PREPARING FOR SUMMER MILK

This big truck hauls the milk of several farms. Right—Milk must arrive at the plant in good condition.

It is now the time when the dairy cow, the foster mother of mankind, is to be given a chance under natural conditions. New information which has recently been discovered at some of the state agricultural colleges indicates that green feed and sunlight combined make it possible for a cow to build up her system by storing minerals and other body reserves, provided she receives a sufficient supply of good feed.

A heavy milking cow, however, will need feed in addition to pasture if the milk flow is to be maintained. Milking heavily with pasture as the sole source of feed causes the cow to lose weight. This loss of weight should be watched and extra feed given to prevent the cow from becoming thin, which will result in reduced milk production later.

With the coming of the summer season, new and interesting problems present themselves which concern the care of milk. The first warm nights are apt to cause milk to sour unless summer care is practiced. It is important to take precautions which will keep down the number of bacteria and prevent their growth. To do this milk must be produced under clean conditions, be kept in thoroughly cleaned utensils, and be cooled as soon as possible after it comes from the cow.

Summer is one of the easiest seasons in which to produce clean milk. There will be times, however, when a considerable amount of mud and dirt will collect on the udder and flanks of cows, and if a portion of this material drops into the milk it will injure its keeping quality. The dirt which collects on the flanks and udder should be removed before milking time by wiping with a damp cloth. If the hair on the udder and underline is clipped short the cleaning can be done effectively and quickly. Incidentally, the practice of clipping the cow all over before turning to pasture not only makes it easier to keep her clean, but it relieves the itchy condition that develops during the stabling months.

Much of the milk produced in the country is hauled long distances in large trucks. In summer if the cans of milk are not protected from the sun before leaving the farm, and again enroute, it will be difficult to keep the milk sweet until it is used. Every time a day's milk is returned to the farm, for whatever reason, there is a distinct financial loss. Only by producing a sanitary milk and then taking care of it can satisfactory results be obtained to all concerned.

THE KITCHEN CABINET
If you would know the flavor of a pie,
The juicy smell, the spice, the taste,
You must be patient till the fiery core is cool,
Then bite a little deeper than the crust.
If you would know the flavor of a man,
God's mud-pie made of Eden's dew and dust,
Be patient till love's fire has warmed him through,
And look a little deeper than the crust.

WAYS WITH VEGETABLES

The fall and late summer vegetables are very delectable. Summer squash is one that if cooked and well drained, then seasoned with plenty of butter, salt and white pepper makes a tasty dish. Summer squash without seasoning is "flat, stale and unprofitable."

Sliced summer squash dipped in egg and seasoned flour, then fried, makes another good way to serve it.

Pepper Omelet.—Beat the yolks of three eggs until light, add a teaspoonful of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, three tablespoonfuls of cold water, a speck of cayenne and a tablespoonful each of minced green and red pepper. Lastly, fold in the stiffly beaten whites and cook as any omelet. Slip folded onto a hot plate, surround with a little tomato sauce and sprinkle with a bit of the minced peppers. Serve hot with hot corn cakes.

Cream of Carrot Soup.—Cook until tender one pint of diced carrots, drain and mash; put through a ricer. Scald a quart of milk with a slice of onion and a pinch of nutmeg; remove the onion after fifteen minutes, add the carrot and seasonings, a little sugar and a dash of cayenne. Melt a tablespoonful of butter, add a tablespoonful of flour, cook until smooth, thin with a little milk and add to the soup. Serve hot with croutons.

Asparagus Salad.—Whip one-half cupful of cream; beat in one-quarter of a cupful of tomato catsup, two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice and one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. Pour over cooked cold asparagus tips and serve well-chilled.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS

Tomato sauce is an excellent article to keep ready for various dishes. It aids in many emergency dishes which all cooks find necessary in case of unexpected guests.

