Meet Jesus Crusade Starts Sunday

Weeks of planning and work preparatory to Slaton's community-wide Meet Jesus Crusade will culminate in the week-long services which begin at 8 p.m. Sunday in Tiger Stadium.

Dr. George Worrell of Fort Worth, former Lubbock and Lamesa resident who will be featured speaker each evening throughout the crusade, met here Monday with general chairman Ernie Davis, pastors and committee chairmen from the seven participating churches, and said he was looking forward to "a marvelous outpouring of God's spirit" during the week.

"This is God's work -- I believe in a big God, and God doesn't sponsor failures," he commented.

Marion Warren of Eulesa will be music director for the crusade, which also will feature the Shiloh singing group, a group of young performers with special appeal to youth.

The Shilohs will arrive first on Tuesday to perform at a pizza party for teen-agers, and again during the regular services. The pizza party, free to the youth, will be at 7 p.m. at the stadium, with all Slaton and area teen-agers invited (7th grade and up).

Pre-teens, or youngsters in grades 4 through 6, will have a hot dog supper at 7 p.m. Saturday, July 28, at the stadium. Texas Tech Head Football Coach Jim Carlen will give his testimony during the regular services Thursday.

If it should rain any night during the crusade, services will be moved inside, to the high school auditorium.

Worrell commended workers present Monday for their efforts to date, and discussed some of the problem areas. He cited prayer, preparation, participation and preaching as essential to the success of any crusade.

Sunday's program will begin with special activities for counselors and choir members. Ushers and counselors will meet from 3:30 to 4:15 p.m. A

13-Year-Old Babe Ruth Stars Beat Morton To Win Lubbock Tourney

Slaton's 13-year-old Babe Ruth all-stars went as far as that age group can go by winning the 13-year-old tournament at Lubbock, beating Frontier of Morton 15-6 in the finals Sunday.

Slaton broke open a tight game with 10 big runs in the top of the sixth inning to wind up with 15 runs off 11 hits and committed three errors. Lonnie Ardrey was the winning pitcher and also came up with a double in the game. Brad Eblen had the biggest hit of the game, a triple.

Slaton had gone unbeaten in the tournament until Morton won 5-3 Saturday, forcing a Sunday playoff in the double elimination tourney.

Barry Copeland was the starting pitcher for Slaton, but was replaced by Ardrey in the fourth with Morton leading 5-3.

Slaton's 14-15-year-old all-stars lost to Levelland in the first round of the tournament there, but came back Tuesday night to beat Morton and remain in the running for the championship. They were to play again Wednesday.

Scout Fund Drive Reaches Halfway Mark in Slaton

The Slaton sustaining membership enrollment, to provide funds for scouting in the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, reached the halfway mark Monday, according to campaign auditor Don Kendrick.

The Scout Council provides the program of scouting to over 10,000 boys and leaders of the 20 county area of the South Plains.

Preston Johnston, treasurer of the South Plains Council, states that the 1973 budget of $197,000 will enable the program of Cubbing, Scouting, and Exploring to expand to 13,500 boys and leaders in Slaton and the surrounding area. The money, states Johnston, provides training for leaders, operating expenses at the three council camps, visual aids, literature, supplies and professional staff. "Resources that no single community could supply, but together we can provide this character developing program to all boys."

Slaton's goal, according to Chairman Steve Smith, is $2,000 or less than 30 cents per capita. $1,002 was reported Monday -- the first day of the drive.

Key leaders in Slaton who will be working cards throughout the week include Arvin Stafford, Eldon Allison, Edwin Knight, Jimmy Sikes, J. E. Eckert, Paul Ramirez, Ken Cornelius, Bob Brake and others.

More information may be obtained by calling Smith, Kendrick or District Scout Executive Doug Palmer.

Three Accidents Are Investigated

Three vehicle accidents were investigated by Slaton Police Dept. during the last week. Last Thursday a 1963 auto driven by L. B. Moore, 860 Oklahoma, struck a parked 1969 car owned by Tony Valdez, 800 S. 6th, at 620 S. Collins. Total damage was estimated at more than $450.

