Farmers To Hold Meeting Soon

Issues and problems of paramount importance to producers in meeting wartime food and fiber goals will be discussed by farmers of this area in a meeting at Lubbock Thursday, October 7.

The meeting is sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation as one of a series over the state to consider current questions and issues affecting agriculture.

Problems to be discussed will include farm labor, machinery and supplies, price ceilings, subsidies and rollbacks, and the Pace parity bill, which would include farm labor costs in calculating parity prices of farm products. This measure, which was passed by the House at the last session of Congress, but failed of passage in the Senate, is expected to be introduced again during the present session.

The Texas Farm Bureau Federation strongly supported the Pace bill when it was before Congress last winter, and plans for mobilizing the full strength of Texas farmer opinion behind the measure when it comes up this time will be discussed at this meeting.

Principal speakers will be J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation; Judge C. C. Randle of Ellis county, chairman of the state committee on membership; R. G. Arnold, representing the American Farm Bureau Federation, and C. B. Ray, organization and cooperative marketing specialist of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service. Round table discussions will follow the talks.

W. R. Ison of Brownfield, member of the state board of directors from this district, will preside. The meeting will start at 10 a. m., in the Hotel Lubbock at Lubbock.

War Bond Sales Slow Up Here

Reports from the postoffice and the Citizens State Bank show that the people of this section of the county have not purchased their quota of War Bonds. While there has been a fair amount of Bonds purchased and would have been a good showing under conditions as they were several months ago, the people have not met the 3rd War Loan Drive with the purchases that have been made in many parts of the state and of Lubbock County, but perhaps we can make up for it says Postmaster Scudder, who hopes the people will not let up as they did right after the 2nd War Loan Drive.

Former Mayor Visits Slaton

Among the visitors in Slaton this week was R. J. Murray, who was Mayor of the town in its early days. Mr. Murray visited in the home of Mrs. W. H. Proctor and with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Pinkston.

Mr. Murray is an official of the Farm Security Administration and his duties require him to visit many parts of the Union, but he says that Slaton is the best town he has ever lived in and hopes to return here to make his home at some future date.

AAA Advises More Terracing

COLLEGE STATION -- Because farmers need to use every practice that has been proved to conserve soil fertility and increase farm production, E. F. Vance, state AAA administrative officer, is asking county AAA forces to cooperate with county agents, soil conservation service technicians, and local vocational teachers, in organizing terracing programs in all of the hill counties of the State.

Under the 1943 AAA farm program farmers can earn 80 cents per 100 linear feet of standard terrace established. Last year Texas (Continued on Page 8).

Appeal is Made to Reduce Fire Hazards in Slaton

Slaton Now 4,000 Compared to 3,587 in Census of 1940

That Slaton is growing in population in spite of the fact that there are no war time industrial or war training activities here and in spite of the fact that hundreds of our young men and women have gone into the armed services or into war factories, is shown by statistics on water, electric power and gas connections at the present time compared with those in 1940 when the last census was taken.

According to the records of the Southwestern Public Service Company there were 754 power connections to residences in 1940, 766 in 1941, 801 in 1942 and on September 1st, 1943, there were 835 residential connections. The commercial and industrial connections showed that on Sept. 1st, 1940, there were 145 and on Sept. 1st of this year, 154.

At the City Hall, City Secretary Earnest Ward stated that he did not have an accurate record of water or sewer connections, but that he estimates that there are between 50 and 100 more than in the latter part of 1940. Some houses were moved out of Slaton after 1940 and some new ones built, many home owners have enlarged their homes to make apartments and practically every house that is habitable, is occupied at the present time. Mr. Ward says that the population would be considerably greater if we had more homes to accommodate those who would like to move from congested areas to Slaton.

R. H. Spikes, local manager of the West Texas Gas Company, reports that approximately 50 more gas connections are on their lines in Slaton than there were in 1940, but he called attention to the fact that no additional gas mains had been laid in Slaton since 1940 and to the fact that none could be laid until war restrictions are raised.

However, he said that he feels sure that a great many more gas customers would be on the records if all of those who desire the conveniences of natural gas could be reached.

The gas connections at the present time are over 800 which when taken into consideration with the electric power residential connections and compared with the figures of 1940, bear out the estimates of those who are in a position to know, that Slaton now has a population of 4,000, as compared with 3,587 in 1940.

When this is taken into consideration, together with the fact that Slaton will suffer no set back when the war is over on account of the closing of war time activities, but on the other hand, will become more active when our young men and women return to their homes, then those of us who are keeping

In His Majesty's Service

THERE was seldom an hour during the months he was a steward at H.M.C.S. King's College in Halifax that Petty Officer Woodfield didn't think about pigeons.