Savory Tomato Sauce.—Try out one tablespoonful of finely minced salt pork in which saute one-half each of a small carrot, turnip, green pepper, one small onion and a bit of hot red pepper, all finely minced; cook for about five minutes. Add three quarts of tomatoes cut into fine pieces but unskinned, two cloves, a sprig each of parsley and celery; cover and cook about three-quarters of an hour. Remove the parsley and celery and rub as much as possible through a sieve. Return to the heat, season with one and one-half teaspoonfuls of salt, one teaspoonful of sugar, pepper and cayenne to taste. Let boil up and can while hot. When used it may be enriched by thickening slightly with one teaspoonful of butter and one-half teaspoonful of flour to a cupful of the sauce.

Peppers Brilliant.—Select large red peppers, cut into halves lengthwise, remove the seeds and parboil five minutes; drain, place in a buttered pan and fill with chopped fresh mushrooms which have been cooked five minutes in a little butter, added to half cupful of cooked rice which has been moistened with tomato or cream sauce. Cover with fine crumbs, add a piece of butter to each and set in a hot oven to brown. For a very savory dish place a hamburger steak with a border of small buttered onions on a hot plate and garnish with the peppers brilliant.

Brussels Sprouts Piquant.—Soak a quart of brussels sprouts in salted water fifteen minutes, then boil in slightly salted water until tender. Drain well. Place in a buttered baking dish and pour a highly seasoned tomato sauce with grated cheese over the top. Set in the oven to brown.

German Chicken Soup.—Take three quarts of chicken stock, thicken with the yolks of six eggs beaten smooth, with a cupful of cream and the juice of a lemon. Season with salt, pepper, and grated nutmeg. Serve hot with croutons.

We have paid death claims to the amount of $193,000 and have never refused to pay a just claim.

Because of our splendid service and fairness and promptness, etc., Lubbock Mutual Aid has become a household word. Average cost for last two years $9.46 1/2 per $1000 policy.

We don't solicit on demerits of competition. Our own Merits are sufficient. Some people seem to think it pays to tell the prospective buyer all the uncomplimentary things possible about a competitor, trying to make a bad impression, then tell all the good about what he is offering, all of which is generally a good sign that he is feeling the effects of competition, and sometimes the would-be customer don't get all the facts from such parties, so we advise it is better to hear from the other side before closing up with the knocker.

Santa Fe Railroad A Great Factor In Development of Plains

(By J. J. Ross)
 There exists no greater influence in the worlds commerce, nor in the building of community life, than the atmosphere that radiates from the elements of this great commercial barrier.

Through their scientific research of both labor and community life, is being felt all along, their constructive system, the power and influence of co-operation and service.

This great influence is being felt from the commercial or motive power, down to the man that drives the spikes that unite these strong ribbons of steel and make safe the lives of men and property.

From this great commercial barrier of commerce, has followed in its wake, commercial development, community building, and life, and as this great highway of commerce plies its way from county to county, and state to state, the gates of commerce and production swing wide, on the hinges of opportunity.

Through this well defined scientific commercial institution, is bringing to bear the higher ideals of labor, and through its great constructive ideas, have brought a closer relationship between capitol and labor.

We speak of this great commercial organization in terms of education under those scientific rules and regulations that have become so concrete in its form and application, as to purify and raise the standard in the elements of the labor world.

There is no organization of such gigantic nature and magnitude that has sought through the application of its massive commercial business, as to enter the avenues of community life and community building. This, in a great measure, radiates that atmosphere of co-operation that, in time, will revolutionize the standard of the labor world.

Through this Institution and by its close cooperation and service, with its various branches of labor have sought to bring about a closer and a more thorough understanding between the employer and employees.

This great influence is today being felt throughout its system of community building and community life. It has in many ways, sought to relieve from out of its working interest, those undesirable characters that live and exist as leaches or drones.

Through one of its organizations termed and styled Safety First has opened the way and provided the means and material of a more thorough and concrete understanding and forms the basis principle of the solvent power that brings a closer relationship of every avenue of interest.

Through this Safety organization those great principles of church and school, community building and community life have sought to develop and purify the elements of labor.

