive inner branches.

Never leave stubs that invite insects and disease. Be sure to paint all cuts over three-quarters of an inch in diameter with a wound dressing. Wound dressings can be obtained from any nursery or garden center. Common orange shellac makes a good temporary dressing when a regular dressing is not available.

Plants that bloom in early spring with the appearance of new leaves should be pruned after they flower while those blooming later should be pruned during dormancy.

More detailed information on pruning can be obtained from the county extension office.

Soon afterward he received a preaching license with the Arkansas District Council of the Assemblies of God and engaged in evangelistic work. In 1961 he entered Arkansas Polytechnic College and completed three years there. He took his final year at Texas Tech.

This 30-year-old evangelist and his wife are doing work in evangelism across America and are musically talented. His sermon notes are mostly in shorthand braille.

Our Sincere Thanks

To all Premium Buyers, Jackpot Donors and Livestock Buyers who set floor prices for making our 9th annual Garza County Junior Livestock Sale the most rewarding ever dollarwise for the young winners.

The $18,325 in premiums paid on the 78 animals which were sold in the auction ring is an all-time record for the Garza Show and was over twice as much as paid in premiums last year. It is your support which continues to make the Garza show and sale grow steadily from year to year.

Overall, it is estimated somewhere between $33,000 and $35,000 was paid in premiums and floor prices for all the animals in the show which were sold. This too is a new record we are all proud of achieving.

Our thanks too to Mack Terry, Jimmy Bartlett, Basil Puckett, Russell Wilks, Jr., and Harold Cass for delivering the steers, lambs, and barrows to the livestock buyers who set the floor prices.

Our thanks as well to Kenneth Gregg of Hale County who did such a great job Saturday afternoon as our auctioneer.

West Texas State Advantages Named

For an institution approaching its 75th anniversary, West Texas State University looks mighty new these days.

This spring, WTSU opened a $3 million library, capable of housing a million volumes, and a three-story University Science Center, constructed at the same cost.

West Texas State's six schools — the School of Agriculture, the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Business, the College of Education, the School of Fine Arts and the Graduate School — offer a total of 16 different bachelor's and master's degrees with over a hundred majors and areas of emphasis.

Five new degree programs and courses in social work and criminal justice administration have appeared. Latin has reappeared, and horsemanship is now offered for either physical education or agriculture credit.

There are 61 organizations on the WTSU campus, from fraternities and sororities to societies for special interests, to provide for those hours not spent in classes. The hub of the cultural and social scene at WTSU is the Activities Center, complex bowling alleys, pool tables, handball and paddleball courts, a weight training room, four basketball courts, an Olympic-size swimming pool, and rooms for reading, music and films.

Students arriving at WTSU now can take advantage of a remarkable growth program of the past five years, which added eight new buildings and a 2,400 acre ranch to the university's facilities.

The unique spirit of WTSU is also captured in its efforts to help students with the financial aspects of attending college. In addition to the conventional loan, scholarship and student employment programs, WTSU has the special Opportunity for non-professional which offers financial counseling and time job opportunities.