Today Woodfield is a petty officer in the R.C.N.'s communications branch. On the West Coast he has a newly constructed pigeon loft overlooking the sea.

A little over a year ago Woodfield wrote a letter to his commanding officer. It was about pigeons and how they could serve the Navy.

In his letter Woodfield had said some things which might have aroused not only surprise — but doubt! For instance, he said he didn't think the navy would have to invest any money in pigeons.

"What I meant to convey was," Woodfield says, "that if I knew my pigeon fanciers—and I was sure I did—I would be able to obtain the finest types of birds without spending a nickel." He had an implicit faith that fanciers would donate their finest birds to the Naval Service.

"And they did," he declares. "I recruited birds from fanciers in Victoria, Vancouver, Edmonton, Regina and Winnipeg. I told them I wanted young pigeons. I asked them to breed pigeons for me and to send them to me while they were young. That's what I wanted—young pigeons, fine, young thoroughbred pigeons. I asked them to regard it as a piece of their war effort."

"Flying over water is against a pigeon's nature," Woodfield explains. "They are a land bird. I know of one bird taken to sea for training flight who took off from a signalman's hand, circled the ship and tried to land again on the signalman's hand. When the bird discovered he could not land, he went up high and headed for home. There are many problems, including fog and storm and gale. We've got to get and train birds to fly over open water through the fog and storm."

Woodfield trains his birds one, two and five miles out "in the line of flight" until they reach the patrol area from which they will work. The petty officer explains that pigeons fly by instinct and by sight.

"Our main idea is to breed and train enough birds to stock all the ships out here," Woodfield says. "And we'll need plenty of the right kind of birds properly trained. In fact, we are still open to any fine young birds which fanciers across the country would like to ship to us at H.M.C. Dockyard, Esquimalt. "We've got to be careful with what we have until we've bred and trained a sufficient number of birds to do the job thoroughly. We've flown them over 60 miles of open sea and they've made it in two hours—flying by instinct, mind you.

Petty Officer W. H. Woodfield, R.C.N., is shown with one of his trained pigeons. A peace-time fancier, he is now successfully training pigeons to fly through fog, snow and rain, from ships at sea—bringing important messages to shore bases. (At top) An R.C.N. sailor releases two pigeons from a ship at sea. The one at right is a little slow in getting his landing gear up, but his training has been adequate and he will soon be winging his way shoreward.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD

Funeral services were held last Friday for W. K. Pierce, a pioneer of this section. The funeral was held from the Pierce home nine miles west of Slaton and interment was in Englewood Cemetery. Survivors are: His wife, Mrs. W. K. Pierce, one daughter, Mrs. T. C. Russell of New Home; three sons, W. W. and M. M. of Amarillo, and Rhea Pierce of the Union community.

Company C Of Slaton Inflicts Big Loss On Attacking Force

In maneuvers held in the Slaton area last Saturday night and Sunday, seven Companies of the 39th Battalion, Texas State Guard, moved against Company C of Slaton in a sham battle which was climaxed by Company C's defense of the Midway Gin. All Companies of the Battalion, except Company C, were bivouaced in what was designated as the Young Bivouac 4 miles north of Slaton. At 8:17 Sunday the Companies were divided into two groups and proceeded to move by motorized column toward the objective at Midway. Army officers from Lubbock Army Air Field and the South Plains Army Air Field served as umpires.

In its defense of the objective and the area approaching the objective Company C set up numerous road blocks on the routes and succeeded in ambushing several of the vehicles in the attacking force. Several of these ambushes were particularly effective and drew favorable comment from the umpires. The vehicles that succeeded in reaching the area near the objective reported at a designated Task Force Command Post from which personnel was deployed into battle formations for the advance against the objective. The entire personnel of Company C was in defensive position in and around the Midway Gin. The attacking force, which numbered upwards of 200 men, suffered heavy casualties before the defending forces were finally overpowered.

At the conclusion of the problem the chief umpire, Captain Dix of SPAAF, conducted a general critique which was attended by all the officers and men taking part in the field exercise. All phases of the attack and defense were discussed and errors pointed out. According to Capt. Dix, very well considering the amount of training they had received, he pointed out the extreme value of such field exercises and noted that every able-bodied civilian should be availing himself of this training.

