Tigers Beat Ralls 31-0 for Sub-District Honors

District Battle for Grid Honors Here Thursday

After giving the Ralls Yellow Jackets a sound drubbing, 31 to 0, here Monday afternoon, the Slaton High Tigers were scheduled to meet the Littlefield High Wildcats on the Slaton grid on Thursday afternoon in the championship of District One.

Littlefield is winner of the north half of the district, and Slaton is the south half winner, having defeated Lamesa, Brownfield, Spur and Ralls in the last four games.

The game with Ralls Monday afternoon was made necessary because the Spur High school was suspended from the football conference because of playing ineligible members on the team. The district executive committee acted on the matter last Saturday, after which the state committee at Austin announced that Spur is suspended for the remainder of the present year and for the entire season of 1931. Games played by Spur this season have been thrown out, hence Slaton had to meet Ralls. Spur had defeated Ralls, 27 to 7, earlier this year.

Littlefield was expected to come here Thursday with a big delegation of fans, probably on a special train. Slaton was favored to win the battle, however.

The winner of this game will meet Dalhart or Memphis for the bi-district championship, those two elevens having survived all preliminary tests in District One. They were to play at Dalhart on Thursday.

Dispatches from the West Ward

By A WEST WARDER

West Ward pupils and teachers enjoyed a "left-handed" holiday on last Thursday. A large number of pupils and teachers saw the Slaton-Spur contest at Lubbock on that day.

A most interesting feature of the chapel program of Junior high this year have been the one and two-act plays. All the plays have been well coached and the students have carried out their assignments in a natural manner. Quite a number of the pupils have shown talent of a high order in a dramatic way. Mrs. Fry's room, Mrs. Oliver's, and Miss Hood's rooms were the latest rooms to treat the school to a high class chapel program.

For the next several weeks the ministers of Slaton, business men of the town and other interesting speakers will be asked to speak at chapel. The students will listen for a time thinking that quite a great deal will be learned just by listening.

The pupils and teachers sure appreciate the two days Thanksgiving, and the West Ward teachers and students will show their appreciation by working real hard when they come back to school.

The West Ward Parent-Teacher association are sure our friends. They are so helpful. They work and think, and put on plays to make money for us. When the time comes to visit us we feel like friends are with us and we always try to be courteous and pleasant to them.

In fact, we West Warders have so many things to be thankful for. We have more friends than anybody. It seems we have such a good time playing on the playground with the equipment the P-T-A. bought us.

The teachers are out with us to referee the games. All of the students have found congenial groups to play with. The teachers are considerate and helpful. So we West Warders just want to tell the world that we are thankful for our town and school, our school board, our superintendent, our principal, and teachers, and we are thankful for our homes, for our fathers and mothers, and whether we have turkey for dinner or not we reverently thank our Heavenly Father for all the good things that have come our way and for all the bad things that missed us.

A number of fine pupils have come to us recently from other schools. We

Legion Meetings On Friday Night

Meetings of the local American Legion Post and the Legion Auxiliary will be held on Friday night at the Slaton clubhouse, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, officers of those two organizations have announced.

Reports will be heard at these meetings relative to progress of membership campaigns which began recently. The Legion Post's annual campaign will close on December 1, and that of the Auxiliary is scheduled to end on Friday night when the meeting is held.

Due to the importance of business to be considered, a special request that all members attend the meetings on Friday night was issued this week by officers of the two bodies.

Ginnings Reach Total of 2,883 Bales for City

Slaton's cotton ginning total for this season stood at 2,883 bales last Saturday when a checkup was made of the five gins that are operating this season. Posey, Union and McCang gins were not included.

Ginnings estimated that the crop is now about 85 to 90 per cent harvested in this immediate section.

High winds have caused the cotton to blow out on the ground and become very dirty during the past two weeks, and cotton now being ginned is lower grade than it was earlier in the season, it is stated.

The total ginnings for the county now amount to about 28,000 bales.

Thanksgiving Is Theme of Rotary Program Friday

The Slaton Rotary club had a Thanksgiving Day program at its luncheon meeting last Friday.

J. T. Pinkston told of "The Origin and History of Thanksgiving Day," and W. F. "Billy" Ferguson spoke on "The Value to the Individual and to the Nation of Observing Thanksgiving."

The club joined in singing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" at the opening of the program. Dr. Paul W. Horn, of Lubbock, was a guest at the meeting and spoke very briefly near the close of the program. There were several other visitors present, also.