Through the application of those terms called Safety, has given to its officials a more thorough knowledge and understanding in the atmosphere of the labor world.

As we meet with this railroad fraternity, and hear them discuss those scientific and yet logical terms of Safety first, we are lead to believe that through the workings and cooperation of this great system, will, in time, be one of the great solvent powers in the building and purifying of elements of our society.

Here we are taught the realization of our duties one to the other, and again, are we brought, both labor and capitol into the same atmosphere that shows in terms, the relationship of one to the other.

We find the local moral of the men who direct the business interest of this great concern, walking out and taking part and sharing their interest and responsibilities in the various avenues of community life.

We further find them holding the throttle and directing and pointing out the highways of ideal citizenship. From this great system in its modern application, radiates that atmosphere that builds that highways of education and Christianity.

No longer is this type of labor isolated and separated from community life, but as one great family are today sharing in the building and construction of both school and church, and not as mortar and brick, but whose lives are build into community life and are shouldering the duties and responsibilities of a citizen of this great common wealth.

This Institution has so designed its application of service a to be felt in every avenue of organic life within our community, we must say that through this great school of education known as Safety First, will soon burn up the dross and purify the elements of the labor world.

It has been designed through the application of scientific mechanical construction through all of its constructive parts, the true application of Service and Safety, and through this great school of community building and Safety first, we are being drawn closer to gather with a more thorough understanding of our relationship one to the other.

"The first time I took Cardui I was in an awful bad way," says Mrs. Ora Carille, R. F. D. 5, Troup, Texas. "I went fishing one day. A heavy storm came up and I got soaking wet in the rain. I was afflicted with awful smothering spells. I could not get my breath. My mother had some in the house that she was taking, so she immediately began giving it to me. In a few days I got all right. "Last fall I got run-down in health. I was weak and puny and I began to suffer. I would get so I could hardly walk. Having taken Cardui before, I sent to the store for a bottle of it. Almost from the first dose I could feel an improvement.

"Cardui has helped me a lot and I am glad to recommend it. I don't feel like the same woman I was last fall. My appetite is good now, and I'm sure it's Cardui that's made it pick up."

"AN ODE TO TEXAS"

(By Dorothy C. Wilson.)

How I love dear old Texas,
 How dear she will always be.
 How I love, Yes I love her,
 And I guess that she loves me.

Not the East, South, or West,
 Nor even so the North.
 But 'twas just old Texas,
 That bro't this daughter forth.

Oh the rattle-snake is dangerous,
 The Coyote very mean,
 And the prairie-dog the derndest
 Little dog you ever seen.

Oh the Mesquite is very pretty,
 The Cactus thorny too.
 The blue bonnet the consarndest
 Little Flower to be blue.

But the prairies of old Texas,
 Are very hard to beat.
 I'll love them, how I'll love them,
 'Till before the judgment seat.

Days may pass unheeded,
 Years will still go by,
 But the glory of this land,
 Old Texas, will never, never die.

They all may have Virginia,
 All the praises that they say.
 But me—I'll take old Texas,
 For ever and a day.

I'll sing my song of six-pence,
 My pockets full of wheat,
 I'll stand by my old Texas,
 For she never can be beat.

The people are kind-hearted,
 The strangers welcomed too,
 And the natives very many,
 If they are just a few.

We all are not hy-toneys,
 Nor sproutin horns galore,
 Just ask it of a Texan,
 It'll be sure to make him sore.

We all are just plain people,
 A lookin' for the right,
 And we'll strive and look and listen,
 'Till we see the end in sight.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

Meat with vegetable combination will serve a wholesome main dish with a small amount of meat, which will prove an advantage to both the purse and family.

