

News Of Slaton Men In Service

M/Sgt. Elwayne C. Davidson of Slaton has been assigned to the 8th Marine Corps reserve district, with headquarters in New Orleans, following his discharge from active duty.

Since October 4, 1950 he has been serving at the Marine Recruit Depot, San Diego. During World War II, Davidson served five years active duty with the 2nd Marine division.

Before being called back to active duty he was working for the Santa Fe railroad in Slaton. He plans to return to his job, now that he is a member of the inactive reserve.

Mrs. Louis Mosser recently had a week end visit from three of her sons who are in the Army. Pfc. Jimmy Mosser has been transferred from Fort Sill, Okla., to Camp Chaffey, Arkansas, where he is in Mechanics School. Pvt. Paul Mosser is with a Tank Bn. at Fort Hood. Pfc. Cecil Mosser is at Camp Carson, Colorado. Cecil writes that they have had a lot of snow and cold weather there.

Mrs. Tom McCain had a call from her son, Billy Gene Greer. He has been transferred to Hutchinson, Kansas, for six more months of schooling. He had been studying Radar from January to October and then he went to Duncanville as a Radar Mechanic.

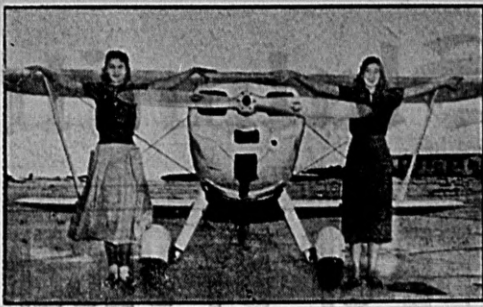

Sgt. Jay C. Nesbitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Nesbitt, writes that they never see the sun at Burtonwood, England, where he is stationed. It's always damp and rainy and T B X-Ray check ups are constantly being given because men living under those weather conditions are more prone to the disease. Jay wrote two weeks ago that he had been in the hospital and had to go back for X-rays.

He will have been overseas two years in February. In that time he has seen Paris, France, and part of Scotland, Ireland, and Germany. He is supposed to come home in March of 1952.

Pfc. Joe Kitten, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Kitten, spent the week end and Armistice day at home, returning to Fort Sill, Okla., Monday evening. He is still training recruits there.

Files Dangerous

Files are disease carriers which depend on trash heaps for nourishment, so wipe out files and the germs they carry by keeping all refuse in galvanized steel garbage cans. Health officials recommend the cans because they have close-fitting covers to keep out flies.

FOR SHORT FLIGHTS—With arms outstretched, Lois Pearce, left, and Sally Alford of Manteo, N. C., stand on almost reach from tip to tip of this tiny plane's 15-foot wing spread. The midjet plane, built by Bill Anderson, manager of Roanoke Island Airport at Manteo, has room only for the pilot. Its cruising speed is 120 miles per hour.

COUPLA DOLLS—Following her premiere performance in "The Lady From Maxim's," Jeannette Batt, in a state of some undress, examines a doll dressed in Gay Nineties clothes similar to those worn by the star on stage. Jeannette has the lead in a new version of the old play at the Sarah Bernhardt Theater in Slaton.

A Message of Importance To Every Automobile Driver In The State of Texas

Here's What You Should Know About The New Texas "Safety Responsibility Law"

- 1 Enforcement Begins January 1, 1952. On this date, the new Safety Responsibility Law, as passed by the Legislature, goes into effect. This law was designed to protect you against financially irresponsible drivers and owners of motor vehicles involved in accidents. It affects all drivers and motor vehicle owners (except Federal, State, County and City-owned cars).
- 2 What Must You Do After An Accident? Under existing laws, you must file a written report to the Department of Public Safety if your car is involved in an accident where there is a death, an injury or property damage in excess of $25. Under the new law, a written report must be filed within ten days if your car is in an accident resulting in death, injury or property damage in excess of $100.
- 3 You Don't Have to Carry Liability Insurance, But... If you are not insured against bodily injury and property damage liability, you must be able to deposit with the Department of Public Safety security equal to the estimated damage, not exceeding $15,000.00, to cover all claims growing out of an accident anywhere in Texas in which you or your motor vehicle were involved. If you cannot establish financial responsibility for the future, your driver's license and your motor vehicle license plates are automatically suspended.
- 4 It's Easy to Establish Financial Responsibility with a motor vehicle liability insurance policy. If you do not now have such a policy, call your local insurance agent today. He is a qualified insurance counselor who will be happy to advise you concerning your needs.
- 5 What is the Minimum of Your Liability? The law permits each driver to establish the following minimum limits of liability: up to $5,000.00 for injuries sustained by one person; up to $10,000.00 for all personal injuries resulting from one accident, and up to $5,000.00 for property damage. You do not have to establish such liability but it is the easiest way.
- 6 Select An Established Insurance Agent. The agents listed below know the insurance business and represent well-known dependable capital stock insurance companies. These agents are not of the kind that are here today and gone tomorrow. Their names are listed in the telephone directory. A telephone call will find them ready to serve you—not only NOW—but YEARS from now. Call the one of your choice.

Brazil Nut Stuffing Vies With Bird

Turkey holds a place of honor at holiday feasts. However, we can still add something new to its glory by way of an unusual stuffing. A Brazil nut and bread cube stuffing is new and truly excellent. Creamy, chopped Brazil nuts add richness of flavor and texture to the bread base. It is this nut flavor that stimulates the family toward second helpings of a stuffing that will compete in interest with the turkey.

Shelling of the big, crinkly Brazil nuts for holiday use is simplified if the nuts are boiled about three minutes in water. Then drain and cover the nuts with cold water for a minute. Once the shells are softened, the nut meats can easily be removed.

As a special treat with the dessert course, serve toasted Brazil nut chips. Thin, lengthwise slices of Brazil nuts are dotted with butter, sprinkled lightly with salt and toasted 15 to 20 minutes in a moderate oven.

