Drivers Test Date Moved To Nov. 27

Written drivers license examinations were scheduled to be given at the Chamber of Commerce office at the City Hall on Tuesday, November 13.

Because Tuesday is also election day, the examinations for drivers licenses will be postponed until two weeks later. They will be given at the Chamber of Commerce office on November 27, says P. G. Meading, Chamber of Commerce manager.

Compress Has Fire

Fire broke out early Thursday morning at the Compress Warehouse. The Fire Department was called but didn't stay long. There was more smoke than fire.

Mrs. Bessie Donald, who has been visiting in Hartford, Conn., and Washington, D. C., has returned home. She flew back from the Capitol.

Dr. Bertha Duncan of Hutchinson, Kansas, is visiting friends in Slaton this week.

Week's Question . . .

Pro And Con Feelings Expressed In Regard To Proposed Amendment

The proposed old age pension amendment to the Texas Constitution would increase the over-all limit on payments to $42 million. This is not a controversial matter, but the amendment has become controversial because it leaves out a limiting clause designating who shall receive the benefits. As it is written, anyone over 65 could claim the benefits regardless of length of residence or status of citizenship. This aspect of the amendment was specifically called to the attention of the Slaton people who were asked the question, "Do you think the proposed old age pension amendment to the Texas constitution would be good for Texas as a whole?"

Ag Teachers Meet To Discuss Show

President Robert H. Davis of the Lubbock County Stock Show has called a meeting of all Vocational Agriculture Teachers and 4-H Club supervisors and certain County Agent Personnel for Monday, November 12, at 4:30 p.m. in the office of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce.

This is the new date for the meeting originally scheduled for October 31. Mr. Davis and Mr. Strickland of the Slaton High School Vocational Department are anxious that all who possibly can, attend this meeting since some matters of importance are to be considered.

Mr. Strickland, superintendent of the Stock Show requests that all Vocational Agriculture teachers of Lubbock County, the Wilson School District in Lynn County and all 4-H Club directors in the county and the county agent assemble for this meeting. He says it is very important that all make an effort to attend.

Lutherans Will Have Festival

St. John's Lutheran Church at Wilson will observe its annual Mission Festival Sunday, November 11. Lutheran Churches throughout America observe such a special Sunday.

The special speaker at Wilson will be the Rev. William A. Anderson, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran Church of Lamesa. His message will emphasize the great home mission project of the American Lutheran Church, known as the Mission Advance. In the 1951 Mission Advance, 36 new mission churches will be placed throughout the country in strategic new population centers where there are many unchurched people.

Methodist Revival Is Closed Sunday

The last service of the State-wide Methodist Revival was held Sunday night. A large crowd attended.

There were nine additions to the Church here and others are to come at a later date.

The climax of the service was held Sunday afternoon in Texas Tech Stadium with 10,000 in attendance. Bishop C. C. Sealeman of Dallas brought the message.

Mrs. J. T. Pinkston fell and broke her hip while visiting Mrs. R. H. Todd Saturday. She is in a Lubbock Hospital in a serious condition.

Joe Brewer of Ft. Worth visited his parents and young daughter, Phyllis, this past week end.

With gratitude in our hearts, we the surviving Americans, pause on November 11, in memory of those many thousands of men and women who gave their lives on the field of battle so that we might continue to enjoy the many freedoms offered by our democracy.

When we think of the supreme sacrifice made by these innumerable heroes of World Wars I and II, and the added number of Americans who have given their lives so recently in the Korean War, there comes a sense of great pride for those men and women who placed the welfare of their country above their own lives.

It is not enough for us to set aside one day out of the year to recall the memory of those dead heroes. It is through our determination to live up to the principles for which they died, that we can repay the debt we owe to them. We can do this by striving always to make America a stronger nation, not only militarily, but by upholding the ideals and standards of democracy.

As we remember the great battles of past wars we must remember, too, that until the greatest battle, that of bringing about world peace, is won, we will not have fulfilled the purpose for which our loved ones died.

Nov. 15 Is Final Date For Mailing Oversea Packages

The importance of mailing Christmas packages overseas during the period designated cannot be overemphasized. November 15, next week Thursday, is the final day.

The size and weight restrictions for mailing other domestic packages are applicable to Christmas packages for the armed forces except that a limit of not to exceed 50 pounds has been established for delivery to A.P.O.'s 124, 125, 147, and 179.

Boxes for overseas transmission must be of strong construction on account of the great distance these packages must be transported and the handling and storage they must undergo.

Each box should be securely tied with strong cord, preferably by four pieces, two lengthwise and two crosswise. Boxes should contain sufficient cushioning material so that contents will be tightly packed. Many people use shredded paper or popped pop corn for this purpose.

Remember that it is important to get overseas Christmas packages in the mail before November 15.

G.A.'S INVITE GIRLS

All girls from 13 to 16 years of age are invited to come to G.A.'s held in the Baptist Church each Wednesday at 4:00 p.m. This is a girls' missionary organization. All are welcome regardless of their religious affiliation.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schwertner and Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Hoelcher of St. Lawrence, Texas, were in Slaton for the Halloween Masquerade Dance, and for a visit with friends and relatives here.

Mrs. W. J. Platt of Oklahoma City spent last week end with her aunt, Mrs. R. G. Shankle.

Miss Patsy Hickman visited Miss Maybell Pember at McMurry College, Abilene, this past week end, while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hickman, visited with relatives in Baird.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. McClintock moved to Lubbock last week.

THIS WEEK'S SMILES

Little Sally was watching her mother put cold cream on her face. "What's that for?" asked Sally. "To make me beautiful," her mother replied. The little girl observed the whole process and watched breathlessly as her mother finally removed the last vestiges of the cream from her face. "Oooh," she sighed, "it didn't work, did it, Mommy?" —The X-change.

Leaflet Explains Motor Safety Law

Texas motorists were urged today by Public Safety Director Homer Garrison, Jr., to apply to gasoline service stations for a copy of the state's official leaflet about the new Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Law, which becomes effective on January 1.

The leaflet is free and provides important information about the following subjects: what the law is, who it affects, what to do after an accident, the circumstances that require suspension of both operating license and registration plates, and the several means the law provides for avoiding this penalty.

Any motorist can obtain one or several merely for the asking. It may save them a lot of trouble, expense and inconvenience.

Teachers Have Meeting Monday

On Monday, October 29, the Slaton Classroom Teachers Association had its first meeting of the year.

A constitution and by-laws were adopted and the nominations of the Committee for that purpose were adopted.

The Slaton Classroom Teachers have for their officers the following: President, Mr. A. C. Strickland; Vice-president, Mrs. Virgie Hunter; Secretary, Mrs. Lena C. Legate; Treasurer, Mrs. Frances Ray; Reporter, Mr. Howard A. Cox.

It was decided that dues of 50¢ per semester entitles a teacher to membership.

It is hoped that all Slaton teachers will join by paying their dues.

Much can be accomplished in this organization—professionalization of teaching to a greater extent, and mutual assistance in solving problems on a local and state level.

Slaton teachers plan to join the state organization at a later date, perhaps. —The Tigers Cage.

