Week's Question . . .

Know What They Say About Redheads? Ain't Necessarily So' It Says Here!

Are red hair and temper synonymous? That they are, has long been a common belief and people are inclined to wonder how it started if there is no truth in it.

A certain oil company that tests the degree of corrosion in the touch of a redhead, doesn't say anything about their temper, but says they are the most corrosive of all and even a light fingerprint by a redhead could ruin some delicate machinery in a comparatively few hours. According to AP Staff Writer, Sam Dawson, the tests are made in the laboratories of Socony-Vacuum Oil Co. in Brooklyn, to determine the ability of various slushing oils to protect high machined metals.

And a fashion designer who likes to model his work on redheads says their hair is red because they have more iron in their system than other people. A doctor says they are more susceptible to cancer, and a scientist says they are in less danger from atomic bomb explosions, at a distance of one mile, than other people.

But who says they're hot tempered? This week's question was, "Do you believe people with red hair are really more quick tempered than other people?" Mrs. J. S. Bates, Jr. "No, I think brunettes are. I think with redheads it takes a lot to make them mad, but brunettes are quick tempered. I think redheads have

Slaton Tigers To Battle Bulldogs At Tahoka Friday

With only two games left on their schedule, the Tigers go to Tahoka Friday night to play a team that is picked to walk away with the District 6-A-A crown. An upset would be a great feat for the Tigers.

Mentally, Coach Poulou's charges are above average, but physically they are a little bit down. The Tigers will miss Johnny Hoag, a hard running back. Jerry Reynolds lived up to our expectations and will play a major part in the game Friday night. Lee Ray Dilard is another guy who is very capable, and if left in the game, by the officials, he will give those Bulldogs a rough time.

The game will be played in Tahoka and all football fans should go over and give those boys a lot of support. Gametime is at 8:00 o'clock.

Probable Starting Line-Ups

Slaton—Ends, Ezra Corley and Timmy Bourn; Tackles, Skip Tomlinson and Raymond Turner; Guards, John Singleton and Jerry Lemon; Center, J. W. Clifton; Backs, Glen Aiken, Bob Lambert, Duane Sooter and Jerry Reynolds. Tahoka—Ends, Joe Brooks and Short; Tackles, Bartley and B. Stires; Guards, D. W. and W. Martin; Center, W. Tekell; Backs, L. Halamicsek, C. Hyles, Foster, and W. Curry.

A. B. Wood Rites Held Thursday

Last rites for Albert Bluford Wood, 65-year-old retired farmer, were held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday in the Slaton Church of Christ, with Don Finto, Lamesa minister, and Andy Burks, Slaton minister, in charge.

Wood, who died of a heart ailment, had been in ill health for nine years, but his death was unexpected.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wood of San Saba, two daughters, four brothers, Clyde of San Saba; Clement of Rochelle and Bertis and Noel, also of San Saba.

There are also seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild surviving.

Palbearers were Otis Jones and Ed Haddock of Slaton and Elmer Cowdrey, Oscar Graham, John Wallace and G. W. Stewart of Post.

Burial was in Englewood cemetery under direction of the Mason Funeral Home. Wood had lived in Slaton since he retired in 1942.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Burton, and daughter, Ruth, who have recently moved to Sweetwater, were in Slaton last week end for the football game.

Paving Of Road To Be Started At Early Date

Only one or two minor details remained to be straightened out before work will start on the paving of the road on the West city limits of Slaton, that will provide a paved road to the Lubbock-Slaton main highway. Work of securing the right-of-way has been in progress all summer and many public spirited citizens including Vascar Browning, George Greco and B. G. Guinn, have devoted a great deal of time to securing the releases to the County for land so that the road could be constructed.

The expense of building the road will fall upon Lubbock County, but all of the land needed to make the road the proper width, had to be given to the county by the owners. The paving when completed will be 20 feet wide, not counting drainage ditches on each side of the road. It will have a caliche base and a two course asphalt and rock top.

The road when completed will take considerable traffic off the route through town for local residents and will be of great help to the farmers and people who live on the West side of Slaton.

The need for such a road has long been felt and the culmination of the project will mark a step forward for this community.

Social Security Man Will Be Here

Gerald L. Schantz, Field Representative of the Lubbock Social Security office will be in Slaton at the City Hall at 2:30 p. m. on Wednesday, November 7th to assist persons in Social Security matters.

If you work for yourself, you may need a social security account number when you file your income tax return for 1951, according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock Social Security office.

Hutton said that the 1950 amendments extended old-age and survivors insurance coverage to all self-employed persons except farmers and members of certain professional groups, such as doctors, lawyers, architects, engineers, public accountants, and funeral directors. Even farm operators, or people self-employed in the excluded professions are affected if, in addition to their regular work, they engage in a self-employment enterprise covered by the law.

Self-employed persons who do not already have social security numbers can get them from the Lubbock office of the Social Security Administration. That office has just received a supply of a new booklet called "Do You Work For Yourself?" which explains social security for the self-employed. Any interested persons can obtain a copy free of charge by writing a letter, or postcard to the Social Security Administration, 1311 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas.

Mission Campaign Starts Saturday

Rev. Everett Y. Seale, Pastor of the First Methodist Church of Beeville, Texas, will be the Guest Preacher at Slaton Methodist Church from October 28th to November 2nd.

Brother Seale spent eighteen years doing Evangelistic singing and working with young people. He has been in the regular pastorate for fifteen years. All are invited to come and to bring some one. Services will be held at 7:30 each night next week except Saturday.

He is here in connection with the Methodist Evangelistic Mission Campaign which will get started Saturday night with a mass Youth Meeting to be held at the First Methodist Church in Lubbock at 7:30. Some seven or eight hundred young people from over the Lubbock District are expected to attend. This will be the first service held in the interest of the All-State Methodist Revival. A large group is expected to attend from the First Methodist Church here.

New Businesses Needed In Slaton

Statistics in the new 1951-1952 Texas Almanac show that Slaton has fewer business houses in proportion to the number of people living within the city limits of any town in this area or on the South Plains.

Below are the population figures and the number of businesses in each town as listed in the new publication. The first figure is population, the second the number of business institutions in each town:

Slaton	5,040	150
Ralls	1,771	112
Post	3,136	128
Tahoka	2,831	140
Brownfield	6,160	300
Spur	2,173	125
Crosbyton	1,878	115

The close proximity of Lubbock to Slaton accounts for some of the reasons why Slaton does not have as many lines of business represented here and some can be laid to the fact that the opportunity is here for a good many more business firms, but the closeness of Lubbock discourages the timid investors.

Slaton probably offers the best opportunities to men in selected lines of business of any town in West Texas. Investigations should be made by some responsible civic organization and a list of the best fields should be made public.

