advice of legal counsel, it was noted that the new policy also would mean the end to prayer in assembly at high school and to a junior high sharing group which has been meeting in the school before classes begin.

Cage Coach Hired
The school board Tuesday night also hired two new coaches, including Jerry Tucker of Yorktown as head basketball coach and took action to assure that valuation of all property in the district for tax purposes would be on the same basis of 100 percent of actual value.

Mrs. LaWanda Blakeley, whose challenge of what she termed "religious instruction" in the schools resulted in the policy approved Tuesday, was present at the meeting, along with her husband, Clyde Blakeley, her minister, Al Judd of the Unitarian Church in Lubbock, and two other supporters. The Blakeleys made no comment other than to request a copy of the new policy, which they were given.

The new policy adopted by the board is as follows:
"It is the policy of Slaton Independent School District to maintain Constitutional requirements for separation of church and state, and to that end, the following rules are adopted:
"The principal of each school is authorized to release students in his school, who have obtained the written consent of a parent or guardian, for the purpose of attending programs of a religious nature during historical religious seasons. Such programs are to be presented off the school premises at no expense to the School District, and are to take no more than one hour of scheduled school time on each of two occasions."

have been serving as house counselors for a Presbyterian home for youngsters, Cook reported. Both Jones and Tucker were hired at $2,000 above state schedule.

The board discussed valuation of Southwestern Public Service Company's Jones Station power plants and instructed tax assessor Edwin Knight to assess the property at 100 percent of appraised value. This was in regard to a rendition of SWPS at 90 percent of actual value on the plant units.

The board voted to assess all property in the district at 100 percent of actual value, in accordance with the provisions of the new Texas (See SCHOOL, Page 4)

Area Youth Hurt In Bus Accident

Kendon Wheeler of Southland was still hospitalized Wednesday morning in Fayetteville, Ark. following a head-on collision Monday between a bus and a truck in Oklahoma.

Wheeler was one of 25 passengers aboard a charter bus which left Lubbock Sunday night for a Youth Training Event this week at Mount Sequoyah, near Fayetteville.

Six of the youth officers and youth adult coordinators in the Northwest Texas United Methodist Church Conference were hospitalized following the accident, several in critical condition.

Wheeler was expected to be released from the hospital soon.

According to Oklahoma Highway Patrol reports, the bus was traveling east on Oklahoma 33 when a semi-trailer truck loaded with prefabricated building beams, swerved to miss a slowing car and collided head-on with the bus.

MORE RAIN HERE
Rain showers in the city last Thursday afternoon totaled .20. Another .20 fell Friday afternoon, making the year's total 9.25.

July 4 Park Celebration Goes Over Big

Hundreds of people thronged the city park Friday for the Bicentennial Celebration, leaving only after the food sold out and kids who missed their naps got cranky.

The July 4 celebration was a success, raising approximately $3,500 for Mercy Hospital.

Greeley Sanders, chairman of the Festival Committee of the Bicentennial Celebration, said as close as he could estimate, the hospital would be receiving $3,500. "We know that the barbecue has cleared $2478.55, and we still have other proceeds coming in."

Sanders also said the left over potato salad, beans, bread and cake were given either to the Slaton Care Center or to the hospital. Remaining paper cups, plates, etc. were sold to the American Legion. "We really didn't have any waste where the barbecue was concerned," said Sanders.

The day began with a breakfast from 6 to 8 a.m. sponsored by the VFW for all veterans.

Poles Dedicated
At 9 a.m. Mayor John Landreth spoke at the dedication of three new flag poles in front of city hall. The American, Texas and Bicentennial flags are now flying daily.

Other booths did well Friday also. Homemade ice cream, sold by the Catholic Daughters of America, the Trinity Evangelical Methodist Church and the Athenian Club lasted well into the afternoon before selling out.

Entertainment was provided by local singing groups under the brush arbor and others sang country and western music in the afternoon.

George Harlan bought the first of Slaton's commemorative coins for $150 during the auction at 2 p.m. Floyd Guelker bought number two for $130.

Cynthia Edmunds, who rocked for seven hours, won the Rock-A-Thon contest sponsored by the Women's Chamber of Commerce. Several others participated during the day, keeping the rockers going until early evening.

Although the July 4 celebration was a success, it was somewhat different from those all-day get-togethers Slaton residents enjoyed years ago. On July 4, 1936, the city combined Independence Day celebrations with the marking of Slaton's 25th anniversary.

