

Manual Training and Business Courses Added School Work

By Supt. C. L. Sone
It has been suggested that we give out some of our plans in regard to the two new departments which we are adding to our high school courses. The departments referred to are Manual Training and Business courses.

Manual Training. Mr. Bivens, who opened up the manual training work last January, will be back again in charge of that department. He will give all his time to that work. Mr. Bivens is not only a good teacher of theory but a very practical carpenter and cabinet worker. The work done with the boys last year was remarkable in quantity and quality of projects. A genuine seriousness among the boys prevailed and no part of the school program was carried out with better order or more satisfactory results.

Besides the very practical things learned by the boys in woodwork—they learned to do by doing—a very fine training in accuracy, neatness and punctuality is inculcated.

It is the purpose of the school to give these boys courses in mechanical drawing, which will lead to architectural work and all kinds of practical building. The painting on the inside of the Manual Training Annex, recently built, is being held for them to do under the direction of Mr. Bivens. These courses are placed in the last two years of high school, but if the groups are not filled from these two years then the vacancies will be taken by the older boys of the ninth grade.

The management found it necessary to build larger quarters for this work and thereby open up the commercial rooms in the main building.

Business Courses—This important department will offer English, spelling, arithmetic, commercial law, shorthand, typewriting and bookkeeping.

The English, spelling and arithmetic will be taken with the regular courses as outlined. The others will be given by teachers with special training for that particular work. The commercial branches will be offered for affiliation and there is little reason to doubt that it will be secured within a reasonable time.

It is the intention to put before our young people a thorough set of courses that will fit them to undertake the ordinary business transactions in a way that will make them acceptable to the heads of business firms who may employ them. And further, it is very desirable that every person should know the fundamentals of business.

Feeling that the school should function for as many as possible of our citizens, we have arranged for afternoon and evening classes. This is done that those who have to work during the school hours may have an opportunity to improve their business equipment at a minimum expense. The same class of work one would expect to do at the small business colleges will be done here at home in as efficient a manner. If then some specializing is desired the foundation for it will have been laid and further work can be done.

At the head of this work is Mr. R. M. Nash of Athens, Texas. Mr. Nash is an experienced teacher of commercial work. He stands well with the State Department of Education, having affiliated the commercial branches in the Athens high school with the department. Associated with him in this work is Mrs. Nash, who will teach the latest methods of shorthand and typewriting and assist in the other work. Both come highly recommended as teachers and progressive citizens. We are fortunate to be able to secure them for Slaton and it would not have been possible to do so but for the lure of the West that is bringing so many fine people to us. We hope to be able to make their year's work so attractive to them that they will become fixtures in our city and school.

Let all of our working people who feel that they are not as well prepared for their work as they should be get ready to get the benefit of this opportunity.

Our business men would confer a favor on their employes, if they would encourage attendance upon these schools. A very reasonable charge will be made for the various courses to those not enrolled in school. All the work is free to regular students.

Conferences. The superintendent will be glad to make an appointment with any one who needs information

Rotarians Enjoy Good Program

At the Rotary luncheon last Friday, Supt. Sone of the Slaton public schools, made a talk on education, wherein he disclosed some interesting facts regarding the growth of the Slaton schools.

Slaton has over $200,000 invested in its physical school properties, he said. The new high school building is one of the best in all West Texas. This is the declaration of numbers of people who have inspected the building. Yet, the speaker explained, the rapid growth of Slaton is already about to crowd the capacity of our present school buildings and equipment. In the new building there are only 2 rooms that are not used every hour of the day during term time, and those two rooms are used part of the time.

Slaton schools, he further explained, now have twenty-two and one-half credits of affiliation with the State University, and plans are on foot now to give a total of thirty courses in the schools this coming year. These will include manual training and business courses.

All of last year's teachers had done such excellent and meritorious work that all had been re-elected, and three of them since their election had tendered their resignations, some to take up post graduate work, and their places are yet to be filled by the board of trustees.

Mr. Sone spoke in glowing terms of the growth and future prospects of Slaton's school system.

concerning the work. It may save time and insure a better start in the work. It is especially desirable for pupils who have enrolled at other schools that they see the superintendent.

Credits. Pupils who come to us from other high schools must have their transcripts of credits or plan for entrance examinations. Grade pupils must bring reports from classified schools if they are to get unqualified entrance in their respective grades. Book cards are also required to be presented.

Educational Week. August 14 to 21 will be Educational Week for Slaton schools. We are asking the citizens to assist in making that week a time for arousing a sentiment for better school interest among our boys and girls, young men and young women. We are suggesting again, the slogan, "Go to High School or College."

Youth Killed in Auto Wreck

Earl Franklin, 16 years of age, died at Post City Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, about one hour after an automobile accident which occurred when the car he was driving, and in which three of his brothers were also riding, overturned on the highway in the canyon just west of Post City.

Roy Clark and wife and A. J. Clark and wife of Lubbock were the only eye-witnesses to the accident, and stated that the car which turned over pinning its occupants beneath it was not being driven more than 25 or 30 miles per hour when it overturned. They expressed the opinion that the driver of the car, Earl Franklin, who was killed, had not had a great deal of experience in driving and failure to understand management of the car was the cause of the accident.

"The car was not being driven at unusual speed, and would not have turned over but for the peculiar way it was driven into a culvert which caused the driver to apparently lose control and the car darted first to one side and then to the other until it had swerved the width of the graded highway three times, then turned too far and plunged thirty feet to the foot of the grade," A. J. Clark said.