Bird's Nest.—Mash six cooked potatoes, season to taste and add half a beaten egg; the mixture should be quite stiff. With buttered hands make into balls the size of an egg. Lay these in a shallow buttered tin quite far apart and press into each the bottom of a small cup, thus making nests. Brush with the remainder of the egg and a little water added and set into a hot oven to brown. Keep hot. While the nests are browning, run a half-pound of broiled steak through the meat grinder and add enough seasoned tomato sauce to moisten liberally; bring to a boil and with it fill the hot nests, laying on top two or three very small cooked and buttered onions. Serve on a hot platter with hot buttered toast on which is served buttered asparagus.

Roast Pig.—The pig should not be over six or eight weeks old. Wash and wipe dry after it is cleaned and prepared for roasting. Stuff with forcemeat used for stuffing duck, seasoning it more highly and mixing with beaten eggs. Stuff and sew up the opening, skewering the legs under the pig. Dredge all over with flour, place in a large pan and roast until well done, allowing half an hour for each pound. If the skin cracks during the last of the baking, rub it over with the drippings. Make a gravy from some of the fat, adding cider instead of water. Serve on a bed of watercress or parsley, garnished with an apple or lemon, a paper frill for the tail.

Fish Scallop.—Flake any sort of left-over fish, carefully removing the skin and bones; mix with a highly seasoned cream sauce; do not make it too moist. Place in buttered scallop shells. Pipe highly-seasoned mashed potato to which a beaten egg has been added, all over the top in whorls. Set in a hot oven until the tips of the potato are brown.

POULTRY FACTS

PROPER BALANCE OF RATIONS IN SUMMER

Thousands of hens are practically forced to stop laying because of the fact that many farmers stop feeding mash and increase the grain feed of their flocks. To get the most eggs from the flock, it is just as necessary that the hens have dry mash in the summer as it is in the winter.

Laying hens should be forced to eat more dry mash than they do grain in summer. A good way to do this is to give the hens a supply of mash and keep them penned up until ten o'clock in the morning without any grain. If the hens cannot be confined they can still be forced to eat enough mash, if grain is fed only at night and the dry mash kept before them at all times in self-feeders or hoppers.

One of the main reasons for keeping up the feeding of mash during the summer is to insure the best results when the flock is culled in the fall. All flocks should be culled sometime between the middle of July and the first of September, but if the hens are not properly fed during the summer they will all stop laying, thereby making it impossible to tell the good layers from the poor ones at culling time.

A good dry mash can be made from 150 pounds of bran, 150 pounds of shorts, 100 pounds of cornmeal and 100 pounds of tankage containing at least 60 per cent protein. Some grain should be fed along with this mash. Corn alone will do, but if oats or wheat are available it is best to add 80 pounds of one of these grains to every 70 pounds of corn, to give variety in the ration. Oyster shells or ground limestone should be before the hens at all times, as they need this material in making the egg shell.

If as much milk as one gallon for every 30 hens is available, the dry mash can be omitted from the feed of the hens and only the grain and the milk fed.

Doctoring of Chickens Not to Be Recommended

The doctoring of poultry is not to be recommended except in case of a few diseases such as chicken pox, colds and cases of intestinal worms. There are two very good reasons for this belief: First, the unit of production of the individual bird is so small on the commercial plant that if a man's time is worth anything it is too valuable to spend treating sick chickens individually unless they are show specimens of great individual value. Second, the cured chicken is always a menace to the health of the flock, because its identity is likely to be overlooked or forgotten, and it goes into the breeding pen and may perpetuate through the offspring that constitutional weakness that was one of the primary causes of its being ill. The opinion of practically all poultrymen who rear large numbers of fowls is that in a large proportion of cases of disease the birds ought to be killed. The only treatment recommended for the poultryman is to give treatment when it can be applied to a flock conveniently and with reasonable expectation of beneficial results. Treat individuals only when the treatment is simple, easy and needs to be administered but a very few times.—Storrs (Conn.) Egg Laying Contest.

Egg-Eating Habit Quite Difficult to Overcome

The egg-eating habit is one easily acquired but very difficult to break, once it becomes firmly established. Often the hatchet is the best remedy. However, if one takes certain measures, it may often be stopped without resorting to the extreme penalty.

