Rain At Last! Slaton Gets Wet

Rain, Sweet Rain!

(Staff drawing by David Leake)

Monday was a rare and beautiful rainy day in Slaton, with more than an inch of rain measured in and around the city, the biggest rainfall this year.

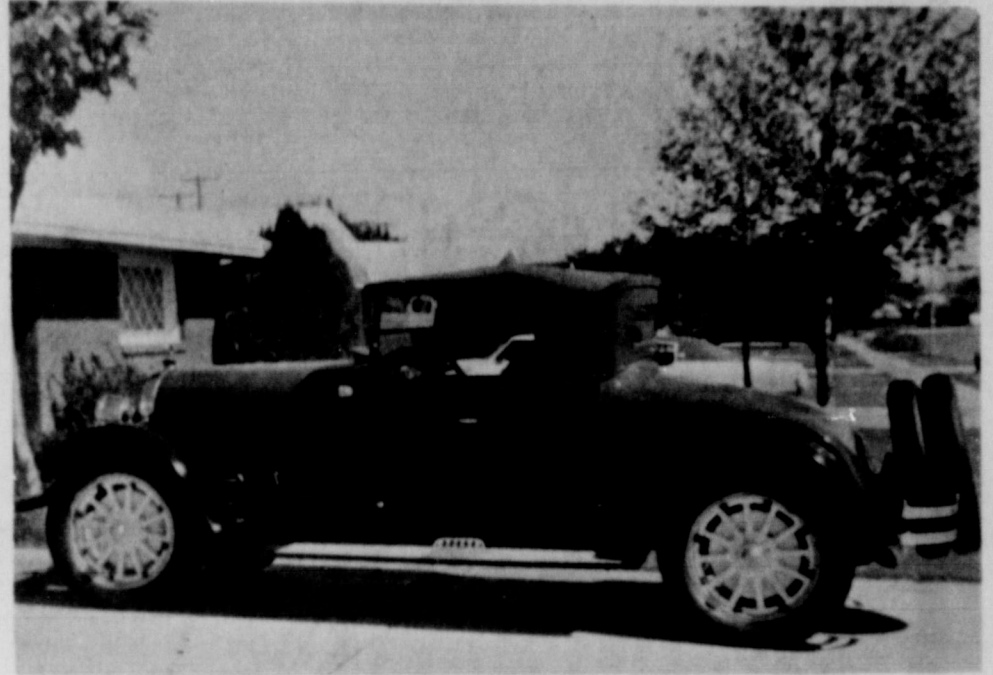

The rain brought big smiles to farmers and merchants in the area, although there were spots south and west of the city where the total was very small, about .20 of an inch. In other places, the rainfall was gauged up to 1.25, with totals about that high in the city, north and northwest of the town, and southeast.

The rain provided some much-needed relief from parched conditions throughout the area, where farmers already had lost any chance to grow dryland cotton, and have been irrigating heavily the crop where water was available.

The rain began in the early morning hours Monday and continued through mid-afternoon in Slaton. The rainfall in town, along with .20 which fell earlier, brought the year's total for Slaton to 4.78, still far short of anything which could be considered either wet or average.

BELONGED TO ACTRESS — This 1923 Cadillac once belonged to silent screen actress Ann Christie. Now the property of Paul Bush of Lubbock, it will be among a group of antique cars to be shown in Slaton Friday.

Antique Cars To Roll Into Town Friday

Slaton area residents can spend Friday downtown taking in a lot of old cars which cost a bunch and taking home a lot of new merchandise which costs very little.

Fifty to 75 antique autos ranging from a 1906 model to a 1947 12-cylinder car will arrive in town about 1 p.m. and then will be on display around the square for a couple of hours. As the cars arrive around 1 p.m., they will be described as they pass the intersection of 9th and Garza. A sound truck will be located on the northwest corner of the square to tell something about each vehicle as it passes.

Throughout the day, a number of participating Slaton merchants will have items of all kinds out on the sidewalk for a sale featuring items at bargain prices for that day only. The sidewalk sale will go on all day.

Around 3 p.m. or so, there will be a drawing for a color television set and 17 gift certificates of $10 each. There will be 18 different winners in the drawing sponsored by the chamber of commerce. Slaton Boy Scouts are selling tickets for the drawing at $1 each, and will use their share of the proceeds for next year's camp fund. Seventeen different firms in the city are offering $10 gift certificates as supplementary prizes to the main attraction, an 18-inch color TV.

The antique cars will be escorted into town by Slaton Police Dept., arriving from the north on 9th. The drivers will be fed by the chamber in the Reddy Room of Southwestern Public Service Co.

Some of the antique cars are valued as high as $50,000, according to Paul Bush of Lubbock, chairman of this year's Grand Ole Tour of antique cars. The drivers are mostly from West Texas towns.

One of Bush's own cars which he will bring to Slaton will be a 1923 Cadillac rumble seat roadster which once was owned by silent screen movie star Ann Christie, for whom it was custom built at a reported cost of $18,000. In 1925 the 5,500-pound vehicle was transported to Wilbarger County near Vernon when Miss Christie married a wealthy investor and heir to a huge ranch. She burned out the clutch shortly thereafter, and a garageman from whom Bush bought the car in 1969 was sent to retrieve and repair the vehicle. It reportedly stayed in the repairman's garage for 23 years, with the owners being billed annually for the repairs and for storage.