The Clark families were going to Two Draw lake and had passed the car driven by the Franklin boy just above the canyon, but when Clark slowed his car to a rate of about 15 miles per hour the boys passed them, and were only a few yards ahead of the Clark car when the accident occurred.

The injured youths were rushed to

Chamber of Commerce Has Large Budget

The most splendid and encouraging progress is being made on raising the Slaton Chamber of Commerce budget, and prospects are bright, indeed, for great work by this organization in the next twelve months.

A selection has been made for a new secretary, so The Slatonite is informed, but for the present his name is withheld. He is reputed to be one of the best chamber of commerce secretaries in the entire West, and is thoroughly familiar with conditions and problems on the Plains of Texas. It is expected that with the coming of the new secretary a really big and constructive program will be launched for a bigger Slaton—such a program as Slaton has not been able to launch in the past for lack of adequate leadership.

The big majority of the business men of the city are heartily behind the Chamber of Commerce, and are backing it liberally with their funds. The Slatonite is informed that many of the subscribers heretofore have doubled and some have trebled their previous subscriptions. They are showing their faith in their home town and community and are determined to put over worth-while things.

The committee soliciting memberships and funds can really be said to have only begun its work, and already the budget is approaching the $5000 mark. It is thought that a budget of this size will be ample to start the program off with a boom and take care of the secretary's salary and incidentals and leave something for publicity. This budget will gradually be increased.

Below is an alphabetical list of the subscribers thus far. Future lists will be published, so that each subscriber may know who his fellow-workers are in the great work of community building. Any person not seen by the committee and desirous of becoming a member of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce can hand his name and the amount he will pay each month to M. W. Uzzell, S. E. Staggs, J. T. Overby or to any officer or member of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

Panhandle Cotton Crop To Be 523,700 Bales, Belief

Thirty-six counties in the Panhandle of Texas will produce 523,700 bales of cotton this fall, according to a story carried Sunday in the Amarillo Globe.

The figures are based on estimates by the Globe following a tour of the section by a member of the staff. The reports show that the Panhandle will produce the greatest row and cotton crops in its history.

The sorghum grain crops are said to be the finest ever and the prospects for winter wheat are excellent.

The cotton estimate announced is around 80,000 bales above the production in this territory last year.

Tigers Lose Monday, Take Tuesday's Game

After the Tigers had really won a good game on the local grounds Monday, costly errors in the seventh gave it all to the Post club, with a score of 6 to 9.

In a return game Tuesday, played at Post, the Tigers redeemed themselves by bringing back a victory of 2 to 6.

Huntetr and Alexander, twirlers for Monday's and Tuesday's games, respectively, did some splendid work in the box.

Good Program Arranged for Teachers' Institute

The program as arranged for the South Plains Teachers' Institute, to be held at Lubbock, August 31st to September 4th, promises to be one of unusual interest, according to educators of this section.

Counties to co-operate in the institute are Bailey, Crosby, Dickens, Garza, Hale, Lamb, Lubbock, Terry and Yoakum, with President P. W. Horn of the Texas Technological college as conductor. Mr. Horn will address the assembly each morning of the session.

Quite an honor has been bestowed upon the Slaton schools and upon Superintendent C. L. Sone in the selection of him as assistant conductor of the institute. Mr. Sone will have important parts on the program. All Slaton teachers, it is announced, will attend the institute in a body.

Suitable rooms will be provided at an expense of not more than $1 per day.

The general assemblies will be held in the auditorium of the Lubbock high school. Section meetings will be in rooms of the Lubbock high school properly designated.

To assist in meeting the expenses of the institute each teacher will be expected to pay a sum equivalent to one and one-half per cent of one month's salary.

MILTON THOMAS BACK

Milton Thomas and family have returned to Slaton and Mr. Thomas is now actively and regularly associated with the Men's Store.

POST BAPTIST ASSEMBLY DRAWS LARGE CROWDS

Body of Editor Adams Buried Last Night

The body of Jesse M. Adams, editor of the Plainview News, who died in Toulon, France, on May 10th, while on a world tour, arrived in Plainview, Thursday afternoon on the 550 train. With him were Mrs. E. Q. Perry, his daughter, and her husband, who left here Tuesday morning for Freeport, Texas, near Galveston, where the body was landed from the S. S. "Mont Viso," July 29th, having been on the voyage since June 6th.

Funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the First Christian Church by Rev. H. B. Johnson, pastor in charge, assisted by Rev. L. N. Lipscomb, Methodist pastor.

Pallbearers were old-time friends and fellow citizens of the former editor. Active pallbearers were Judge R. C. Joiner, W. W. Thomson, E. T. Coleman, Judge H. C. Randolph, Frank M. Butler, D. L. Miller, F. H. Obethier and E. H. Bawden.

Honorary pallbearers were members of the Texas Press Association and the Plainview Rotary club who attended the funeral in a body.

The grave was entirely covered with beautiful floral offerings from the host of friends of the family.

Mr. Adams at the time of his death was editor of the Plainview News and had lived in Plainview nearly fifteen years. He had formerly edited papers at Comanche and Coleman, Texas, and was one of the best known newspapermen in West Texas.

He contracted India flu while in India, and in a weakened condition succumbed to an attack of pleurisy while hastening home.—Plainview Herald.