Major B. C. McCasland, Commanding officer of the 39th Battalion, considered the whole maneuver the most valuable from the standpoint of instruction that the Battalion had ever held. Major Olney H. Bryant and Major Tho-

"Even a casual observer can see many fire hazards in Slaton," said Elbert Wilson, chief of the Slaton Fire Department, "but a trained fireman can point out so many flagrant fire risks that the average citizen would feel in constant danger if he were conscious of the negligence that is practiced here."

With the ever increasing transportation problems and the difficulties of disposing of scrap materials is making fire hazards continually worse and the individual will have to make better disposition of this material or the town will soon be a huge fire trap. The dead weed and dried grass grass are a risk that could easily start a serious conflagration and even though the Chamber of Commerce and the City Council are making efforts to assist in getting this danger obliterated, it is up to each property owner to clean up his own premises.

The conditions around the alleys in the rear of the business houses is particularly dangerous and the Fire Chief points out that even if a business man is not interested enough in his own welfare and in protecting his own property against fire, he should at this time be patriotic enough to help protect the property and scarce materials that are stored in other buildings besides his own and are being endangered by his own carelessness. "Lets clear out the fire traps around Slaton now and keep them cleaned out," says the Fire Chief.

4-H Clubs Are Producing Food

COLLEGE STATION. -- Texas boy's 4-H clubs have reached new heights in enrollment and production this year, according to L. L. Johnson, state boys' club agent for the A. and M. College Extension Service. A total of 41,000 farm boys are carrying on their work under the slogan, "Feed a fighter in '43."

Reports from the counties indicate that many of the boys are fulfilling this pledge. Rayford Kasch of Caldwell County, for instance, produced pork and milk in the past 12 months equivalent to the food budget of 28 soldiers for one year, and Hershell Crawford of Bell County produced enough food to maintain 22 fighting men.

The Army has taken the lead in recognizing the fine food production record of Texas 4-H Club boys. Major General Richard Donovan, commander of the Eighth Service Command, wrote a letter to Calvin Koerek of Burleson County commending his production of meat. In further recognition, General

OUR WEEKLY SERMON.
Defeat Or Victory?

Spiritual victory is costly. There is a price to be paid—strange gods must be put away. It is unwillingness to pay the price that keeps the church or the individual from the richness and power of the full spiritual life.

Some may say, we do not worship heathen gods. Perhaps not, and yet one is astonished at the close similarity between the ritual and worship of some secret cults and order, and the ancient religions of heathendom. The fact is that we have set up many new gods—money, fashion, social position, love of ease, and self-gratification. The command needs to go out today as in the time of Samuel, "Put away the foreign gods."

Spiritual life thrives on the gathering together of God's people. We need to revive the great soul-stirring religious gatherings of a generation ago. We can get plenty of people together for a prize fight, a football game, or an auto race, but where are the people who should be in our churches?

Revival victory never comes without a history of faithful intercession on the part of those whose hearts are really burdened. Ask yourself, "How much have I really prayed for my church, my community, my nation? If I should begin to pray in earnest, would not God hear me and answer?"

"Behold, the Lord's hand is not shortened that it cannot save, neither his ear heavy that it cannot hear" (Isa. 59:1). "Thus saith the Lord... have I no power to deliver?" (Isa. 50:1, 2).

In I Samuel 7, we read that Samuel called Israel together for prayer and confession. The enemies, seeing the people gathered together, assumed that Israel was preparing to fight, and they attacked. In the previous battle at that very spot (I Sam. 4:1-10) Israel had fought with the weapons of men and had been disgracefully defeated. Now they fought with the weapon of prayer and faith in God, and great was the victory.

America is valiantly battling against the problems of these distressing days, but one fears, that all too often the weapons are those of the arm of flesh which will fail us. Let us look up instead of to one another. GOD can save us.

Here is an inspiring word for

AMERICAN HEROES BY LEFF

The machine gun chattered defiance of the Japs. Their batteries tried desperately to silence it. In the end they did. When Private Peter Economopolos crept into the emplacement, the crew was dead. He manned the gun, resumed fire. Mortar shells lobbed toward him. The Japs had the range all right. Yet he kept firing until a shell wrecked the gun and wounded him. His country has recognized this Bataan exploit, awarding him the D. S. C. Will you recognize it with an extra Third War Loan Bond?

every troubled soul, as well as the nation. You may have fallen into sin. Your life may be defeated. You may be utterly discouraged. Return to the Lord, put away sin, gather with God's people, pray, and God will give you victory, even at the point of former defeat.

THIS WEEK'S LESSON.

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 3.