One should arrange all nests so that they will be quite dark by placing under dropping boards or by having entrance from back of nest. Catch birds that show egg stains about head and file or clip front of bill till quite blunt.

Feed birds plenty of oyster shell or lime and include some animal feed like milk, meat scrap, or tankage in the ration. A craving for substances in meat often leads to the habit.

The hens should be kept busy and interested by providing deep litter to scratch in. Let birds run out of doors whenever weather conditions permit.

Finish Broiler Cockerels

Finish the broiler cockerels by milk feeding, ten days or two weeks. While carrying on this feeding, take time to look up the best market outlet. This is best done by getting in touch with several poultry buyers in near-by cities. Tell them just what you have, and if you fit the broilers for market you can, as a rule, get top quotations.

Sunshine Hurts Chicks

Too much hot sunshine is not good for baby chicks and causes many inexplicable losses among birds that are apparently perfectly healthy in every way and ought to thrive but do not. For the first two or three days the little fellows should be sheltered from the sun entirely and given conditions of semi-shade thereafter. They should at all times have cool shade that they can run to whenever they want it. This, of course, applies to all classes of chickens.

WILLIAM FOX presents The LAST MAN ON EARTH

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, JUNE 5th and 6th

Startling possibilities of what would happen if woman continues to vanquish man in his own fields. "That's all there is—There isn't any more"—No ma'am, there is not another man alive anywhere! The lot of the last man is unenviable, he goes on the auction block and the bidding is lively—He had so many sweethearts he didn't know what to do.

It's a story of a man and his maids—millions of them—a man who wanted only one. The season's surprising laugh feast.

Points on Tree Planting in City Given in Bulletin

A new Farmers' Bulletin, No. 1208, "Trees for Town and City Streets," by F. L. Mulford, horticulturist, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, describes in detail the various oaks for street use in different regions, as well as about 100 other trees or varieties. Elms are given second place in desirability for city streets, and sycamores third. Maples are considered less desirable than has been generally supposed. Except the Lombardy poplar most varieties of poplar are not recommended.

Before ornamental tree-planting for town or city streets is undertaken, a number of important points must be given attention. Trees native to one part of the United States may not thrive in another region. Some trees are objectionable because their roots penetrate defective sewers, while others grow their roots so near the surface that they have a tendency to heave or crack sidewalks.

Only vigorous trees that will withstand the dust and smoke of a city should be planted to ornament the streets. The root system should be hardy, not easily affected by unusual soil conditions, by restricted feeding areas, or by root pruning in case street improvements are made. The shape of the top of the tree when full-grown should be suited to the width of the street. The foliage should not be too dense, and should be of a pleasing texture and color.

Where there is a lack of sunshine in winter it is desirable to admit all the light possible by using only deciduous trees. The bulletin gives a table showing the differences in fall coloring and the date of dropping of all foliage. Narrow streets, it is pointed out, should be planted with tall, slender trees like the Lombardy poplar or small trees. Broad streets may be planted with spreading trees.

In the heart of a city, where the greatest difficulty is experienced in getting trees to grow, the althaus will probably thrive when nearly all other kinds fail. The sycamore and the London plane are also good. The Carolina poplar will frequently grow in such places, and its use may sometimes be warranted. Consultation with the nearest state agricultural experiment station or with the United States Department of Agriculture would be advisable before deciding upon extensive tree-planting.

Tenants' Basement Garage

No American motorist who has driven in the busy district of any big city has failed to realize the seriousness of the parking problem which the tremendous popularity of the motor car has created in recent years. Streets, laid out before motor vehicles were dreamed of, prove utterly inadequate for accommodating the cars which the public would like to park in the business district. That some solution must be found at an early day is manifest. Of peculiar interest, therefore, is the practical solution which has been worked out by the management of a new office building in Los Angeles housing thousands of persons, a large number of whom use motor cars. Not only has provision been made for tenants of the building, but for patrons of these tenants as well, thereby giving occupants of this big structure a decided advantage over those in other buildings.