Finally the owners settled the account by mailing the garageman the title.

This car and others with interesting histories will be on display here Friday in the antique car show and sidewalk sale sponsored by the chamber.

"We hope everyone in Slaton and the surrounding communities will come by and see these cars and look over the sidewalk sale items," said Tom Roy, Chamber manager. "We do want to give our visitors a good welcome."

Wrecks, Thefts, Vandalism

Investigated By Police In City

Burglaries, thefts and vandalism headed up the list of activities investigated by Slaton Police Dept. during the last week. And what had at first been reported as a shooting turned out to be something else.

Last week there was a report that a youngster, Robert Smith, 830 S. 8th, had been shot by someone passing by in a car as the boy walked on S. 9th. He was not seriously hurt, and Methodist Hospital authorities later reported that the wound was caused by a rock or other article possibly flung from the tires of a passing vehicle.

Jan Brush of Slaton reported a 1969 car stolen Friday from in front of Slaton Savings and Loan Assn. The car later was recovered.

Ray's Highlander Center, 725 S. 9th, was burglarized, Mrs. Mike Boyd, attendant, reported Saturday. An unknown amount of money was taken from a soft drink machine, soap machine and washing machine.

Last Thursday at 600 S. 9th, Ham's Food Mart parking lot, a 1968 auto driven by Jerry Dean Maharian of Lamesa and a 1971 station wagon driven by Estevan Renden Ruiz, 1225 S. 2nd, collided. Damage was minor.

Dave's Bicycle Shop, 640 S. 9th, was burglarized Saturday. Missing were four lawn mowers and a new 10-speed bike. The mowers were valued at $300.

On Sunday at Miniature Hills Golf Course, 700-block W. Panhandle, a 1968 auto driven by Johnny Joe Leake struck the golf course building three times, and also struck a nearby mailbox. Total damage to the building was estimated at $1,500, with $100 damage to the car and $10 to the mailbox.

Donald Dean Burrow of Irving reported Saturday that while his car was parked at 305 E. Lubbock, someone broke out a door glass valued at $85.

At 3:45 a.m. Wednesday, Beggs Fina Station, U.S. 84 bypass, reported that a man took $200 from a cash register, then ran outside to get into a waiting car which sped off toward Lubbock. Officers had a good description of the car and the man who took the money.

DAYS ordinarily aren't too happy for us, and we face another week with ranging from blah to whoopee, with more people registering undisguised joyous anticipation. But this week in Slaton, there were smiles on Monday it finally rained enough to really say it is nice to know that it can rain here, the phenomenon did frighten small who never had experienced it before. For any dryland crops, the rain is very welcome to farmers who are watering like crazy trying to salvage from their operations. One fellow farmer would help his irrigated crops because the rain water is a lot better than the well water.

EDIBLE as it seems to us, it appears liberals have a good chance to be in getting President Nixon impeached. The Watergate mess has been on forever, it seems, and still the one that has ever come out of it is the one political party spied on another. Despite the Gallop polls, television news, the northern newspapers and all the and fury from anti-Nixon forces, it seems to us that most folks around here are sick of the whole sideshow as they weeks after it first was announced. I was asked us the other day as we watched the television set when all this would be over with. We told her they were voting on impeachment now, but were not sure whether impeachment proceedings were justified, and this should be over in a few weeks, then there would be other things to worry about.

she said, "But what I want to know is when before they'll get it off the TV." Good question.

HANDLE ST. POLLY says she went to a doctor and told him, "Doctor, nobody is kidding me seriously anymore." And the doctor said, "You're kidding!"

Youth Center Open Friday

Junior high school age youngsters were reminded this week that the Steve Bourn Memorial Center is open on Friday evening from 7 to 10 p.m. for skating and Christian fellowship.

The Friday schedule will be observed until school starts, according to Roger Evans, president of the Community Recreation Association which operates the center.

A weekend retreat for the junior high age boys and girls is being planned for Aug. 10-12, Saturday through Monday in the New Mexico mountains. This retreat will be discussed Friday night.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY — Members of the Hospital Auxiliary are shown sorting and tagging items for their rummage sale, which begins today and ends Friday. The sale will also be conducted Aug. 8-9, Lynette Sander, left, and Marie Bednarz, right, are only two of the women involved with the project. Many merchants have donated merchandise for prizes. A drawing will take place four or five times each day for prizes. The rummage sale will be at 108 Texas Ave., in the old Cut and Cure building, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and proceeds will go toward buying new drapes and spreads for the rooms at Mercy. BIRTHDAY — Mrs. Ida Housewright celebrated her 91st birthday Friday. Several friends dropped by throughout the day for cake and punch and a visit with Mrs. Housewright. She has been in this area for 50 years, and is well-known in Slaton. (SLATONITE PHOTO)

District Lions Water Committee Formed

"All we're trying to do is make the general public more aware of the importance of water to the economy of West Texas and to the whole state," Hack Lasater of Slaton said this week in commenting on a new District Lions Club program.

Lasater, governor of District 2-T2, plans this weekend to submit a resolution to a council of governors meeting calling for other Lions Club districts in the state to form water resources committees like one which Lasater has organized in this district.