A community service program will be held on Friday of this week. The principal feature of the meeting will be an address by W. H. "Bill" Smith, past president of the club, who will discuss the subject, "The Real Function of This Rotary Club in Community Affairs."

DUPONT

Although related to one of the richest families in the world, T. Coleman Du Pont started in life with nothing but his bare hands and a keen mind. He worked as a coal miner, with pick and shovel, in a coal mine which he later owned. He loved to build, but cared little for the thing he had built after it was done. When the Du Pont powder industry was dying of rot and his cousins, who owned it, wanted to sell out, Coleman Du Pont offered to take hold and see what he could do. He built the business up into one of the most important industrial corporations in the world, and then retired to do something else.

A great American passed away when Coleman Du Pont died at the age of 66.

He has given them a hearty welcome and we assure them that we hope they will like us, and be happy and contented in the West Ward family. The following are the new students: Alice Rawlings, Big Spring; Lois and Leila Crouch, New Home; Howard Turney, Fort Smith, Ark.; Ona Hopson, Lubbock; Mollie Reed, Slaton; and Jack Edwards, Elvasville.

We will tell you what we did for Thanksgiving next time.

Texas Panhandle-Plains Poultry Show Directors Met On Tuesday

Final plans for the first annual Texas Panhandle-Plains Poultry show to be held here on December 10, 11 and 12, 1930, were endorsed here Tuesday at a meeting of the board of directors of the poultry association. The meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce office in the city hall.

Included among those attending were: Taylor White, Tahoka, president; R. B. Davis and J. E. Bowman, Plainview; Knox Parr and George

Samson, Post; W. T. Magee, Levelland; E. E. Young, Ralls; Joe E. McDuff, Crosbyton; D. F. Eaton, Lubbock; and E. L. Hicks and L. A. Wilson, Slaton.

President White and other members of the board said they estimated that 1,000 or more birds will be shown at the regional exposition here, and that virtually all of the 54 counties will be represented with exhibits and visitors.

MERCY HOSPITAL IS BLESSING TO SLATON AND COMMUNITY

One year ago Wednesday afternoon, November 27, the Right Reverend Monsignor Robert Nolan, of Fort Worth, assisted by the Very Reverend Thomas D. O'Brien, in charge of St. Joseph's parish, Slaton, and other clergy of the diocese, dedicated our Mercy Hospital. Bishop Gerken of Amarillo, was unable to attend the dedication, having been called to Dubuque, Iowa, to attend the burial of his mother.

One year ago the Slatonite made the statement "Mercy Hospital A Blessing To Slaton and Community." We reiterate this statement at this time, that Mercy Hospital is a blessing, and none can deny the statement of the wonderful work being carried on by the good Sisters of Mercy. December 1 was the date for the first patient to be admitted. In one year there has been admitted to their care 391 patients, from among this number but four passed on at the hospital. This is a marvelous record of achievement and marks well the infinite care given patients who are admitted to Mercy's tender keeping. The skill of the surgeons is manifest and they are so ably assisted by the Sisters. Sister Cecelia, who always radiates sunshine and is in charge, is incessant in her duties and good cheer. Her thought for the sick and afflicted is a wonderful stimuli to those who come under her care.

While Mercy Hospital has given so much to those who have been unable to meet the demands, and the charity patients have been many, these good folks just cannot see humanity suffer, if it is possible for them to assist in their alleviation, for they are true exponents of "Mercy." What a wonderful thing to dedicate ones life too.

Slaton is proud that we have this institution in our midst. When we recount that 391 patients have passed through its doors we know that confidence is bestowed upon those in charge. Mercy hospital has a wonderful equipment. We wish that every one in Slaton would visit it and be shown through.

In making a visit to Mercy hospital Tuesday afternoon we were able to see what counts in perfect equipment. Through the courtesy of Sister Cecelia, we visited the nursery and there we found the electric incubator performing its wonderful function. The little baby boy of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Kessel was receiving the care so necessary for its growth. The little boy came through a caesarian operation, weighing 3 pounds and 14 ounces, and is making good progress. The little fellow stretches and grows. There has been three caesarian operations and all successful.

Many major operations have taken place in Mercy. We were permitted to examine a growth, that one wonders how it could happen. It was an ovarian cyst and when removed it weighed 33 pounds. The woman from whom it was removed weighed 132 pounds and after the operation she weighed only 99 pounds. There is another there weighing 161-2 pounds. These can be seen if you care to make a visit to the hospital.

