ALLIES DRIVE TOWARD TUNISIA

What's Cooking?-- Plenty Good Food For Army Men

West Texas hospitality, almost as famous as the Southern variety, will be on display today when soldiers from the Army Air Forces Bombardier School will be special guests of Big Spring families for Sunday dinner.

Troops Land Near Oran— U.S. Rangers and their equipment land on a beach near Oran, Algeria, by landing barges from the troopships that carried them to North Africa to open the "second front."

FORCES SEEK EARLY MEETING WITH AXIS

By WES GALLAGHER Associated Press War Correspondent With The A.E.F. in Africa ALLIED FORCE HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Nov. 14. (AP) — Striking by land, sea and air, British and American forces drove eastward today from Bone, 50 miles outside the Tunisian border, while field information showed the axis was rushing reinforcements by sea and air into Tunisia.

French resistance is believed here to have been inspired particularly by the presence of Italian troops who are believed to comprise a majority of the invasion force the axis is rushing into Tunisia, which long has been claimed by Italy. Land forces advancing upon the only remaining part of the French north African empire not occupied by the allies are protected from the sea by British and American warships and move under a cover of fighter planes.

American fighter planes now are operating with the RAF in the drive against Tunisia. Two American paratroopers, Capt. William Mair of Stillwater, Minn., and Private Kenneth Gray, 25, of Mahan, W. Va., told of the part these hardy specialists played in the North African campaign—and incidentally disclosed that when they left England they didn't know where they were going and didn't know they were in North Africa until they landed near Oran.

Mary Astor Asks Another Divorce LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14. (AP)—Movie Actress Mary Astor, 34, has filed suit for divorce against her third husband, Manuel Del Campo, now in the Royal Canadian air force. She charges the former Mexico City insurance man with mental cruelty. They eloped to Yuma, Ariz., in February, 1937.

Senators Forced To Report For Poll Tax Filibuster

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—By the unusual expedient of ordering his sergeant at arms to arrest absentee members, the senate summoned to quorum today for filibustered discussion of the measure to abolish state poll taxes as a prerequisite for voting in federal elections. For three hours and 42 minutes after it convened at noon, a minority of the senate sat twiddling thumbs while ineffectual attempts were made to obtain a quorum of 42. Administration leaders were determined not to yield an inch to the proponents of delay by an adjournment to Monday.

Aussies Close In On Japs

Buna Base Of Nips Flanked SIX, WHO HELPED SABATEUR, FOUND GUILTY OF TREASON

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Sunday, Nov. 15. (AP)—Australians who fought across the Owen Stanley mountains and Americans flown to the battle scene in aerial transports are closing in on the Jap-held coastal base of Buna, in northeastern New Guinea, the high command reported today. The rapid advance, made possible by the recent encirclement and complete destruction of more than 500 Japs at Olivi and Gorari, represented the allies' first bid for a major foothold on the north coast—a step toward running the Japs out of all New Guinea.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14. (AP)—Six relatives and friends of the executed Nazi saboteur Herbert Haupt were convicted tonight by a federal court jury in Illinois' first treason trial. They face possible sentences ranging from five years imprisonment and $10,000 fines to death. Federal Judge William J. Campbell will fix the penalties later. The jury deliberated 2 hours and 50 minutes in bringing in the second treason conviction in 148 years of American history.

MOSCOW, Sunday, Nov. 15. (AP)—Three days of continuous attacks in the Stalingrad factory area have cost the Germans several thousand dead and have gained them only a few yards in a single street of that battered city, the Russians announced early today. The Soviet midnight communiqué also told of fresh Russian advances in the area of Nalchik, deep in the Caucasus, and of enemy attacks repulsed with heavy losses near Tuapse on the Black Sea front.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—A presiding officer signed warrants for the arrest of eight members. The eight included Senators Doxey (D-Miss), Maybank (D-SC), O'Daniel (D-Tex), McKellar (D-Tenn), Russell (D-Ga.), Hill (D-Ala) and Overton (D-La), opponents of the poll tax bill, and Senator Bunker (D-NeV).

My, How He Did Run! LONDON, Sunday, Nov. 15. (AP)—The German Freedom Radio station said early today that Nazi Marshal Erwin Rommel is "not with his troops. He is in Munich."

REV. BOB SHULER Working toward an enriched spiritual life to go hand in hand with a growing patriotic consciousness, Big Spring pastors, through their association, will open a two-week city-wide cooperative evangelistic campaign today. Here to lead in the meeting is Dr. Bob Shuler, nationally known pastor of the Trinity Methodist church in Los Angeles. Dr. Shuler arrived Saturday and planned to speak at the Sunday morning worship hour at the First Methodist church—where the revival services will be held—"Back to Bethel."

Rickenbacker Is Rescued -- Again

All Seven Men In Missing Plane Accounted For WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, the man who always comes back, has done it again—rescued by a big navy Catalina flying boat after three perilous weeks adrift in a tiny rubber raft on the broad expanse of the South Pacific. The navy announced the rescue today, adding that all seven of the airmen who, with Rickenbacker, were forced down by an empty gas tank Oct. 21, had now been accounted for. But one, Sergeant Alexander Kazemaryk, died on the raft and was buried at sea.

REVIEWING THE BIG SPRING WEEK

It's a fine thing Big Spring is attempting to do today in inviting hundreds of soldiers into local homes. Perhaps it is well to remember that in dealing with so many people, it is quite impossible that there will be no disappointments. Some soldiers may not find hosts—and some hosts may have big dinners to eat alone. But in these cases, let's hope all take it in good spirits.

Howard county lost a good county judge last week—when Walton Morrison, who has joined the army, resigned. But it also got a good one in James T. Brooks, who did just what Morrison did some 25 years ago.

The past week has been observed as National 4-H Club Achievement week. Perhaps too few paid much attention to it—but it was important nevertheless. In all fairness, it must be admitted that so far our rural boys and girls are contributing more to the war effort than their city cousins—and we salute them.

Hollywood Hits A New High In Star Combines With 'Tales Of Manhattan'

Restricted in the use of materials, Hollywood is expressing its traditional lavishness in a freer and more generous use of talent. Conditions in Hollywood production being what they are, one hears no more talk about one million, two million, three million, four million dollar productions. Hollywood talks now of economy—that one-dollar word—in production. This does not mean, however, that the day of extravaganzas is over; that the super-super are out for the duration. Hollywood still talks big, and thinks big.

Consider "Tales of Manhattan," which Boris Morros and S. P. Eagle have just produced for 20th Century-Fox, and which plays today and Monday at the Ritz theater.

Its generous use of talent, rather than of materials, principally distinguishes it. It boasts of almost two score name players, ten writers, two producers; five notable musicians worked on its score; four designers fashioned its costumes—and so on, with the exception of the fact that it has only one director—happily, Julien Duvivier. "Tales of Manhattan" represents an epochal departure from any other film produced—for although some pictures have attempted to include many stars, no film has ever come close to approximating the size and stature of the stars included in "Tales." Producer Morros taxed his ingenuity to assemble the list—but the effort was more than justified by the results.

Charles Boyer, Rita Hayworth, Ginger Rogers, Henry Fonda, Edward G. Robinson, Charles Laughton, Paul Robeson, "Rochester" and Ethel Waters head the list, and filling every foot of film with some deft bit of humor and pathos, suspense and excitement is the mightiest cast of all time, in performance, as well as numbers.

There's Thomas Mitchell and Eugene Pallette, Cesar Romero, Gail Patrick, Roland Young, Eliza Lancaster, George Sanders, James Gleason, the Hall Johnson Choir and many, many more of your film favorites.

Director Duvivier has mounted all this with clever camera magic—deftly blending the brilliant parts into one superb motion picture. Words pale before the magnificence of "Tales of Manhattan," for it is indeed one of the most enthralling of all films ever produced. Everything is of epic proportions.

The most successful writers of stage and screen collaborated on the masterful screen play—Ben Hecht, Ferenc Molnar, Donald Ogden Stewart, Samuel Hoffenstein, Alan Campbell, Ladislav Fodor, L. V. Radni, L. Gorog, Lamar Trotti and Henry Blankfort. All of these share in the credit for the screenplay so generously endowed by 20th Century-Fox.

Stars, Stars—The greatest accumulation of stellar players which appears in one of the season's major film productions, "Tales of Manhattan," which is at the Ritz theater today and Monday. A series of related episodes string together in dramatic fashion, "Tales of Manhattan" has such a list as Charles Boyer, Rita Hayworth, Henry Fonda, Ginger Rogers, Charles Laughton, Paul Robeson, Edward G. Robinson, James Gleason, Ethel Waters, Rochester, Thomas Mitchell, Cesar Romero, and others.

Richard Arlen Scraps Again In New Film

—And in this corner, we have Richard Arlen, still fistic champion of Filmdom!

That's a title that the handsome screen leading man richly deserves, because he has fought and won more movie fights than any other screen actor.

Arlen battles his way through his two-hundredth screen scrap in the Paramount drama of the oil fields, "Wildcat," which plays today and Monday at the Queen theatre, co-starring Arline Judge and featuring a notable cast including William Frawley, Larry "Buster" Crabbe, Arthur Hunnicutt and Elisha Cook, Jr.

The pugilistic star engages in his latest movie combat with husky Larry "Buster" Crabbe, former Olympic swimming champion and all-around athlete. The "Wildcat" story has Arlen putting the slug on Crabbe for setting fire to his oil well. The resulting knock-knocking contest is one of the most realistic in movie fight history.

Arlen, who stars mostly in action pictures, seldom has worked in a motion picture in which he didn't have at least one tough tussle. To keep in constant shape for these movie bouts, Arlen has to keep himself physically fit. To do this, he visits a gym at least twice a week for stiff workouts.

Recently, Arlen received a letter from one of his younger admirers urging him to challenge Joe Louis for the heavyweight championship of the world. Arlen tactfully replied that, while he appreciated the compliment, he had decided to stick to motion picture acting and leave the ring fighting to the professionals.

COMMUNITIES

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Neworthy have received word of the birth of a grandson, Mark Henry III, in a San Angelo hospital. The infant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Henry Neworthy, Jr., followed the example of other relatives by selecting a holiday—Armistice—for his birthday. A great uncle, Tom Neworthy, was born on Christmas; an aunt, Mrs. Eddie Lett, was born on Thanksgiving; an uncle, Johnny Neworthy, was born on his birthday anniversary; and a cousin, Deana Neworthy Johnson, was born on Easter. The mother was formerly Christina Montgomery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theo Montgomery of San Angelo.

County Has 77 Per Cent Of Tax Roll

Records show that 77.4 per cent, an unusually high figure, of the current taxes were paid during October, the county tax collector's office said Saturday.

Total amount of money collected is $195,280.49 which shrinks to $198,427.23 after a three per cent discount for October payment.

State taxes show a total of $21,485.42; county taxes, $58,858.07; and common school taxes, $54,937.00.

Discounts earned for payment of state taxes show $2,422.00; of county taxes, $1,764.45; and common school, $1,646.81.

There have been 1,000 poll taxes paid and 15 certificates of exemptions.

TEN RURAL SCHOOLS 100 PER CENT IN JUNIOR RED CROSS

Ten Howard county rural schools have already reported 100 per cent enrollment in the Junior Red Cross, Miss Twila Lomax, chairman of the drive which began Nov. 1 to continue through Nov. 15, announced Saturday.

Coahoma, Big Spring, Garner, Forsan and Garden City high schools and three rural schools have yet to report, Miss Lomax said, but enrollment there was expected to reach the 100 per cent goal also.

Junior Red Cross roll call activities have been in full swing for the past two weeks, and many schools already are engaged in production projects.

South Ward school has completed one hundred Thanksgiving menu covers to be distributed in hospitals, and Forsan school pupils have finished a number of game and lap boards for patients. Students of other schools have selected projects but are awaiting receipt of materials, many of which have been frozen and must now come through national Red Cross headquarters.

The object of Junior Red Cross membership is not money but service, and all pupils of every room which raises as much as fifty cents automatically become members. Each school is requested to participate in one phase of Red Cross work, either local, national or international. Local projects already concluded by many schools

J. D. Pilkington Services Held Saturday Afternoon

COLORADO CITY, Nov. 14 (SpI) Jasper Dean Pilkington, resident of Mitchell county for the last 22 years, died at his home in South Colorado City late Thursday. Funeral services were held at two o'clock Saturday afternoon with Kiker and Son Funeral Chapel in charge of arrangements.

Born in Alabama, December 24, 1876, Pilkington had been a farmer since his early manhood. He is survived by his widow, three daughters, Miss Thelma Pilkington of Junction, Mrs. Myra Orsar of Balmorhea, and Mrs. Lou Holmes of Littlefield. A brother, Will Pilkington, lives at Lipan.

Officers At Air School Get Dose Of Physical Training

If you see an army air force officer creaking along the street in a decidedly unmilitary manner then blame it on the officers' exercise program at Big Spring bombardier school.

Every officer, the top colonel down to the most basic second lieutenant, is required to participate in five hours of hard physical training each week. The program started last week at the bombardier school and the aches and sprains are legion already.

Lieut. James W. Tolbert, once a tackle at the University of Texas, is directing the program which is aimed to ration the spare tires that appear on the stomachs of desk officers.