"Night Life of New York" Dwan's Latest

LaRocque, Dorothy Gish, Ernest Torrence in New Paramount

Allan Dwan has produced an elaborate picture entertainment with a cast of recognized stars in his latest production for Paramount, "Night Life of New York," which comes to the Custer Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, August 13th and 14th.

The story is an original for the screen by Edgar Selwyn, adapted by Paul Schofield and featuring Rod LaRocque, Dorothy Gish, Ernest Torrence and George Hackathorne in the leading roles.

In the story we find Ernest Torrence as John Bentley, who in his youth was fitted by a New York girl named Sally, and went west to make his fortune. Although he has married someone else and is very wealthy he has never gotten over his grudge against New York.

Rotarians To Stage "Ladies Night"

The Slaton Rotary club is planning a big time on the evening of August 21st. That is the date officially set aside as "Ladies' Night," when every Rotarian will bring his wife, if he has one, and if not so fortunate, then one, two or three of his lady friends.

A good program is being arranged and likewise there will be the good eats that one always thinks of who has ever attended a Rotary luncheon, either as member or guest. A big time is in store.

The regular noon luncheon of the club on that date will be postponed for the night meeting.

Slaton Rotary was organized last spring and is growing rapidly both in membership and in enthusiasm. Growth in membership, however, is limited by the rules of the club, for during the first year of the club's existence only three members a month can be taken in. Rotary has had a wonderful growth since its beginning not many years ago, and it now has over 108,000 members with clubs in thirty countries of the world. Its motto is "Service Above Self. He Profits Most Who Serves Best."

Mrs. H. M. Donnell and children, Arline and Russell, are in Turkey, Texas, on a visit with relatives.

The first session of Post Baptist Assembly held at Two Draw lake near Post closed Tuesday after eight days of fine attendance and general enjoyment of the entire program. The meeting opened Tuesday, July 28th, and closed Tuesday, August 4th, two days before the time scheduled for closing. Two reasons brought about this action. One was illness of two of the main speakers, making it impossible for them to attend and take their parts on the program. Another, the rainy, unsettled condition of the weather.

The biggest day of the meeting was last Sunday, the only Sunday included in the assembly dates. Sunday school was held Sunday morning as is done in the local churches from which the people came. There were 900 in Sunday school. Fourteen hundred and sixty-six people attended the morning preaching service Sunday. B. Y. P. U. attendance that evening at 7 o'clock reached the high mark of 360.

Total attendance at the encampment last Sunday was estimated at 2500 people. This was really better attendance than was hoped for due to, this being the first year of the assembly. No exact figures are known as to total attendance during the eight days, but conservative estimates place it at from six to eight thousand. Very likely if correct figures were known it would show a much larger attendance than this.

Among many interesting speakers appearing on the program were Dr. J. D. Sandefer, president of Simmons University, Abilene, and Dr. J. C. Hardy, president of Baylor College for Women, Belton. Dr. Sandefer delivered two very interesting addresses, one last Sunday afternoon and another last Monday night. In both speeches Dr. Sandefer took occasion to deplore the situation as relates to modernism creeping into so large a percentage of higher institutions of learning. He denounced the theory of evolution which, he said, is being taught to our boys and girls, not only in the colleges and universities of the North and South, but also in a large number of our high schools. A few took a nap at the modernistic views held by a large number of preachers in high pulpits of the North, more especially, Dr. Sandefer is strong for the Bible. He paid high tribute to the late W. J. Bryan, and said that Bryan was the outstanding defender of the Christian religion against the attacks of evolutionists. He expressed deep regret that Bryan had been called a traitor from the walks of men.

Dr. Sandefer warned the people that if they did not want their boys and girls to be taught the Deity and Virgin Birth of Christ, the Atonement of Christ for sin and all the other rock-ribbed truths of the Bible as they are laid down in the Word of God, they should not send their boys and girls to Simmons University.

The main speaker of the assembly was Dr. W. D. Powell, of Louisville, Ky., who spoke twice daily to large Wayland college, Plainview, spoke Monday morning. Rev. R. A. Scranton, field secretary for the State Board in West Texas, spoke Sunday afternoon to a large crowd, his address preceding that of Dr. Sandefer.

Prof. W. H. Pool of Baylor University was on the ground all during the assembly representing his institution. Many other speakers and attendants are worthy of mention, but time and space forbid.

Let it be said, however, that plans for next year's meeting are already under way, and there will be a much stronger program and much larger plans in general laid out for the next annual session. It is believed that the attendance next year will reach far larger proportions than it did this year.

Mention should be made, too, of the loyal way in which the people of Post supported the assembly. Their handling of the situation was magnificent. Post citizens are a live, wide-awake bunch, and the people will not soon forget their magnanimous spirit.

Mr. Harry Bounds of Stamford, Texas, is now a citizen of Slaton and has charge of the ice cream department of the Quality Bottling and Ice Cream Works. He has had seventeen years' experience in the business and comes highly recommended. We extend a hearty welcome to him and hope he will be pleased with his new surroundings.

Outlook Good for Coming School Year

By C. L. Sone.

Important: July 31st is the last day on which transfers may be made. If you wish to transfer to another school, go to your county superintendent and have this done. The school that teaches your children should have the money set aside by the state for that expense.