We wonder if Slaton has anything to be thankful for. We answer Yes! Mercy Hospital. Let an earnest prayer be said for its continuance and successful care of the afflicted that seek its shelter. This is Thanksgiving time. Let us all be thankful.

Three One-Act Plays Over Big

The triplets, Mildred Rucker, Mildred Swafford and Murrel Wicker, gave the fans a run for their money. The three one-act plays were fine and we have the talent in the high school.

The triplets were out to do a good turn and they did. Just how much they were able to turn to the Tigers Cage we are not advised, but we hope a plenty.

With the talent displayed by these young folk, in all three acts, makes one think not only that they should be supported in all their undertakings, but in the future our plays could be given by the personnel of the school, thereby keeping all the money at home.

We hope that we shall see and hear them again before the close of school. You triplets are to be commended for your good thoughts and actions in helping the Tigers Cage.

Football Passes Null for Turkey Day Game Here

All persons holding football passes will not be admitted to the game on Thursday between Slaton and Littlefield on the passes, as Littlefield is prohibiting same.

The game will be played on a fifty-five basis and on account of not causing hard feelings with Littlefield the persons holding passes are kindly asked not to present them for admittance to the game Thursday.

A small admission charge of 50c and 75c will be charged to all. Signed: L. T. Green, Superintendent.

THE WEATHER

G. H. Orr, weather observer, states we have had several snappy mornings. Two found the temperature at 24, one at 28. Not so bad for the Plains. We have had a little wind and dust, but we all keep smiling.

By the way, the sun is shining. They are having a touch of real winter up north, blizzards and mighty cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Swint and Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Swint and baby left Sunday for Paducah in response to a message that the Mr. Swint's father was seriously ill in that city. No recent news has been received.

Small Crowd Witnessed One-Sided Affair; Score 31-0

The battling warriors from Ralls, over in Crosby county, made a visit to the Tigers lair. The Ralls eleven was winner in their sub-district and it was necessary that they be eliminated so that the Tigers might be able to meet Littlefield Turkey day. The favor was bestowed on the Tigers, and they were winners by a score of 31 to 0. The Ralls eleven was a sturdy bunch of lads, and played a mighty good game giving the Tigers plenty to do. We are proud to have this kind of teams visit Slaton. They put up a wonderful fight but the odds were against the Ralls boys.

Coach Wright gave ten men of the second team squad a work-out and they did fine being able to make two touchdowns before the season ended. That second squad worked fine, with indications that they are coming. At times the Yellow Jackets got their stinger out but they could not land the coveted goal.

The day was chilly and being Monday, there was not a very large crowd from Ralls, but enough to make said of Slaton, but enough to urge the team to their best.

We understand in the past three games played by the Yellow Jackets that three of their men had the misfortune to break collar bones. This doubtless was distressing to them.

The high spots of the game: First downs: Ralls, 4; Slaton, 22. Penalties: Ralls, three for 15 yards; Slaton, five for 35 yards. Score: Slaton, 31; Ralls, 0.

Now for the game with Littlefield. The noted Jack Rabbits. This will be a battle royal and who will be the winner. You tell.

HACKBERRY MAN BURIED IN SOUTHLAND SUNDAY

S. S. Smith, aged 42 years, died Saturday morning about 8 o'clock at the family home in the Hackberry community, following a severe case of tonsillitis which resulted in abscess and blood poison.

Funeral services were conducted from the Church of Christ at Southland with the pastor, Rev. Loftin, in charge.

Burial was made in the Southland cemetery with the Masons of the Slaton and Southland orders in charge at the grave.

The deceased was a farmer in the Hackberry community, having moved there about one year previous from Poolville, Parker county where he was reared. He is survived by a wife and four children.

Two brothers of the deceased from Poolville and the parents of Mrs. Smith also from Poolville were here for the funeral services.

FOSTER ITEMS

Miss Ruby Lee Hitt spent Saturday night with Miss Mildred Alexander. Lattie Payne and Miss Beulah Mae Payne were married Thursday afternoon at Lubbock.

Miss Raye Alexander spent Saturday night at Lubbock with her sister, Mrs. Ethel Belew.

The Foster boys played Hurlwood at Shallowater. Score was 9 to 2 in favor of Foster. The girls played Smyer on the Shallowater court and with won by a 11-2 score.