Brazil Nut Turkey Stuffing

- |                                |                                   |
|--------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 8 cups cubed, day-old bread    | 1/2 cup diced celery              |
| 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning   | 2 cups finely chopped Brazil nuts |
| 1 1/2 teaspoons salt           | 1/2 cup butter or margarine       |
| 2 small onions, finely chopped | 1/4 cup boiling water             |
- Combine in large mixing bowl, bread, seasonings, onion, celery and Brazil nuts. Melt butter in boiling water. Pour over bread and toss with fork until well mixed. Stuff into bird lightly.
- YIELD: about 12 cups stuffing for 10 to 12 pound turkey.

Lutheran Church Has Centennial

This Sunday will be centennial Sunday at St. John's Lutheran Church, Wilson, Texas. November marks the 100th Anniversary of the founding of the First Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Texas which has an unbroken history to the present, now being the Texas District of the American Lutheran Church.

The Centennial week will be celebrated with special services at the local Evangelical Lutheran Church at the corner of 15th and Jean Sts. on Sunday, Nov. 18. Pastor Lowell C. Green will deliver the sermon at this service, which begins at 9:15 a.m.

An identical service will be held at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church at Posey, beginning at 11 a.m.

There were Lutherans among the colony of Stephen F. Austin in 1821 but in those early pioneer days they had no pastors. As more settlers came in from the United States and from European countries, the increasing number of Lutherans called for pastors so in 1849 a devout Christian gentleman, C. F. Spittler, of Basil, Switzerland, heard the pleas of these early-settlers and arranged for six young Lutheran missionaries to sail for Texas. These six pastors: John Roehm, John Ebnker, Phillip Zizelman, William Strobel, Christian Oefinger and Henry Wendt, together with Rev. Casper Braun from Pennsylvania organized at Houston on November 10, 1851, the first Lutheran Synod in Texas.

All churches of the Texas District of the American Lutheran Church are designating one service this month as their special Centennial Service in tribute to the valiant efforts of these early Lutheran pioneers of Texas. The service at Wilson will begin at 10:45 a.m., according to the Rev. C. C. Ehler.

Meeting Is Held In Shepherd Home

The Jr. Civic and Culture Club met with Mrs. Jack Shepherd on Tuesday, November 6th. Mrs. Edwin Cummings presided over the business meeting. Mrs. Jack Pearson replaced Mrs. Charles Walton who resigned.

Roll call was answered by giving a foot ailment. Miss Cora Sealy gave a talk on how to buy and fit shoes properly. A clever little script was presented by Mrs. Jack Shepherd, Mrs. C. M. McClure, Mrs. Charles Walton and Mrs. W. T. Davis on the difficulties of buying proper and attractive shoes. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Lottie Moon Circle Meets

The Lottie Moon Circle met in the home of Mrs. J. S. Vaughn on Monday afternoon for the Bible Study, with 14 members present.

Mrs. Vaughn brought the lesson from the Life of Sara.

The next Circle meeting will be the Missionary Study.

CHURCH CHANGES SERVICES

There has been a change in the time of the morning worship service at St. John's Lutheran Church in Wilson, according to the pastor, Rev. C. C. Ehler. The service will in the future, begin at 10:45 a. m. with Sunday School and Adult Bible Class still beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Schwertner entertained with a party in their home Sunday. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schilling and family, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Schwertner and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Schwertner and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kuss, and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Kitten and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Warren and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Steffens and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Schilling and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hollinden, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schwertner of St. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schilling of El Paso, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schilling.

Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

Turkey Dinner To Be Held Nov. 24

The Lutheran W. M. S. turkey dinner which was to be held Nov. 16, has been postponed to Saturday, Nov. 24. The dinner will be held at the Slaton Club House from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m., and the ladies plan to serve "all you can eat" for $1.00 a plate.

A bazaar will be held during the dinner hours. Fine hand made articles will be on sale. All proceeds are to go to the building fund for the new church.

For reservations call Mrs. Malcolm Limmer, phone 691-J.

Mrs. J. C. Eakin has tested this Banana Nut Cake recipe and finds it delicious. She says it is especially good with coffee, and ranks first among her favorites.

BANANA NUT CAKE

- |                      |   |
|----------------------|---|
| 1 1/2 cups sugar     | 3 eggs  |
| 1 cup pecans         | 1/2 cup flour   |
| 1/2 tsp. salt        | 1/2 cup butter or shortening  |
| 1 cup banana pulp    | 1 cup sour milk   |
| 1 tsp. baking powder | 1 tsp. soda   |
| 2 tsp. hot water     | Cream butter and sugar, and add eggs, bananas, nuts and sour milk; then add dry ingredients and stiffly beaten egg whites. Add soda dissolved in hot water. Bake in layer pans. |
- For icing Mrs. Eakin uses 2 mashed bananas, a box of powdered sugar, 1 tsp. butter, 1 tsp. vanilla, and 1 cup nuts.
- Mrs. Eakin has lived in Slaton for six years. They have one son, Wayne, who is a high school student and member of the band.
- Her hobbies are crocheting and keeping house. She is a member of the Methodist church.
- Mr. Eakin is in the insurance business with National Life.

Delta Phi Omega Meets On Oct. 31

A regular meeting of Delta Phi Omega Sorority was held on Oct. 31, in the home of Betty Dodson. New and old business was discussed.

The Halloween theme was carried out in the decorations and in the refreshments.

CLEAN SWEEP IN BROOM BUSINESS—This broom factory has the industry all to itself in the Schenectady, N. Y., area where a century ago the broom business brought $120,000 a year into what was then one of the nation's broom-making centers. George J. Kranick is shown doing his bit to keep the district's business alive. Which is wicker's favorite model? Well, performance data on brooms in foreground are being withheld until after Halloween.

AIDING ARMS—The outstretched arms, or rotors, of this Marine helicopter beat the air in speeded tempo as the craft, pulling away from the earth, swings perilously low over the anxious, ducking heads of American troops somewhere in North Korea. An Army photographer caught this picture as the 'copter, headed for a rear area hospital, removed a wounded G. I. from the battlefield.

O.E.S. To Sponsor A Pancake Supper

A benefit pancake supper will be served at the West Ward school Saturday, December 8th, at 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. Arrangements for games of "42" after the supper will be made. The 75 cent supper ticket will also admit the guest to the "42" games. The public is invited.