Mrs. Fannie Patterson, Mrs. R. L. Smith, Mrs. F. A. Drewry, Mrs. W. E. McCain, and Mrs. Mary Ethel Woods left Saturday for San Antonio, Texas, to attend the Grand Chapter, O. E. S. They will return Saturday, October 27.

Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Crow visited Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Ayers at their cabin at Lake Texoma this week.

What's Going On At The Civic Clubs

The Slaton Rotary Club members were entertained at their regular meeting Thursday, Oct. 18th with a moving picture showing the way lumber is manufactured. The title was "Tree To Tree." Don Britt was program director.

A Total Of 7,651 Bales Of Cotton Ginned In Area

The total number of bales ginned at the four Slaton Gins and the Posey Gin shows that this area has had 7,651 bales of cotton ginned by 3:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Up to that time none of the gins had ginned cotton harvested by mechanical pullers.

Mr. Heard of Howard and Heard, Gin says they have had a night crew for the past three weeks. He thinks the ginning season will be all over by Christmas and estimates that they have done one-third of their ginning now. By the end of next week, he thinks they will be 50 per cent thru. Mr. H. F. Schilling who was in the Gin office, said he expects to start bringing in mechanically harvested cotton from defoliated fields in about a week or 10 days.

Mr. Campbell at Campbell's Gin says his crews are ginning until midnight and Mr. Collins says the Slaton Cooperative Gin Co. has a regular night crew for the No. 2 gin. Mr. Collins says this ginning season may continue until March of next year.

The Posey Gin has not had a night crew and has been able to take care of the ginning load during the day.

Tech Vs. Arizona In Traditional Homecoming Tilt

Leading the Border Conference, the University of Arizona comes to Lubbock Saturday afternoon to try to spoil Texas Tech's Homecoming.

Last home contest until the finale with Hardin-Simmons December 1, the game starts at 2:30. Arizona's Wildcats, pre-season favorites, have downed New Mexico A. & M., West Texas State, and Texas Western in conference encounters while losing non-title bouts to Oregon and Utah.

Texas Tech's freshman-sprinkled Red Raiders have won their only conference start, over West Texas State, 46-7, and have beaten the Southwest Conference's first place team, Texas Christian University. The Red Raiders have lost to Texas A. & M., Houston, and Baylor, last week, 40-20.

Arizona managed only a 28-13 decision over mutual opponent West Texas, but the Buffs were considered a stronger team by then.

Two good runners, Gil Gonzales and Ken Gardella, pace the Wildcats. Bobby Cavazos has been Tech's chief groundgainer behind a line sparked by center Aubrey Phillips and tackle Jerrell Price.

Torpedoed by Larry Isbell's passing, the Red Raiders came out of the Baylor game with several starters on the doubtful list due to injuries. Jim Turner gave Tech a 6-0 lead in the first period. Cavazos and Turner also made two fourth-quarter scores. Cavazos' 88-yard scamper was the longest run of the game.

American Legion Dinner Held Mon.

The American Legion will entertain the Legionaire's wives and the American Legion Auxiliary at a dinner to be held at the Slaton Club House at 7:30 p. m. on October 29.

The principal speaker for the evening will be Mr. A. B. Watkins, Credit Manager for Dunlaps, who will deliver "a burning message" according to Mr. Claude Cravens, a member of the program committee. Final arrangements have not been made for the musical program to be presented.

Mr. R. C. Patton is commander of the American Legion and Mrs. Wayne Liles heads the Auxiliary. All members of the Auxiliary, and all Legionaires and their wives are cordially invited to attend the dinner.

Mrs. F. T. Longtin and daughter, Linda, spent last week visiting in Abilene with Mrs. Longtin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Lewis. Mr. Longtin joined them Sunday and they came home together. A severe hail storm had damaged the roof and broken the windows of the Lewis home.

Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Kitten and family and Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Kitten and sons attended the State Fair in Dallas last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Holt attended the Texas-Oklahoma football game in Dallas.

Contributions from the residential districts are still coming in and anyone who wishes to make a contribution for the Boy Scouts may leave it with P. G. Meading at the Slaton Chamber of Commerce office or with any of the following workers: J. S. Edwards, Jr., Chairman, W. C. (Dub) Williams, and Bland Tomlinson, Co-Chairmen, Travis Reynolds, Harmon Thompson, Robert H. Davis, John T. Sims, Leo Henzler, Phil Brewer, Ted Swanner, Lee Vardy, Jack Berkley, Jack Clark and H. E. A hundred tickets were sold for the Retail Merchants Banquet on Thursday night and 85 guests were present to enjoy a fine dinner prepared by the Methodist ladies.

Included in the program were dinner music by Kay Porter, and a tap dance, "Call Me Up Some Rainy Afternoon" by Barbara Grochowsky, accompanied by Betty Guthrie.

Mrs. Lee Green spoke on the "Past, Present, and Future of R. M. A."

Mr. Hugh Anderson, attorney of Lubbock, gave the address. He chose as his subject, "The hot check law and its enforcement." His talk was interesting and very instructive.

The newly elected directors are Leroy Holt, Harmon Thompson, Bill Kelley, and Cecil Self, who will serve for the next two years. Holding over are Don Britt, Milton Davis, Clifton Cox, B. C. Welch, and W. C. Williams.

Mrs. Pat Patterson, Mrs. Max Arrants, Mrs. Oree Glasscock and Mrs. Harmon Thompson spent last week end in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Anthony went to Tulsa, Okla., Saturday to attend the wedding of their grandson, Norman Lamb, of Waco, to Miss Gladys Ann Northum of Tulsa.

Big Game In Area Three Cats Killed

This part of the country has a reputation for a long time it has had a reputation for a lot of things, but now it is fast becoming known as a big game hunting ground.

About two months ago visitors at Buffalo Lakes reported seeing lions in that vicinity, and large cats were spotted from a plane.

Mr. Otis Neill of Slaton went lion hunting in the area where the large cats were seen, but they must have seen him coming. They stayed hidden. A little later Mr. A. R. McGuire shot and killed a 60 lb. tom lynx cat, which is being mounted. You don't have to go to the jungles of Africa to get a hunting trophy.

Last Friday night Mr. Odie A. Hood was crossing the Midway-Slaton farm road about five miles north of Slaton in the Canyon when he saw four lynx cats.

He managed to kill two half grown kittens with a stick, but the cat and one kitten escaped into the Edwin Forrest ranch.

So if you are interested in hunting, there is still some game left. At least two more lynx cats are roaming the area.

Citing continued losses on its operation in Slaton, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company today asked city authorities for an increase in rates of local telephone service in this city.

"Since 1945, there has been a huge demand for telephone service here," C. H. Gale, manager of Southwestern Bell, said. "And the telephone company has spent $95,000 to meet this demand."

"Actually, the Slaton telephone system is almost twice as large," he said. "There are now 1,400 telephones in service here, while in January, 1945, the total was only 715."

