H. S. FINE ARTS TEACHERS FOR '31-'32 ELECTED

The Slaton school board has selected the Fine Arts teachers for the Slaton schools for next year, and they will be Miss Jeannette Ramsey, piano; Mrs. Lillian Butler, piano and voice; Miss Hazel Mansker, expression, and Miss Lessie Head, violin and art.

This seems to be a splendid selection and that department will surely be well capable of doing competent work as in the past.

Miss Ramsey, who has been at the head of the department for several years, was forced to discontinue her class about two months ago on account of ill health, but reports from her now are that she is improving nicely and will be back with renewed hopes for a wonderful year in Slaton.

Mrs. Lillian Butler, who came to Slaton from Pecos about four years ago, has built for herself a reputation as a competent teacher of piano and voice, and she has also conducted a choral club each year.

Miss Head, a sister to Vernon Head, local architect, has spent her first year in Slaton, and is very well satisfied with the little city and plans to return for another year. She is a graduate of John Tarleton.

Miss Mansker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mansker, and is a Slaton girl, having finished her work at Slaton High with the class of '29. At that time she also received her diploma in high school expression. During the past year she has enjoyed a nice class in Slaton and also has done special work in expression in Texas Technological college. She is a splendid young lady and a very capable teacher.

W.T.C.C. Pageant Was Pretty Affair

"The Spirit of Progress," a pageant presented for the thirteenth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce on the Athletic field of Texas Technological college, at Lubbock, on Friday evening May 15, was a beautiful affair.

Approximately 6,000 persons attended the presentation, in which the history of West Texas in the past, present and future was depicted.

Miss Betty Pack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Pack, represented Slaton in the court under the French flag.

Participants in the pageant entered onto the scene through a huge hat, doors of which were opened by two cowboys on horses.

West Texas cities were represented in the court of Miss West Texas, who was Miss Kate Boyd of Lubbock, a member of a pioneer West Texas family.

The young ladies of the French, Spanish, Lone Star, Confederate and Mexican flags, were costumed for their respective periods in history.

Ladies of the court were dressed in pastel shaded organdie dresses.

Charles E. Coombes, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, crowned Miss West Texas.

In episode one the court entered, and in episode two was depicted the Spirit of the Present or West Texas Today. Among the special features of the present were the livestock and products, showing a land of plenty, with cotton, wheat, poultry and milk.

STORK NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Bourland are the proud parents of a baby boy born Thursday morning. The young man has been named Marcus Jim. Mother and baby are doing nicely.

Miss Jeannette Ramsey writes from Sweetwater that she is rapidly improving and will return to Slaton with the opening of the next school year to resume her classes in piano.

Slaton To Be Host To Song Convention

Slaton will entertain the Lubbock county singing convention Sunday, May 31.

The convention will meet at the high school auditorium at 10 a. m., and an all-day meeting will be enjoyed in singing the good old hymns.

John W. Hood will make the welcoming address and the Slaton Chamber of Commerce quartette composed of Emmett Waldrop, Wayne Smith and Paul and Roy Foutz, will open the program.

The public has an invitation to attend the convention.

ROTARIANS TO ENJOY DEBATE AT FRIDAY MEET

In the absence of the president, T. E. Roderick, the vice president Walter Olive, presided at the Rotary club meeting Friday noon. It was a hundred per cent attendance as the only member absent made good.

A quartette composed of Walter Olive, Claude Anderson, Tom Abel and J. T. Pinkston gave a demonstration of their vocal ability.

"What Is Honesty?" was the subject of the program at Friday's meeting.

Subj Robertson made his first appearance on the program in an eight minute talk on "Give a Good, Comprehensive Definition of Honesty, and Back It Up With Convincing Reasons." He handled the subject well.

L. T. Green talked on "What Is Intellectual Honesty?"

As Dr. M. C. Overton, Jr., was called away, and in the absence of John W. Hood, their subjects on the program were given by Roy A. Baldwin in a very capable manner.

The program for Friday will consist of a debate on the subject, Should the World Adopt a Thirteen-Month Year? T. A. Worley, Jr., and Bill Cates will uphold the affirmative and C. C. Hoffman, Jr., and Jeff R. Graham will give the negative side of the question.

Fine Arts Pupils In Ensemble Program

The Fine Arts pupils of Mrs. Lillian Butler were presented in a piano and voice ensemble Monday evening, at 8 o'clock at the high school auditorium.

The program was divided into two parts. Those appearing in part one included: Marion Ferguson, Virginia Bowman, the chorus, Eugene Ball, Rhen Etta Moseley, Maxalene Cooper, Virginia Rogers, Mary Ellen Madden, Mary Ellen Brown, Mary Watkins, Olykene George, Travis Ferguson, J. ## Former Slaton Man Killed in Train Wreck

James Taliaferro, Amarillo, engineer of the Santa Fe crack train, and former resident of Slaton, was killed Tuesday night when the locomotive and six baggage and refrigerator express cars overturned near Waynoka, Oklahoma.

The victim is well known in Slaton, having lived here for a number of years, and his many friends here are indeed regretful to know of the fatal accident, as he was much loved by all who knew him.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Minor, of Amarillo, spent several days here with their son, P. A. Minor and family before moving to their new home in San Diego, California. Mr. Minor, who has run a passenger train out of Amarillo for a number of years, is retiring from active service. They expect to leave Amarillo this week.

J. P. RAYBURN GIVES SERMON TO GRADUATES

The annual baccalaureate service for members of the senior class of Slaton high was held Sunday evening at the high school auditorium, when thirty-nine students were recognized as graduates from this institution of learning.

The professional was played by Mrs. Lillian Butler as the graduates entered in their most dignified manner, dressed in caps and gowns, followed by their high school instructors.

The Rev. W. F. Ferguson, Baptist pastor, gave the invocation and the Rev. I. A. Smith, pastor of the Methodist church, read the scripture. The high school chorus favored the audience with a beautiful anthem.

The sermon for the evening was delivered by the Rev. J. P. Rayburn, pastor of the Presbyterian church. In his address Mr. Rayburn stressed the requirements of good citizenship in every community and his entire sermon was built around the close relationship of our life's work with our life with God, and brought out the fact that at all times the Godly life must be upheld if success is to be achieved and the problems of every human being are to be overcome and dealt with in the most competent manner.

