War Secretary Cites The Need Of 'Youthful Enthusiasm'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. (AP)—Stressing a need for "exceptional soldiers," Secretary of War Stimson urged the house military affairs committee today to expedite legislation for the drafting of 18 and 19 year old men.

"Our own survival is in the balance," he said. "Its accomplishment demands the substitution of current necessity for our peacetime preferences."

Need Noted By President In His Address

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. (AP)—Congressional leaders took President Roosevelt's call for an army of strong young men to carry the war to the axis as their cue today for speedy action on legislation to lower the draft age from 20 to 18.

The president, in telling the nation last night that he believed it would be necessary to lower the minimum age limit for selective service to 18, said:

Explosives Plant Seized By Navy As Bribery Charged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. (AP)—The navy took possession today of the plant of Triumph Explosives, Inc., at Elkton, Md., and two subsidiaries at Milford, Del., and the White House announced that the FBI had arrested a plant vice president and an army and navy inspector on bribery charges.

A White House statement said the inspectors were charged with accepting bribes in the guise of "service fees" and that the navy's "preliminary investigation indicates that more than $1,000,000 in management 'irregularities' may be involved."

The navy took over the plants under terms of a presidential executive order which said it was desirable that they be operated "effectively and safely."

Mr. Roosevelt, who suggested that legislation might also be needed to solve the manpower problem on the home front, alluded indirectly to a second fighting front again by declaring that one of the major decisions of strategy already made "relates to the necessity of diverting enemy forces from Russia and China to other theaters of war by new offensives against Germany and Japan."

"All of our combat units that go overseas," he said, "must consist of young, strong men who have had thorough training. A division that has an average age of 23 or 24 is a better fighting unit than one which has an average age of 33 or 34."

"The more of such troops we have in the field, the sooner the war will be won, and the smaller will be the cost of casualties."

Americans Doing Great Job In Building Scrap Supply

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (AP)—Figures—and a lack of them—today told a rousing story of the earnest job being done by Americans to gather scrap metal for the war mills in the nationwide drive led by the newspapers.

Perhaps four million tons of old iron and steel have been gathered in the campaign, it was indicated in a statement by the newspapers united metal scrap drive committee which said at least an estimated one million tons were known to have been collected.

There were still five days to go in the drive which began generally Sept. 25. In some states the drive began earlier, finished earlier. In some it has only just started or will soon begin.

The committee said the 24 states which it listed as leading the nation reported estimated collection of 1,035,194 tons — 2,070,338,000 pounds—or an average of 81.3 pounds for every man, woman and child in those states.

But those figures were only part of the actual figure. Committee Chairman Richard W. Bloom said:

"The enthusiasm of Americans from coast to coast to pile up mountains of scrap is hardly reflected in the figures so far available.

"While the committee so far has reports of more than one million tons gathered in the top 24 states, this probably represents only one-quarter of the scrap actually in stock piles. More tons of scrap are being added daily."

"Many states reporting have so far given estimates for only a few of their counties, and a number of states, although active in scrap collection, have not yet reported tonnages to the committee."

For the fifth day in a row Kansas led the nation in average pounds collected per person with a figure of 72.2 and a tonnage of 85,000. But Nevada leaped into second position with that state's first report of 70.3 pounds per person and a total of 3,670 tons.

Utah, because of Nevada's rise, was bumped into third place from the No. 2 spot it had occupied four days right behind Kansas. Utah's figures were: 17,000 tons collected, a per capita of 61.8 pounds.

How Big Spring Brought In The Scrap

Youngster With Broken Arms Is Among Workers

By JENNIE MAE WIESE
Six tousled-haired, barefooted tots—the youngest about two and the oldest not over eight—stood proudly on guard around their scrap pile and anxiously watched the approach of a truck up the street.

Six solemn faces unanimously expressed fear—their collection might be missed. Not until the half-loaded truck rumbled to a stop did one of them so much as blink an eye. And then, in a split second, the six suddenly were swarming all over the pile, dragging heavy iron pipes and parts of old stoves, automobiles and once-cherished toys to be loaded on the truck.

One lad with two broken arms, both in splints from wrist to elbow, slipped one arm from its sling and went to work alongside his companions. When the last small bit had gone into the truck the look of grim determination on their faces was replaced by timid smiles.

Long hours of hard work had been repaid. They had done their part in Big Spring's scrap drive. They were real fighting Americans and you could see it in every face. The incident was multiplied a hundred-fold. There was the little girl with a wheelbarrow loaded so high she could not be seen behind it—rolling down the street to meet the truck.

There were women in bonnets and gloves, working like men. Those who happened by, stayed to help. Parts of old washing machines, old plows, meter covers, oil ranges, cultivator wheels, nuts and bolts soon filled the truck. Everybody worked, joking the while and wondering what damage the scrap would do with a little gunpowder behind it. Hitler would not have liked it.

Reporter Counts No Less Than Umpteen Tons

By MARY WHALEY
Big Spring got "into the scrap" yesterday and what a whale of a load was uncovered! Our estimate after riding in one of the trucks is that umpteen, no less, tons were brought in.

Our first assignment read—North Eighth from east city limits to west city limits. The first treasure found was an old cylinder block from a four cylinder car and where it had been hiding was an intriguing question that we pondered on until we came across a collection of cranks like the kind that made the T-model famous.

From then on we were knee deep in bedsteads, brass radiators, tires and water heaters. We cruised from the north end of town out the highway to Pennsylvania Avenue where our assignment read from end to end and alley to alley. We did it, and the truck began to groan with its load.

An old gas pump, a one-time $30 truck tire, toy wagons snatched from the younger fry, electric fans, a lawn mower, and so on until our capacity, one and a half tons, was taken care of quickly.

Moore Pupils Do Fine Job On Scrap

MOORE, Oct. 13 — Students at Moore lived up to their new title of junior commandos by really doing a swell job collecting scrap metal and rubber. Although students and parents made contributions to the pile throughout last week, the climax was reached Monday when both students and teachers left their books and scoured the entire countryside. Three trucks were assigned to various roads and farms and the scrap came rolling in. School officials state that they have never witnessed any activity that aroused so much interest and enthusiasm among students. They were not working for the money that was in it for all the scrap was turned over to the Parent-Teacher association.

