Clyde E. Thomas Gives Support To Arthur P. Duggan

LITTLEFIELD, Aug. 11.—Clyde E. Thomas of Big Spring, who was defeated in the first primary, in the race for State Senator, has thrown his support to Arthur P. Duggan of this City. Who is in the run-off with G. E. Lockhart.

Mr. Thomas has issued a statement to the press which reads as follows: "Just wanted to say to the public, and particularly to my friends, that I am supporting Mr. Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield during the run-off campaign, without any ill feeling to anyone else, but knowing him to be a high class man, thoroughly reliable and worthy of the position.

"He is not a politician and the people should rise up and elect him.

"The people of the Southern portion of the district will, in my opinion, give him a very heavy substantial support, and the record shows his unusual strength in his own county and adjoining counties in the first primary when he had four candidates against him.

"Yours very truly,
Clyde E. Thomas."

Honorary Degree Given R. E. Dyer

AUSTIN, Aug. 11—An honorary doctor of laws degree has been conferred upon Dr. R. Eugene Dyer, graduate of the School of Medicine of The University of Texas in 1915, by Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio. Since receiving his degree from The University of Texas, Dr. Dyer has been associated with the United States Public Health Service and is now assistant director of the National Institute of Health Research. A series of discoveries which he has made relative to typhus fever have commanded nationwide attention.

In a recent statement issued by the Public Health Service it was announced that Dr. Dyer's experiments have established beyond a doubt that typhus fever is carried by rats and mice. The disease has never been serious in the United States, only nine deaths having occurred in 1930. Its prevalence is confined to the Atlantic seaboard and some of the Southern states. Whether the serum treatment developed by Dr. Dyer will be effective in combating ravages of the European type of typhus has not yet been determined, the announcement said. Officials expressed the hope that the European disease might respond to the new inoculation.

Men's Downtown Bible Class

The men of the First Christian Church lunched a Downtown Men's Bible Class a month ago, at the Palace Theatre. The meetings are held at 9:30 a. m. each Sunday, and have been well attended. There is plenty room for all those who are not attending elsewhere, and men you are missing a large part of the joy and pleasure of living if you are not attending some Bible Class. Don't Kid yourself into thinking you can live just as good a life, by not attending any religious services. Some of the men in Slaton boast of not ever attending church. Yes and for some, the only time they will ever be recorded as being in the house of the Lord, will be when the last rites of respect are being paid their old worm out body.

It is true some of you have been absent so long from the church that it would be a real shock to your own children to see dad going to a Bible Class, but men buck up and show your courage and start next Sunday. Return the joy you once had in the work of the Christ.

The order of the service is simply, songs, prayers, Bible study and testimony. "Come as you are" is the class slogan, and you will receive a warm welcome by those who are already coming and will receive a great blessing to help you meet your work for the new week.

National Air Races Go Thru Lubbock

LUBBOCK, Aug. 11 — Sixty to seventy of the fastest airplanes made today drop at the Lubbock Municipal Airport Tuesday, Aug. 23, competing for honors and prizes totaling ten thousand dollars in the National Air Races.

Following the arrival of the race planes, there stunt flyers of national fame will thrill the crowds for an hour and a half with daring air feats never heretofore equaled in Texas.

The race planes, the western wing of the Cord Cup Race of the National Air Races, starting immediately following the cross-country races at Cleveland, Ohio, will come to Lubbock from Roswell. They will spend the night in Lubbock, jump to Abilene and Bartlesville, Oklahoma, the next day, then rush into Cleveland.

Several thousand people from Lubbock and the Plains section are expected here for the races and air show as Lubbock and Abilene are the only control points in Texas.

Arsonist's Chance To Escape Small

In many sections of the United States authorities are making it harder than ever for the arsonist to escape. Exhaustive and painstaking investigations are being made of all fires of a suspicious nature. Added to this, vigilant work is being done by insurance companies through The National Board of Fire Underwriters.

In fires of suspicious origin where loss occurs, payment of the claim may be withheld for sixty days under the terms of the policy, until official police investigation has determined the nature of the cause and established justification for payment of the claim. In plain words, a man in any community today who intentionally burns his property has an exceedingly small chance to escape the law, nor can he expect an anticipated settlement from his insurance for the loss sustained. That is but part of his punishment. He has ruined his reputation, his credit standing in his community and his opportunity for doing future business with reputable business people. Unfortunately, he does not bear his shame alone. His family shares it with him.