In the construction of this skyscraper an underground garage was built at the rear of the lot and adjoining the office building. This fireproof storage space accommodates nearly 200 cars and is reached from the street by broad ramps. Stalls in the garage rent for $20 per month. Here a moderate temperature obtains at all times and a car and its contents are safe from exposure to the elements and also from thieves.—Popular Mechanics.

How to Figure Repair Costs

One of the most complete and concise paragraphs ever printed for the advice of the prospective home owner regarding maintenance costs and expenses of home ownership appears in the recently issued pamphlet titled "How to Own Your Own Home," prepared by the division of building and housing, Department of Commerce. It advises: "In addition to payments on principal and interest on a home, allowance must be made for some or all of the following expenses: (a) Renewals and repairs, (b) property tax and special assessments, (c) insurance, (d) water tax or rent, (e) accessories and (f) improvements. In addition to the above, some owners add in the interest which they would otherwise receive on the amount of their cash payment or equity."

Jay Walking Ordered

In many large cities pedestrians are subject to arrest for crossing streets except at regular crossings. In Greece, however, at stated intervals jay walking has been requested by the authorities. This was whenever the town became crowded with refugees and their regular citizens were asked to jay walk to avoid rubbing against the crowds of refugees who were suspected of carrying typhus germs. The sidewalks swarmed with women and children begging charity.

Ed Walker of Garza county, charged with shooting R. C. Dalton near Southland, March 10th, was released Saturday at Lubbock after making bond aggregating $7500 on four charges, three of which were liquor charges.

Dallas county citizens did a plenty to the two negro rapists and murderers—the jury in each case gave them, in a few minutes, the death penalty, and they are now in the death cell at the Huntsville penitentiary.

Entered as second-class mail matter at the postoffice at Slaton, Texas.

Dog days are on us—from many South Central Texas points we read of mad dogs. Recently at Fort Worth a young girl of sixteen died from the bite of a stray dog she befriended and this was the occasion for the city officials to clean up on all stray and worthless dogs found around the city. The latest dogcare is in Dallas, where a pet poodle bit a woman and several children and now they are dreading the possibility of hydrophobia. While many dogs are faithful and affectionate it would not be amiss to clean out the surplus and worthless loafer dogs, and if anyone has a dog they are really fond of they should take the precaution to keep them on their own premises. The average person cares nothing for your dog and certainly does not want to be bitten by your useless pet.

Some time ago a man was taken into custody in a Texas city for wife desertion. "For four years and nine months I turned over my check every Saturday night to my wife," said the alleged A. W. O. L. "She claimed to be sick and wouldn't do her housework. A doctor diagnosing the case, said she was only lazy. I used to come in after a sixteen-hour run and have to make up my own bed," said the defendant.

The fact that last Sunday afternoon, in coming from Lubbock to Slaton, in a distance of about 1 mile, we met or passed more than fifty motor vehicles, is ample indication that West Texas highways are very generously made use of.

Thomas R. Marshall, vice president of the United States under Woodrow Wilson, died in Washington, D. C., June 1st. He died from a cold contracted on a recent trip in Indiana. He was 77 years old.

In last year's cotton contest for more cotton on fewer acres, a Wilbarger farmer showed his product was grown for less than 10 cents, but the average contestant showed an expense of around 23 cents a pound.

In the trial of Mrs. Collier at Haskell for the part she was charged in taking, when her husband killed Buster Robertson, she was given ten years. Her attorneys gave notice of appeal.

The June Bride

A PENNY OR A NICKEL?

Which is it that you bring to Sunday School? Wouldn't it be just as easy to use a dime or a quarter, or even a half dollar occasionally?

You wouldn't mind spending a quarter of a half-dollar on your self. Why be stingy with the Lord. Give Him a half-dollar or quarter through the Sunday School offerings every Sunday.