Once every day the officers climb into their exercise clothes and head out to the playground. It starts out with a few simple exercises. Stout majors are forced to lean over and touch their toes. Some are even surprised to discover they still have toes, so long has it been since waist-lines obscured their view. After ten minutes of brisk calisthenics, the officers are sent on a two hundred yard run. Few threaten to challenge any existing speed records but some threaten to smash all steam producing marks as they puff across the finish line.

After the two hundred yard sprint, if what speed they attain could be called a sprint, the officers divide off into teams for such games as volley ball, badminton and touch football.

Lieut. Tolbert reported Saturday that the program was coming as better than he had expected. He pointed out the fact that many of the officers are men who have led inactive lives for several years and so muscular pains should be expected.

The enlisted men are viewing the whole affair with amusement right now. Lieut. Tolbert says that will change. They start the program this week.

Farmers Urged By Griffin To Meet Rationing Rules

Asserting that "it is not gasoline rationing, but mileage rationing," County Agent O. P. Griffin has urged all rural people who have cars to enter into the program "in spirit, whether we know exactly what the regulations are not."

He reminded his constituents that they were to go to their school houses on Nov. 20 or 21 (the 20th will be observed as a holiday in rural schools to facilitate registration). Excess tires, or any above four in use and one for spare, should be turned in before hand either as junk or by sale to the government through the American Railway Express.

Cards issued will make it possible to travel up to 480 miles in two months, said Griffin, and those who find it necessary to make more mileage may appeal to the gasoline rationing board for a supplemental card. He cautioned that "no matter how much gasoline you have, you cannot make more miles with your car than your cards call for."

The agent said that those who adhered to the spirit of the law might find benefits in the possibility of resaps and at any rate suggested that "whatever it takes we must keep our cars and trucks running in order to win the war."

AAA District Meet To Be Held Here Friday At Hotel

District meeting of the AAA will be held Friday, November 20th, at the Settles hotel for representatives of 20 counties in the district. Discussions will be on the annual vote on cotton marketing quota referendum.

J. B. Hall, state AAA representative from College Station, will be in charge of the meeting.

CAFE WORKERS—An urgent demand continues to exist at the United States Employment office for bookkeepers, stenographers, salespeople of all kinds, waitresses and cafe workers. Manager O. R. Rodden stated yesterday, adding that exceptionally good salaries were being offered in many instances for help of that kind.

"Farmers are still calling for cotton pickers," he said, "and are still getting them." Many crews are beginning to return home, and most of those now being secured are turn-over crews released by other farmers.

City Budget To Be Presented Next Week

City Manager Boyd McDaniel said he hoped to have the proposed city budget for the fiscal year beginning April 1, 1942, ready for presentation to the city commission at the time of its next meeting, scheduled for November 24.

Herald Man—New director of advertising for The Herald is R. Wesley Miller (above) who comes here from Denver, Colo. Miller, who principally will handle local display advertising, succeeds Herbert Feather who has entered the civilian pilot training program. Miller was for a number of years with the Rocky Mountain News in Denver, and also has been in the advertising departments of papers at Boulder, Colo., and El Paso. Mrs. Miller expects to join him here soon. They have a son in naval training.

Pressing duties of his office have caused a two-months' delay in preparation of the document, McDaniel stated.

Says Pressure On Reds Will Be Relieved

Henry C. Cassidy scored a journalistic coup when he obtained from Joseph Stalin a written statement expressing for the first time the Soviet premier's views on the second front question. Now Cassidy has scored again by obtaining from Stalin his reaction to the Allied thrust into North Africa.—Ed.

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Copyright, 1942, Associated Press
MOSCOW, Nov. 14—Joseph Stalin gave high praise today to the American and British campaign in North Africa and declared that it had created the prerequisites for a second front in Europe and shifted the political and military situation in Europe "in favor of the Anglo-Soviet-American coalition."

In his second letter to this correspondent in six weeks, the Soviet leader said the operations in North Africa could have been executed only by "first rate organizers" and pledged that "the Red army will fulfill its task with honor as it has been fulfilling it throughout the war."

The Soviet leader said the North African campaign would result in "a certain relief in pressure" on the Soviet union in the near future and provided the "prospect of the disintegration of the Italo-German coalition."

The authorized English translation of the text of Stalin's letter follows:
"Dear Mr. Cassidy:
"I am answering your questions which reached me on Nov. 12th.
"One. What is the Soviet view of the allied campaign in Africa?
"Answer. The Soviet view of this campaign is that it represents an outstanding fact of major importance demonstrating the growing might of the armed forces of the Allies and opening the prospect of the disintegration of the Italo-German coalition in the nearest future.

"The campaign in Africa refutes once more the skeptics who affirm that Anglo-American leaders are not capable of organizing a serious war campaign. There can be no doubt that no one but first rate organizers could carry out such serious war operations as the successful landings in North Africa across the ocean, as the quick occupation of harbors and wide territories from Casablanca to Ougie and as the smashing of Italo-German armies in the western desert, being effected with such mastery.

"Two. How effective has this campaign been in relieving pressure on the Soviet union and what further aid does the Soviet union await?
"Answer. It is yet too soon to say to what an extent this campaign has been effective in relieving immediate pressure on the Soviet union. But it may be confidently said that the effect will not be a small one and that a certain relief in pressure on the Soviet union will result in the nearest future.

"But that is not the only thing that matters. What matters first of all is that since the campaign in Africa means that the initiative has passed into the hands of our allies, the campaign changes radically the political and war situation in Europe in favor of the Anglo-Soviet-American coalition; that that campaign undermines the prestige of Hitlerite Germany as a leading force in the system of the axis powers and demoralizes Hitler's allies in Europe; that the campaign released France from her state of lethargy and mobilizes anti-Hitler forces of France and provides a basis for building up an anti-Hitler French army.

"Three. What possibility is there of Soviet offensive power in the east joining the Allies in the west to hasten the final victory?
"Answer. There need be no doubt that the Red army will fulfill its task with honor as it has been fulfilling it throughout the war.

"With respect,
(signed) J. STALIN."

COLORADO CITY, Nov. 14. — William H. Tinney, county farm supervisor of Mitchell county farm security administration, USDA, for the past two and a half years left Colorado City Friday to assume his new duties as associate cooperative specialist of the FSA in region twelve, with headquarters in Amarillo. Mrs. Tinney and the couple's two sons will join him later.

Coming here from a similar position in Garza and Kent counties with the office in Post, Charles O. Reed, Jr., will succeed Tinney in the Mitchell county position.

Flag Dedication To Feature First Presbyterian Anniversary Program

Men From Church To Be Shown On Its Service Flag

Flag dedication program will be the highlight of the Sunday morning services at the First Presbyterian church today at 11 o'clock.

To be dedicated is the service flag, studded with 15 stars to represent church members now in the armed service, the Christian flag and the American flag.

A group of cadets headed by Lieut. John W. Aufderheide will assist with the flag ceremony and in the pledge of allegiance to the American flag.

Cadet R. C. Winslow will act as trumpeter and Cadet W. R. Beasling will carry the colors. Other cadets include I. L. Brown and C. W. Blampied, color guards, T. J. Dempsey, J. E. Bogdanitsky, and W. J. Brehm, guards. Cadet A. A. Ameday and Cadet W. E. Archer will be the service flag carriers.

Men who will be honored in the service flag include Nathan Allen, Jr., John Hall Brown, Roy Bruce, W. H. Crenshaw, Temp Currie, Jr., Johnnie Johansen, William T. Mann, H. H. Moser, J. Fred Stizell, William S. Talbot, Richard W. Thompson, Herbert Whitney, W. W. Wilson, Don Yarbro, and Wesley Yarbro, all members of the church now with the armed services.

Mrs. Tom Tarwater of Lubbock, scheduled to begin a series of lectures on Bible scriptures Wednesday at the First Baptist church, has postponed her trip, the Rev.

H. G. Wiens said Saturday evening. Tentative date for the lectures has been set for the first week in December.

Sunday school for all classes will begin at 9:45 o'clock at the Main Street Church of God. Soldiers will find a Christian welcome at both Sunday school and general services.

Sermon at 11 o'clock will be on "Revival Foundations." There will be no evening services due to the city-wide cooperative revival at the Methodist church beginning at 8 o'clock.

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 15.

The Golden Text is: "The earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God" (Romans 8:19).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God. . . . The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the sons of God. . . . The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God" (Romans 8:14, 16).

The pastor, Rev. J. E. McCoy will preach on the subject, "Pointers From the Life of Paul," at the 10:45 a. m. service at the First Christian church. The choir will sing the anthem, "The Lord Has Need of You."

The church will join the cooperative revival services at the evening hour.

Marvin H. Clark, associate pastor, will deliver the morning sermon at Trinity Baptist church at 11 a. m. on the subject, "Redeemed By the Blood." Evening service will be at 8 o'clock on "The Cost of Salvation." The Old Time Gospel broadcast will be on the radio at 7 p. m. to bring the gospel message.

"The Vision That Moves" will be the subject of the pastor, Rev. Ivy Zohannan at the 11 o'clock service at the Church of the Nazarenes. Mrs. V. V. Sims will sing "The Love of God."

The Sunday evening service will be the closing of the two week revival campaign and the pastor's subject will be, "The Slighted Spirit." Evening service at 8 o'clock.

Gold Talks In North Africa, And Yanks Making It Speak

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Gold coin, long a stranger to the American palm, is working its potent magic for the doughboys in North Africa.

Now, official Washington claims that all it knows about the matter is what it reads in the papers, but it is willing to hazard a guess that a lot of the soldiers in the expeditionary force have been supplied with small amounts of gold pieces to help them out of tight spots. The hard yellow stuff has been mentioned at least twice in stories from the front. It gleamed briefly, but in large amount, in the exciting tale of Maj. Gen. Mark W. Clark's secret visit to the French colonies three weeks ahead of the invasion. Part of his equipment was $10,000 in gold—and it was lost overseas.

Then Lt. Roland F. Wooten, Jr., who made a crash landing in the Algerian desert, was guided back to his base by two tribesmen, who were rewarded with cigarettes, candy—gold pieces.

In the opinion of the aforementioned persons who disclaim knowledge but are willing to guess, it's fairly obvious that these two incidents are part of a general condition—General Clark and Lieutenant Wooten were hardly the two single individuals in the whole North African campaign who happened to find themselves in possession of gold, which may or may not have been American coins. And there are obvious reasons.

A desert tribesman, who never heard of Fort Knox, probably wouldn't give a ten-dollar bill a second glance, but he knows gold when he sees it, and trusts it where he wouldn't trust anything else.

Noted travelers in the desert, such as Doughty, Burton and Lawrence, all have reported how the desert has a way of reducing the business of living to final simplicity. Black is black, white is white, honor is absolute, nothing is relative—and money is gold.

Scout Groups To Share In Scrap Sale

Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and the Office of Civilian Defense will share equally in funds derived from the sale of the city scrap, Chairman Boyd McDaniel of the salvage committee advised yesterday.

Sale of the scrap, given final approval by the city commission Friday night, brought $221.80. Each of the organizations named will get one-third of the amount.

Disposition of school scrap piles remains undecided. Although it was presumed they would sell on the same market, McDaniel said he had not been informed as to what they intended to do with their portion of the money.

The scrap sold to the Big Spring Iron & Metal Co. for $5.25 a short ton.

Vaudeville dates its popularity from the time of the French Revolution.

Glenn Golden, Former Resident Here, Perfects Aerial Navigation Device

Years ago a long-legged little boy stood and gazed at the stars shining over Kansas wheat fields. Today he's still gazing at the stars, but through a new aircraft octant which he has designed to be used in aerial celestial navigation.

Glenn Golden, former Big Spring resident and a Captain for American Airlines, Inc., flying the Fort Worth to Nashville run, has been interested in celestial navigation since he started flying for American. In the last year he has designed and built two aircraft octants, simpler in design and less expensive to manufacture than any of the same quality on the market at the present time. Capt. Golden's octant employs one mirror in the optical system whereas the majority of aircraft octants have a system of prisms and mirrors. The readings on Capt. Golden's instrument are taken directly from the dial, and it is slightly smaller and weighs less than most of the instruments now available.

Capt. Golden has an unusually wide background in aviation. He started flying lessons in Wichita, Kansas, when he was eighteen years old, and even before then, back in high school days, he was building model airplanes when he should have been studying.

He has been working for American Airlines almost 12 years. His first job was as a mechanic in Dallas, then he worked as a dispatcher and radio operator before becoming station manager at Big Spring. He flew for the company three years as a First Officer before becoming a captain. Captain Golden's octant, which more than meets the standards of accuracy, is the type instrument so essential now for trans-oceanic flying.

Daughter Of Local Couple Sworn In As WAAC Member

Mrs. Gertrude Oppenheim, wife of Lt. James Oppenheim, who was last heard from at Clark's Field in the Philippines, has been sworn into the Woman's Army Auxiliary Corps at Lubbock, according to a letter from Lieut. Virginia Williams, WAAC recruiting officer.

Lieut. Williams wrote that Mrs. Oppenheim was sworn in on the WAAC weekly broadcast on Armistice Day. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Griffin of Big Spring, and has been residing in Midland.

Lieut. Williams added that she would be through Big Spring again in about a month. While on a recent trip here, the recruiting officer gave out some 49 applications to Howard county women for entrance into the WAAC.