The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Albert Smith, pastor of the Church of Christ. The recreational was played by Mrs. Butler.

H. E. Classes Will Be Continued Here

The Home Economics department of the high school will conduct classes for women, boys and girls from May 25 to June 15.

Any girl who has studied Home Economics may enroll in one of the four classes, two in refinishing of furniture, one in foods and one in clothing. Classes are to be held twice a week. Each girl will carry out some project at home such as refinishing the porch furniture, preparing the meals for the family, or making her own summer clothes.

Teachers are urging that the mothers leave the girls in charge of the home twice a week and enroll in the class open for women. The unit to be offered this summer is called "Easy Guest Meals." It will be given in eight lessons and will include planning, preparing and serving of typical luncheons, dinners, refreshments, and such.

The following problems will be discussed: planning guest luncheons and setting the table; planning work for a guest dinner and serving without any help; serving attractive party refreshments, serving a buffet luncheon to both small and large groups, picnic and camping menus and appropriate banquet menus and table decorations.

The classes will be held on Tuesday and Thursday mornings at 9 o'clock in the Home Economics rooms of the high school. The dates may be changed to suit the convenience of the group. The first lesson will be May 25. This will not only be for enrollment, but the first demonstration as well.

Any seventh grade or high school boy is welcome to enroll in the class for boys which will be organized next Monday afternoon, May 25, at 1:30. At that time the best time for meeting will be decided. In this course the boys will discuss such problems as "What Shall We Cook in Camp?" and "How would we handle our silverware at the table?" The boys may suggest problems they would like to discuss. This class will meet twice a week, the same as the other classes.

There is no fee for any of these courses. Home Economics girls taking this work will receive a half school credit.

SLATON HIGH RECEIVES FOURTH UNIT IN LATIN

L. T. Green was recently notified by the state department of education, that Slaton High School has been granted the fourth unit in Latin without submission of material for exhibit.

This is an outstanding mark for Slaton High and they are exceedingly proud of the fact.

HEALTH DRIVE PROVED TO BE GREAT SUCCESS

Workers in the health campaign, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher associations and under the management of Mrs. R. L. Smith and Mrs. L. C. Odum, have completed the examination of all white and colored children in the Slaton schools.

The co-operation in this work has been quite evident, as a number of the children have been taken to their family physicians by their parents, and the necessary corrections made.

A survey of the outcome of the clinic work shows that in the high school and two ward schools 718 students were examined, 596 were vaccinated, 147 not vaccinated; 96 immunized; 34 chest irregularities were found; 572 dental corrections recommended; there were 144 normal mouths in which the teeth did not even need cleaning. Eye, ear, nose and throat corrections were recommended in 425 cases, which included the fitting of glasses, treatment of lids, discharging ears, sinus troubles, embedded, enlarged, or diseased tonsils.

In the colored school there were 48 examinations, 7 vaccinations, 37 not vaccinated; 4 immunized; 0 not vaccinated; 1 immunized; 13 dental corrections recommended and 12 eye, ear, nose and throat corrections recommended.

Among the Mexican students, 19 were examined; 11 vaccinated, 6 not vaccinated; 1 immunized; 13 dental corrections recommended and 12 eye, ear, nose and throat corrections recommended.

The St. Joseph's parochial school children were not examined on account of conflicting school examinations. They will, however, go through a clinic at the Mercy hospital and undergo the same examination as did the other school children.

A record was made of each case in duplicate form, with one card being sent home to the parent by the child and the other filed, for reference in the fall when a health committee will be in charge in each school, and will check the cards and pupils and see how many corrections have been made.

The work which is now established in the Slaton schools will be permanent and its success is due largely to Mrs. Smith who gave her time and efforts for the entire time of the examination, not missing one day on the job. Since her thanks have been extended for her untiring work, and also to Mrs. Odum, who advocated the work so strongly, and to every woman who assisted. As it is the most worthwhile work of the kind that has ever been put over in our city, and great benefits are sure to be derived as daily corrections are being made on the child which heretofore the parents were unaware of.

Doctors gave of their time and work to this cause without compensation. Those who examined the students were Dr. S. B. Malone of Lubbock, Dr. M. C. Overton, Jr., Dr. Frank Miller, Dr. W. E. Payne, Dr. W. A. Tucker, Dr. S. H. Adams, Dr. Paul Owens, Dr. G. W. Shanks, Dr. J. W. Hightower and Dr. M. F. Swart of Lubbock. Thanks are extended to them.

About the first of June this district will be visited by a public health nurse and sanitarian, according to reports received, and all boys and girls who will enter school for their first year will be examined. This work is being done by the U. S. Bureau of Child Health through the department of Health of Texas, without any charges.

Homers Beat Lubbock By Score of 7 to 5

Buck Johnson's Homers in the last of the ninth inning, scoring Pare ahead of him, was too much for Lubbock Sunday.

Lubbock scored five runs in the second on three walks and two hits, one of which was J. Cooper's home run with the bases loaded. J. Cooper, Lubbock's pitcher, struck out twelve men and allowed six hits.

Slaton base runners had a good day on the paths, stealing a total of 12 bases. Cleveland 2, Foutz 1, Holland 1, Lee 3, Cannon 1, Seel 1, Pittman 1. The Slaton team will play in Post Sunday. Everybody is invited to attend the game and boost the Slaton team.

Local Man Injured In Lubbock Monday

J. K. Rogers of this city, was struck by an automobile Monday afternoon in Lubbock, when attempting to walk across a street in that city. He is quoted as having said that he thought he had time to cross the street before the automobile, which was driven by a Lubbock lad, reached him.

Rogers is now in a Lubbock hospital suffering with a broken leg and bruises. The left leg is fractured. Reports from the hospital are that the injured man will probably be confined to the hospital for about twelve weeks.

HOW SLATON HI TEACHERS WILL SPEND SUMMER

Slaton high school teachers plan to wander far and near during the vacation period, while others will remain at home for a quiet recreation.