Unders: The great problem that Slaton school management has had to face has been that of housing and teaching force. It would seem that the amount of building done in the last few years would have solved that problem. There has been such rapid growth in the scholastic population that we now find the buildings practically full with the prospects of an extra large attendance for next year. Quite a number of our good friends have children who are not of scholastic age, but who lack only a few days or months and are seeking for admission in the school. The school board has had this matter under consideration and have stated that it would be their pleasure to allow this if it is possible to do so. We have three primary teachers employed at present. It seems now that there will be no more rooms to spare for primary or first grade work. If it should develop that these teachers are not crowded and could take more pupils than will come out of the scholastics who are eligible, then we could finish seating these rooms with age of seven. We have no possible means of determining this, however, until school shall have been opened those who are nearest the scholastic and the enrollment made. Then a reference to the enlistment blanks may be had and those who were enrolled but not reporting will be considered. If it is evident that they will not attend school and thus leave immediate arrangements to allow a room for others, the board will make number between certain ages to enter. Notice will be given to the papers as to the outcome of these investigations.

Textbooks: Some few changes are to be made in the grade books and some in high school also. Histories and English books for the 8th and 9th grades, respectively, will be changed. The teachers will insist very strongly upon a more careful keeping of these books by the pupils. The law provides that where a book is mutilated or defaced that the pupil shall pay for the book. We are making a note of this at this early date so that parents and pupils may cooperate more fully with us. Habits of cleanliness and respect for public property should be taught our children even though the money considerations are overlooked.

Thoughtfulness: Some of our pupils have been very thorough and those have no trouble in their further progress in the grades or in high school. It takes home work for the upper grades and all the high school if the necessary thoroughness is to be acquired. Each teacher is committed to this program for the incoming year. Thorough preparation on the part of teachers and pupils will be stressed and the ends desired will be attained without trouble.

The school interest is taking hold of the young people and they are now inquiring about the work and everything points to a year of splendid accomplishment. We hear almost every day of new pupils who are planning to be with us. Of course we expect to see our old pupils back, 100 per cent unless they have completed or have moved away.

Education Week: What young man or young woman do you know, who should begin at once to improve their educational qualifications? Begin to urge them to go to school. Let our slogan be "High School or College."

PERFORMANCE IS IMPROVED

Walter P. Chrysler, president of the Chrysler corporation, announces new and lower prices on the Chrysler Six, as well as a number of improvements and refinements in engineering design which raise this car to new performance peaks.

The new prices range from $1395 for the Pheaton model to $2095 for the Crown Imperial, f. o. b. Detroit.

Included in the improvements are a motor of greater power and smoothness, a chassis of greater sturdiness and rigidity with greater use of alloy steels, and a group of the most attractive body designs and colorings.

"These refinements are but the natural and obvious results achieved by an organization that is not content to stand still," is Mr. Chrysler's comment on the new prices and developments of the Chrysler Six.

APPEALING STORY OF LOVE, LAUGHS, GENUINE THRILLS

"The Female" is a gripping story of a primitive South African girl and two men over whom she exercises a strange love power. It shows a native farmer and his wife in search of a lost child. Rushing through the thickness of the underbrush, they hear a low purring and are attracted to a spot wherein they find their two-year-old baby contentedly playing in a nest of lion cubs. Because of this experience the girl is nicknamed "Dallathe Lion Cub," and as she grows up a great beauty, she lives that old saying that "the female of the species is more deadly than the male."

From a cub she grows to a lioness and throughout her life this girl is a snappy, snarling, back-fire young miss. She leaves the trade mark of her ferocity on many a man. The greatest lovers of this African district, one by one, try to conquer her, and each in turn meets the same fate.

There finally comes a big, strapping fellow, who is more persistent, more masculine, more determined than the rest. He keeps on the trail of this beautiful girl, backed by a really mad and genuine infatuation. He conquers her in the end, but the love feud is brought to a climax in a very thrilling scene in which Dalla drives off a lion that is about to attack the man she finds she really loves.

"The Female" will be shown at the Custer theatre next Monday and Tuesday, August 3 and 4.

Price Reduction in Chevrolet Closed Cars

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 4.—Announcement of a price reduction effective August 1 on Chevrolet closed models was made today by H. R. Grant, general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor company.

The revised price list is as follows: Coupe reduced $40 to a new price of $675; coach reduced $40 to a new price of $695; sedan reduced $50 to a new price of $775.

"The record production and phenomenal sale of Chevrolets during recent months enables the company to reduce prices at an earlier date than at first had been contemplated," said Mr. Grant. "It is the result of quantity production permitting quality manufacture at lower cost."

Mr. Grant pointed to the fact that the Chevrolet Motor company will have exceeded by August 20 its total production for the year 1924 after having established production records for three successive months. The company will make its own two millionth car early this fall, and will be the first manufacturer of three-speed gear-shift cars to reach that production mark.

"The largest producers gain an advantage by effecting substantial savings through enormous purchasing power," continued Mr. Grant. "The Chevrolet Motor company is passing this advantage to the car buyer."

Incidentally the benefit of the price reduction will extend also to more than 8000 persons holding Chevrolet Six Per Cent Purchase Certificates for future delivery on closed models. The payments and interest on the certificates now will attain the total of a down payment for delivery earlier than would have been the case under the former price schedule.