What's Going On At The Civic Clubs

The Slaton Rotary Club members heard an address by P. F. Bridgewater, Governor of the Rotary 183rd District at their regular meeting Thursday, November 1st. A discussion of the state amendments was to have been held at the meeting on Thursday, November 8th.

Lions To Sponsor Bathing Beauties

On Tuesday, November 13 on the stage of the Slaton Theatre, a Bathing Beauty Review to end all Bathing Beauty contests will be staged. California and Florida have had their day; next Tuesday Slaton will take over.

The Lions Club is sponsoring the contest and the bathing beauties will be members of the club. Each beauty will have a Slaton merchant as a sponsor. The proceeds will go to the Lions Club.

Judges will select the three outstanding beauties (and they will have to be outstanding to win in that competition) and the theatre audience will decide on how they will place.

Rev. P. J. Burns will be Master of Ceremonies. Mr. Joe Dennis, who is donating his time and services to making all the arrangements for the production of this super-colossal Bathing Beauty Review, says it will be strictly corn, but really hilarious entertainment. All of the members of the Lions Club except the M. C. will enter the contest. They are designing their own costumes and there will be no dress rehearsal.

Seen on the screen will be "Hollywood Story" with Richard Conte and Julia Adams.

Clinic Held For Cerebral Palsied

A clinic for the examination of cerebral palsied children will be held Monday, November 26, at the Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center, 3502 Avenue N, Lubbock.

Orthopedic specialists from Midland, Plainview, and Lubbock, a neuropsychiatrist, pediatrician, eye specialist, and a dentist will be present to examine children.

Parents planning to bring children to the clinic are requested to register the children at the Center prior to the date of the clinic. Information regarding the clinic may be obtained by writing Dr. Esther Snell, Director, or calling Lubbock 6541.

Schools Continue On Two Schedules

The Superintendent's office reports that a choice of two schedules is still available to students in the Slaton School District who wish to help with the cotton harvest.

One schedule starts at 7:30 a.m., and lasts until 12:30 p.m., while the regular schedule is from 9:00 a.m. to 3:40 p.m.

The two schedules will continue to be offered as long as there is a necessity for them.

Mrs. Ellen Hacker spent Friday and Saturday in Mineral Wells, Texas, and attended the funeral of her grandmother, Mrs. M. E. Anderson, who passed away on Nov. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kitten spent last week end in St. Louis, Missouri, visiting with their son, Douglas, who is attending St. Joseph's School for the deaf there. They went down to help him celebrate his birthday. He has been ill with influenza recently according to reports from the school.

Mr. Dan Liles went to Tucson, Arizona, where he will attend the funeral services for his brother, L. H. Liles.

TIGERS INVADE ANTELOPES IN LAST CONFERENCE TILT

GEORGE H. MAHON

Amarillo, Tex. — George H. Mahon, the former Mitchell County farm boy who now is one of the most influential members of the U. S. Congress, will deliver the keynote address at the 34th annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce here Thursday morning, November 15.

Mahon is one of eight men who will talk during the convention, which will open the evening of Wednesday, November 14 and end Friday at noon.

Meteor? Perhaps Says Slaton Man

"Perhaps the flashing streak across the sky on Wednesday morning at about 7:15 was a meteor," said Cecil Self, who operates Self's Service Station, "but if it was, it was the first one I ever saw that traveled sideways instead of down."

Mr. Self and Cleve McCaffay, who is employed at the station, both saw the flash go across the sky as it traveled east almost directly over the city water tower on the north city limits of Slaton.

"It was approximately twenty feet long and did not appear to be over two hundred feet above the ground. Perhaps it was a meteor, but I have my doubts," said Mr. Self.

Retail Merchants Hold Meeting Tues.

The Directors of the Retail Merchants Association will meet November 14, in a regular meeting. Both old and newly elected directors will meet together at the Retail Merchants Association office at the City Hall.

WEATHER REPORT

The West Texas Gas Company thermometer showed that Friday, November 2, was the coldest day at 22 degrees and Sunday, with a reading of 76, was the warmest.

Sunday visitors in the home of Mrs. Lee Green were her sister, Mrs. Gertrude Witherspoon of San Angelo, and her nephew and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Laughlin of Goodlin, Kansas.

In the final game of the season the Slaton Tigers take on the Post Antelopes. Post will be a slight favorite in a game that can easily go either way. There will be no titles at stake, but you can count on seeing a hard fought ball game.

Post will have their highly touted, Jack Kirkpatrick playing his last game for the Antelopes, and Slaton will have Lee Ray Dillard, a rough, tough, and ready lineman, in to stop this terror of the Plains. The game will be played in Post Friday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Slaton has, over the season, won but one game, but they have been very impressive in many of their other games. Coach Poulos has his charges in near perfect condition for their last conference tilt.

The Tigers should be congratulated for their hard work and fine sportsmanship during the past season, also the people of Slaton who have been out to back the Tigers all season. Tigers play hard and clean and you can't lose no matter what the final score is.

The score of the Slaton-Tahoka game was no indication of the game that was played. The Tigers played a game that was creditable to any team. Their blocking and tackling was sharp and they played a heads up ball game. Tahoka, in the mean time, has gone on and won the district championship by defeating Falls in a lopsided game.

In the Slaton - Tahoka tilt, Tahoka had every break of the ball game. The Tiger line charged hard and their backs ran hard but breaks, a well experienced team was too much for the lighter Tigers. The Bulldogs have, by far the best team in the district and should go on to the top.

Poppy Day Is Set By Mayor Wootton

Mayor L. B. Wootton has declared Saturday, November 10, Poppy Day in Slaton.

The sale of the poppies will be sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Luther Powers Post of the American Legion.

The poppies are made in the wards of Veterans hospitals. Doctors say the work has real value as occupational therapy. It provides a means of earning money for hundreds of disabled veterans.

THINK THIS OVER AND BE SURE TO VOTE TUESDAY 13

Austin, Texas (Special)—"A vote on November 13 for House Joint Resolution 6, the old age assistance constitutional amendment, would do a great injustice to every needy old person in the State of Texas."

That is the conclusion drawn after an exhaustive analysis of the proposal by Texas Research Institute, an agency devoted entirely to studies of State government.

Every needy old person now drawing old age assistance is in danger of getting a cut in his grant, or at best, he cannot expect any increase.

Although the amendment provides an additional $7 million from State funds for old age assistance, blind assistance and aid to dependent children, most of the additional money would be required to make grants to thousands of aliens who will become eligible if the proposed amendment is adopted.

The present Constitution provides that assistance may be granted to "Needy aged persons who are ACTUAL BONA FIDE CITIZENS OF TEXAS . . ." The underscored words do NOT appear in H. J. R. 6. Instead, the proposed amendment substitutes the word "resident" for the word "citizen."

H. J. R. 6 makes it clear to all that aliens are to become eligible by using the following language: "any RESIDENT . . . may not be excluded who has RESIDED in the State for five (5) years during the nine (9) years immediately preceding the filing of the application for such assistance including the one (1) year continuously immediately preceding the filing of such application; . . ."

If the amendment is adopted, a special session of the Legislature would be required to appropriate an additional $7 million per year, all of which would have to come out of the pockets of Texas taxpayers.