At that time, residents participated in such contests as women's nail driving, women's milking, boys' cracker eating, boys' milk drinking, the best doll buggy and, of course, a fiddler's contest.

Slaton Police Again Running Department

By SANDY MARTIN
The responsibility of Slaton's law enforcement is once again in the hands of the city's own police department.

A new chief of police and a full force of six patrolmen are now carrying out the duties of safeguarding Slaton citizens.

Lubbock County Sheriff's Office deputies and Department of Public Safety officers, who have been assisting the city's police department during its reorganization, have been returned to their regular duties.

Larry J. Williams, Chief of Police, began his duties Monday by taking command of the city's police department. Four of the six patrolmen were hired within the last month under the advice and counsel of Albert Smith, acting chief of police and Lubbock County deputy.

Williams Comments
"I am glad Chief Smith hired these men and I am thankful he ran the department so well while there was a vacancy," said Williams. "I'm happy with the selection of officers. Chief Smith has made it a lot easier for me to walk into this position."

Williams said several residents have asked him what he wants to change in the department. "The only thing I can tell the citizens of Slaton right now is that I promise them professional law enforcement. I don't know if any changes will be necessary, but I will guarantee professional law enforcement."

Williams has an associate in applied science degree in law enforcement from Tarrant County Junior College and has 600 hours special police training. He has earned his basic and intermediate certificates, and is a qualified instructor.

Williams first began his career in police work in Grand Prairie in 1969 when he joined the police force there. At the time of his resignation to come to Slaton, Williams was a detective with the department.

Prairie, a city of 70,000, to Slaton is "quite a change," said Williams, "but I like it here. My wife and children are making plans now for moving to Slaton."

The new chief applied for the Slaton position because he is interested in the administrative end of police work. "Since I got my degree," he said, "I have been wanting to change over to administrative work. I caught wind of the vacancy here and decided to apply."

Of the six man department under Williams, only two officers are not certified and will have to be sent to school. One of the reported bones of contention between the City Commission and at least one of the chief of police applicants was the size of the department. Williams described the department as "adequate right now. As we prove ourselves and the work load increases, there may be a need for more men."

Williams plans to deploy his men on three shifts with two squads running on each shift.

He rates his men and his facilities as "the finest for a town this size I have ever seen." Williams assumed chief of police duties in a police station little more than a year old. Three new department vehicles are less than eight months old.

Officers Named
Working under Williams are officers Bill Casey, Roger Cooper, Lyman Heacock, Joe Hester Jr., Ronny Mull and Mike Whitley. Casey and Cooper are the only two patrolmen who remained with the department following the May firing of Chief Fred Clark.

The new officers come to Slaton from a varied background.

Heacock is from Lubbock. He spent 15 years with Military Operations and Intelligence and was with the Military Police for six months. He also worked for a year for Burns Detective Agency.

Heacock currently is attending South Plains College and studying for a degree in law enforcement.

Hester comes to Slaton from Huntsville, where he was working with the state prison system. He has a two year degree in law enforcement and has served as jailer for the Lubbock Police Department.

Mull, of Plainview, has 80 hours of police schooling. He formerly was with a security agency in Plainview.

Whitley has 480 hours of police school and will shortly finish EMT, emergency medical training school. He previously worked on the Texas Tech University police force.

NEW CHIEF — Larry Williams, who assumed duties Monday, is the new Chief of Police for Slaton. Williams comes to the city from Grand Prairie where he served with the police force there for six years. He was a detective at the time he left the department for his new position. (SLATONITE PHOTO)

HOW PLASTICS FIGHT INFLATION

Plastics is a rapidly expanding industry. Its total sales volume is expected to grow from approximately $23 billion in 1970 to an estimated level of $364 billion in the year 2000. But plastics derive from natural gas and crude oil, just as power does. So, to insure the future of the plastics industry, many people support government action aimed at using alternative sources of energy, such as nuclear and solar, while allocating adequate supplies of petroleum feedstocks to the production of plastics.

SWPS Completes Survey Beard Given Promotion

The Area Development Department of Southwestern Public Service Company has completed a survey of industries in the area served by the electric company.

The first phase of the survey, completed in March, was made in all of the towns that SPS serves in Texas except Amarillo and Lubbock. The second phase of the survey covers these two metropolitan areas.

"The purpose of the survey is to assemble information that will aid in the design of programs to assist existing manufacturers expand their production facilities," commented Larry Milner, Area Development manager for SPS in Amarillo.