The Golden Text is: "If God be for us, who can be against us?" (Romans 8:31).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heaven by his understanding (Jeremiah 51:15).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Good cannot result in evil. As God Himself is good and is Spirit, goodness and spirituality must be immortal. Their opposites, evil and matter, are mortal error, and error has no creator." (page 277).

SELF & ANGERER SERVICE STATION

300 North 9th Street

JUST TALK by A.M.J.

After living in Slaton for over three years, I am still confused as to what the traffic rules are, concerning the divisions that dissect the streets on the East, South and West side of our square. Should one drive only one way down each lane or are there two parallel streets and should one park on each side of each lane or just against the curbing and when one comes to the corner of Garza and Ninth street, where in the world do you go from there? Several times I have wanted to abandon my car and my wife at the signal light and endeavor to reach safety on foot, but have restrained myself on account of the fact that I might eventually have to go home to find my wife all crippled up and in a terrible humor.

Last Tuesday morning when I went into the Postoffice, I found Tess Bruner whispering through the bars at the stamp window. Tess had his hand on his belt buckle, his eyes were dim and he was jotting down information on a little piece of paper and I heard him mention something about Mexican dinners. Later I got to thinking about a trip I once made to Mexico City and about tortillas, Mexican rice and hot tamales. I put my hand on my belt buckle and went back over to the post-office and tried to find Dr. Payne but he was gone and the boys who were dishing out stamps said that Tess had gone to the drug store.

Now I know that I have practically wasted my life since M. F. Klattenhoff came into the Slatonite office this week and told me that he is operating about fifty farms. He had a carefree expression in his eye, he was neatly dressed and not only renewed the subscriptions for the Slatonite for himself, but for three of his sons. Mr. Klattenhoff was in no hurry and managing fifty farms seemed like it was no trouble at all, while I have been jumping around like a cheer leader at a football game for the past twenty years, my face is seamed with wrinkles and folks ask me quite often if the ants in my pants are bothering me to any great extent. While Mr. Klattenhoff has fifty farms to manage, I have only one small weekly newspaper to keep me stewed up. He can write a check without doing a lot of figuring on the back of an envelope, he can get all the gas-life he wants, eat T-Bone steak for dinner, put cream on his breakfast food, go to bed at night with nothing on his mind and he wears clothes that do not have big ink spots all over them.

It is too late for me to reform, but I most certainly can give the boys who return from the war some good advice. There are a lot of things that can be raised in this part of Texas just as easily as they are grown in California, Colorado and other parts of the United States. Two things that are neglected are cherries and plums. There are very few years when cherries will not bear and plums most always do well. Both of these fruits make delicious jellies, and cherry and plum trees will make beautiful hedges and trees. Even when fruits are plentiful in other parts of the state, there is seldom a year when they will not bring good prices in West Texas and I am hoping to see large cherry and plum orchards in this part of the country, then won't I have my fill of good old cherry pie a la mode. That is, if the mode is available.

It is time to dust off the the last year's Christmas bell, chase the moths out of your overcoat, buy a bottle of vitamins, have your galoshes vulcanized, drag out the gas heater, straighten out the can opener, put up the lawn mower and start thinking up dirty cracks to make about the gas company.

There are folks who are hogs for punishment, like Claud Anderson, who have planted a fall garden, but most of us can still remember the blisters and backaches from the crop of spring weeds and as far as I am concerned, the fall weeds can take care of themselves or wait until next-spring to come up.

A lot of people are worrying about what is going to happen to the Southern girls who marry Eastern boys and the Southern boys who marry Eastern girls, predicting that the divorce courts are going to be swamped when the war is over on account of the many hasty marriages. One lawyer who lives in Lubbock says he had figured on retiring but that the divorce prospects look so good to him that he intends to stay in business until the cream of the divorce business is over.

Perhaps they are right but I believe most folks are getting a lot more adaptable than they used to be and it is much harder to distinguish people from different localities than it used to be. This fact I think can be attributed more to the automobile than any other thing, as it has enabled people from all part of the United States to mix with each other.

This fact can be demonstrated here in Slaton. If there is a family here who seem to be typical Texans, I would say that the R. C. Sanner family is, and yet they are originally from Iowa; J. E. Nichols, with his easy manner of speech could tell me that he came from Louisiana and get by with it, and yet he is a native of Maine; J. D. Holt with his vigorous manner could tell me he came from the East, and I'd believe him yet, he is a native Texan and a check-up on a lot of people would convince you that there are a lot of mighty fine folks from every state in the Union.