Some will study, some will visit relatives and friends, and then others have not yet made definite plans.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Green plan to visit their son, who is an instructor in the medical school which is a branch of the University of Arkansas at Little Rock, Arkansas, for the first part of the summer.

Mrs. R. M. Nash and Mr. David Lemons will conduct a six-weeks summer school, after which Mr. Lemons expects to visit in East Texas.

J. G. Whitte states that he will stay at home and make a garden and keep house while Mrs. Whitte attends Texas Technological college.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Wright will visit with relatives and friends in Amarrillo and in Springfield, Missouri, and will then go to Champaign-Urbana, Illinois, where Mr. Wright will enter the University of Illinois.

Mrs. J. S. Tekell plans to stay at home and keep house for her husband and endeavor to furnish him with three meals a day for a change.

Miss Hazel Blodgett will conduct classes in the home economics department for about two weeks, after which she will spend the summer in the state of New York.

Mr. Milton Sanner plans to make the wheat harvest and really enjoy out-of-door life for a while.

Miss Maude Dean will spend a part of the summer visiting with her father and sister in Perryton.

Miss Irene Armes does not have any plans for summer, but is under the impression that she will spend a quiet vacation at home.

Miss Addie Lea Morrison will go to her home in Commerce and spend the summer attending East Texas State Teachers' college in that city.

Mrs. Lillian Butler will continue her classes in piano and voice during the summer months.

Miss O'Beira Forrester expects to be at her home in Wilson.

Miss Jo Hestand will do graduate work in Texas Tech and Mr. R. M. Nash expects also to attend that college, and work on his A. B. degree.

39 GRADUATES WERE AWARDED H. S. DIPLOMAS

The outstanding goal for every high school student was reached by thirty-nine Slaton High boys and girls Tuesday evening, when commencement exercises were held at the Slaton High auditorium, with J. M. Gordon, dean of the school of liberal arts at Texas Technological college, Lubbock, delivering the address for the evening.

The invocation was given by the Rev. W. F. Ferguson, pastor of the Baptist church.

Mrs. Lillian Butler, Misses Joan Drewry, Katrina Houston and Earline McAlister rendered a beautiful two-piano duo, which was much enjoyed.

Miss Murrel Wicker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wicker, was declared valedictorian and delivered the address, while Odie Hood, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hood, was chosen salutatorian of his class.

In Dr. Gordon's address he stressed the idea of "pushing ahead" and continuing in the field of education. He commended the class on their goal thus won and stressed that they continue in an effort to secure their goal in life and not let this step be the finishing step, but the beginning step of their lives.

Members of the Slaton school board were seated on the stage and Briggs Robertson was chosen as speaker for the evening, and expressed the board's pleasure to award diplomas to such a nice graduating class as the 1931 class.

E. R. Legg, president of the school board, presented the diplomas to the graduates as they crossed the stage and changed their tassels, denoting they had finished from Slaton High and now entered the field to fight life's battle.

Misses Joan Drewry, Earline McAlister and Katrina Houston were awarded diplomas in piano, and Misses Murrel Wicker and Mildred Rucker diplomas in expression.

As an annual event the American Legion presents medals of citizenship to the boy and girl who have proven to be the best school citizens. This year such an honor was bestowed upon Miss Earline McAlister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McAlister, and Woodson Armes son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Armes. This is the second year that young Armes has won such an honor.

The medals were awarded by Judge D. E. Kemp, service officer of the local Legion post, and they were awarded on the pupil's attitude, scholarship, co-operation, participation in student activities, obedience to the rules and regulations and the general merits of a good citizen.

Those receiving honorable mention were Robert Cowart, Crystelle Scudder, C. E. Mitchell, Beatrice Payne, Raymond Johns and Nellie Payne.

Misses McAlister and Houston also receive State Music diplomas, as they went to Lubbock and took the state examination, which they passed with excellent grades. This is an outstanding honor for these girls.

Palace Beauty Salon To Be Opened Mon.

The formal opening of the Palace Beauty Salon, located in the balcony of the Palace Barber Shop, will be held Monday afternoon from two until five o'clock, at which time fifteen dollars' worth of free work will be given away.

This shop is under the management of Mrs. Aline Kinkler and Mrs. J. E. Hart, two well experienced operators in beauty work.

Every lady in Slaton is extended a welcome to the shop and invited to attend the opening Monday afternoon.

LOCAL COMPANY OFFICE BURGLARIZED TUESDAY

The local Panhandle Lumber Company office was burglarized Tuesday night, and according to Chief of Police Tom Abel who held the investigation, about two dollars and 29 cents was taken. The amount was in two one-dollar bills and 29 cents in pennies.

"Man of The World" Stars William Powell

William Powell gives another breathless performance which makes "Man of the World"—showing at the Palace Thursday and Friday—a dramatic screen sensation.

As a gentleman in exile, an outcast—loved deeply by two women, one he loves and can't have, the other he can have and doesn't want—Powell is seen as a man so enmeshed in crime that he cannot free himself.

This powerful role demands the ultimate in acting talent—and gets it. In this story of love that comes too late, of the fight of a man to re-establish himself in decent society for the sake of a girl he knows to be far beyond his reach, romance and tense drama are thrown forcefully into relief against the gay and enthralling atmosphere of pleasure-ground Paris.

English Actress At Palace Sunday

The story "Body and Soul" is enacted by a very able cast. Charles Farrel, by popular choice, the most beloved actor on the screen portrays the leading character, while Elissa Landi, beautiful blonde actress from England, makes her screen debut in the leading feminine role.

Miss Landi is so beautiful, so talented and so charming that there is no other stage or screen actress with whom to compare her, and her splendid performance in this picture leaves no doubt as to her being the most sensational screen find in years.

POSTS ARE URGED TO OBSERVE MEMORIAL DAY

Department Commander Hal Brennan urges that every post of the American Legion in Texas make plans for the observance of Memorial Day on May 30, and to decorate the graves of our departed comrades. The success of the simultaneous meeting plan of 1930 has prompted department headquarters to again ask that every post in the state hold a special meeting on Memorial Day for the purpose of rededicating the Legion and its membership to the ideals for which our comrades gave their lives.