Guadalcanal natives were driven inland half a century ago by invasions of head-hunters from nearby islands.

Texans Due To Assume More Important Committee Posts

By GEORGE STIMPSON
Herald Washington Correspondent

Now that it appears reasonably certain that the Democrats will retain at least nominal control of the house of representatives, it is possible to anticipate to some extent the position that Texans will occupy in the 78th Congress.

Assuming that the Democrats are able to organize the next House and that the seniority system is not upset, the large Republican gains will have little effect upon the relative positions of the older members of the Texas delegation. If this assumption is correct, the following Texans will retain their present important positions:

Sam Rayburn, of Bonham, speaker of the house; Hutton W. Summers, of Dallas, chairman of the judiciary committee; Joseph J. Mansfield, of Columbus, chairman of the rivers and harbors committee, and Erits G. Lanham, of Fort Worth, chairman of public buildings and grounds; Luther A. Johnson, of Corsicana, second man on foreign affairs; El Ewing Thomason, of El Paso, second man on military affairs; Martin Dies, of Orange, fifth man on rules; Richard M. Kleberg, of Corpus Christi, third man on agriculture; and Wright Patman, of Texas, sixth man on banking and currency.

All of these, except rivers and harbors, are major exclusive committees; that is, a member may serve on only one of these committees at the same time. Some years ago when the Republican representation in the house was at a low ebb, the usual rule in this respect was broken and several Republicans were put on more than one major committee. This accounts for the fact that Hamilton Fish, Republican member from President's Roosevelt's Hyde Park district, is now top Republican on both the rules and the foreign affairs committee.

MOVING UP

In addition several Texans, because other members have been defeated, will move up on their committees several notches. Among them are: Lyndon B. Johnson, of Houston, and George E. Mahon, of Colorado City, appropriations; Milton H. West, Brownsville, ways and means; W. R. Poage, of Waco, agriculture; Paul J. Kilday, of San Antonio, military affairs; and Nat Patton, of Crockett, accounts. Patton, who was third on accounts now becomes second.

All present members of the Texas delegation in the house of representatives have been reelected, except Charles L. South, of Coleman, who will be succeeded by O. C. Fisher, of San Angelo. South is now the Texas member of the interstate and foreign commerce committee, which is regarded as important to Texas because it handles all measures dealing with communications and transportation. That is the only committee that Sam Rayburn ever served on, and from that position he rose to the leadership and speakership of the house. Even if the Republicans demand and receive a larger representation on the committees, there will be so many vacancies on the interstate and foreign commerce committee that it is believed another Texan will be chosen for one of the places. It now appears that there will be at least seven vacancies on this committee.

The two logical candidates for the Texas spot on interstate and foreign commerce are Ed Gossett, of Wichita Falls, and Lindley Beckworth, of Gilmer, both of whom will be starting their third term and who have not yet received positions on major committees. The custom is to place new men in Congress on a number of minor committees. For instance, Beckworth is now a member of civil service, flood control, immigration and naturalization, insular affairs, mines and mining and expenditures in the executive departments; while Gossett is chairman of elections No. 2 and is a member of census, insular affairs, revision of the laws, and territories. Since Gossett and Beckworth entered Congress at the same time they have equal seniority. Unless some member of the delegation with greater seniority wishes to give up his position and seek the place on interstate and foreign commerce, which is unlikely, it is presumed that either Beckwith or Gossett will get this place.

WEST KEY MAN

The Democratic committee of committees consists of the Democratic members of the ways and means committee. Milton H. West is the Texas member of the committee of committees. This committee officially makes the Democratic nominations for committee positions. Legally the committee members are all chosen by the house as a whole. When two members of a delegation with equal seniority and claim to committee position, as in the case of Gossett and Beckworth, desire the same place the leaders attempt to get one of them to withdraw and to take some other committee spot. If the two members persist and a real contest follows, it is the usual practice to submit the question to the vote of the entire Texas delegation. Even in that event the advice and influence of the speaker and the Texas member of the Democratic committee of committees would be important, if not controlling factors. Generally, the Texas delegation has been able to settle such contests without serious rows.

Since there are even now vacancies on the interstate and foreign commerce committee, there is a movement underfoot to have a Texan placed on this committee now in anticipation of South's retirement from congress January 3. This would have the effect of giving the new Texas member a month or so of extra seniority over any new member of the committee who might be chosen after the next congress convenes.

SECOND TERMERS

Whether the newer members of the delegation, Sam Russell, of Stephenville, and Eugene Worley, of Shamrock, both of whom have just been elected for second terms, improve their positions on committees materially depends on what concessions the increased Republican representation in the house is able to get from the Democrats. With the Republicans increased to almost numerical equality with the Democrats, the number of desirable committee places for Democrats may be materially decreased. But since nearly every committee has lost some members, and since the Texas delegation is a large and important one, it is expected that Russell and Worley may improve their positions on committees.

If the usual rule is followed, O. C. Fisher, of San Angelo, only new member of the delegation, will be elected to several minor but nonetheless important committees. It very rarely happens that a first-term member is chosen on membership on a major committee.

All this is based on the assumption that the Democrats will retain nominal control of the house. There has been much talk of a Democrat-Republican coalition. It does not appear now, however, that either the Democrats or the Republicans desire a coalition in the sense of actually merging the two parties. The Republicans are strong enough now to upset the Democrats if they desire to. It seems probable that they will content themselves with a larger representation on the committees and will not undertake to prevent the Democrats from electing the speaker and controlling the committee. But almost anything can happen in the House when the two major parties are so evenly divided as they will be in the 78th Congress.

Veteran Farm Worker Heads War Board

L. H. Thomas of Knott Route was re-elected head of the county AAA committees in balloting which took place Saturday afternoon at the AAA office by a group of five delegates representing the five communities in the area.

Thomas, who has been working with the committee for the past nine years, has headed the county committees for the past six years as its chairman.

In his capacity of chairman, he will also act as chairman of the United States Department of Agriculture War Board.

Delegates who selected Thomas were E. L. Roman from community A, Charles W. Craigton, community B, A. J. Stallings, community C, E. T. O'Daniel, community D, and Walter D. Anderson, community E.

Elections for 15 community committees took place Friday at polling spots at Gayhill, Garner and the district courtroom.

Community committees elected in community A were Sam Little, John Alfred and E. D. Anderson. Alternates are W. A. Burchell and Ellis Iden. Community B committees are J. Lusk, B. M. Newton and E. A. Hull. Alternates are E. L. Phillips and C. E. Prather.

Community C, Ross Hill, C. A. Denton and H. O. Phillips, members, and L. M. Bond and Bruce Frazier, alternates. Community D, Rauben Hill, Frank Lovelace and R. B. Gimore, committees, and Glenn Cantrell and Alvin Lay, alternates. Community E, M. L. Hamlin, Willis Winters and W. B. Puckett, committees, and alternates, Ralph Proctor and W. F. Heckler.

Bombardier School Men Putting Money Into War Bonds

The Big Spring bombardier school war bond campaign, launched just recently, hit a fast pace last week, with one soldier making a $3,000 investment.

He was a first lieutenant who already had signed for more than a bond a month.

The commanding officer, Col. Sam L. Ellis, is setting an example, and is purchasing a sizeable amount in bonds through the army's pay reservation plan.

Capt. Harry F. Wheeler, war bond officer for the field, said that sales were mounting steadily. The first week brought about $20,000 in sales and the figure is growing.

196 Arrests Made Here In October

Although crime and violence are decreasing generally, an alert police department made a total of 196 arrests during October, Chief J. H. Bruton's monthly report shows.

Of the offenses, 109 were for drunkenness, 29 for vagrancy, 17 for affray and 12 for gaming. Police issued 297 traffic tickets—184 of them to out-of-county cars. Five tickets were issued for speeding.

Patrolmen made 343 investigations, and rendered assistance or information in 210 cases. The police radio received 246 messages and sent 65. The two patrol cars were driven an average of 222.50 miles daily.

Steve Bodine Backs The War With Even His Life

COLORADO CITY, Nov. 14 (Sp) Just one day after Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bodine received from the war department a formal announcement of the death from wounds following action of their only son, James (Steve) Bodine, they had their first letter from him in a number of weeks. Since then they have had another, written somewhere on the Pacific, October 18th.

U. S. Seaman (second class) Bodine, 27, left here March 4 for preliminary training in San Diego. From the day that was was declared, he had spoken of nothing else. Merchants remembered how the youth had gone about Colorado City getting signers for a message to the president during the lease-lend controversy, a message that said: "We're backing you all the way, Mr. President."

He wrote of his experiences, of night watches, of how he recalled old times, how he wanted magazines saved for him. Always he sent assurances that he was in good health and happy.

He sent special love to his mother whom he addressed as "Mom." His father, now making the rounds for him, finds it easier to talk about the war department message than do many of his merchant friends. "We are proud of him," he says simply. "Knowing his disposition we feel like he wouldn't want us to regret a single thing. He did what he wanted to do. We're proud." So is Colorado City. They know Steve Bodine meant what he told the commander-in-chief. He meant, "with you—all the way."

County Teachers To Meet Tuesday Night For Ration Session

An important meeting for all county teachers has been called for Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the district courtroom by Anne Martin, county superintendent of schools.

Discussion on methods of handling registration for gasoline ration books will be held and other matters pertaining to rural schools will be discussed.

All rural teachers are expected to be present, Miss Martin said.

District Court To Convene Nov. 30th

Seventieth district court will be in session again on Monday, November 30th, with a comparatively light civil docket expected to deal mostly with divorces and minor cases. Criminal cases will depend upon those brought before the grand jury which will also convene Monday at 10 o'clock on the 30th.

Deer Hunters All Set For Last Stalking For Duration

With Monday opening day for deer hunting season in Texas, many local men are buying licenses while others are culling up their guns in anticipation of a good hunting trip—perhaps the last for the duration.

Some 270 hunting and fishing licenses have been issued here and no doubt most of the license holders will be out to stalk the elusive deer.

A party of eight men left Friday and Saturday for hunting in the Davis Mountains. Included were Elton Taylor, H. W. Smith, Luke La Blau and Darrell Douglas. These men were joined Saturday by Dr. F. W. Malone, Hob Hayward and Sunday by R. T. Finer and W. L. Pier of Fort Worth.

Another group of men left Saturday for Bandera City for good hunting. In this party were Bob Wolf, George Hall, Carl Bates of Coahoma, Jess Woody of Stanton and J. R. Bates of Gatesville.

J. C. Douglas, Sr., is leaving this weekend for Mason county along with Milton Broughton and Martelle McDonald to head up a party of seven hunters.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Staggs have already returned from a hunting trip to western New Mexico. As Charlie states it, he isn't bragging about his luck, but "maybe next time."

Guns will be going off down near Junction in South Texas as a hopeful group of hunters from here take off this Sunday. Jack Smith, V. A. Whittington, T. J. A. Robinson and Joe Progress of Houston are headed that way for a little hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Eason are scheduled to return in a few days from a hunting trip into New Mexico. Just what luck they have is something their friends haven't heard about yet.

Horace Wooten left this weekend to join a party of deer hunters in Mason county.

LITTLE DOC MOBLEY SETS NEW NAT'L. GROUND GAINING MARK

ARLENE, Nov. 14 (AP)—Redolph (Little Doc) Mobley, the hard-to-catch mite of the unbeaten and untied Hardin-Simmons University Cowboys, set a new national ground-gaining record tonight in the course of a 47 to 13 victory over Louisiana Tech. Mobley scored three touchdowns and reeled off 115 yards rushing in 23 carries to boost his rushing yardage to 1148 for seven games, to surpass the total of 1121 in eight games by Colorado's Whitmer White in 1937.

Little Doc and his team mates still have two games to play, with Texas Tech on next Saturday and with Howard Payne on Thanksgiving Day.

Camp Wilson, the "other half" of the Hardin-Simmons ground-gaining punch, had the bigger night, the big fullback scoring twice, and compiling 220 yards in 26 carries.

The Cowboys' other scores came on pass interceptions, Gayle Campbell, sub for Mobley, galloping 27 yards for one such tally, and Center Jim Callam tracing 30 yards for the other. Louisiana Tech's hustling club, headed by Johnny Ferritt and Ray Peace, scored the final counter in both halves. Jones passed to Newman late in the second period for one score, and Pearce Dieder skirted right end from the seven for the other.

Tonight's win was the seventh in a row for Texas' only remaining unbeaten and untied team, and was played before a crowd of 5,600, ending the Cowboys' home season.

Hardin-Simmons, nation's leading rushing eleven, gained 404 yards on the ground.

Georgia Pre-Flight Outplays Tulane

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14 (AP)—Georgia's pre-flighters outplayed and best Tulane 7 to 0 here today before 18,000, the lone counter coming in the second immediately after Don Hightower's 75-yard kick runback for the victors had been officially discounted because he stepped out at midfield.

The skyscrapers evened up their loss at Louisiana State a month ago when Darrell Tully, former East Texas State star, split the running duties with Frank Filchock, formerly of Indiana, in the touchdown drive, and Tully scored from the one-foot line. Bob Fox, late of Tennessee added the extra point.

In the final minutes of the fourth period Filchock intercepted a Thomas pass on the Navy one and ran out of trouble.