On Saturday a 1965 car driven by Jimmy Harold Doss of Southland and a 1968 auto driven by Raymond Wayne Robinson collided in the 200-block of Division.

Officers had a report Monday that a car had struck a road sign at the intersection of FM 2150 and Old Post Road, leaving the scene.

More Rainfall Keeps Area Cool

Good rains continued to fall in the Slaton area this week, with .50 of an inch measured in the city Tuesday. Added to other rains during the last two weeks, this brings the total for the month to about two inches in total.

Cool temperatures prevailed over the area as a result of the rains. The rains are expected to be of much benefit to crops, as the weather had been very dry for some time prior to July.

Bruce Schuette, Miss Johnston Wed In Baptist Chapel Here

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Johnston of Roma Road, Slaton, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schuette of Lake Ransom Canyon.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a victorian gown of white polyester and cotton voile over acetate. The fitted bodice featured a high neckline with a lace stand-up collar. The wide cotton lace formed a V outline and capped the full gathered sleeves of voile that ended in a wide lace ruffle. Tiny self-covered buttons accented the center front of the bodice. Her slightly gathered skirt featured a band of lace, and formed a wide ruffle-flounce at the hemline. Her mantilla of sheer nylon tulle fell to a chapel length train from a capulet, and ended in the matching cotton lace trim.

The bridal bouquet was made up of a dozen blue-tinted sweet-heart roses, white feathered carnations, and baby's breath, with long blue streamers and love knots.

Jan Lokey served as maid of honor, and Dwayne Speed served as best man. Miss Lokey wore a formal length dress of blue waffle pique, featuring an empire waistline, short puff sleeves, and a controlled A-line skirt. SLATON LUMBER CO.

Ladies... Have you noticed your grocery bill climbing higher and higher? If you have been accompanied on your shopping trips by children or your husband, the high cost of living cannot take all the blame. Homemakers can get more from food dollars by shopping at their best advantage. One most important advantage is to shop ALONE. Children and husbands can be a distraction when you especially need to concentrate on brands and prices.

They are also very helpful in filling the basket with the foods that they are particularly fond of. And, the kids are great at talking Mama into buying things that feature a special prize inside, no matter what cost is marked on the outside. And when Poppa is usually footing the bill, it's no easy thing to turn down his suggestions for the grocery cart, even if they are expensive delicacies.

Another important budget-cutter, is: "Never go shopping for food when you're hungry". Eat your meal, take a rest, then go. Include items to meet menu plans for the week, items you want on hand, and items to restock low supplies. Make a grocery list, and most important, take the list with you. You will want to keep it flexible so that you can take advantage of special sale prices on some items. Avoid buying unnecessary items on impulse. When you have to choose between a higher priced brand that the family likes, and a lower priced one they haven't tried, or don't care much for, specialists tell us that the brand name should come first. Buying brands they don't like, even though they may cost less, is a waste of money if your family won't eat it.

You might remember, also, in your shopping trip, that, at 75 cents a dozen, large size eggs still cost only about 50 cents a pound, which is a good value, considering the amount of high-quality protein and nutrition they contain compared with other foods.

Need something to add beauty and coolness to a bare area near your home? The hanging baskets are just the thing. They can be made with almost any kind of container imaginable and provide attractive accents, and are easy to make. Because the hanging baskets are exposed to dry, hot air on all sides, they do much better in the shade, and require daily watering during hot summer weather. A complete, liquid houseplant fertilizer should also be used on a weekly schedule, as the plants take the necessary nutrients out of the soil.

A hint for new parents-to-be. Before you go on a shopping spree for "everything any baby ever wanted" check with some of your friends and neighbors who already have children. Some items that look great will only get in your way after the new little one arrives. Experienced friends can be very helpful concerning things to get and things to leave off your list. They also may be willing to loan or sell some items that they no longer need. Second-hand baby equipment definitely aids the budget. Since babies soon outgrow so many items, it's better to have too little than too much. Garments are certainly included on that list. If the new parents have a washer and dryer, or it is convenient to use a laundry nearby, the number of clothing changes needed is lessened, and you will get your money's worth out of the ones you do have.