All of this big expansion program has had to be undertaken on the face of the high levels of costs—for materials, equipment, and labor," the manager said. "The telephone company was granted an increase in rates in Slaton, 'the only one in 23 years,' in August, 1949. This increase, together with the addition of more telephones to the system here, brought in more revenues," he said.

"But costs of furnishing service here have been climbing, too," he continued, "and we are still losing money."

New rates requested by the company for main service are $8 a month for a business telephone; $4.25 monthly for individual-line residence telephones; $3.50 for two-party lines; and $3 for four-party lines.

Gale emphasized that the $95,000 spent to expand the telephone plant in Slaton since 1945 did not come from rates telephone users pay for service.

"This money came from thousands of men and women throughout the country who have invested their savings in the telephone business. They expect the management of the business to invest their money where it will earn a fair return."

Rotary Governor Coming To Slaton

Members of the Slaton Rotary Club are making plans to greet the Governor of District 183, P. F. Bridgewater of Midland, Texas, when he arrives in Slaton to be at the regular meeting of the Slaton Rotarians on Thursday, Nov. 1.

The District Governor is a forceful speaker and an authority on Rotary, and President of the Slaton Club, Howard Hoffman, said that he expects the attendance to be 100 percent at the meeting.

The Governor will confer with the officers and directors of the Club when he visits Slaton.

Mrs. J. D. Barry returned home this week from visiting her son, J. C. Barry and family, at Long Beach, Mississippi.

Borden's Famous Cow Family To Be Seen In Lubbock

Open house will be held at the Borden Company, 519 Avenue J, Lubbock, Friday and Saturday evenings from 6:30 until 9:00, also Sunday afternoon from 2:30 until 6:00.

Elsie, the famous Borden Cow, along with Elmer and Beauregard will appear as a feature of the formal opening of the Borden Company's New and Enlarged Plant. O. L. Gibson, manager of the Borden Company Plant here, and a staff of ninety-five people will be on hand to escort the crowd through the company's plant in connection with the Elsie Showing.

The company has recently completed an extensive remodeling and expansion program at the plant replacing most of the equipment with the most modern dairy equipment obtainable. Tile floors and glazed tile walls are used extensively throughout the plant.

The milk processing plant is pressurized with a filtered air unit in order to keep out dust, also to maintain a constant temperature for the comfort of the employees both in winter and summer.
The new boudoir at the Borden plant is to be furnished with such cow oddments as sampler proclaiming "Calves should be seen and not heard" and a full line of cow-smetics. The boudoir weighs three tons and it takes a crew of ten about four hours to erect it.

An old hand at greeting people, Elsie has been seen in person by an estimated 27,000,000 people since she made her first public appearance at the New York World's Fair in 1939. She has been appearing at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas the past two weeks.

Her son Beauregard is following right along in his famous mother's hoofsteps.

Elsie and her family will travel to Lubbock in their own private railroad car, accompanied by a staff of five.

Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

Mrs. Lindol Beard's favorite recipe is one her mother-in-law taught her to make when she was first married. The recipe came from one of Lindol's uncles and has been passed down in the family. It is both different and easy, and it makes you hungry just to read it.

Polish Goulash

2 lbs. fat
1 onion, chopped
1 green pepper, chopped
1 lb. hamburger meat
1 7 oz. package spaghetti
No. 2 can tomatoes
1 tsp. salt
Cook spaghetti in boiling water for 15 to 20 minutes, seive and rinse with hot water. Fry in fat until well browned the onion, pepper and meat. Add cooked spaghetti, tomatoes and salt. Continue to cook over low heat 10 to 15 minutes. Serves 6 to 8.

Like all good cooks, Vista likes to cook and likes to try new recipes. She was born in Slaton and grew up, went to school, and married here. She has a son, Miles, who was born last Christmas day.

With a 10 month old baby and a house to keep, Mrs. Beard does not have a lot of time for hobbies, but she enjoys sewing and quilting. She plans to piece three quilts before Christmas.

She is a member of the First Baptist Church and teaches a Sunday School Class of four-year-olds.

Jane Powell has two ardent listeners, in the persons of Fernando Lamas and Vic Damone, as she sings one of the flock of song hits in M-G-M's new Technicolor musical, "Rich, Young and Pretty". The popular Parisian actress, Danielle Darrieux, and Wendell Corey also star in the new offering, coming to the Slaton Theatre screen this week.

LATON, TEXAS

JUST TALK

by A.M.J.

At times I get the "yen" to get in the class with George Taylor, Claude Anderson and Leonard Haral and, in proper language, "don't" a shirt that could be used to flag a freight train at midnight while a sand storm is blowing. Once or twice I have been tempted to go as far in the way of spine jarring shirts as B. G. Guinn does when he really tries, but the only time I ever bought a fancy one and wore it down town, one of the wise guys at the Post Office asked me if I still had on my pajamas.

In the past I have been a great admirer of progress and was one of the first men in Austin, Texas, to go out at night without a hat. Once a young lady bucked so hard about my not having a hat she would not go to the picture show with me and we sat at her home in a swing and she was swelled up to the danger point all evening. And I was also one of the first in our little town of Paris, Texas, to quit wearing garters and went around with the tops of my socks hanging down over my shoes in a most discouraging way, it was before rubberized stuff was put in to socks to make them cut off the circulation to one's feet and make your legs itch like ants were crawling on them.

But the shirts like some men wear today are a little too much for me, I'm losing my ability to take the cracks folks make about unusual attire and the first thing I'll know I'll be looked upon about the same as my Dad was when he wore high stiff collars made of celluloid, gaffer shoes and a Prince Albert coat.

He stayed with these items as long as he could find them in the stores, and I used to admire the Prince Albert coat for it had no side pockets, but the pockets in the tails of the coat could carry more than most folks can get into a wardrobe trunk, and I'd stand and marvel when my dad unpacked his Prince Albert pockets.

There is one thing that I was always thankful for and that is I don't remember ever seeing my dad in an old fashioned night shirt. Just what he did wear I don't recall, he must have slept in his long handles, for night shirts and underwear were about the only things I can remember men wearing for night garments.

Well, when you see me coming down the street in a shirt with scenes of the sun setting over the Golden Gate or the Queen Mary arriving in New York harbor in a back ground of yellow and purple you'll know I have succumbed to my suppressed desire for a George Taylor and Co. kind of shirt.

It must be that women worry more about what other folks think about them, than men do. The only time I can remember of a man being on a diet is because some doctor had warned him that if he didn't quit eating so he'd have a heart attack. In fact I have known a good many men who have gone right on eating like horses after some doctor had given them such notice, but a lot of women don't even wait for a doctor to give them the stop signal, they know they have the appearance of a hippo and women can't take the gaff when it comes to a crack like I read in a magazine not long ago.

A woman walked into a bank where the cashier knew her well but had not seen her for several months.

"You're getting fat, Mrs. Butternut," said the cashier.