The survey, representing 23 communities on the North and South Plains, reveals that 52.4 percent of the existing industries responding to the survey plan future expansion. Forty-seven of the companies surveyed plan expansion within the next 12 months, while another 61 plan expansion in the next three years. During the next five years, 25 more companies plan expansion.

Employment expansion for the near future was projected in the range of 43 percent.

The survey covers general manufacturing, agri-related, and oil and gas related industries, with a total employee representation of more than 14,000. Of this number, about 9,000 are production workers, 1,000 are management employees and the remainder work in clerical or administrative jobs.

In discussing the survey, Milner said, "Some of the major problems faced by industry when planning expansion are labor supply, reduced sales, resources, financing, lack of technical information, transportation, building space, management and air pollution laws. "Helping all the towns in our service area with new and existing industries is one of our primary functions. We feel that the information in this industrial survey will aid us in providing that help," Milner concluded.

Miles Beard, former Training and Diversion Clerk in Santa Fe Railway's District Traffic Office in Amarillo, has been promoted to Management Trainee — Sales, Freight Traffic Department, Chicago, effective July 1. Beard is a graduate of Texas Tech and has been employed with Santa Fe since 1971 working in Lubbock and Slaton before transferring to Amarillo. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lindol H. Beard and he is married to the former Janis Talkmitt of Wilson.

PRaise THE LORD

By LENDA WOOD

Last month in two or three of these columns, we talked quite a bit regarding planting good seeds of faith and expecting them to grow and multiply, in much the same way that we plant seeds of all kinds in the ground and expect them to grow.

Now, let's take a look at another aspect of planting seed. And that is: seeds of doubt and negativism.

How many times have you had some kind of problem or burden and thought in your innermost being "I don't see any way this can be solved." Or maybe someone is ill and as you are praying for them, you think within yourself, "He's never going to get any better." These are not seeds of faith, but seeds of doubt — and these kind of seeds multiply more doubt back to you.

If we cheat someone, then don't be surprised if sometime in the future someone cheats you. If you try to be fair and honest in all of your business dealings, then the Lord will see to it that your business will be taken care of. If you have failed to pay a debt, then sometime someone may fail to pay you.

If you plant seeds of discord, then this discord will be multiplied back to you. If you have doubts and fears, these are multiplied back to you.

If we plant these bad kind of seeds, this would be just like planting weed and Johnson grass seed in our gardens and fields.

On the other hand, if you plant seeds of faith and love for Jesus and our fellow man, these will be multiplied back to you.

"Don't be misled; remember that you can't ignore God and get away with it: a man will always reap just the kind of crop he sows! If he sows to please his own wrong desires, he will be planting seeds of evil and he will surely reap a harvest of spiritual decay and death; but if he plants the good things of the Spirit, he will reap the everlasting life which the Holy Spirit gives him. And let us not get tired of doing what is right, for after a while we WILL reap a harvest of blessing if we don't get discouraged and give up." (Gal. 6:7-9.)

school financing law which stipulates that all property will be so assessed. It was quickly pointed out, however, that this does not mean that Slaton school taxes will be doubled; the tax rate will be lowered when the board sets the new rate in August.

Currently, property is assessed at 50 percent of value, with the rate of $1.85 per $100 valuation.

In a related action, the board named Tommy Davis Jr., M. L. Abernathy and Earl Foerster to the Board of Tax Equalization, which will meet from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday, July 25.

Resignations Given
Also hired Tuesday night was Mrs. Jeanette Moore for fourth grade. Resignations were accepted from Ellen Field, Pat Grochow-sky, Linda Magouirk and McDonald.

Refinishing of the high school gymnasium floor at a cost of about $1,765 was approved, and tentative plans to refinish the junior high gym also were okayed.

Two bids on the Evans School gym were rejected by the board, and Supt. J. C. McClesky's financial report noted that "we still expect to break even this fiscal year."

Board members present were Joe Gamble, president; Paul Mosser, R. C. Hall Jr. and J. Martin Basinger. Absent were Skip Tumlinson, Junior Serenil and Pete Williams.

Expect God to act. For I know that I shall again have plenty of reason to praise him for all that he will do.

What is IRA? Can it be used by everyone?

IRA is the Individual Retirement Account which became effective September 2, 1974. It allows a person to tax shelter a percentage of his income into an IRA qualified plan up to a maximum of 15% or $1,500 whichever is less. No individual who is covered by another IRS approved retirement pension or profit-sharing plan may participate in IRA. These funds may be placed in almost any investment the individual would desire. For example, insurance companies use retirement income life insurance plans and deferred annual premium annuity plans. These are self-trusted and after retirement have a built-in annuity factor that will be advantageous to the individual.