"We're not trying to paint any picture of gloom and doom, but people need to be more aware of what shape this country could be in within a few years unless we take care of our water problems," he said Tuesday.

Lasater's district includes all the area counties which have been extremely dry this year. He said he hopes other civic groups throughout the state will "pick up on the idea and form their own committees."

Lasater is to present his proposal to the governors at a meeting in Kerrville Friday and Saturday.

John W. Lowery of Lubbock was named chairman (See WATER, Page 10)

Booster Club To Host Party For Coaches

The Slaton Tiger Club is hosting a get acquainted party for Slaton's new head coach, Edward Cook, and his first assistant, Tommy Boyd, and their families.

The party will be Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Clubhouse and homemade ice cream will be served.

The public is invited to the party, and a spokesman for the Boosters said, "We want everyone to come out and meet the coaches and support them as they work for a fine athletic program this year."

Local Families Attend Veterans Reunion

The 27th annual reunion of the Third Armored Division Spearhead Association was held at the Leamington Hotel, Minneapolis, Minn., July 24-27.

Attending from this area were Joe D., Betty, and Vicki Unfred of New Home and Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Brosch of Slaton. Brosch and Unfred were members of the Spearhead Division during World War II.

The Third Armored Division Association, consisting of over 1400 active members is one of the best attended reunions of the World War II veterans' groups. The four day event was climaxed with a banquet Saturday evening with more than 1170 members attending.

The week started with the early bird registration on Wednesday, followed by an Hawaiian luau and an aquatennial torchlight parade, similar to the New Orleans Mardi Gras. Celebrities in the parade included Captain Kangaroo and Hubert Humphrey.

Thursday was taken up with tours of the twin cities, the brewery, Betty Crocker headquarters and Billy Graham's home church and headquarters.

Unfred missed most of the tours because he was elected to the Board of Governors of the organization last year, and this year was elevated to vice president of the South which includes an area from New Mexico to the eastern seaboard to the Virginia area. There are four vice presidents elected to serve the entire continental United States, Alaska and Hawaii.

At the conclusion of the general meeting on Friday morning, the ladies were treated to a Ladies Luncheon featuring a style show of "Fashion Flashbacks."

Gass-Bartley Nuptials Solemnized In Slaton

Frana Jene Gass and Ron Earl Bartley solemnized vows of marriage at 7 p.m. July 27 in the First Baptist Church, Slaton.

The Rev. J.L. Cartrite, pastor, read the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gass, Slaton, and for the son of Carolyn Bartley, Slaton, and Earl Bartley, Amarillo.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white organza fashioned with an overlay of Venise lace and styled with an empire bodice and a square neckline.

The lace formed a cap for the long lantern sleeves and deep cuffs. The dress featured an A-line skirt and a full length mantilla, which was edged in Venise lace. The mantilla fell from a Juliet headpiece and swept to chapel length.

The bride wore an heirloom string of pearls belonging to her grandmother. The pearls have been in the family for 75 years.

She carried a cascade of stephanotis and peach colored baby roses.

Gorla Gass, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Patti Melton and Jana Bartley, sister of the groom.

Attendants wore formal gowns of peach silk accented with peach, apricot and mint flowers. A wide ruffle formed the round neckline and continued over the butterfly sleeves.

Steve Neiman, Hereford, was best man. Groomsmen were Kenny Schutte, Slaton, and Gary Morrison, Abilene. Ushers were Keith Kitchens, Hereford, and Terry Mize, Slaton.

Kay Stephens and Pam Howard were candle-lighters. Dea Lyn Bartley, sister of the groom, was flower girl. Ring bearer was Jim Shepard of Seminole, cousin of the groom.

Providing wedding music were Mrs. Dwayne Smith, organist, and Lu Ann Fondy, pianist. Murray Vise, Big Spring, was soloist. He sang "One Hand, One Heart", and "The Wedding Prayer."

A reception in the fellowship hall of the church followed the ceremony.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Marie Teeter, made and designed the cake for the reception.

Following a wedding trip to New Mexico, the couple will live in Lawton, Okla.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Slaton High School.

Bartley, a 1973 graduate of Slaton, is a sophomore at Cameron State College.

SAVE ENERGY SHOT AT HOME!

Avoiding 'An Illogical Posture'

Illogical postures within our society must be avoided, especially in these challenging times. In a recent statement one such hazard was lucidly identified and discussed by Frederick B. Dent, Secretary of Commerce. Excerpts of his convincing views are quoted herewith:

"While we are deeply occupied in problems and issues such as the state of the economy and world diplomacy, we must not invite shortfalls in other areas of vital national interest. One such area is the nurture of science and technology."

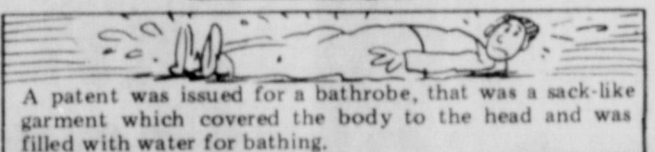

"We tend to be crisis-oriented. Without a crisis, such as World War II, or a far-reaching commitment, such as the space program, we assign a lower priority to research and development than scientists—or the public—deserve. In fact, in recent years, it has been vogueish to portray science and technology as dehumanizing. This tendency contrasts sharply with the progressive role of one of our most important fields of study."

