

Lack Of Cooperation Blamed For Farm Tenant Turnover

Chief reason for the turn over in farm tenancy is due to a lack of cooperation between the landlord and tenant, L. H. Thomas, member of the advisory committee, said at the FSA hand-lord-tenant meeting here.

By keeping tenants on a place for a reasonable length of time, the productivity of the land is increased, he contended, and said that this worked hand in hand with a program of boosting productivity of the land of Howard county, which has jumped from 113 lint pounds of cotton per acre in 1934 to 184 up to last year. The FSA program to aid farmers, and particularly that for longer leases, is not charity but a means of "helping" farmers who cannot help themselves," he declared.

Through FSA, said Walter Robinson, also a committee member, the government is helping those who need help, and he believed that the longer lease move "is a great thing."

Mrs. Girdy F. Flache, home supervisor, pointed out that statistics show that it costs the farmer and landlord a minimum of $75 each when ever a move is made, that the percentage of turnover on one-year leases is exceptionally high, and that money saved through not having to move is money earned.

U. G. Higgin, a FSA client, told how he had come to this county four years ago without contacts or means of aid. Through FSA he was able to finance his farm program and concluded that "I am proud to be a FSA farmer."

Stevenson Backs Livestock Shows

FORT WORTH, Jan. 28—Stock shows deserve support and encouragement during wartime as never before, Governor Coke Stevenson said today in a statement to his fellow Texans.

"With the nation at war," Governor Stevenson said, "the livestock industry has assumed greater importance this year as the farmers and ranchers go about the task of producing more meat and other food for our armed forces, our allies, and our civilian population."

"Therefore, any agency—such as stock shows—which offers graphic demonstrations of ways and means of increasing meat and allied products deserve every support and encouragement."

"Speaking as one who has had some experience in the livestock industry, I recognize that many benefits will come to the nation as a whole as a result of the continuation of expositions during the war."

Soldier Claims Churchill Kin CHANUTE FIELD, Ill. — He's not a visitor on a mission, but First Sergeant Eugene Winston Churchill is at Chanute Field just the same. The sergeant, who claims to be a relative of British Prime Minister, says his grandparents came to America from England in 1860.

A new unit has been established in the department of commerce to aid small business during the war period.

Yields Listed For Cotton Insurance

Taking of cotton insurance applications in Howard county depends upon completion of figures showing the normal yields of the various farms.

M. Weaver, AAA administrative officer, said Tuesday that normal yields for 582 farms had been determined by averaging production for the last several years. This determines what is known as the historical yield.

On other farms, estimates must be made based on other available information.

The historical yield on these 582 farms for which full records were available amounted to 184 pounds per acre average. This means that insurance may be written to cover up to 75 per cent of that amount of cotton per acre.

The preliminary insurance rate has been fixed at 8.5 pounds of cotton per acre, on the average farm. Weaver estimates that when final statistics are gathered, the farmer will usually pay about 8.5 pounds of cotton to insure harvest or reimbursement for 100 pounds. All premiums are paid in terms of pounds of cotton. The farmer may actually forward the cotton, or the cash equivalent based on markets of that day. If his crop is lost, the government will either pay him in actual cotton or in its cash equivalent according to markets of that day.

The farmer might insure his crop with 20 cent cotton and collect his insurance in 10 cent cotton; on the other hand, the government might get 10 cent cotton in premiums and when paying off find the price up to 20 cents.

The cotton insurance system works just like that for wheat. When cotton is paid in for premiums the cotton is stored; of cash premiums are paid, that amount of money is spent by the government for cotton to be placed in storage.

If a farmer loses his crop and puts in a claim for 10 bales of cotton, the government either sends him 10 actual bales of cotton or sells 10 bales from its storage and sends him the cash.

Thus the "ever-normal granary" plan is carried out. In good years cotton and wheat go into warehouses; in bad years they come out. It is intended to thus create a price leveling effect for the market as a whole, as well as to level off the farmer's income for the various years.

Marine Corps Will Take Married Men

The United States Marine Corps has announced that they are now accepting for enlistment married men and men with dependents. Wives or other dependents must sign an affidavit that they will not require contributions beyond the applicants' ability as a private in the Marine Corps. The recruiting officer may act as notary public for the affidavit.