Little ones bugging you about going shoeless this summer? Don't be alarmed. Walking without shoes allows the toes to extend and grip the ground. It is an excellent foot exercise on soft grass, sand or carpet, as long as there's no danger of stepping on broken glass, nails, pins or sharp stones. Sneakers are the most popular type of summer footwear and may be one of the best shoes available for healthy feet. A healthy foot doesn't require support, and the flexibility allows the foot muscles freedom to develop. (The rubber soles don't let the feet breathe... and fungi can develop in the warm damp shoes, so, to reduce the chances of athlete's foot, clean absorbent cotton socks should be provided to wear with sneakers.)

It was heartwarming to see men in all forms of life—living—but asking for so little. Men from World War I on the top floor, down to the hobby rooms on second floor and the new veterans of Vietnam, all are making the best of sterile cold surroundings.

There are new facilities being added slowly, and so quickly and gratefully being utilized to the fullest extent. Not many of us can financially endow new equipment or bear the cost of redecorating a wing, suite, or even one room, but there is plenty we can do on a very small scale. That is contributions to the Volunteer Recreation Department. Larry Denning, Volunteer Director, is doing a wonderful job, but needs help in the form of contributions for Crafts and Hobbies.

Mrs. Davis Named Chairman Of 'Breath Of Life' Drive Here

Mrs. Tommy Davis of Slaton has been named chairman of the Breath of Life Campaign to fight children's lung diseases according to Frank Scott, president of the North Texas Chapter, National Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Mrs. Davis of 755 S. 22nd St., will lead Slaton volunteers in raising funds to support research and care programs children affected by lung-damaging diseases like cystic fibrosis, severe asthma, chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis, and a condition called "childhood emphysema".

Cystic fibrosis, an incurable genetic disease, is inherited when both parents carry the recessive gene for C/F. It is believed that one in 20 persons, or 10 million Americans, may carry the C/F genes, usually without knowing it. Current research funded by the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation is seeking a practical test to identify these carriers.

Because of improved therapy and constant research, many C/F patients are living beyond infancy to their teens and into young adulthood. That same kind of therapy is relieving and often curing children suffering from other respiratory afflictions whose symptoms resemble those of C/F.

"Most people don't realize that there are six million children in the U. S. affected by

SUMMER PET CARE FACTS

AUSTIN -- Summer care of your pet involves more than the usual increased threat of fleas, ticks and summer eczema, the Texas Veterinary Medical Association says. Summer generally means vacation travel and pets generally accompany the family. A little preparation and forethought by every concerned owner will assure that your family pet enjoys the summer as well. Any pet travelling across the nation's borders is required to be accompanied by a health certificate, and any pet travelling by plane, either in or out of the country, must have same, TVMA reminds.

Every dog should be currently vaccinated against distemper, hepatitis, and leptospirosis, and every cat against infectious enteritis. Both the dog and cat are susceptible to dread rabies, and it is advisable that both receive the effective vaccination.

Pets should never be left inside a car unattended, even in the shade or with the windows down. Heat prostration can easily result.

Frequent inspection of your pet for fleas, mites and ticks, as well as the varied allergic problems they can cause, is a must during the summer.

Poll Shows Outrage At T. V. Immorality

Public outrage against immorality on TV has reached such proportions that 88 percent of the respondents to a recent opinion poll say they are ready to boycott products of companies that "exploit sex to sell their wares."

According to the survey, 91 percent of those participating also believe TV fare is more immoral today than was the case just 10 years ago, and 92 percent believe that television programming is eroding the nation's moral fibre.

These views are based on an informal poll conducted by STOP IMMORALITY ON TV, a project of the Society for the Christian Commonwealth, located in Warrenton, Virginia.

Some 2.7 million people throughout the country were invited to express their views on TV morality, and 150 thousand have responded so far, according to Paul A. Fisher, Executive Director of SIO-TV.

"While the results of our poll do not purport to be a precise scientific analysis of total public thinking on the subject, we believe it clearly reflects the views of a large segment of the population, and cannot be ignored," Fisher said.