There will be an auction sale at the school house Friday night, October 23. Everyone is invited to come out and have a good time and take part in the sale.

Mrs. J. W. Phillips went to Gorman Saturday night to attend the funeral of her brother-in-law, Will Bagwell.

The executive committee of the Parent-Teacher association selected current session. Mrs. G. C. Broughton, Mrs. Henry Long and Mrs. C. M. Weaver were chosen for the primary room. Mrs. O. E. Engle, Mrs. Owen Winn and Mrs. M. E. Broughton were made sponsors of the intermediate room; while Mrs. Edgar Phillips and Mrs. L. M. Newton were selected for the seventh and eighth grades.

Mrs. J. W. Phillips and her children stepped up their annual Thanksgiving reunion to Sunday in order to avoid conflict with gas rationing. They met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Phillips at 701 East 17th street for the occasion. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Resman and son, Phil; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Phillips, Jr. and children, Donald and Twila Frances, of Knott; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Castle and son, Floyd, of Martin county; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Phillips and children, Joy Beth, Patay and Johnnie Roy, of Knott; Miss Arach Phillips, Miss Twila Lomax, Miss Anna Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Phillips and daughter, Rebecca; Mrs. and Mr. G. HAPPENED to me only yesterday. I step on the starter of my car. Engine turns over O. K. but she won't start.

So I look under the hood just as if I know what's the matter. Tap a few things with a wrench. While I'm standin' there, wondering what to do next, a young soldier stops alongside.

"Need some help?" he asks.

"Got her almost fixed," I say. "But still she won't start."

"Looks like your carburetor's flooded," he says. "Got a screw driver handy?"

That young soldier knew what he was doin' all right. Went to work just like a professional.

"She'll be O.K. now," he says, straightenin' up and smilin'.

Boy's face looked sort of familiar. And darned if that soldier wasn't young Charlie Jenkins from Elm Street. Used to be a round-shouldered kid—one of those jitter bugs you hear about. Say! You wouldn't know him after six months in the Army. Fifteen pounds heavier—straight and tan and real sure of himself. The Army's done a lot for Charlie. Made a man out of him—and I guess that goes for lots of other young fellows, too.

The other day I read how some folks worry about the soldiers havin' a glass of beer now and then. Well, after seein' Charlie, I don't think there's much cause for people to fret.

Just like Charlie says—"If you can trust us with guns and ships and tanks, I guess you can trust us with a glass of beer once in a while, if we happen to want one."

And I know the beer industry is co-operating with the Army and the law-enforcement officers to see that beer is sold in good, clean, decent places.

From where I sit, this country's never seen a finer, cleaner, better-behaved lot of men than the ones in uniform today...I'm not worryin' about 'em!

Life After Death Delafield's Topic For This Evening

"Life After Death—Where and in What Form?" will be subject of a free address by Evangelist R. E. Delafield tonight at 7:45 p. m. at the Voice of Prophecy auditorium, 406 E. 3rd street.

The evangelist will also speak over KBBT at 5:45 this evening on the topic, "The World's Greatest Need."

In his address last night Delafield told his audience that "A personal being, called in the New Testament the devil and Satan, was the cause of all misery, sickness, war, wickedness, and death." (John 8:44, James 2:19).

The evangelist continued: "The personality called the devil was once a pure, holy, sinless, shining angel up in Heaven, holding the highest position any angel could hold (Isaiah 14: 12-14; Ezekiel 28: 14-15), but corrupting his own way his name was changed from Lucifer (Day-Star) to Satan (Deceiver, Adversary, or Traducer), and he was cast down to this earth (Luke 10: 18; Rev. 12: 7-9)."

In answering the question "Why didn't God destroy the devil when he first sinned, or why doesn't God destroy him now?" Delafield used scriptural proof to show that had God destroyed the devil after he sinned the remaining angels might have served God from fear rather than from love, the only kind of service God will accept; also a set time will come when Satan will be completely destroyed and blotted out with all his followers, and thus the Lord will stand vindicated as a God of love."

County Funds Are In Sound Condition

Howard county's finances are in sound condition as time comes for another tax paying season.

The September report of Auditor Claud Wolf, to be submitted to the commissioner court Monday, will show a balance for all funds of $73,964.86 as of Oct. 5.

In good health was the general fund with $4,790 on hand, and similarly the road and bridge fund was in sound condition with a balance of $24,171. Officers contributed $1,664 fees to boost the officers salary fund to $4,061.

September disbursements from the road and bridge fund amounted to $7,688, including $3,909 in regular wages and $998 in extra labor. Gas, oil and grease ran to $1,431.

General fund expenditures aggregated $1,877, featuring the usual routine assortment of salaries and services along with around $500 for charity and allied purposes. Officer salary fund disbursements ran to $3,347, which included $196 item for groceries for prisoners and about $260 for expenses of the various offices. Pay for grand and petit jurors balliffs and other expenses associated with holding of court into the jury fund for $545. Total disbursements for all purposes for the month were $13,623.

Fund balances as of Oct. 5 were: July $10,736, road and bridge $24,171, lateral road $1,946, general $4,790, salary $4,061, permanent improvement $778, road refunding $7,623, special road $13,732, court-house and jail warrants $612, viaduct warrants $3,363, and food stamp $3,215.

There Are Enough Razor Blades; No Need To Hoard

"Hoarding by consumers and over-stocking by dealers are equally unnecessary," says Mr. Wiese, regional director for the Pal Blade company, who was in Big Spring to direct the merchandising campaign of his company's product, Pal Hollow Ground Razor Blades.

Mr. Wiese pointed out that despite the ever-increasing demand for Pal blades, the company can take care of normal needs of dealers and dealers don't try to beat their neighbors by over-buying.