"Married men and ex-Marines who are now married have been trying to join the Marines but couldn't under existing standards. This news will be welcomed by hundreds of men who wanted to join the Marines for the duration," Major J. D. O'Leary said. "They have all wanted action fast and so they came right to the Marine Corps. I am happy that we can now accept them for enlistment, and we will send them off for training as soon as their papers are signed. Our age limit is still 30 years and 35 for ex-Marines."

Biggest Task Nation Ever Faced Calls For Our Finest Response

If our conception has heretofore been unable to grasp the scope of this war, more understanding is thrown upon the subject with the revelation that a new AEF already is enroute to Ireland, and the announcement by President Roosevelt that there are "six... eight... ten" American expeditionary forces in various localities of the world.

The immensity of American military operations, which so far overshadow those of the first world war, adds strength to the various official pronouncements that ours will be an army of seven million men before we are through. It will take great manpower to fight our war on the far-flung sectors of the world. It will take great naval power to transport and supply these armies. It will take the nation's utmost in propulsion to feed, clothe and equip this naval and military strength. We are engaged in a campaign of the scope never before seen and probably never even imagined. And it was only a few short months ago that we, in authorizing selective service, were limiting our armies to combat in the western hemisphere and to U.S. possessions! Only a few short months ago we were boastfully committed to a program of equipping an army and at the same time carrying on "business as usual."

Hollywood Sights And Sounds-- Socialites Work At Movie Jobs

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD -- If there's anything less exciting than the Social Register these days it hasn't crossed this desk, but I saw a pretty girl on the "Moon Tides" set and first thing I knew I was knee-deep again in my undercover investigation of the Register and What Is It?

The pretty girl turned out to be the same one I'd seen on the set of "Roxie Hart" a couple of weeks before, only she looked different now because then she was a murderess in 1927 clothes and now she was just a pretty girl in slacks, painting up her lips on the sidelines while Jean Gabin married Ida Lupino on a fishing barge. Helene Reynolds, her name is--or Helene Fortescue Reynolds, as she used to put it.

So we got to whispering, during these Gable-Lupino marriages, about the S. R. and the gals it kept sending to the movies--or seeming, dropping as soon as they sent themselves to the movies. Miss Reynolds, who was a Washington, D. C. Fortescue before she married and divorced the tobacco tinofol scion, volunteered that she had been "dropped." She sounded a little as if that were a point of pride with her, and it struck me that most of the drop-ees talk the same way.

Lions Report Buying Bonds

Fifty-five of 70 persons present Wednesday at the Lions club meeting have purchased $9,560.80 in defense bonds and stamps. It was announced following a survey. J. B. Collins, county stamp and bond chairman, who spoke briefly at the meeting, had the survey made as a part of a series of programs before all service clubs this week.

Like the time I had Cobina Wright, Jr., on the telephone, probing into this S. R. business, and I heard Mamma Wright, or Senior, telling Junior to be sure to tell me that she was "dropped." Junior said, "Oh, Mother, they all know I've been dropped." -- just as if she didn't want to brag about it any more.

miss conversationally, does (P) stand for?" He explained, as patiently as if everyone didn't know. Then he said, "You can help me, too. This Junior League now -- junior to what?" But Hollywood does have a flock of socialites, and they seem to be working harder at their jobs than their sisters at an earlier movie day did. Jane Wyatt, a sweet little actress in or out of the Register, is such a hard worker, successful too, even a soap-box pink couldn't complain. Cobina, Jr., struggling along without Blue Book approval, has been getting that option lifted as regularly as some movie faces have been, and this Reynolds girl, why--

Test May Come Soon -- City Passes Blackout Ordinance

Observance of any blackout Big Spring might stage--or might have to stage--has become a matter of law. The city commission Tuesday night adopted, with the emergency clause, an ordinance providing rules and regulations for air raid protection and specifying a fine of up to $100 for violation.

The ordinance, full terms of which will be published soon, conforms in general with those being adopted by other cities, and fits in with federal and state regulations and those set up by

What It Means -- Lewis And Labor Peace

JOHN L. LEWIS 'You're just another guy named John, now.'

PHILIP C. MURRAY Lewis pelt nailed to the bars door.