ANGER

One of the most distressing of all the problems a Christian may have in his own life is that of anger. It is rather human to become incensed at people when they fail to do toward us as we think they should — or when they say and do things which we consider to be personal affronts. And yet, to follow Christ, we must learn to hold our anger in check and never allow ourselves to be prompted by such emotions.

Paul tells us that all anger, malice, hatred, etc., are to be put away — that we are to speak in language befitting our profession and edifying to others (Eph. 4:29-32). Sure — many others are thoughtless, selfish, and often malicious, but this offers us an opportunity to display Christ in our lives. After all, the little barbs and insults we receive are nothing compared to the wondrous blessings that are ours.

"Let not the sun go down upon your wrath" (Eph. 4:26).

A sincere welcome is yours at every service of the church of Christ:

USDA Extends Stamp Deadline

Food stamp recipients can use 50-cent, $2 and old $5 food stamps until Aug. 31, the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) announced this week.

USDA introduced a new food stamp series — $1, $5 and $10 — on March 1 with a deadline of June 30 for spending old series food stamps at authorized retail food stores and meal services. The deadline was extended to allow recipients who were issued old coupons in March, April and May adequate time to use them.

Grocers and meal services can redeem old coupons at local banks through Sept. 30.

The change, which was effectively July 1, 1975, will be published in the Federal Register of Wednesday, July 9.

Accent on Health

Add this to the list of things you should try to avoid this summer — ticks.

Ticks, chiggers, mosquitoes, flies, ants, snakes and poison ivy are among the many hazards encountered in the outdoors. One of the pests, or a combination, can help spoil a picnic or camping trip says the Texas Department of Health Resources, formerly known as the Texas State Department of Health.

But aside from being pests which attach themselves to the skin of their victims, often producing infections, ticks can be the carriers of Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

Spotted fever is known by many names, such as "mountain fever", "bull fever", "black fever" or "blue disease."

But however designated, the only known natural transmission of this endemic, potentially severe, febrile disease is through the infective tick. This may be accomplished by contamination with crushed tissues or feces of the tick or, perhaps more commonly, by the actual biting attachment of his disease-carrying pest.

At least two deaths in Texas this year have been credited to Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

One victim was a 41-year-old Tyler man, who apparently picked up ticks in Van Zandt County while working cattle.

A case was clinically diagnosed in a 17-year-old woman, who lived in a rural Cass County setting. Other suspected cases have been investigated.

Rocky Mountain spotted fever got its name because of early experiments with ticks in the Rocky Mountain area at the turn of the century. This has led to the misconception that it is found only in this region, but most cases have been reported from the Eastern United States, Virginia and North Carolina had almost one-third of reported cases in 1974, according to the US

Public Health Service.

Most Texas cases reported to the Bureau of Communicable Disease Services have been from the north-eastern and southeastern areas of the state.

A number of different tick species are found in these areas, according to Paul V. Fournier of the Department's Medical Entomology Division.

However, wrote Fournier in a Texas Health Bulletin article, only a few are thought to be involved in the direct transmission of this disease to man.

Investigations have shown that the three main culprits in Texas are the American dog tick, the lone star tick and the brown dog tick. Although the brown dog tick seldom attaches to man, it is thought that this tick may transmit the disease to canines, and then on to man by other ticks.

Ticks must pass through several stages of development. The basic life cycle includes: eggs, larvae, nymphs and adults. They feed only on blood, and most species must find new hosts or reattach to the same host several times during their life cycle. The tick is well-adapted to survival, and some species may survive for more than a year without feeding, says Fournier.

It has long been known that the rickettsial pathogens of Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever may be passed along from one generation to another through infected eggs. Therefore, any stage of an infected tick can transfer the disease to man.

Completely avoiding ticks would appear to be the ideal way to ward off infestation, but this is too impractical. Farmers, ranchers, foresters, nature lovers — virtually anyone who ventures into the out-of-doors can expect to run into ticks at one time or another.

There are some precautions which can be taken, says Fournier. One of the easiest is to use commercial repellents, which also are effective against chiggers and mosquitoes. Since there is a connection between the length of tick attachment and severity of the disease, it would be well to remove all ticks just as soon as possible.

A thorough inspection of the body should be made as soon as possible after returning from the outdoors. While there is no one recommended manner in removing ticks, use of tweezers is preferred over the fingers. The reason is that the disease can be transferred by crushing the tick while removing it. This is especially true when removing engorged ticks from a pet.