The supper was announced by Mrs. Bevis Hanna, Chairman of the Finance Committee of O.E.S. at the meeting held Tuesday evening, Nov. 13.

At that meeting, Mrs. W. E. McCain, Worthy Matron, gave her report of the 69th session of Grand Chapter of Texas O.E.S. held in San Antonio October 22-25. She was the chapter representative.

An Obligation Program given was very impressive and beautiful. Mrs. H. E. Woods was the Leader.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

TO: Carl Walker, the unknown heirs and legal representatives of Carl Walker, deceased; and all persons claiming any title or interest in the land described below under deed heretofore given to Harry Martindale, dated November 17, 1922 and recorded in Volume 78 at page 9 of the Lubbock County, Texas Deed Records, of Lubbock County, Texas, as grantee Defendants. Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable 99th District Court of Lubbock County at the Court House thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 17th day of December A. D. 1951, then and there to answer Plaintiff's Second Amended Original Petition filed in said Court, on the 27th day of October A. D. 1951, in this cause, numbered 19561 on the docket of said court, and styled C. R. Harris vs Mrs. O. W. Walker et al. The defendants in such case being besides the defendants set out above Mrs. O. W. Walker, Harold Walker, Bennett Walker, Harry Martindale, Ethel Martindale, Inez Walker Deaton, Ollie Deaton, Mrs. L. Deine Walker Roberts and Keller Roberts.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit:

This is a Trespass to Try Title Suit concerning Lot Number Six (6) and the South Twenty-five Feet (S5') of Lot Number Five, Block Number Eighty-Eight (88), South Slaton Addition to the Town of Slaton, Lubbock County, Texas the title and possession of and to which is claimed by both the Plaintiff and the Defendants herein—Plaintiff, C. R. Harris, has pleaded and does rely on his and his predecessors in title's adverse possession for five, ten, and twenty-five years of said land, which is situated in Lubbock County, Texas, and containing one and one-half town lots of land as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

If this Citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at of-

Maid Of Cotton To Be Named At Tech

Thirteen Texas Tech co-eds will go before a seven-member judging committee Nov. 19 to vie for the honor of being named the South Plains Maid of Cotton. Winner of the title will have an opportunity to compete for the national title of Maid of Cotton, competing against beauties from all cotton-producing states at Memphis, Tenn., next Jan. 2-3.

The Nov. 19 judging will be at the Tech Aggie auditorium, and is open to the public.

Practicing safety with guns in the fields or woods is a good conservation practice that applies to both humans and wildlife. About two-thirds of all hunting accidents result from humans in the line of fire, mistaking humans for game and hunting with the safety catch off on the gun.

Ecklund Self-Propelled Stripper Does Good Work In Test Run Here

DEFINITION OF A FARMER—

A farmer is a man who starts out with nothing, loses on everything he grows and comes out even at the end of the year. Nobody knows how he does it. He doesn't even know himself.

Anyone looking over his farm would think the smartest man in the world would starve trying to tend it. That would be right. The smartest man would starve, but not the farmer. His wife wouldn't let him starve. She has one basic menu: she serves whatever she has. In good years she serves half a dozen vegetables at a meal; in lean years she jumps from poke salad to blackeyed peas.

A real farmer can shape an axe handle from a persimmon prout and put it in with a dull pocket knife. He has a serviceable set of harness fashioned from hay wire, feed sacks, and a few scraps of leather. He grows corn for the squirrels so the city sportsmen may have something to shoot at in due season.

He is the world's greatest optimist. He believes that the fact that he has come this far is proof that he can continue to the end. He buries last year's disappointments with the spring plowing and lives for the future. His faith is not in himself alone.

Jokeysters say he consults the almanac before he plants his crops and has his teeth pulled in the dark of the moon so they won't sprout, and perhaps he does sometimes.

But, after a hard week's work, he drives five miles to church because his heart still holds the eternal truths that worldly, viser men have lost. If any man aspires to the title of farmer, let him measure himself by this standard.

He must have worn out two pairs of overalls growing enough cotton for one; he must regularly do a half a day's work before the sun comes up and another half day's work after the sun goes down; he must have the heart to plant in hope, cultivate in faith and end in failure, and then start all over with greater hope and stronger faith.

This is a farmer. Heaven help the family that depends on him for support. Heaven help the nation that does not have him to lepdn upon for its support. —Texas Agriculture.

Cotton Too Green To Be Harvested Mechanically Now

Ginners were agreed Monday that most of the cotton in this area is not ready for harvest with cotton strippers. They estimated about two more weeks will be needed to dry the cotton sufficiently to make ginning of stripped cotton feasible.

Mr. Heard of Howard and Heard said they had ginned four bales, but some of it was from cotton that was defoliated way back before the first freeze. He said most of the cotton is still too green. Their first bale was ginned Friday and turned out a pretty good sample, but they couldn't handle a lot of machined cotton.

Mr. Johnny Collins at the Co-Op Gins said they have ginned four bales, starting last week, but that it is too green. He thinks two more weeks will be needed to dry the cotton.

Mr. A. D. Adams at Campbell Gin said they had one bale, but didn't gin it because it was too green and sappy. They kept it over night and next morning it was so hot it would burn your hand. The farmer took it back to spread it out to dry. Mr. Adams said by the first or middle of next week they may be able to handle machine harvested cotton, and he added that a freeze or two would help.

Mr. Tudor at Posey Gin said they had ginned four or five bales but that it was green and taggy and gave a poor sample that looked rough. He said we could use another freeze and windy weather before cotton can be harvested profitably with strippers.

Several farmers including Judge Smith and Herman Schilling have estimated that 10 days to two weeks will pass before they can start stripping cotton. Mr. Schilling has taken his machine out and pulled some cotton and made adjustments. He hopes to get started next week if the dry weather continues.

Mr. Erik Ecklund, who lives 6 miles west of Slaton, says he is well pleased with the results of the test run of his self propelled cotton harvester. He began harvesting his crop with the new machine this week.

The stripper, fashioned from the chassis, motor, and transmission of an old Chevrolet truck and an Oliver puller was named the Ollie-hopper by Ecklund's sons, Dennis, 5, and Dwayne, 8, who said it looked like a grasshopper.