JUST TALK

A.M.J.

Last week when the snow was on the ground, T. E. McClanahan, at the Post Office, was greeting most everyone with "Merry Christmas," which seemed very appropriate to me. The snow was a fitting introduction to winter and seemed to make one feel in a holiday spirit, but for me I'll take the good old summer time with its hay fever, chiggers, sand burrs, peaches, tomatoes, stomach ache and blistered neck and nose.

It has been a fond hope of mine to see at least one Christmas that fits the greeting card illustrations with snow on the roof and people coming up our front walk with big Christmas packages, but to date I have never been present when the thermometer registered below forty degrees at Christmas time, and the folks with big packages coming up our walk seem to be getting fewer and fewer as time marches on. I'm going to set some bear traps on the sidewalk this season and if there is snow the better it will be. Perhaps I can snare me some wrong size shirts, a pair or two of venomous colored pajamas and a set of ash trays. Let it snow, let it snow, let it snow.

Every once in a while I try to console myself with the thought that folks with a big pile of lousy lucre are no better off than I am with a few very clean, well worn dollar bills, a good home, can scrimp a new suit about once every two years, and can pay the gas, light and telephone bill just in time each month to keep the services from being cut off, that I eat about as much as the folks who have to worry every time the stock exchange gets weak in the knees or when cotton drops two or three cents per pound.

It does not work so very well for I can't help but envy the folks who have good substantial stocks or a lot of cotton stacked in the warehouses when the prices go up. Maybe if I had some extra money and my wife a couple of closets full of fur coats, we "could not take them with us" but she would not want to be bothered with trying to put a fur coat on over her wings and I could not carry much money around tied to a pair of horns.

For my part I'd like to extend a hearty thanks to the folks who put in a lot of work to get authorization of the paved road that is to be built from the end of Garza street north to the Slaton-Lubbock Highway, and to the folks who deeded property to the County for the purpose. B. G. Guinn, Vassar Browning, George Green, Nat Heaton and Claude Cravens all did yeoman service in getting the road through and every property owner whose land faced the road gave up some land so that the road could be made the proper width. You'll be seeing me driving up and down the road, when it is completed.

Some day the highway will be routed around the town and it will save a lot of confusion in our traffic. My car has some mighty musical squeaks in it from having gone over the dips and humps on that road, now, and I feel sure that we will all greatly appreciate a nice smooth pavement when it is finished.

At last I have gotten down to reading the recipes in the Slatonite and in the women's magazines that are underfoot at the house. Cakes, pies and candy are own with anyone in taking such nourishment, but what about some suggestions for something that will taste as good as some t-bone steaks that I had back in the tasty thirties?

No one expects to be able to afford a t-bone steak very often, and even if you should own some oil producing land or a rich uncle should die and you could afford to buy a medium size t-bone once a month, when the check comes in you'd never be able to find one that would have the old time corn fed flavor.

What we need at our house is some recipes to make hamburger taste as good as hamburger used to taste, some suggestions as to what to do with a potato except bake it or make french fries, what to do with canned beans to make them taste like something besides canned beans. Personally I'm about to starve to death, although I eat about four meals a day, weigh over one eighty and spend the money I expect to make next month on this month's grocery bills.

The last recipe I found told how to make a new kind of chiffon pie out of coconut, sweet potatoes and pumpkin. It sounded good, but I am afraid it won't take the place of what I remember good steak used to taste.

A discouraged newspaper man by the name of Ted McCaulless published this "prayer":

"O, Lord, have mercy on this guy as we wander here below, gathering news and spreading tales about the folks we know. It's true, he is inquisitive, a very nosy, guy, his one redeeming feature is, he's seldom known to lie. He has his nose in everything that happens here on earth, no matter what your standing is, how high or low your birth. You try to steal some money and present a pretty tale, this bird comes out and tells the truth as to why you went to jail. You wreck your car on one short beer, or so you firmly stated. This man reports the judge declared you were inebriated. The preacher brings his sermons in, the lawyer brings his will, the plumber states in big bold type, he must collect his bill.

This man prints news about the time you first saw the light of day, about the things you did on earth and when you passed away. He has to delve in everything from politics to treason . . . at times he is convinced that even murder is in season. It's queer how folks will do nice things, then drop a little hint as to how it wouldn't hurt a bit to have it show in print. Then that same guy while flying high will cut some foolish caper and go to any length at all to keep it from the paper. And so we ask Thy mercy as we near the Golden Stairs . . . You put us here to stick our nose in other folks' affairs!"

Open House Plans Are Made By P-TA

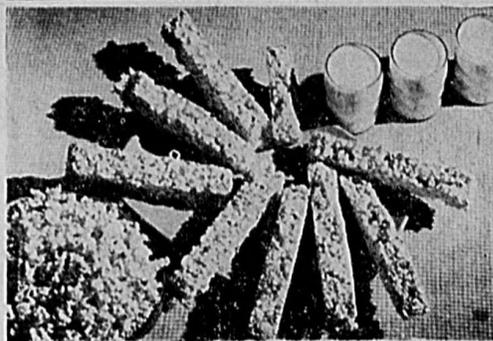

The Slaton Elementary School Faculty, Students and Parent-Teacher Association plan open house Monday evening, Nov. 12, from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m. All teachers will be in their home rooms to meet the parents and friends of their students.

The program will be visitation to the rooms, a film "Fight for Better Schools" will be shown in the auditorium at 8:00 p.m., and the entertainment committee is planning a tea hour.

Nov. 11-17 is National Book Week. The major activity for the week will be the book marker sales by students to raise money for library books for the school. All available P-TA funds will be spent for library books, films, etc., for our schools this year.

Since the completion of the new rooms on West Ward, a room is now available for a central library.

Every parent is urged to attend the Open House Monday night.

If your taste runs toward sweetness, make crispy, crunchy popcorn bars with corn syrup—and see how the kiddies go for them. They're grand with a glass of cold milk or a dish of ice cream, and so energizing.

POP CORN BARS

- 1 cup sugar
- 1-3 cup white corn syrup
- 1-3 cup water
- 1-4 cup butter
- 3-4 tsp. salt
- 3-4 tsp. vanilla
- 3 quarts Jolly Time Popped Corn

Put sugar, corn syrup, water, butter and salt in a saucepan and cook, stirring until the sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking without stirring (270 degrees F.) until syrup forms a brittle ball in cold water. Add vanilla and stir only enough to mix it through the hot syrup. Place the popped corn in a bowl large enough for mixing. Pour the cooked syrup slowly over the popped corn and mix well. Wet the hands slightly and transfer mixture to a flat cake pan. Press mixture into a sheet cake and cut into bars with wetted knife.

For a change of taste, add nuts, candied cherries, gum drops or raisins to the popped corn before combining it with the syrup.

Annual Bazar And Turkey Dinner Held

The Catholic Ladies of St. Joseph's Church are sponsoring their annual Bazaar and Turkey Dinner on Tues., Nov. 13.