Billy Patterson provided a constant kicking toe for the Georgians, out-punting Ed Fischer and Joe Renfro with an average of 44 yards per boot to Tulane's 32.

Frog Win Puts Conference In Three Way Tie

FORT WORTH, Nov. 14 (AP)—Little Beecher Montgomery jumped off the Texas Christian bench and led the Horned Frogs to a dramatic fourth-quarter 13-7 victory over Texas today to throw the Southwest conference football race into a three-way tie.

He came in with seven minutes to go and Texas ahead 7-0. On his first play he ripped over right tackle and cut back to the left to race 30 yards for a touchdown. Next, after a fumble had given T. C. U. the ball deep in Texas territory, he pitched two passes for another touchdown. From the Texas 17, where the Frogs had been set on a clipping penalty, Montgomery passed to Alford for 11 then threw one over the goal line to Drummond Slover.

A fumbled punt by Dean Bagley led to the Texas touchdown midway in the third period. Audrey Gill, the outstanding lineman for the Longhorns, covered the ball on the T. C. U. 13. Jackie Field and Max Minor smashed to a first down on the one. Field then rapped left guard for the score. Field also converted.

That looked like the ball game but they hadn't counted on Montgomery, the 168-pound reserve back.

His run for a touchdown was the most sensational play of this thrilling game witnessed by 18,000 fans on T. C. U. homecoming day.

Texas was working against the wind and that wind had been playing havoc all day with punts. In reality it had led to the Texas touchdown because it had kept T. C. U. backed up in its own territory the entire period.

A briek punt exchange gave the Frogs the ball on the Texas 36. One play failed, then in came Montgomery.

Texas endangered the Frogs' goal with only minutes to play when interference on a pass helped send the Longhorns down to the T. C. U. 25. But the fighting Purple was not to be denied.

Most everything happened in this game with many fumbles and short punts causing the tide to surge rapidly back and forth. Penalties also were numerous and one time Texas had 49 yards to go for a first down and it was just second down. Two holding penalties were responsible.

Georgia Tech Noses Alabama

ATLANTA, Nov. 14 (AP)—A plighted freshman halfback left over from Friday, the 13th—slender 150-pound Clint Castleberry—put a two-minute hex on Alabama's great football team today, and Georgia Tech won a 7-0 decision before 35,000 fans to remain one of the nation's unbeaten, untied football powers.

Castleberry, dumped into the game midway of the first period, ran back an Alabama punt 27 yards to his own 39 to start the winning touchdown drive. When a line buck was smothered, he skirted around left end for 21 yards to Alabama 40.

The Pat McHugh whipped a pass to Castleberry for another first down on "Bama's 9. From there it was straight football. Castleberry eased off tackle for three and Ralph Piaster flung himself twice over center to score in a head-long plunge. Rabbit Jordan, substitute end, place-kicked the extra point.

The victory sustained Tech's ranking as the nation's No. 2 team, and paved the way for a possible National championship game when Tech meets unbeaten, untied Georgia Nov. 28.

Ponies Extended Win Over Hogs

DALLAS, Nov. 14 (AP)—Southern Methodist University's Mustangs, shocked when the Arkansas Razorbacks tallied the first score in their Southwest conference football game here today, jumped to life and pushed over two quick touchdowns to win, 14 to 6.

After a comparatively dull first two periods, Arkansas End Virgil Johnson intercepted a pass thrown by Abel Gonzales and ran 28 yards and across the SMU goal. David Scarborough missed the try for point.

Very shortly after the Arkansas tally with the Mustangs in possession, C. D. Allen slammed through the line, found himself in the clear and veered toward the left to cross the goal line untouched after a 58-yard scamper. Ed Green kicked goal.

Those two scores were in the last minutes of the third period. Early in the fourth, the Mustangs started working passes effectively, tossed for good gains going from Gonzales to Kelly Simpson and Joe Bailey Scott.

Gonzales threw one over the center of the line to Simpson for the last score of the day, and again Green made the kick good.

Notre Dame Streak Smashed, Georgia Teams Come Thru

SPORTS ...
NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Georgia Tech, Boston College and Georgia all swept along the undefeated trail that leads to football's bowl nominations today as Notre Dame's five-game winning streak came to a smashing finish.

Georgia Tech, bidding for the Southeastern conference title for the first time in years, picked up a first period touchdown and then held on to whip Alabama, 7-0, for its eighth successive triumph without defeat or tie.

Georgia, whose clash with Georgia Tech Nov. 28, may well settle the conference championship and a bid to one of the major bowl games, rolled over Chattanooga, 40-0, as a tonup for next week's meeting with dangerous Auburn.

Boston College, unquestionably the east's most potent unit and perhaps a match for any team in the country, steam-rolled Fordham into 56-6 defeat, the worst licking Fordham has taken since 1913.

Meanwhile a crowd of 87,500 jammed Notre Dame's stadium at Fordham and saw Michigan's Wolverines push over three quick touchdowns in the third period and hand the Irish a decisive trouncing, 32-0.

Another big crowd, 68,656 looked on at Cleveland as Ohio State's Buckeyes, paced by Paul Sarringhaus, Leelle Horvath and Tommy James, crushed Illinois, 44-20, and gain undisputed possession of the Big Ten lead. Wisconsin, scoring the winning touchdown in the last 15 seconds on a pass from Len Seelinger to Mark Hoskins, topped Northwestern, 20-19, and moved into second place in the race. Minnesota rolled over Iowa, 27-7, in the third conference game of the day as Indiana romped at Kansas State's expense, 64-0, and Purdue bowed to Michigan State, 19-6.

Texas Christiana humbled Texas, 13-7, with Beecher Montgomery in the starring role, and turned the Southwest conference race into a neat tangle with Texas, Texas Christian and Baylor all still in the running. Missouri, apparently certain to retain the Big Six crown, was held to a 6-6 draw by Oklahoma and now must beat Kansas to capture the title. Kansas dropped a 20-13 decision to Iowa State.

In the East, Yale came from behind to take its Big Three tussle from Princeton, 13-6; Cornell, led by Wally Kreta, Ken Davis and Bill Wheeler, outpointed Dartmouth in a thriller, 21-19; Navy scored two touchdowns in the final quarter to spill Columbia, 13-9; Harvard eked out a 7-0 decision over Brown; Penn State upset Penn, 13-7; Holy Cross knocked off Temple, 18-0; and Colgate took its objective game from Syracuse, 14-0, and Manhattan was soundly whipped by North Carolina Pre-Flight, 17-0.

Georgetown, Pitt, and Army all hung on inter-sectional triumphs. Bill Dutton led Pitt to a hard-earned 6-0 victory over Nebraska; Joe Gorydeak scored three touchdowns as Georgetown took a 28-20 decision from North Carolina State, and Army coasted to a routine 17-7 triumph over Virginia Tech. Amherst took the "Little Three" title in an upset victory over Williams, 12-6.

Auburn's Plainmen served notice on Georgia that they are not to be taken lightly by scoring an unexpected 25-7 victory over Louisiana State. Tennessee was held well in check by Mississippi but won, 14-0, in the only other Southeastern conference game. Tulane bowed to Georgia Pre-Flight, 7-0; Mississippi State rolled up a 28-6 count on Duquesne as Blondy Black ran 97 yards for one touchdown; West Virginia nosed out Kentucky, 7-0, on a last minute pass play, and Florida was beaten by Miami, 12-0.

William & Mary, only undefeated team in the Southern conference, trampled Virginia Military, 27-6, as Duke and Colgate took its 13-13 tie, and Furman nosed out South Carolina, 6-0.

Southern California, Stanford and California all earned Pacific Coast conference victories in easy style. Southern California trounced Oregon, conqueror last week of UCLA, 40-0, while Stanford rolled up a 49 to 13 count on Oregon State. California stopped Montana, 13-0, Washington, meanwhile, held St. Mary's Pre-Flight to a scoreless tie.

Kansas Upset By Iowa State, 20-13

AMES, Ia., Nov. 14 (AP)—Iowa State's Cyclones shocked favored Kansas, 20 to 13, today for their first Big Six conference football victory at home since they whipped the Jayhawks in 1940.

Kansas shot into a 13 to 6 lead with two quick touchdowns in the second period as Ray Evans, the Jayhawk ace, hit a hot pass, but Iowa State bounded back to tie the score on three plays in the third quarter and won the game on a 37-yard drive in the final period.

Sterling City Wins Six-Man Football Title

In a crushing defeat, 64 points to 27, Sterling City captured the six-man football championship Saturday in a game played against Courtney at Sterling City.

For Sterling City, Dawson scored three touchdowns to score 18 points and F. Mitchell made two touchdowns and eight extra points to ring up a score of 30. Davis also scored two touchdowns along with substitute Chasney to each score twelve points. J. Mitchell, who tackled for a safety scored two points in the top heavy score.

Phillips and Littlefield were the other two starting men for Sterling City.

Scoring for Courtney were Lawson, who made three touchdowns and kicked the extra point and Graham who made a touchdown and caught a pass for an extra point.

Sterling made 15 first downs and Courtney five first downs. Sterling gained 418 yards and Courtney 209.

Navy Turns Back Columbia, 13-9

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (AP)—Little Hal Hamberg of Arkansas, a mighty mite weighing all of 150 pounds, outdid the great Paul Gouernall at his own game in the dying minute of a stirring battle today, passing Navy's Middles to a 13-9 triumph over Columbia's Lions and finally saving the contest by a pass interception with 15 seconds to go.

Columbia gathered in nine points in the third, but the Middles rallied in a story-book finish. Midway in the final period, with 25,000 fans watching, the sailors kept hopes alive as Hillis Hume got loose with a lateral to Gordon Studer, who dashed to the three and a moment later broke through the line for a score.

Then from midfield Hamberg cut loose with one of those bullet heaves. Al Channell leaped upward for Navy to spear it on the Columbia 21, but it was too hard and bounced off his fingertips past the grasping clutch of a Lion and into the hands, five yards downfield, of Hillis Hume, who snagged it, side-stepped on-rushing Columbia tacklers and swept 16 yards over the last white line for the winning points.

Southern California, Stanford and California all earned Pacific Coast conference victories in easy style. Southern California trounced Oregon, conqueror last week of UCLA, 40-0, while Stanford rolled up a 49 to 13 count on Oregon State. California stopped Montana, 13-0, Washington, meanwhile, held St. Mary's Pre-Flight to a scoreless tie.

Indians Rout Beavers

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 14 (AP)—Stanford's Indians called on T-former hocus pocus, reminding of the championship days of 1940, today to truck and trounce the Oregon State Beavers, 49 to 13, in a Pacific Coast conference football game.

Battered Steers Prep For Eagles

Bruised, battered and beaten—the Big Spring Steers were back at work Friday and Saturday after one day's respite following the San Angelo debacle.

Peppy Blount, whose kicking was one of the few bright spots for Big Spring against the Concho Cats, was hobbling on his game ankle, the same one he hurt originally in basketball last winter. Bob Boykin, who played a creditable game at tackle at times Wednesday, suffered from a bruise about the waist, sustained when he banged against the first down pole in making a tackle.

Dewie Stevenson favored a charley horse that had his leg as tight as a drum. Glen Brown, tackle, had a hip bruise that may keep him out of the Abilene game on Nov. 20. Ernest Bostick's knee was still a question mark. Although he gets about on it all right, Ernest has a small bone chip which necessitated it being placed in a cast. Woody Baker, reserve end, had a bad knee which may bench him for the balance of the season.

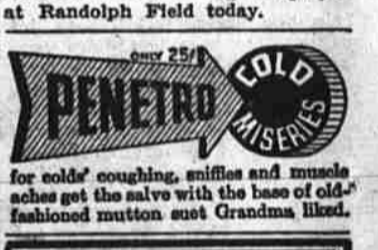

Some of the rest of the boys were bruised and scuffed, but all appeared to be ready to go again. John Dibrrell, coach, ordered a resumption of workouts Friday—instead of waiting until Monday as might have been the case had the Steers made a good showing or had upset the Bobcats. There were to be followed next week with some long sessions in an effort to get ready for Abilene, which comes here boasting a mighty 82-12 victory over Colorado City.

Abilene has a mode of attack which may hit one of the Steers' weakest points—around the terminal. Vernon Hilliard, Abilene coach, has a liking for fast breaking reverses which send nimble backs into flanking movements. San Angelo had lots of luck with this type of game.

TEXAS FROSH WIN

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Hill boys passed and ran the University of Texas freshmen to a 60-0 victory over the Randolph Field Ramblers in a game played at Randolph Field today.

Tulsa Turns Power On Baylor, 24-0

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 14. (AP)—Mighty Tulsa proved its claim to National football prominence today by smashing Baylor, 24-0, for its eighth consecutive victory.

A homecoming day crowd of 16,000 saw the Golden Hurricane come back after a hard-fought first half to crack the Bears wide open with a spectacular running and passing attack that produced three touchdowns and a field goal.

Tailback Glenn Dobbs, making his bid for All-American honors, engineered two scoring marches and elusive N. A. Keithley commanded a third.

But it was Sophomore Clyde LeForce who broke the deadlock and set off the offensive fireworks with a beautiful placement kick from the 33-yard line which gave Tulsa a 3-0 lead late in the third period.

