

Free Advertising For The Farmer-Stockman

To assist in stimulating buying, selling and trading among Slaton territory farmers and stockmen, and to offer additional encouragement for trades day activities, the Slatonite is offering free advertising space to our rural people.

Read our offer in a half-page advertisement elsewhere in this issue, and do not fail to take advantage of our columns. We are at your service and offering you a means of equipping your farm just as you would have it.

If you have a one-row lister you would like to trade for a two-row machine, let us know about it. If you want to trade some of your fine Rhode Island Reds for some of your neighbors Wyandottes, write or phone the Slatonite. Then be in Slaton next regular trades day with your tools or stock advertised.

There will be a large piece of ground set aside for this trading, buying and selling, according to Secretary Ross, of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, and he insists that all farmers take advantage of this opportunity.

Begin now with your advertising, and make arrangements to be in town on trades day, and wear your trading clothes. Farmers will search this trades day column, looking for something they need. You may have just what they want.

Remember, it's free.

CUSTER THEATRE HAS GOOD TRADES DAY CROWDS

Each of the three shows at the Custer Theatre last Monday afternoon was attended by a large crowd, and all attending seemed to have enjoyed the program. These shows were free to everybody, the entertainment being with the compliments of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce.

Big Programs Booked For Both Play Houses

In looking over some press sheets at the Custer Theatre this week, we notice Mr. Custer has booked for his theatre and the Airdome, some exceptionally big productions, which will be shown within the next few days.

At the Airdome for Friday and Saturday this week, Custer has booked a Franklin, bubbling draught of entertainment—it fizzes and foams with glee, love and laughs, when Johnny Hines features in "The Early Bird." On Monday and Tuesday at the Airdome he has the big Broadway Stage success—the story of a wife who was saved from folly by great love. This story features Corinne Griffith and Conway Tearle in "Lillies of the Field."

At the Custer Theatre Friday and Saturday William Fox will present Tom Mix and Toney, the wonder horse in "The Deadwood Coach." Tom Mix admirers and admirers of his fine horse will be glad to know of this program.

On Wednesday and Thursday of next week, at the Custer Theatre, we will see Buster Keaton in "The Navigator," a sea story that will twist you into sailors' knots of laughter.

Mr. Custer announces a serial to start at the Theatre on Friday, May 15th. It's "Into the Net," a powerful story of detection. The first press sheet says, "Twenty beautiful society girl disappear without a trace. Where did they go?" This promises to be an interesting serial.

Uncle George Marriott returned Sunday from Shreveport, Louisiana, where he looked after the erection of a monument at the grave of Mrs. Marriott's father.

N. B. GUSTINE BUYS FURNITURE BUSINESS

N. B. Gustine, formerly in the baking business in Slaton, has purchased a furniture business in Littlefield, and is making arrangements to move there and take immediate charge. Mr. Gustine, in company with Dr. E. C. Foster, was in Littlefield Monday, when he closed the deal for the business.

SANTA FE ENTERTAINMENT FOR SUNDAY EVENING

The Indiana Concert Company that appeared at the city hall last Saturday evening for the benefit of Santa Fe employes and their families, was one of the best companies Superintendent Busser has sent to Slaton. A good house and good order prevailed.

Next Sunday evening at 8:30, at the High School auditorium, Supt. Busser will send a company from Los Angeles, known as the Santa Fe Radio Special. There are six artists in this company.

This will be the last company to appear this season. I have asked the ministers of the various churches to hold their meetings early in order to give the employes a chance to hear them and the musical the same evening.—Geo. Marriott.

CYPERT AND FRYE HELP IN C. OF C. ADVERTISING

Last Friday afternoon L. R. Cypert, of the Gates Dry Goods Company, and Mr. Frye, of the Frye Filling Station, drove over to the several communities across the Canyon and thoroughly distributed circulars advertising Slaton's first trades day. Messrs. Cypert and Frye donated this splendid service to the Chamber of Commerce and to our town.

GOOD CROWDS AT AIRDOME.

Although weather was unusually cool, the opening program at the Airdome Monday night was well attended. A good crowd attended also on the following Tuesday night, "Sundown" being the feature for these two occasions.

DR. J. C. HARDY

Dr. J. C. Hardy, president of Baylor College, of Belton, Texas, was in Slaton Sunday and Monday of this week. He spoke to a large audience Sunday evening at the Baptist Church, and on Monday morning Dr. Hardy met the school children at chapel, when he delivered a very interesting address.

RANKIN BABY MUCH BETTER.

The seven-months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rankin is reported to be much improved following a serious illness. It was necessary last Sunday to take the little fellow to a Lubbock sanitarium, but it was brought home Tuesday, after rapidly improving.

Mrs. M. S. Rankin, of Leonard, Texas, mother of Mr. Rankin is here on account of the baby's illness.

DAWSON COUNTY MAN BUYS IN SLATON

Saturday of last week, B. J. Hancock, who lives over in Dawson County, between O'Donnell and Lamesa, was in Slaton on business, and while here made substantial purchases of farm implements and farm machinery, according to a statement of his old-time friend, F. H. Lanham, manager of the Slaton Supply Company.

One of New York's Queer Streets

Tucked away in a remote corner of Greenwich village, New York city, is Minetta Lane, one of the streets of the past, which even the habitues of the village know little about. Its very air, the listless appearance of the street and houses, and, over all, the odors of southern Europe all impress the visitor to this New York "Sleepy Hollow."

Are The Slaton Schools Functioning?

Are the schools of Slaton meeting their obligations to the young men and women of the city?

All will agree that the question is entirely pertinent regarding the scholastics but many fail to see the propriety of the question as related to those out of school age.

With the large outlay of money and energy should we not hope, at least, that we may realize something in the influences of the school upon the whole community life.

What should be the meaning of the school to the young life in and out of school? What grip does it have upon their lives and ambitions? Is it opening up for them vistas of opportunity and is it inspiring them to enter into and possess their heritages?

In some communities we find the schools crowded with young men and women, industriously working out the plans of visions of the future.

These young people are happy in the work assigned and believe that it is leading them to definite results. They apparently have found themselves in power, capacities and adaptations. Many have declared for certain lines of service in the future. They are gaining self control and self confidence and are looking forward to the big battles of life in which they expect to become victors.