When asked how, with less steel available for razor blades, it would be possible for the blade companies to supply the country's normal needs, Mr. Wiese explained that it takes as much steel to make a poor blade as a good one. He said, "If men will buy the better blades, they'll find they not only shave better but last longer and cost no more per shave. "Use our own product, Pal, for example. These blades definitely give more good shaves per blade, so that a shaver needs far fewer blades per year. Multiply this by the millions of men throughout the country, and you can see that the use of better blades will result in a saving of millions and millions of blades, and tons of steel for Uncle Sam's guns, tanks, planes and ships."

WTCC Looks To Post-War Adjustment

This month, West Texans are pondering a historic document. This is the Atlantic Charter, drawn up at sea by President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Churchill, Aug. 14, 1941, as the basis for an enduring peace promising freedom and equality of economic opportunity to all the world.

From the West Texas chamber of commerce all affiliates have received a 12-plank platform and work program on which 200 directors in 175 towns are voting as a part of the organization's referendum convention in substitution of the 25th annual general gathering. The No. 9 plank relates to the Atlantic Charter and the need for each community to begin now to plan its economic life in the after-war period.

The plank proposes that West Texas business men, through their chambers of commerce, create community postwar economy committees in readiness to meet the problems of peace. Because, says the committee recommendation, "To avoid such a catastrophe as followed the last World War, there will be much to do in cooperating in future nationwide rehabilitation measures and in preserving our own economy. In this gigantic program the voice of business must be heard, and we might as well start now getting organized. As victory approaches and as peace comes, these postwar problems will start unfolding, but there is something we can do now for our postwar economy. I refer to starting the education of our people on the meaning and significance of the Atlantic Charter as the basis of worldwide peace. Some of these Atlantic Charter principles were enunciated by Woodrow Wilson as the basis of peace after the last war. Had they been adopted, there are many who think this war would have never occurred. The principles were defeated because of the lack of understanding and of the selfishness and greediness of the people. The same thing again will happen to the Atlantic Charter unless the people at home begin thinking about and demanding the worldwide peace measures as enunciated in the Atlantic Charter."

Hen Hotel-- These Guests Pay Hotel Rent In Nice, Fresh Eggs Quality Good

NITE LIFE--How the hotel looks at 5 A. M. with sun ray lamps on every floor encouraging egg production.

Wide World Series.

BROOKLYN, La. Comes now a new wrinkle in chicken raising—a five-story apartment hotel for chickens.

The proprietor, elevator operator, custodian, porter and "room service clerk" is Earl Geiger, who converted one of two barns on his place into the "hotel" for his flock. Besides the electric elevator there is running water, a cafeteria that never closes, sun lamps, and other little conveniences designed to make the hens happy—and lay more eggs.

Right now, 1,100 chickens, pullets and hens occupy the top four floors. The main floor is temporarily home for 3900 breeding ewes.

Fenhouse Fullers Perhaps you have lived in an apartment up next to the roof. Well, some of Geiger's hens know how you felt. The top two floors are above the eaves, with dormer windows cut into the sides of the hip roof.

The building is insulated with oorn eobs crumbled and forced between inner and outer walls. Geiger says the water pipes didn't freeze even in sub-zero weather last winter.

Geiger made the job of cleaning litter from the upper floors easy. He built a chute designed like a laundry drop in a large house. He uses ground cobs scattered on the floors to catch the litter; and claims it is more absorbent than straw and won't pack.

Greatest thrill in the development for Geiger are the sun lamps. He gets up at 5 a. m. to turn them on (will have an electric clock for that purpose when he gets time to make one) and leaves them on three hours over the water troughs.

The hens get their natural sunlight through screened windows. The watering troughs are sections of eaves with the ends closed. A pressure system provides water on all floors and there is a float-operated valve to make certain the hens never go thirsty.

Stowaway Trouble Geiger built the elevator, which travels 40 feet, with odds and ends of machinery. It has a capacity of 900 pounds and uses a half-horsepower motor. Hens are caged before being transported, but now and then strays get aboard because, says Geiger, "they seem to like to ride." Several times a hen has fallen off, but none has been killed.

Lumber for the entire remodeling project was cut from native wood and Geiger did most of the work himself. He estimates it cost about $700. The barn has a capacity of 1,400 laying hens. Geiger is getting 200 dozen eggs a week now; expects 500 dozen weekly by next spring. Says Geiger: "This is really just a sideline; I'm raising stock and sheep and farming 120 acres of land."

SERVICE ELEVATOR--Earl Geiger shovels waste matter into chute extending from top to first floor.

Charlie The Seal Works Faithfully Unto The Death

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 12 (AP)—Charlie, the famed talking seal, wasn't feeling well.

John Tiebor, Charlie's owner, trainer and friend, could tell that as he put his pet through his act in the Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey Circus.

"Charlie's bark was hoarse, and he seemed listless," Tiebor explained. "He didn't even scramble after the fish."

But Charlie, brought up in a the-show-must-go-on atmosphere, hid his troubles from the audience. While an overflow crowd laughed and applauded, Charlie barked through "America" without a quaver. He died a few hours after the performance. Tiebor said a cold contracted during freezing weather several weeks ago brought pneumonia and death.

Feed Crop Is Smaller, But Quality Good

A somewhat lighter but higher quality feed crop is in the process of being harvested in Howard county.

Dwarf maize yielded an average harvest with some areas having excellent crops and others reporting poor returns and low grade grain. Other maize was hit hard by drought and stunted plants put on small heads. Just as many were preparing to combine this, along came late August rains, and the maize stalked past the heads. Now the product cannot be combined without getting green grain in with the original heads. Only salvation to this appears in utilizing it for grazing.

County Agent O. P. Griffin is of the opinion that the heira crop will be the best in the history of the county. Yields are going to be nearly as good as the record returns last year and the quality much better. Also hit by the drought, heira fields twisted but did not head and staged a marvelous comeback after rains.

Cane will be less abundant than last year when phenomenal yields were registered but the harvest will be plentiful. Contrasted to the sorghum raised on the most remarkable array of showers the county has ever experienced last growing season, that tempered with dry weather this year will be

Sewer System Plans Indefinite Because Of War Conditions

Plans for enlarging Big Spring sewer system are under way, Boyd J. McDaniel, city manager, said Monday, but due to priority problems and the fact that most manufacturers ask a high royalty for equipment installed makes it impossible to forecast the time when the addition will be made, McDaniel said.