ARE YOU REALLY

Interested in carrying forward the Lord's work? Do your deeds prove that you are? Do you make other things first and let your duty to God go unheeded? If so, God pity you. God pity all of us to the extent that we neglect His Cause in preference to other things. Ask yourself the plain question, "Am I guilty of doing this thing?" If you are, get right, and get right NOW.

The world thinks of food and drink, bright clothing and pleasures? The church member SHOULD be different. These material things are important, perhaps, to a certain extent, but there are things that outweigh them a thousand to one. How much do you THINK along the line of your opportunity and duty toward the risen Christ?

In many of the old Bible stories God guided people not by opening doors, but by shutting them. The word of the Lord again and again is not, "This is the way," but, "That is not the way!" In an amazingly large number of cases we are guided through life not by invitations but by prohibitions. At the busy centers of any city traffic is directed by policemen for the most part keeping people back. It is by stopping people that life is made safe in the streets. Whenever a certain number of people forget that a crisis is brewing, "Thou shalt not" was the first explicit word of God.—Century.

Strive to overcome your worst faults. You have them, and so do I. That's why we need to constantly improve ourselves.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

If I had a million dollars I would give a hundred thousand to the work of the Lord!

If I had a hundred thousand dollars it would be a pleasure to give ten thousand of it to good works.

If I had ten thousand dollars I might be persuaded to give a thousand to my church or my denomination.

If the Lord had blessed me with a thousand dollars, if I could afford it, I would give a hundred to missions or some other worthy cause.

If I had a hundred dollars, and if nothing happened to keep me away from church next Sunday, I suspect that I would drop a quarter in the basket when it passed, because I hate to let it go by without putting something in it when the others are dropping money in.

These are old familiar tunes with which the hearts of many are in harmony and to which some turn to save a conscience which tells them they are not doing their full duty. They are similar to the conversation of two native converts on a mission field, as told by one of our well-known laymen:

"If you had a hundred sheep would you give fifty of them for the Lord's work?"

"Yes, I would."

"Would you do the same if you had a hundred cows?"

"Yes, I would."

"Would you do the same if you had a hundred horses?"

"Yes, I would."

"If you had two pigs would you give one of them to Him?"

"No, I wouldn't; and you have no right to ask me when you know I have two pigs."

ACUFF NEWS.

(Delayed.)

Everyone is busy planting their crops. We have been fortunate not to have any hail yet.

School was out Friday, May 22. A large crowd enjoyed the entertainment of the primary grades Tuesday night and one of the largest crowds that ever assembled in our auditorium enjoyed the play at the high school room entitled "All a Mistake." Last Friday night, May 22, and next Friday night, May 29, the seventh and eighth grades will play "Civil Service." Be sure and see it. It will be worth your time. No admission. It is part of the school's entertainment, but was delayed an account of an accident.

Every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock the Christian people have Sunday school. Everyone is invited to come.

The ladies club met at Mrs. Ashley Davis' last club day. It is progressing rapidly. Several new members were received. Next Wednesday, June 3, it will meet at Mrs. J. N. Montgomery's.

Miss Ine M. Hall and Mr. J. E. Hammett were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hall, prominent citizens of the Acuff community, May 23. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. N. Norcross of Lorenzo. The bride is a niece of Rev. A. W. Hall, pastor of the First Methodist church of Ranger. Miss Hall was very popular among the young people of this community and surrounding communities. She was captain of the girls' basket ball team who were defeated only one time during the past term. We are sorry to lose such a good citizen, but we are delighted to say we still have Miss Vera, her younger sister, who has a greater ability. One of the best students of the Acuff high school. We, the people of Acuff, unite in offering this couple our wishes for the best of success in the future.

HAS FAMILY REUNION ON NINETIETH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. E. A. Hardesty, formerly of Slaton, but who now lives with a son at Lamesa, celebrated her 90th birthday Tuesday of this week, and on that occasion all her children were present, we understand, together with a good number of her grand children. All of the family of Rev. Jno. P. Hardesty of Slaton attended the celebration except Miss Irma Mae, who was visiting in Abilene.