The completion of each task nerves them for another and they are becoming aggressive, ready and willing to face the problems that present themselves. The mind is expanding, the moral attitudes beautiful and the body taking on that beauty and symmetry that God intended it should.

Scholarship is held in high esteem, the building of characters has become the goal and the possession of robust bodies that can properly function, under the guidance of the mind and spirit, is prized as never before.

The community at large has caught this wonderful spirit and gives its unstinted approval to this program of character building. Cooperation is the watchword, wonderful progress is the result.

With these splendid conditions every department of the school business is working with renewed vigor. The smaller children are unconsciously selecting as their patterns and models, one or another of these fine young people and trying to be like them. Discipline is almost ideal. Good will and harmony prevail and all is well.

Why such ideal conditions? Merely this: the schools are functioning.

Looking again, maybe, in an adjoining community, we sometimes find conditions entirely different. Only a few of the large boys and girls in school—many of these under compulsion. We find little to attract the live, active youngster to the halls of learning. They have left for places where "something is doing." They take little time to discriminate between good and bad activities—just something doing and this they find somewhere, many times in very questionable entertainments.

Proper and attractive environments have not been provided for in school, so pleasant environments are going to be found whether they be proper or otherwise. What are the ambitions of the young people of the community? They do not take time to consider seriously their own vital interests. The energies that should go into their character building are spent in a mad search for pleasure. The precious time that will not wait is passing from them and the golden opportunities are leaving forever.

It is useless to prohibit the harmful activities unless we are able to offer attractive substitutes. Our young people will not stand for that. They will not be idle but will be found occupied some way and somewhere.

The school is not functioning unless its influence directs the activities of these young people. The time was when the school in this community we are considering could have held out to these young people the better things of life but that time is gone and the parents stand helpless before the outside influences that are leading astray.

The only thing that can save community is a revival of religion and a revival of school interest. Why this condition? The school is not functioning.

It has failed in the purpose for which it is maintained. Maybe, thru the lack of initiative and executive ability of the teacher, or the critical and unsympathetic attitude of the parents. Maybe the goals have not been held aloft for the young people and the possibility of their attainment made clear.

Perhaps no intelligent management of school affairs has been had and no definite program for progress, outlined. Have men with a real vision been selected to head the school and lead the young people? And has been given the time to work out the plans he has projected? God pity the community that is caviling over minor differences, withholding their cooperation and letting the children and young people go from bad to worse with never a chance to retrieve what they are losing.

The contrast drawn are not exaggerated but may be found all over the country. What a pity that conditions as described do exist when a remedy, so sure and so efficient, is at hand.

Training of mind, heart and body is essential to the success of every life. It is the function of the school to take a large share of this work in charge. It is also its duty to point out and assist in directing the youth to real success.

It is the school's privilege to define success and to place the ideals. It is in her power to inspire the young men and young women to succeed in the highest sense. If it fails in these points, it has little claims upon the people for their moral or financial support.

Democracy and service the end toward which its entire curriculum should be arranged.

Its activities should attract and enlist every young man and young woman and encourage them to take a new grip on life and its opportunities.

The schools are functioning, only in

MRS. KING UNDERGOES OPERATION LAST MONDAY

Mrs. S. F. King, wife of Mayor King was carried to Lubbock Monday of this week and underwent an operation at a sanitarium in that city.

Last reports were to the effect that Mrs. King was resting as well as could be expected, but it will be necessary for her to remain in the sanitarium for possible three weeks, reports say.

Mayor King has been absent from his office on account of being at the bedside of Mrs. King.

DORSETT IN CITY BAKERY

W. E. Dorsett, who recently was connected with the Slaton Baking Company, has purchased the City Bakery on the west side of the square, and he and Mrs. Dorsett are now actively in charge of the business.

Jimmie Spradling, former manager of the City Bakery, has returned to California, so we are informed.

Mr. Dorsett is a splendid bakerman and is well acquainted with every phase of the business, hence needs no introduction to our people. He announces that he will have fresh baked goods daily, and will specialize in fine pastry.

This week comes the announcement of Messrs. Jeff Custer, proprietor of the Custer Theatre, and M. O. Napps, contractor, that Slaton will soon have another theatre, these gentlemen having purchased the lot between the Talley & Ragsdale building and the building occupied by Toliver's Dry Goods, where the Airdome is now located.

Erection of the theatre building will begin at once, according to Contractor Napps, who states that with its completion Slaton will have a theatre second to none in any town of Slaton's size in West Texas. The building will be 140 feet long, and 37½ feet wide, and will be as nearly fire proof as it is possible to make it.

The large lobbies will be of marble wingscoating, with tile floors; and a large ladies' rest room will be provided, together with ample dressing rooms. A modern cooling system will be installed, as well as a complete and up-to-date heating system for use during winter time. A basement will be provided for this system, the owners say.

The Theatre is to be erected and equipped at a cost of approximately $20,000.00, with a seating capacity of more than 700.

Although this work is to begin right away, it will not, for some time yet, interfere with the Airdome programs, Mr. Custer informs us, stating that the rear end, sidewalks, and even the roofing work will go right ahead without interfering with the operation of his Airdome.

The new theatre will be owned and operated by Messrs. Custer and Napps and will be run separate and apart from the Custer Theatre programs, Mr. Custer informs us.

DEAN YOUNG.

Wednesday morning of last week, April 29th, Dean Young, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Young of Slaton, died at a Lubbock Sanitarium. His remains were buried in the Inglewood Cemetery on the afternoon of the same day, the funeral services being conducted by the pastor of the local Church of Christ, assisted by Rev. Johnson, pastor of the Methodist Church of Wilson.

The deceased leaves his parents, four brothers and one sister, besides other relatives and a host of friends to mourn his death.

Preparations and burial were directed by the Foster Undertaking Company.

J. W. Henry left Tuesday for Austin where he went on business.

EDISON GETS FIRST SET OF FORD'S JOHANSSON GAUGES

Henry Ford has sent to his friend Thomas A. Edison, the first complete set of Johansson gauges manufactured in the United States. The set consists of eighty-one blocks and these delicate little pieces of steel are accurate within four millionths of an inch. They are contained in a newly developed Bakelite case.