J. B. Strickling and son, J. B., Jr., were in Slaton Tuesday from McKinney. Mr. Strickling may locate in the West.

Some Interesting School Statistics

Floyd Rector had charge of the program at the regular weekly Rotary club luncheon last Friday, which proved to be quite interesting and profitable.

C. Lem Sone, superintendent of Slaton public schools, and R. W. Collier, Jr., editor and manager of the Slatonite, were admitted as newly elected members of the club and both, when introduced as full fledged Rotarians, received hearty welcome.

Lem was the first speaker on the program and his talk was along the lines of education and the Slaton schools, and proved interesting, so interesting, in fact, that an account of it may be found elsewhere in this issue of The Slatonite. Jim K. Wood responded to the subject, Business Prospects in Slaton Country Since the Rain. That is a subject on which Jim K. Wood is always posted, rain or no rain, but the three or four inches of waterfall in the Slaton country the past three days, and with the clouds still hanging heavy and low, promising more of the welcome precipitation at any moment just added a little bit more to Jim's store of optimism, and he, without batting an eye or wriggling an ear, declared that in his judgment the year 1925 would prove one of the greatest in the history of this region. He boasted Slaton bank deposits this fall to a million and a half dollars. That's a lot of money, but not one of his statements was believed to be exaggerated by any person present.

J. Fred Anton, division superintendent of the Santa Fe at Slaton, spoke briefly on the recent Plainview railroad meeting. He expressed both belief and the hope that the petition of the Santa Fe would be granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission to extend its lines in this section. Then he had something to say about Slaton, and when he said it he should have been permitted to speak through a radio amplifier, that every man and woman in Slaton could have heard. "Railroad Speaking," J. F. Anton has a mighty good idea as to Slaton's future, and this, in substance, is what he said: "Slaton has a great future, and there is much work to be done."

Rotarian Michael French, rector of St. Joseph's church, was the last speaker (except Mack), and he also spoke on a subject in which he feels and expresses a deep interest—education. The Catholics of Slaton are planning an academy for Slaton, "to be equipped with the best teachers obtainable—graduates of the University of Texas or from the Catholic University at Washington." He explained that similar academies are at Dallas and Fort Worth and other large cities. Mike—that is his Rotary name—brought applause when he declared himself opposed to taking children out of school during term time to work on the farms, thereby interfering with their education.

Eugene Holt was a guest of Rotarian J. W. Hood. Jim Wood will have charge of the program at the next luncheon.

Only 74 Per Cent of Births Registered

At present, here is approximately 74 per cent of births in Texas being reported. Of the other 26 per cent of children, the state has no record of their existence. To be in the registration area of the United States, each state is required to register 90 per cent of all births and deaths, consequently Texas is not included in this registration area. Some of the reasons why a child's birth should be made a part of the state's records are:

Birth registration proves the child's age, an essential point in admission to and leaving school; in marriage, voting, or qualifying for jury or military service. Proof of age is also necessary in the prosecution of certain statutory offences and right of jurisdiction of juvenile courts.

Births registration proves the child's identity, an essential point in administration of property; set-off insurance and pensions; passports to and residence in foreign countries; and readmission to the United States after residence abroad.

Oil Geologists Say Structure Cause of Quake

Amarillo, Aug. 3.—The Panhandle's earthquake was caused by the geological structure which makes the basis for this oil field, geologists stated in discussing informally this freak of nature.

A granite lift runs from southwestern Oklahoma through the Panhandle of Texas to Tecumseh, Nw Mexico, and they say a slip of this structure weakness is what brought about the tremors Thursday morning.

Settling of either side of this structure a fraction of an inch would make tremors as large as were here felt here Thursday morning.

This granite formation, geologists say, may run back some distance, a hundred miles or so, and that is why the tremors were felt in so large an area.

Drillers in Potter county have struck this formation a 1500 to 2500 feet, while the granite is exposed around the Sayre, Oklahoma, section, oil geologists said.

Real Fashion Show Coming Next Week

An opportunity to display on the screen the world's fourteen most beautiful girls is provided by "The Dressmaker from Paris," the colorful Paramount picture marking Leatrice Joy's return to the screen. The fashion show, a gorgeous, dazzling display of gowns created for them by a styles' expert, brought to Hollywood from Paris for this purpose. The girls forming this Paramount array of beautiful models were brought together during a three months' search.

When Billy and Fifi meet they manage to thoroughly misunderstand each other. Two of the models are innocently involved in a roadhouse scandal and the town determines to banish the dressmaker and her girls. A newspaper publishes the reports of her past life to make matters worse.

The mob that has gathered outside the hotel learns of the situation and determines to seize the undesirables and forcibly oust them from the town. The real action of this Paul Bern production begins here. The picture will be shown at the Custer theatre Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Did You Ever Stop To Think

That "Safety First" should be foremost in your mind; not only "Safety First" for yourself, but for the other fellow as well.

That a little carelessness often causes an accident which a lifetime cannot repair. An ounce of preventive is worth a pound of cure—try it.

That railroad crossings are places taken. No safeguards put up by of danger where no chances should be railroads can prevent accidents to careless drivers who ignore them.

That people are killed at railroad crossings every day because they took a chance and forgot "Safety First."

That a majority of people killed at railroad crossings are occupants of automobiles.

That when you get near a railroad crossing, slow down or make a full stop and use your eyes.

That under no circumstances should you proceed until you have made sure that no train is approaching from either direction.

That if a train is approaching, you should wait until it passes; do not attempt to cross ahead of it; you can not always do it.