"Don't you know better than to tell a woman she is getting fat," said Mrs. Butternut.

"Yes," said the cashier, "but I did not think a woman your age would mind."

My wife has been having to let out a few seams lately and I'd like to warn all the cashiers that she won't like any such questions. However, she hardly ever goes in the bank and all the cashiers are now women and while they notice other women getting fat just as quickly as men cashiers do, they have better judgment, they just think such things and say them to the cashier next to them after the customer has gone out the door.

Spring has sprung, summer has went and Fall has fell, and I'm still yearning for some things I did not get when I should have and can't get again until spring has sprung again and summer has arrived once more. Not a single bite of real strawberry short cake have I had in years and years, however I did get a sad muffin cake with two wilted and very sour strawberries pushed in a hole in the top of the cake that the menu in a restaurant said was strawberry short cake. What they must have meant was that they were short of strawberries. And I did not get to get my eye teeth into a single ear of real yellow bantam sweet corn, I did pay ten cents per ear for some very queer looking corn that must have been a cross between horse corn and gravel. It was in a bin over which the sign said, "yellow bantam sweet corn." What the grocer meant, I am sure, was that the bin was painted yellow and there was not enough corn on a half a dozen ears to satisfy a bantam.

Some mighty fine folks did give me some home grown, real tomatoes that had the real flavor of tomatoes and I am most thankful for I can now live in hopes until next spring when I am going to plant some strawberries, some yellow bantam corn and some tomato plants, even if I have to go out in the middle of the night and pull up our expensive geraniums, that my wife buys every spring, to find some planting room. I'll tell her the dog dug them up.

Executive Lauds Newspaper Value

Increased newspaper advertising will be the backbone of an extensive campaign planned for 1952 by the producers of Jolly Time Pop Corn, Mr. Howard C. Smith, company President, announced this week.

"We want to reach as many families as possible," Mr. Smith said, "and we believe that newspapers are ideal for this."

"Jolly Time Pop Corn has been on the market for over 36 years. During this time many new methods of advertising have been devised—but I sincerely believe newspapers are still the greatest service to the community, the individual, and the advertiser."

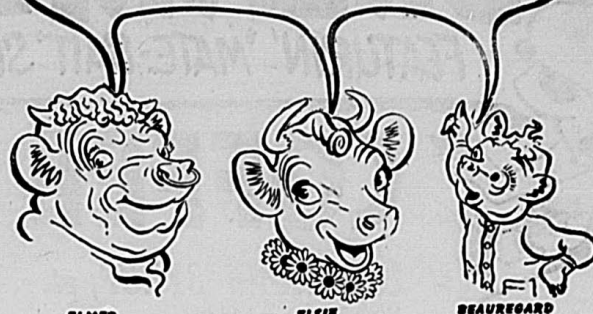

"Newspaper advertising gives the manufacturer real value for his money," said Mr. Smith. "It offers complete coverage, reaches the whole family, builds good will and makes advertising appeal to the eye. For these reasons the advertiser gets greater sales response for his dollar—a saving he can pass along to the people who buy his product."

This decision to increase newspaper schedules for the coming year is based on more than 35 years of advertising experience, during which time Mr. Smith has built an enviable reputation for his product.

Generally winter legumes, for the best results, should be planted by November 1. Time and soil moisture conditions are two factors that must now be considered by farmers who haven't yet planted winter legumes.

Since 1945 $95,000 SPENT FOR BETTER TELEPHONE SERVICE

MORE WIRE AND CABLE . . .
have been added to Slaton's telephone system to help carry the ever-increasing number of calls.

The telephone company has spent more than $95,000 since 1945, to improve and expand telephone service in Slaton.

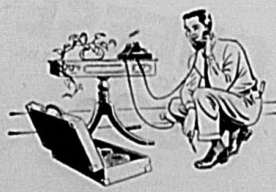

This money bought cable, wire, telephone poles, telephone instruments, and all the other things which make more and better telephone service.

MORE NEW POLES . . .
have been erected to support the cable and wire necessary to meet the needs of Slaton's telephone growth.

More Slaton people have been asking for—and getting—telephone service than ever before. In recent years, we have received requests at a rate four times faster than before Pearl Harbor. The Slaton telephone system has been almost doubled in size in five years. There are 1,400 telephones in service here now, compared with only 715 at the beginning of 1946.

All of this growth has been accomplished in the face of higher costs of labor and materials.

MORE TELEPHONES . . .
almost twice as many as in 1946 . . . are serving the people of Slaton.

The only adjustment in telephone rates here in 23 years was granted in August, 1949. Revenues have been increased by the rate adjustment and through the addition of more telephones. But—expenses have gone up, too, and the company is furnishing service here at a loss.

It is important to the people of Slaton that a business like ours, which furnishes a vital public service, be financially healthy. The first step is to wipe out losses. The only answer is a reasonable increase in rates.

WATCH FOR 'EM!—Preparing to release one of many plastic balloons used for the Air Force project "Moby Dick" are launching crews who, naturally, think of this as a whale of an operation. The 50 to 110-foot diameter balloons are drifting over the United States at altitudes of 10 to 20 miles for the purpose of transmitting data concerning high-altitude winds. The transmitter (arrow) below the balloon sends out signals to direction-finding stations. Crew inflates one of the big bags (inset) which may appear as "flying saucers" during the early and late hours of the day because of sun reflections on the transparent coverings. Persons finding collapsed balloons will receive a reward for return of radio unit.

The Reformation

October 31 has come to be regarded as the birthday of the Protestant Reformation. It was on that day, in 1517, that Martin Luther nailed his 95 sentences on the door of the Castle Church in Wittenberg.

What was Martin Luther's great discovery? It was the cardinal doctrine of the Bible: "Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith, without the deeds of the law." Romans 3:28. For hundreds of years the established church had taught that the Bible taught salvation alone by faith. "By grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God, not of works, lest any man should boast." Ephesians 2:8. Also Romans 11:6. It was the Reformation of Martin Luther that once more brought this fundamental Bible doctrine into the light of day. Protestant America will have fallen on evil days, when once it surrenders one jot of this primary doctrine of the Christian faith.

Trail Dust—
California is wonderful for a visit but it is good to get back to the states.