He observed that the survey "re-affirms findings" last February by professional opinion pollster Loy Harris, who reported that 70 percent of the public believe American businessmen are not providing sufficient leadership in raising America's moral standards. Federal law bars the profane, the indecent, and the obscene from the airwaves, and the Code of the National Association of Broadcasters calls on all of its members to adhere to standards of decency and decorum, Fisher pointed out.

He said, however, that the law and the Code have been looked upon too often as "mere words" that rarely are honored or enforced.

"The American people want action, not words," Fisher said. "The home is the center of moral training for future generations. It is a hallowed place where parents provide their children with religious and moral values to guide them throughout their lifetime.

"Our survey makes it abundantly clear that a vast number of Americans are determined to defend their homes from invasion by programs that would tend to subvert or destroy the family's religious beliefs and standards," Fisher concluded.

Old Balanced Meal In One Hand

A balanced meal you hold in the fingers of one hand is a meal practically any child and adult would like to remember. To be nutritionally sound, it must contain some of each of the four basic food groups: Dairy, fruit or vegetable, meat, fish, eggs, or poultry, and the enriched bread-grain group.

Astronaut's dinner packet. It is your old friend the hamburger, with a slice of cheese added to complete the Basic Four!

The hamburger has been with us a long time, since 1904 when it was introduced at the St. Louis World's Fair. But not many people realize what a perfect meal it is. "A hamburger on a 'raft', or bun," declares Ellen Semrow, director of nutrition education for the American Institute of Baking. To illustrate her statement, Mrs. Semrow uses a hamburger with the following make-up:

Enriched bun
2 oz. patty of lean ground beef slice of American process cheese thin slices of raw tomato a lettuce leaf

"In addition to providing each of the 'Basic Four' food groups this hamburger makes a most significant nutritional contribution," Mrs. Semrow says. She explains that nutritionists speak in terms of "Recommended Daily Allowance", the amount of a nutrient a person should have each day for good health.

"Measured in terms of the recommended daily allowance for a young male, age 22 to 35, the hamburger provides 40 per cent of the protein, 40.7 per cent of the calcium, 22.5 per cent of the iron, 25.4 per cent of Vitamin C, 15 per cent of thiamin, 22.3 per cent of riboflavin, and 25 per cent of the niacin this young man needs each day."

And she adds that the enriched hamburger bun, far from being a mere "raft" for the Basic Four, makes significant contributions of iron, thiamin, riboflavin and niacin. If you're a calorie watcher, it's good to know that Mrs. Semrow's hamburger -- a big buy in nutrition -- totals only 371 calories.

So the next time you wrap your fingers around a warm and juicy hamburger, remember it is entitled to respect. For you hold more than a mere hamburger -- You hold a complete meal. You hold the Basic Four on a "raft"!

Cooked dry beans freeze well. For best quality, cook beans until barely tender--freezing, like cooking, softens them.

Except for cheese and peanut butter, most sandwich fillings are perishable at room temperature. So keep hot ones hot and cold ones cold.

Cool Foods For Hot Days

COLLEGE STATION -- Summer heat closing in on you? "Serve foods that offer cool contrast to the weather," suggests Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Success largely depends on planning ahead -- using foods that help 'beat the heat.'"

"Cool, summer meals start with an on-hand supply of canned or convenience foods from each of the four basic food groups. Include canned tuna, deviled ham and other canned meats which don't require cooking." Also, homemakers can prepare foods ahead to serve cold, the specialist continued.

For instance, leftover meats become delicious sandwiches. Or, turn hardcooked eggs from breakfast into deviled eggs for another meal.

"Another technique involves preparing large quantities of foods which last several days. For example, refrigerate a gallon of sweet-sour bean salad and use as needed."

For a unique summer treat, serve a colorful fruit salad in a watermelon rind.

"Brimming with watermelon and cantaloupe balls, pineapple chunks, strawberries or other fresh fruits, it's nutrition-packed with vitamins A and C."

"Serve fruit salad -- along with an assortment of sandwiches and tall glasses of iced tea -- on the terrace in late afternoon."