By JOHN GROVER The spectacle of usually fire-breathing John L. Lewis assaying the role of peace dove between the CIO and AFL labor groups has deeper meaning--it may well be the test of Lewis' ultimate power as a labor boss. Lewis twice bet on the wrong horse. First, he tried to lead labor away from President Roosevelt in 1940. Then he espoused isolationism. Neither failure enhanced his prestige. A lesser man might have been sunk by either fiasco. The indomitable Mr. Lewis, however, remains the most colorful and forceful personality in the labor movement. His perfectly-timed call for labor peace puts his allies in the administration, the AFL and his own CIO camp on the spot.

His enemies can't lambast Lewis for that. It's something they've been urging for months. Lewis just timed his announcement better and stole opposition thunder. It came at a moment to strike a popular chord. Now, if labor peace is achieved, Lewis will get a lion's share of the credit for publicly initiating it. Evidence that Lewis pulled a fast one and caught everybody off base came from Philip Murray, his successor as CIO president. Murray went along, and said the CIO executive board would consider the proposal Jan. 24. He added tartly, however, that "necessarily (arrangements for the parity) will have to be made through the office of the president of the CIO."

But the fact remains Lewis got the jump on the boys. Stories that he had already made a deal with powerful AFL factions were also published. They were denied but not by Lewis. He had "no comment." It's a good guess that CIO and AFL will get together. There are a lot of kinks to be ironed out, but the move is logical and would vastly increase the power and position of organized labor at a time when labor's plea for a voice in management of war production is under serious consideration. A Case of Simple Arithmetic OLYMPIA, Wash.--Scrap steel is needed for war production, but city officials are in a quandary over salvaging old trolley tracks buried under several inches of asphalt. It will cost about $4 to recover every 50 cents worth of steel. Motorists "Share a Ride" WHEELING, W. Va.--A "share a ride exchange" was established by the Wheeling Automobile club today to cope with the curtailment of rubber and automobiles. It is estimated motorists in the Wheeling area will save $100,000 a year.

Hawaii's Natural Beauty Hides Machines Of Death

HONOLULU, Jan. 29 (AP)—Behind a screen of beauty, Oahu island lies waiting with new and deadly instruments of destruction—waiting for the enemy that once sought it unaware.

Towering ironwood and monkey-pod and algaena trees, dense growths of guava bushes, and flamboyant orchids and hibiscus shield from all prying eyes formidable defense installations.

From the clean-washed beaches to the towering plateau, the island's hills and valleys bristle with guns under the camouflage provided by nature.

Transplanted Americans—Little Italy Makes War On Big Italy

(These are difficult times for America's German, Italian and Japanese populations, whose loyalty to their native lands and adopted country are tested daily. This is the first of three articles on the effects of war in New York's Little Italy, Milwaukee's German section and Los Angeles' Little Tokyo.)

By FRED BROWNING
AP Feature Service Writer
NEW YORK—Italy is at war with America. So, Italy is at war with Little Italy.

It's as simple as that to the Italians—naturalized and alien—who live down in the lower East Side section of New York that's known as Little Italy.

Some of them can't put their thoughts into very good English—many can't even speak the language, but they're anxious to relay what they think through those who do know the words.

Spent a few minutes in Michele Ferrino's cobbler shop on narrow, push-cart cluttered Mott street and you get the idea.

Fought For Italy
Michele, an alien, has been down there—just a half hour away from Ellis Island—since 1920, just after the World War. He was in that war, in the Italian ranks, with the Brescia Brigade of the 19th Infantry. For five years he fought alongside his Italian countrymen.

It was hard to think that his old country might some day be at war with his new land. But then came the Japanese attack—and Italy's declaration of war. Now:

"I wish I was young enough to join up with the United States army. Italy, now is part of the common enemy.

Michele doesn't have any children. But Pietro Marcello, a longshoreman friend visiting in the shop, does—and he was anxious to talk about them.

"My boy, Sam, is 28. He's I-A, has received his induction notice. Another boy, Fido, has volunteered. I wish I could. Life here is good, better than in any other country. This is our country now, our life.

"Italy? What have we, now, to do with that country?"
A woman customer dropped in and Michele asked her what she thought about it.

"We are ready to give our lives if necessary," she said. "We came to America to find better living conditions—not to have two countries to divide our patriotism. I have two children. One of them will be called into the army soon. I would be proud to have both fight against our nation's enemies—and Italy is an enemy."
That's the general reaction in Little Italy to questions about the

Michele Ferrino's Cobbler Shop In Little Italy
"We must hate our mother country."

war situation. Responses aren't always so spontaneous, nor so enthusiastic.