Hollywood is still a charming woman with a rose in her hair but the bloom is fading from her cheeks and there is a jaundiced look in her eyes. Rumer says the TV virus plagues her very life. Motion pictures are at their lowest tide in years and many theatres are closed. Hollywood, however, is hardy and resourceful. —Matador Tribune

Ogg-antions —
Being a grandmother doesn't fluster Mrs. Frank Wolfe much. One day last week, she was one of the hostesses at a bridal shower and on the same day received notice that she had a new grandson. Not being of excitable nature, Mrs. Wolfe went about her hurried duties as hostess, but at the same time so pleased about the baby. She left the house to pick up two of her co-hostesses—forgot one and went for the other—after the shower, look home the one she'd forgotten and left the other one high and dry. Just to prove she wasn't a bit excited, when she got home she turned in and washed a whole batch of dishes and she'd already done earlier and set to drain. —The Seminole Sentinel

Levelling Off—
In connection with Oil Progress Week, it might be of interest to know that petroleum was collected for use in the most remote ages of which we have any records. Herodotus, the Greek historian, described the oil pits near Arderrica and the pitch spring of Zacynthus, while Strabo, Dioscorides and Pliny mention the use of oil at Agrigentum, in Sicily, for illumination. The ancient records of China and Japan are said to contain many allusions to the use of natural gas for lighting and heating.

Marco Polo refers to the oil springs of Baku towards the end of the 13th century. The earliest mention of American petroleum occurs in Sir Walter Raleigh's account of the Trinidad pitch-lake in 1595. A Russian traveler (we hope the Soviet doesn't hear of this), Peter Kalm, in his work on America, published in 1784, showed on a map the oil springs of Pennsylvania. —The Sun News

FYI—
A new family has moved to Seagraves and have decided to make this their permanent home. Ed F. Commander, contractor on the new I.C.I. station now being built here, reports that his folks like Seagraves after moving here from Odessa. Being interested in his name, we asked Mr. Commander if any of his family had ever been in the Navy. He said one of his sons recently served a hitch in the outfit, but that he himself had served in the Navy in both World Wars. We pointed out that if he had been a lieutenant, he would have been addressed as Lieutenant Commander. "As a matter of fact," he said, "in the second World War, I was commissioned as a lieutenant commander, and thus was correctly addressed as Lieutenant Commander Commander." —Gaines County News

As A Farm Woman Thinks—
"A very wealthy man went up to Heaven and St. Peter was showing him around the place," so the story goes. "The wealthy man was surprised to find that all his servants had mansions to live in, similar to the kind he had on earth. In great hopes, he asked St. Peter to show him his mansion in the skies. Pointing over to the slum section of the place, St. Peter showed him a tumble-down shack with the shingles coming off, and the broken windows stuffed with newspapers. "What," cried the gentleman in surprise, "you mean to say that is my home in heaven, and my servants live in such splendid places?"

"Right," answered St. Peter. "You see, the homes in Heaven are built only from materials you send up here while you are on earth. That's all you sent."

Hodge Podge—
We have a real jolter to start off this weeks Hodge Podge. And it's the truth. It happened at a local drug store. A gentleman came in and asked for some BC pills (he had a headache). The waitress proudly came forth bearing, for him, a pimento cheese sandwich. Might cure headaches at that. —County Wide News

Some researcher has come up with the very interesting fact that if you are fair complected, light skinned, you have a better chance to survive the terrific heat of the atomic bomb. In other words, if you happen to be far enough away from the explosion, protected by all sorts of mechanical and natural barriers, and perhaps garbed in heavy wool—then the factor of the color of your skin may actually save your life. Of course, under these same circumstances, if you happen to be about 100 feet farther from the blast it wouldn't burn you to death any way and if you are 100 feet closer, the thickest skin in the world—perhaps

Flat Paint Reflects Light Evenly
From a mat or non-glared surface, light is reflected in a uniform manner in all directions. For this reason flat paint is advisable for most rooms. The exceptions are the rooms which are frequently subject to steam or grease—the bathroom and kitchen, in other words. In these rooms its is more desirable to have the gloss-type finishes which can be frequently washed than to avoid the high lights.

Where The West Really Is . . .

A traveling man who moved to West Texas many years ago, from Central Texas, says that he would rather be in West Texas broke than to have to live in Central Texas with a bank full of money to his credit.

Of course he was exaggerating a little but he expressed to some extent the views of lot of folks who live on the South Plains. He said he is not bragging about West Texas, it's a place that has everything that makes living worth while.

There are various reasons given for the attitude of well being, and of confidence, that is found in the people of West Texas, none of them can be proven, but the fact remains that West Texas folks, and particularly those from the South Plains, seldom fear the future regardless of how dark the clouds on the horizon may look, the West Texan is not a suspicious man and he is willing to take a chance on a next year's crop, on a horse race, or on a football game between Podunk and Sassafras; he dresses to be comfortable, has no false pride and will take off his coat and go to work at anything that is at hand that needs doing.

The salesman, who used to live in Central Texas, says that if you do not want to dip snuff and chew tobacco you should not try to make a living in the small towns in Central Texas, you don't belong if you don't. Out here you're pretty sorry stuff if you can't greet your fellow man with a friendly howdoodle. If you do not see a rainbow in the sky you don't belong out here where the real West really is.

Control Football . . .

Action by the Board of Regents in referring the athletic situation at Georgia and Georgia Tech to a special committee for study is a logical solution to the immediate problem. The study should be conducted with the full co-operation and participation of the institutions concerned . . .

We believe that in the Southeastern Conference and throughout the nation football can be controlled without hurting the game which unquestionably has earned a place in American life—deservedly so as long as it can be held within the proper perspective.

We know that schools of the Southeastern Conference have made commitments to hundreds of boys now playing football. These commitments should be honored. However, de-emphasis should begin now and should continue until football is put into its proper place in the educational process. Colleges must bring their athletic programs into proper relationship with the real purpose of these institutions—to build well-rounded, well-informed and well-trained citizens.

The extravagant overemphasis on football is leading to serious consequences. Demands for a winning team, whatever the cost, build a sense of false values in the minds of students, alumni, and players. A winning team has become the measure of success for the institution . . .

Under the vicious recruiting system, schools bid for halfbacks like cattle in a ring. Players become a class unto themselves, living in separate quarters, with attendance at classes incidental.

The situation exploded in the West Point scandal, in the William and Mary revolution of moral laxness, and abandonment of the game in scores of schools. Vanderbilt is the latest school where economic pressure of the system threatens its discontinuance.

True, football has brought national publicity to Georgia. It has helped to build the student bodies. Thousands of young men have been given the opportunity to earn college educations through grants-in-aid. Ochoolwide athletic programs are sometimes financed by profits from the football program.

Granted these facts are true, they do not compensate for the dangers of the present-day system which has turned the college game from an amateur sport into one purely professional. —Atlanta Constitution.

Excessive Caution . . .

With all the talk of defense spending and defense contracts, and with the restrictions on use of strategic materials, a lot of folks have the idea that the production of defense materials is in high gear. Maybe so. But maybe not.

The Air Force, and the Navy will receive less than 5,000 new planes during 1951, a study by Aviation Week discloses. This is in sharp contrast to the President's plan for a five-fold increase in war-planes this year. Production since 1950 has increased only about 3,000, the publication says.