Still another summer cooler -- and a popular one at that -- is homemade ice cream, Miss Reasonover noted.

To cut ice cream calories and cost, the specialist advised using nonfat dry milk -- rich in calcium for teeth and bones.

"For extra flavor -- and a boost in vitamin C -- add fresh fruit such as peaches, strawberries or cantaloupe to the ice cream."

"Or try a slush sherbet using three cans grapefruit soft drink, two cups crushed pineapple and one can sweetened condensed milk."

"Freeze it in the refrigerator freezing compartment -- or in a crank - style or electric ice cream freezer. Whatever method, it can be a real adventure for kids."

THURSDAY, JULY 19, 1973
Read James 1:12-18

All good giving, every perfect gift, comes from above, from the Father of the lights of heaven. With him there is no variation, no play of passing shadows. (James 1:17)

My wife sought to match a blue jacket she owned with a fabric to make a skirt. She failed in many attempts. Then she saw a piece of material that seemed to be a perfect match. As she turned the material one way and then another, the clerk said: "Why don't you take it outside the store? You cannot tell true colors in this artificial light."

How can we tell if our personal life is showing the true color that God wants in us? Our text gives us a clue. "The lights of heaven" doubtless refers to the sun, moon and stars. The text suggests that even these heavenly bodies change, but "there is no variation" in God. His light is true and never varies. It is in God's reliable light that we can determine how nearly our life's colors match His.

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, we thank You that You are the divine source of light by which we may see the variations of color in our lives. We ask that we may reject our imperfections and be diligent in our search to make the spirit and acts of our lives to match Your expectations. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
To distinguish the true from the false we must use God's light.

PRaise THE LORD

By LENDA WOOD

Are you experiencing victories in your life?

Do you believe, whether you are experiencing victories or not, that the Bible teaches we should be living victoriously?

If this be the case, and we are not gaining victories, then could it be that we are calling God a liar (without realizing it)? The Bible says that God does not lie. I don't believe we have any problem with this statement, but there is a scripture that says: "God is not a man, that he should lie; He doesn't change his mind like humans do. Has he ever promised, without doing what he said?" (Num. 23:19.)

Okay. So if we read the Bible, we know in our minds some of the promises God's Word declares. But do we know them in our hearts? We've received them in our heads, but have we received them in our hearts?

For instance, the Words says, "Come to me and I will give you rest -- all of you who work so hard beneath a heavy yoke. Wear my yoke -- for it fits perfectly -- and let me teach you; for I am gentle and humble, and you shall find rest for your souls; for I give you only light burdens." (Matt. 11:28-30.)

What kind of a load are you carrying? Do you get depressed and weary trying to cope with it? There's a better way of doing it. Some will say, "But you don't have to put up with the things I have to put up with, and you don't have the burdens I have." And that's true, it seems that some folks do have heavier burdens than others, and some folks have more heartaches and tragedies to face.

But if the Bible is true (and it is), it says that whatever our problems, little or great as we come to the complete surrender, rest and help with them. The only way we can receive His help, though, is to completely trust Him, and fall into His arms, helpless, and let Him do it for us. This is what He wants to do because the Word says that He came to give us life, and life abundantly.

I'm reminded of the story told, and it was shared once in this column several months ago, regarding a tight-rope walker who pleased the crowd by walking across a high rope, doing several tricks. He walked back and forth across, before the crowd, until they had full confidence in him, then carried a chair on his shoulders and walked across again with no problem. Then, everyone said they believed he could do the trick carrying someone in the chair. But when it got right down to trusting the fellow enough to sit in the chair themselves, no one volunteered.

Suppose, in your imagination for a moment, that you did volunteer to sit in that chair, and you did trust the person who was carrying you, how helpless you would feel. Because you could do no tricks on the tight-rope, you know that this would be completely in the hands of the fellow doing the tricks. Complete surrender!

I believe this is what Jesus wants from each of us -- that kind of complete surrender. Perhaps you have carried a particular burden for years, with no apparent help. So why not try this "complete surrender" way. Jesus is the answer to any and all of our problems.