Is Hard
A few, like one of Little Italy's merchants, have trouble with their answers. He shrugged his shoulders, looked out the window to hide his tear-filled eyes and said:

"What is there for an Italian to say? We must hate our mother country? It is hard. But we must." A few blocks away at the office of Il Progresso Italo-Americano, Giuseppe Pope's newspaper for Italo-Americans, they're anxious to point out that you don't have to depend on words for proof of Italian loyalty.

They cite that of the 800 axis aliens rounded up for hearing before the alien enemy board in New York City.

Little Italy's reaction to the war, says Il Progresso, is typical of Italian reaction all over the five boroughs of the city, where there are nearly 2,000,000 Italo-Americans.

Belched Hot Liquids Endured Much Misery Till Hoyt's Helped Hoyt's Compound Seemed To Act On All My Ailments Immediately Says Mr. Clark of San Angelo.

Mr. R. W. Clark of 815 East Eighth Street, San Angelo, Texas, says: "For the last four months I suffered untold misery from constipation, indigestion, gas and bloating. After every meal the gas and sourness would start, causing me to belch hot liquids. I could not eat beans, fried eggs or potatoes without suffering this misery. My kidneys did not function properly, and I would arise several times nights. I had pains in my back and was very nervous.

"Since taking Hoyt's Compound, I want to say that I have never found a medicine that seemed to act on all of these conditions at once. My bowels are regulated, there is not even a trace of indigestion, gas and bloating. The sourness and belching have stopped. I eat anything. My kidneys are normal again, and I no longer arise nights. Words cannot express how happy I am to have found Hoyt's!"

Hoyt's Compound is recommended and sold by the Collins Drug Store and by leading drug stores everywhere.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 29 (AP)—An air liner carrying Enrique Ruiz Guinazu, foreign minister of Argentina, and other delegates from the Rio De Janeiro Pan American conference fell into the sea today but all aboard were saved.

Midland Man Faces U.S. Indictment

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Jan. 29 (AP)—A federal grand jury yesterday indicted Jeffie W. Jones of Midland, Tex., on a charge of interstate transportation of a stolen car.

He was driving a car stolen in Texas. FBI records showed he had served sentences in Texas for army desertion, auto theft and forgery.

J. L. Dalton, special agent in charge of the Iowa FBI office, said Jones had posed as Lieut. J. M. Stovall, Jr., using credentials of a Houston, Tex., business man whose pocket had been picked.

Woman Guilty Of Poisoning Husband

CROSBYTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—Mrs. Nancy Lucille Edge, 49, was found guilty of poisoning her physician husband, Dr. C. L. Edge, and sentenced to five years in prison by a district court jury last night.

Frost is unknown in Bermuda and vegetation remains green throughout the year, the department of commerce says.

Hitler Ready To Listen To Officers?

LONDON, Jan. 29. (AP)—The anti-German language newspaper Die Weltung published in London, will say tomorrow that a compromise reached by Adolf Hitler and certain elements of the German high command is "equivalent to an admission on the part of Hitler that he is unable to carry on the eastern (Russian) campaign without the aid of experienced strategists."

An extract from the newspaper, circulated today by the British ministry of information, declares that commands of the conservative generals von Boek, von Runstedt, von Leeb and others "have been confirmed and they are now in charge of new armies."

Pot Luck Suppers Will Give You Chance To Revive Homespun Foods

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE, AP Features Service Writer. Pot-luck suppers featuring old-fashioned, homespun foods will give you a party that probably will get down to fundamentals—lots of good, cheerful, friendly conversation and possibly a song fest early in the evening.

They don't take a lot of planning and if your time is allocated to so many activities that you haven't much to spare, you'll find it comparatively easy to fit such a party into your schedule.

The cost, too, is surprisingly low for a table that sparkles with brilliant relishes—pickled beets, jellied grapefruit, salad and cranberry sauce—and fancy-looking dishes to tempt jaded palates.

SAVORY BEEF POT PIE: If more convenient, start the day before and finish it at dinner time. Cut 3 pounds of any economy beef cut (chuck, neck, flank) into inch cubes.