Bulletins have gone forward from the state headquarters of the Aux-

Make your plans now to hold a special meeting of your posts and see that the grave of every deceased ex-service man is decorated.

POSTS OVER STATE LEND HELPING HAND TO NEEDY

Reports are constantly coming in to department headquarters of the American Legion at Austin telling of the relief work being carried on by the American Legion posts of the state.

The Legion in Texas has been especially active in extending aid to the needy in the drought stricken areas of this and adjoining states. State-wide support has been given by the Legion to the Red Cross in its drive for funds and in addition many posts, especially in the Rio Grande valley, have shipped several car loads of vegetables to the drought stricken areas.

To enumerate the many instances in which the local posts of Texas have assisted in relief work, would be impracticable and recognition to these individual cases can be given only in letters to the posts as space in the Texas Legion News does not permit the mentioning of each case.—Texas Legion News.

The Auxiliary will meet Friday evening, May 22, at the club house. After a short business session, the new members will be initiated. There is a rumor out that the Legion will put on a "feed"—so everyone come.

At our first meeting in June we will have our "Fidac" program which promises to be very interesting. Also, we will hear something concerning the Fifth Division convention to be held in Lubbock, June 20 and 21.

Maryland Woman Happy Now—LOSES 55 LBS

Edith J. Mariott of Baltimore, Md., writes: "Last winter I weighed 200 lbs. and was very much ashamed. I bought a bottle of Kruschen Salts which gave such wonderful results I bought more. After 4 bottles I weigh 145 lbs. and all my friends say, 'How slender you've gotten—how did you do it?' I say only four words—thanks to Kruschen Salts."

A generous bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks costs but 85 cents at City Drug Store or any drug store in America—take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—that will help Kruschen take off your fat.

Take Kruschen every morning—it's the little daily dose that does it—if not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

OBSERVATIONS AT W. T. C. C. BY A SLATON MAN

First, it was observed by this visitor from Slaton, that parking spaces on the busiest streets of Lubbock were more plentiful than he had been accustomed to finding available. From this fact he concluded, the real creators of West Texas prosperity were too busy on their farms to be strongly attracted by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, then in session.

Second, a large number of truck loads of feed and other kinds of farm produce were parked around the square where sales were being made without interference from the law. Loads of this produce were coming in from all directions, some coming by Slaton.

To the visitor's mind, this feature was the most favorable to Lubbock of any presented to her visitors and perhaps she was not conscious of such. Observer W. P. Florence.

7 ways to use a telephone

Visit CHICAGO from your home for $2.00***

CHICAGO . . . towering buildings . . . roar of the Loop district . . . beautiful Lake Shore Drive . . . friends who live in this colorful city . . . business associates there. And it's all as near as your telephone! Just ask for "Long Distance" . . . and you're there. Fast . . . you're usually connected while you hold the line. Clear . . . as a local call.

Low in cost . . . you can call during reduced rate periods after 7 and 8:30 o'clock at night.

Use the fast voice highway between here and Chicago for three minutes tonight . . . or any night. Call a friend. Call a relative. Call a business acquaintance. See for yourself how much pleasure and profit long distance can mean to you.

*Rate is for three-minute station-to-station call after 8:30 p. m. from city where this is published.

Long Distance easy to use

Just lift the receiver. Ask for "Long Distance", or dial the "Long Distance" operator. Tell her you want to speak to anyone at the home of Mrs. Blank, or give the out-of-town number if you know it. And she'll have them for you in a jiffy, usually while you hold the line.

You can talk for three minutes to a friend 100 miles away after 8:30 p. m. for 35 cents (station-to-station).

Station-to-station service is recommended when it is unnecessary to talk with a particular person, or when you are reasonably sure that the person with whom you wish to speak is near the called telephone.

Rates reduced at night

Call up an out-of-town friend tonight. It will cheer you up. And don't you think he will appreciate hearing your voice?

Sample of the inexpensive rates after 8:30 p. m.

FROM	TO	FOR 3 MINUTES
Slaton—Dallas	-----	80c
Slaton—Oklahoma City	-----	75c
Slaton—Fort Worth	-----	70c
Slaton—Wichita, Kans.	-----	$1.00

How a telephone helps a housewife

If you haven't a telephone, we suggest that you learn first hand what an aid one can be.

It goes to the grocer for you. To the baker, the butcher. It orders . . . quickly . . . bandages and disinfectants for bruised fingers and toes. It brings the doctor hurrying to look after youthful ailments.

Even the children will use it in planning parties, hiking trips and the like.

Try a telephone this summer. See how it enables you to do more work in less time, to enjoy leisure more thoroughly, to meet emergencies promptly . . . all for a few cents a day.

Do you run up and down stairs?

You use up as much energy in stepping up one foot, as in walking 13 feet on the level, say scientists.

That's a reason for extension telephones in upstairs bedrooms. They're handy for women who spend several hours a day upstairs . . . dressing the children, doing housework, sewing or just resting. You can make or answer calls without running downstairs to do it.

The cost is little more than that of your daily paper . . . hardly worth considering when compared with the time and work and weariness they save you!

Put your telephone on half-pay during vacation

Put your telephone on vacation half-rates while you are away this summer. You save money, keep your present telephone number and your name remains in the telephone book. Calls during your absence can be transferred to another telephone. Vacation rates apply to residence telephones for periods longer than 30 days.

HOWDY
 Among other thoughts for the day, consider this: In the course of doing unto others as I would be done by, I resolve to give my business patronage to my fellow citizens at home, to buy what I need from my friendly neighbors, who also help to support me.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES
 A national business statistical organization has recently collected reports from 98 different lines of business, showing where they stand by comparison with a year ago. The only lines in which business is better, nationally speaking, are the manufacture and retail sales of men's clothing. Business is as good as it was a year ago in twenty-five different lines, including all kinds of women's wear, shoes and millinery, men's underwear, bread, drugs and chemicals, groceries, fish and laundering. It is poorer than a year ago in the automobile business and seventy other lines.
 The clear meaning of these figures is that the people are eating as much of the staple foodstuffs, except meat, as they did a year ago, but that their principal other expenditure so far are for the replacement of perishables.

