Several items were discussed but little action was taken during Tuesday's meeting of the City Commission.

The only item voted on was the February bills. which the commission approved to pay.

A contract with Southwestern Public Service for the city's street lights was postponed until the commission could study the situation further. The new contract calls for a 14.9 per cent increase in the overall charge for street lighting. City Secretary Alex Webb said the increase would

Clinic Zone Decision Due

There will be a special called meeting of the Slaton City Commission Friday at 2 p.m. in the City Hall Corporation Court Room.

The commissioners will pass on a recommendation for the rezoning of two lots east of the Handy Hut for the building of a clinic by Dr. Ernesto Maldia.

The Zoning Board voted 5-0 to recommend the rezoning from R-I to R-3 so that the clinic can be built.

Approximately 10 citizens appeared at the first meeting of the Zoning Board to protest the rezoning peti-

The commissioners decided to survey the street lights and see if there is any way to offset the increase. Commissioner Otis Neill suggested that some of the street lights could be removed and Commissioner J. P. Spears agreed. Therefore the commission plans to investigate the situation.

Walking Beat Another item which came up for discussion was the man. The commission had previously asked a Slaton man to take the job, but he declined. They are still looking for someone to hire.

The commission is also looking into a complaint that the city traffic lights are not

Crown Life Insurance, which handles the city employes' insurance, is requesting a 29 per cent increase. The commission decided to look into the situation and possibly put out bids for insurance.

The final item of business came from Webb, who said he felt he should let the commission know of the current situation with water cutoffs. He said the city's customers were not treating the city with the same courtesy they gave the gas and electric companies.

According to Webb, Pioneer Natural Gas averages 20 cutoffs a month, and Southwestern Public Service averages 10.

"But," said Webb, "We are having more than 100 a month. The people just aren't paying their bills.

Webb cited a list of statistics which showed the city cutoffs to be: July, 111; August, 103; Sept., 153; Oct., 152; Nov., 138; Dec., none, (the city did not make cutoffs in that month); Jan., 93; and Feb., 114.

Notices sent those months were 512, 336, 615, 448, 536, 591, 484 and 539. Webb said the cost of cutoffs and cut ons needed to be raised and he said he felt the city should start enforcing its 30-day nonpayment period.

"The other utilities are not having this trouble," said Webb. "There's no reason we should. People come in here daily and threaten us and they threaten our men who go to cut off service. It's a difficult situation and I feel we need to be a little stronger in enforcing our rules.' The commission agreed with Webb, authorizing him to add an additional man to the cutoff service.

Teachers Rehired; Calendar Is Set

Slaton School board Tuesday night voted to rehire teachers in the system without knowing how much they'll pay them, approved a list of textbooks for use in the schools next year, agreed to have the tax rolls computerized and conducted a five-hour session in which there was no smoking.

were left open, since the legislature currently is involved in a hassle over several proposed school financing plans, and teacher salary schedules would vary with each plan. For the same reason, Supt. J. C. McClesky told the board Tuesday, it would be difficult to set up a budget for Slaton schools at this time. since action on the financing plans still are pending. Meeting At Lubbock

It was noted that State Sen. Kent Hance would preside over a meeting at Texas Tech's Business Administration Building beginning at 1 p.m. when all the school financing plans would be discussed. Any interested person is invited to

According to local school officials, adoption of Gov. Dolph Briscoe's school financing plan would hurt the Slaton school district badly and cause taxes to double without a corresponding increase in benefits to the system. The plan reportedly would primarily benefit the large urban districts in the state.

The board voted to contract with the Education Service Center in Lubbock to prepare Slaton ISD tax roll, at a cost to the district of $1,800 the first year and about $750 per year thereafter.

Administrative Assistant Joe Sparkman presented recommendations for textbooks and these were adopted by the board.