This year the bazaar will feature a Country Store with home canned goods, eggs, butter, home baked bread, etc., a Parcel Post Sale with packages selling for a quarter as they came in the mail; a White Elephant Sale; a children's fish pond, as well as the usual bazaar articles. Some lucky person will receive a turkey, two quilts, a blanket, and a hand painted picture.

The Turkey Dinner will be served from 5:30 to 8:00 p.m. The tickets will sell for $1.00 for adults and 50c for children under 12. An all girl orchestra from Olfen, Texas, will play for after dinner dancing.

Clydell McGinley And F. M. Hoffman Are Married In Twin Ring Service

The marriage of Miss Clydell McGinley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McGinley of Slaton, and F. M. Hoffman, son of Mrs. E. M. Reagan of the Idalou highway, took place at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the home of the bride's parents, Rev. J. T. Bolding, pastor of Slaton First Baptist Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. L. B. Haggerman played a prelude of "O Promise Me" (De-Koven) and "Clair de Lune" (Debussy) and accompanied Miss Betty Childress, who sang "Because" (D'Hardelot), "I Love You Truly" (Bond) and "The Lord's Prayer" (Malotte).

The ceremony was read before a white altar flanked with baskets of picardy gladioli and plums-ous fern.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported Chantilly-type lace and net over satin, fashioned with a strapless bodice of shirred lace outlined at the top with narrow net ruffle and small lace bolero. The sculptured bodice joined an immense ballerina length skirt with shirred fullness and a lace apron tunic edged with net ruffle. Her short veil of silk illusion was joined to a tiara embroidered in iridescent beads, sequins and seed pearls.

She carried a white Bible, a gift from the Y.W.A. Girls, topped with baby orchids surrounded by white carnations and showered with white ribbon and lilies-of-the-valley.

She counted her shoes as something old, her dress as something new, for something borrowed she wore pearls belonging to Betty Childress, for something blue she wore a blue garter, and for luck she wore a penny in her shoe.

Miss Barbara McGinley of Slaton, who attended her sister as maid of honor, wore a yellow taffeta dress, made with fitted bodice and hoop skirt. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

Winston Allen of Lubbock was best man.

Following the service a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The table was laid with a crocheted cloth and centered with picardy gladioli and a three tiered cake topped with miniature bride and groom.

In the house party were the couple's parents; Mrs. J. F. Richey, aunt of the bride; Mrs. D. W. Bawcom of Littlefield, cousin of the bride; Mrs. L. B. Haggerman; and Misses Joyce Voight, Johnnie Peebles, and Betty Childress.

After a wedding trip to Houston, Galveston, and points South, the couple will be at home on the Idalou highway. For traveling the bride chose a two-piece green faille dress with brown accessories. She wore a corsage of baby orchids and white carnations.

The bride is a graduate of Slaton High school and former student of Texas Tech college, she is a member of Tau Beta Sigma and Order of Rainbow for Girls.

It has a Way with Women

SOMETIMES we think that too little attention is given to the fair sex in automobile advertising.

After all, it's the woman of the house who has to do most of the shopping, which involves getting into tight places at the curb. And it's surprising what tight spots a Buick can fit into at a turn of the wheel.

It's the woman who likes complete freedom from things that it takes an engineer to operate—and a complete and utter freedom from mechanical complications is exactly what makes Dynaflo Drive* such a joy.

It's the woman who has an eye for style and fine fabrics—and a nose for economy. On both counts, a Buick is tops.

But we suspect something else. We suspect that a woman gets just as great a lift as a man from commanding this great-powered and trigger-quick bundle of vitality to bow to her will.

Here's a car to win any woman's heart—by its level-gaited stride—its willing response to her hand on the wheel—its smart style and its smart performance—its spaciousness and comfort—and its thrift.

How about taking time off, some afternoon, to boss around a Buick? It's a date that's bound to thrill you.

The Church Of God Revival Is Closed

Rev. Louis Bowerman, pastor of the Church of God says, "I can truthfully say that there are people in Slaton who still enjoy attending revival services. At the end of thirty-one nights we closed one of the greatest revivals that the Church of God in Slaton has ever experienced. Every night with the exception of about two there were people who were attending for the first time. Our visitors cards show that we had many visitors from other churches.

"As pastor of the Church of God, I wish to take this opportunity to say 'Thanks' to the members of our church, friends and visitors for their fine cooperative spirit throughout the revival.

"There were eighteen conversions, six claimed the experience of sanctification, five the infilling with the holy ghost, eight were baptized in water, and seven new members united with the church."

Rev. and Mrs. R. K. Mahoe, evangelists from Honolulu, Hawaii, said that the revival here in Slaton was one among the best that they have conducted in Texas. They are now in a revival at the Church of God in Lubbock.

The Church of God extends to the public a welcome to all services.

Public Is Warned Against Menace Of Pink Bollworm In Texas Cotton

The general public should be deeply concerned about the spread of the pink bollworm in Texas. This perilous cotton insect has moved into 193 cotton counties in Texas. Most of these counties are lightly infested, but that is a big step toward a heavy infestation. The pink bollworm is one insect that cannot be handled by any type of kind of poison. He makes his way into the cotton boll through a hole too small to see with the naked eye, eats out the seeds, and destroys the yield. When his population gets built up real high, he causes the squares and the small bolls to shed also. One female may lay as many as 200 eggs which become adults in about 30 days. Thus, during a long growing season, of the cotton plant, there are from 4 to 6 generations of this vicious cotton pest.

The way to fight this dangerous cotton insect is to destroy his place for passing the winter; thereby, keeping him from multiplying. The cotton plant, cottonseed, old cotton bolls, cotton trash in fields or at the winter are places he passes the winter. Therefore, farming practices that will shorten his breeding season, such as, early planting and early destruction of stalks, leaving no stubs nor volunteer plants, and deep plowing to cover over wintering insects are effective ways to fight this insect. Our research and experimental institutions in agriculture have proved that these were effective and practical ways to fight not only pink bollworm, but other bad cotton insects as well.

When the pink bollworm shows up in a Texas county and the Governor issues an emergency proclamation, the state law requires the State Commissioner of Agriculture to set up a quarantine. This quarantine is for the purpose of regulating the movement of products likely to carry the pest to other cotton areas. Not only the movement of cotton is regulated, but the cottonseed is treated by a process of sterilization to destroy pink bollworms present in the seed, and gin trash is destroyed. In some of these quarantine zones, where the infestation is heavy, the regulations are more strict and the Commissioner requires an early planting date and an early plow up date on cotton also. All of this is very expensive and very troublesome to growers and to everybody concerned. That is why the Commissioner is pleading, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

The Texas Commissioner of Agriculture would like to stress and emphasize that public opinion and public sentiment, to the last individual in Texas, should be marshaled in the fight against this dangerous cotton pest. As every Texan knows, laws and regulations are what the general public makes up their mind for them to be. The various educational institutions in agriculture in this State have some essential ways worked out in a voluntary program to fight this pest. They tell us how and when to destroy the pink bollworm. In the interest of the cotton industry, which means so much to the whole economy of Texas, it behooves each person to do his share.

Farm Bureau Has Business Meeting

The Lubbock County Farm Bureau federation held its business meeting of the year yesterday, November 8, in the old courthouse. The business included election of new officers, adoption of resolutions, appointment of state convention delegates, and presentation of awards.