The Foster club met with Mrs. Montgomery Tuesday afternoon. The county home demonstration agent, Miss Ruth Stockton, and the assistant state demonstration agent. The following members were present: Mrs. John Alexander, Mrs. Robbins, Mrs. Robbie Dobson, Mrs. Ballard, Mrs. Gamble, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Self and Mrs. Moore.

Misses Mildred and Helen Alexander spent Sunday afternoon in the Hitt home.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Belew and family, of Lubbock, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Alexander and family.

Cradle of Learning

For 149 years have readin', writin', and 'rithmetic been taught in this modest little log cabin at Mt. Lebanon, Pa., western Pennsylvania's oldest school structure. It was moved to Mt. Lebanon park from Beadling, and dedicated Armistice Day.

RECIPE FOR MAKING A MILLION

A friend of mine who is still under thirty-five has made a fortune, and I asked him how he did it.

"I've been to your office several times," I said, "but you seem seldom to be there."

"No, I don't go to the office every day," he answered. "A good deal of the time I just sit and look out the window and think."

"When I make a decision I go out and put it into effect, and a little more than half the time I have had the good luck to be right. When I find I have made a mistake, I sit down and say: 'Now what did I do wrong? Were my facts inaccurate, or did I draw bad conclusions? How am I going to avoid that same mistake again?'"

I knew another man who owned a small but profitable business. He was methodical in his habits. On a certain day of each month he stayed away from the office, and everybody in his employ knew that the old man was "thinking." From breakfast time until sundown on such a day he would sit before an open fire or on an open porch, without pen or pencil or paper, records or reports, and quietly think.

He attributed his modest success to this unvarying habit.

Henry Ford remarked to me once that "thinking is the hardest job there is," and added that he could get plenty of doers but not enough thinkers.

Most of us know from our own limited experience that thinking is hard, and we have insulated ourselves against it by a restless and noisy environment.

We are afraid to be found in a small audience, terribly afraid to be alone. Our willingness to take trips, or to retire, is not dictated so much by loyalty to the job as it is by the haunting fear that, removed from the protecting clatter of daily activity, we shall have "too much time to think."

Emerson tells the story of "a man who on his death-bed called to him his profligate son and left him large possessions, only exacting of him the promise to spend an hour every day alone. The son kept his word and became a wise and good man."

In another passage Emerson remarks that "the gods and the wild beasts are both found of solitude; thought makes the difference between the solitude of the gods and that of the lion."

Solitude and thought are responsible for the considerable fortune of the young friend whom I quoted at the beginning. I pass on his recipe free to all. I have not been able to apply it myself.

What makes you order ice cream for the first course and soup for the last?

Well, my stomach is upset, so I eat my meals backwards.

at the movies

For the week beginning Friday, the 28th, we have the feature attractions following:

"Last of the Duanes," Fox Movie-tone romantic and thrilling drama of the great Southwest, adapted from Zane Grey's widely read novel, played against the picturesque and beautiful background of interior Arizona, will open at the Palace for two days commencing Friday.

George O'Brien, popular leading man of the screen is the heroic Buck Duane and Lucille Browne, beautiful blonde fresh from Broadway stage triumphs is the lady of his heart.

Now, Harold Lloyd, monarch of mirth, gives you a lavish comedy production. With the bulk of its hilarious action actually taking place on an ocean liner bound from Hawaii. Harold as a shoe clerk pursuing a beautiful girl from Waikiki to thrills in San Francisco. Barbara Kent, his leading woman in "Welcome Danger," is again the heroine in "Feet First" coming to the Palace for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, November 30, December 1 and 2.

When you take two such able funny men as Charlie Ruggles and Frank Morgan and put them in a play with the hilarious possibilities which "Queen High" provides, you need nothing more for an evening, or afternoon or morning for that matter, of first class entertainment.

Paramount has taken just those ingredients and a whole bagful more, in filmicating the explosion of laughs that is "Queen High" at the Palace on Wednesday, and Thursday.

There are several catchy melodies in the production. "It Seems To Me" and "I'm Afraid of You," sung by Stanley Smith and Ginger Rogers, seem to be the outstanding love songs.

Coming Soon! Jack London's "The Sea Wolf," with Milton Sills as "Wolf Larsen."

MEXICAN BURIED HERE SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services for A. L. Molina, age 53 years, Mexican, were conducted from the St. Joseph's Catholic church Saturday afternoon at four o'clock with the Reverend Father Thos. D. O'Brien, in charge.