"The sudden impact of the oil embargo came like a cold shower shock. But we have to be grateful for being pointed in the right direction. Energy independence is essential, we are now discovering."

"We have seen elsewhere what the marshalling of our research and development resources and skills can do. Putting man on the moon was one such project. Integral to that accomplishment was the will, funding, and organization to get the job done."

"Similarly, the priority we give to science and technology will have a direct and corresponding impact on our supply of energy resources, on our economy, and on the quality of our lives. To downgrade scientific research and technological development is to decelerate the main engine that gives a dynamic, wealth-generating thrust to our society. This is to say that to be for social improvements, and against technology is, to put it mildly, an illogical posture."

"Our status internationally is also dependent upon maintaining our superiority in sophisticated technology. The contribution of the aerospace industry is just one example of the role of technology in our trade with other nations. Without billions of dollars in aerospace exports we would have had a deficit trade balance every year since 1969. In national security, too, the essential ingredient of our strength is the sophistication of our research and development, an element of our strength which is respected throughout the world."

A patent was issued for a bathrobe, that was a sack-like garment which covered the body to the head and was filled with water for bathing.

Library News

There were 36 boys and girls present for the eighth Kidstuff program July 23 in the Slaton Branch Library. These programs have proven to be quite successful, during June and July along with the summer reading program.

Things of interest featured at the programs were Japanese dolls and customs by Geri Schmid, study of plants by Carol Karpe, Magic Tricks by David Davis, puppets and ventriloquist by Mrs. Dale Kitchens, Patriotic Day with parade by Geri Schmid, Applehead Dolls by Linda Crawford, rock collection by Mrs. Jaynes, dancing puppet and skit by Nora Torres, and a study of clowns by Carol Karpe. The local talent was greatly appreciated in the programs.

The Summer Reading Club entitled "Serenity Summer", ended July 31. Names of honor roll readers will be disclosed soon. Their names are posted in the Library window. Children reading 15 or more books made the honor roll reading list as they climbed Serendipity's highest mountain.

There were 257 children's names registered in the reading program for the months of June and July. There were 79 on the honor roll.

Storyhour will be given at 10 a.m. in the Slaton Branch Library, Saturday, August 3. Mrs. R. C. Hall Jr. will be in charge of activities. All children are invited to attend, for filmstrips, stories and fun.

Scientists Research Possible Method For Cleaning Oil Spills

Cotton wasties are a drag on the market. Oil spills are a plague to an industrial society. Now it appears that, combined, a new cure for the oil spills could provide a good market for the wasties.

Cotton wasties are the lowest market grade of the fiber, selling for about a third of a good grade. But these short staple, weak, spotted fibers criss-crossed over an oil slick have a peculiarly superb quality for forming capillary bridges which pick up the oil and hold it, according to a research team at Texas Tech University.

The three-man team includes two chemical engineers and a textile engineer who began their research with the support of Cotton, Incorporated, and now have an $89,000 grant from the U.S. Coast Guard to pursue their studies.

They have discovered that cotton can pick up 50 times its own weight in oil and still stay afloat without any apparent loss because of wave action. This, they say, is far superior to any other system used to pick up oil slicks.

The trick, according to the team, is to spread a very fine gauze-like layer over the oil slick and then sweep up the entire mass. They recommend a lay seven-thousandths of a foot thick, the width of "a gnat's eyebrow."

The team includes Dr. George F. Meenaghan, chairman of the Department of Chemical Engineering, Dr. James E. Halligan, also a chemical engineer, and A. A. Ball, head of fabric structures at the Texas Tech University Textile Research Center.

The objective of their research is to develop a total system for the cleanup of oil spills with important unique advantages.

There is speed in the process they are proposing, and this is important because oil slicks spread rapidly. A 1,000 barrel spill can cover 3 million square yards within 24 hours. By the team's process, the cotton would be shipped to the spill area in Coast Guard helicopters — several compressed 500-pound bales being easily carried aboard. A blower mounted on the helicopter first would ring the spill with a hair-thin layer of the cotton and then spread the entire surface with the fibers.

The next step would be to sweep up the mass of cotton with the oil clinging to it, and the final step would be to dispose of the waste material, possibly by incineration. The oil could be wrung from the cotton or the cotton-oil mix disposed of in combination.

For the past 12 months under the sponsorship of Cotton, Incorporated — the research and marketing company of America's cotton growers — the researcher team worked with their ideas, using a swimming pool for tests. They found that after six weeks of floating in sea water, neither the dry nor the oil-soaked cotton wasties displayed any tendency to sink. This has the advantage of allowing the slick to be contained as fast as helicopters can reach it, allowing more time for a surface vessel to arrive to pick it up.

"For any material to be considered as the working medium of an oil cleanup system it must be efficient as a sorbent, economical, readily available, easily dispersed and recovered, and ecologically safe in application and disposal," Meenaghan said.

"Cotton wasties appear to have all these features," he said.

Compared to synthetic materials now used for oil slick cleanups, he said, cotton wasties are anywhere from 15 to 250 per cent better in sorption rates.