Baylor who threatened twice in the second and again in the third with power drives deep into Tulsa territory, lost its fire after that kick and thereafter the Hurricane roared up and down the field almost at will.

At the end, it was virtually a riot.

The Bears gave Tulsa's passing attack its severest test of the season but the Hurricane collected 146 yards through the air to 22 for the Bears and also took the edge in rushing, 184 to 141.

Penalties ruined scoring chances for both teams. Twice, clipping and holding penalties pushed the Hurricane back from the Baylor goal and a 43-yard touchdown pass from Baylor's Kit Kittrell to Bill Coleman in the second was nullified by an off-side penalty.

Sam Houston Noses Out So'west State

SAN MARCO, Nov. 14. (AP)—The Sam Houston State Bearkats grabbed second place in the Lone Star conference football race today by nosing out Southwest Texas State 23-20 in an erratic game before a homecoming crowd.

Trailing 14-7 at the half, the Bearkats came back with two touchdowns and a field goal while the Bobcats managed one tally in the fourth period and were on the one-yard line when the game ended.

Gophers Smash Iowa

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 14. (AP)—Minnesota's unpredictable football team was decidedly "up" today and trounced Iowa, 27 to 7, to virtually eliminate the Hawkeyes from any chance of sharing the Western conference title. Thirty-three thousand fans saw the game.

Goal Stands Feature Tilt

HOUSTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—The Rice Institute Owls and Texas A. & M.'s Farmers rose to defensive heights today, staving off each other's goal line thrusts, and 60 minutes of battling before 20,000 fans ended in a scoreless tie.

But the Southwest conference game by which each team had hoped to better its league standing packed football punches aplenty.

The Aggies seemed goal-bound in the second period only to have the Owl-defense stop the Farmers six yards short of pay dirt.

Again in the fourth, Fred Jacob, Owl back who played a fine game, snaggled an Aggie pass behind his own goal line and raced out to the 21 before he was stopped.

The Aggies started another march after recovering a Rice fumble on the Owl's 17, moving up to the six, but Rice held again.

It was Rice's turn for a touchdown bid as the minutes faded. Again Jacob pushed into the picture to snatch an Aggie pass on the Farmers' 17. Rice mixed up passing and running to reach the Aggie one from where Lindsay Bowen's field goal attempt was wide.

It was nip and tuck football most of the way. A. & M. made 31 first downs to Rice's eight. In rushing, Rice held the Farmers to a net of 78 yards while A. & M. stopped the Owls with 66 net yards.

Things started popping when Rice was penalized for slugging, which put the Aggies to the Rice 24. There the Aggies moved up to the Rice 19—but there was Jacob.

He snatched Daniel's touchdown pass out of the air and tore fighting and fleeing, to his own 21. Rice kicked out to Barney Welch who raced back to the Rice 37. The Aggies' steam faded somewhat and they booted to the Rice 14. Edgar Cain, Rice sophomore, was over-eager and fumbled an attempted lateral and Felix Bueck covered the ball for the Aggies on the Rice 17, and worked it to the six.

But Rice tightened and took over on its seven. Dwellie booted out to the Aggie 49 and the Owls, fighting madly, set back successive attempted Aggie passes.

The Owls began an inspired drive, Windell Williams moving up seven yards on an end around play. Rice punched farther on line plays and Virgil Eikenberg flung one to Williams on the Aggie nine.

The Owls moved on, reaching the Aggie one. Bowen went in to attempt a field goal and the Owl's hopes died with his failure. The Aggies began flinging long passes from the 20 and Rice intercepted one as the game ended.

Irish Beaten By Michigan

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 14. (AP)—Michigan's great Western conference team romped over Notre Dame in the third period today to drub the fighting Irish, 23 to 20, in their first meeting since 1908, and a capacity throng of 87,500 howled their approval that the game was worth waiting for.

After a whiz-bang first half, in which each team scored two touchdowns and Notre Dame held a 14 to 13 edge by virtue of Angelo Bertelli's two conversion points, the Wolverines turned loose all their power for three quick touchdowns. That stunned the Irish, and although they pulled out one more touchdown in the final period, they couldn't catch up.

The Irish made good use of their rushing offense in holding even with Michigan for a half, with Bertelli throwing only three forward passes in Notre Dame's first two touchdown parades.

Then when the Wolverines had skyrocketed the score to 23 to 14 at the end of the third period, Notre Dame came sailing back on Bertelli's throws to score once. Two other touchdown opportunities, however, wafted away as Michigan's excellent pass defense snatched the Italian boy's long tosses out of the air.

LSU Upset By Auburn, 25-7

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 14. (AP)—Paced by the brilliant running and punting of Monk Gafford, the Auburn Tigers pulled one of the year's most stunning upsets here today in a 25 to 7 victory over Louisiana State before 8,000 fans.

The victors scored in every period and dominated the contest throughout, except for one brief lapse when Alvin Dark passed his teammates to their single score, mid-way of the third period.

Last week, Auburn lost, 43-14, to the Georgia Pre-Flight eleven which LSU had beaten, 34-0, and the invaders were almost prohibitive favorites before game time.

Gafford, after a fine exhibition in the first half while his mates were gaining a 12-0 lead, gave LSU the real knockout punch in the third period with a 60-yard run for a touchdown. He and Finney had made 19, and the ball was on Auburn's 40, near the west sideline.

Grid Champs Are Emerging

By The Associated Press

Goose Creek beat Fort Arthur 7-3 Saturday to win the District 14 championship and qualify for the state schoolboy football play-off which opens two weeks hence.

Goose Creek thus became the second district champion to be crowned, Bowie of El Paso having sewed up honors in District 4 Friday night.

Fourteen more titles will be decided between now and Thanksgiving.

In addition to the two championships, finalists in another sector—Central Texas—were determined last week with Waco beating Temple to qualify for the title play-off with Bryan.

Undisputed leaders have been established in ten other districts as follows: 1—Amarillo, 2—Odessa, 3—Denison, 4—Highland Park (Dallas), 5—Amon Carter Riverside (Fort Worth), 6—Sunset (Dallas), 7—Breckenridge, 8—Longview, 9—Lufkin, 10—Reagan (Wichita Falls), 11—Vernon and 12—Austin and Corpus Christi in District 15 and McAllen and San Benito in District 16.

Ohio State Crushes Illinois, 44-20

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14. (AP)—Ohio State crushed Illinois 44 to 20 today before 68,606 football fans to topple the Illini from the Western conference leadership. The win assured Ohio of remaining in the running for the title. Illinois was no match for the speedy Bucks except in the second period.

Tennessee Wins, 14-0

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 14. (AP)—The highly regarded Tennessee Vols ran into unexpected opposition today from the victory-pov-erished Mississippi Rebels and emerged with only a 14-0 triumph in a Southeastern conference duel.

Sinkwich Hot Again

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 14. (AP)—Fleet-footed Frankie Sinkwich led the undefeated-untied Georgia football team to a 40 to 0 victory over the University of Chattanooga today in a game which wasn't as one-sided as the score might indicate. Some 5,800 homecoming day fans were in the stands.

Big Boy Williams, Film 'Toughie,' Is Visitor Here Friday Evening

Guinn (Big Boy) Williams, the villain and the lovable scoundrel of many a film, was a visitor in town Friday night as he drove through here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guinn Williams, Sr., of San Angelo.

The movie actor is visiting with his parents as a farewell trip before he leaves for the army on November 23rd.

Williams, who is as big a man as he seems on the screen, took up his career in the movies after the last war in which at the age of 19 he served as a second lieutenant in the field artillery. For 24 years he has been in the bright lights of Hollywood.

"Just what he will do in this second world war, Williams can't even hazard a guess. 'I was a second lieutenant in the last war, but I'll probably be a private this time,' he grinned.

About leaving his career for the army, Williams just smiled at the thought. "Twenty-four years in pictures is long enough I guess," and he seemed to be looking forward to his second hitch in the service.

Three pictures of Williams, as yet unreleased, have just been completed. The pictures are "American Empire," "Silver

Missouri Tied

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 14. (AP)—Missouri was fought to a 6 to 6 tie today by an Oklahoma team that rocked the Tigers back for three quarters, but the tie virtually handed the Big Six title to the invaders. Missouri can win the crown for the second successive year by defeating second-division Kansas.

Army Wins, 19-7

WESTPOINT, N. Y., Nov. 14. (AP)—Army's footballers celebrated Thanksgiving early today by gobbling up the Gobblers of Virginia Polytechnic Institute like so much white meat, 19 to 7, before some 10,000 frozen-toed fans in Michie stadium.

Delafield said he would answer the letter of a certain minister offering him or anyone $5,000 for a single verse of scripture that millions of Christians think is in the Bible in his radio broadcast over KIST at 5:45 Sunday evening.

The revival will continue through the week with nightly topics being the following:

Monday, "Hell Located! How wide is it? How many people in Hell exactly up until 1947?"

Tuesday, "The Mystery of Death."

Wednesday, "The Seal of God on the Forehead."

Thursday, "The Mark of the Beast" (A closed door lecture and admission only by ticket. Free tickets will be given out tonight to all who want to hear this lecture.)

Friday, "The Woman in White."

MIDWAY CHIEF—Col. Harold D. Shannon (above) is commander of the Marine Corps ground forces at Midway Island, U. S. outpost in the Pacific, which he says he will hold.

Audience To Serve As Jury

"The Greatest Crime," a trial by jury with the audience serving as the general jury, and a special jury being chosen from the audience, will be the subject of a free address on Bible Prophecy Sunday at 7:45 p. m., at The Voice of Phoebe Auditorium, 409 East 3rd St., opposite the Snowwhite Creamery.

"Never before in Big Spring has such a sermon topic been presented," stated Evangelist E. E. Delafield, who will be opening his sixth week of revival services tonight, "and this will be the most dramatic evangelistic lecture ever given in this city."

What You Buy With WAR STAMPS

Yankee soldiers in France during the World War wanted little time in impressing the enemy with their deadly skill as bayonet fighters. The sight of advancing Americans with fixed bayonets caused many a German to throw down his weapons and cry "Kamerad." The bayonet is still a major offensive weapon and is carried by all combat troops. The bayonet costs $5 and the scabbard $1.50 each.

We need millions of bayonets for our rapidly expanding army. You can help pay for them with your purchase of War Stamps. Five dollars' worth of Stamps will put a bayonet on the belt of a Yankee rifleman. Do your bit through the regular purchase of War Stamps, as outlined in your Schools At War program. U. S. Turkey Talk Now But --- Christmas Shoppers Making Earlier Start This Season

Only a few of the department and gift stores have their Christmas decorations up, and the talk of Thanksgiving and turkey is still taking precedent over Christmas, but the early shoppers are already in town, getting Christmas presents for out-of-town relatives and friends.

Most of the temporary population, that is wives of soldiers and soldiers who are far from home now, are spending their off hours in search of gifts to please distant relatives. They are taking the advice of the post office officials that the mail will be slow this year.

These early Christmas shoppers, according to clerks and store managers, have plenty of money to spend too. Their gift selections are mostly in the expensive range and jewelry stores are swamped with orders for good watches, rings, and you guessed it—wedding bands and engagement rings.

Mr. and Mrs. Early Shopper, whether they be soldier or civilian, have more money to spend this year, it seems, than in past years and are out to remember relatives and friends with expensive gifts.

The eastern and northern folk, now in our midst, are getting a great kick out of buying gifts with western motifs, cacti plants, and other mementoes of the great southwest.

However, clerks pointed out that most of the civilian town people have yet to get the Christmas spirit. They cleaned off the shelves of many stores to pay gifts for their men in service across the sea and got those packages off by the deadline of November 1st. Now they are taking a deep breath and waiting awhile before they get on a buying spree for the folks still at home or in army camps in the country.

Buyers now are buying a variety of things for Christmas. Gifts that range from jewelry to clothing and to the impractical side of life. But a number one item is luggage. Soldiers and civilians both have purchased numerous pieces of baggage, although where the civilian thinks he is going to get to travel—after December 1st—is something the clerks would like to figure out too.

Nearly 100 newspapers in Norman have been obliged to suspend since 1940 because of the shortage of news print.

Instructions For Gas Ration Given

Last minute instructions with regard to registering for the basic A ration book came from the superintendent of schools, W. C. Blankenship, Saturday, who announced time and place for passenger car owners and motorcycle owners to register.

All passenger car owners, who have children in school are asked to register at the school house where their child attends. Car owners who do not have children in school, are asked to register at the high school.

Hours for registration will be from 6 p. m. to 10 p. m. Thursday and Friday evenings at all the schools and from 9 o'clock Saturday morning until 6 o'clock Saturday evening at the high school only.

Car owners are urged to follow this plan, Blankenship said, in order to divide the number of registrants between the schools and in order that no school holiday need be called.

The war price and ration board also reminded car owners that in order to register for a Basic A ration book, the owner needs to have a completely filled out application which may be secured at the service stations, ration boards or from school children and a 1942 motor vehicle registration card receipt.

The receipt, if made out in someone else's name other than the present owner, must be accompanied by an additional certification card from the ration board proving ownership of the car.

Notes
By MARY WHEATLEY

Back in those good old days when gas was something you bought at the filling station and tires were articles you put on your car when the old ones wore out, we envied the man who owned one.

While we walked our way to all destinations we were pretty communicative about sharing other people's cars with them. It seemed only right to us that drivers should screech to a stop and offer to take us along.