McDaniel also pointed out the fact that insofar as he, personally, was concerned the city would not purchase additional equipment until it was definitely determined that it was the best that money could buy and represented a real value to the citizens of Big Spring.

Has Joe Retired, Or Just Decided He Won't Fight

Fight Circles In A Dither Over Him

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 (AP)—About the only member of Joe Louis' large fighting family who wasn't dithering today was Joe, himself. That, of course, didn't include Mrs. Joe, whose only statement when informed Joe had said his "fighting days are over" was that "it's just as well."

But in New York promoter Mike Jacobs, who has put up every one of the Brown Bomber's fights since he hit the big time in 1935, and in Detroit John Roxborough, one of the two managers who piloted him into the world's heavyweight championship and through a career that ranks him among the greatest fighters of all time, both insisted that Joe, in telephone conversations with them, had said he was "misinterpreted."

Yet, not a word came from Sergeant Joe at Fort Riley, Kansas, to refute the statement he gave to Associated Press Staff Reporter David Kaufman in Omaha Sunday.

Meanwhile, the fight world was in quite a dither over Joe's retirement and what would come of it.

Billy Conn, who was to have met Joe last night in a return bout until the war department turned thumbs down on the fight and Conn's manager, Johnny Ray, both declared that as far as they were concerned "Joe is still the champ."

"I want to fight him for the title," said the Pittsburgh press boy who, in June 1941, came closer than any other challenger in Joe's record run of 21 successful defenses to taking the grown away.

Jimmy Johnston, as quiet as usual, took a different tack about Joe's announcement. He immediately issued a claim on the championship on behalf of his up-state heavyweight, Rapid Robert Pastor, who holds the unique distinction of having been beaten twice by Louis—once by going "on his bicycle" for 10 rounds to lose a decision and the second time by being put to sleep in 11 heats.

Roxborough, explaining that he had spoken with Joe at Fort Riley, said Joe explained he had meant that he was only retiring while he was in the army.

"Louis told me," Roxborough added, "that he wanted to defend the title once more after the war is over."

Although all attempts by newsmen to reach Joe by phone were unavailing, there was no reason to believe Joe couldn't call up, himself, if he felt he was misquoted.

BOTH SIDES RIGHT
KANSAS CITY, Oct. 13 (AP)—The Joe Louis controversy—will he or won't he fight again?—has ended. Both sides are right.

Sergeant Joe, on his way from Fort Riley, Kas., to Los Angeles for a two weeks furlough, diplomatically voted both yes and no while waiting for his early morning plane.

He hasn't exactly retired. Still he doubts if he ever does any more heavyweight title-defending.

(In Omaha Sunday Joe told David E. Kaufman of the Associated Press his fighting days were over. Later from New York came promoter Mike Jacobs' cry, that Joe had been misinterpreted.)

"When I said in Omaha I wasn't going to fight again," Joe explained, "I meant I'd probably never have another chance."

"This war is my business now. Say it lasts two years. I'm in for the duration and six months after. That's a long time to be out of training."

"Then he figured he was through with the ring for keeps?"

"It depends," Joe replied. "Maybe the competition won't amount to much. And it depends on how I feel. You can't tell what kind of shape I'll be in when this war is over."

Psychology—Or Something—Pays Off In Grid Wins For Little Schreiner

KERVILLE, Oct. 13 (AP)—Schreiner Institute has the ball on the opposition's 35-yard line, fourth down and 15 yards to go for a first down.

Over on the bench the conversation runs something like this: "Well, Doc," asks Coach Heimle Weir of his assistant, John Stormont, doctor of philosophy (Weir can call him "Doc" because he used to teach him in high school), "what would be your mental reaction here?"

Dr. Stormont, who teaches history at Schreiner and recently won

$1,000 in a nationwide essay contest, reflects:

"Socrates would say let's do what our opponent thinks we would be least likely to do, so perhaps we should run with the ball."

Anyway, the combination of Weir and Stormont has made little Schreiner (350 students) the terror of Texas college football although the school is a junior college.

Already beaten by the amazing Mountaineers are Southwestern University, Southwest Texas State and McMurry.

It's embarrassing to those full-sized colleges, but Schreiner always has had good football teams.

Sparking the team this year is backfielder Don Anderson and the power of the line centers around Earl Hale.

Here's a sample of Anderson's work: Against McMurry he accounted for all points by passing for two touchdowns, kicking a field goal and adding a conversion.

Outstanding players developed at Schreiner in recent years include Billy Gillis, captain at West Point in 1930; Bob Leonard, Navy halfback; Park Myers, University of Texas captain in 1939; Moses Hartman, great tackle at Rice, and Bohn Hilliard, one of Texas' great backs.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLESTON, JR., Wide World Sports Columnist

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—New York grid fans are working up a head of steam over the possibility of getting the Army-Navy game since Biff Jones told the football writers that it isn't at all certain to be played in Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium as scheduled. . . .

But Biff also pointed out that it's Navy's game and you know that Navy never has cared too much about playing here. . . . In two of the past three seasons Cleveland's minor league hockey club has done as well at the gate as the New York Rangers and hasn't had to pay big league salaries. . . . Rep. Donald O'Toole, who blew the whistle in congress on the Louis-Cann fight, once was an amateur boxer under the colors of the Trinity club in Brooklyn.

Terrific Trophy
The football that the Iowa Pre-Flight school used to beat Minnesota won't be decorated with gold and blue paint like the others in the victory collection of Capt. David Hanrahan, the Seahawks' commanding officer. . . . When the ball was delivered to the captain someone already had done the job of inscribing the score on it. . . . Along with autographs of such folks as "Janet," "Muriel," "Larrupia Larry," and "Rodger the Lodger," was printed: "Navy 7, Minnesota 6—you lucky jerks."