The fact that during the last year more than 10,000 lives were destroyed by fire and almost a half-billion dollars in property ruined, is sufficient reason for authorities to cooperate with every scientific means at their disposal in running down suspicious fires that contribute to this tremendous national loss.

Miss Delia Manire returned home from a two weeks visit with Miss Lucille Coltharp of Bula, Texas.

Texas Employment Holds Its Own

AUSTIN, TEXAS, AUGUST 11—Employment in Texas held its own during July, if improvement may be judged in terms of declines no larger than should normally be expected at this season of the year, according to the Bureau of Business Research of The University of Texas. "Reports to the Bureau of Business Research and the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics on the volume of employment showed that as of July 15 there were 46,274 workers on the payrolls of the 827 establishments cooperating on this project, a decline of 2.7 per cent from the number for the previous month," he Bureau's report said. "A drop at this time was in line with normal seasonal developments and the decrease was of about the usual proportions. As compared with the number of workers on payrolls a year ago, the number on July 15 was 17.3 per cent lower; but the total for July compared more favorably with the number for the corresponding month a year ago than in any other case since February.

"An impressive gain was made in the number of workers at saw mills, which appears particularly significant in view of the fact that no marked seasonal gain is due in this industry at this time. Cotton oil mills made a sharp seasonal increase in employment. El Paso, Galveston, Houston, and Wichita Falls had more workers on payrolls on July 15 than on the same date a month earlier.

"Only three industries employed more men than on July 15 a year ago, Automobile and body works, Cotton oil mills, and Cotton textile mills; and Galveston was the only one of the ten cities listed to make a gain.

"Average weekly wages per worker dropped about 50 cents to $21.12 during July, as compared with $21.63 a month earlier."

H. Bentley Glass Awarded Fellowship

AUSTIN, Aug. 11—A National Council fellowship in Berlin, Germany for 1932-33 has been granted to Hiram Bentley Glass who received his doctor of philosophy degree from The University of Texas last June at the age of 26. Dr. Glass did his graduate work under Dr. H. J. Muller, professor of zoology at the University and internationally known authority on the influence of X-ray on chromosomes, and wrote his doctor's dissertation on the fruit fly, "A Study of Dominant Mosaic Eye-Color Mutants in Drosophila Melanogaster."

About fifty or sixty fellowships for advanced study are provided by the National Research Council each year for young men and women of unusual promise. Glass' appointment will provide him with $1,800 and traveling expenses.

THE CLAN OF ROOSEVELT

One of the most curious illustrations of the fact that most people don't seem to know what is going on in the world is the receipt by Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, widow of the Former President, of several hundred letters and telegrams congratulating her upon the nomination of her husband for the Presidency! It seems incredible that there is still anyone in America who does not know that Theodore Roosevelt died in 1919.

There were also a good many thousands who wrote to Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic nominee for President, under the impression that he is a son of the former President. As a matter of fact, his wife is much more closely related to the late Theodore Roosevelt than Franklin D. Roosevelt is. She was the daughter of Theodore Roosevelt's brother, Elliott, and that makes her a first cousin to the present Theodore Roosevelt, Governor-General of the Philippines. One has to go back nearly two Hundred years to trace the relationship of Franklin D. Roosevelt to Theodore Roosevelt, but it is there.

The first of the name to settle in America was a Dutch merchant named Nicholas Roosevelt, who came to New York in 1649. In 1742, the old records show, there were two brothers Roosevelt, named Johannus and Josephus. They were great grandsons of the original Nicholas Roosevelt. One of them was the ancestor of Theodore Roosevelt, the other of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Their descendants in both lines accumulated wealth and acquired high social position, but none of them was ever active in politics until Theodore Roosevelt, just out of college, was put up by the Republican organization in 1881 for member of the Legislature in what was supposed to be a safely Democratic district, and surprised everybody by getting himself elected. And Franklin Roosevelt, his distant cousin, made the same kind of a sensational entry into politics in 1910, when he was elected as a Democrat to the New York State Senate from a district which had been regarded as safely Republican.

NEW INDUSTRIES FOR OLD

It begins to look as if we would see a lot of new things coming into general use before long. Big business organizations, who are not afraid that the depression is going to last forever but who are getting ready for the upturn by preparing to put new commodities on the market, are giving hints of some of the things we may expect.