We always harbored ill thoughts about the people who drove past us and to those drivers who gave us a ride only to land us blocks past our objective.

But that day has passed. Today when we see a car drive by us, we look at the driver with understanding, tolerance and pity. For there goes a man who does not know what's in store for him this first of December.

We watch him with sympathy as he drives into a filling station and yells "fill 'er up" because that man's days are numbered.

From now on out, every time he shifts gears, a few more drops of gasoline will go the way of all things and unless he's definitely on a business trip, he'll park old Betsy and wait for next week's dose.

Now, instead of wishing we had a vehicle like the man next door, we'll just buy another jar of foot powder and be glad there's no limit on that original method of transportation.

Cosden Chatter

By TOMMIE McCRARY
E. A. Gabriel returned to the office Saturday from Chicago where he attended a meeting of the American Petroleum Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mitchell were host and hostess at the Cosden party Friday evening. The Rhythmets, Kathleen Underwood, Wanda McQuain and Charinda Sanders, entertained the guests with a number of songs. Seen at the party were Mr. and Mrs. Matt Harrington, and Homer "Hoople" Hart in his new "frontier" suit. He really looked nifty.

Quite a number of the employes enjoyed Armistice by attending the Big Spring-San Angelo football game at Highland Park stadium.

Evelyn Merrill is visiting in Abilene this weekend.

J. D. Cauble, an employe of the refinery in Graham, visited in the office Friday. Also, Opal Bates, an ex-Cosdenite, and Fred Grant of Reimers-Taylor Printing company of Fort Worth, were visitors in the office this week.

Another visitor was W. H. Armstrong, an ex-Cosden transport driver. At present he is employed in the shipyards in Houston, doing his bit for Uncle Sam.

C. B. Watson left for San Francisco last week.

S. K. Whaley was in Amarillo Tuesday and Cleco and Brownwood Friday on company business.

Stormy Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Thompson of Dalhart, visited with him this week.

Surely is nice to have W. F. Juliff, Sr., back with us. As you probably know, Juliff has been absent from the office quite a while due to illness.

Mrs. W. E. Gibson is visiting with her son who is a student at Texas University in Austin.

Mickey Bradley reports that she had a nice visit in Dallas last weekend.

Fort Worth-bound: Alma Borders, Ray Compton, Margie Hudson, Glynn Jordan, John Collins, Leonard Blackwell, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Edmonds and family.

Forsan Bridge Club Meets In Home Of Mrs. Cleo Wilson

FORSAN, Nov. 14. (Sp)—Mrs. Cleo Wilson and Mrs. Arthur Barton entertained the Pioneer bridge club in the Wilson home recently, using chrysanthemums in room decorations and using a patriotic motif in tallies and refreshments.

High score was awarded to Mrs. Arthur Barton, and second high to Mrs. H. D. Williams. Bingo wards went to Mrs. Bill Conger and Mrs. Harry Miller.

The club presented Mrs. Conger and Mrs. Buri McVallen with a gift.

Those present were Mrs. J. D. Leonard, Mrs. M. N. Hines, Mrs. O. W. Scudday, Mrs. Charles Evans, Mrs. C. M. Adams, Mrs. McVallen, Mrs. Conger, Mrs. H. D. Williams, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Paul Johnson and the hostess.

Billie Bess Shive Becomes Bride Of C. W. Ricks In Ceremony Read At The Home Of Her Parents Here

In a single ring ceremony read before double windows banked with ivy and fern, Billie Bess Shive became the bride of C. W. Ricks, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

The altar was before a flower clustered archway, with candelabras on either side. Large baskets of gladioli marked the altar.

The Rev. H. Clyde Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church, performed the ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by her father, C. E. Shive.

The bride wore a blue street length dress with a silver-studded bouquet on the shoulder and carried a bride's bouquet of sweetheart roses and sweetpeas, of pastel shades. Tiny flower streamers hung from the bouquet. She carried an old handkerchief belonging to Mrs. J. C. Waits, Sr.

She was attended by Mrs. Toots Mansfield, who wore a French blue dress with cerise accessories and her corsage was of cerise carnations.

Mrs. C. E. Shive, mother of the bride, wore a black ensemble with gold accessories and her corsage was tallisman roses. Mrs. Clyde Ricks, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a black street dress with a corsage of red roses.

Attendees
Marion McLaurin of Mansfield, La., was best man and other attendants included John Meyer, Alfred O'Neal, Walter Dawey, Marty Ralley, Eugene Miller and Clyde Garner, instructors at the Pre-Gilder school.

Mrs. Ricks was graduated from the Big Spring high school in 1939 where she took an active part in school activities. She was elected yall leader in 1939, was president of the Sub Deb club, and was elected "Best All Around Girl" in an annual contest.

She attended Texas Tech for two years and was yall leader and member of the D. F. D., college social club.

The bridegroom was graduated from Grand Cane high school and received his degree from Louisiana Tech. Ricks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ricks, is an instructor at the Big Spring Pre-Gilder school.

Following a short wedding trip the couple will make their home in Artesia, New Mexico, where Ricks has been transferred.

For traveling the bride wore a red tailored suit with black accessories. Her corsage was three gardenias.

Reception
A reception was held following the wedding ceremony in the Shive home. A square three-tiered wedding cake centered the lace-laid table. Mrs. Clyde H. Garner, Jr., and Mrs. Bert Shive presided at the reception table where frozen punch and cake were served.

The reception guest list included Mr. and Mrs. John Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. William Kennedy, III, Mr. and Mrs. Toots Mansfield, Anna Belle Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Shive and son, Jerry Bob, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Bishop, and Sgt. Jake Bishop, Jr., Roxey Dobbins, and Janice Slaughter.

Golf Ass'n. To Meet At Hotel December 1st

Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, president of the Ladies Golf association, presided at the meeting held Friday afternoon at the country club.

A nominating committee was appointed to make a list of candidates for election of officers to be installed in January for the ensuing year. The committee includes Mrs. J. G. Bristow, Mrs. J. B. Mull, Mrs. R. W. Thompson.

The house committee reported on improvements of the clubhouse, and it was announced that Mrs. George Denton and Mrs. Lee Rogers will be next hostesses when the club meets at the Settles hotel on Dec. 1 for regular session.

Those present were Mrs. Carl Blomshied, Mrs. R. L. Beale, Mrs. Ben Carter, Mrs. Dave Duncan, Mrs. J. R. Farmer, Mrs. Sam Goldman, Mrs. J. B. Mull, Mrs. Lee Rogers.

Mrs. Harry Stalcup, Mrs. R. W. Thompson, Mrs. Gordon Phillips, Mrs. Ben LeFever, Mrs. Harold Bottomley, Mrs. George Denton, Mrs. Fred Mitchell and Mrs. Cowper.

Woodmen Circle Votes To Help Local USO

Members of the Woodmen Circle, Howard Grove, 663, voted to contribute a dollar to the USO center each week, and it was announced that a war savings bond had been bought for the circle, when the group met at the W.O.W. hall Friday evening.

Members are urged to be present at the Nov. 27 meeting at which time they will pack a Christmas box for the Home of aged members and orphans. A social hour will follow the meeting.

Mrs. Altha Porter, guardian, was in charge of the program and business session.

Those present were Mrs. Anna Petefish, Mrs. Baulah Crenshaw, Mrs. Mattie Wren, Mrs. L. Q. Laws, Mrs. Mildred Lowe, Mrs. Mary Womack.

Signal Office Is Vital Nerve Center Of Operations At Bombardier School

Business And Personal Messages Handled Speedily

Time is vital in the winning of a war. Time saver of the Big Spring bombardier school is the busy army signal service, nerve center of a communication system that stretches across the continent to every important air base in the nation.

Big Spring bombardier school has an important problem to solve—minutes are important and the problem can be clarified only by the air force chiefs at Wright Field. Crowded telephone lines make it impossible to reach the busy air service command headquarters in Ohio; telegraph is a one-way method of communication; the fastest air mail is not fast enough. But Big Spring bombardier school doesn't have to bother with conventional means.

A trained specialist enlisted man taps the key of a teletype printer machine in the signal office. The line is opened. He taps several times "DY 60, DY 60, DY 60." Then his machine slowly grinds out the answering call letters from Wright Field, thousands of miles away in Ohio. Only a few seconds have passed and the connection is through, a two-way connection by which men on the opposite sides of the continent can converse. Time has been saved and because the work of inland training bases are as important as those in battle zones, another step is taken toward winning the war.

LT. CARPENTER IN CHARGE

Chief of the bombardier school signal office is Second Lt. Ned J. Carpenter. A thousand important messages pass through his office every month, messages that building one on another assume tremendous importance to the national war effort. Hundreds of telephone calls pass through the signal office's modern switchboard. Many personal messages arrive by the commercial telegraph systems installed in the office.

Personal telegrams are important," Lt. Carpenter said. "Our men have come from states all over the United States—New Jersey, Florida, Maine and Ohio. We're able to bridge that gap of miles for them. That's a big morale factor."

He picked up a telegram that had just arrived. "Take this telegram here. What it has to say isn't very important to you or me. But to one soldier it meant more than anything in the world. It just tells a soldier in Big Spring his wife back home in Michigan became the mother of his seven pound son. Not very important to some folks but what a morale-booster it was for this one soldier. "We've handled every type of a telegram. Everything from telegraphic quarrels to telegraphic proposals," Lt. Carpenter said.

Telephone System No less important is the telephone system. The bombardier school has a modern dial system. A network of wires climbs over several giant boards in the switchboard office. Six women telephone operators divide three shifts at the school, two are on duty at all times. Incoming and long distance calls must be handled by the operators personally; inter-field calls are handled by the automatic system.

War On Nerve Center—Trained hands and minds are busy at the Big Spring Bombardier School signal office—nerve center of the school. Messages of all types must be handled quickly and accurately, as in the case above where three enlisted specialists, busy themselves around the teletypes which are linked with other air bases of the nation. Left to right are Tommie Arledge, T. J. Dubiel and George W. Hirtes. Lower left, Mrs. Mattie Skiles, chief operator for the telephone communication office, carries on in best military tradition—for her husband is missing somewhere in the Philippines. Lower right is the man behind it all, Lt. Ned J. Carpenter, chief of the telegraphic and telephone communications system. He also is responsible for all communication equipment used in flying at the bombardier school.

Again in the telephone service the welfare of the enlisted men is considered and telephone pay-boosters are provided for personal long distance calls. Signal Officer Carpenter has a specialized staff to help him with field communications. Sgt. Loran A. Dunn is in charge of signal property with Pfc. Ben F. Smithson as warehouseman. Specialists in the telegraph office are Sgt. Dinmore, Cpl. Rigo, Hirtes and Dubiel and Pvt. Carano. The teletype printers, installed by Western Union and Postal Telegraph, are the most valuable communication instruments at Big Spring Bombardier base. Every day through these machines far distant air bases are contacted. In a single day the messages carried over these machines covered a distance equal to four times around the world.

The telephone system, installed by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., is the only complete dial system in the Big Spring area. A 200-line automatic system, hundreds of calls pass over its lines each day. Mrs. Mattie Skiles, wife of a young lieutenant missing in the Philippines, is chief telephone operator. The Signal Corps has a motto, "The message must go through." Since the early days when carrier pigeons and men on horseback were the only means of communication to today when modern machines bridge the continent in seconds, that motto has guided the men of the Signal Corps. Today at Big Spring bombardier school, the Signal office carries on in that tradition. Whether it is a message from the highest ranking officer in the Army Air Forces or a message from the wife of a private telling him his son has been born, the message goes through, quickly and efficiently.

Suggestions For Mailing At Christmas

Here are some mailing tips to help with your Christmas parcels—and at the same time help the post office department avoid a repetition of the terrific 1918 war jam.

PACKING—Pack articles carefully in strong, durable containers and wrap in strong paper and use heavy twine to tie securely. Do not seal except when bearing the printed label with this message: "Merchandise—Postmaster: this parcel may be opened for postal inspection if necessary" together with the name and address of the sender. Special care must be used in packing sharp-pointed or edged instruments to see that these are guarded to prevent injury to clerks handling them; that candles be enclosed in strong outside boxes; that articles like cut flowers be wrapped in tissue paper to retain moisture; that books be protected by corrugated fiberboard, etc. Glassware and fragile items must be wrapped so as to prevent escape of particles if broken in transit. Boxes of cigars must be enclosed in corrugated pasteboard to prevent shock or jar damage.

ADDRESSES—Addresses should be complete with house number and name of street, post-office box, or rural route number, and typed or plainly written in ink. A return address should be placed in the upper left corner of every piece of mail. If a tag is used, the return address should be written on the wrapper in the event the tag is lost. Soldier mail should carry the rank of the addressee, his number if possible, complete information on his unit.

SIZE—No parcel may be more than 100 inches in length and girth combined, not exceed 70 pounds in weight.

CHRISTMAS CARDS—Do not mail Christmas greeting cards in red, green or other dark-colored envelopes or in very small envelopes. Similar to addition of "do not open until Christmas" to parcels, written greeting such as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," "With Best Wishes," etc., may be made to unsealed greetings which go third or fourth class rate. Christmas seals or stickers should not be placed on address side of mail.