The infectious agent in Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever is the Rickettsia rickettsii — named after the man who pioneered some of the research into the disease.

Because of the rise of the disease in Texas, a tick surveillance program has been established through the Department of Health Resources. The program is in response to the need for determination of the species present in invested areas, and the testing of tick samples for rickettsial pathogens.

FAMILY POT LUCK

Prepare a creamy coleslaw in advance when you plan outdoor entertaining. Combine 1 teaspoon each mustard seed and celery seed, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 1 cup dairy sour cream, 2 tablespoons each minced onion and sugar, and 1/2 teaspoon salt; let stand in the refrigerator several hours to blend flavors. Adjust seasonings to taste and combine with 6 cups finely shredded cabbage. Chill before serving. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Don't overcook rice. Rice is packaged clean and needs no washing before cooking and no rinsing after cooking. Use only the amount of water that rice will absorb in cooking because excess water takes valuable nutrients in the rice with it.

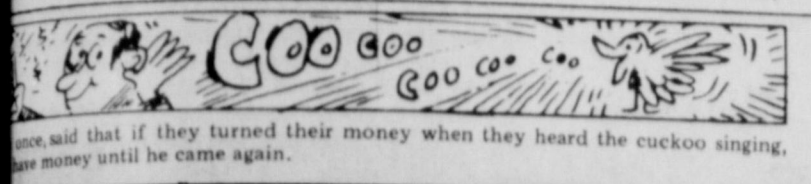

Use a sprinkle of ground aspic to garnish fruits in a salad; to perk up squash, turnips, carrots, beets or sweet potatoes; or to give an added nip to tomato-based sauces.

PATIO SHRIMP SALAD

- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
 - 2 cups milk, divided
 - 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
 - 1/2 cup salad dressing
 - 3 tablespoons vinegar
 - 1-1/2 teaspoons seasoned salt
 - 1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
 - 1 can (4-1/2 oz.) shrimp, drained and dried
 - 1/2 cup finely chopped celery
 - 1/3 cup chopped green pepper
 - 2 tablespoons diced pimiento
 - Salad greens
- Soften gelatin in 1/2 cup milk. Dissolve over low heat. Add remaining milk. Chill until mixture begins to set. Add sour cream, salad dressing, vinegar, salt and horseradish; mix well. Fold in remaining ingredients. Pour into lightly oiled individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve on crisp salad greens. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Tourney In Progress

The 13-year-old Babe Ruth tournament is being held in Slaton this year. Teams competing are Lubbock, Levelland, Morton and Slaton. Monday night Lubbock beat Levelland 10-3.

Slaton beat Morton 7-5 in the second game. Danny Ardrey was the winning pitcher. Jeff McClanahan had a triple and Craig Maberry a double for Slaton. Also getting base hits were Mark Heinrich, Ardrey and Jeff Busby.

Slaton played Lubbock Tuesday. Levelland and Morton will play in the double elimination tournament. The 14-15-year-olds will travel to Morton July 14 to play their game against Levelland at 6:30 p.m.

Iron Indicator
Most men need more calories than women. However, if you're female and between the ages of 22 and 35, you need more iron than they do. For the standard woman in this age group, the recommended allowance for iron is 18 milligrams, while caloric intake is at 2,800. Meat is an excellent source of iron. Liver is the richest food source, an average of three and one-half ounces supplying 18.5 milligrams of this important mineral.

Three To Attend Seminar

Lubbock County Farm Bureau will sponsor three students to the 13th annual Texas Farm Bureau High School Citizenship Seminar July 14-18 on the campus of Baylor University in Waco.

The students going are Robin Dunn of Idalou, Cassy Kitten and Loretta Wolf, both of Slaton.

Purpose of the four-day school is to provide training in the fundamentals of the free enterprise system, how communistic systems work, and basic responsibilities of good citizenship, according to Andrew Kitten of Slaton, president of the local county farm organization.

Some 450 junior and senior high school students from all across Texas are expected to attend the school. Round-trip transportation is provided by chartered buses. Outstanding lecturers are scheduled to address the students. Training will also be provided by films and a panel of young inmates from the Huntsville unit of the Texas penal system.

Carrol Chaloupka, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, and Warren Newberry, executive director, will speak to the group at the opening session, July 14.

Nursing Home News

The Nursing Home Auxiliary held its regular monthly meeting with several in attendance.

Plans were made for the July birthday party and bingo. The party will be Monday, at 2:30. We would be very happy if families and friends would come to help celebrate these birthdays.