A second tentative report on the Slaton schools' selfevaluation project, underway since last summer, has been completed, the board was advised, and a group of three outside educators will be in Slaton next week to make their own observations of the school setup here. After they have made their suggestions, the report will be rewritten for the third time and then recommendations will be made by the local steering committee as to what can be done to upgrade the schools in specific areas.

Objectives Outlined By Chamber

Slaton Chamber of Commerce board of directors Tuesday morning studied a list of proposed objectives designed to benefit the community and agreed to contact all chamber members to see which members could help in which area.

The listed objectives included studies on Slaton's needs in housing, education, recreational facilities, municipal services, trade facilities, industry, transportation and water projects.

The group also discussed support for Dr. Ernesto Maldia's plans to build a clinic in Slaton and discussed the school financing plans before the legislature. The C-C board agreed to study the various plans and contact legislators in regard to what would be best for Slaton and districts of comparable size.

Files have been prepared on approximately 40 houses in the area and now the owners of the property have to be contacted and informed that their buildings have been declared fire and health hazards. Mary Frances Browning did the work compiling the files. Each of the houses has been inspected by a health inspector, building inspector and the fire marshal. Each file contains a picture of the house and a detailed description of its condition. 'You just wouldn't believe these houses," said Mrs. Ruiz. "Most of them have burned at one time and now there is just a shell. There's broken glass and metal and all kinds of dangerous things in them. It's not safe for the kids to

First One

The city owned building was the first to be demolished because permission was easily obtained from the city. One other house is slated for destruction soon because the owner is a Lubbock attorney and he is willing to have the property cleaned.

Other owners will be contacted by letters which advise them that "the building on the lot is in such a dilapidated condition that it is a fire and health hazard and a community

Read Matthew 6:25-30

'Look at the birds of the air: they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them." (Matthew 6:26)

We used to be amused by an acquaintance of our family, yet sorry for her. After her husband's death, although she had been well provided for, her anxiety had brought her to an eccentric state of mind. She denied herself many comforts she could have afforded, and her pennypinching habits were often ridiculous.

'If I knew how long I would live," she often told our mother, "I'd know how much I could spend." This woman had been provided with worldly goods, but had not cultivated much faith.

In the depression years, when our mother was left to provide for us, a family of seven children, her faith brought us through. "The Lord will provide," she told us. She often reminded us of our debt of gratitude to God that she was enabled to provide for and educate us.

God holds in His hands the number of our days. How wonderful that He also knows our needs, and our supply is in His hands!

Prayer - Dear, loving Father, who created the tree ripe with fruit and field with grain, I come with open hands and loving trust in Thy goodness. In Jesus' name 1 offer grateful thanks. Amen.

Thought for the day - The God who cares about sparrows will surely care for you and me.

TEXAS

TALK By FRED

MYERS CBS Television in their regular program called "60 Minutes" took some time last month to talk about grass-fed cattle. Charles E. Ball, executive V-P of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association told Texas Talk why he wrote a letter to CBS taking exception to some of the comments. Mr. Ball indicated the program implied that feeding grain to cattle was immoral. Saying that grain not fed to cattle would not prevent starvation in another part of the world, Mr. Ball pointed to the practical problems of transportation, storage and economics as factors which would prevent the grain from reaching starving people. Ball said the cattleman is already using grassland as effectively as possible without intensifying the energy problem (use of fer-tilizer). Other points were made by Mr. Ball including the fact that much of the grain fed to cattle is not suitable for human consumption. Many of us will be watching now to see if a reply to his letter is forth-

SUNDAY'S A SERMON

Let Your Light So Shine To your children, your neighbors. friends, relatives and strangers? Just what kind of example are

This is no simple question requiring a simple "no-thought" answer. It is an important question that we must all ask of our selves from time to time to find out where we stand and where the people who are responsible for stand spiritually in our relationship to God. Now is the time to think about just what kind of an example we are.

Are we furthering God's kingdom or are we caught up in the materialistic battle for for and more worldly things? Are we spreading God's love or just desiring pleasure and more convenience? God wants us to be an example before men of His glory. What kind of example are you?