The deceased met with foul play Friday night and was found in a ditch in Lubbock where he had evidently been knocked in the head. He was brought to the Mercy hospital. He formerly lived in Slaton but had been away for several years. However his family were still here.

Burial was made in the Englewood cemetery.

Wichita Woman Suffered Years

"Since Taking Argotane I Feel Like A New Woman," Says Mrs. Clack

"I've looked for a long time for a medicine that would do for me, what Argotane did," said Mrs. Lizzie Clack, residing at 212 Scott, Wichita Falls, while talking with the Argotane representative.

"For several years I have been in a terrible condition and I suffered from stomach and digestive trouble. I had a very severe chronic case of stomach trouble. Everything I ate, soured on my stomach which caused gas to form, and I couldn't eat because it hurt me so. I lost strength and energy all the time and grew gradually worse. I was operated on several years ago, and had a severe pain in my back. I heard so much about Argotane and read about it in the local papers, I decided to try it."

"I feel like a new woman now, and will be able to go back to work within a few days, if I continue taking Argotane, which I will. My stomach trouble doesn't bother me as it did, the pain in my back has disappeared, and I eat anything I want now. I was sort of skeptical about Argotane, for I had taken too many different medicines and treatments, but it was a lucky day for me that I bought it. I am certainly pleased with the results I have derived. Before taking Argotane I had just given up of ever doing my work, for I wasn't able but Argotane has helped me so much I am going back to work within a few days, and yes, I am glad to recommend it after what it has done for me."

TEXAS BANKS ARE IN GOOD CONDITION

James Shaw, state banking commissioner, in his latest report, advises of the "good condition" of the Texas banks. He states that the banks are not likely to feel depressed to any extent. He reports the banks sound despite failures in other sections of the country. Mr. Shaw states that Texas bankers the past several years, have been purging their discounts of doubtful assets and in this respect they have been generally successful. Mr. Shaw further states that $15,000,000 had been removed from Texas banks the last three and one half years.

Also that Texas banks were "prepared for the strain and are in a strong condition." He expressed the opinion that banks get into trouble in good times through unwise granting of credit and these troubles show up when hard times hit. Taking it all in all, Texans should be proud of their financial institutions.

Hoover Speaks of Tuberculosis Seals

President Hoover has the following to say in regard to the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale: "The Christmas Seals of the National Tuberculosis Association which are sold at Christmas time every year provide funds for one of the most valuable of all services to mankind in helping to prevent and destroy a disease which threatens millions of homes and weakens millions of the children and youth of the Nation. I recommend this yearly campaign to all our people."

The Texas Tuberculosis association is conducting the sale of Tuberculosis Seals throughout Texas and they are the only means of financing the fight against the great white plague. Although the deaths from tuberculosis have been more than cut in half during the past 25 years but between the ages of 15 to 40, tuberculosis is still the leading cause of death. The work of the Texas association will be concentrated on this age group and the children.

Tuberculosis does not recognize any economic conditions and at times such as we are now having it is imperative that the sale should increase in order that the Texas Tuberculosis association and its local associations may take care of the increased number of calls they are receiving.

Dallas Man Tells How New Medicine Ended Nervousness and Kidney Trouble

MR. ANDREW LORTON

"My system was in a very rundown condition due to nervousness and kidney trouble," said Mr. Andrew Lorton, 2420 1-2 Elm street, Dallas. "My nerves were in such a condition that I could not sleep at night. My kidneys were very weak and I had dull pains across my back. I was forced to rise several times a night."

"A friend urged me to take Konjola. I am thankful I took his advice because Konjola drove all pains from my back. I feel much better and am entirely out of misery, which I had for the past year. Konjola put my kidneys in a healthy condition and they are functioning properly. I am only too glad to praise this famed Konjola to other people who suffer as I did."

Konjola contains no alcohol, no nerve-deadening drugs, no heart-depressing chemicals. It needs no such hazardous ingredients its seeming wonders to perform.

Konjola is sold in Slaton, Texas, at the Red Cross Pharmacy, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

A nice talk was enjoyed from the pastor of the First Methodist church, Rev. I. A. Smith, who told them how he had enjoyed his first year's work with the class and what he expected of them this year.

The main talk of the evening was given by Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Tech, Lubbock. It was greatly enjoyed by everyone. His subject was, "What It Takes To Make a Successful Sunday School Class." During his talk, and since, the members of the class have tried to measure themselves and see if they could meet the qualification for a good Sunday school class and they have found that they are are wanting in several points.