The increased business in men's clothing suggests that there are more men who couldn't afford a new suit last year are buying one this year; either that or the old suit, carried over a season, has at last worn out. The ladies have the advantage over the men in that almost any woman can fix over her old dresses in an emergency, but it is a pretty tough job to make a man's old suit look presentable.

The upturn in one industry, however, is the herald of others. It is something of an achievement that twenty-five different lines are doing as well as they were at this time in 1930. That is pretty good evidence that the general business decline has got to the bottom of the grade. In a good many lines it probably will run along about on the present level for some time to come, but one line after another will begin to pick up.

The most disquieting thing about present business conditions is the talk heard from many industrial centers about wage reductions. The policy of keeping workers on part time at the full daily wages has been pretty well adhered to so far, where the reduction of expense was essential. There is no room for doubt that this policy has averted a great deal of suffering. It is better for all concerned to have a hundred people working half time than fifty working full time and fifty earning no wages at all. But it would be a tragedy if, just as the employment situation begins to look better, those returning to work and those who stayed on the job were to have their earning power reduced.

The economic crisis through which the nation has been passing is the first one in our history that has not been marked by serious labor disturbances. Such disturbances would unquestionably be widespread, were there any general move at this time to cut wages.

VILLAGE LIFE
 G. K. Chesterton, the genial and brilliant English essayist who has just gone home after several months in America, told English newspaper men that he thought American villages were eyesores.

By comparison with English villages, and viewed from an English standpoint, Mr. Chesterton was saying just what many other European visitors have said. We don't know what villages he saw, but we do know that they all looked pretty much alike. They all had brilliant electric lights along Main Street and, on Saturday nights, in all of the plate glass store windows. Most of them gave the impression of trying to be as much like Minneapolis, Chicago or St. Louis, as they possibly could, and none of them, to the traveller merely passing through, displayed the peaceful eighteenth-century repose of the typical English village. Never having seen anything like them in England, American villages appear to Mr. Chesterton much like Gypsy camps or a country fair. He didn't like the red store fronts, or the big signs, or the business activity at all. But he was fair enough to admit that he didn't understand them.

"When you go into an English village you have the feeling that although this may be a dead hole, yet it is something solid that will endure longer than other things," said Mr.

Chesterton. But our English visitor was fair enough to say that in many ways he thinks family life in the little frame house is the United States is a more healthy and satisfying thing than many families in England or on the Continent can show.
 We might as well admit that Main Street in the average American village is not a picturesque ruin which artists want to paint, but it has taken most English villages a thousand years or so to die peacefully, while we still are young and very much alive. Give us time, Mr. Chesterton.

STEFFENS
 Lincoln Steffens, born in California,

made himself one of the two or three greatest reporters in the world more than thirty years ago. He was the first popular writer to expose political corruption and graft in American cities and elsewhere.
 He has just written his autobiography. In it he not only tells the fascinating story of his own life and experiences, but brings a wise and matured judgment to bear upon social and economic conditions.
 I have read no book in years which was so stimulating. Everybody who is in the least concerned with the future of himself, his children, or his country, ought to read "The Autobiography of Lincoln Steffens."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NEWS NOTES

by A. J. Payne, Sec'y.

A check for $10.00 was sent to Miss LaVerne Bloodworth, she being winner of the prize in the "My Home Town Contest" from Slaton, the prize being offered by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce.

The Slaton Chamber of Commerce offers its thanks and appreciation for the good work done by J. H. Brewer in helping Secretary Payne with the exhibit at Lubbock during the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention last week.

The Chamber of Commerce will give a party next Monday night at the Club House, complimentary to those who helped in the Good Will trips. The Chamber of Commerce appreciates all that was done by the good people who helped put over these trips so successfully, and a letter to that effect goes to each one of them.

The Good Will trips all closed last week, the 14th, except that of the City, the Chamber of Commerce and the Santa Fe organizations. The City will go to Union this week, the Chamber of Commerce will go to New Hope, and the Santa Fe will go to Hackberry.

Over 50 have signed up in the Lawn and Garden contest for this year. We will continue to receive your applications until Saturday, May 24. At that time we must close the receiving of application. So come in and bring your entry blank, or come in and fill one out in the office.

Great crowds are expected at the Singing Convention to be held here Sunday, May 31. At the high school auditorium, President J. W. Hood will give the welcome address, and the Chamber of Commerce Quartet will sing the welcome song entitled "Howdy You Do."

The Chamber of Commerce is making preparations for the Slaton birthday party on June 15. Special committees of the Chamber of Commerce have that in hand and are already at work on the job.

A special meeting of the directors was called Monday afternoon at the office of the secretary to confirm all that committees have done thus far toward the work on the Birthday party. And also, the suggestion by J. W. Alsbaugh of the McClung Community to have a platform made and use the City Park for the programs to be brought here the night of the Slaton birthday party by the different communities that have been visited by the Good Will Trippers. The Chamber of Commerce has asked these communities to play a return engagement.

Chas. G. Cotton, manager of the Trade Extension department of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Fort Worth special train delegation to the W. T. C. C. convention, wrote to your local secretary commending the Slaton people on their cordial reception of the Fort Worth bunch, and also he stated that Fort Worth and such little cities as Slaton have many things in common. We extend our thanks to Mr. Cotton for "them kind words."

ENGINES

Experimenters with the Diesel type of engine for airplanes are optimistic in spite of many setbacks. Diesel-engined planes have made long flights economically but the questions of manufacturing cost and durability remain to be answered.

The Diesel engine is like any other engine which depends upon the explosion of a mixture of gas and air inside a cylinder, except that it uses heavy oil instead of gasoline and requires no electric ignition system, the pressure inside the cylinder being so great that the oil is heated to the ignition point by the rise in temperature caused by the pressure.

The high pressure required makes it difficult to reduce the Diesel engine to the light weight required for aviation. For ships and wherever crude or semi-refined oil is available cheaply it is highly economical in moderate-sized units as steam turbine. In aviation it is expected that the same weight of fuel will produce three times the mileage as gasoline, at a lower price per gallon.

Sooner or later the Diesel engine will come into its own in the air and flying will be cheaper as well as safer from the fire risk.