The rear end and the rear wheels of the truck were taken as a basis from which to work. The rear dual wheels of the truck form the rear of the stripper mounting. A chassis of channel, angle and flat iron was constructed on which the motor is mounted. The stripping mechanism is swung under the motor mount.

A single wheel, which is also used for steering, supports the front of the machine. This makes it a tri-wheeled affair.

The operator sits on a seat just in front of the motor and just behind the front wheel. Controls include a steering wheel, a clutch, a gear shift, a hydraulic lift for the stripper, throttle, and individual hydraulic brakes for the rear wheels. All are easily reached by the driver.

The truck transmission, connected through a chain drive, propels the machine. The stripper mechanism is operated from a power take-off from the transmission and is operated through an independent clutch.

A trailer hooks on to the back of the unit similar to the way a trailer hooks on to the back of a regular stripper.

Ecklund said the self-propelled part of the machine cost him $1,100. Cost of the stripper, about $1,400, has to be added to get the cost of the entire machine.

Advantages of a self-propelled machine include ease of turning and saving of cotton. Many strippers hook onto the backs of tractors and trailers hook onto the strippers to catch the cotton. This makes a three-unit machine to turn at the end of each row.

Ecklund said tractors which pull strippers usually knock down a large quantity of cotton, especially after the stalks get brittle.

He has applied for a patent on his Olliehopper, but says selling it for commercial production is just a possibility at this time.

Mr. Leo Henzler, who made the machine in his implement shop from Ecklund's idea, said it worked perfectly. No changes were necessary. He says it does a lot better job than an Oliver pulled by a tractor and gives much better control with the operator in the position used in this machine.

Saturday they pulled a bale of cotton in 15 minutes with the machine, says Mr. Henzler. The cotton looked like hand picked cotton. The machine now cleans better and gets more trash because the elevator was raised about six inches, which gives more time to knock out trash, 1700 lbs. made over a 500-lb. bale. Usually in machine pulled cotton it takes 2000 lbs. or better to get a 500 lb. bale.

One of the farmers who saw the demonstration tried to buy the machine for $1,000.00 over the total cost to Mr. Ecklund, but he refused to sell. Henzler Implement Co. has orders to make more of the machines, but Leo Henzler says they won't be able to complete many more in time for this year's harvest.

The Olliehopper may be seen in operation at the Ecklund farm. Advanced planning and preparation for the Thanksgiving dinner plus the use of the home freezer can help the homemaker out of the kitchen on Thanksgiving Day.

NEWSPAPER BARGAIN RATES NOW ON AT THE SLATONITE

Beginning on January 1st, 1952, the yearly rate by mail for the Slatonite will go from $2.00 per year in the counties of Lubbock, Garza and Lynn to $2.50 per year and from $2.50 to $3.00 per year at all points outside of these three counties.

A long list of sob stories, such as the increasing cost of the editors breakfast bacon, and the price of lip stick that goes on our society editors smiling lips, could be related in an endeavor to make the blow lighter, but what's the use of beating the devil around the stump, we just gotta do it, and, so folks, if you want to continue to get your paper for the sensational low price of two flying saucers for the year of 1952, you can do it if you get on your horse, bicycle or scooter and come down here, or we will accept a check or any other form of loot through the mail.

The Star-Telegram also has some very low rates for both renewal and new subscribers, if you get under the wire soon. Their rates are: by mail $13.90 for seven days per week including Sunday, six days per week, no Sunday, $12.60. The Lubbock Avalanche, seven days per week, including Sunday is now $12.95, and six days per week, no

Powell Ribbed Over Odd Role

Dick Powell is out to do mayhem on everyone with a snide sense of humor—and all because of a film comedy role.

The popular actors' attitude has been engendered by the avalanche of wise cracks aimed in his direction when he started impersonating a dog turned human.

In his latest movie role cast opposite Peggy Dow in Universal-International's "You Never Can Tell," opening Wednesday at the Slaton Theatre, Powell is actually a German Shepherd who is poisoned, goes to animal heaven and then returns to earth reincarnated as Dick Powell, Private Eye, to track down his murderer.

His many friends in the film colony, according to Powell, have looked upon this strange portrayal as a cue to rib him with every corny joke in the book.

"If another coy head waiter brings me a plate of kibble for an appetizer," says Powell, "I'll personally broil him."

"People don't seem to realize it gets a little tiresome being snarled at, called 'Fido,' offered a bone and told I'm the spittin' image of their cockeyed little cocker spaniel."

Powell now claims that he is going to write a book titled "I Was A Dog." In it he will describe what a dog's life it is to be a human. He insists he will expose practical jesters for the beasts they really are.

"The movies are a business," Powell good-naturedly concludes. "So I did have to eat dog biscuits and climb in a dog house during the production of 'You Never Can Tell.' Does that necessarily mean that I have to bark when I go out at night?"

Peggy Dow is Powell's co-star in the hilarious new comedy and the film's large supporting cast is headed by Joyce Holden, Charles Drake and Flame, the dog actor who portrays Powell in the comedy's canine sequences.

Lou Breslow directed from his original screenplay and Leonard Goldstein produced.

Technicolor Film Stars A New Team

Hollywood has embarked on a brand-new trend that will win full-hearted approval from the millions of movie fans throughout the entire world.

For years the movie fans have said in no uncertain terms that they wanted to see new faces on the theatre screen. This feeling has also been voiced by the movie exhibitors.

Universal-International, in answer to these expressions from both the movie fan and exhibitor, has starred Tony Curtis and Piper Laurie in the Technicolor "The Prince Who Was A Thief."

based on a Theodore Dreiser story and opening Tuesday and Wednesday at the Caprock Drive-In Theatre.

"The Prince Who Was A Thief" is a swashbuckling film depicting the adventures of an infant prince raised by thieves and the pretty little street urchin who falls in love with him.

Curtis is the handsome lad who has been playing important supporting roles in recent Universal-International films and his starring capabilities caught the eye of studio executives when it became known that he was outstanding most other studio actors in the field of fan mail.

The young actor was also literally mobbed when he made personal appearance tours throughout the nation in conjunction with the premiere showing of his films in which he played supporting roles.