For many years Johansson gauges have been accepted as standard for measurements throughout the world, and until recently they were manufactured exclusively in Sweden, the native land of the inventor, Carl E. Johansson.

In order to take care of the United States needs, the Johansson company acquired a plant at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., but before manufacture of blocks began the Ford Motor company, in 1923 purchased the plant together with the American manufacturing rights. Mr. Johansson joined the Ford organization as a member of the engineering staff to further develop his precision instruments.

And so it was in the new laboratories of the Ford Motor Company at Dearborn that he recently completed the set Mr. Ford has just presented to Mr. Edison.

General Conditions Are Up To the High Standard

(By J. J. ROSS)

Sec. J. J. Ross in company with Mr. Collier, editor of Slatonite, and Mr. Miller, prop. of Miller Variety Store, toured the western part of the county scattering circulars for the 1st Monday.

Farmers were all busy, along the way and we notice many farms have been plowed before the rain and appear in fine shape. Other farmers that had not prepared their lands, were all busy breaking and bedding.

We notice many farms with four, six and twelve mules, plowing up their land and getting ready to plant, every farmer along the way seemed to be wearing that cheerful smile and the moral had returned and everybody seemed full of the spirit, pep and go.

The land was plowing up in the very best of shape, no clods, but pulverised itself like brown sugar. It seems with the present outlook, that Slatons trade territory will reap the greatest harvest in 1925 of any time in the history of the farming era.

Feed acreage according to best reports, will be increased fifty per cent over last year, this will add and earning increase of at least twenty five per cent to the assets of our country.

This means the growing of fifty per cent more poultry fifty percent more hogs, and fifty per cent more milk and butter. Whenever the farmers are prosperous, it means good times for all, just a few days ago while the dusts was rolling around and the farmer had no smile, the merchants were all drawn up and looked like a green persimmon in November, but after the fine rain and the farmer drives into town, with that broad smile, that means prosperity, then you see the merchant put on his little red bow, and he struts up and down the street, feeling like a multimillionaire, so we see that its the moral and the spirit of each other that builds a home and develops the country and feeds wife and baby.

So lets rise early and plow deep, we will have corn to sell and corn to keep, and let the merchant reduce the price and wear a smile that looks like day, for they are coming to town along this Fall with wagon loads of cotton, corn and hay.

THANKS, UNCLE GEORGE.

Chevrolet Has Many Close Inspections

One employe in every six in the motor assembly plant of the Chevrolet Motor company plant at Flint, Mich., does nothing but check the rigid standards required in the motor parts and the accuracy with which they are fitted together.

There are 2,776 employes in the motor plant. Of these, 463 are inspectors who demand a precision too minute for detection by the unaided eye.

Before the engine block starts down one of the assembly lines it is given a triple inspection for possible irregularities or defects, each inspector checking his production. Next it is washed, dried under compressed air and again inspected for cleanliness. If a dirt spot is discovered, the casting is sent back to the washer.

Almost endless tests mark its progress down the assembly line; precisions being gauged down to one thousandth of an inch. The moment an inpector detects any variations from standard, the motor is taken from the line. If the defect is only minor, the motor is sent back on the line for adjustments or replacements subject to subsequent re-inspection. If the variation from standard is fundamental, the motor is dis-assembled.

As the motor is built up, all parts and fittings are subjected to constant examination and re-examination. Precision is law. For instance, the fit of piston pins into the piston must be so exact that the pin may be pushed into the piston hole by the mechanic's thumb but will not fall out of its own weight. The clearance at this point is about one-twentieth of the diameter of the finest human hair. This is called a "push in" fit.

After being built up, the motor is "run in" by electric motors at 1,200 revolutions per minute for about two hours to work in the bearings and piston rings.

The motor is then "taken down" for inspection of the bearings, cylinder walls and all moving parts. When it passes the inspectors, it is reassembled and operated under its own power while experts listen for any possible noise, their methods being comparable to a doctor's use of a stethoscope. If the motor sounds "sweet," it is returned to the assembly line for final equipment and painting. The last man on the line is an inspector. From his hands the motor goes to the various car assembly plants.

SAFE FARMING.

(By J. J. Ross)

Safety first is a well prepared, program that is today, being drafted into every business and every avenue of life. There is nothing that so safe guards the individual as well as the common public, as Safety first.

This would mean in the application of a banker, to safe guard his credits, loans and security, then it would mean with the merchant, to safe guard in the choosing of his merchandise, and well guard his over head expense, then in the application of farming, safety first would apply to those essential things that would function the upkeep and amiance of home, and there is no safer method or system that would prove greater protection than the planting of those products that go for the feeding of home.

This not only keeps the wolf away, but at all times, furnishes a reserve that grows and matures for our table service. But while it rains and while we sleep, and ni better rule could be adopted on the farm than the planting of enough feed stuff to take care of the stock that is necessary for the running of the farm.

This barn of feed acts as a bank or a reserve, that we may draw from twelve months in the year, such as meat, and lard, chickens, eggs, milk and butter, this would absolutely furnish that protection called safety first.

We so naturally make those wise provisions to care for our family in the crises of an accident or sickness, then in return, should we not make the same provisions for the keeping and the maintaining of material life. Just how bad it seems when the storm or the cyclone comes and we have no storm house, and just how it seems when the wolves of hunger gathers about our stock pens in the dead winter.

Then another good rule would be to play safety first in the taking care of the limited amount of rainfall or moisture that we have in this section. No better safe guard could be applied than a continual and thorough cultivation of our land. This opens the air chambers which imparts both fertility and moisture.

When the pores of our skin become closed and the oil glands fail to function in the depositories of the oil, then we have dry chapped hands or body, the same is applicable to our farm land. Whenever the surface becomes seired and runs together, and becomes packed, then we have shut off both aid and moisture, and the food sells of production is closed.

Safety first would be to hold this moisture the longest time, by the application of continnes cultivation. We trust that every home and every farmer will plant the necessary gardens and feed for the maintenance and the upkeep of the hime.