He explained that the process involves sorption and not absorption because the oil is not soaked into the fiber but held between fibers.

"The supply of cotton wasties can be estimated at about 224,000 bales per year," he said, "and this quantity of wasties would have the capacity for holding approximately 750 million gallons of oil."

Because 10,000 major and minor spills occur annually in the navigable waters of the United States, and represent some 15 million gallons of oil being discharged, Meenaghan said, there is an ample supply of usable cotton. Wasties have no strong market, he said, and so this new use could create a valuable use of the low grade.

Work by the team this summer will be devoted to building a tank to test dispersal, retrieval and disposal of oil slicks.

Because the cotton has the capacity to contain the oil slick and keep it afloat, the pickup system the team is developing would likely take the form of a sweep angled out from a ship and pulling the mass onto the ship mechanically at a rate of about 1,000 gallons an hour.

The team is currently looking at incineration as the most practical method of disposal. Cotton is almost entirely cellulose and is biodegradable, and should provide no impact on the environment, team members said.

If the energy crisis dictates that the oil be recovered, this could be done, they said, but there would be no need to recover the cotton because it is not economically justifiable.

Cooper Basketball Star Signs With Western Texas College

Another outstanding area player has been signed for the fledgling women's basketball program at Western Texas College. Dr. Sid Simpson, athletic director and women's basketball coach, announced today.

Marilyn Payton, star forward for Cooper High School of Lubbock, has signed a scholarship agreement with the Snyder college.

Miss Payton brings some impressive credentials with her. She was all-district for four years and made all-regional in 1971-72. She scored 2,735 career points while shooting at a rate of 57 per cent from the field. Her best single season was 1972-73 when she scored 876 points. Her most outstanding single game output was 53 points. She collected 372 career rebounds and 364 assists.

Marilyn played on a district championship team in 1970-71 and in 1971-72. Cooper also won district and bi-district titles.

"We are very glad to have Marilyn become a member of our first team in WTC's history. She is a fine young woman and a gifted athlete. I am sure she will make a great contribution to WTC both as a student and an athlete," Dr. Simpson commented.

Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zack Payton of Route 6, Lubbock. She is undecided on a major course of study at the present and plans to pursue the standard Liberal Arts curriculum while deciding her future course.

U.S. Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

Answers to questions and answers on federal income tax are provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service. The column answers questions frequently asked by taxpayers.

credit for which retirees may qualify?

A. Yes. A retiree may qualify for the retirement income credit if he is a U.S. citizen or resident, had $600 of earned income in each of any 10 calendar years before the current year, and had retirement income during the tax year. For more details, see IRS Publication 524, "Retirement Income Credit." You can get a copy free by contacting your nearest Internal Revenue office.

Q. I paid an employment agency $300 to find a job for me. Can I deduct this fee?

A. Yes. Employment agency fees paid for securing employment are deductible. However, the IRS regards fees paid for seeking rather than securing employment as not deductible.

will be transferred to a general fund to be divided among all parties. Is this true?

A. Yes. Recent legislation approved by Congress transfers taxes designated to particular parties on 1972 returns to a general Presidential Election Campaign Fund. The new legislation also provides that on 1973 returns taxpayers will have the option of designating tax only to a general fund which subsequently will be divided among all parties.

Dentists Recommend Preventive Care

Ninety percent of all children need some sort of dental treatment before they are 21 years old, according to Texas dentists.

That high percentage calls for stepped-up preventive care, beginning even before a child starts to school.

Dr. James W. Gossett, chairman of the Texas Council on Dental Health of the Texas Dental Association, says there are two ways to help reduce decay, and both should be instilled as habits between ages 2-10.

One is cleaning the teeth completely — removing the decay-producing "plaque" that clings to teeth from foods.

The second is to keep to a minimum the frequency of eating sweets. ("Frequency," not "quantity," is the key word here.)

"Sweets" are any products which are labeled "carbohydrate," "honey," "molasses," "syrup," "glucose," "dextrose," "sucrose," "lactose," and "fructose."

The earliest preventive care really begins in pregnancy, Dr. Gossett said. A child's teeth begin forming about the fourth month, making proper nutrition a must for pregnant mothers who want their children to have healthy teeth.

Proper nutrition is important throughout childhood because enamel formation continues from the womb until the child is about 12. The third molars ordinarily erupt between ages 17-25.

When the first tooth appears, usually when the child is about six months old, parents should guard against the possibility of "nursing bottle syndrome."

Dr. Elihu N. Savad, dentist with the Army Dental Corps at Fort Hood, said parents who put their babies to bed at night with a bottle increase the chance for tooth decay.

Decreased salivation at night plus mouth breathing tends to dry the mouth, leaving a deposit of plaque from milk sugar or fruit juice. (A pacifier dipped in honey will cause the same problem.)

"If a baby must have a bottle in order to sleep," Dr. Savad said, "then ordinary tap water should be used."

By the time the child is 24-28 months old, he should have all 20 of his "baby" or deciduous teeth. That's the time to introduce him to a toothbrush.

"Even though the child probably will not clean his teeth effectively at that age, he can learn to enjoy it — and children love to mimic their parents," Dr. Gossett said.

Teaching a child to brush his teeth properly may best be accomplished when the child approaches school age, when he is old enough to understand the importance of clean teeth.