Frogs, Aggies Set For Hard Struggle

By The Associated Press
All Southwest conference grid teams except one got down to the business at hand Monday, four of them preparing for two games this week that count in the title chase and two reading themselves for non-conference competition.

Jess Neely gave his Rice Owls the day off, their game with North Carolina next Saturday having been cancelled. Thus the Institute-eleven has two weeks in which to prepare for Dana Bible's Texas Longhorns.

When the Texas Aggies and the Texas Christian Horned Frogs meet at College Station Saturday, the chips will be on the table. Tradition says the winner of this game is likely to cop the championship.

Be that as it may, Homer Norton's Farmers practiced Monday, determined to return to winning form after dropping two of their first three games. Aggie coaches kept close watch on their line-men; they're worried about those tackle posts.

Dutch Meyer sent the Frogs through a long offensive scrimmage against the freshmen in preparation for the Aggie game.

Dana Bible, displeased with Texas' offense against Oklahoma last week, abandoned the team substitution plan for individual and group substitutions as the Steers plunged into a stiff drill for their game at Fayetteville with Arkansas. The contest marks the Longhorns' debut in conference competition.

Meanwhile, Arkansas Coach George Cole, seeking reserve material, scrimmaged his Razorback substitutes in a long drill.

Coach Jimmie Stewart expects Southern Methodist to be in the best physical condition of the season Friday night when the Mustangs meet Temple in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas in a non-title game.

Baylor's Bears, fresh from a victory over Arkansas, drilled for their game with Texas Tech at Lubbock Saturday night, in the other non-conference battle of the week.

Senior Golfers Start Tourney
SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 13 (AP)—The sixth annual senior golf championship of the Texas Golf Association got underway today at San Antonio Country Club with play in the 18-hole qualifying round. The competition is open to all members of the Texas Golf Association who have passed their 49th birthday.

Pairings for today's qualifying rounds:
John E. McCampbell, Corpus Christi; Nat Goldsmith, San Antonio, and W. L. Dinn, Corpus Christi.
E. L. Brown, San Antonio; Dr. J. N. Arvin, Brownwood, and Emil Mueller, San Antonio.
E. F. Gossett, Houston; R. J. Jackson, Houston, and H. R. Stroube, Corsicana.
M. S. Spitzer, Lufkin; E. A. Founds, Lufkin, and E. L. Bartlett, Lufkin.
C. B. Edwards, Lufkin; Ike Handy, Houston, and Col. C. O. Thomas, San Antonio.
Guy Keith, Beaumont; W. D. Masterson, San Antonio, and T. S. Reed, Beaumont.
Mannie Goldsmith, San Antonio; T. F. Rothwell, Beaumont, and C. R. Jones, Brownwood.

Border Loop Looms As A 3-Way Race

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 13 (AP)—By some flip of football's fickle fortunes, Baylor university and the Oklahoma Aggies seem to have become intersectional yardsticks for gauging title timber in the Border conference.

Although the weeks ahead are fraught with uncertainty in the nine-member circuit, a three way race already has developed between Arson, Hardin-Simmons and Texas Tech. Baylor and the Aggies are their common opponents.

A basis for comparison will be afforded this Saturday when league-leading Arizona takes on the Oklahoma Aggies at Tucson, and Texas Tech meets Baylor at Lubbock—top games on the circuit intersectional program.

Hardin-Simmons beat Baylor 13 to 6, and Baylor defeated the Oklahoma Aggies 18 to 12. Then last weekend, Texas Tech lost to the Aggies, 9 to 6.

To prove that the conquest of Baylor was no fluke, the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys downed Southern Methodist university, 7 to 6 Saturday.

Texas Tech and the Cowboys meet late in November, with Tech taking on Arizona the succeeding weekend. Arizona and Hardin-Simmons meet October 31.

Texas Conference Title Chase Will Start This Week
ABILENE, Oct. 13 (AP)—The boys start playing for keeps in the Texas conference this week with McMurry drawing defending champion Howard Payne.

The Yellow Jackets, who sputtered just once—against Southwest Texas State—are now moving in old-time form. They battle down-trodden McMurry at Abilene Saturday night.

Abilene Christian College, the last member of this conference to fall from the unbeaten ranks—doing it last week at the hands of Texas Mines, 20-14, plays Southwestern at Georgetown, also Saturday night.

Austin College rests from a 26-0 drubbing from Howard-Payne last week.

Top-Rated Teams Found In The Big Ten Circuit

Farm Parley Set This Week

A district meeting has been set here for Oct. 15-16 when state and district AAA and extension service officials will explain and illustrate of several problems to farmers.

One is the transportation problem since a certificate of necessity will be required on all trucks, whether private or commercial. The AAA machinery will be utilized to assist farmers in complying with regulations so that there will be no hitch in moving the current crop to market.

Too, the new regulations which prescribe individual war goals for farm operators also hold that the operator will be penalized five per cent of his payment for each one per cent he fails to meet his goal. Details of this program will be outlined at the meeting.

Regional Official For ODT Named
DALLAS, Oct. 13 (AP)—John C. Massenburg of Dallas has been appointed region 7 manager of the motor transport division, office of defense transportation, ODT Director Joseph E. Eastman announced yesterday in Washington.

Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Louisiana comprise the region and district offices are located at Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Amarillo, Lubbock, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, New Orleans, Baton Rouge and Shreveport.

Offices to be opened later will be at Albuquerque, Austin, Waco, and San Angelo.

Fish Disturbs Bath
HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—Mrs. Elsie Joseph screamed, leaped from her bathtub and sprinted to the protecting arms of her husband when she found a small fish enjoying its bath with her. The water department opined that the fish could well have entered the tub via the faucet.

Ohio State Is Put First On National List

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (AP)—Once-mighty Minnesota has tumbled at last, but the Big Ten conference still produces the best college football teams in the land, in the opinion of 91 sports writers who voted in the first Associated Press poll of the season and picked Ohio State as the country's No. 1 team.

Coach Paul Brown's Buckeyes, winners of their first three starts by decisive margins, received 25 first-place votes and a total of 636 points, based on the usual pattern of ten points for each first place vote, nine for each second, and so on.