First in importance among these, it seems to us, will be the new type of individual dwelling house. Engineers, architects and technical men of all kinds have been talking a great deal about the excessive cost and the perishable nature of most houses. Now a big company has been formed in Chicago to manufacture houses in such a way that they can be readily erected anywhere with a minimum of labor. This is something different, we understand, from the "ready-cut" frame houses that have been on the market for years. These new houses will have steel frames and pressed steel outer walls, with flat roofs and many windows, and will be equipped with electric refrigeration, heating units and everything complete, at around $3,500 for a six-room house. It will take only four days to put up one of these houses, and if the owner wants a bigger one he can "trade in" the old one as he would an automobile. And after the first payment there will be only one mortgage, which can be paid off at around $30 a month.

Another new industry of which we have seen several announcements is that of devices for "air conditioning" homes, offices and shops. This scheme, of keeping the temperature and moisture the same, winter and summer, and providing clean, fresh air all the time, works well on a large scale, so there seems to be no reason why it shouldn't work well on a one-room or one-house scale.

From Detroit we hear of something revolutionary in automobile design and construction which is expected to come out this Summer; a new type of light-weight, low-cost, high speed carcar with bigger balloon tires than we have seen yet.

It looks to us as if the men who are big enough and smart enough to make money and keep it are not worrying about whether business will come back or not. They know it is coming back and they are getting ready.

THE ROAD IS LONG, COMING BACK

The only thing that keep most of us from realizing our own possibilities and getting the highest satisfaction out of life is fear. There are very few human beings in the world who are not afraid of something, and as long as one is afraid of anything he cannot achieve perfect happiness.

Primitive man must have lived in a state of almost constant terror. He was afraid of wild beasts, afraid of enemies of other tribes, afraid of the thunder and lightning, afraid of evil spirits that lurked in the darkness of the forest—of real dangers and of unreal dangers which he imagined. Very few people in these days have the perfectly natural physical fears that surrounded the lives of our ancestors. But who of us has not some mental fear, fear of something that has not happened but which we think may happen to ourselves or our loved ones?

In the past two or three year the people of the United States have been the prey of a new kind of fear. They have been afraid that in the popular phrase, the bottom had dropped out of everything. They feared that never again would they have a job, that the factories that have shut down would never start up, that they would never be able to sell the products of their farms—those and a thousand other fears which have no relation to common sense or reality seemed to take possession of perhaps the majority of Americans.

And that is one of the reasons we have been so slow in coming back from the economic crisis. We have been afraid to use our intelligence and common sense and go ahead when everybody else was afraid to do anything but accept conditions as they are and paint them, mentally, much worse than they are.

We see signs that this widespread fear is beginning to disappear. We do not believe it ever had any real foundation, and we believe people are waking up to that fact. If we are right, and hope and courage are beginning to replace fear, then we have made a good start toward the return of good times.

Chamber of Commerce News

By A. J. PAYNE, Secretary

At the regular meeting of the Directors of the Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce last Tuesday night, much business was transacted, and each member of the board was full of interest as the meeting lasted over two hours.

Mr. C. F. Anderson chairman of the Public Utilities Committee reported that he had talked with one of the Utilities, and would see the others shortly.

J. S. Edwards chairman of the Industries and Banking Committee reported nothing definite regarding a Bank here, but that a Committee from his Committee would have something to report shortly.

H. G. Stokes chairman of the Public Health and Fire Prevention Committee in addition to the reports of last week, was, that the duties of the Fire Marshall be strictly performed.

K. L. Scudder chairman of the Poultry and Dairy Committee made a lengthy report on the doings of the Merchants and Farmers Cream and Produce Station, as the following figures will show $2,580.22 has been paid out for cream, Poultry and eggs during the short time this station has been in operation, a saving of over $500.00 or 25 percent to the farmer. On account of the station taking up so much of Mr. Scudder's time, it was voted that the Board accept of Mr. Hicks proposition to run the station, and that same be moved to his place of business for the time being, he will keep the price up as is now, and same will be under the Merchants supervision as at present, and Mr. Hicks will look after their interests, as Mr. Scudder has been doing.

Next week some time, the Judges will go around again to judge the Yard from front to rear, so this is a gentle hint to be ready.

Under the present plan of apportioning the state available public school funds, The West Texas Chamber of Commerce territory fares badly in comparison with the remainder of the state. The funds are now apportioned on the basis of the per capita scholastic census. The census is taken each year of all persons in the scholastic age, and the funds are then apportioned $17.50 (will be $16.50 next year) per capita for every one on the census rolls regardless of whether they attend school or not.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce Educational Committee made a study, of this plan and its operation early in the year, and found that West Texas Counties have on 6,020 students less in attendance in the public schools than are enumerated, while the East Texas territory has over 43,000 less, and the South Texas territory, over 73,000 less.