"Brushing with stannous-fluoride toothpastes and fluoride in the water supply are other good preventive measures," he said.

The first visit to a dentist should be made when the child is about three years old. Early examination has two advantages, Dr. Gossett said.

One, any serious malformation, unlikely though it may be, can be caught and treated early.

Two, the unlikelihood of cavities makes the first visit to the dentist a pleasurable experience, and the child will not instinctively fear the dentist later on.

Treating decayed "baby" teeth is important, Dr. Gossett continued. Not only may they be painful to the child, but also they may affect the alignment of the permanent teeth growing underneath.

Between visits to the dentist, parents should examine the child's teeth at home, says Dr. A. Norman Cranin in "Modern Family Guide to Dental Health."

1) Look for 20 teeth up to about age six, when the child starts to acquire four permanent teeth and begins losing "baby" teeth.

2) Look at the molars for shadows or brownish marks (signs of cavities).

3) Look at the front teeth for gray or grayish-black discolorings (signs of dead pulps caused by injury).

4) Look at the gums for little bubbles, bumps or boils (indications of infection in the roots).

In general, parents can help preschool children have healthy teeth that will last a lifetime by making sure their children:

- 1) eat an adequate breakfast,
- 2) eat any sweets with the other two meals,
- 3) eat sugarless snacks, such as wholewheat crackers, nuts, cheese, fresh fruits, fresh vegetables, and sugarless gum, and
- 4) brush after breakfast, at night before going to bed, and after lunch, if possible.

Honors Abundant for "Living Bible" Translator

Dr. Kenneth N. Taylor of Wheaton, Ill., has achieved fame the world over for a task he began as a labor of love for his children.

His paraphrase of the entire Bible, The Living Bible, has sold over seven million copies since it was first issued two years ago by Tyndale House Publishers, the company Dr. Taylor Heads. It has been on the best seller lists throughout the nation ever since it came out.

Dr. Taylor has received so many honors as a result of his endeavor that he has to weave the acceptance ceremonies into his regular schedule. They range from receiving honorary college degrees to humanitarian and religious awards.

Paradoxically, Dr. Taylor was recently chosen to receive the first Nelson Bible Award from one of his competitors in the sale of Bibles. The award was created by Thomas Nelson, Inc., a company whose name has been synonymous with Bible publishing for a century and which issued the Revised Standard Version of the Bible.

"It is a high privilege to give the first Nelson Bible Award to a man whose work has inspired millions to read God's Word," said Sam Z. Moore, president of Thomas Nelson. "The Living Bible through its contemporary language has thrown light on the meaning of the scripture for all ages," Moore said.

The Nelson Bible Award is to be given annually to one or two individuals who have in some outstanding way brought honor to the word of God, according to W. Maxey Jarman, founder of Genesco, one of the world's largest clothing manufacturers, and chairman of the selection committee.

Another award given recently to Dr. Taylor for his paraphrase of the Bible, a task which took 14 years to complete, was the Distinguished Service Citation presented by the International Society of Christian Endeavor. Previous citation recipients include: Admiral Richard E. Byrd, Herbert C. Hoover, President Richard M. Nixon, Dr. Billy Graham, Roy Rogers and Dale Evans and Jerome Hines.

Dr. Taylor began paraphrasing the Bible in an effort to hold the interest of his 10 children during daily family devotions. When publishers refused to print this modern translation, he had it printed privately. The work ultimately resulted in creation of Tyndale House Publishers, now a leading publisher of religious material.

THE SECOND COMING

1. Jesus promised to come again (John 14:3).
2. The angels promised his second coming (Acts 1:11).
3. His coming will be known to all — "Every eye shall see him" (Rev. 1:7).
4. He will come without warning and unexpectedly (Matt. 24:37, 44, 50; 25:13).
5. There will be NO SIGN preceding the second coming. The angels do not know when Christ shall come; Jesus does not know when he will come; only the Father knows (Matt. 24:36).
6. The SIGNS of Matthew 24 were all fulfilled DURING THE GENERATION in which Jesus lived (Matt. 24:34) and were accomplished by A. D. 70 and the DESTRUCTION OF JERUSALEM (See also Luke 21:20).
7. At Christ's coming the world will be brought to an end and the earth destroyed (2 Pet. 3:3, 10).
8. The dead will be raised (John 5:28, 29; 1 Thess. 4:16, 17).
9. At his coming all men will appear before him for judgment (Matt. 25:31-46; 2 Cor. 5:10).
10. Eternal life or eternal punishment will be the reward of each person who has ever lived (Matt. 25:46). "Seeing that these things are thus all to be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy living and godliness?" (2 Pet. 3:11)

Read 1 Peter 3:10-17

Then sent I for . . . men of understanding (Ezra 8:16) Do they have charisma? That seems to be the main question asked about the candidates for positions of leadership today.

Charisma may be defined as a kind of unusual attracting power in a person which brings popular support in the field of human, public affairs. Contemporary reporters and backers of candidates, however, too often seem to equate charisma with only youthful good looks and keeping one's poise amidst opponents and hecklers.

While we may enjoy the warmth of our leaders' personalities, should we not also insist on their shedding light — understanding — upon the world's problems? Too often our candidates and office-holders do not clearly define their position on important issues.