My prediction is that the lawyer in Lubbock and those who are hoping for a lot of juicy scandal will be sadly disappointed and that the wartime marriages will be about as successful as those made in peace because men will take a lot of punishment before they howl "Calf Rope" in a marriage contract.

Mrs. Webber Williams Entertains WSCS Monday Afternoon

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church met in the home of Mrs. Webber Williams last Monday afternoon in a social meeting. The president, Mrs. Gordon, presided. Mrs. J. T. Pinkston had charge of the program.

The call to worship was given in music, with Mrs. L. A. Harral playing, "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee." All sang, "O Young and Fearless Prophet." Mrs. W. R. Wilson read the Scriptures. The theme of Mrs. Pinkston's devotional was, "O Master, Help Us to Walk in Thy Way." All sang, "Take My Life and Let it be, Consecrated, Lord, To Thee."

Mrs. Fred Whitehead gave the study leaflet on Cuba. She stressed the fact that the Methodists have eighteen women working in schools in Cuba along educational, social and rural leadership lines. These schools maintain a high standard and are doing a great piece of work.

Mrs. Charles Walton gave the leaflet on Puerto Rico. She mentioned the able work of the Methodist Church among the kindergarten age children. Also she told about the largest school on the island. It is the George O. Robinson school for girls, which is maintained by the Methodist Missions. In closing her talk she said she had one of the students to make us a talk. It was one of our own Mexican girls, but she gave a splendid report of the work among the girls in the school there. This speaker was Gerilee Dominguez, who took the part of Marita, a Puerto Rican.

Reports were given by Mrs. Todd and Mrs. Adams on the conference recently held in Lubbock, to which they were official delegates. Quarterly reports were given by chairmen. After an exceptionally enthusiastic meeting, refreshments of coffee and cake were served to twenty-four members. Guests were Mrs. Williams' mother and sister.

Sadler Presents
Famous Picture

Wherever "Ravaged Earth" has been shown, it has received the unanimous acclaim of press, public and pulpit. Without exception the leading citizens of the community have endorsed it one hundred per cent, as the one picture that every red-blooded American should see.

This is the picture that tells the actual truth about what happened to our valiant allies, the Chinese, when the betrial barbarian, the Japanese, invaded this peaceful country, and attempted to destroy it, body and soul. For the first time it shows the uncensored atrocities perpetrated upon this defenseless people.

It was filmed on 16 mm. films by Mark L. Moody, an American business man, who had lived in Shanghai for 23 years. Enjoying the confidences of both the Chinese and the Japs, he was able to photograph scenes which are so atrocious, they stagger the imagination. "Ravaged Earth" is definitely not entertainment... but it is the pictorial record of what actually occurred in China, and what could happen right here, if the Japs were to be successful in their present treacherous attack. It will be shown at Sadler's Tent Theatre for one night only, Thursday, Oct. 7th, on the lot East of the Square.

Food for Victory is as Important as Munitions

Tractors have supplanted Horses

Instructing group of Navy Cooks

THE Four Horsemen — War, Plague, Hunger and Death are now riding again throughout the World. Hunger is stalking in this year of global War of bloodshed and destruction. In Europe and Asia famine and plague have occurred almost annually for centuries. The history of want in Europe ranges from the Black Death year of 1349 to the intervening period between World War I and the present conflict when starvation and disease in Russia took many millions of lives.

Food will be the important necessity as Axis-occupied countries are freed. It will be the first thing that 70,000,000 Western Europeans, 50,000,000 European Russians and millions among the smaller populations of Eastern Europe now in Axis hands will plead for. More than two billion human beings live on this Good Earth today but most of them live in hunger, are ill-clad and are in dire need of decent sanitation and health.

It is up to the American farmer and the food processor to furnish the cornucopia of plenty that we and our Allies may win this titanic battle against the enemy in the most brutal war the world has ever seen. Through modern invention and engineering skill the hard work of food production no longer depends entirely upon the muscles of men and animals. The modern tractor has largely replaced the horse and mule. Electricity is the harnessed power that pumps water to the home, barns and fields, milks cows and brings added comforts and conveniences to the farmer and his family.

The tractor, like almost all modern equipment, is dependent upon Copper and its alloys. There are about 45 pounds of these metals in a tractor—the same content that is in the average automobile. Were it not for the tractor these United States could not possibly produce sufficient farm products for our armed forces, civilians and other United Nations.

Copper and its alloys are used in the manufacture and operation of milking machines which result in millions of man-hours being saved in the great dairy producing states. These metals are also used by the food processing industries. "Copper and Brass in Food Production," is the theme of the September issue of the Copper & Brass Research Association Bulletin, a copy of which will be furnished on request by addressing its editor at 420 Lexington Avenue, New York.