While Minnesota, the No. 1 team in the final rankings of 1941, slumped to 14th place this time, the Big Ten produced three other representatives among the first ten, in addition to Ohio State.

The Southeastern conference landed a trio of teams among the first ten, including Georgia which was voted the No. 2 spot, while the east was represented by two clubs and the far west by one.

Here are the first ten, with the and points figured on a 10-0-0-7 etc. basis:

1. Ohio State (25).....636
2. Georgia (12).....494
3. Michigan (12).....418
4. Alabama (10).....356
5. Illinois (8).....326
6. Georgia Tech.....300
7. Wisconsin (6).....296
8. Pennsylvania (5).....288
9. Colgate (2).....170
10. Washington State (1).....168

The second ten, in order, include Boston College, Vanderbilt, Duquesne, Minnesota, Santa Clara and Tennessee (tie for 15th), Texas Christian, Army, Iowa and Texas.

About 12,000 ships pass through the Cape Cod Canal in a normal year.

Intersectional Tilts In Store For Texas Teams

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 13 (AP)—This week is the hull before the storm in the Lone Star conference. Two of the members—East Texas State and Sam Houston—play intersectional games while the other, Southwest Texas State, engages Randolph Field at San Marcos Friday night.

It's next week when the family feud flares. The conference campaign opens then with Sam Houston battling North Texas State.

Friday night finds Sam Houston journeying to Ruston, La., to play strong Louisiana Tech which recently beat Texas Mines. The same night East Texas State entertains East Central of Ada, Okla.

THE BEER THAT MADE MILWAUKEE FAMOUS
for you—in obtaining Schlitz. Same Schlitz, same fine quality, same famous flavor as in the familiar 12-ounce bottle. Ask for the full-quart SCHLITZ GUEST BOTTLE for those occasions when you serve more than one person. It contains almost three times as much Schlitz as the regular 12-ounce bottle, is easy to carry, fits nicely into the refrigerator.

On tap, too!

JUST THE Kiss OF THE HOPS • no bitterness
You and your guests will like the beer that's brewed from the Schlitz Guest Bottle—because Schlitz isn't bitter! Schlitz gives you just the kiss of the hops—all of the delicate flavor, none of the bitterness. Once you taste Schlitz, you'll never go back to a bitter beer.

Editorial — This Is No Time For Suits Hurting Unity

Sniping at states rights continues to be a favorite occupation of not only the congress, which seems determined to take away the levy of poll tax by states which retain it, but of the department of justice which appears to believe voting of negroes in democratic primary elections in the South must be mandatory.

A federal grand jury in Dallas recently declined to indict a number of election officers for refusal to allow negroes to vote in the July and August primaries, the action having been urged by somebody in the department of justice. Now there are FBI agents making investigations which it is hoped by the department will lead to presentation of complaints by federal attorneys without grand jury action.

Some people think that the department of justice could find things to do more important to the welfare of the nation in this time of war. Yet the department brings suit against the Associated Press

Washington Daybook — Medal Due Senator Brown For Anti-Inflation Bill

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—When congress gets around to voting medals for this war, it ought to strike off one for one of its own—Sen. Brentano M. Brown of St. Ignace, Mich.

Senator Brown, turning his back on personal interests—perhaps his very political future—picked up the administration's sword and carried it through what threatened to be the most bitter legislative fight since World War II started. Senator Brown was author and sponsor of the administration-approved anti-inflation bill.

It was filled with political dynamite. It drew the fire of the powerful farm bloc, of which Senator Brown ordinarily is a member, and in which are many of his closest friends and associates. At its inception, there was no way of telling what repercussions it would have among the farm votes.

And Senator Brown, from the farm section of Michigan, the peninsula country, is facing reelection in November. His republican opposition is Detroit's popular crusader against the racket, Homer Ferguson. Senator Brown will need every farm vote he can get if he is to win. If he gave his personal interests a thought, it was not apparent in what he did or in what he said. He brought the administration anti-inflation bill to the floor of the senate. And he opened the debate on it in one of the most sincere and moving speeches that has been made in the Capitol chambers in months.

That Senator Brown knew what he was doing was apparent only in his solemn intensity throughout that speech. He faced the scowls of his colleagues by the collar and shook them and begged them to see the light.

It is said that no congressman's vote is ever changed by a speech. That is probably true. The legislative machinery just doesn't work that way. But the spade-work that Senator Brown did in that address undoubtedly bore some fruit in the 82-to-0 vote by which his bill was finally passed.

Manhattan — Formality 'Out' For Duration In Gotham Spots

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—If you can't get everything into your suitcases for that trip to New York, you can leave out the dress suits and formal gowns. You won't need them.

With the arrival of the fall season, the Rainbow Room, the Wedgwood Room of the Waldorf-Astoria, the Iridium Room of the St. Regis, Persian Room of the Plaza, the Stork, El Morocco, Monte Carlo and all the other supper spots which in the past have requested formal wear have let it be known that "for the duration" such specifications are out.

It's a good, sensible decision, and a rather democratic one. Service uniforms of any rank long ago were decreed full dress, and it would seem that civilians who are doing important war work are entitled to the same consideration. But aside from all that, in a nation where the dress code is like the one we're having, formal dress seems rather too-oo.

Don't, however, show up without a necktie. You'll get a chilly stare from the man at the door. He hates no neckties.

Another thing the war has done has been to cut out a lot of cocktail parties, which I neither regret nor cheer, having long since learned to take them or leave them alone. Formerly the arrival of a film director or star, or the launching of a successful play, was all the excuse necessary for a cocktail party, in some club or hotel room around 5 p. m., and usually lasting until the last dog was hung.