FOR SPEED—Use air mail, special delivery or special handling. STAMPS—It is wise to buy quantities of stamps in advance of mailing time to avoid standing in lines.

MAILING—To assure delivery of Christmas presents, cards, and letters by Christmas day this year, the public should shop and mail early, posting such material at least 20 to 25 days in advance of Christmas, depending on the distance to be transported.

Car And House Ruined In Fire Here Friday

A 1938 Buick automobile and a large quantity of household furnishings were destroyed in a fire which raged a garage at 804 Scurry street about 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. The stucco garage was in the rear of a residence owned by H. H. Shuman and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Newberg and their daughter, Mrs. Joe Stephens. The car and furnishings, including linen and china, belonged to Mrs. Stephens, whose husband is stationed at Camp Bowie. Cause of the blaze was unknown.

4-H Girl Garden Program Helped By Seed Gifts

Some outstanding victory garden records by Howard county 4-H Club girls probably are due contribution of seeds and plants in the value of more than $2 each of 25 girls by the Sears, Roebuck & Co. aggregate value was $47.76.

Each girl received 300 onion plants, 50 tomatoes, 20 cabbage plants in addition to Kentucky Wonder pole beans, lima beans, beets, carrots, summer squash, okra, lettuce, radish, sweet pepper, cream peas, mustard, sweet corn, cucumbers. Despite drought, reasonable to good yields were made, tables were furnished with fresh vegetables, some given to neighbors, much put up for the winter and seed saved for another season. Among the girls who received the victory garden offer were:

- Cosahoma—Reba Lee Davis, Louise Minchew, Frances Bartlett, Betty Jean Lovvorn, Wanda Cranfill.
- Moore—Romona Weaver, Vealmoor—Lillie Mills, Wanda Pearl Hodnett, Eulene Jackson, Midway—Bobbie Townsend, Katherine Patterson, Alva Jo Forch, Neva Jean Jenkins, Ovella Shirley, Dora Ann Wilson.
- Garner—Loray Morris, Iwanla Denny, Jo Marie Myers, Nellie Marler, Patsy Phillips.
- Lomax—Irene Turner, Leona Phillips, Vivian Lomax, Helena Mae Daniels, Juanita Carda.

Sufficient vegetables to supply the family from June 10 to July 30 resulted from the efforts of Nellie Marler, Garner 4-H Club girl, on a 50x70-foot garden plot. She spent around 17 hours working in the garden and in addition to vegetables consumed by the family, Nellie canned 21 quarts of produce. But for drought, she would have had a better record.

First Social Event Held Saturday At Officer's Club At BSAAFBS

First social event of the season at the Big Spring Bombardier officers' club was held Saturday night from 8:30 o'clock to 7 o'clock when officers entertained for guests with a cocktail party.

The officers' lounge is finished in knotty pine and equipped with ranch style furnishings. Other social events will be planned throughout the year for the officers and their guests.

The Girl's 4-H Club Elects New Officers For The Ensuing Year

Howard county 4-H Club girls recently have organized to effect their Victory Demonstration for the ensuing year.

Among the officials elected to push for eight point programs in poultry and clothing work and in trying to live up to the club motto of "Make the Best Better" are:

- Cosahoma: president, Helen Joyce Engle; vice-president, June Stamps; secretary-treasurer, Uel Pearl Reed; reporter, Frances Leland; recreation leaders: Margie Ray Woodson and Wanda Joyce Smith; and sponsor: Mrs. W. J. Jackson.
- Garner: president, Billie Doris McClain; vice-president, Mary Alice Dorsey; secretary-treasurer, Patsy Phillips; reporter, Jo Marie Myers; recreational leaders, Dorothy Cline and Wanda Jean Forrest; sponsor, Mrs. Joe Myers.
- Midway: president, Alva Jo Forch; vice-president, Bobbie Townsend; secretary, Joyce Jones; treasurer, Rosa Faye Rice; reporter, Billie Jean Davidson; recreation leader, Mary Anna Whitaker; sponsor, Miss Arah Phillips.
- Moore: president, Eula Faye Newton; vice-president, Frances

Phillips; secretary-treasurer, Bonie Weaver; reporter, La Nell Engle; recreation leader, Wanda Conway; sponsor, to be elected later.

Vealmoor: president, Geneva McKee; vice-president, Beulah Smith; secretary-treasurer, Wanda Pearl Hodnett; reporter, Eulene Jackson; sponsor, Miss Camille Holsinger; recreation leader, June Gill.

Demonstrators in clothing and poultry are to be selected this month. The enrollment in these five 4-H Club is approximately 85 girls. Other girls between the ages of 10 and 20 who wish to become members are invited to see the club vice president in her community or Pontilla Johnson, county home demonstration agent.

OCDC Completes The First Week In New Quarters

Pamphlets of instruction to be distributed to heads of local clubs are being handled this week by the local office of civilian defense now at the city hall in its new quarters. Mrs. Doug Orme and Mrs. Jack Miller are in charge of the office each week day from 10 o'clock to 11:30 o'clock. All club officers are urged to get pamphlets from the office this next week. Carl Blomfield, commander of the local unit reports that the civilian defense plan is progressing smoothly and systematically, and that they are receiving the proper cooperation necessary to carry out the designated program.

Cotton Harvest Gains Ground

Howard county's difficult cotton harvest rallied last week and neared the 20,000 bale mark. Ginnings by five Big Spring gins stood at 8,943 Saturday night, and based on their handling of some 45 per cent of the county's total this year, this would mean around 19,800 bales turned out to date. Ginners said that there was some decline in grade as pickings rolled in from the top crop, but that better cotton was bringing $19.50-60 and some up to 19.80. There was a decidedly larger volume of snags, and they still were averaging around 17.50. With good weather all of last week, ginnings got on at a more rapid clip. Growers were still hoping for a killing frost, followed by clear weather.

No Time For Over-Optimism, But For A Determination To Finish The Job

President Roosevelt very fittingly gave the admonition the other day against over-optimism as a result of the consistent allied successes in Africa. He reminded of the peaks and depressions in war sentiment and cautioned against going to either extreme.

Already you can hear people on the street saying that the war will be over in a matter of weeks. They are some of the many who, last December 7, were saying that we could take the Japs before they got started. It is a fallacy to broadcast such views, because they are not altogether grounded in fact.

Granted that Germany may soon be run out of all of Africa and that Hitler faces fast-crumbing territory once his forces are in retreat; granted that things look much better in the South Pacific, and that the threat of further Japanese encroachment is greatly reduced. But let us not overlook that the carrying on of a global offensive which will be necessary for the final extermination of our foes is a series of operations in magnitude far beyond anything that has ever been known in the history of warfare. It is an offensive that takes much time and for which there still must be paid a great price.

This is not to say that we won't win, for we certainly will. But we won't if we immediately decide that victory is in our grasp and that we can take things easy. We cannot afford to let up one minute in war production; we cannot relax the rules of wartime economy that must go hand in

Man About Manhattan - - Started His Career In Other World War

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — Being a newspaperman I often meet interesting people, which takes in Bill Wilson, a professional magician known as Magini. Bill is one of the legion of Army camp entertainers, and loves his job, but what makes him interesting to me is that he served in the last war and saw the growth of camp entertainment from volunteer amateur "productions" to the full-time efforts of the immortal and still very-much-alive Elsie Janis.

Matter of fact, Bill, a native of Winnipeg, was in the first Canadian division to go overseas, and fought in the front lines for more than a year—at Vimy Ridge, Arras, Alhoo, Merricourt, Hill 70, Paschendale, Souches and elsewhere.

say, are those paratroopers tough? They don't sit on the ground; they fall on it!"

There's another holdover from the last war who interests me, too. He is Louis Sere, who as head chef of the Billmore hotel in 1917 conducted many experiments with rationed food. President of the Billmore in those days, the late John McEl. Bowman, was head of the hotel, restaurant, dining car and steamship division of the U. S. Food Administration, and before any food saving requests were passed on to the country at large, Sere experimented with this in the hotel kitchens and got reaction of the diners.

Washington Daybook—

The Little Things, Like Empty Toothpaste Tubes

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Civilian morale is made up of thousands of things—most of them small. For example, in a capital department store the other day, a woman customer fumed loud and long because the clerk refused to sell her a tube of toothpaste until she turned in an old tube.

When the customer had stalked angrily away, the clerk shrugged, shook her head and said: "Life in this department is no fun. We have that to contend with 20 times a day."

I'm not one who thinks civilian morale in Washington or the rest of the United States is at a low ebb, but I am surprised at that one. This war isn't going to be won or lost with old tooth paste and shaving cream tubes, but if the irate customer and the thousands like her know how much more quickly it might be won with them, I think they would sing a different tune.

In six months after the then OPM issued the tube-for-tube order, 1,168,000 pounds of metal tubes had been reclaimed by the Tin Salvage Institute, the dollar-a-year association of manufacturers which in this drive has fronted for the Metals Reserve Company, a subsidiary of the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

The tubes already collected represent a half million pounds of tin and half of that already has been allocated to war industries.

The average size toothpaste or shaving cream tube contains about a half ounce of tin and 60 supply enough tin to do all the soldering of electrical connections on a fighting plane and 240 will do the same for a Flying Fortress.

That's not all, either. While getting tin is the main objective since the Japs shut off our main source of supply in the south Pacific, reclamation also produces thousands of pounds of aluminum and lead for the war effort.

There will come a time, of course, when there will be no more tin tubes. Manufacture of them stopped April 1, 1942, when the tube-for-tube order was issued. But that time may be some months away. The Tin Salvage Institute estimates that the average life of a tube from the time of manufacture until it is discarded is about 15 months.

To get back to the department store clerk, she said one of the chief complaints of irate customers was "somebody is making money out of all these tubes."

Somebody is, but don't let that worry you. It's the Metals Reserve Co., which is RFC, which is Uncle Sam.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds—

$25,000 Ceiling Means A New Deal In Filmdom

(First of a series of three columns on how the new tax program is affecting Hollywood.)

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Will it be "back to the tube" for the fairy queens of the movies? Is Cinderella, freshly sparkling in her party finery after years in the scullery, headed back for the collar? In Hollywood—last stronghold of the rag-to-riches dream—all washed up?

It's probably too early to gauge the full effect of the executive decree slapping a $25,000 ceiling on salaries—in a community where $25,000 was regarded, until recent years of heavy taxes, as a low rung on the cinema's social-financial ladder.

Right away it was apparent, however, that Hollywood was reeling. Not so much at the decree, which had been foreseen, as at its terms. Anybody who had earned about $25,000 in 1942 prior to October 27 couldn't draw another pay-check until year's end. If you earned that much, presumably you'd have $25,000 left "after taxes" and—that was that.

Any big star you could name, provided he had a contract or made a picture early this year, topped that figure months ago. The same would apply to many little stars, to directors, executives, writers—all the big money people of the town. Overnight, no more mauts.

No more, that is, unless the individual earner hadn't yet received as much as he or she had made in all of 1941—a detail to give the bookkeepers a few more headaches.

There were the usual patriotic expressions from some of the stars. "Anything Uncle Sam wants," and so on. I didn't hear any statements from their business managers—not out loud for publication. I heard plenty of walling, not so sotto voce, from the agents, sometimes called 10-per-centers or flesh-peddlers. The general tenor of their cries was "We're ruined. . . . We're out of business the next few months. . . . I can't meet my overhead on 10 per cent of nothing." This became more down to earth, if possible, sible, in the wall of one who screamed: "I've just had my house painted, and I haven't paid for it yet!"

B. G. (Buddy) De Sylva, production boss at Paramount, overheard this lament and others. De Sylva, as studio executive, as song writer, as Broadway producer and playwright, has one of those incomes to make Secretary Morgenthau grin with delight. De Sylva, close to the walling wall, laughed and laughed.

A good many people in Hollywood laughed and laughed with him, especially outside the ranks of the five or six hundred picture people directly affected. Many of these laughed too—whether in amusement, hysteria, or fright. Almost everybody seemed to realize that a revolution had struck, and that the old Hollywood was no more.

MURDER on the Campus

By JERRY BRONFIELD

Chapter 23 THE OFFER

Todd and Hazen walked out of the stadium together to Hazen's car. Most of the traffic had melted away by then and they had little difficulty.

"I'll come straight to the point," Hazen said bluntly. "You know I'm an engineer, I assume. Well, I'm taking over a tremendous project down in South America next June. It's big. Really big," he emphasized. "We're going to have a small army of men working down there—Americans and native mixed. Maybe four or five thousand, and about 90 per cent of them aren't going to have their families with them.

"Those men are going to need planned activity to help keep 'em happy and that's where you come in," Hazen went on. "I want you to come down there when you graduate and set up and direct an athletic program for those men. In addition, you'll be sort of an administrative assistant to me. You'll be doing me a great service, and what's more you'll be doing those men and your country an even greater service.

"I can start you at fifty a week and all your expenses. I hope you'll find that satisfactory," said Hazen, "because you're the man I want."

Finally Todd said, "South America—why I don't know—it seems like a swell opportunity, but—"

"But what?"

"Why do you want me?" Todd asked him simply.

Hazen kept his eyes on the street ahead. "I know exactly what's in the back of your mind," he said easily. "I'll put you straight right away. I know everything about you that I need to know, including a little unpleasantness you've had lately. I think I'd have picked you up anyway, but it happens I went to Pete Bailey and I told him I wanted a State athlete to do this job for me and asked him to recommend a man. You were it."