If you are in a hurry, cut out the hurry, stop and wait. You might hurry yourself into a hospital or a graveyard. Play "Safety First."—E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

GOOD PUBLIC UTILITIES MAKE A GOOD TOWN

EVERYBODY in every good Texas town has an answer to the question; What makes a good town?

Naturally, the answers are not all alike.

Good citizens working together for their mutual interests and the common welfare are community builders. But there are basic factors of modern community life that must exist to make a good town.

For instance, without adequate telephone service according to size and conditions, no town can be a good town.

As a community's public utility service is good or bad so is that community a good place or a poor place to live in.

Ford Uses 125 Miles Steel Ribbon Daily

Transforming steel ribbon into roller bearings is one of the interesting operations carried out in one department at the Highland Park Plant of the Ford Motor Company in which a number of special Ford designed machines play an important part.

Just how much activity there is in this department may be gained from the fact that 125 miles of steel ribbon is used daily production of roller bearings at the present output schedule, permitting the assembly of 51,000 complete bearings every day.

The Steel ribbon used is five thirty-seconds of an inch thick and about half an inch wide. It is wound in Ford designed and built machines known as "Winders" and when it emerges from those machines is in the form of a heavy spring rod with a narrow opening through the center. The rods are cut into proper lengths for the rollers, and short lengths are then hardened and tempered.

Grinding operations in which the rollers are ground to very close limits are carried on in other Ford designed "grinders" in which the precision in the rollers is easily regulated.

The last operation before the rollers are finally assembled and welded in the cages is one through which every finished bearing must pass—the process of being de-magnetized. Practically every bearing after having passing through the various manufacturing operations carries a certain amount of magnetism. If this remained the roller would have a tendency to pick up and retain small pieces of steel that might chance get into the sleeve of the bearing. It is not likely, of course, that any harm would result even if this magnetism were not destroyed, but the policy followed is another bit of evidence that the Ford Motor Company leaves nothing undone to insure the utmost of service in all its products.

TO SUMMER

Dorothy Clifton Wilson.

Poor old torturing, hot old summer,
Why is it we dread you so?
If you'd only be a little cooler,
We'd love you more you know.

You keep us on pins and needles,
Trying to keep cool and clean,
You're bad, so bad for the stout,
But you're just as hard on the lean.

So why not be as we'd like you,
And be decent now and then,
We'd adore you and like you,
And want you to come again.

So why not try us out,
And see what we would do,
Be cool and pleasant,
If only for a day or two.

HOW MUCH DOES A HOME COST?

One man point to a house and say: "It cost me only $3500 to build my house."

Another may point to a house very similar in size and appearance and say: "I put $4200 into that house."

But at the end of five years, or possibly less, there may be a different story to tell.

The first cost does not always prove to be the final cost! By skimping a little here and there on quality, it is possible to build for say $3500 a home that should really cost something like $4200.

But time proves the fallacy of such methods in building a home (or any structure, for that matter). Repairs and replacements often add to the initial sum until the final cost becomes much greater than if there had been no skimping of quality in the beginning.

THE SLATON STATE BANK

SOCIETY

By Mrs. W. H. McKirahan.

My heart was aching an hour ago, I could feel no joy at all; But now the grass is growing green; My life seemed a barren wilderness, There was no pleasant soil; The birds are singing free; I need not tell you why again; Some one's been good to me.

My thoughts were bitter awhile ago; My heart as hard as steel; I had no joy, no hope, no love; It seemed I could not feel. But now I can hope and rejoice and love; With a heart as deep as the sea; My soul was changed by a simple deed; Some one was kind to me.

And when I reach the blessed heaven alone, That land so bright and fair, I will wander about through the streets of gold And look for that somebody, there; And when I find that angel of light, Though perfectly happy he'll be; I'll say, "Lord, make him happier yet," He was so good to me. —Louise Smith.

Mr. Kuykendall has returned from a two months' visit in California with his two sons, Joe and Bill, and families and reports a wonderful trip. Mr. Kuykendall was on the "move" all the time from what he saw while there. The trees were of great interest to Grandpa Kuykendall and this is a description of one of those immense trees that are so common in certain sections of California: Sir Joseph Hooker Oak Tree

Height, 101 ft; circumference of trunk eight feet from ground, 28 1-2 ft; diameter of trunk, 9 ft.; spread of branches, 147 ft.; length of longest branch 105 ft.; circumference of branches, 447 ft.; estimated age, 1000 years; allowing 2 feet for each person 7885 people can stand under this tree.

Another tree under which he ate picnic lunch was located 60 miles from where his sons live and in Feather canyon. This tree was a fig tree and was 2 1-2 feet through the body, 80 feet across the top spread. Under this tree were several picnic parties eating at the same time.

WORK TO BE DONE

J. F. Anton, superintendent of the Slaton division of the Santa Fe Railway system, in speaking of Slaton, said, "Slaton has a great future, and there is much work to be done."

Mr. Anton is in position to know not a little about Slaton's future, and the future of all other towns in the South Plains region, and he is not given to exaggeration.

He was not speaking idly when he fact that "there is much work to be done." In fact, he seemed to intend the implication that Slaton's future will directly depend upon the doing of associated "Slaton's Future" with the "much work to be done."