Following Dr. Horn's talk the class was dismissed by Rev. Mr. Smith with a short prayer.

THINGS ARE LOOKING UP

From what we hear from different parts of the United States, it is New York City that is deepest in the slough of despond right now, while in almost every other section the sunshine is beginning to shine through the clouds of business depression.

It has been a tough year; there is no denying that. What with the financial slump that began more than a year ago, and this year's widespread drought, and the tumble in the price of wheat and cotton, and the shutting down of factories, we haven't been through such a "hard times" year since 1921. But it has its compensations, by comparison with previous similar conditions. Commodity prices have not gone up but have come down. Most of those thrown out of work had something ahead to tide them over.

The main thing the matter with the country right now is timidity. The head of a big bank said the other day: "Our bank has more money in it right now than it ever had, but where is it? It is mostly in time deposits, drawing interest, or in savings accounts. People are hoarding instead of spending. If everybody would spend even ten per cent of what they have saved up, it would start the wheels of industry going again speedily."

And we hear that the "Buy Now" movement, which started a few weeks ago, has spread around the country and that people everywhere are beginning to take dimes out of the savings accounts and the dollars out of checking accounts and buy the commodities which are for sale everywhere at bargain prices.

This is going to be an "useful" Christmas, from all indications. People generally are planning to give as Christmas gifts things which are not merely ornamental or luxurious, but such useful presents as new things for the home. That is all to the good, for it puts money into circulating channels where it is most needed.

Some smart fellow proposed a few weeks ago that everybody ought to spend ten cents a day that he had not intended to spend. That sounded foolish to some, but a lot of people have taken it up, and the accumulation of dimes thus started on their merry way is beginning to show its effect.

"Big money" is not timid. One large financial house announced the other day that it had clients ready to invest anything from a million dollars upward. They didn't want to bother with trifles less than a million, but they would buy into anything profitable in million-dollar units. The ones who are holding back are the ordinary folks like us. But if we believe in the future of the United States we can prove our faith by beginning again to spend our money for necessities and a little bit more, and when we are all doing that the "hard times" will be over.

COOPERATION FOR THE SMALL FARMER

Most of the public discussion of the Federal Farm Board and its work thus far has centered around the problems of the large-scale grower of staple crops and livestock. The small farmer, growing a few potatoes, several different kinds of other vegetables, marketing a few cases of eggs, a small amount of fruits, must have wondered, if he thought about it at all, where he fits into the new scheme of things.

How can the small general farmer get the benefit of the cooperative marketing plan on which the Farm Board is based? Is there anything in it at all for him?

Naturally, the Farm Board began with the largest and most pressing problems. It is getting down to the small grower now, and the work of organizing these small farmers into local commodity cooperatives is beginning. It is going to take a lot of time, and there are doubtless many farmers whose operations and locations will not enable them to join with their neighbors in organizing marketing associations. But those who can and will do so are the ones who will get the most good out of the new system.

For the information of farmers interested in the marketing of fruits and vegetables the Board has issued a pamphlet of instruction for organization. It is called "Bulletin Number One," and will be sent free to anybody who writes for a copy to the Director of Information, Federal Farm Board, Washington, D. C.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE COUNTRY?

One of the most amazing statements made at the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection is that city children, on the average, enjoy better health than country children.

That is reversing the accepted idea of the benefits of rural surroundings, outdoor life and fresh air. But the report is a specific one, the result of an extensive survey of health conditions among school children.

"Rural school children have from one-half to 20 per cent more physical defects than the city school children," says the report. "The rural child gets a one-sided physical development. He lacks the medical care and health service facilities that the city child is offered."

Not all city children are perfect physical specimens, however. More than 70 per cent of all children in the public schools, city and country, are sufferers from physical defects that affect their mental as well as their physical developments, according to the same report.

Standing alone, that sounds as if the rising generation was up against a pretty tough struggle for existence. But compared with only fifty years ago, when only one child out of three born ever lived to school age, we are doing pretty well by the children. And when every community, city or rural, pays as much attention to public health as the big cities do now, the ones who will benefit most will be the school children.