Orator—And what has become of the old-fashioned girl?
Heckler—She's still at home.

NO CHARGES TO ENTER LAWN-GARDEN CONTEST

The question has been asked, "What does it cost to enter the Pretty Lawn and Garden contest?"

And the immediate answer is, "Nothing."

Persons who have not entered the contest on account of the charges, are hereby notified that there are no charges, and will be expected to hurry and enter the contest which has been extended until Saturday, May 23. This is positively the last day to register for this contest.

Call at the Chamber of Commerce office and leave your entry blank.

DO-X

By completing without mishap the first two legs of its flight from Germany to America the largest airplane yet built, the DO-X has revived interest in the competition between planes and dirigibles. The DO-X has reached the Canary Islands, in the Atlantic Ocean, as I write. By the time this is printed it may have reached America, the first airplane to transport a "pay-load" across the ocean.

Builders of dirigibles are confident that they will establish regular freight and passenger routes between the continents in the course of a year or two. So are the builders of airplanes. Perhaps both will succeed, but it seems more likely that the transatlantic flights of fifty years from now, when nobody will go by boat except those who are compelled to travel cheaply, will be made by aircraft which will combine the safety of the dirigible with the speed of the airplane.

AUTHORS

Arnold Bennett, the English novelist who recently died, left an estate of $500,000. This is not much for a successful novelist to accumulate in these days. Mary Roberts Rinehart has earned more than two million dollars with her pen. Sinclair Lewis can count on at least $100,000 profit from every novel he writes.

There are more people reading books in America today than ever before, and even obscure authors are earning more money than most bankers and business men ever get.

SANTA FE SHOP CRAFT IN MEETING-BANQUET

The Slaton Shop Crafts association held their regular scheduled meeting at the club house in city park last Friday night, having as their guests at the banquet and entertainment after the meeting their families and their supervisors and their families.

Plainly evident throughout the meeting-banquet-entertainment of the evening was the fine spirit of co-operation existing between the general personnel and the supervisors having to do with the business of railroading by the Santa Fe at Slaton.

After the banquet several musical renditions charmed the audience, there being several numbers by the Clark Hawaiians, soprano solos "Perfect Day" and "Where The River Shannon Flows," by Mrs. Ed Hill, accompanied by Storekeeper Oliver on the guitar, the latter number being dedicated to Mr. Thomas Scully, visiting Irish General Traveling Storekeeper from Topeka, Kansas. Other excellent numbers were given by Mexican employees of the Santa Fe, including a solo by Senor Terso, Miss Oleta Colston pleased with an elocutionary treat.

Other visitors were Mr. A. R. Tillman, safety supervisor, and Mr. Nagle, a grand officer of the Shop Crafts association, of Topeka, accompanied by Mrs. Nagle.

"Uncle Gawge" Marriott made 'em all sit up and take notice with his perambulating pedal prognosticators to the tune of "Massa's In De Col' Col' Groun'."

Approximately 200 were served at the banquet.

We were unaware that Slaton had a personality in the railway shops who can walk away with the tricky job of toastmaster for such a gathering, but Arthur Dennis, the highly-skilled manipulator of mechanical monstrosities in the Santa Fe shops, did the job in a charmingly original manner.

The entertainment and banquet features of the occasion were somewhat delayed, in honor of Master Mechanic Nicholson, recently assigned to Slaton division, who was present, as was Mrs. Nicholson and their two daughters.

EAST WARD P. T. A. IN LAST SESSION

The East Ward Parent-Teachers' association met in the last session of the year last Thursday at the East Ward building with the president, Mrs. W. H. Bowman, in charge of the meeting.

The meeting closed a very successful year's work, and plans for next year were discussed. The president expressed thanks for the co-operation the association has had this year and in hopes that a stronger organization may be built, although it is considered that this is the smallest ward school in the city.

An interesting program was given and enjoyed.

Mrs. Bowman has been president during the past year and was re-elected for a second term. She is an enthusiastic worker and it is her desire to encourage every patron of East Ward school to attend the meetings next year and get acquainted with the happenings of the school which their children are attending.

SUMMER TIME VACATION TIME

Everyone out into the open—Let's be off! To the links—to the courts—to the beaches—to the woods and the winding trails! We're all a-tingle with the good old summertime.

Going places, doing things—that's what the summer's for. Sun, wind, blossoms, starlight—soak them all up, they're summer's gracious gift to you—don't miss one single shining hour.

It is here. Are you glad? Are you sorry?

There are arguments both pro and con. For the person who can go to some delightful summer resort, is of course glad. While it is rather disagreeable for us poor folks that have to stay at home and wonder what we did with our winter earnings, we were not thinking of the hot weather then.

We all have something to be thankful for though, even if we can not take a trip to some distant place for several weeks, you know it is a rather nice thing to enjoy home and just spend awhile enjoying the real pleasures of home life.

It is most certain that every wife can find enough around the home for friend husband to keep his vacationing time occupied, and you will have to agree that that is something different and isn't that what a vacation is supposed to be.

Let us suggest a trip to Carlsbad Cavern, which is so close and it is really a world wonder and something that you would not see if you went to Colorado or California. You would enjoy it even if you have seen it before, because they are opening new rooms all the time.

People from all over the world are visiting this cavern. There is no doubt but what every state in the union will be represented at this sight-seeing wonder before the summer is over.

To the human eye it seems almost an unreal wonder. And when going through this gift which is a piece of God's handy work, you will probably stop and wonder if you are asleep, and only dreaming of such a beautiful place, you imagine you are in the king's palace.

IT IS TIME FOR PICNICING

What is nicer after a hot day in the office or at home than a delightful picnic? And it is that time of the year.

Prepare a few sandwiches, gather up the children and the bathing suits, and be off. You will surely feel refreshed.

It is a fact that women like to fish too, the men folks can not have the monopoly of that sport, even though the women probably can not think of such big—(well you know what) as can the men, but they can take a little "dip" now and then just as proficiently as can the opposite sex take a "chew." And spit on the bait, I should say.

But oh, what fun is an all-day picnic and fishing.

But that is not what makes a fishing trip it is just being out in the open and getting a nice sun-tan complexion and enjoying a day of leisure.