Piper Laurie, just 18 and fresh out of high school, proved her worth as the teen-ager in the highly-successful "Louisa" and was quick to follow with another success in "The Milkmaid" starring Jimmy Durante and Donald O'Connor.

The youthful red-haired beauty has now completed her fourth film playing opposite Donald O'Connor in "Francis Goes To The Races," also headlining Francis, the talking mouse.

"The Prince Who Was A Thief," with its new starring combination of Tony Curtis and Piper Laurie, is a spectacular answer to the demands of the people who make star names.

Leonard Goldstein produced and Rudolph Mate directed.

Past Perfect

It was the custom in Ancient Egypt for the ladies to present flowers to the men. The Book House for Children describes how the young king, Akhnaton, received floral tributes from his beautiful wife, Queen Nefertiti, as an expression of her undying affection for him.

How Long Will It Last? . . .

With all of the hullabaloo going on around us about dishonesty in government, inflation and waste, we may be looking too long and too hard at the dark side of the picture and becoming blind to the advantages that we are now enjoying. There is no denying that there are a great many things wrong and dishonest about the way our national affairs are being administered, but they may not be much worse than they have ever been, and the main difference could be that we are hearing more and more about the things that are rotten at the core.

One would wonder what is being done about what has been taking place. The officials who are accused of crimes that would send an ordinary official to the penitentiary, resign their offices; if they suffer any punishment for their wrong doing, we seldom hear about it.

But all in all the people of the South Plains are enjoying more prosperity than has ever come in this area before in its history. The farmers are particularly fortunate in that they can, if they wish, grow many of the items of food that cost people in other walks of life so much, business firms are limited only to the extent to which they can serve their trade and any able bodied person who is willing to work can secure some kind of employment and, those of fair skill, are drawing better wages than ever before in history.

True, cost of living has gone up just about as fast as wages and prices of products have risen, but still there are few people who cannot save some money. There are few in other nations of the world who can set aside savings of any kind, and most of the people of England and in most other parts of the world, including those who own property are on very restricted allowances of food and clothing.

This nation and the people of the South Plains may be wallowing in a sea of inflation, over exploitation, fear and the icks of world tension, but we are a lot better off than we realize and so much better off than people in most all parts of the world, that we should stop and be thankful for what we have and overlook the fact that the such good things may not last forever.

ate Of The Weather . . .

We noticed a headline in The Denver Post the other day which tickled our fancy. It was something like this: "Weather Bureau Discovers Texas Is Big State."

The story, of course, reported the recent sub-division of the state, for forecast purposes, which went into effect Nov. 1. Under the new plan, the state has four regional forecasts each day, rather than two forecasts which have been used for the past uncounted years.

Under the old plan, the weather bureau issued predictions for East Texas and West Texas. Now, the old sections are redefined, and in addition, there are forecasts for Central Texas and South Central Texas.

But the Panhandle's position in the weather forecastness is the same as before.

We are still in West Texas, along with such points of weather personality as the Big Bend country, the El Paso San Angelo, Abilene and all the other points located west of the 99th Meridian.

In commenting on the old system, The Fort Worth Star Telegram observed:

"It made people living in such places as Uvalde, Brownwood, Eastland and Abilene feel almost unpatriotic when they had to look under an East Texas heading to find out what the weather in West Texas was going to be."

"That compromise . . . at least puts East Texas back over there where it belongs and permits some aggrandizement of territory on the part of West Texas."

We have deepest sympathy for the feeling of the folks in Uvalde, Brownwood, Eastland and Abilene. We know their sensations well—for those pains are still with us.

What we need on the High Plains is a forecast for the Tri-State area, which takes into consideration the similarity of our conditions with those in northern New Mexico and the Oklahoma Panhandle.

Weather has always thumbed its nose at state lines, whether the weather bureau likes it or not. —Amarillo Globe-News.

Martin And Lewis Star In Mad Film

That red hot comedy team of Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis will bring their uninhibited capering to the screen of the Slaton Theatre beginning next Sunday when Paramount's "That's My Boy" sets up shop. Last seen in the sensational comedy success "At War With The Army," Jerry and Dean have checked out of the barracks and into the dormitory for a hilarious try at college life, and judging from the adjective-heavy advance reports, this is the funniest adventure of them all.

These versatile exponents of merriment, music and mayhem have top-drawer assistance in this howling account of life on the campus. Actress Ruth Hussey, temptress Marion Marshall, songstress Polly Bergen and a very funny fellow named Eddie Mayheoff lend their assorted talents in a side-splitting demonstration of what happens when a burly ex-football hero gets a scrawny weakling for a son.

The anemic college boy of the piece is Jerry. His eyes burn, his feet hurt and he gets allergies from just breathing. Jarring Jack Jackson, his very All-American father, wants him to put down his pills, pick up a football, and bull his way through the line.

Jarring Jack talks the coach into putting his boy on the squad, and room mate Dean, the husky backfield star who's throwing the campus lasses for a loss, does his best to help mold this gangling mass of putty into a football player. But nothing happens until a torrid co-ed gets hold of Jerry. Then he warms to athletics, and becomes one of the strangest football heroes that ever scampered down a gridiron.

Lewis, the irresponsible clown, mixes his wonderful nonsense with a real characterization that is additional proof of his unusual versatility. Martin gets an opportunity to display his unique vocal style, and pretty Polly Bergen assists him in song. Hal Walker directed this Hal Wallis production.

Card Of Thanks

Dear Friends, we want to thank all the people of Slaton, Posey, Lubbock, Southland, Post, Gordon, Hackberry and Brownfield, who were so nice in helping sit up and assist with Carl while he was so sick. Your help was greatly appreciated.

Low-Down on a high-powered Performer

Let us tell you this:

The Buick pictured here packs more power than you find in any other car of its size and room and price.

That's the power of Buick's newest high-compression valve-in-head eight—the F-263 Fireball Engine, that really gets miles from a gallon of gas.

Add to this the fact that it tips the scales at 3817 pounds curb-side—and you begin to see why this big-powered beauty is such a nimble-footed number out on the road.

But that's only Chapter I of the performance story.