A few things in this connection appear to be quite obvious. The first is that the much work to be done that has so intimate connection with Slaton's future, will not be done by Lubbock or Ralls or Post or Tahoka. That work must be done, if done at all, by Slaton—by Slaton citizens. It is always safe to figure that in doing that work there will be a few who will not be interested and will not assist in the work, and that another few will be disgruntled and will oppose others doing the work and will block it if they can. Therefore, the work that is to be done to accomplish Slaton's future will have to be done by those not included in the two classes named, and they will have to do it in the face of such obstacles as a few obstacle makers can devise.

The second obvious fact is that this "much work to be done" can be accomplished much better by cooperation than by individual effort. The individual is too busy with his own private affairs personally to conduct or to supervise the work or to take a very large part in its supervision. He must, therefore, have some one to do it for him, while he does the boosting and the paying.

The Slaton Chamber of Commerce is the rallying point for cooperation in doing the much work that is to be done in order to make Slaton's future GREAT. Slaton is destined to have a future of some sort, that is, of course, unless an earthquake rizes the city, or a tornado wipes her off the map, or a few internal knockers succeed in knocking her to pieces and carrying her away. In the ordinary run of things none of those catastrophes are within the range of probability, and the latter can scarcely be classed as among even the possibilities.

"Slaton has a great future," is the declaration only of an optimist, a builder, a doer of real deeds, a real human being with faith, energy and stick-to-it-iveness. And what a great difference it makes when he word "great" is used in connection with Slaton's future. It implies determination, ignoring of obstacles and the parents of obstacles, and the pealing forth of the battle cry of progress, "Let's Go."

Every man and woman is going to be judged by the things he does for his own home town, and the best possible way for each to do his bit is through the Chamber of Commerce, boosting it and helping financially to maintain it.

"LET'S GO!"

"YOUR FOOL RELIGION"

Clarence Darrow, leading defense counsel in the trial of Scopes for teaching evolution, at Dayton, Tennessee, is recognized as one of the leading and most astute lawyers in America. But he is human and has many, if not all, the frailties incident to such nature, and no doubt he makes mistakes occasionally which he himself deeply regrets afterwards.

During the trial, when William Jennings Bryan was on the stand, placed there as a witness by Darrow and many irrelevant questions propounded to him touching his religious beliefs, Darrow, in response to Mr. Bryan's answers, shot back at him a sentence which contained the phrase, "your fool religion."

That was a great blunder on the part of Mr. Darrow; one that places him no doubt in a false light, and which will add nothing to his glory or fame, and bring down upon him censure from countless thousands.

He had no business making that statement; there was nothing to justify it; it was no doubt prompted in an unguarded and undeliberative moment by Mr. Darrow's disappointment at the judge's decision not to permit expert testimony on the purely scientific question of evolution.

No man's religion is a foolish thing. Least of all, no man has the right, to show disrespect to another because whatever his private beliefs may be, of the other's private religious convictions. Religion plays a very large part in the lives of many people. It ought to play a big part in the lives of all people. It deals with questions which concern the individual alone, and the individual's ideas as to his relation to his Maker is holy ground, not to be trespassed upon by any other, and not to be ridiculed.

Mr. Darrow probably did not intend to ridicule Mr. Bryan's religion. The greatness of his intellect would seem to negative that charge, and it may be more or less true that Mr. Bryan believed some things which seemed to Mr. Darrow foolish, for it is a common human trait to brand as foolish that which does not accord with one's own views. It is however very improper to express one's self as did Mr. Darrow on that occasion. It was very probably a slip of the tongue, but it was an incident in the Dayton trail that was unfortunate, unjust and useless and until satisfactorily explained by Mr. Darrow, quite inexcusable.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

It is not easy for small natures to judge accurately great natures. Time alone can approximate a just judgment. Likewise, it is not easy to look down the years and foresee what judgement Time will render. It is not, however, so difficult to know the dominating ingredients of a great nature, as personal qualities are revealed to one's fellowmen, and judge his true character.

William Jennings Bryan is gone from the theatre of human action. His day is done; the book of his life is closed; his silver tongue is silent; ever against the popular clamor, as for example, when he resigned as Secretary of State because President Wilson was pursuing a course in protection of American rights of life on a property on the high seas in 1916 which Mr. Bryan believed was calculated to lead America into war with Germany, and was he opposed whatever the provocation or the issues at stake.

That step the nation as a whole did not sanction. It would not follow Bryan in pacifism to the extremes he would lead them. In 1899 Bryan espoused the free and unlimited coinage of silver in the ratio of 16 to 1, a doctrine which the his deeds are known to all men, and already there is effort to appraise him and to assign to him his niche in the World's Hall of Fame.

That appraisal must be upon two counts: His personal character and his deeds. Bryan espoused many causes. Many times he was wrong, and many times he was right. Whatever his cause for the time, he won followers by the sheer force of his eloquence as an orator. As a scholar he maintained a greater reputation than he enjoyed among scholars. As among those of average intellect a logician a great many of his conclusions were based on assumptions and popular beliefs, but he was withal sincere and he has never been accused in his later days of being an opportunist, for on more than one occasion he followed his convictions nation repudiated and Mr. Bryan eventually abandoned. In 1899 he erroneously believed that America was embarking on a policy of imperialism, following the war with Spain and he made that his paramount issue in the presidential election of that year, again to be repudiated. In his last presidential campaign he proposed a remedy for the baneful influence of "trusts" which the country believed to be unsound, and for the time the great Commoner was rejected. At no time was his sincerity and honesty questioned—only his judgement.