The few parties now being held seem to be on a higher tone, having in mind one held the other day to signalize the debut on records of Dorothy Kirstan, protégée of Grace Moore, the host being RCA-Victor. The gentlemen of the press, in this instance, were chiefly music critics and the "platter chatter" writers, which is a different set than I usually chum around with. I would not say that the conversation was over my head, but will freely admit I have a much easier time among the theater critics and fellow travelers, and I dare say you would too because the latter are a gossip lot and the gossip sometimes gets very choice.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds — Writer Finds Out About Volunteers From Texas

(One of a series by Hollywood Columnist Robbin Coons, who is making a cross-country tour of the U. S. A.)
By ROBBIN COONS
HEADING EAST, U.S.A.—Train types, train tales:
They're a couple of kids with the fuzz barely off their chins. The world's their private oyster, and there's a Scorchy Smith gleam in their eyes. Buck private, heading for Georgia to be parachute troops.

"Naw," said one of them named Red. "Naw, I never jumped in my life before. But I got sick o' what I was doin' back there—guardin' interned Japs. When folks ask me after the war what I did in it, I wanna say I was right in the middle of the fightin'—not playin' nursemaid to a lot o' Mips..."

There's a private over yonder—we'll call him Joe—who is full of travel. Joe says he joined up to be a soldier but so far most of his life has been spent on rails. From the coast he's been to New York, to Florida, to Southern California, to the middle west, back to the coast, and now he's bound for Louisiana. He's ebullient and garrulous and good-natured. "I'm used to it," he grins. "But what I'd really like is a chance to settle down—for more than two weeks at a time—in one of these honey Army camps." There's a reason for his travels: he knows machine guns, and most of the raw recruits never saw one before they hit camp. He loves machine guns, too, but what'd he'd love more is a chance to radio. "I know radio, after the war I could set up my own shop. A pair of pliers and a spool of wire, and I'd be in business..."

Prep-school boys, heading back to the grind. Sophomores, they talk grandly about the "rats" awaiting them, about "old Jones" and "old Cadwallader" and other "old" classmates who will share their second-year aptitude. There's nothing quite so sophisticated as a prep-school soph, unless it's a dress extra in Hollywood. . . . A pretty blonde girl smiled at one of the pink-cheeked lads and his hot blushes nullified the air-conditioned system. . . .

We're deep in the heart of Texas in where they grow many things, including husky soldiers and movie stars—more volunteers from there. I understand, than from any other state, and more movie stars.

The train is full of Army wives. . . . There's one (on the screen she'd be knitting tiny garments) who is traveling to see her husband at camp—and hoping he's off duty so he can meet the train. . . . There's another young wife, just back from a quick trip to her husband's camp, cut short by his assignment to maneuvers. She was going back, disappointed but chin up, to her defense job. . . . Good soldier! . . .

A couple of days ago on a train, they tell the tale, a bridal couple got aboard, still dripping rice, and proceeded to their reserved drawing room. The door opened, and a couple of Army colonels stood up apologetically—"so sorry, but we have priorities," they said sympathetically.

Suggestion Wins $230
DOWNEY, Calif.—A suggestion for redesigning of dies used in specialized aircraft manufacture, which will materially increase the life of the tools, won an award of $230 for Loyal McLain, plant worker at Vultee Aircraft factory here. The award was one of the highest yet made under the employe suggestion plan.

Two weeks afterward Miss Moore engineered a trip to Europe for Dorothy, but after only six months abroad she was forced home by the war. Two years ago she made her debut with the Chicago Opera company, and a career that makes every telephone operator with a good voice hope that somebody special is listening.

Water Consumption Shows Sharp Drop

Water consumption which is around three million gallons a month during the summer has fallen to about one million gallons the past month, water department officials said Monday.

This drop is not unusual, they said and was simply occasioned by the lack of irrigation needs and the heavy rains the community has enjoyed the last thirty days.

The soil conservation service states that recorded rainfall in this area during September is as follows: N. W. Glasscock region 1.41 inches, Akerly 5.0, on the Martin-Howard county line 2.96 and on the northwest boundary of Martin county .94 inches.

A Promise for Tomorrow

Chapter 24
THE TALL STRANGER
"As a matter of fact," Kelland began again, "the old-timers around here say the fishing isn't good yet. I think you'd do better to go on up to Eagle Creek."

Poor old man, Julie thought compassionately, seeing beads of perspiration come to his forehead as he made continued effort to get rid of them. And even as she tried to put pieces of the puzzle together, she heard footsteps upstairs. A door opened, closed softly, someone came down the stairway, the sound of footsteps came steadily down the long hall toward them.

Julie's heart pounded when, for a dramatic moment, the steps halted, stopped. Someone stood just outside the door.

Then, with elaborate show of heartiness, he called, "That you Arnold? Come in. Meet my friends here."

A tall man stepped instantly into the room, Julie's hands tightened on the arm of her chair. It was the tall stranger of the trail all right.

He bowed briefly as Kelland made the introductions.

"Dr. Hamilton—Mr. Fowler, this is—Mr.—" dull red spots mottled his cheeks, "Mr. Arnold Mount," Kelland fumbled finally. "How do you do," Julie acknowledged quietly and wondered why he tried so pitifully hard to hide the truth. It certainly wasn't a plan very well formed.

"This is a very great pleasure," Mr. Mount said in smooth clipped English that marked him instantly as of foreign birth.

Pete shook hands. "That's good," he said dryly. Hope we're not butting in on a party here."

"But certainly not," the tall foreigner turned now to Julie. "I believe we have met before? Aren't you the young lady who ran away from me on the day you were lost with your companion?"

Julie blushed hotly. "Yes, I was—upset."

"Naturally." His glance studied her boldly. "You enjoy fishing?"

And when Julie, chin up, eyes levelled coolly, met that glance she saw that he was quite aware of the purpose of her visit—and he knew that she realized it!

Strange behavior.

Just when Julie thought she could stand the strain no longer, Pete pulled himself out of his chair, picked up his hat.

"Well, Kelland, if it's still all right to count on stopping here with you, we'll go back and get the car. Left it down the road

Surgical Dressing Work Is Awaiting New Materials

Although the Red Cross Surgical Dressing Institute announced Sunday the closing of shop until materials for the new quota arrive, volunteers are still pouring in.

The old quota of 25,300 dressings was completed last Friday, and work on the new quota—41,400—will begin as soon as the materials arrive. Notices will be given at that time.