Billing The Country For First Monday

CIVIC CULTURE CLUB.

The Civic Culture Club met Saturday, April 25th, with Mrs. Eddie Johnston, in the home of Mrs. H. C. Jones with Mrs. S. H. Adams as leader.

Our study for the afternoon was "Alice Adams," by Booth Tarkington. The work was very interesting and ably handled by those taking parts on the program.

Mrs. Johnston served a delicious two-course luncheon.

WOODROW TO HAVE GIN.

Material is being placed on the ground at Woodrow, twelve miles west of Slaton, for the erection of a modern cotton gin. It will be erected and operated by an experienced gin man of Tohoka, and will be ready for the 1925 crop.

Mr. Collier, editor of the Slatonite, and Mr. Miller, proprietor of Miller Variety Store, and J. J. Ross, Secretary Chamber of Commerce, left here on last Friday morning distributing circulars for the 1st Monday.

Two of these gentlemen were city bred and city raised and was unbroke to the general laws of the country, but having an old timer in the bunch, they agreed to make the trip. So all fixed up in new Maxwell, shining like a sign board on a first National Bank, set out for the country.

All smoking the old Virginia Cheroot, everything moved along in fine shape until we were outside of the corporation, we met a mud hole and there we made our first stop. We don't really believe that it was on the account of the Maxwell Mfg. Company, but the nervous condition of the editor.

But as we have always found out in the country there is always a good Samaritan that's passing by, so after pulling and twisting around getting our feet wet and naturally it didn't take much water to get them wet, as the Variety man had on a pair of those special Hoses, but after getting good and muddy, we backed of on the bank and waited for something to happen, so it did long came a good Samaritan driving a 1916 model Ford, hitting on three but drove right thru the mud hole, got out with a smile, and a rope and tied on the rear end of our limesine and pulled us out on dry land and went on his way rejoicing.

We next arrived at the Union School house where we met our good friend, Prof. Mills, and his chore of teachers. Sec. J. J. Ross entered the school building and all was arranged in the chapel.

While I was talking to the school children and advertising for the 1st Monday the two city men were out playing basket ball, and cutting monkey shines all over the prairie, but I told Prof. Mills that they were all right and didn't mean any harm, so after a hearty welcome here, we fired up for the next stop which was New Hope.

There we met with the school for another talk, J. N. Townsend, principle, gave us that royal welcome and arranged the school in the Auditorium where we enjoyed a pleasant visit, from there we went West on to Woodrow.

There we met Prof. Rolls and went through the same performance. It was now one o'clock and the trio of boosters entered the store in search of food matter.

So the order was made, cheese, sardines, balonne, sausage, peper sauce and light bread. The spread was made on the car fender and never did I, in my life, see two boys eat like these two city gentlemen.

Mr. Miller, we believe took on too many of those cold dog sausages. He seemed very stupid for quite a long while, but revived and was back full of the spirit again, so from there we turned South to the city of Wilson.

There was taken in a cup of coffee and all came alive, covered the town had a good time and back into Slaton. Reloaded our car and off to Southland, there we met many of the good people and attended a baseball game between Southland and Ragtown, after billing the town, we turned back for Slaton. We were never out with better Boosters than on this occasion.

We want to thank Mr. Collier, editor of the Slatonite for the service of himself and car, and Mr. Miller for the enthusiasm and pep in which he so willingly billed the country.

All than any town in the West needs to make a city is a bunch of real boosters that gives to their city, cooperation and service.

J. J. ROSS.

Of course business men who desire to carry over their stocks to another season do not need to advertise them.

Out of the many daily and weekly newspapers coming regularly to the Slatonite office, we notice one, once in a while whose editor outspokenly endorses the governor in the whole-sale issue of pardons. But that same editor will howl ever time he reads of a jury returning a verdict of "not guilty." Just what this type of editor wants done with criminals, and how he wants them handled is beyond our feeble ability to determine. There is surely no need of going to the expense of maintaining a penitentiary system and sending criminals there if their law violations are going to be, in a greate measure, endorsed by so high official as the governor by he or she signing their pardons and opening wide the gates that are destined by our lawmakers to protect society.

The writing of a complete and accurate history of the Panhandle of Texas is the next big undertaking of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, according to a recent announcement of the president, Judge Thomas F. Turner, of Amarillo. It is the purpose of the society to make this history as comprehensive and as interesting as is possible to make it. It will portray the development of the Panhandle and Plains from the early days up until the present time. For the last four years this society has been engaged in gathering data relative to the developing of this country and the history, when completed, promises to be a valuable and intensely interesting piece of literature.

Last Friday marked the actual beginning in Slaton trade territory of many a row crop. On that day, the editor, in company with Secretary Ross and Mr. Miller of the Miller Variety Store, visited five of our progressive communities while distributing advertising literature for Slaton's first trades day. We noticed scores of framers making their first furrows in the fertile soils. Team after team was seen pulling listers through the fields, farmers looked happy and a general spirit of optimism was noticeable all along he way. If present prospects are any indication of the forthcoming results, the 1925 Lubbock County crop will be the banner crop in the county's history.

Speaking of Editorials in a newspaper and the fact of thirty years experience in writing same, being any special benefit, we will say that we have seen men work at different trades for the same length of time and be practically no better in that line than when they started out. The same is true in editorial writing. We know a young man not over 16 miles from Slaton with only a matter of two or three years experience who can really write an editorial and when one finishes reading his articles, he or she knows that they have not just read abunch of hot air such as some of our thirty year experience editors put out.

Prosperity for Slaton is claimed to be on the way, and we really believe she is, but in the mean while, let's not lie down and wait for her to come along and give us a free ride. Let's be up and doing.

Those Slaton men who object to spring house cleaning might be given a broom so they can take hold and expediate the same.

The spirit of Better Homes Week enters our towns, and passes judgement on our dwellings and the ideas they express. It asks the man who inhabits a poorly kept and disorderly house, if that home is not pulling down his spirit with an atmosphere of discouragement? If he will brighten it up, it will give him a mental boost and a feeling of equality to the demands the world makes on him. Better Homes Week will be widely observed from May 10 to 17. Let us make our homes neater.

The best angle from which to approach a problem, they say, is the try angle.