There's a big-car feel to the way this trim traveler covers the ground—hugs the curves—holds its course on the straightaway—smothers the bumps with its big soft coil springs on all four wheels.

There's a big-car room inside—six-passenger room—headroom, hiproom, shoulderroom, kneeroom, front and back.

Come in, look it over, and we think you'll agree—it's big in everything but price.

And that's where it really shines. If you've shopped around you'll know what we mean when you read the price tags, and what they include in the way of standard equipment that shows up as "extras" on so many others. Such things as an oil filter, air cleaner, vacuum booster, built-in summer ventilation are all yours at no extra charge.

It's hard to believe but it's true. If you can afford a new car, you can afford this Buick at the prices we're quoting today.

Better come in and look this smart buy over.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other series.

Watchdog Committee . . .

Former President Hoover's indorsement of a proposal to set up a new congressional watchdog committee on military spending adds weight to the plan being sponsored by Senators Lodge, O'Connor and Bridges. These senators favor a Senate-House committee that would maintain a 365-day-a-year supervision of defense expenditures.

Mr. Hoover, in giving his approval to the proposal, pointed out that more than the normal congressional committees are needed for overseeing the numerous appropriation requests that run into the billions. The signal success of the Senate progress subcommittee under the direction of Senator Lyndon Johnson has been further evidence in favor of a still larger investigation of a year-round basis.

Senator Lodge, a prime sponsor of the proposal, explained that the joint committee would be staffed with experts who were "wholly independent of the executive" and would be empowered to "challenge all department requests for funds." Presumably, the committee's duties would extend into all phases of federal spending in which defense and nondefense calls may be closely related.

The immensity of military costs alone certainly is occasion for a thorough, competent, impartial check and analysis of all defense budget requests. There is not enough time for Congress to make this critical study after budget recommendations are made. Hence, defense requests must either be approved without consideration or be arbitrarily trimmed.

The preparation of a $90 million budget by the executive and other departments requires months, and logically its analysis should be allowed as much or more time. The immensity of all federal costs and the rise in taxes call for this adequate supervision by the responsible branch of government, Congress. The needs of defense must be reconciled with the ability of the national economy to bear the cost. —Fort Worth Star Telegram.

Arthur Richman: When a woman refuses to quarrel with a man, it means that she's tired of him. True lovers fight back.

Varnish Finishes

Apply one or two coats of varnish to furniture allowing each coat to dry thoroughly. Then rub down with steel wool or fine sandpaper. Apply final coat of varnish. After it is dry, rub with pumice stone and water if a full finish is desired. If a higher polish is desired, rub with boiled linseed oil and pumice stone.

JUST TALK

by
A.M.J.

Several weeks ago I mentioned that I grew up in the LITTLE town of Paris, Texas. This brought a reprimand from my sister who still lives in Paris, and who occasionally takes a few minutes off to read the Slatonite.

Paris is now a town of about 30-000 and way out of the LITTLE town class, especially when compared to Slaton, but regardless as to the size of Paris now, it will always remain a small town in my estimation because I grew up there and I could tell you the name of practically every dog and cat in town. I got out of Paris only once each year and that was on a dollar excursion of two days to the Dallas Fair, and I stood up in a reeking day coach for the 108 miles. The train was always late going and coming back and most of the men were drunk on the return trip. Things were a general mess, but I waited every year with great expectations for the trip to the Dallas Fair where I spent my few times on the ferris wheel and the "whip." If they had any exhibits of animals or fancy preserves I never found them, and would not have paid attention to them if I had.

Once I tried to jump the twenty-foot high fence around the fair grounds. When a cop waved his club at me I jumped back on the outside of the fence and sprained my ankle so badly that I missed the entire shebang and spent my short lived vacation soaking my ankle in a bowl of hot water at my Aunt Clara's home.

Aunt Clara was a very sweet character who would not kill a fly or a mosquito and refused to eat any part of a chicken when it came from her own flock.

Paris may be a big city to my sister, but it will always be the place I grew up in to me, and the place where I know some of the finest folks in the world and the thought of Dallas always makes my ankle ache. Slaton seems like a lot more important place than Paris was when I was a boy.

Gene Howe in his Tackless Texan in The Amarillo Globe had the following in his column:

If half a hen lays half an egg in half a day, how many eggs will a whole hen lay in a whole day?

My wife thought it very clever, hers about half an egg or half a chicken or half an apple. The correct answer, Mr. Howe says, is two eggs, but personally I don't believe any half a hen can lay half an egg, or any part of an egg. If anyone ever catches a half a hen laying half an egg I'll give that person a half a dollar.

There is a considerable lot of talk on oil royalties since the activity started out on the Forrest anch, but never having had the oil fever and not being educated in the language the oil folks use my blood pressure remains normal. I have dreamed of raising chickens by the millions and raking in the shekels by the ton.
I have owned acre after acre of rich farm land on which I have grown tomatoes as big as watermelons and I have organized big business industries and wallowed in wealth, but never in my day or night dreams have I struck oil, and the oil agitation leaves me cold. Unless there is oil underneath the ground in our back yard
I'm not going to get very greasy from oil from my own oil well.

After a talk with Cecil Self over at the service station I am beginning to feel a little uncertain.
Cecil saw the "what's it" that flew over the sky last week and he says he is not too well satisfied with the meteor theory. While he does not set himself up as a meteor expert, he has seen a lot of what he has always called shooting stars and the ones he saw did not go sideways, but were way up in the sky and came down.

Between the flying saucers, atom bomb and all the other funny stuff that is going around, and with some of the long whiskered scientists talking about a trip to the moon, I am beginning to wish that those guys would quit monkeying around with a lot of things they have found, first thing we know the whole world is going to be blown up and we'll all be floating around in space with no place to go.

Most of the businessmen will tell you that they are receiving most of the merchandise that they have ordered lately, but my experience has been different. In September, 1950, I ordered three office desks, one executive size and two secretary desks with a place for the typewriter to be pulled out like a jack-in-the-box.
After six months I forgot all about them until over a year, on October 25th, I got a bill of lading from the outfit and here I am with the desks. Over a year ago, before I ordered the wood desks,
I placed an order for two small steel desks and they wrote that they had placed my order on file and that they hoped to fill it before long. The steel desks are now on their way. Looks like I am going to have to move out on the sidewalk and do my work for I'm so hemmed in with desks that I have to use a wig-wag system to the other folks in the office so that we can work together.