Canada's Women Keep 'Em Flying

UNIFORMED women of Canada's Army, Navy, Air Force, are Jills of all trade, no job is too tough for these girls in service to release men for overseas duty.

The Battle Dress of Canadian women ranges from house dresses and business suits to overalls and service uniforms.

The number of women engaged directly or indirectly in war industries has increased from 95,000 in February, 1942, to 255,000. In the fiscal year ending March 31, 1944, war industries are expected to use 60,000 more women, and the armed forces an additional 24,000.

The youngest women's service organized to release men to more active duties, the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service, had attended 3,104 officers and ratings, and called up 2,396 by June 26, 1943, one year after its establishment.

Officer members of the W.R.C.N.S. now will hold the same rank titles as men in the R.C.N., and will be referred to as commander, lieutenant and sub-lieutenant instead of the previous counterpart, chief officer, first officer, second officer and third officer. The Canadian Women's Army Corps was the first women's service to use the same titles as men.

Formed in September, 1941, the Canadian Women's Army Corps has enlisted more than 11,500.

The first women's service, established in July, 1941, the Royal Canadian Air Force (Women's Division) had enlisted more than 12,300 by the end of June.

Women in nursing services uniforms totalled more than 2,414 at the end of June, with more than 1,714 in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, 276 in the R.C.A.F. nursing service and 169 in the Canadian Navy nursing service. There are also 255 Canadian nurses serving with the South Africa military nursing service.

There are 37 women doctors in the armed services, four in the navy, 21 with the army, and 12 with the air force.

Huge aircraft engines hold no secrets from Canada's air women. Here they check the motor of a twin-engine bomber.

Battlefront of Sacrifice Is Urged Upon U. S. Women to Aid 3rd War Loan Drive

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The women of America are going all-out to make a success of the Third War Loan Drive—to "Back the Attack" to the limit. For weeks they have been organizing to do their share toward raising the Treasury's unprecedented goal of 15 billion dollars in War Bond sales to non-banking investors.

In order to lay the groundwork for this intensive organization far enough in advance of the drive, Miss Harriet Elliott, Associate Field Director of the War Finance Division, in charge of women's activities, made a swing around the country during July. Regional conferences were held in Atlanta, Dallas, San Francisco, Denver, Cleveland and Boston.

"Women have been called to the battlefronts of sacrifice at a time when their brains, energies and money are most needed," says Miss Elliott. "Buy Bonds—by sacrifice, is the order of the day. If every woman in America would pledge herself to do without everything she possibly can, and carry out that pledge faithfully, she would make a genuine contribution to victory."

All groups of women are active in the drive. Many cities and counties are conducting Door-knocker canvasses and carrying out other promotional campaigns to see that every individual in these United States is reached to buy an extra $100 Bond in September. "It takes bench-to-bench, desk-to-desk, house-to-house, person-to-person contact to put over the job," Miss Elliott believes.

United in this tremendous effort are women belonging to foreign origin groups of every nationality, Negro women, college girls, farm women, war workers, club women—professional, religious, industrial, cultural, educational, patriotic and social groups—in fact, women of every age, from every walk of life.

5,000 TEXAS WOMEN GO INTO SERVICE

Texas women wearing the uniform of their country have replaced nearly 5,000 men for combat duty. Included in this number are members of the WAC, WAVES, SPARS, Marines, and WAVES.

Of this number of Texas women in uniform, 3,441 are members of the Women's Army Corps. Overall strength of the WAC now reaches 65,000. The Eighth Service Command, which includes Texas, ranks third in the nation in the procurement of recruits for the Women's Army Corps.

The West Texas Recruiting and Induction District under the command of Lt. Colonel Marvin B. Durrutte, has furnished well over 500 recruits for the Women's Army Corps.

An extensive recruiting campaign will soon be under way. General George C. Marshall has asked the governors of the 48 states to head as many recruiting campaigns for the Women's Army Corps. The Chief of Staff asserts WACs are needed to replace soldiers now performing jobs which women can do, and urged the governors to recruit women volunteers "to equal the total battle casualties of the Army to date"—more than 70,000.

In a statement from one army official urging women to heed the recruiting call, it was said that "the casualties resulting from the heavy fighting in Italy and in the Pacific emphasize the need at this time."

Santa Fe CHIEF TOPICS

Plans to continue support of Future Farmers of America's program, by the Santa Fe Railway, because of the importance of present and post-war production, was announced today by E. J. Engel, president.