To be a gentleman or a lady it is only necessary to be honest, industrious, self-respecting and considerate of others. How simple the recipe! Yet how many leave out one or more of the ingredients.—State Press.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Vestal, of Quanah, have returned home after a pleasant visit with the latter's sister, Mrs. E. N. Twaddle.

Schools Soon To Close After Successful Year

The Slaton schools are nearing the close of the year's work, and the student body is working hard to make the grades in the final tests.

To those who have kept up with the doings of the schools through the page devoted to it in the Slatonite, The Tiger's Cage, it will be no news to say that the school has had a very successful year.

The institution has had splendid management under the supervision of Superintendent C. L. Sone, and Principal W. V. Lemens. These men are capable and enthusiastic in the work, and have made the year a profitable one for the large student body.

They have worked in harmony and with an understanding of the needs of the school which has resulted in the continued advancement of the institution. It would be difficult, indeed, to find another team as capable and efficient as these gentlemen have proven. They have been assisted by a splendid corps of teachers which has co-operated in making the Slaton schools second to none in the country.

Superintendent Sone, it is understood, will be with the Slaton schools for another year, but to the regret of many fiendr of the Slaton schools, Mr. Lemens recently tendered his resignation, stating as his reason his intentions to do further graduate study in a University of the Northeast.

Mr. Sone and his faculty are to be publicly commended for the splendid manner in which they have handled the educational situation in Slaton during the school year just closing, and the entire student body may justly feel fortunate by having been instructed by and under the care of a corps of such splendid and learned ladies and gentlemen.

Groom School Unique In Teaching Thrift

The Groom School, with the cooperation of the State Bank of Groom, has recently organized a thrift and savings association. Each child is encouraged to make a deposit, on Tuesday of each week.

In order to keep interest at high pitch, the State Bank of Groom has offered nice cash prizes to the rooms that have maintained the largest per cent of deposits during the past school term.

This Thrift Association is not only of great benefit to the children of the school, but also to the book-keeping class, who operates it, and keeps it on balance with the local bank. The de-positors are permitted to withdraw their accounts on any banking day, but they are urged and encouraged, unceasingly by the teachers, to leave their money on deposit, and at the close of the school term, to place their savings on time deposits, in the local bank.

The largest deposit of any one week was deposited last Tuesday and amounted to $187.43.

Miss Iris Donald, daughter of Mrs. W. Donald, of Slaton, is one of the faculty of the Groom schools.

LUBBOCK COUNTY TO GET $200,000 FOR HIGHWAY BUILDING

AUSTIN, April 29.—The first meeting of the state highway commission under the new plan of semi-monthly meetings suggested by the governor was concluded today with the allotment of funds of the highway department totaling $750,000. Announcement of other awards are to be made immediately, it was announced.

Four counties were awarded funds as follows: Lubbock $200,000; Taylor $186,000; Shelby $60,000 and Rusk $60,000. A highway extending from Red River in Clay county through Henrietta to Antelope in Jack county, was designated as a state highway. Another extending from Mount Enterprise in Rusk county to Timpson in Shelby county was also designated. Funds amounting to $120,000 were allotted for improvement of this road, divided equally between each county.

J. N. Highsmith of Marfa was made maintenance superintendent, in that district to succeed Paul Props, resigned.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Mr. McGee reported Amherst as having six delegates to the convention, which speaks quite well for that thriving little city.

Pains Very Severe

"I suffered from womanly troubles which grew worse and worse as the months went by," says Mrs. L. H. Castrell, of R. F. D. 9, Gainesville, Georgia. "I frequently had very severe pains. These were so bad that I was forced to go to bed and stay there. It seemed to me my back would come in two."

CARDUI

For Female Troubles

"I taught school for a while, but my health was so bad I would have to stay out sometimes. This went on till I got so bad I didn't know what to do. "One day I read about the merits of Cardui, and as I had some friends who had been helped by it, I thought I would try it. I began to get better after I had taken half a bottle. I decided to keep on and give it a thorough trial and I did. I took in all about 12 bottles and now I am perfectly well. I do not suffer any pain and can do all my housework."

Farmers Were Busy On First Trades Day

Considering the fact that every day has been a trades day, for the past five months, so just at the time of putting over this special day, the people were greeted with a fine rain which far surpasses anything that man could do; how proud both farmers and merchants felt over the fact that all could go to work. No one has lost but all gained.

Even at this, many came into town for a couple of hours and enjoyed the picture at the Custer Theatre.

The merchants prepared this Monday program to show the appreciation for past business and to stimulate and encourage the moral of the people and feature some real bargains. The people missed many bargains, but nothing like what they gained by the fine rain and staying at home, preparing their farm lands.

We appreciate the co-operation of the general public in the manner of your co-operation and effort to make trades day a real success, this is only the beginning, let all remember each First Monday.

benefit of all, than a Trades day. Not only does our merchants run their special bargains, which shows a saving of hundreds of dollars, but gives each and all a chance to sell and buy products of our country. Often times do you have something that to you is worthless, or you do not need, but somebody is just looking for such an article.

It brings about a closer relationship, a closer co-operation and a more thorough knowledge of what our neighbor has to sell or buy. We hope to arrange a real trading ground, where all can bring their stock, or what ever they may have to offer for sale or trade. So lets watch the specials on the First Monday of each month.

TIME FOR GRASSHOPPER WAR IS NOW PARAMOUNT

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, May 7.—This is the month to begin the grasshopper war if the cotton crop is to be saved. History reveals that the hopper scourge is of two-year duration periods and all indications now are for a repetition of history in the case. The small ones are not moving much at this time and may be killed with greater ease than later on. The poison bran mash is the proper ammunition as proved in the tests conducted by A. & M. last year. Begin now and assure your cotton crop for 1925. The bait: 25 lbs. bran, 2 lbs. arsenate, 6 lemons or ripe tomatoes, 2 to 4 gallons water.

WON THE PRIZE.

Mr. and Mrs. Boatman, who were born in 1853 and 1855, and who are now citizens of our city, they registered in the First Monday contest as the oldest married couple, which shows that they were married in Nacadoches county Texas, January 21st, 1875, giving to them a married life of fifty years and four months.