1-3 cup chopped onion, 1-3 cup chopped carrot, 1-3 cup chopped celery, 1-3 cup chopped parsley, 1-3 cup chopped green pepper, 1-3 cup chopped mushrooms, 1-3 cup chopped tomatoes, 1-3 cup chopped celery salt, 1 crushed bay leaf, 3 tablespoons finely chopped onion, 3 eggs water. Cover tightly, simmer 2 hours.

Mix 2 cups each cooked dried carrots and small lima beans, 1-3 cup dried cooked celery, 2 tablespoons parsley, 1 teaspoon salt. Add to meat, cook slowly 10 minutes. Pour into 2 buttered baking dishes. Cover with "doughnuts" or rounds cut from rich biscuit dough.

Bake 30 minutes in moderately hot oven (375). This will serve 8 or 9 guests.

French Fried Asparagus: 1 box (12 oz.) quick-frozen asparagus stalks, 1/4 cup rolled crumbs, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1-3 teaspoon pepper, 1 egg or 2 yolks, beaten, 2 tablespoons milk.

FRUIT SNOW PUDDING: Soak 2 tablespoons granulated gelatin in 1-3 cup orange or pineapple juice for 10 minutes. Add 1 cup boiling water, stir until gelatin dissolves. Mix in cup sugar, 1-3 cup lemon juice.

3-3 cup orange juice, 1-3 teaspoon salt. Chill until thick and syrupy. Beat until frothy. Lightly fold in 4 beaten egg whites with 2 tablespoons sugar added. Beat until peaks form. Pour into mold lined with orange sections. Chill.

Unmold, cover and surround with chilled custard sauce lemon and vanilla flavored with a little toasted coconut, or sweetened whipped cream or a thick orange-apple sauce.

HAMBURGERS ON TOASTED BUNS: Spread with butter, horseradish and chili sauce are easy to do and inexpensive. Blend 1 pound ground beef, 1-3 pound each ground veal and pork or smoked ham, 1-3 teaspoon salt, 1-3 teaspoon pepper, 1-4 teaspoon poultry seasoning, 2 tablespoons each finely chopped onion, celery and parsley or green pepper, 1 egg beaten, and 2 tablespoons cream. Shape into half-inch cakes. Brown quickly in a small amount of fat. Cover and cook 10 minutes.

To broil hamburgers, brush with melted butter, broil until brown, turn to the other sides, brush with more butter and brown. Reduce heat, cook 7 minutes.

Club Told Of Bible's Virtues

Seven things stand out about the Bible, seven things that the Bible has to say about itself, the Rev. Dick O'Brien said in a brief address before the Lions club Wednesday.

In reality the Bible is a sacred library, as its name implies, he said. It is the product of some 40 writers over 1500 years at the inspiration of one author—God.

The Bible contains no discrepancies if one really understands what it says, continued the Rev. O'Brien. All flaws are found in the light of open study, to be imaginary. It is not a book of science, but what it has to say about science is proven fact so far as can be discerned, he added.

From the 89th chapter of Psalms he quoted scripture which accurately described the Pearl Harbor incident. He quoted more that he said was prophecy of tanks, of cars, and in Isaiah 2:15 he found testimony of the current tire rationing.

Seven things which the Bible says about itself, according to the speaker, were: 1) It is scripture, 2) law, 3) hammer (a constructive builder when correctly used), 4) fire, 5) sword, 6) mirror, and 7) a lamp and a light.

Curting, a national Scottish game, was introduced in the 16th century from the low countries.

Occupational Deferments More Strict

Men who have been classified as 2-B with the selective service henceforth will have the same status as those classified 3-A, Bruce Frazier, chief clerk, said Tuesday after receiving instructions from state headquarters.

Previously 2-A meant a man had a six-months occupational deferment. The 2-B classification meant the deferment was permanent as long as he remained in a certain type of work. Now the 2-B must be re-examined every six months.

Other selective service news Tuesday included the appointment of Margaret McDonald to succeed Mrs. Olive Chumley Crossland, who resigned her post as secretary to the board to move to New Orleans.

It also was announced that more volunteer registrars are needed for R-Day on Feb. 16. Those wishing to serve without pay should call the selective service office and leave their names and telephone numbers. Tentatively it is planned to have boxes at the American Legion hall in Coshoma and at the school in Forsan. There also will be one at Kate Morrison school in the northwest quarter of town in addition to others required here.