Resolutions adopted will be taken to the state convention by the Lubbock delegates. The state convention will be held in Houston Nov. 19-21.

A nominating committee named a slate of officers to be presented for election. Nominations also were taken from the floor.

Glen Hackney, Lubbock Dairyman who is president of the federation, has been nominated for reelection. A. B. Allen of Woodrow is the nominee for secretary-treasure to succeed Otis Rogers.

Vice president nominees include: R. L. Hooten of Lubbock, Clayton Enger of Becton, Floyd Fair of Slaton, Les Grevel of New Deal, B. B. Baker of Wolforth and E. C. Hatten of Lubbock.

The vice presidents, Hackney said, will serve as the executive committee of the county federation. Members of the retiring executive committee include: Jimmy Davis of Roosevelt, Allen of Woodrow, August Kitten of Slaton, Crews of New Deal, Hooten of Lubbock, J. E. Richardson of Shallowater, and Baker of Wolforth.

Leadership awards were presented eight 4-H club boys and girls. Lapel pins were given three farm bureau members who each signed up 100 new members.

Local Men Design Boll Separator To Speed Harvest

Several years ago in a conversation with Nestor and J. B. Kitten, Mr. Macha said he wished someone could invent a machine that would enable farmers to use mechanical boll pullers early in the season. Nestor and J. B. remembered the talk because they too felt the need for such a machine. They agreed that if cotton could be harvested with a boll puller when it was 90 percent open, the higher grade would more than pay for the 10 percent yield loss.

About two years ago they started experimenting and drawing up plans for a Green Boll Separator for use with boll pullers. As they worked they experimented far enough to find out that their designs would work.

Designs are now complete; patent is pending, and a trial model will be made by Leo Henzler of Henzler Implement Co. sometime next spring or summer. This model will test the efficiency of the separator and will be kept by Nestor and J. B. Kitten for their own use on next year's cotton crop.

The Green Boll Separator can be pulled behind any cotton stripper. It not only separates the green bolls from the open cotton, but also saves the bolls. The cotton will go in one hopper to be dumped into a truck or trailer and the bolls will go into another hopper to be piled on the field or wherever desired and left to open. An added feature is a boll crusher which crushes the green bolls so they will open faster.

Their experiments have shown that partly open bolls which are damaged by boll worms can also be separated to maintain high grade on the first cotton. These bolls can go in with the crushed bolls which will open later for a lower grade cotton.

The machine should enable the farmers to harvest all their cotton by mechanical pullers, to finish the harvest early, and to get top grade on 90 percent of the cotton. The separator could be used after defoliation or immediately after frost before the late bolls open. Nestor says if he had one this year his harvest would be finished and he'd have no further worries about bad weather damaging the cotton in the field.

Several people have tried making machines of this type but none has proved satisfactory. The Kitten brothers say the efficiency of their test model will determine whether or not they will try to sell it to an implement manufacturer for commercial production.

Technicolor Hit Offers Mirth And Spectacle Galore

Not in many a moon has a Technicolor musical come along with so glittering an array of talent as that offered in "Duchess of Idaho," which brings a Hit Parade of entertainment to the Caprock Drive-In Theatre screen on Thursday and Friday.

This captivating new M-G-M confection has just about everything a moviegoer could ask for. With Esther Williams cast as an aquatic star on the run for romance, Van Johnson as a crooning band leader who supplies the latter, John Lund and Paula Raymond involved in a secondary heart-pursuit and such additional headliners as lifting Connie Haines, the sultry-voiced Lena Horne and dancing star Eleanor Powell adding their distinctive specialties—"Duchess of Idaho" gives you an infectious story of love and laughs set against a background of America's great playground, Sun Valley, and highlighted by such spectacles as water ballets, a big square-dance jamboree and the breathtaking "Torch Parade" in which members of the famous Sun Valley Patrol ski down a mountain carrying flaming torches.

The pageantry and song-and-dance interludes of this new Joe Pasternak production are set around the tongue-in-cheek plot of a girl who sets out to capture a man not for herself but for her best friend. Esther Williams is the girl who is determined to make hard-to-get John Lund aware of the charms of her pretty roommate, Paula Raymond. She gets along fine until Van Johnson enters the scene to fall head-over-heels in love with Esther. It will be difficult to forget the stunning water ballet sequence in which the spectator views not one but twelve Esther Williams in a swimming pool constructed of mirrors, or the baton-swinging sessions in which Van Johnson sings "Choo, Choo, Choo to Idaho," "Of All Things," and "You Can't Do Wrong Doin' Right," or Lena Horne's nightclub specialty, "Baby, Come Out Of The Clouds," or the lightning-swift tap routine done by Eleanor Powell.

Supporting the principals in both plot and musical situations are laugh-getting Clinton Sundberg as a condescending valet, Mel Torme as a singing bellhop at Sun Valley Lodge, M-G-M's pretty newcomer, Amanda Blake, Tommy Farrell, Sig Arno, Dick Simmons, and "The Jubalaires." Director Robert Z. Leonard has rounded them all up for one of the year's most delightful escapist treats.

Think Before You Vote Nov. 13 . . .

Of the five Constitutional Amendment proposals on the November 13 ballot, one, the old age assistance amendment, emphatically deserves to be beaten. There are three others of doubtful merit. The only two which we find ourselves able to recommend is that broadening the taxing authority of rural fire prevention districts and permitting the regents of the University of Texas more latitude in investing the permanent fund.

The basic purpose of the old age amendment, to increase the over-all limit on payments to $42 million, is sound enough. But the legislature fouled up this proposal by omitting the clause which now limits the benefits to bona fide citizens of Texas. Just how or why this clause was left out, we do not undertake to say, but its omission makes approval of the proposal unthinkable. It means that any itinerant could claim the benefits of social security, regardless of length of residence or status of citizenship. It would open still wider a gate that is already somewhat too wide.

The voters should turn this amendment down and let the legislature write one without any bugs in it. —Selected.

How Money Is Wasted . . .

Under the head of economy in government the Appropriations Committee of the House of Representatives has finally come to the capital itself, and a column writer reports on it, giving some of the items.

They found in the bill an item of $10,000 to buy each Congressman a good stout trunk. This, said the writer who attended the hearing, has been going on for years. What they do with the trunks was not disclosed at the hearing.

The Senate had ordered from the government printing office 5,600 calendars at a cost of $1,921.46. That allows each of the 96 Senators more than fifty calendars, each with a picture of the capitol, and what the Senators do with the calendars is still an unanswered question. The Representatives, 435 of them, did not get so many calendars per man. They ordered only 10,000, and the cost was $3,748.75, giving each man about twenty. One member of the committee said he thought maybe his fellow members could tell the day of the week without so many calendars.

The committee ran onto the case of a woman employed in the document folding room who had been absent something more than thirty days while she worked downtown in a beauty parlor, but drew her pay for those days from the folding room said she had agreed to refund the salary she had collected for the days when she was curling hair instead of folding for mailing the speeches the Congressmen had not made but which they mailed to their constituents as part of the Appendix to THE CONGRESSIONAL RECORD.