This is a long time especially at this modern age, how many of our young people that are marrying today, will continue that matrimonial agreement for fifty years?

This old couple who are now spending their few last golden days will soon have passed from this life of worry and toil, unto a life of eternal rest. They have surely been faithful, one to the other, and it does our hearts good when we look upon those rare characters that have withstood the storms of life, and with a smile, passed down toward yonders setting sun and looked back and say, "each to the other, I have been faithful and true."

And we, the committee on this program of 1st Monday take pleasure in awarding to Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Boatman the $5.00 as being the oldest married couple that was registered on this occasion.

Advertising has become a leading factor in decreasing the cost of public utility service to the consumer, and has shortened by half the time that would have been required without it to reach the present state of public service development, declares William H. Hodge, president of the Public Utilities Advertising Association.

"No advertising of necessities is defensible that does not produce a public benefit," he says. "Public utilities advertising has played a leading role in public utility development. It has brought the advantages of these services to millions.

"Find a poorly developed utility situation, usually with high service rates, and you will find a non-advertising utility imperfectly meeting public requirements. Look for the town or territory with good service, fully served population and industries, reasonable rates, harmonious public relations, and you will invariably find utilities that believe in and practice advertising on a liberal, intelligent basis.

"There is no more possibility of making a success out of the utility business in this age minus advertising than there is in trying to get along without good engineers, capable accountants and auditors, salesmen, and trained workers."

WHEREAS, on April 20, 1925, following the campaign in Slaton to raise Slaton's quota of $1000.00 for the promotion of the work of the Boy Scout Council on the South Plains of Texas, Slaton Klan No. 228, Realm of Texas, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, subscribed the sum of five hundred dollars, by donations of the individual members, to make up the deficit of such quota, and duly presented said subscription, with the initial payment of $125.00 thereof, to the Committee in charge of the raising of the remainder of Slaton's quota; and,

WHEREAS, at the time of making said subscription in the manner and form set forth, the members of Slaton Klan were not aware of a certain rule of the National Boy Scout Council forbidding the solicitation of monies, or the acceptance of funds, for the Boy Scout Movement from any secret order, lodge or society, and since making said subscription the members of Slaton Klan have learned of such rule; and,

WHEREAS, in making said subscription the members of Slaton Klan were impelled so to do solely because of their sincere desire as a matter of civic pride to see the success of said campaign in Slaton, and because they, as individuals and Americans, heartily sanction and approve of every cause and movement for the betterment of our country and the welfare of the rising and oncoming generations, but have no desire whatever to embarrass said movement in any way, and earnestly desire to comply strictly with the rules and regulations of the Boy Scout Council of America, as chartered by the National Congress; and,

WHEREAS, we believe it proper to make known publicly our attitude in the premises; now, therefore,
BE IT RESOLVED by Slaton Klan No. 228, Realm of Texas, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, that we do hereby voluntarily respectfully request the cancellation of said subscription so made on April 20, 1925, by the authorities of the South Plains Council of the Boy Scouts of America, and the return of the said initial payment on said subscription of $125.00, to the end that such remainder of Slaton's quota may be raised in the usual manner, and that the members of this Klan, and any and all others who may desire, may make such individual subscriptions to said great and worthy cause as they may deem proper; be it further,

RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be delivered to the Slaton Times and to the Slaton Slatonite, with the request that same be published, should said respective publications desire to publish same, for the benefit of all persons concerned and interested in the Boy Scout Movement.

SOMETHING ABOUT OLIVES

A ripe olive yields twice as much heat or twice as many calories as the green olive and is nearly equivalent to bread which we consider the staff of life. The ripe olive like the green has to be eaten often before it is well liked by most people. Those who become accustomed to it like it far better than the green; it is more easily digested and much richer in food value.

Ripe olives because of their flavor, which is very delicate, are especially good in meat sauces and dressings and made dishes.

A half-dozen ripe olives chopped fine and added to the giblet sauce to serve with chicken or turkey are especially nice.

Olive Sauce.—Melt four tablespoonsful of butter and add a tablespoonful of chopped olives; cook until softened. Remove the olives, add five tablespoonfuls of flour and one-half teaspoonful of salt with a few dashes of cayenne pepper. Add two cupfuls of brown stock and cook until thick. Cut one dozen ripe olives from their pits, cover with boiling water for five minutes, then add the sauce. Serve with meat or game.

Hawaiian Salad.—Place a slice of pineapple on a leaf of lettuce. On it arrange alternate sections of orange and grapefruit, between each section a piece of ripe olive. In the center of the pineapple place a ball of cream cheese seasoned with mayonnaise to hold it together. Sprinkle with paprika and serve with French dressing. The pineapple juice may be used in place of vinegar for the dressing. Pass mayonnaise for the salad.

Olive Salad.—Take four tart apples, one bunch of celery, one-half cupful of walnut meats and three-fourths of a cupful of pitted ripe olives. Cut the celery, apples and olives into julienne strips, add the nuts, moisten with mayonnaise and serve in a nest of lettuce.

WHAT TO SERVE FOR DINNER

Chicken served in the ordinary manner may become monotonous; try the following:

Chicken en Casserole.—Disjoint a chicken and roll in seasoned flour, then saute in hot fat until well browned on all sides. Cut a carrot into even slices, add one onion for each person served. Cut out a dozen potato balls. Cook the vegetables in a little fat until they are slightly browned, then arrange the chicken and vegetables in the casserole. With the giblets, neck and wing tips make a broth by covering with cold water, pour this while hot over the chicken, season well, cover and let cook in the oven until the chicken is tender. It will take about two hours. The broth should be prepared before the chicken is ready to cook.

Oysters With Macaroni.—Cook three-fourths of a cupful of macaroni broken into inch pieces until tender. Scald one pint of oysters. Put a layer of buttered crumbs, one of cooked macaroni and a layer of cheese, using a half cupful of crumbs and three-fourths of a cupful of cheese, salt, pepper and the oyster liquor. Repeat until all the ingredients are used. Cover with buttered crumbs. Bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven.