ENTHUSIASM

If you want to see American enthusiasm at its height attend a big football game of some famous college or a dandy high school, like Slaton. It is hard to find anywhere else such a colorful picture and considering the noise, a more "hollerful" one. One finds there happiness, and the emotion of young America expressed to the limit. You feel a great surge of intense excitement as tens of thousands of hearts are keyed up to a high pitch with aspirations of victory for their favorites. It's a great scene. The soul of young America is there, and by the way the old soul as well, striving for aims it hold dear. It is in the main healthful and wholesome. Athletic success is something for which people may well strive, but if they get the idea it is more important than work or study, then they make a mistake.

We will let you answer the question as to "why there is not more enthusiasm put into the daily work of life?" We feel sure much could be learned from the football games that would be applicable to other phases of life. Get your dictionary down and look up the word enthusiasm.

 George Bernard Shaw, who has the clearest mind of any man in England introduced Professor Albert Einstein to a London audience the other night as "the man who has created a new universe." Eight men, each in his own time, has changed our conception of the universe, Shaw said. They are: Pythagoras, Ptolemy, Kepler, Copernicus, Aristotle, Galileo, Newton and Einstein.

Each of those scientists gave the world a new conception of natural laws. Each in turn proved that the others had been wrong, but each of them served the purpose of his times. Over a period of two thousand years man is gradually learning the truth about the world he lives in. A few hundred years from now some scientist, equipped with better measuring instruments than are available today, may prove that Einstein is wrong in his theory that a straight line is not the shortest distance between two points and that light travels in curves instead of in straight lines. But his theory will stand until somebody finds an unescapable fact which contradicts it.

That is the way scientific knowledge grows. Man probably will never know all the facts about the universe, but we are learning faster now than ever before.

building industry do this financing themselves. Contractors, supply manufacturers, dealers in building materials, architects, and labor are to take a part of their pay in junior mortgage certificates, to be paid off in installments. This plan will not reduce wages or profits, but generally adopted will make building operations independent of general financial conditions.

TAXES
 One of the things we are going to hear more about in the next two or three years is proposal for a Federal Sales Tax on all merchandise, or on a good many items. At present the government levies a sales tax on automobiles, corporation stock sales and some other things. A few states have tried the sales tax as a means of raising revenue. The gasoline sales tax is in general use, in almost all of the states, as everybody knows. New York levies a tax on the sale of stock. Advocates of the sales tax contend that it is the fairest of all forms of taxation, being based upon definite transactions in which money changes hands. Since the war many European countries have adopted it, and it ranks second only to the income tax as a revenue producer. Germany gets 15 per cent of her public funds from the sales tax. Belgium, France, Austria, and Czechoslovakia somewhat more.

Whether our Federal government ever tries it on a large scale or not the effort to pass a sales bill is likely to be made in the next Congress.

Educators Predict What the World Will Be Like in 1950

By CALEB JOHNSON

What will this world of ours be like twenty years from now?

I would hesitate to make any very definite predictions on my own authority. I have lived too long to look for any important changes in the course of twenty years. But the National Educational association, which numbers in its membership leading teachers of the schools of the whole United States, is not as cautious as I am.

The Educational association has compiled a list of things which will be different in 1950. Some of them, everybody will agree, are likely to come true. The rest are generally held to be desirable, but I think most of us will doubt that they will have come about in twenty years. But here is the list. Read it and form your own opinion. It is stimulating to thought, at any rate.

The Association divides its program for the future into "material" and "social" betterments.

First on the material side it predicts the general adoption in twenty years of a system of health and safety that will practically wipe out preventable accidents and contagious diseases. That would be wonderful, and it will come in time, but twenty years is a short time.

We shall have, by 1950, says the Association, a system of housing that will provide for the masses homes surrounded by beauty, privacy, quiet, sun, fresh air and play space. Undoubtedly there will be vigorous efforts made to achieve that end. Such efforts have been going on for a hundred years. Again, twenty years is too short a time in which to wipe out all of the remaining slums.

A flat telephone rate for the entire country at moderate cost is another of the things we may expect in 1950. I think this is more probable than the first two. So, too, is the predicted universal air travel at low cost. And we are making rapid strides toward item No. 5, which is a system of paved, beautiful highways which will connect every part of the nation.

There is much to be said in favor of the Association's ideal of the development of school buildings and playfields until they will exceed in nobility the architectural achievements of any other age. And some of the finest structures that have been built in the past twenty years in America are school buildings. But here, again, twenty years is a very short time.

Everybody will endorse the ideal set forth in the seventh item of the educator's program, the organization of business, industry and agriculture to minimize uncertainty and depression. Few will agree, however, that we are likely to have found the secret of the cause of business depressions by 1950, much less discovered the remedy and applied it generally.