Because of restricted conditions, the annual educational awards to members of the FFA will be confined this year to three representatives from each state.

Selection of those to receive the benefit of the Railway's aid will be made by State Supervisors of Agricultural Education, Frank E. Wimberly for New Mexico; L. R. Davies, Colorado, and J. B. Rutland, Texas. Similar selections will be made by State agricultural leaders in other cities served by the Santa Fe.

Merit winners of this educational assistance will be provided with an all-expense trip to the Future Farmers' convention to be held in Kansas City, in conjunction with the American Royal Livestock Show, Oct. 11-14.

Names of those elected to represent their respective states will be announced later.

The Santa Fe System carloadings for week ending September 25, 1943 were 24,347 compared with 23,432 for same week in 1942. Cars received from connections totaled 14,542 compared with 13,059 for same week in 1942. Total cars moved were 38,889 compared with 38,482 for same week in 1942. Santa Fe handled total of 37,760 cars in preceding week this year.

Women at Work for a Railroad at War

America needs millions of women to take over war jobs... to stay with those jobs... to help speed the day when our fighting men will return victorious!

Santa Fe women are answering this call all along the line.

Right now thousands of Santa Fe women are doing war-vital work to "keep 'em rolling." Many are pitching into "unglamorous" jobs... greasing engines, operating turntables, welding shovels, working in blacksmith shops, and cleaning roller bearings. They take pride in their work, too!

Many of these women have husbands, sweethearts, brothers or sons in the armed forces. Many came to work to replace a Santa Fe relative who had been called into service. Others took jobs because they knew womanpower must step in when manpower goes to war.

☆ We of the Santa Fe salute these women who know that what they are doing is vital to Victory!

MEXICO

A REPUBLIC SINCE 1821, MEXICO IS SECOND-LARGEST IN POPULATION AND THIRD LARGEST IN AREA OF THE LATIN AMERICAN REPUBLICS (94,154,000 POP., 752,256 SQ. MILES).

MEXICO IS THE WORLD LEADING PRODUCER OF SILVER, SINCE THE 16TH CENTURY'S 20 BILLION DOLLARS HAVE BEEN MINED—MORE THAN A THIRD OF TOTAL WORLD PRODUCTION.

Mexico's people, like those of the other Middle American republics, believe in democracy. To protect their freedom now and preserve it in the post-war world, they offer their material wealth to the United Nations' war effort—copper, lead, zinc, petroleum, cocoa, bananas, sisal and henequen (for twine), tin, tungsten, hemp, quinine, guayule rubber, tannin, and castor oil, among other products.

In the post-war world, as today in a world at war, Mexico and the other republics of Middle America will play their vital parts as members of the Pan American family of nations.

Effects of the War at Home

Farmers are urged to market their turkeys as soon as possible so that the American Armed Forces overseas can have typical Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners. In a joint statement, Maj. Gen. E. B. Gregory, Quartermaster General, and Marvin Jones, War Food Administrator, appealed to farmers to "go over your turkey flocks carefully now with a view to offering as many as possible for sale to the government. Send them to your processor as soon as possible. If you don't know where to market them, contact your nearest war board office or Quartermaster Market Center."

War Ration Book Four, which will last approximately two years, will be issued to more than 120 million persons through school-house distributions during the last 19 days of October, OPA has announced. The book combines point and unit stamps. It has eight pages containing 384 stamps, printed in blue, red, green and black.

Buyer prices on processed and unprocessed seeds of alfalfa (northern, central and southern) red clover, alsike clover, sweet clover, and timothy have been restored to approximate levels paid last spring. At the same time, OPA has assured producer-farmers somewhat higher returns than last season, reflecting parity prices or better on sales of these seeds to them.

The public is asked to use a soldier's army serial number in every case where inquiries are made to official agencies concerning either officer or enlisted personnel. Much time and material is wasted if the number is not given, according to the War Department.

Announced casualties of the United States Armed Forces from the outbreak of the war to date (whose next of kin have been notified) total 1055,205, according to War and Navy Department reports. This total includes: dead, 20,104; wounded, 28,226; missing, 32,905; prisoners of war, 23,970.

An army corporal, who failed to get the order to withdraw, recently killed five of an attacking eight-man Japanese patrol, then found to his astonishment that he had been left alone far in advance of his marine companions. Corporal Henderson, whose home is in Cannonville, Utah, explained: "I figured they were still with me, so when the Japs came in sight I opened up with my tommy." After he had killed five of the Japs, the other three ran. It was then Corporal Henderson discovered he was alone. He spent the night in the jungle and walked in for show the next morning.