The magazine finds discrepancy between the facts and the public statements made in Washington. It quotes J. D. Omali, chairman of the Munitions Board, as telling a news conference that aircraft production is now double that of a year ago. But it finds September production was not over 500 planes—an increase of only about 100 planes in monthly production since June 1951.

Purpose of the delay in production was to "go slow" rather than to push defense too hard. This might well be a good policy, but it could be carried too far.

Production capacity on the day after we go to war—if we do go to war—will be the number of planes we can actually produce on that day, not the theoretical capacity that is on the drawing boards, or the potential of auto plants or other factories. Authorities in the government and in aviation manufacturing circles estimate that it would take at least six months after war broke out to speed aircraft production enough to reach the rate of 50,000 planes a year asked by the President.

Our entry into the last war was back-stopped by the fact that our enemies also faced our allies. This time it could be different.

And, while nobody will seriously claim that aircraft alone can win a war or hold off an enemy, neither can it be seriously asserted that the enemy can be held off successfully in modern warfare without plenty of aircraft—in sufficient numbers to allow for a reasonable percentage of losses in combat.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

"We The Jury" . . .

Events of the past two weeks demonstrate dramatically the changing public sentiment toward those who commit major crimes in Potter County.

Within days, two juries have assessed the death penalty—a sentence used only once before in the entire history of the county. And that history goes back in the late 1880's.

We have no desire to comment on the two trials but rather on the attitude of the jurors.

We have felt in years past the actions of some juries have given credence to the oft-repeated jibe: "Amarillo is a good place to commit a crime."

Two maximum sentences in quick succession should squelch this kind of loose talk. Members of two juries have decided to get tough in their contributions to the future good of the community.

It is an inescapable conclusion that if the punishment of crime be deterrent on future misdeeds, the sentence occasionally must be severe.

A succession of light assessments—over the years—does not provide a strong incentive to halt the commission of crime.

THE SLATON SLATONITE

We do not believe there is any argument to this: The people of Amarillo and Potter County are sick and tired of the violence which breaks in our midst all too often. Public sentiment appears crystallized that the most effective way to stop this violence is to assess stouter penalties.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

EVERY time we publish the price of a Buick, it seems to surprise a lot of people, because they come in and tell us so.

They just can't believe that so little money buys such a lot of car—but it's true.

And that brings us to the second surprise—which is how much power and performance—how much comfort and room—what a long list of stand-out engineering features you get for the price.

Take power. You'll find that no other car at the price of the Buick SPECIAL pictured here delivers the horsepower you get from its high-compression, valve-in-head Fireball Engine.

Take comfort. The best thing to do is try the depth of its seats—their width—and the headroom you get in this Buick SPECIAL, and judge for yourself.

Take the ride. This Buick has big soft coil springs on every wheel, plus the solid firmness of a torque-tube keel—and the way this combination smothers the bumps is something that's hard to match in cars costing a thousand dollars more.

Take the way it steers. Buick engineers have given this light-handling beauty a special "front-end geometry" that almost does the steering for you—even brings the front wheels back to a straight line when you come out of a turn.

And you can add to all this Dynaflo Drive®—that puts magic smoothness into every mile you drive—and practically repays its extra cost by the way it protects the whole driving mechanism, and by the dollars it adds to trade-in value.

So if you have been hoping, some day, to own a Buick—what's holding you back? If you can afford any new car—better see us now.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Fawcett's Fables

I don't know if I should write this column again or not. Last week my predictions were really off. That Southwest Conference sure upset my apple cart.

First I would like to get a little something off my chest. In our game Friday the officials did a very poor job of officiating. I've never heard of a man being kicked off the field for piling on a ball carrier, the worst penalty I've ever seen or heard of was a 15 yard penalty. It seems to me we should get our officials from some other part of the country. There are some of our boys that are discussed openly in the meetings of the South Plains Officials Association and they have two strikes against them before they take the field. Some of these officials are ex-coaches and they should know how such officiating can hurt a boy when he's doing his best. Football's a rough game and it takes more than brains to play ball the way it's supposed to be played. What do they expect a boy to do, stand around and let the other team go through for a touchdown just because a kid's afraid he'll get kicked off the field if he makes a tackle and the ball carrier gets hurt.

Football's a rough game and someone always gets hurt if he plays very long. Well that's enough for now, but I would like to see better officiating in the future. At this time I would like to give our boys a pat on the back for playing a wonderful game, and if they play as well the next two games they should do a fine job.

I guess I'll try my luck at picking a few winners again:

Tahoka over Slaton — District Champs.

Lubbock over San Angelo — Balanced Team.

Pampa over Odessa — More Polished Backfield.

Borger over Amarillo — Backfield.

Tech over Arizona — Homecoming.

H. S. U. over West Texas — Power.

Texas A. & M. over Baylor — Revenge.

Texas over Rice — Split T.C.U. Southern California over T.C.U.

Last week I got 100 percent on High School games and I won't even mention the college games.

If you have any suggestions for this column, please write the Slaton Slatonite and I will try to make my column a little more interesting.

News Of Slaton Men In Service

On Sept. 18, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Marsh received a letter from their son, 2nd Lt. James W. Marsh who is with the Marines in Korea. He was part of a Regimental Combat Team acting as troubleshooters for the 8th Army. They were going back into battle, and Lt. Marsh said, "My Platoon front is 850 yards, which is over three times what 'the books' say is allowable. Added to the fact that I'm 1-3 under strength, it's a pretty rough situation. Oh well, the 13th replacement draft comes in a few days, so I'll be back up".

They have now received a letter dated Oct. 6, in which James says he is back with his own division and a lot happier. He mentions that it is cold in Korea again and adds a P.S., "How about trying the fried chicken again?" Mrs. Marsh says she is going to send her son another fried chicken, wrapped in foil as she did earlier.

Interest to Farmers

Farmers Urged To Sell Scrap Steel

Steel and more steel is needed by industries of the nation engaged in building weapons for defense, as well as items for civilian use. Steel mills can increase their output if greater supplies of scrap iron is made available to them. New steel is approximately half scrap and half pig iron and reports from the steel industry point out that supplies of scrap now on hand at the mills are dangerously low.

During the next month, farmers are urged to collect and sell all scrap that cannot be used on the farm. According to B. E. Vance, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Mobilization Committee, farm scrap is the special demand since it includes some of the heavier scrap iron and steel now needed by the mills.

Vance suggests that farmers check the farm for such scrap as worn-out plow points and shares, cultivator shovels and sweeps, horse-drawn equipment which has been replaced by tractors, unusable wire and cables, old storage batteries and other items that no longer are used on the farm.

Supplies of scrap metal now on hand at steel mills are low. Farmers are urged to collect all scrap at once that is not needed on the farm and sell it so it can be used in the production of new steel.

Crop Popular In Neighboring Co.

Lamb County farmers in the Sudan area believe they have a crop which might well prove to be a pioneer in the area, according to a report in the "County Wide News." The crop is broomcorn, the first broomcorn to be harvested in the Sudan area in many years. It was planted by several farmers after their second cotton crop had been hailed out.