Those figures are negligible when compared with the overall spending of the government, but they are illuminating as showing how the lawmakers waste the taxpayers' money. —The Paris (Texas) News.

Let's Wake Up . . .

If the people don't clean out the office holders in Washington at the next election and name men to represent them in Washington who will change the order of things, there is no telling where this thing will lead. We are fighting the Communist. And that's fine. But we are preparing the soil for their harvest by letting things go on as they are in Washington. Part of the blame for the whole setup may be laid at the door of the people—voters. We are promised a building, or a dam or a public handout, and so we keep the man in office who leads us to think he is the boy who can deliver the plums. And what kind of a plum is it? It is something the other party hands us and we later get the bill. When will we wake up?—Denison Press.

Hi Ho, Hi Ho! . . .

That's the song the seven dwarfs sang as they went to work each day, but according to a news story from Washington, bigwig bureaucrats there sing a different song. Theirs is "Hi Ho, Hi Ho, James," and with 7,057 government-paid chauffeurs and 19,888 limousines and passenger cars they get to their offices. It is not stated whether they get there on time or not.

We are sure this news is gratifying to the millions of taxpayers who each day much ride trains, buses, streetcars, or wheel their own cars through heavy traffic, all at their own expense. In this land where class distinctions are taboo, it is nice to know that the ruling class is to some extent set aside from the common herd! —The Italy (Texas) News-Herald.

Military Maneuvers—An Army reserve officer, embarking upon his required two weeks' tour of duty, was given the task of writing a descriptive brief on heavy ordinance. He had not the foggiest idea why he had been given the task, and he knew he could not begin to bone up on the subject in two weeks. So he did the next best thing. Tough Tabby Is Tomcat Tycoon In Purr-fect Comedy

An exciting new film performer who's tougher than Alan Ladd, more temperamental than Garbo and lighter of foot than Gene Kelly, will make his debut in "Rhubarb," the new Paramount comedy opening Sunday and Monday at the Caprock Drive-In Theatre.

This talented newcomer, in case you haven't guessed, is a cat who plays the title role in an uproarious picture based on H. Allen Smith's best-selling book. Cast as an alley-cruising scrapper who inherits $30,000,000 and the Brooklyn baseball club from an eccentric millionaire, this fortunate feline gets a role for which any sensible tabby would trade a year's catnip. Now using his character name as a permanent moniker, Rhubarb has the stellar company of Ray Milland and ultra-shapley Jan Sterling in a wild-eyed account of some hilarious doings in and around the Borough of Brooklyn.

The story clicks off the amazing consequences following Rhubarb's unprecedented inheritance. Ray Milland, the ball club's press agent, becomes the harried guardian of the Cinderella cat, is soon involved in a hilarious court battle contesting the will, the cat's true identity and the right of any milk-lapper to be so solvent. Then Ray's romance with Jan Sterling, the club manager's daughter, is suddenly suspended when she develops a sneezing allergy to feline fur, and matters soar to a howling crescendo when the team refuses to play for its new owner.

Milland's ruse to get his players out of the dugout, the kidnapping of Rhubarb by a gambling syndicate, and the gaggle-eyed wind-up of a season such as organized baseball never saw before, provide the unusual substance for the ensuing high jinks.

Produced by William Perlberg and George Seaton, and directed by Arthur Lubin, "Rhubarb" spots veteran actor Gene Lockhart at the head of a fine supporting cast that knows its way around a comedy script. Screen writers Dorothy Reid and Francis Cockrell have reportedly done a skillful job in transcribing the wit and flavor of the H. Allen Smith novel. "Rhubarb" shapes up as fresh and imaginative comedy.

Fast Action, Intrigue, Spectacular Battles In Technicolor Film

"Quebec," a stirring film adventure in color by Technicolor, will open on Friday at the Circus Drive-In Theatre. This Paramount release, based on a little known episode in Canadian history that occurred more than 100 years ago, excitingly recreates the attempt of a determined band of colonials to seize control of the government at Quebec.

With John Barrymore, Jr., Corinne Calvet, Patrie Knowles and Barbara Rush in starring roles, this fast-paced action drama is said to serve up an unusually potent blend of thrills, suspense and romance. Filmed on location in the Province of Quebec, the picture uses the spectacular and colorful scenery of the Canadian countryside as a breath-taking backdrop for the rousing story. Included among the historic sites are the famed Citadel of Quebec, the House of Parliament and the Plains of Abraham, scene of the fatal engagement between Generals Wolfe and Montcalm.

Corinne Calvet portrays La Fleur, the mysterious beauty who inspires the burly backwoodsmen and trappers to pit their strength against the organized might of the British Redcoats. While she secures information within the walled city of Quebec, Patrie Knowles, with John Barrymore, Jr., leads the rebel band in a bloody series of engagements which include forest ambushes and pitched battles.

Then, on La Fleur's signal, thousands of revolutionaries board their canoes and go down river to attack the lofty fortress of Quebec, the most inaccessible on the North American continent. This thundering battle scene has been filled by advanced audiences as a sweeping action classic with few peers.

The far-flung drama of the struggle is neatly interwoven with two romantic counter themes involving Barrymore, Miss Rush and Nikki Duval on the one hand, and Patrie Knowles and Miss Calvet on the other.

Millionaire baseball magnate Gene Lockhart adopts a fearless alley cat, later leaves it his fortune. The wacky consequences are detailed in Paramount's "RHUBARB," based on H. Bud "Talks Turkey" —Long Distance

Some people chuckled when Sonny Fisher rented a home recording machine to record the noise his flock of turkeys make.

"I sent the recording to a buyer for a super-market chain," Sonny said. "I told them 'My turkeys speak for themselves—listen to this record!' They not only took my birds, but bought the record!"

"Why did they want the record?" I asked him. "Very simple," he says. "They're going to play it over the loud speakers in their stores—and then an announcer on another record reminds the customers that turkeys are plentiful and a good buy."

From where I sit, it's not always smart to make fun of someone just because he does things a little differently. I think a glass of beer is the most refreshing beverage there is. You—or Sonny—may prefer something else. But who's to decide one's right and the other's wrong? Let's stay "on record" that everyone's entitled to his own tastes and opinion.

1952 Dodge Is On Display Saturday

The first 1952 model car to be shown here this season is the new Dodge, which will be on display at the Sparkman Motor Co., 104 W. Lynn, on Saturday, Nov. 10th.

The ladies as well as the men will be interested in the style and beauty of this new model. They will enjoy its roominess, riding ease, and dependability.

Mr. Sparkman says one of the features of this new car is optional shaded, tinted glass in windshield and side glasses. This glass cuts down glare and is heat resistant. Girl Scout News

A Halloween party was enjoyed by 96 Girl Scouts and Brownies in the West Ward Auditorium and cafeteria.

Stunts by each troop, and a song furnished entertainment.

Refreshments were served by the mothers of the girls on the entertainment committees from each troop. Mrs. Cecil Self was chairman.

The Scouts are in need of an old piano for their Scout room. If anyone has one that they would lend or sell cheap, they are asked to please notify any Scout or worker.