What do you men do with your old hats? Every year I buy a felt hat and put my ink splattered old one on the shelf. Now I've got one of the largest collections of flop-eared men's hats outside of the Smithsonian Museum. There must be some old hat home for hats that are over age, have no relatives who will take care of them and are eligible for social security.

After wearing a hat until the brim hangs down over my eyes and the crown so thick with hair oil that it could be used to grease a pan for flap-jacks, I get ashamed to wear them and have such an affection for them that it breaks my heart to part with even one. If some man who has such a weakness could only suggest what I can do with my 1945, 1946, 1947

Trends—
"The government is my shepherd, I shall not work. It alloweth me to lie down on good jobs; it leadeth me beside still factories. It destroyeth my initiative; it leadeth me in the paths of the parasite for politics' sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of laziness and deficit spending, I will fear no evil; its doles and vote-getters they will comfort me. It prepareth an economic Utopia for me by appropriating the earnings of my grandchildren. It filleth my head with bologna, my efficiency runneth over. Verily, the government shall care for me all the days of my life, and I shall dwell in a fool's paradise forever."
—The Crosbyton Review

Off The Keyboard—
Last week's freeze cost the county something in the neighborhood of 10,000 bales estimates County Agent Jim Foy. However he says probably even more costly will be the $10 to $15 per bale loss in grade from spotted cotton. Foy says farmers who have the hands will pull all they can before the strippers take over in about three weeks, thus helping their grade. Continued cold weather won't hurt anymore, but moist weather will continue to lower the yield.
—The Brownfield News

It Sez Here—
Mother's little darlings are all safely at home today after a hard 24-hour shift living up to the modern reputation of being reglar little hellers for Hallowe'en. There are no casualties reported, for which we are half-heartedly thankful. We once heard of a guy who said, give him a lever long enough and he'd move the earth. He was a piker. Give any of us Hallowe'en and we'll move the earth, and everything on it. It is too early to start estimating the damage. Just as soon as communication with the outside world is restored we predict that the destruction wrought in the name of good clean fun will be equal to a sum sufficient to educate every boy and girl in America for one year—but for what?

Our nomination for the prize circus of the season is the sanity trials, and trials and trials of killer Richard McGee. If it weren't for the heartbreaking spectacle of seeing grown men make asses of themselves, we'd like to buy a ticket to this sideshow.
—The Rails Banner

Lipstick Logic—
A great deal has been said about man's best friend, so we think it's about time someone proposed a best friend to women. We nominate as our most likely candidate that frequently taken-for-granted but always necessary standby—the word.

The word is equally at home in the kitchen and in the parlor. It can be denim or satin; beef stew or lobster. The right word will quiet Junior, placate Hubby, satisfy the milkman or control Rover. When properly used, it turns doubt into pleasure, discourtesy into kindness, unhappiness into joy.

Yes, man's best friend may be his pipe, his horse or his dog. But for some women, it seems to us, the word has no competition for the title.

Levelling Off—
Christmas isn't the only thing that's coming. On top of the increase in taxes, there'll soon be more fund campaigns and drives than most of us can do grace over. Not that they aren't for good causes—there probably never was a drive that wasn't—but it seems to us that they could be planned for a more convenient time of the year.

Almost before we know it and while we're either trying to keep our Christmas shopping list within our income (did anyone ever?) or wondering where our money went—depending on whether it's before or after Christmas—there'll be USO drives, Christmas Seal sale campaigns, Defense Bond drives, March of Dimes campaigns, etc.

Which brings us back to where we started and reminds us of that our favorite phonograph record, "If You've Got The Money, I've Got The Time," is so badly worn that the needle shows. We're the only one who ever plays it at our house, but you'd be surprised at the amount of breath it saves us.
—The Sun News

It Sez Here—
The air waves were clogged with buccolic and alcoholic hillbilly groaners Wednesday night, so we shifted the radio to short wave and picked up a broadcast from Moscow. It's funny how we Americans are kept in the dark about Korea. In excellent English, Radio Moscow brought us up to date: Russia's only concern is the welfare of its citizens. A captured American sergeant in Korea expressed his gratitude to North Korean captors for such fine treatment, saying he never had it so easy because back in New York he was unemployed. Thousands of GI's are deserting to the Communies because they get such good treatment and because they've realized they're just tools of Wall Street monopolists. Frankly, I didn't know all those things at all, and I hope Joe McCarthy doesn't boil us in oil for repeating the Commie line in these columns!

Skunk Story
The common skunk weighs about an ounce at birth which occurs in the spring. There are usually five in the litter. The eyes of the babies are closed when they are born, and they have a fine hair covering that shows the adult pattern. They nurse from six to seven weeks, and during the latter part of this period they begin to accompany the mother on her foraging trips. The mother alone takes care of the young. In late summer, or early autumn the family disbands.

West Texas Roundup

W. A. (Wig) Armes, Jr., an alleged Tahoka bootlegger, was arrested Thursday afternoon by Sheriff "Slick" Clem and charged with illegal possession, following a raid made on his house. Armes was released on $1,000 bond.

Found in a secret compartment at the Armes home about seven miles northwest of Tahoka were 57 cases of beer, about 25 quarts of 140 or 150 pints of whiskey, and 10 pints of gin.

The local Sheriff's officers had made several previous raids on the house, but had failed to find illegal intoxicants.

Thursday at about 2:00 p.m., armed with a search warrant, Sheriff Clem and his deputies, Otis Curry and Chester Roan went to the Wig Armes home. A careful search revealed nothing. Then Clem, while feeling around the wall inside an upstairs bedroom closet, found a small nail hole in the wall.

Clem took out his pocket knife, stuck the blade point in the hole, and to his amazement a large section of the wall opened up—and there in the ingeniously hidden secret compartment was the cache of liquor. Clem said the knife in the nailhole closed a battery operated switch which swung open the hidden door to the compartment.