There are some that like to go out for a week or so and lay round on the bank waiting for the slimy food to bite, and also waiting for the "Chigger" to take his bite.

HOW ARE THE FLOWERS?

It is a fact that the freeze did not get them all.

The roses are bursting into bloom and the phloxes and petunias are really "Strutting" in full bloom. But they are all pretty and add to making Slaton the flower garden of West Texas.

And the honeysuckle vines are coming out nicely when they did look like they were killed.

Although the recent hail did considerable damage it is hoped that the flowers will come out all right.

SUNLIGHT

Every scientist knows that the energy of the light rays from the sun, striking the earth, amounts to many million times the amount of energy developed by all the power plants in the world. Means of capturing this solar energy has long been discussed. Now Dr. Bruno Lange, of Berlin, has found a method of converting this sun energy into mechanical power. Sunlight striking a new type of photo-electric cell sets up an electric current which will turn a motor.

All that remains to be done to make the sun run all of the world's machines is to find a way of doing it cheaply enough. At present the cost of the apparatus is about two hundred and fifty times as much per unit of power generated as a modern steam or hydro-electric plant, but some day it will be cheaper than water power.

TIGER EYE

By D. M. Power

EIGHTH INSTALLMENT

Bob Reeves, the Kid, was nicknamed Tiger Eye by his friends down in the Brazos country because his "gun-eye" was yellow. When his father, "Killer Reeves" died the Kid left Texas to avoid continuing his father's feuds. Reaching Montana he is forced to draw on Nate Wheeler, an irate nester. In the exchange of shots, Wheeler drops dead, the Kid later learning that Babe Garner who had also shot at the same time, really killed Wheeler.

Garner gets the Kid to join the Poole outfit as a rim rider. The Kid succors Wheeler's widow and is interrupted by Pete Gorham and some other nesters. He shoots Gorham through both ears for coupling his name with Wheeler's widow. Later he rescues a girl, Nellie, and her dad from Gorham, wounding Pete again. The girl, in spite of her belief the Kid is an imported Texas killer, warns him the nesters will kill him. The Kid warns Garner the nesters are planning an attack on the Poole outfit. He meets Jess Markel, a Texan who is boss of the Poole wagon crew.

That night the Kid shoots Markel through both hands when the latter attempts to kill him for being the son of Killer Reeves. The rest of the gang approves of the Kid's action. While near Nellie's home he hears the crack of a rifle and finds her dad has been shot from ambush and helps to carry the dead man into his house. On leaving the nester's cabin the kid examines the slayers tracks and finds a match, broken like the ones Babe discards. He returns home and Babe sees he thinks he is the one who killed the old man. Just then the foreman arrives and eats with them, preventing a show-down for a time. As the foreman finishes his coffee he breaks a match in the same way Babe does. The Kid blushes and looks forgivingly at Babe.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"That feller that shot old Murray down in the valley; yuh say he left in match stubs where he waited, Tiger Eye? Can't go much by that. Lots of fellers in a grass country break their match stubs in two before they throw 'em away. Less danger of re."

"Yo'all plumb shoah ole Pappy Murray wah a cow thief, Babe?"

"Shore he was! Why hell, I told yuh a thousand times, Tiger Eye, there ain't a honest man in the hull valley. Not a one. Say, how'd you come to know he was shot, if you was off over on the river side of the Bench where I sent yuh?"

"Nevah did ride on to the river, Babe. Got right curious about something in the valley, so I taken a jog down off the Bench to see foh m'set."

"Poole riders'll be shot on sight down there. I told yuh that, Tiger Eye. You was takin' too big a chance."

"No biggah chance than some othah Poole ridah taken, goin' down to kill ole Pappy Murray."

"How'd you know it was a Poole rider? You didn't see 'im, did yuh?"

"No, suh, I nevah did see him."

"How'd you know ot was a Poole rider, then?"

Babe flung down his book and sat up, eyeing the kid sharply while he pulled tobacco and papers from his pocket. "Nesters ain't above dry-gulchin' each other if they've got a grudge, and layin' it to the Poole."

"Nestah wouldn't hit out foh the Bench aftah he done his killing."

"Which way'd he go when he hit the rim?"

"Kaint say, Babe. Plumb rocky along the rim."

Babe studied the kid for another ten seconds and gave a grunt that seemed to release a tension within his mind.

"You come into camp here, actin' like you thought I done it," he stated calmly, lighting a match with his thumb-nail and deliberately breaking the stub in two while the kid watched him with an unblinking steadiness in the stare of his yellow right eye.

"Nevah said I thought it, Babe."

"You looked it, when yuh come to camp."

"Kaint tell a thing by my looks, Babe. This yallah eye of mine is plumb deceiving, sometimes."

"What gets me, Tiger eye, is how you come to take it to heart the way you do. Ain't no bigger cow thief in the country than old Murray. He was bound to get his, sooner or later."

"Nless he was a p'ticular friend of yourn—"

"Nevah was no friend of mine, Babe."

"Well—they say he's got a good-lookin' girl. You seen her?"

"Wasn't no girl theah, Babe, when I rode along to the house. Heard a woman screaming and a-crying like my mammy cried when Pap was bush-whacked. Killahs don't think of the women, 'pears like."

"And as far as the women are concerned—" Babe rose from the bunk, hitching up his trousers belt as he sauntered over to the water bucket and lifted the dipper with a jangle of tin. "They got to take their chance same as the men. There's always women cryin' over some man. There always will be, as long as there's a man to cry over. What yuh goin' to do about it? A man can't set and roll his thumbs all his life, just so his woman won't have cause for tears. They bawl a lot—but they git over it."

"Reckon yo're right, Babe."

"Darn right, I'n. right. You've been so growed up and steady, far as I've seen, I shore never expected you'd get chicken hearted over a nester all at once."

"If every killah was fixed so he couldn't shoot a gun, theah wouldn't be no moah killing, Babe."

"I'd rather be dead than have my hands smashed the way you smashed Jess Markel's. So would any man that was a man."

"I said killahs, Babe."