Nimitz Goes To Solomons To Honor Men

PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 13 (AP)—U. S. fleet headquarters disclosed today that Admiral Chester W. Nimitz visited Guadalcanal island in the Solomons two weeks ago and presented 27 awards to Navy, Marine and Army heroes.

The trip to the South Pacific island by the commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet followed a conference with Vice-Admiral Robert L. Ghormley, naval commander in the South Pacific, and Lieutenant General H. H. Arnold, commanding general of U. S. air forces.

The awards were 16 Navy Crosses and 11 Distinguished Flying Crosses, all for actions in the Solomons except one award to a participant in the raid last August on Japanese-held Makin island.

Navy Crosses were awarded to: General Vandegrift, Washington, D. C., for exceptionally meritorious service in a duty of great responsibility as the commander of all the ground troops in the attack on the Solomons Aug. 7.

Brigadier General William H. Rupertus, Washington, D. C., Marine corps director of the Tulagi and Gavuto island operations, for taking the islands after three days of bitter fighting.

Major John Smith, Lexington, Okla., Marine aviator. He shot down more planes (16) than any other U. S. pilot from Aug. 21 to Sept. 15, his squadron downing 33 Jap planes although they were always outnumbered two-to-one and sometimes four-to-one.

Distinguished Flying Crosses were awarded to the following Marine officer:

Lieutenant (JG) E. T. Stover, Denton, Tex., who destroyed three planes.

CAP Meeting Set For This Evening

The Civil Air Patrol will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the high school in the second session of the group since a layoff during the summer months.

Study of organization of the army, leadership and exercise of command and drill will be undertaken during the winter months.

Dr. P. W. Malone is commander and R. E. McEwen, executive officer of the organization. All men who are interested are urged to attend the meeting tonight or to contact either Dr. Malone or McEwen for further information.

Rotarians Honor Author Philips

Rotary club members honored Shine Philips as author of the book, "Big Spring, Casual Biography of a Prairie Town," at luncheon session Tuesday at the Settles hotel.

Long time residents, who knew Shine "when" told good and bad stories of his exploits as a youngster. The Rev. Dick O'Brien gave a mock review of the book that has gained national prominence.

Philips was lauded for his book which has made Big Spring nationally known.

Fossil tarmites about 25,000,000 years old have been unearthed in Germany.

Here 'n There

It had been more than a month since Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Jr., had heard from their son, Billie, who is radio man on a destroyer. But their worries have now been dispelled, for they have a letter from their son saying he is back in the states after a "long" cruise which took his ship into "The Bering sea within a stone's throw of Russia."

The Rev. Homer W. Halslip, formerly pastor of the First Christian church here, writes to say that he and Mrs. Halslip have found their new pastorate at Ardmore, Okla., a wholly happy experience, but complains that "The Herald got his initials wrong on his paper." "Some of these Oklahoma citizens are suspicious of citizens coming from Texas and especially is it dangerous when your name doesn't click. Too many of the boys are asking me for my real name when I lived in Texas," he says.

Richard D. Hatch, Jr., first class seaman, sends a note from the Navy diesel school at Columbia, Mo., where he is in his sixth week. He likes his work but complains the navy is too slow in letting the men apply for family allowances. He went in in July and October will be the first month the allowance becomes effective for him.

A feature story with a picture of Mrs. W. C. Barnett, formerly of Big Spring, is carried in the Tuesday issue of the Fort Worth Star Telegram. The article introduces Mrs. Barnett, widow of the late pioneer Dr. Will Barnett, as a new resident of Fort Worth and refers to her as the "Big Spring Flower Lady" because of her hobby while here.

Mrs. Carl Hammack, home food supply demonstrator for the Fairview club, has put up approximately 144 quarts of meats, beans, peas, okra, squash, tomatoes, vegetable soup, chicken soup, gumbo, grapes, plums, peaches, apples, grape juice preserves, pickles, jellies, fruit butters and relishes as evidence that she believes that vegetables and fruits in the proper quantity and variety along with milk and eggs furnish important substances which are lacking in just ordinary fare.

Another name included in the list of delinquents with the selective service board was removed Tuesday when Arvel Moore, who had not been contacted to fill out a supplemental questionnaire, learned through the press he was carried on the board's "missing" list. He made the contact and filled out the blank.

his eyebrows. "You don't mean it?"

"When we saw you coming," Mount bowed sardonically, "through the apple orchard, Mr. Kelland made an attempt on my life."

"What for?"

"He felt he could not bear to see you, he said. And yet—" he smiled, "I understand you are among his closest friends."

"Well, we thought we were."

"Then," he shrugged, "you see he is unbalanced. I am sorry to have had to frighten you." Deliberately he put the little pistol into his pocket. But, Julie noticed, he kept his hand there too. "But I knew, if you left to report his mental ill-health, Mr. Kelland would probably find some way to end his life."

"I—see," Pete whistled softly. "So that's it."

Arnold Mount searched Pete's bland, innocent surprise, apparently found it satisfactory. He stood up. "I am so glad you are going to be cooperative. And now if you will excuse me a moment—"

He bowed himself out of the room with no further explanation. Still stunned, Julie heard the key turn in the lock.

That "misunderstood man of the army—the bugler—is being replaced by the ordinary alarm clock.

A recent run on clocks of the alarm variety completely exhausted the stocks of local merchants and forced would-be early-risers to rely on other methods.

Mrs. J. F. Hudson, wife of an instructor at the bombardier school, started the young lady attendant in the telegraph office when she wrote out this message to be wired to her parents in Oklahoma:

"Rush alarm clock immediately."

Former B'Spring Resident Succumbs In Dallas Hospital

Word was received here Tuesday of the death, in a hospital at Dallas Monday night of Mrs. Lynn Edwards, former resident of Big Spring and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Frank Walling of this city.

Mrs. Edwards, 23, had been residing for the past few years in Lamesa, where her husband is manager of the G. F. Wacker store. She was taken to Dallas last weekend for treatment. The Edwardses lived here before going to Lamesa.

Mr. and Mrs. Walling were in Dallas. The body was to be returned here for burial, but funeral arrangements had not been completed.