The present market price for broomcorn is said to be $800 a ton and 1200 acres are devoted to this crop in the area around Sudan.

The 80 acres grown by Ken Minyard will net him an estimated 35 tons, or about one ton for each two and one half acres.

Harvesting the crop is reputed to be easier than pulling cotton. The heads are pulled from the stalks and piled on the field. This is followed by machine threshing for fine seed. The broomcorn is then baled and shipped to market. Labor is paid at the rate of 75 cents per hour, and the average pull per laborer is about 150 lbs. for an eight hour day.

Inventive Talent Is Displayed By Local Men In Designing Implements

Local Farmers Find Farm Bureau Effective Here

Most local farmers are agreed that the Farm Bureau is an effective organization and that it has helped the farmers of the immediate area.

Mr. G. T. Hackney, who has a Holstein dairy farm between Cooper and Lubbock, is the president of the Lubbock County Farm Bureau. He points out some of the benefits which apply locally.

It was instrumental in getting a price boost in grain sorghum when it was selling below what it should have been, and in the cottonseed loan program. The Farm Bureau contributes to a Texas Tech scholarship for a 4-H Club girl and supports the 4-H Club work for boys by buying some of their livestock at the livestock shows. They sent a committee to Austin in advocacy of the Rural Road program in 1949-50 and fought for the tax refund on tractor gasoline.

He points out that 50 percent of a farmer's business is carried on outside the fences of his farm and the Farm Bureau materially helps the farmers in these matters. It also maintains lobbies in the state and federal governments.

Lubbock County had 936 members before the present membership drive. All of the farmers called said they considered it effective and a good thing for the farmers. Most of them were members or were planning to renew membership, as was Mr. Walter Bednarz, who says he believes it is really a good thing for the farmers. He was a member last year and plans to renew again this year. He says the bigger the membership the more the organization can do for its members.

Mr. Earl Reasoner, also a member who considers it very beneficial, says he thinks one of its most important activities is the lobby it maintains in Austin and Washington to try to secure legislation favorable to farmers and ranchers. He mentioned as an example the tax rebate on tractor gasoline, which he says covers state tax only; there is no federal tax return on the gas. In spite of the fact that the gas is used on farms and not on the state highways, there is always some group in Austin looking for extra tax revenue, and promoting legislation to tax tractor gas, says Mr. Reasoner.

Guess They Felt Pretty "Sheepish"

My wife and I went to Central City Saturday for the football game and it was a top-notch. But I began to wonder if it was worth the trouble when we got in a traffic jam coming home.

Traffic makes me mighty impatient. When I came to a side road that seemed to point towards the main highway, I turned onto it. This road bumps along for maybe a mile, then fetches up short by the railroad—a dead end.

So, I turned around and darned if there weren't twenty cars behind me! One driver had followed —figuring I knew a short cut—then a whole string of them swung after him, like sheep.

From where I sit, there's no sense in just "following along." Whether it's choosing a road, a movie star, or what beverage to drink at meal time, it's always better to make your own decisions. Personally, I often like a glass of beer with my dinner, but most of all, I like the freedom of making up my own mind about it!

TERRY'S CLOTHS—Originated in France, the Bikini bathing suit is, according to press reports, said to be out of favor in that country. But it's getting more popular in the U. S., and why not, when worn by such a charmer as Terry True who models hers at Las Vegas' Hotel Flamingo pool.

Adds Gaiety

Where a gay, peasant style of decoration is wanted, as in summer cottages, the interior wood trim may be painted more dramatically than in an all-year-round residence. Deep blue woodwork is very effective with chartreuse walls, for instance. So is a coral trim with beige walls. Colorful entrance doors also add a sense of festivity.

Francis Proves Glamor Problem

Hobart Crenshaw is a movie make-up man—that is, he was, until he was assigned to ply his trade during the filming of "Francis Goes To The Races," at Universal-International Studio. The new comedy hit, starring Donald O'Connor, Piper Laurie and Francis, the talking mule, is playing Sunday and Monday at the Caprock Drive-In Theatre. Crenshaw's quandary arose from the fact that he was not required to make-up the comedy's human stars but, instead, was told to keep Francis and his two stand-ins beautiful for their stints before the cameras. "Maybe I shoulda joined the painter's union," moaned Crenshaw. "Even after Francis reduced for this picture," he pointed out, "the mule still weighed in the neighborhood of 600 pounds. That's an awful large area to make-up."

Peggy Ryan Not Rearing Son For Acting Career

Daughter of one-time stage dancers, Peggy Ryan is not one bit sure her offspring, Jimmie, is going to become an actor. "She really does not care if he becomes one or not. "It'll be entirely up to him when the time comes for a decision," says the pretty brunette, co-starred with Lee Bowman, Elyse Knox and Gloria Jean in Allied Artists' musical, "There's A Girl In My Heart," due to open Tuesday and Wednesday at the Caprock Drive-In Theatre.

Young Jimmie's first taste of show business occurred during the filming of the picture, when he paid his initial visit to a movie set. The two-year-old never seemed too much impressed with what was going on before the camera. His interest primarily was centered on a team of horses, standing by for their appearance in an up-coming scene.

The little guy did his best to climb up on the wagon to which the team was hitched. Finally he got there, thanks to the help of a studio grip who apparently hadn't forgotten his childhood days. The lad's nurse stood by just smiling, when Peggy and her dance partner, Ray McDonald, came out of their scene.

"Did you enjoy watching your mother?" she asked him. Jimmie mumbled something which Peggy could not understand, but she presumes it had something to do with horses and a big wagon.

"That boy of mine became a motion picture actor?" said Peggy. "I doubt it. He'll probably grow up to become a farmer — an old-fashioned farmer who uses teams instead of tractors."

"There's A Girl In My Heart," filled with music and dancing, was produced and directed by Arthur Dreifuss. Included in the cast are Lon Chaney, Iris Adrain, Ludwig Donath, Irene Ryan, Richard Lane, Paul Guilfoyle and Joel Marston.

Duo Reunited In Stars In My Crown

Universal-International's Technicolor "Cattle Drive," starring Joel McCrea and juvenile star can Stockwell, thunders across the screen of the Circus Theatre Tuesday.

McCrea and young Stockwell were previously seen together in the heartwarming "Stars In My Crown." "Cattle Drive" is their second film together. A truly he-man picture without the introduction of a single feminine player, the Western tale had everything the thrill-lover could expect. Wild horses, stampedes, races and fights in the cruel, parched desert serve as the background for a tender story of a friendship between a headstrong boy and an understanding man.

The veteran ranch hand, Dan Mathews, is played by Joel McCrea. After an unusually long and fantastically successful career as both motion picture star and rancher, McCrea is obviously one of the most at-home-in-a-saddle players on the screen today. His outstanding performance in "Cattle Drive" is combined with the ingredients of toughness and tenderness that have made him one of today's most beloved outdoor stars.