1917-12. So far this year Garza county has experienced a worse dry spell than it did in either 1917 or 1918. More precipitation fell in the county during the first nine months of those two years than has fallen here since January 1, according to rainfall records maintained in the Double U company office.

During the first nine months in 1917 a total of 10.05 inches of rain had fallen in Post; at that time in 1918 a total of 9.22 inches had fallen; and as of the last of September this year only 7.18 inches has fallen in the city.

Many of the witnesses, before the recent Grand Jury, feel that an injustice was done them, by the publication of the last paragraph of their report which reads as follows:

"We further find that a lot of irresponsible talk, has magnified occurrences beyond their true proportion."

We went before said body in response to their summons. We testified to facts, and told the truth. We stand pat on our testimony. We especially deny that facts were testified to, were exaggerated, or "magnified" or based on "irresponsible" talk. That part of the report is an unjust and erroneous reflection on our integrity, and we resent it.

—The Terry County Herald

The safe of Miles Motor Company was rifled Tuesday night and cash and checks totaling approximately $10,000 along with $70,000 in notes and mortgages were stolen.

Mrs. Beth Cordes, bookkeeper, opened the doors of the establishment at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning and noted the safe door standing ajar and the office littered with papers. She immediately called Hayden Miles, the owner, and notified Sheriff Floyd Peacock of the robbery.

The burglar apparently gained admittance to the building through a rear window that had a pane out, with the thief using one of the sliding doors for his exit. The safe was not damaged. Officers stated that evidently the burglar either knew the combination or was an expert and knew how to open the safe without a drill, hammer or explosives.

Officers are of the opinion that a group of burglars are operating in West Texas. Lubbock, Brownfield, and other West Texas towns have suffered recently from robberies and burglaries.

—The Andrews County News

A good argument against holding court is the case of Paul Young of Lubbock, who was arrested here a few days ago for transporting liquor. Electing not to face the court, he paid a fine of $750 and costs!

But Floyd Kelley of Ralls, the man who sells the stuff, drew a fine of only $200 and costs and three days in jail.

And Rafael Castilleja of Edinburg, who drinks it and drives, was fined $150 and costs and served three days in jail.

—The Ralls Banner

The Olton school for colored children burned early Wednesday morning, leaving only a pile of smoldering ashes to greet those who attempted to attend classes from the rural areas.

Cause of the blaze has not been determined, but speculation was that faulty wiring or gas fixtures were possible detriments. Loss was estimated in the thousands of dollars.

LOOK MA (OR DAD)—NO HANDS!—These water-skiing sprites, Shirley MacCalla, left, and Kathy Darlyn make this "no-hands" business look easy as they skim over the water at 30 miles an hour at Cypress Gardens, Fla. Well, to tell the truth, it does look easy—on the eyes.

"She really came here for tango lessons, but somehow she got young Simpson off on the Charleston!"

Pleanty (Railroad) Cars For freight cars, 1950 was the greatest year since 1922. The American Railway Car Institute reports that more than 150,000 cars were ordered by U.S. railroads during the 12 months.

Leisure Time And ... PEOPLE"

The forty-hour week is contributing materially to the manager of the Texas Prison System.

There is truth in this statement. Leisure time is most enjoyably spent in a law purpose runs out, then there is a temptation means. The acquisition of additional leisure time, good unless a very great majority of the people have resources within themselves to employ leisure time.

The remark by Mr. Ellis can be applied trends other than the increase in leisure time. The whole

Clem took out his pocket knife, stuck the blade point in the hole, and to his amazement a large section of the wall opened up—and there in the ingeniously hidden secret compartment was the cache of liquor. Clem said the knife in the nailhole closed a battery operated switch which swung open the hidden door to the compartment.

First activities of setting up the Brady Aviation Corp. plant at Curtis Field got under way Thursday. W. C. Beck, plant superintendent, said several local workers had been put on the company's payroll and others would be added as more equipment arrives.

The plant is a branch operation of the Continental Manufacturing Company of Garland. Component parts of airplanes being built for the government's defense program are to be manufactured here.

Several key men from the home plant will be brought here to get the local unit in operation, Beck stated. It is likely that these men will be replaced later by local personnel, he said.

Garza County was included among the almost one-fourth of Texas' 254 counties that were called "drouth disaster" areas last week, according to a story by Walter Robinson in the Dallas Morning News.

"Drouth disaster" area is the official designation of United States Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan for counties suffering severe hardships in Texas' worst drouth (now sixteen months) since the disastrous 17-month dry spell

CULL REGULARLY FOR BEST RESULTS

The presence of unprofitable birds in a laying flock, regardless of how many or how few, is a definite handicap to flock efficiency and economy. That's why it is extremely important to observe birds closely and remove any that may show inactivity and an inability to produce well.

Right now, the layers are in good production on most farms. Just the same, raisers, should be on guard against early molting layers. Any bird that goes into an early molt is not profitable, and should not be kept in the laying flock. Since such birds will not return to production for some months and are incapable of completing a full laying season, it is best that they be marketed.

Signs of Molt

Early molters can be detected in most instances. They usually show small dried-up combs, a general lack of activity, and a condition of loose and falling feathers. On the other hand, birds which retain their red combs, have worn, tattered, soiled, and broken feathers, and perhaps are slightly "bald" behind the comb—yet continue to lay well—are desirable late molting types and should be kept in the flock. Remember, the condition of the plumage is not to be considered as molting.

A molt, or change of feathers, occurs in chickens every year. Since the molting process requires considerable food material, only the best laying birds continue to produce after a complete molt has started.

Normal Molt

Chickens shed their feathers in a definite order. First, the head feathers drop out, followed by the feathers of the neck, breast, body, wings, and tail. Some birds, however, may shed a few tail feathers before the wing process requires considerable food material, only the best laying birds continue to produce after a complete molt has started.

The above describes a normal molt. There is also a partial molt, which may take place at any time during the year. Such molts are usually caused by mismanagement, change of feed, a disease epidemic, or anything that throws the flock out of production. The partial molt is often referred to as a "neck molt." It occurs frequently in the fall among early-hatched pullets that go into a slump when the first cold weather hits.

Be alert for signs of early molting. Inspect any birds you suspect. Then verify their conditions. And remember, an early molter is generally a poor layer.