Let us work for leaders who are persons of understanding.

PRAYER: Dear Lord, in these perplexing and perilous times help us to be people of understanding and to seek out such persons for leadership. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Leadership calls for warmth and light.

Now When You A Bible - It's O

Churches of the United States and Canada are joining hands with the World Home Bible League in an effort to place a copy of Reach Out, the New Testament portion of The Living Bible, in every motel room on this continent, according to the Rev. John DeVries, international director of WHBL.

The project is about two years old at this point and has been set up in 32 states and three provinces. Of the 1,200,000 motel rooms in the United States, 200,000 have had Reach Out placed in them.

Paradoxically, the aim of the project is to have transients take the New Testament with them, and to encourage Bible reading in this way. One month this summer 100,000 copies of the modern English New Testaments were taken by tourists. Printed on most hotel Bibles are the words "Please Leave In Hotel Room."

By the end of 1974, DeVries says the league plans to have contacted all the U.S. motels. An annual turnover of more than three million New Testaments is anticipated.

Inserts in each copy of Reach Out invite tourists to take the New Testament with them and to enroll in an interdenominational Bible correspondence course sent out from the local church which distributes the Bibles. Over 10,000 people enrolled in the Bible course in that month.

The World Home Bible League is an interdenominational Bible distribution agency with headquarters in South Holland, Ill. It was founded in 1928. Today its annual budget is more than three million dollars, and the league is working in 50 countries around the world.

The World Home Bible League, in cooperation with the New York Bible Society, is responsible for the publication of 95 per cent of the translations produced by Wycliffe translators.

During the next five years the World Home Bible League is undertaking a campaign to bring a gospel portion of every literate person in India. The organization is a service agency which works through existing churches TOGETHERNESS — John and Mary Chapa are shown being sworn into the United States Army. Recently married, the couple is the first husband-wife team in the area to enlist in the service.

Slaton Newlyweds Enlist Together

John Chapa and Mary Bello were recently married, which is not unusual. As husband and wife, they enlisted in the Army, which is a little out of the ordinary. Although they will be separated during training, the Chapas will be reunited at Fort Hood where they will be part of the 1st Cavalry Division. According to Cockrell, they will have a monthly salary and benefits of well over $1,000. Cockrell, who counseled with the couple before their enlistment, said, "I think it's great. They'll have a good career ahead of them."

John and Mary were able to choose their field of training and where they will later be stationed. John selected air defense as his field, and Mary chose administration. Because of her junior ROTC training in Slaton High School, Mary will enter as a private first class.

CONSUMERS' CORNER

Quality in double knits
Shrinking, snagging, bagging. These are some of the problems you can expect with double knits. Keep this in mind while you're shopping. What you may consider a real bargain, just because it's labeled "double knit," may turn out to be a real lemon. Judge the quality of knit before you buy. You'll have less trouble with shrinking, snagging, or bagging if you buy a knit that has more yarn per square inch. In other words, look at the closeness of the knit and the uniformity of the knitted loops. Compare it to other knits. If the fabric is loosely knitted, or the yarns themselves are not tightly twisted, the fabric may shrink, snag, or bag. For a good quality knit, check for tightly twisted yarns and a closely knit fabric. You can find these in both lightweight or heavyweight knits. These are the fabrics that will be good bargains. Another precaution in knit shopping: watch out for sizing. It's a type of finish put on some knits to give them more body. Sizing wears off rapidly and the fabric ends up a raggy, limp piece. Feel the knit before you buy. Sizing tends to flake off so you can detect that it's there.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return for the year ending January 1-December 31, 1974, or other taxable year. Internal Revenue Service. U.S. Treasury Department—Last page. Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. My company's mandatory retirement age is 65, but it's possible for an employee to retire at 55. I'm 58 and have to retire on account of sickness. I'll be receiving a weekly disability pension. Can I exclude all or part of this amount from my income as tax-free sick pay?

A. In a recent decision, the IRS said that a taxpayer who retires on disability prior to his company's mandatory retirement age can exclude his disability payments from income as tax-free sick pay up to $100 a week. Previously, the IRS had said that disability payments could be excluded as sick pay only up to the employee's earliest retirement age. Under this old rule, because you are 58 and earliest retirement age is 55, you would not have been able to exclude any part of your disability payment as sick pay. However, now you are able to exclude such amounts, up to $100 per week, until mandatory retirement age, which in your case is 65.

This recent IRS decision applies to all tax years not barred by the statute of limitations. Thus, persons retired on disability in 1971, 1972 and 1973 and unable to exclude disability payments as sick pay because of operation of the old rule, may now be able to file a claim for refund (Form 843). Call your IRS office for more details.