The boy, Chester, is played by that most expert of young thespians, Dean Stockwell. The role of a spoiled rich boy who subtly changes to a hardened, reliant young cowhand during a harrowing desert experience is one of the most difficult child portrayals handed a youngster in recent years.

West Texas Roundup

The city's new National Guard armory will be dedicated and Hockley county's annual Defense bond campaign will be launched at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon in a ceremony on the courthouse lawn.

The double-barreled event will be a part of the city's annual Oil Progress Week observance, with Attorney General Price Daniel as guest speaker.

The ceremony will follow the Oil Progress week parade, slated to get underway at 2 o'clock from a starting point at Austin street and Avenue 1.

—The Sun News

Andrews has been the scene of fist fights, gun fights, bull fights, dog fights, and husband-wife fights, but last week was the first time for a car fight.

A woman drove her car into a local filling station, her husband seated beside her. A car blocked the driveway. The driver was inside paying his bill.

Impatient, the woman rammed the other car out of the driveway. The man inside took a dim view of such action. Jumping in his car, he proceeded to ram the offending car backwards.

Wheels spun, bumpers crashed, fenders crumpled, gears meshed and tempers flared as the two drivers sought to push the other's car out of the driveway.

The lone driver jumped from his car and tried to open the door on the husband's side. It was locked. He tried to drag the husband out of the car from the woman's side—no go. He tried it from the back door but the woman threw the car in gear and left him sprawling as she raced out of the station.

Attendants kept the man from jumping in his own car and giving pursuit.

What next?

—The Andrews County News

One of Motley county's most valuable crops is in peril because of inadequate number of cotton pickers (pullers). Hundreds of fields are white with high-costing and valuable cotton and harvest hands are becoming almost impossible to obtain. County Agent Rufus Emmons said yesterday that the Latin American labor is going to the irrigated area of the Plains where crops are better despite the fact that lower prices are being paid. He said prevailing prices on the Plains are $1.50 and $1.75 per 100 pounds, delivered to the gin, while average price in this county is $2.25.

"The prospect for any improvement in the labor situation is not very bright," Mr. Emmons declared. He said at least 40 crews are needed now by farmers in the county.

Schools at Roaring Springs and Flomot have suspended in an effort to aid the critical cotton-picker situation, while the Northfield school is operating on a part-time basis and dismissing at 2 p.m. daily.

—Matador Tribune

Crosby county officers had to go over into Lubbock county last Saturday night to find their largest cache of liquor yet discovered by Sheriff Roy Hillin and his deputies. And although the huge cache has been valued at $1500 by officials, no one can be indicted for its possession.

Crosby county officers got wind of the big cache at Lorenzo as it was allegedly owned by a Lorenzo negro. As the place to be raided was just over the line in Lubbock county near Estacado, Lubbock county officers were called in to assist.

The liquor was found all right—wine, beer and whiskey included—under a big feed stack. But the man living on the property claimed no knowledge of it, and no one was present at the feed stack when the raid was made. So although the bootlegger is out a whale of a lot of liquor, he will escape this one without an indictment.

The liquor will be divided between Lubbock and Crosby county authorities. So although knocked out of a fine in the case, the county will be richer by several hundred dollars when the liquor is sold back to someone in wet territory.

—The Crosbyton Review

A thorough check on the part of a County Wide News reporter disclosed that, although rumors of narcotic use and peddling in Littlefield have been widespread for the past few days, these rumors have absolutely no foundation.

The rumor was started, apparently, by the misunderstanding of remarks made by a Littlefield pastor to his congregation. The pastor, who does not wish to be named, maintains that he merely said that, in view of the fact that the use of dope was widespread in other larger Texas cities, it was not beyond the realm of possibility that it could come to Littlefield. His remark was in the nature of a warning to Littlefield parents to be on the lookout for the menace. He emphatically denied knowledge of any specific cases in the use or sale of dope in Littlefield.

Police officials from state, county and local levels were contacted by the CWN reporter, and all maintained that, although a thorough check had been made, nothing to substantiate the rumor had turned up. Police will continue to be on the lookout.

—County Wide News

"If the citizens of Brady don't want a boy's school located at the site of the old Prisoner of War Camp two miles east of Brady, I will do all within my power to prevent it. If they decide that they do want such a school, I will work for them."

Those were the words of Reuben E. Senterfitt of San Saba, representative of this district, and Speaker of the House of Representatives, who visited Brady Wednesday in an effort to "feel the pulse" of local residents regarding the proposed boys' school as part of the Youth Development Council.

—The Brady Standard

At a special meeting of the Winkler County Commissioners' Court Monday, a resolution was passed and adopted offering to deed to the State Highway Commission two roads owned and maintained by the county.

One is the Dollarhide Road in the northern part of the county which is approximately 10 1/2 miles of paved road. The other is the county road from Wink to the "Y" on the Kermit-Monahans highway, a distance of about six miles.

CHICK CHATS
Presented By Dr. Salsbury's Laboratories
SAVE TIME, LABOR IN DAILY CHORES
Time is valuable on the poultry farm—just as it is in many other enterprises, profitable business place. But all too often poultrymen find themselves spending too much time at small tasks, and too little time where it is really needed. The poultry farm is no place for time-wasting management methods. By following a few simple procedures, a poultry raiser can avoid a large amount of extra—and unnecessary work. As a guide to more efficient and more profitable management in poultry raising, the suggestions below should prove helpful:

Labor-Saving Tips

1. A well-planned poultry house, one that provides plenty of space for birds, is one of the first essentials in good management. Good furnishings (equipment) is also important. Litter should be kept as clean and dry as possible. Feeders and waterers should be present in sufficient numbers, and they should be arranged carefully, both for the birds' sake and the poultryman's.
2. In feeding methods, fill the hoppers about two-thirds of the way with clean mash. Put the old mash at one end, add the new, and stir well, so that birds will eat both old and new. Some poultrymen prefer to line up the hoppers, and to end so that they save time and labor in feeding. However, there is much to be said for placing feeders at right angles to windows, so that light will fall on feed.

Additional Pointers

3. Be sure to keep layers supplied with clean nesting material. This practice helps avoid soiled eggs, and this, in itself, represents considerable saving of time and effort. Cleaning dirty eggs takes up a great deal of time. A deep layer of nesting material also is helpful, as it prevents broken eggs.
4. Also keep feed consumption and egg production records. These help the poultryman foresee slumps in production, and also help locate pens that are lagging behind in production.
5. Finally, use a roost application to control lice and mites and other poultry house pests. By using a good roost application, a poultry raiser can prevent birds from becoming heavily infested with damaging parasites. This also prevents individual bird treatment, which consumes a great amount of time and labor.