Those who have birthdays in July are Fala Moeller, 7-3-02; Charlie Biggs, 7-13-86; R. J. Maeker, 7-13-93; Lizzie English, 7-25-88; Louise Cox, 7-29-02; Bertha Walker, 7-29-95; Florence Childress, 7-31-90; and Tennie Smallwood, 7-31-91.

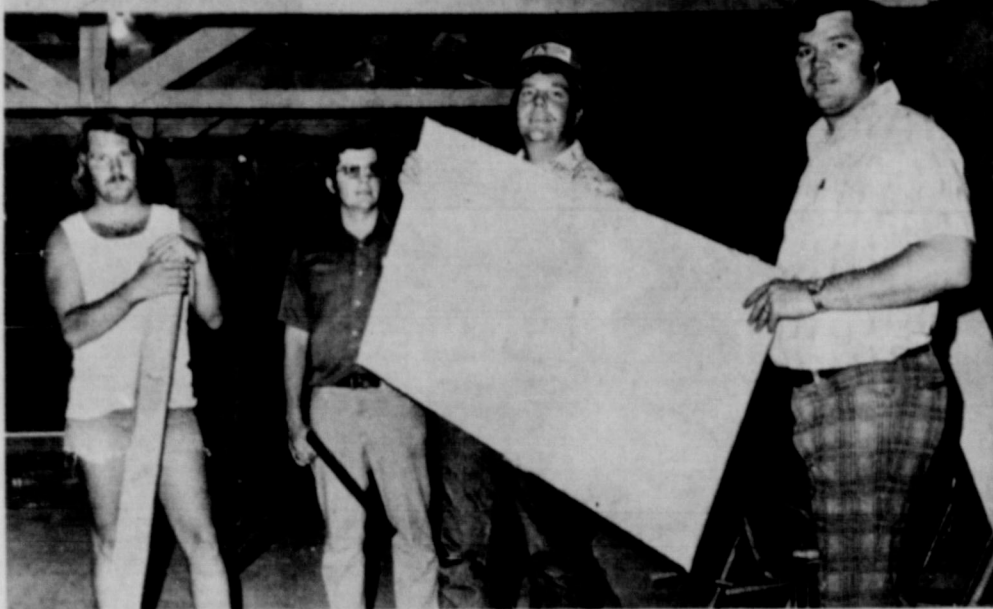

The Nursing Home had a booth at the July 4th celebration. Some of our employees and residents represented the Home and displayed some of the crafts and pictures of the residents. We have added a new picnic table and our patio, donations. They have really enjoyed the picnics and will be on the outside.

Assault Cases Reported Here

Two incidents of assault and several moving violations were investigated by city police last week.

Charges of simple assault were filed against a man here by the man's brother. He was fined $27.50.

A case of aggravated assault which occurred Friday is still under investigation, pending a decision from the District Attorney.

A Slaton teenaged girl reported an obscene phone call Monday, saying the caller tried to disguise his voice to sound Spanish. She was advised to make another report to the department if she received another call.

Officers stopped a speeding car at 100 W. Dayton Sunday and charged the driver with driving while intoxicated. At the time, they discovered an open knife in the driver's right front pocket.

A fight at New Mexico and Dayton Saturday night resulted in one man being charged with public intoxication and the other spending the night in Mercy Hospital for observation. According to police reports, the men were fighting with a broken bottle.

Police recovered a bike stolen from a Slaton resident in May, and also recovered a stolen auto. The car, stolen from Lubbock, was discovered on the parking lot of Piggly Wiggly Sunday.

Still under investigation at this time is a report by Virginia Smith that $30 was stolen from the Steakhouse.

Women's C-C 'Rock' Success

The Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce met Monday at 1:15 with nine members present.

The president, Mrs. Louise Smith, presided, reporting the Rock-A-Thon at the July 4th Celebration was a success and met the goal set by the women. The net amount of money collected was $117.16, with half of this going to the hospital, one-fourth to the Bicentennial and the remainder to the Chamber.

It was decided to replant flowers in front of the Chamber office to replace the ones that have died.

New members who have paid dues are Gladys Haral, Helen Dunn and Myrtle Klattenhoff.

The material for jackets has arrived at Anthony's at only $2 per yard. All members are urged to get their jackets made as soon as possible.

The Women's Chamber officials expressed their appreciation to Self Furniture for the use of the rockers for the Rock-A-Thon and Slaton Lumber Co. for the material for the platform, and to all who rocked, and to the musicians and all others who helped make the project a success.