Registrations for all the girls are being completed. Many girls are going to celebrate being a scout by getting into uniform each Wednesday, which is Scout Day. The people who made the Youth Center possible should visit it on Wednesday afternoons. It is populated with girls having fun, and they are grateful to all of you.

Remember the Scout food sales on Saturday, and buy those goodies.

Mrs. T. A. Worley has consented to be the general Scout Treasurer. The scouts need money, but they want a record for all to see where it goes.

Several of the leaders plan to go to the Christmas Craft Classes sponsored by the Lubbock Scout organization Wednesday morning, November 7.

Travelers

Dispersion of young spiders is accomplished by "ballooning." The young spiders throw out streams of silk and rise on warm currents of ascending air. They rise as high as 14,000 feet or better and travel hundreds and even thousands of miles.

Tomorrow Is Poppy Day In Slaton; Legion Auxiliary To Sponsor Sale

Fashioning the poppies which the public will be asked to wear Saturday are John E. Hall, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, Clair G. Young of Crawford, Oklahoma, Wilmer B. Reed of Corpus Christi, Texas and Jack Standiefer of Elgin, Texas, all patients in the Veterans Administration Hospital at Legion, Texas. The poppy, a memorial flower to those who gave their lives in American's service during the World Wars, is fashioned by the patients in the Legion Hospital and in numerous wards at the Veterans Administration hospital at Waco. The making of the poppy is recognized by the doctors at these hospitals as worthwhile occupational therapy.

Employment for hundreds of disabled veterans, in the state of Texas, confined to hospitals or unable to do other work has been provided by the Auxiliary's poppy-making program. The work has given these men the encouraging experience of earning money, again and has filled empty hospital days with interesting, beneficial activity.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Luther Powers Post of the American Legion will sponsor the Poppy sale in Slaton tomorrow.

Asbestos roof cement is a very heavily pigmented compound that seals flashings, seams or patches in a roof. It is usually made from tar, an asphalt or a vegetable oil pitch base. In addition, it may contain some drying oils such as linseed, soybean or fish to impart plasticity to the coating.

Flammable Homes

Deploing the flammable construction of summer homes, fire safety experts advise equipping such homes with basic fire fighting equipment, including water type fire extinguishers and several galvanized steel pails. Pails may be filled with sand or water. It is pointed out, and are needed by bucket brigades to quell fires in their early stages.

... Stalin—
Oswald Mosley, leader of the Union of Fascists, had led at the head of a great procession to Albert Hall in London, where a large crowd awaited him. With dramatic effect he mounted the rostrum under the glare of spotlights and raised his arm in the Fascist salute. The effect was ruined by a voice from the gallery calling, "Yes, Oswald, you may leave the room!"
Mother took Willie to his first concert. The conductor was leading the orchestra and directing the soprano soloist as well. Willie was really interested.
"Mother, why is that man shaking his stick at the lady?" he asked.
"Hush; he is not shaking his stick at her."
"Then what is she screaming?"

Under date of October 11, we have a letter from Mr. Edgar S. Ayol, press counsel, up there on Madison Ave., NYC, calling our attention to the fact that when e mention Coca Cola in the softened way, we must say Coko not coke. Get it?
They also sent the clipping gathered up by a Clipping Concern up here at Pendergast City, Mo., at the Old He wrote that we ferred a "coke" to one George leveland of Yoakum County, late of Texas, but that gentleman turned it down, stating he did not even drink milk as that was for "wimmen" and children. Any of the NY gentlemen gives us a lot of usages of trade marks.

Well, down here in Texas they sometimes call a dollar bill a whide; a small child a kid or rat; a tough guy a ring-tailed tooter, etc. The Herald is sometimes called the "Weakly" Bladder—note the spelling of weekly. It is also referred to as the Headache, the Rag, and various other names we cannot print herewith.

Why sometimes beer is called suds and whiskey booze, and a Dr. Stepper or a Boot Beer might be called a cold drink—if really cold. Why some of the lads sometimes refer to another popular drink as cocoabopolapola—just to shorten the name a bit.
Anyway, we thank the gentleman for his instructions.

Drifting Sands—
We kinda believe most of the movie industry's fears about television would vanish if they would make more movies like the Bing Crosby, Jane Wyman show titled "Here Comes the Groom."
It's a good show but the stars take a back seat because of a 15-year old Italian girl, Anna Maria Albertghetti, who leaves the audience dazed after her one song appearance in the film. Movie critics will have to dig deep to find suitable adjectives to describe the voice of the young coloratura soprano. It's the most beautiful thing we've ever heard.
As Crosby's guest on his show Wednesday night, she stopped the show flat. It's a pity that the average radio set can't begin to cover the range of her voice. If you get the opportunity, it's worth a hundred-mile drive to hear and see her.

One of Harry Truman's cronies who has always seemed to have a particular ability to put and keep his foot in his mouth is another Harry. Major General Harry Vaughn, military aide to the President. He has been somewhat out of the limelight recently, since the Republicans are chasing bigger game such as Dean Acheson, Phillip Jessup and Bill Boyle. Vaughn reveals some of his ineptness in an interview published in this week's issue of U. S. News and World Report. He does, however, give a plausible version of his innocence in the "honor freezer" episode that made the headlines a couple of years ago.

Harry No. 2 warmed over the old story of how the then Senator Truman tried to rejoin the army at the start of World War II. Truman went to General Marshall, then chief of staff, and asked to go on active duty with the field artillery. Marshall called him an "old goat" and said he was too old. Truman said, "General, I'm four years younger than you." "Yes," said Marshall, "but I'm a general and you're just a colonel."

Ramblin' With Royce—
Something we could never quite understand: People who live on a rural route expect the mail carrier to deliver the mail at exactly the same time, through all kinds of weather, every day, six days a week, 52 weeks a year—and yet they will not take 15 minutes to bring their mail boxes up to standard. If you've never noticed, do so next time you're out driving. One mail box will be three feet from the ground and three feet from the pavement or regular road bed, the next will be four feet high and two feet off, the next will be leaning at forty-five degree angle, and the next lying down. Did you ever stop to think of the time and trouble the mail carrier spends in getting the mails through? Our mail service on rural routes is something to be proud of, so let's all help keep it so.

A Message of Importance To Every Automobile Driver In The State of Texas

Here's What You Should Know About The New Texas "Safety Responsibility Law"

- 1 Enforcement Begins January 1, 1952. On this date, the new Safety Responsibility Law, as passed by the Legislature, goes into effect. This law was designed to protect you against financially irresponsible drivers and owners of motor vehicles involved in accidents. It affects all drivers and motor vehicle owners (except Federal, State, County and City-owned cars).
- 2 What Must You Do After An Accident? Under existing laws, you must file a written report to the Department of Public Safety if your car is involved in an accident where there is a death, an injury or property damage in excess of $25. Under the new law, a written report must be filed within ten days if your car is in an accident resulting in death, injury or property damage in excess of $100.
- 3 You Don't Have to Carry Liability Insurance, But . . . If you are not insured against bodily injury and property damage liability, you must be able to deposit with the Department of Public Safety security equal to the estimated damage, not exceeding $15,000.00, to cover all claims growing out of an accident anywhere in Texas in which you or your motor vehicle were involved. If you cannot establish financial responsibility for the future, your driver's license and your motor vehicle license plates are automatically suspended.
- 4 It's Easy to Establish Financial Responsibility with a motor vehicle liability insured policy. If you do not now have such a policy, call your local insurance agent today. He is a qualified insurance counselor who will be happy to advise you concerning your needs.
- 5 What is the Minimum of Your Liability? The law permits each driver to establish the following minimum limits of liability: up to $5,000.00 for injuries sustained by one person; up to $10,000.00 for all personal injuries resulting from one accident, and up to $5,000.00 for property damage. You do not have to establish such liability but it is the easiest way.
- 6 Select An Established Insurance Agent. The agents listed below know the insurance business and represent well-known dependable capital stock insurance companies. These agents are not of the kind that are here today and gone tomorrow. Their names are listed in the telephone directory. A telephone call will find them ready to serve you—not only NOW—but YEARS from now. Call the one of your choice.