Baked Eggplant.—Pare, cut into cubes and cook until tender in boiling water a small eggplant. It will take from ten to twenty minutes. Drain in a colander. For three cupfuls of cubes, chop fine one small onion, add one-half cupful of mushrooms and cook in two tablespoonfuls of fat; then add the eggplant, a cupful of tomato strained, bread crumbs, parsley and salt and paprika. Place in a baking dish, cover with buttered crumbs and bake until brown.

Tea Cakes.—Bake a plain cake recipe in gem pans. Cut open, scoop out the centers and fill with sweetened and flavored whipped cream. Fruit may be used in place of the cream if desired. Top with whipped cream.

GOOD DEEDS ARE LIKE BEAUTIFUL FLOWERS

Work a little, play a little, Sing a little too, For this is the way the old world wags, Around through the sky so blue, Laugh a little, smile a little, Weep a little too, For this is the way to have beautiful flowers, If you'll only keep them moist with dew.

Bumper Crops Outlook For 1925, Sec'y Says

(By J. J. Ross)

Prospects were never better nor more favorable to every avenue of interest, than the general conditions of our country at the present time.

The present amount of moisture has filled the earth with sufficient to insure the planting and the getting up of all kinds of farm products, this, in itself, is seventy-five per cent in favor of a fine crop harvest.

Hundreds of acres of farm land was plowed and made ready for planting before the rain, these lands, in a measure, have already or in part, been planted, and the rain falling at three different periods of time, within ten days, gave many other farmers an opportunity to prepare hundreds of acres between the rains, that are now ready to proceed with their planting at once.

This gives an underground moisture to some fourteen or eighteen inches, which, if properly cared for, and mulched, will hold the moisture and carry the growth of the farm products for into the summer.

The retaining of moisture depends largely upon the continuous cultivation of the surface of our soil. Lands properly prepared, and put into a fine state of cultivation, before planting, usually retains their moisture for a longer period.

We have ever assurance and every evidence points to the facts that better conditions will prevail throughout this section for this year, than in any year in the history of our community.

This is contributory to the fact that thousands of acres of feed stuff is being planted, this naturally guarantees to our country, a reserve from which we draw poultry, eggs, butter, milk, and meat and lard, and acts as an financial barrier of protection for home life.

Another good reason for this year to be the banner year, is first, the fine season, second, the moral of the people, and third, and greatest reason of all, is the fact that we are beginning and planting this crop from under credit and mortgage.

The people as a whole, have been careful in the guarding and protection of their credits, this alone, with a half crop, would put our country in far better condition than a bumper crop all tied up and used up with the high price credit.

There could be offered no better rule or resolution by all as a whole than to plant more feed and more of the products that go for the upkeep of home, and the redicing of credit to the minimum.

Merchant and gin men as well as the banking department, are making every condition as favorable as possible to accomodate and meet the demands of the agriculture interest as much as possible. While the county commissioners are making it possible to pave the highways of the county, and build the lateral road into every agricultural community, for the purpose of aiding and assisting the transportation of the raw material.

While the city of Slaton is doing its part in the way of increasing the water supply and the extension of the sewer, making the city a cleaner and a more sanitary place to live.

Our preachers are all busy preparing for their summer meeting, this is the time when everybody is supposed to get warmed up if not by the spirit, by the hot weather, the doctors are also lending their co-operation they keep busy rolling pills and giving out general advice on health conditions.

The Santa Fe railroad shops are all busy working over all their machinery, preparing and getting ready for the heavy haul of the products from the farm.

Shcool teachers are all smiles as they will soon be catching butterflies and other bugs of interest out in the cool mountains of some resort, and all the young people are getting their bathing suits ready for the deep dive in the cool waters of good old summer time, so all together the whole country is headed for prosperity, progress and success.

KESSEL-GENTRY RESIDENCE BURNED SATURDAY NIGHT

A resident house belonging to A. Kessel and Bruce Gentry, in the extreme northwest part of town was almost completely destroyed by fire on Saturday night of last week.

The house was a considerable distance from a fire plug, and only good work on the part of the firemen saved even the framework.

The family of Ray I. Feed, mechanic of the Slaton Chevrolet Company, occupied the house, and saved most of their household effects, we are informed, but the furniture was badly damaged in the handling.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed were in town for Supper when the fire broke out and it is unknown as to the origin of the fire.

E. R. Ball, of Anton, was in the city Friday and Saturday, transacting business and visiting with his brother, O. Z. Ball.

TRADING MEDIUM

WITHOUT COST

In an effort to assist in promoting more business in Slaton, a better understanding between farmers and merchants, and a still better spirit of co-operation among everybody, the Slatonite is offering a free trading medium for farmers. Here is the proposition we gladly make, and insist that farmers and stockmen of this section take advantage of it:

If you live in Slaton's trade territory, and have something you want to sell or trade, or if you have in mind something you would buy if price and terms suited, you may advertise the fact in the Slatonite without cost to anyone, if you expect to be in Slaton, ready to make your trade, on next regular Trades Day.

This offer is for Farmers and Stockmen, living outside the city limits of Slaton, and its purpose is to assist in encouraging rural people to come to town on Trades Days as well as to show, beyond doubt, the value of advertising through the columns of the Slatonite.

Remember, if you have something to sell or trade, or know of something you might buy on next Trades Day, let the Slatonite know about it, and we will do the rest for you, so far as the advertising is concerned.

BUILDING THREE RESIDENT HOMES ON LUBBOCK STREET

This week Contractor W. R. Graves is laying foundations on West Lubbock street for three nice resident homes, one of which will be a large brick veneer, and will be occupied by Mr. Graves and family. The other two, Mr. Graves says, will be modern frame buildings, and will either be rented or put on the market.

All of these homes, we understand, will be located near the West Ward school buildings, and will be completed as rapidly as the work can go forward.

Mr. Graves recently sold their nice stucco home on Lubbock street to Mr. and Mrs. George Everline, we are informed, they having moved into it the latter part of last week.

When your breath is bad, appetite poor, and you feel "blue" and discouraged, you need Herbine. One or two doses will set you right. It is a great system purifier. Price 60c. Sold by—CITY DRUG STORE John Dabney & Son, Props.