WILL VISIT EUROPE

M. H. Klattendorff and daughters, Misses Clara and Lena, expect to leave the latter part of this week for New York, where they will take a steamer for Europe. They expect to visit in several foreign countries before returning to the states.

ENLARGING STORE BUILDING

G. L. Sledge, manager of the Slaton Second Hand store, is this week enlarging his floor space in the building by an eleven by forty foot addition to his store building.

or be believers in it;
A light there is for every soul that takes the pains to win it.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS

While the blueberries or huckleberries are in the market stir in a cupful into the griddle-cake batter and see what delicious cakes they make.

It is best to cut meat from the menu entirely or serve it but once or twice a week. With eggs, milk and cheese in abundant, with all the seasonable fruits and vegetables it will not be missed or needed.

Luncheon Eggs.—Wash and chop one-quarter pound of fresh mushrooms; melt one tablespoonful of butter in a saucepan and add the mushrooms, stirring until the moisture is evaporated; add one tablespoonful of flour, blend well, add one-half cupful of chicken stock, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper. Cook two minutes. Cut six hard-cooked eggs into halves, remove the yolks and mix with the mushroom sauce. Fill the eggs with this mixture and set them into a baking dish, surround with tomato sauce and serve when well-heated through. Just before serving place a fillet of sardine on each egg.

String Beans With Cheese.—Prepare the beans, cutting them lengthwise in two or three strips. Cook in boiling water until tender. Drain and season with salt and cayenne. For each two cupfuls of beans add one-half cupful of grated cheese, one-fourth cupful of top milk and one tablespoonful of butter. Stir until well heated and serve at once.

Sautéed Cucumbers.—Cut peeled cucumbers into slices lengthwise, roll in seasoned flour and fry in butter. Serve with drawn butter sauce.

Summer Squash With Tomatoes and Corn.—Cook one small onion chopped in four tablespoonfuls of butter until the onion is yellow. Add corn cut from four ears, three tomatoes cut into cubes and one small summer squash cut into small pieces. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and simmer covered thirty minutes.

Rice and Apples.—Cook cored peeled apples in sirup until tender. Arrange in a serving dish with cooked rice. Fill the cavities of the apple with bright-colored jelly, arrange the rice and apples and pour over the sirup.

Will the love that you're so rich in Build a fire in the kitchen,
And the little god of love turn the spit?

SABBATH-DAY MEALS

The average family expects food a bit nicer and more out of the ordinary on the Sabbath. With the overworked mother this is often an added burden. In many homes the children are taught to be thankful and as Saturday is usually a free day for the school-age child, part of the time may be profitably used in helping about the house. Vegetables may be prepared ready for cooking the day before, dessert made and salads ready for mixing.

When a roast is to be served it is cooked on Saturday and reheated for the Sunday dinner, saving that extra care. Mother needs a rest day as well as any member of the family.

A nice custom in some homes is to allow the father and boys, if any, to prepare the Sunday supper. With ingredients at hand they may make the things they like and it is usually a pleasure they look forward to. Of course they are not as careful at first about dishes and "messing up" the kitchen, but it will not be long before they will learn just how to do things.

What a comfort it is to know that the men and boys in the family are capable of preparing a wholesome meal when the emergency comes. It is worth much to them and to those who need to be served.

Gelatin desserts and those of Jello may be prepared the day before, and with whipped cream make a most tasty dessert.

For supper an omelet or milk toast, a rarebit or sandwiches with a hot cup of cocoa may be easily prepared.
If cup cakes are prepared the day before one may fill them with whipped cream if a very dainty cake is desired.

Ham Omelet.—Take smoked ham or bacon, cut into small bits and fry in a hot frying pan until well browned.
Then add an egg or two for each person with a teaspoonful of cold water to each egg, beating all together until foamy. Pour in the egg and cook until well done on the bottom. Place in a hot oven to finish baking on top. Serve hot at once.

Hot cream soups are another easily prepared dish and one which the most of us enjoy.