WOMAN AT THE WELL

Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle?
Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again:
But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life.
John 4:12-14.

18 Year Olds Still Must Register

AUSTIN -- Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, the State Director of Selective Service for Texas, reminded young men that they still must register with Selective Service even though there is no draft.

Glantz urged those men who have not registered to do so promptly, saying: "Failure to register is a violation of Federal Law and could result in prosecution by the Department of Justice."

The President's authority to induct men into the Armed Forces expired on July 1, 1973. The Nixon Administration does not plan to seek an extension of this authority, and the Defense Department is relying on volunteer enlistments to supply military manpower.

Glantz emphasized that only the authority to induct expired. All other provisions of the Military Selective Service Act remain in force. The annual lottery will be held, young men will continue to register, and their local boards will continue to classify them as to their availability for possible military service should Congress authorize the resumption of inductions in the event of a national emergency.

The Colonel explained that Selective Service is undergoing a major reorganization and that as Selective Service goes into a standby operation, no inductions are taking place. Many local board offices are being relocated, with the result of fewer draft board offices in Texas. Glantz said there are places of registration provided in each Texas county for the convenience of young men in registering.

The registrar for local board No. 88 is Bob Kern, Jr., 144 West Garza Street, Slaton, Tex. 79364.

Students Attending Citizenship Seminar

Two high school students from Lubbock County are attending the 11th annual High School Students Citizenship Seminar conducted by the Texas Farm Bureau July 16-20 on the campus of Baylor University in Waco, according to Milton Piwonka, president of the County Farm Bureau.

Students selected to attend from this county include Matt Kitten and Karen Jones. They are among nearly 500 students from all over the state who will be entering the 11th and 12th grades in September who have been carefully screened as to leadership ability and scholastic achievement.

Purpose of the seminar, according to Mr. Piwonka, is to convey to the students a better understanding of our American heritage and the capitalistic private enterprise system that has made ours the greatest of all nations.

COTTON TALKS

Cong. Bob Poage of Waco, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee and quarter-back for the team of farm leaders trying to pass farm legislation in the House, called time out last Thursday to re-vamp a game plan already gone awry.

The House on Tuesday began debate on floor amendments to a committee-sponsored omnibus farm bill covering the three major High Plains crops, cotton, feed grains and wheat, plus wool and dairy products and the food stamp program.

The Committee bill calls for a target price on cotton at 38 cents per pound with government payments to producers equal to the difference between the target and the average market price for cotton. The target for other crops was based on $1.38 per bushel for corn (about $2.35 per cwt for grain sorghum) and $2.05 per bushel for wheat. There is also a so-called "escalator" clause, which eventually became the primary cause of Poage's withdrawal strategy, calling for these targets to be adjusted after 1974 to reflect changes in the cost of production and/or production efficiency.

Donald Johnson, executive vice president of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., who was in Washington for the House debate, says the "escalator clause" is a misnomer. He points out that target prices for the three crops under the clause could be lowered as well as raised, depending on the direction taken by the general economy and production technology during the life of the bill. "But this fact seems to have been completely ignored by the Administration," he said.

As soon as the bill was brought to the floor it was bombarded by amendments and was in trouble almost immediately. House members first tacked on a $20,000 per person limit on program benefits and outlawed sale or lease of cotton allotments. Then a provision for continued use of federal funds to supplement producer investments in Cotton Incorporated's research and promotion program was killed.

Johnson, noting that these actions hit hardest at cotton producers, said "Right from the start it began to look like 'kill cotton week' in Washington."

The clincher came when an amendment to knock out the "escalator" clause was defeated. With that clause intact Republican Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan bluntly advised that President Nixon would "undoubtedly" veto the entire measure. The accuracy of Ford's statement was confirmed by other Administration officials, and convinced that any attempt to further advance the program bill would be out by the officials. So, stating that he wanted only in passing that would become a record, "doing something" record," Poage called immediate strategy subject to change, was the weekend program members of the Agriculture Committee would consider of a means to an escalator clause was Poage then hoped to bill back to the floor.