Babe shivered as if a cold wind had struck his bare flesh, but he didn't say again that he would rather be dead than crippled. The kid knew he thought it, though. The kid's eyebrows came together in a puzzled frown while he studied Babe at the window, peering out into the faint moonlight.

The kid had counted on Babe's friendship and his being square so a fellow could trust him. But if Babe had waited like a coyote among the rocks and had shot Nellie's old pappy in the back, he was just a mean, low-down killer and nobody could trust him. A man like that would shoot his best friend in the back if he took a notion.

The kid would have to be mighty certain it was Babe, though, before he would believe it. He'd want stronger proof than that broken match had been. It made him shiver to think how close he had come to shooting Babe just on the strength of a broken match. Now, he didn't believe it—but he couldn't put it out of his mind, either, and the vague distrust hurt like physical pain.

"Yuh don't want to let old lady Murray's cryin' worry yuh, Tiger Eye," Babe said abruptly, when they were pulling off their boots. "Best not to waste sympathy on a nester. They don't deserve no sympathy; man or woman, they're all tarred with the same stick. You're goin' to be valuable to the Poole, once you git over that sympathy of yourn for nester women. You got to cut that out or yur won't never git nowhere."

The kid did not answer that, and presently Babe's breath fell into the slow rhythm of sleep.

The kid's mind jarred back from deep dreaming and he opened one eye to see a yellow streak of sunlight on the cabin wall, high in a far corner behind the stove. By that he knew he had slept late. Usually they were ready to ride out along the rim when the sun showed above the mountains. Babe's side of the bed was empty, but there was no breakfast smell in the cabin and no crackling of fire in the stove. Gone to look after the horses, probably. Babe must have slept late, himself. Must have been Babe shutting the door that woke him.

The kid swung his feet to the floor and reached for his clothes. Babe would expect breakfast to be ready when he came back.

The kid started a fire in the stove, set a kettle of water over the blaze, and washed his face and neck and ears in the tin basin on the bench. He shoved another stick of wood into the stove, picked up the basin and pulled the door open, to fling the water out upon the ground.

The basin jerked spitefully in his hand, a round hole cut through its upper side where the water spurted through. From a clump of bushes over by the corral the bark of a rifle tardily followed the bullet. The kid let go the basin and dropped to his knees, then fell forward on his face and lay there with his arms stretched out in front of him.

The kid's fingers stretched slowly to their slender length, relaxed a little, stretched again, moved this way and that, until they encountered something which they clasped firmly the knuckles turned white. Babe's foot, Babe, lying there on his face, within a few feet of the door, shot down while the kid lay dreaming. It wasn't the shutting of the door—it was the rifle shot that woke the kid. Babe, shot in front of his door, just as Nellie's old pappy had been shot. Even at that moment, while the kid was taking a firmer grip of that limp foot, he wondered if Babe was only getting back what he gave old Murray.

The kid squirmed backward, dragging Babe by the foot. Slow. Back an inch or two, and wait a minute. Babe groaned at the third pull, and the kid's heart gave a flop and then raced for joy. Babe was alive yet. Something to pull for now.

"I'm draggin' yo'all inside the doah, Babe," he muttered, in a tone that would not carry beyond the wood-pile.

Babe did not answer except with another groan, but he pressed one hand hard on the ground and pushed backward when the kid pulled again, so the kid knew Babe heard and understood all right. The kid hurried after that. He wanted his body all inside the door as soon as possible, and with a last wriggle his tousled damp hair went in past the door jamb. Like a cat he was on his feet then and had Babe inside with one great yank and slammed the door shut.

Then he turned, picked Babe up in his arms and laid him on the bed.

"Damn coyotes — got me when I stepped outside," Babe gasped.

"That's what a killah always aims to do," the kid observed drily. "Always aims to down a man at his own doah."

Whether Babe caught the significance of that remark or not, he made no answer to it.

The kettle was boiling on the stove and the kid brought basin and clean dish towels and a bottle of carbolic acid and sat them on a box beside the bunk. He pulled off Babe's shirt and studied the round, purplish hole on Babe's right side just under the curve of his ribs.

Babe fainted, which left the kid free and unhampered in his crude surgery.

"I taken out the bullet, Babe," he said calmly, when Babe came back to consciousness. "Wasn't more'n two-three inches deep. Kaint figure it, lessen it come from ovah across the field. Nevah did come from the berry bushes, or it'd gone awn through. Two men out theah, I reckon."

"Two, yuh say?"

"Two, and likely moah."

"And me down! They'll git us, Tiger Eye."

"In a pig's eye."

"Git my rifle and—help me on my feet."

"Yo'all lay quiet. I taken charge today, Babe." The kid was loading Babe's rifle, and now he placed it on the table.

He turned his rifle upon the clump of bushes over by the corral.

Three shots carefully spaced brought a spiteful volley in reply.

"Pears like the nestahs are aimin' to take theah rev'enge for ole Pappy Murray," he remarked, as a steady stream of bullets came spitting viciously into the cagin. It worried Babe, who was beginning to talk feverishly.

"Kaint see any knuckles to bust, Babe."

The kid's face clouded as he pushed his rifle barrel through the hole between two logs, but his yellow right eye was as unblinking as a tiger's when it looked down along the sights. He caught a glimpse of a gray hat crown among the bushes beyond the spring. He didn't want to kill. Hat crown, head, shoulders below—the kid couldn't see the man he swiftly visioned, but he aimed where a shoulder should be and pulled the trigger.

There was a sudden and violent agitation of the bushes and a man went streaking it back towards his more discreet companions. The kid's finger bent again deliberately and the man's swinging right arm jerked upward and went limp at his side. The kid made sure of that before he withdrew the rifle from the hole and crossed the room to another.

"Git anybody?"

The kid did not answer at once.

"Taken the shoot outa one, Babe."

"J kill 'im?"

"Reckon not. Shot his arm down, peahs like."

"Shoot t' kill, why don't yuh?" Babe's voice was high and querulous. When he turned a strained look upon the kid, his eyes were glassy and had an anxious stare wholly unlike Babe Garner. "Damn their arms and shoulders! You can kill if you want to—anybody that can whirl and bust knuckles the way you busted Jess Markel's can put a bullet through a man's heart, if he wants to."