Bryan's ability to sway the masses was great. His reputation as an orator is assured. No other man in the realm of politics remained so long as a dominating force in the public mind. One man, in the field of science Thomas A. Edison, rivals him in this respect. Bryan was true sincere and loyal—loyal to himself, to his followers, to his party, to his country. His ambition was to do good and he accomplished good. Throughout his public life millions refused to share his views but he did not antagonize, and he left behind no animosities, no hatreds, no regrets, and no bitter enemies. In that, considering the enormity of his activities, his career and his life were sublime, and all, whether his supporter or opponents, mourn his going.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Tuesday afternoon, August 4th, little Emogene Ball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Z. Ball, celebrated her seventh birthday by entertaining a number of her little friends.

Several interesting games were played, then Mrs. S. W. Guist delighted the children with some good music. She played several pieces composed by a former pupil of hers, who began composing at three years of age and is now a great musician.

The little folks enjoyed making their wishes, then attempted to blow out the seven candles placed upon the pink and white birthday cake.

There was much excitement over who would be fortunate enough to find the nickel known to be within the cake, and said to bring riches to the finder, Little Loreita Peuit being the lucky one.

Pink and white ice cream was served with the cake. This color scheme was carried out in the favors of pink and white caps given to the children.

Emogene was made happy by many nice presents given by these little friends, all of whom joined in wishing her many happy returns of the day.—Contributed.

Sears Roebuck Establishes A. & M. Student Loan Fund

From Dallas comes the announcement of the establishment of the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation Student Loan Fund of $25,000. This fund will be used to enable worthy farm boys, who otherwise would be deprived of this privilege through lack of funds, to attend A. & M. col-

From information received from the management of the Ex-Students' association, the operation of this fund this coming fall should enable approximately four or five hundred boys to take up agricultural work, who otherwise would be forced to forego this opportunity.

They may now be seen on display at Green's and Harry will be pleased to demonstrate to any prospective car owner. The new Star is a powerful little motor vehicle and is operated very economically.

A CORRECTION

In last week's issue of The Slatonite there appeared a display advertisement intended for Dr. J. W. Phillips, local dentist. But in clipping the advertisements from the Slatonite's advertising cut and copy service we clipped the wrong one—an error caused by being in too big a hurry. Dr. Phillips, whose office is over Frye's Filling Station, is exceptionally well known in this section of the county.

Take a handful of LONE STAR Cement out of a sack—feel it—look at it. It even looks different than ordinary cement.

20 years' experience in cement making, combined with years of painstaking research has resulted in the perfection of the International Wet-Blending Process, now used in the manufacture of LONE STAR Cement.

Cement manufacture, as carried on in the mills of the Texas Portland Cement Company at Dallas and Houston, is an exact science.

With the International Wet-Blending Process of manufacture, the chief chemist and mill superintendent can always come within 1/10 of 1% of the quality at which they aim. Guesswork has been eliminated.

The International Wet-Blending Process, regarded as the last word in cement production efficiency, results in a quality 50% above the requirements of the U. S. Standard Specifications.

Yet this super-grade cement costs no more. It has our unqualified endorsement.

Frequent Bilious Attacks "I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month," says Mr. J. P. Nevin, of Lawrenceburg, Ky. "I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. "A neighbor told me of BLACK-DRAUGHT Liver Medicine and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything. It seemed to cleanse my whole system and made me feel like new. I would take a few doses—got rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of pep, and could do twice the work." Bilious attacks are "seasonal" with many people. Millions have taken Theodore's Black-Draught to ward off such attacks, and the good results they have reported should induce you to try it. FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

City Hall

Bible school, 9:45 a. m. Classes and welcome for all.

Morning worship, 11 a. m. Sermon subject, "The World's Greatest Memorial."

Evening services will begin as soon as summer revivals are over. Our motto—"In Essentials—Unity, in Non-Essentials—Liberty, in All Things—Clarity."

The Lord's Supper will follow a sermon especially conducive to this sacred institution hallowed by our Savior. We invite all who love and endeavor to serve Jesus to take part with us in this service. We set no barriers; each must decide for himself. "Take Yourself to Dinner—One goes to church regularly and punctually because one has a soul—rather IS a soul that needs nourishment. Church attendance is the real person dining."

I get hungry physically as well as spiritually, so I bring the spiritual meal to a close promptly at 12 o'clock.

If you don't come to church you'll miss a spiritual dinner but if you do come to our service you will spiritually dine and be home in time to dine physically.

We are Christ-like enough to welcome all. "Whoever will, may come." L. FARRIS POWELL, Pastor.

The trouble with many people who try to arrive at just conclusions is that they bring in their own no more than many other acts that selfish ends. This can not be done affect us as a whole.

Away From The Crowds

America is still undiscovered, still waiting to be discovered—by you!

Away from the paved highways, deep in the hidden solitudes—are shady groves fragrant with the scent of flowers—sun-drenched valleys—lazy streams—or hurrying brooks as befit your mood. Waiting to please you with their untouched charms.

Take your Ford and venture forth into the delights of the unknown. Leave the beaten path to others. Go where you will—whether the road is paved or not.

It is the car of the true adventurer; the car that no going—be it sand, dirt or rocky road—can halt; the car that will take you safely, certainly and happily to where nature hides her true loveliness.