We are making progress toward the next item, which is the perfection of the insurance system to give universal protection from disaster, unemployment and old age. How far we shall have got in twenty years I would hesitate to guess, but a long way farther than we are now, anyway.

In the matter of the extension of national, state and local parks to provide convenient recreation areas for all the people, I think we shall have come pretty close to the goal by 1950—yet "all" is a pretty big word. And when the Association anticipates the perfection of community and regional planning to give all, surroundings increasingly beautiful and favorable to the good life,—well, "perfection" is another big word.

The final item in the material program which the Association expects will be in effect by 1950 is the extension of the shorter working week and day so that there will be work for all. I think that is coming, but whether it will effect everybody by 1950 is still questionable.

Please do not think I am trying to ridicule or disparage the ideals of the National Educational association. Quite the contrary. I think the best thing that could happen to the United States would be for everybody in it to set up the program of material benefits which I have just outlined as something to aim at, and to join in every movement calculated to bring all or any of them about.

And I feel the same way about the social program, which the teachers say they expect to be in effect by 1950. It is a wonderful program but it won't come true in twenty years. It provides for hospitalization and medical care for all who need them, a quickened appreciation of the home as the center of personal growth and happiness, educational service free or at small cost for everybody, from infancy to old age, the multiplication of free public libraries, the achievement of a national standard of citizenship which will mean wholesome community life and clean government, the virtual abolishment of crime by the transfer to the preventive processes of the school and education the problems of conduct which the police, courts and prisons now seek to remedy when it is too late, higher ethical standards, greater development of the creative arts and a religious awakening which will grow in strength until most of our citizens will appreciate the importance of religion in the well-ordered daily life.

That is some program. It embodies about everything that social, econotime. One must respect the idealism of the National Educational association and admire the confidence of its members who believe that through education they are going to make all of it come true by 1950.

It will come true, if at all, by education, and by no other means. Education is, I firmly believe, the only solvent for the problems of humanity.

But that does not necessarily mean education in the schools as they are organized today. While the educators are at it, they might consider their own work and try to relate it a little closer to the life which their students will have to live if they make a success of living in a world which is still quite a bit short of perfect.

THE NEW CHEVROLET SIX HAS MANY IMPROVEMENTS

The introduction of the new Chevrolet Six marks the most impressive forward step in Chevrolet's twenty-year record of constant progress and improvement.

For this Bigger and Better Six offers new beauty of line and color, new luxury, new completeness and new quality—yet it sells at lower prices!

In every curve and sweep of Chevrolet's modern lines—in every detail of its smart new Fisher bodies, you will see the fine hand of the master designer and the skillful craftsman. And the more closely you inspect it, the more deeply impressed you will be.

The improvements in the new Chevrolet Six begin at the smart new chrome-plated headlamps and extend throughout the entire car. The radiator is deeper and unusually efficient. Due to the increased wheelbase, the lines are longer and lower, giving an air of exceptional fleetness and grace. And the new Fisher bodies combine with this more attractive exterior appearance, a new degree of interior luxury.

The upholstery is of fine quality mohair or broadcloth, carefully tailored and fitted. The number of individual springs in the rear seat cushions has been increased by 25%. The windshield and windows have been redesigned to provide wider vision. And all interior fittings have been made more pleasing to the eye.

The chassis of the new Chevrolet Six has also been refined and advanced in a number of different ways. The frame is heavier, deeper and stronger than before. There is a smoother operating, long lived clutch; a sturdier front axle; an entirely new steering mechanism of the worm and sector type; an easier shifting transmission. In fact, every vital feature of the new car has been made better and more satisfactory to the owner.

Obviously, these many improvements are responsible for a higher standard of quality than before. And they become doubly significant when you consider that they are offered in a car which provides the smooth, quiet, flexible performance of a 50-horsepower, six-cylinder motor—the comfort of four long semi-elliptic springs and four hydraulic shock absorbers—the safety of a gasoline tank at the rear of the car—and an economy of operation not surpassed by any automobile.

» AT NEW LOW PRICES «

Fine as it is, the new Chevrolet Six now sells at lower prices—making the economy and satisfaction of Chevrolet ownership even more outstanding. We urge you to come in and see the Bigger and Better Chevrolet. Its modern design reflects the spirit of the times—and it represents a value which will command the interest of every buyer in the low-price field.