"I was a little too much for Todd to think about then and there. He was a little bewildered. I'll have to give it some thought, Mr. Hazen. I just don't know. I was considering the air force."

"Of course," Hazen said. "Take your time. Give you a month."

Jeeppers!

Eddie was all excited when Todd told him about Hazen's offer. "Jeeppers it's wonderful!" Eddie enthused. "You're going to take it, of course. You can't afford not to. Not because of the money, but think of the experience, the opportunities it presents."

There was an undecided look on Todd's face. "I'll mull it over," he admitted. "I know. Maybe I ought to write Dad. He might have an angle on it. Also—I thought we were going to join the air corps together after graduation."

Eddie made an impatient gesture. "Sure we were, but don't you realize you'll actually be doing as much down there as you could in the air force. Look it squarely in the face."

"I've got a month to make up my mind. I'll probably change it twelve times in those 30 days."

On second thought, Todd figured, maybe this was the opportunity he was looking for. Maybe if he took the job he could get Hazen to advance him part of his salary—say a half year's—that would be at least $1,500. That was half the amount Duke needed. It was a possibility.

Susan found out about Todd's offer on a fast double play—Luttrell to Jane to Drake.

Somehow, Susan knew she was supposed to form some kind of opinion—her private opinion—but an opinion nevertheless. But every time she caught herself thinking about it she stopped short of the complete answer.

If Todd Malone wanted to go to South America he could go. If he wanted to join the air force he would join.

If he wanted to take a rocket ship to the moon, he could.

In other words, she told herself, she didn't intend to let herself become involved in even a remote manner. If he should come ways have his joke with me. He took up a tiny small glass bottle of some greenish-silver stuff from his drawer and said if he as much as dropped it the whole house would be blown higher than a kite.

Mrs. Woods shook her head. "He had me scared for a minute, the way he handled that thing, and then I knew he must be having one of his jokes." Susan smiled grimly. Phil was always full of jokes. Especially when he'd had a few drinks. Like that night in Tony's when he touched off the news about Todd's father. Susan thanked Mrs. Woods, put the book under her arm and walked out.

Former Actress Missing, Says Actor Husband

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Nov. 14. (AP)—Police Sergeant P. R. Smith announced tonight that film actor Addison (Tex) Randall had reported that his wife, former screen actress Barbara Bennett, has been missing since last night. "Mr. Randall is here in the police station right now and has just made a statement, which he is putting in writing, that Miss Bennett disappeared about 6:30 p. m. yesterday," Sergeant Smith told newsmen.

"His report stated that she left her hotel in a rather intoxicated condition, saying she was going to visit some friends, Mr. and Mrs. James Dean, who also live in Beverly Hills.

"Mr. Randall states that Miss

Bennett has been drinking quite heavily since she recently lost custody of her children by a previous marriage, and that she has been extremely despondent."

Miss Bennett was divorced some time ago from singer Morton Downey, who was awarded custody of their five children.

French Resisting On Corsica Isle

LONDON, Nov. 14. (AP)—The Moscow radio broadcast a Tass dispatch from Zurich tonight saying French troops on the island of Corsica are offering still resistance to the Italian occupation. There have been smart skirmishes between French and Italian troops, Tass reported, and a large fuel depot at an airport at Banifacio was burned.

Seventy Birds Will Be Released Here Thursday

Two Score Firms Join In Second Annual Scramble

It will be catch as catch can Thursday, Turkey Day, and the victors will belong to the spoils—a free turkey for Thanksgiving Day.

Following a custom that originated in Big Spring last year, some 28 firms are contributing 70 free turkeys to the men, women or children who can catch the birds in flight.

At exactly 3:45 o'clock Thursday afternoon, the caution signs at intersections will go on to stall all traffic in the downtown area, then as the fire siren wails, the 70 turkeys will be released from second story windows of the firms participating in the event.

Whether you grab the turkey by the neck, leg or wing, whether you chase him down street, or climb a car to reach him—there are no holds barred. "Kotch him and he's yours."

But just because you happen to be an adult, don't think catching a turkey is easy business. Last year the small fry brought home their share of the turkeys—and school will be dismissed again this year according to V. A. Merrick, chairman of the event, so school children will be on hand.

Merchants participating in the event include Elmo Wasson, Wacker's store, Montgomery Ward and Co., Mellinger's Ready-to-Wear, Cunningham & Phillips, Settles Drug, State National Bank, Big Spring Weekly News, T. E. Jordan Co., Chamber of Commerce, Texas Electric Service Company, Big Spring Motor Co., J. C. Penney Company, Anthony's.

Cactus Barber Shop, Walgreen Drug, Empire Southern Service, J & L Drug store, Collins Bros. Drug store, Billy Simons Bowling Alley, Sherrod's, First National Bank, Texas Club, Club Cafe, Darby's Bakery, Safeway Store, Albert M. Fisher Co., Jones Motor Co., Big Spring Hardware Co., Iva's Jewelry, State Theatre, Barrow Furniture, Linck's Grocery, Burr's Department store, Westerman Drug, Sears Roebuck, Pitman Jewelry, Swartz's.

Big Pipeline To Be Constructed

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 14. (AP)—Burt E. Hull, vice president and general manager of War Pipeline, Inc., announced tonight that construction of a 24-inch oil pipeline from Salem, Ill., to Phoenixville, Pa., would begin this month.

Hull said the new line, to be an 877 mile extension on the Longview, Tex.-Salem line, would insure direct daily delivery of 300,000 barrels of southwestern crude oil into the east. The Longview-Salem line, 831 miles long, is 80 per cent complete, Hull said.

Here and There

Aviation Cadet William V. Flowers, son of Mrs. Hattie Burns Flowers of 200 N. Nolan Street, has completed two-thirds of his pilot training at Georgia Aero Tech Training Detachment, Augusta, Ga., and is to report soon to one of the southeast army air force advanced flying schools for the final phases of his flight training. At the completion of his course, Flowers will be awarded his wings, a rating of Flight Sergeant and will be assigned to a tactical unit for flying duty.

Mrs. Ruth Burnam of Big Spring is enrolled in a class at North Texas State Teachers College which is giving her special training for Junior Red Cross instruction. Only college in the nation offering the course, North Texas limited membership to 20 elementary education majors. Students who successfully complete the course will receive letters of commendation from the National Red Cross office, but the course carries no college credit. A senior student, Mrs. Burnam is also a member of the Elementary Council and the Girls Religious Training Council.

Betty Penn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Penn, 1408 Eleventh Place, and a student in the University of Texas, is enrolled in a spare-time class for junior hostesses, giving them the do's and don'ts of recreation work. Included in the course, offered in cooperation with the USO and the Austin Defense Recreation Council, is a visit to all recreation centers in Austin and some instruction in the management of recreation projects.

Aviation cadet Roy C. Sanders, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sanders, 294 Benton street, is nearing completion of his basic flight training at Goodfellow Field, San Angelo, and will move on soon to advanced school for additional training before receiving his pilot wings. Sanders received his primary flight training at Coleman Flying School. He attended Texas A & M from 1934 to 1936.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. McKinney have as guests his mother, Mrs. John B. McKinney and his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. McKinney of Dallas, who will be here several days.

Doug Perry, former Big Spring resident, is now serving as photographer in the signal corps at Camp Collier, Calif.

Mrs. Artie Howell has received word from her son, Austin J. Welch that he is stationed at Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

The pupils of Miss Lillian Shick's Latin and English classes and in her home room have been hitting the line each week in the war savings bond sales. Since the beginning of the sales on October 6th, the combined sales of the pupils total nine $18.75 bonds and $275.70 in stamps. Miss Shick's home room also subscribed this week 100 cent in the Junior Red Cross membership drive.

Making a fine record in one of the most dangerous of army activities, the parachute corps, is Pfc. Ray B. Hood, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hood. Pfc Hood now is stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., after completing 12 weeks training at Camp Roberts, Calif., where he finished with a certificate as an expert anti-tank gunner, presented by Brig. Gen. Fales, commanding officer at Camp Roberts. Young Hood also has won praise for his work with the bayonet. In the army since July, he was graduated from the Westbrook high school in 1941.

David Lamun of Big Spring and James Gardner of Foran are among those winning promotions in John Tarleton college cadet corps. David was made cadet captain of Company A, and young Gardner was advanced to first sergeant.

Dorothy Jim Hervey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hervey of Big Spring is listed on the first six weeks honor roll at Abilene Christian college. The honor roll includes those in the upper ten per cent of the class in one or more courses.

Revival

General chairman for the cooperative effort, planned at this time to demonstrate the unity of the people in spiritual as well as in material fields, is the Rev. H. C. Smith, First Methodist pastor. Surveys and finance have been headed by the Rev. Dick O'Brien, First Baptist pastor. Publicity has been the responsibility of the Rev. R. E. Dunham, East Fourth Baptist; special music, the Rev. O. D. Carpenter, Steering committee, named by the association consisted of the Revs. Smith, Dunham and McCoy.

Director of music for the revival will be Itham E. Reynolds, who is director of the School of Sacred Music of the Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary at Fort Worth. Since 1905 Dr. Reynolds has been an evangelistic song leader and for years was connected with the home mission board of the Southern Baptists. Besides being an accomplished song leader, Dr. Reynolds also has written several sacred songs.

No newcomer to Texas is Dr. Shuler, who now is in his 23rd year at Trinity Methodist, a church with over 4,500 members. After finishing his schooling at Emory College and holding some small charges, he came into the Central Texas conference and was given a circuit with seven points. Then 26 years of age, he entered with enthusiasm upon his new work and in two years his work had been such that he was assigned to the pastorate of the Temple church—second largest in the conference.

"It's a wonder it hadn't ruined both me and the church," he laughed. "But the good Lord blessed our work." From there he went to the University church in Austin—the first pastor after the new plant was built—and then to Paris, from whence he went to Los Angeles. His record there has been so outstanding that he is known not only on the west coast, but as a national figure.

Each year his church gives him a three months leave of absence so that he may devote the time to evangelistic work.

The Week

They're fighting a battle here also. They are living in a building they can find and calling it home... wishing they would be asked to join some club, or anything to help pass away lonely hours. And she adds that the same goes for the wives of privates who are getting "enough of this town" simply because they're lonely. Anybody want to do something about this?

Do you ever wonder of a morning just how much later the sun will be about rising under "war time"? Well, it will get a lot later than it is now, sliding constantly back until toward the end of December the rising time is 8:47 a. m.—and it stays there until Jan. 13, 1945. The earliest the sun will set under this new time will be 6:41 p. m. around Dec. 1.

We should like the tender privilege of heckling those who sail through traffic lights when caution is left on for a long space of time—and also to double-heckle those who leave the lights on long, long after fire trucks or ambulances have cleared the business district. And to triple heckle the occasional policy of turning traffic lights on around high school on Sundays when Sunday school is the only thing in session.

Methodists Hear Of Good Gains

SWEETWATER, Tex., Nov. 14. (AP)—Northwest Texas Methodists heard reports showing a net gain of 2,603 members the past year and voted to retain November conferences instead of changing to midsummer sessions as they prepared for tomorrow's closing conference program.

Reading of appointments by Bishop Ivan Lee Holt will close the conference tomorrow afternoon. Conference officials said they anticipated few changes in appointments because of the war. Reports showed the following conference totals for 1944-45: 698 infants baptized; 2,623 persons received on profession of faith; 5,340 by transfer; 5,165 removals. The present membership was 73,303.

Pastors were paid salaries totaling $334,985, superintendents received $43,409, Bishops $7,418, retired ministers $18,742. With benevolences, the conference raised a total of $1,104,340.

Ration Card Black

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—Office of Price Administration inspectors throughout the eastern gasoline rationing area moved in today on what a spokesman described as "widespread black market" racketeering in "S" card ration coupons.

Could Be!

MOSCOW, Sunday, Nov. 15. (AP)—The defeat of the German and Italian armies in Egypt has caused a "deep depression" in Italy and has increased anti-German feelings among the Italians, the Russians stated officially today.

mental and vocal soloists will be featured.

Pvt. Donald Fey, baritone, will sing the Army Air Corps song, accompanied by the Rhythmettes, a girls' trio, and Pvt. Joe Ling will be featured in a tenor solo.

A bass solo will be played by Clifford Prather, and Pvt. Eugene Navatill and Hal Harris will give a guitar duet.

An ensemble from the post band will present several selections, and three of the group will be featured in a saxophone trio. Perry and Billy Jean Walker will be presented in a novelty brother and sister act.

If time permits, the audience will be asked to join in a sing-song led by Band Director Dan Conley. No admission charge is made and the public, especially soldiers, is invited to attend.

Passenger Ration Not Contemplated

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—It will take "practically everything on wheels" to handle the country's holiday bus and train travel, an Office of Defense Transportation spokesman said today, but the government does not intend to put priority restrictions on passenger space.

Addressing itself to the public at large, the government has requested: "Please don't travel over the Christmas and New Year holiday season unless you are moving on war business."

The dress approved by Uncle Sam... a suited-for-every-occasion classic of unerring good lines. Wear it for the duration... its made of superb quality Dexter Rayon Crepe with a convertible neckline... detachable white overcollar... enlivened by jewel studs.