More leather will be available for repair of civilian shoes, as the result of a recent WPB order.

Consumers will have greater soap supplies within a few weeks. The War Food Administration has announced a program to provide a 24 percent increase in soap production for civilian use. WFA emphasized that there will still be no excess and urged soap-saving by every possible method.

Idle used trucks may be requisitioned by district ODT offices or Agricultural County War Boards to transport vital agricultural products where such transport service is vitally needed. Requisitioning will be necessary only where owners of idle used trucks are unwilling to allow the use of their vehicles in this service.

feel superior in comparison, and little boys see in him one of their own kind."

Bud and Lou themselves have no explanation for their popularity. "We just ad lib our pictures," says Lou. "Bud and me get the gist of the scene from the director, and then we're off on whatever comes into our minds."

Neither of the actors ever read a script of their picture before it goes before the camera.

Costella admits that he read half of the script of "Hit The Ice."

"Not a bad story, either," he says. "Maybe we ought to make a picture out of it."

Frequently the boys go so unrehearsed into their comedy routines that they cannot repeat for a second "take".

This has been solved by training three camera men on them as they work. In the supporting cast of "Hit the Ice," are Ginny Simms, Patric Knowles, Elyse Knox, Marc Lawrence and Johnny Long and his orchestra.

Stirring romance and appropriate, behavior drama, have been deftly blended and brought to the screen in Universal's very special production, "Hers to Hold," which opens Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Palace Theatre. Deanna Durbin and Joseph Cotten are co-starred in a story, remarkably satisfying for its vivid emotional appeal.

"Hers to Hold" is by far the most serious picture in which Miss Durbin has been presented.

Charles Lamont, who directed Abbott and Costello in their current Universal comedy, "Hit The Ice," at the Palace Theatre preview Saturday night, Sunday and Monday, declares that the comedians have unusual appeal which reaches out to people of every age.

"Old ladies want to mother Costello," Lamont explains. "Young women want to take him aside, and reform him. Men like him because he blunders and makes them

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Beans

So long as a soldier can eat and think up disparaging names for his equipment the Army will do all right. Food is either "beans," or "chow."

"Chow" may consist of a well cooked meal or if circumstances demand our fighting men have learned to subsist on "Ration K," the concentrated food that all of them carry into battle.

With millions of men and women in the services it will require a lot of War Bond buying on our part to keep them happy.

COMPANY C

mas Gahagan from the Adjutant General's Department at Austin were in charge of the entire exercise and served as Task Force Commanders.

Officers of the local Company C were most pleased with the manner in which the enlisted men of the Company conducted themselves in the exercise. It was observed by the officers that for some 400 men of the Company to hold off an attacking force of over 200 men for considerable time and inflict losses up to 75% on such a force could be considered a compliment to the defending troops.

Officers of Company C commented that the local unit could use more men and that those interested should contact Lt. Marion G. Martin enlisting officer, or report to the Company's Headquarters at the American Legion Hall on any Thursday night.

farmers built 109,927,000 feet of approved terraces to conserve soil and moisture and earned $824,407 in payments for carrying out this practice, Mr. Vance said. The goal for 1943 is 150,000,000 feet.

Soil conservationists say the correct construction of terraces with proper outlets is one of the first and most important steps to take to prevent erosion and to conserve soil and moisture on cultivated rolling lands.

Terraces serve to collect and retard the flow of water off the land. The grade of the terrace causes the water to move more slowly, giving it more time to soak into the soil.

The State AAA Committee can make terracing available to farmer of any county as conservation assistance upon proper application to the county AAA committee for this service, Mr. Vance said.

In counties where terracing has been approved as conservation service, local farmers can get terrace lines run and terraces constructed and have the cost deducted from the soil-building payments they earn, Mr. Vance stated.

4-H CLUBS

Donovan arranged for visits of more than 600 club boys to 12 army airfields and army camps over the state. Boys who had produced enough food to feed one or more fighting men were grouped by districts and honored as guests for a day at the nearest army airfield or camp. They were shown how the soldiers live and are being trained, the equipment they use, and how the food the boys had a part in producing is prepared and stored.

The contribution of Texas 4-H Club boys to the war effort is diversified. A total of 511 from 69 counties acted as insect reporters during the cotton growing season. They made weekly reports to A. and M. College on infestation of cotton fields in their communities. This information aided the U. S. Department of Agriculture in making efficient distribution of insecticides.

Cochran County club boys this year fed out and sold 152 dry lot calves. The animals weighed 145,033 pounds and brought $23,712.