Q. When is the second installment of estimated tax due?

A. The second installment of estimated tax is due June 17, 1974.

Q. My return was examined by the IRS and I was found to owe more tax. How long do I have to pay?

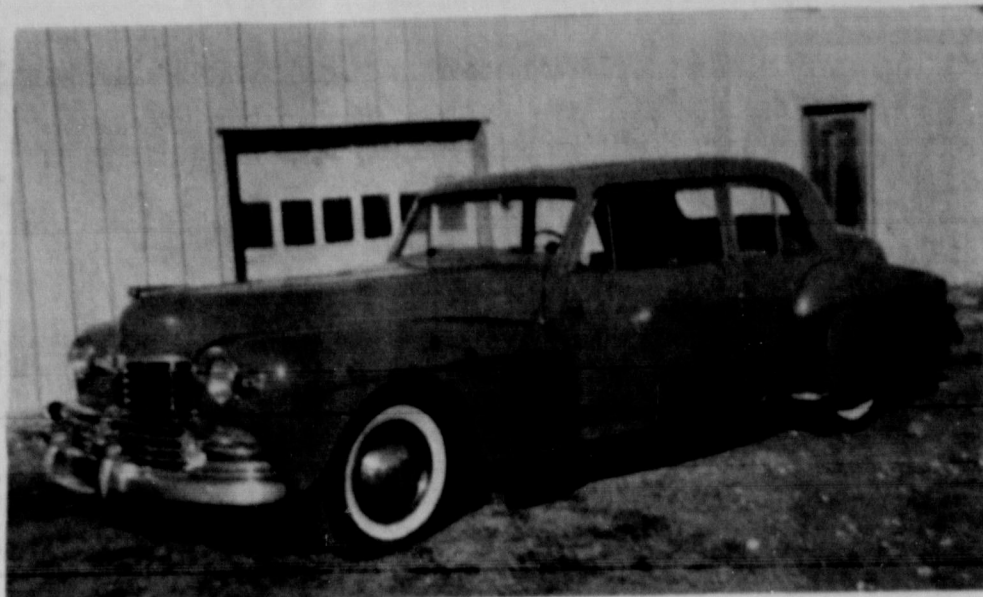

A. If you agree with the proposed IRS findings, you should sign the agreement form sent to you. This indicates that you don't want to appeal the IRS findings and stops a six percent interest charge 30 days or sooner after the form is filed.

After this form is processed, the IRS will send you a bill which must be paid in 10 days.

If you don't agree with the results of the IRS examination, you can appeal this decision and do not have to pay the tax until your appeals are exhausted. However, interest on the proposed tax continues to run. Information on appeals may be found in the Publication 556, Audit of Returns, Appeal Rights, and Claims for Refund, available free from your IRS office.

Q. I'm having all my Army Reserve uniforms cleaned in preparation for summer camp. Can I deduct my cleaning bills?

A. Yes. If you itemize your deductions, you can deduct the cost of cleaning and maintaining Reserve and National Guard uniforms. Be sure to keep records to substantiate your deduction.

DOZEN CYLINDERS — This 1947 Lincoln V-12 probably will be the newest of the old cars which will be shown in Slaton Friday during the Antique Auto Show and Sidewalk Sale. It is the property of Morris Cranford of Lubbock.

New Power Chair Breaks Price Barrier

The Freedom Machine brings outdoor travel and excitement to you. When you're in control of a Lakematic, it can be the zoo, the ball game . . . whatever turns you on.

Lakeside is now offering two new power chair models known as the "Freedom Machine", priced so competitively that for the first time it becomes practical to own both a manual and a power chair. This way the patient can reap the twin benefits of manual exercise and power freedom.

The Lakematic Series 76 is priced at only $350 and the Series 78, which features removable arm rests and swing-away foot rests, is priced slightly higher at $400. These extra features are particularly appreciated by the amputee, for with its ability to get up close to the edge of a bed or seat, the Lakematic Series 78 makes both side and front transfer operations much easier and safer. One very important aspect of both models is the Lakematic design concept with its very low center of gravity that results in an exceptionally stable and safe chair.

Also available on request from Lakeside is a booklet entitled "8 Ways to New Personal Freedom". Patients young or old, temporarily or permanently disabled, will find this interesting and challenging.

Therapists, too, will find it a refreshing approach to the contribution of the power chair to their patients' rehabilitation program and to their own effectiveness as professionals.

Swimming Lessons Offered

Swimming and life saving lessons will be offered at the Slaton Swimming Pool Aug. 5-15.

Swimming lessons are open to all ages and will be from 10-11 a.m. and from 11 to noon each day. Cost of the lessons will be $15. Senior life saving, which is certified by the Red Cross, will be given free of charge. A swimmer must be at least 16 years old to take the course.

Instructor for both will be Curtis McCain. He asks that anyone interested come by the pool or call him at 828-3570.

Kindergarten Signup Set

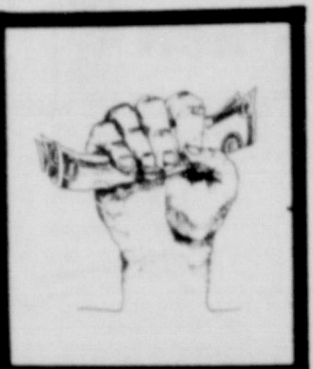

All youngsters who will be five years old on or before Sept. 1 should be preregistered for public school kindergarten classes, and those who did not preregister last spring should be signed up at 10 a.m. Monday, Aug. 12.

The preregistration will be conducted at West Ward School, according to Joe Sparkman, administrative assistant for Slaton Independent School District.

Parents should bring vaccination records and either a birth certificate, baptismal record or hospital certificate, Sparkman said.

"It is very important that all students be preregistered, because we must know how many youngsters we will have in the program," Sparkman said.