GREATEST FISHERMEN LIVE IN SLATON

Lewis Ross, nephew of Sec. J. J. Ross and Vilas Tudor left the city last Tuesday morning for the canyon on a fishing trip. Never did we see so many fish caught in so short a time. They returned with a catch of 42, measuring from four inches up.

Now we are not sure just how these boys caught those fish, whether they caught them with a hook from some place in the canyon, or met some East Texas man coming West and bought them, but we can vouch same for one thing, these young men are Some Fishermen and we believe that any young lady anticipating matrimony, would be safe in taking either of them, as this fishing trip should be full evidence of their engineering of getting food.

How Duco Is Made Use Of By Chevrolet Co.

In studying Duco, the new automobile finish, the first and most important consideration is to remember that it is not a paint or varnish; also that it is radically different from other finishes, not only in basic materials but also in wearing qualities. With these points in mind, the reasons for the unusual durability and resistance of Duco will be understood.

Chemically treated cotton is the principal basic material used in making Duco. Cotton linters are used. These are the short fibres left on the boll after the longer fibred cotton has been removed for use in the textile industry. The linters are carefully and thoroughly purified by first shaking in a dusting machine, called a "devil-duster", then baths in steam, caustic soda and acid, followed by an elaborate series of washings. After drying in ovens the cotton is nitrated by means of sulphuric and nitric acid. After nitration, the acids are removed by boiling, frequent changes of water being used. It is interesting to note that about 200 gallons of water are used for each pound of cotton treated. After nitration the cotton becomes "pyroxylin", which is changed to a syrup liquid by the addition of certain acetate solvents.

To this basic material pigments and other carefully selected ingredients are added, the materials being combined in specially designed mixers. The result of these operations is Duco.

Why Duco Is Different.
The ordinary finishing materials differ from Duco not only in basic materials, but also in method of drying, stability and wearing qualities. The old finishes were made from linseed oil and gums. They dried by oxidation whereas Duco dries by evaporation. Ordinary finishes are not stable. There is a continuous chemical reaction taking place once the finish is applied and while oxidation is in progress. During this time the finished film is growing less elastic and more brittle.

With Duco, the solvents quickly evaporate, leaving a hard, tough film. After the evaporation of the solvents, there are no further chemical changes. The result is a film that is waterproof, weatherproof and practically wearproof. Remember Duco is used on all Chevrolets.

I. O. O. F. PROGRAM.

The I. O. O. F. Lodge of Slaton, Texas rendered a program on May 3, 1925 at 8:00 O'clock in the I. O. O. F. Hall. Here we found about eighty-five of the I. O. O. F. members and their families present.

Among those present were: Noble Grand Evans; Vice Grand, B. E. Clark; Chaplin J. C. Stewart; Acting Past Grand, J. W. Hood.

The committee for arrangement were A. C. Hanna, J. W. Hood, F. V. Williams, D. W. Giles and J. A. Staggs.

Song and Prayer.
Foundation of I. O. O. F. by Brother Bogue.

1. This makes the 106th Anniversary.

2. The founding of I. O. O. F. was in England.

3. After the Revolutionary War the I. O. O. F. Lodge was founded.

4. The first Lodge was established in Baltimore Maryland.

5. One million men are members of this Lodge.

6. We have I. O. O. F. members who pass away, leaving a wife and perhaps several children, but we hear our I. O. O. F. members saying "We Will Take Care of the Widow and Orphans."

7. Think, the Great things of God are to be found in this institution.

8. No man can become a I. O. O. F. member unless he believes in God.

9. A man must have friends, you cannot live and die alone, here our minds are turned to David and For-nuth in the Bible.

10. People are living in a rush. They dont have time to go visit and talk with their old friends as in years gone by.

11. We can never go higher unless we aim to do so.

MONTAGUE ATTENDS NATIONAL MEETING OF CONDUCTORS

W. B. Montague left last Thursday evening for Minneapolis Minnesota for the 38 Tri-Annual Meeting of the Grand Lodge of the Order of Railway Conductors of United States and Old Mexico. He goes as a representative of the Conductors of Slaton division of the Santa Fe.

While there all the delegates and families have been invited to be the guest of the Chamber of Commerce of Winnipeg Manitoba, Sunday May 10. Mr. Montague will be accompanied by his son Nicholas.

NELSON HOUSE BURNED THURSDAY NIGHT LAST WEEK

At about midnight last Thursday, the residence belonging to C. D. Nelson of Littlefield, located in the south Park addition of Slaton, was completely destroyed by fire of unknown origin.

The house was occupied by L. R. Shaddox, a painter, whose household goods and furniture were also burned, so we are informed, the fire having a good headway before it was even discovered.

The loss, both house and furniture, was partially covered by insurance.

The Santa Fe Creed

President Storey says that teamwork, courtesy, and co-operation form the Santa Fe creed. Regional Advisory Boards are an example of co-operation. Every one benefits when the transportation machine works smoothly.

Community of interest of the railroads, their patrons, and the public is generally advanced without argument.

A fine spirit of co-operation has resulted and has become an invaluable aid in rendering transportation service.

One outstanding example of co-operation is the Shippers' Regional Advisory Boards, eleven in number. They are voluntary organizations of shippers, representing production, distribution, consumption, and credit as related to transportation.

Each board has separate commodity committees dealing with each important commodity.

Railroads are not represented on these boards, but do have separate committees of their own which co-operate with the commodity committees.

These boards consider, analyze, and solve many transportation problems. Through them railroads learn shippers' needs in advance and are enabled to distribute cars to care best for such needs.

Shippers learn the necessity of prompt loading, unloading, cleaning, and release of cars, and the importance of giving advance notice of their requirements.

Friendly conferences around the table have been very helpful. All parties have profited thereby.

Car loadings in 1923 and 1924 broke all records, yet the railroads moved the traffic offered without car shortage or delay.

There was no magic or mystery about this record-breaking performance. Available facilities were used to the best advantage by railroads and shippers. Plain common sense was applied in a co-operative spirit to solving a difficult problem.

Such co-operation made it possible to have the products of forests, mines, manufactures, and agriculture delivered without delay at reasonable cost.

Everyone benefits when the transportation machine functions smoothly and without friction.