W. R. Wilbanks entertained in his home at 1911 Fifteenth St. Friday evening, Oct. 12, with a Stag Stork Shower for C. E. Donegan of 2015 9th St. This event is believed to be the first of its kind in this vicinity and may set a pattern for future parties for fathers-to-be.

Believing that fathers are neglected in their training and preparation for the first born, a life-sized doll was used for a course of instructions in dressing the baby and changing diapers. Mr. Donegan proved to be quite adept in this role, especially after helpful hints from other fathers present.

For a game with audience participation, the bottle derby was used. Ben Shearman was the first man to empty an eight ounce bottle of milk with nipple and was awarded the prize—a quart of milk.

As a climax to the hilarity, Mr. Wilbanks made his appearance dressed as a baby in diaper and bonnet and jumped in the arms of the honoree calling "Da Da." Coffee and mandsied sandwiches were served to the following: Messrs. J. E. Pyls, etc.

High winds whipped Lamb county Monday night, and from one quarter to three quarters inches of rain, mixed with hail, lashed crops in this area. Despite the weather, no hail damage was reported in the county, and the wind and rain did no harm to cotton and grain crops in this area, according to David Eaton, county agent.

Eaton estimates better than 50 per cent of the grain sorghum crop, roughly 220 million pounds, has been harvested to date. He said that if the frost holds off, Lamb county may yield between 375 and 400 million pounds of grain sorghums this year.

When the winter and spring winds whistle over the Gaines county landscape during the next six or seven months deep plowing jobs where huge clods of red clay have been thrown up, are expected to reduce costly wind erosion from that of the previous year.

A 280-acre field was plowed to a depth of 18 and 30 inches by equipment owned by W. L. Palmer of Lubbock. Hershel Hill, operator of the farm, had about three-fourths of the farm plowed to a greater depth, in the area where the sand was deeper. The other part of the field which had been robbed of much of its top sand, was plowed to 18 inches.

A depth of 36 inches was used across some of the sand hummocks where sand from the blown out field had piled up.

The big two-disc Jumbo plow was pulled by an Allis-Chalmers 20 track tractor. Irelan Finley, local PMA administrator, explained that in some cases plowing with three or more discs prevent the operator from doing a good job. He pointed to one field which was plowed several years ago with a single disc, and said this field was an ideal demonstration of the benefits possible from deep plowing.

Do you know where I can get cotton puffers? The above is a question you hear more and more each day, as the 1951 cotton crop pops open, and the fields become white unto the harvest. From the looks of things here Saturday afternoon and Sunday, looks like we have enough Latins and Negroes to not only pull all the cotton, but pull all the mesquites and shinnery oak out by the roots. But we learn that there are a lot of farmers without a hand, yet.

We understand that the employment people are making efforts to get more hands here. Most farmers and others who have thought about the matter are of the opinion that the new federal labor laws are at the bottom of the whole matter.

Bubbles, a small black female dog belonging to Mrs. Jeanette Robbins, has recently shown that dogs and cats can be friends. Bubbles has taken on a task that would probably be disgraceful to a less cultured and educated canine. This task is raising a kitten. The kitten was abandoned by its mother or lost when it was only a few days old. Mrs. Robbins' daughter found the kitten and brought it to her mother's house. Bubbles has never had any puppies so she bestowed a mother's love upon the kitten. The dog protects the kitten with the fierce loyalty of a true mother.

Dab-nab it, we gotta quit making funnies out of puns. They say the pun is the lowest form of humor.

One party who reads this column regularly, says humor is like history. It repeats itself.

Now what do you suppose he meant by that?

for Cris D. Guetersloh barehanded. He pursued the beautiful feathered creature in a speedboat and then, as it flew off the waters, he grabbed its feet.

The bird, nicknamed, "Joe" by Park Superintendent J. Beane, was captured by Guetersloh as he nabbed a husky pelican off the waters of Silver Lake, near Pep and brought it to Levelland.

Now the superintendent is in hopes he can find a mate for the pelican. Having heard tales of a strange bird in the vicinity of Anton, Beane plans to check and see if it might also be a pelican. If so, he'll have to do is maneuver it over a body of water, rent himself a speedboat, and then pluck the feathered creature right out of the sky.

Sounds easy.

By the time you read this One Million Dollars Worth of Cotton will have been gathered and ginned at Petersburg and according to cotton men and some farmers this is about one sixth of the crop that will be gathered in this area. In other words we are looking for a six million dollar crop in cotton alone, not counting a million dollars worth that was fed to the worms and other insects. Up until Thursday at noon 4,900 bales had been ginned here in Petersburg.

SIZE OF FLOCK AFFECTS PROFIT

Flock size has an important influence on the profits earned by a poultry raiser. To illustrate, let's consider a laying flock, and how the size of that flock to a large extent determines its profitability. First, we must recognize that it is the large laying flock that brings in the most money. Naturally, during periods of high egg prices farms with large flocks earn much higher incomes than those with small flocks.

Four Reasons

There are four principal reasons why large laying flocks are usually the most profitable. Number one: The raiser has more to work with. He has more eggs and poultry to sell. Any profit on a dozen eggs or a pound of poultry meat is naturally increased as the size of the flock increases, thus producing more income. On the other hand, the owner of a small flock enjoys less total profit. Of course, in times of poor prices, the large flock works at a disadvantage. In this instance, however, favorable egg-fare ratios (when feed prices compare favorably with egg prices) usually help offset the effects of low prices.

Secondly, a large laying flock enables the raiser to utilize his labor, equipment, and buildings more efficiently. For example, doubling the size of the flock does not always double the amount of labor, equipment, and buildings required. Therefore, the cost of production is less.

Buying And Selling

An owner of a large flock also has certain buying and selling advantages. By purchasing large amounts of feed, the raiser often gets a discount in price. And by supplying more eggs per shipment, he can frequently get premium prices from egg buyers.

Finally, there is little difference in the number of eggs laid per hen in small and large flocks, so the egg production of individual birds does not vary significantly according to the size of flock.

The number of layers a raiser should have depends on the amount of labor available, the buildings which can be used, and the finances on hand. But in any poultry-raising project the poultryman should adjust his time and labor at a level which will enable him to manage a flock large enough to provide a good profit.