In other words, there were 122,000 persons of scholastic age in Texas in 1929 who were enumerated as scholastic and upon which the state apportioned $17.50 each, and of this number, only 6,020 were in West Texas. The situation is revealed clearly in figures in West Texas To-Day Magazine which information you may see by calling at the Chamber of Commerce office, where you will find a full account of the above article.

L. A. Wilson formerly Secretary of Slaton Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, but now Secretary of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce was a pleasant caller at your local Chamber of Commerce office this week. Call again Lloyd, always glad to see you.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Killian have been at Market at Dallas.

The Hall of Champions wherein all livestock selected for the championship of their classes at the State Fair of Texas are housed, will again be a feature of the 1932 exposition. The Hall of Champions was instituted at the 1931 fair, and proved so popular to visitors it was decided to make this a permanent feature. In addition to the 1932 champions, there will be pictures of all the 1931 champions. Mrs. J. Riley Green of Wolfe City, Texas will be in charge of the Hall of Champions.

THANK YOU

I take this method of expressing my thanks to the voters of Lubbock County for the splendid vote given me for State Senator in the recent primary. Your vote helped make me high man in this race, and for that I am grateful.

As in the former campaign, I am going to be clean and honorable. Any candidate who might resort to misrepresentation and untruth and falsehood, trying to prejudice you against any other, is unworthy of your support. I am not a Lawyer and do not represent any Corporation nor Special Interests of any kind, but am a land owner and tax payer, and my personal interests are identical with yours.

The vote of every citizen in this district is earnestly solicited in the run-off.

Slaton Juniors Lose To Junior Hubbers

Last week too late for publication, the local Junior baseball team led by J. G. Wilhite were defeated in a hot game of baseball by the young Hubbers from Lubbock, by a score of 8-0.

The return game was played Tuesday in Lubbock on Tech field. Again it was a closely contested affair, 5-0 Lubbock holding the big end.

We have had a lot of real fun with these, your boys, we only regret that we have not played more games, but only a few boys are playing baseball now days.

Next Friday we go to McClung for a game and a return game is scheduled for next Tuesday at the High school grounds at 3:00 o'clock.

The following is the box score for Tuesday's game.

Struck-out by Bloodworth 4, Bryant 3, Knight of Lubbock, 11; Hits off, Bloodworth 3, Bryant 2, Knight 9; walked by Bloodworth 2, Bryant 1, Knight 2.

Band music will be almost continuous on the grounds during the 46th annual State Fair of Texas. In addition to the 100 bands which will compete for the cash prizes of $400 and $1,000, there will be at least ten bands employed by the various attractions and the State Fair Association. The bands competing in the Statewide Band Contest will be presented in individual concerts each afternoon and in massed band concerts each evening during the exposition.

Railroads have made the lowest rates of any since the world was for special trips to the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 8 to 23. Every railroad in Texas has agreed to these especially low rates and many of the roads are going to have special excursions to the state exposition in October.

CHURCHES

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES. Sunday School 9:45 A. M. Preaching Services—11 A. M. and 8:15 P. M.

We thank Bro. Rayburn and his loyal people and assure them that it was a pleasure to have them.

A vacation spent travelling in the beautiful and historic state of Louisiana is full of interest.

The sermon Sunday evening at 8:15, "Devils and Angels I met on my way" will refer to the trip.

Can you recognize devils when you meet them—Can you recognize angels? Come out Sunday evening and hear about these devils and angels.

The Senior young people will meet at 7:30 Sunday evening in the auditorium. Visitors and young people are welcome.

A study class will be organized Sunday evening at 7:30.

"How shall I learn to teach Religion" by Blanche Carrier will be the text used and Mrs. Fike will be the teacher.

There is a welcome for all who come to the Methodist church.

PASTOR CALLED BY FIRST CHRISTIAN'S

The local Christian Church closed one of the most helpful and spiritual socials in its history, two weeks ago, and has called Rev. Alan Lynch, formerly of Spur, as its Pastor.

Rev. Lynch, has already proven himself a real preacher of the gospel, as evidenced by the large audiences present at both morning and night services for the past two Sundays.

The new pastor has been invited into his new field of work during the first of this week, to the tune of a concert mixer. And Alan has proven his ability in this line also. At this writing, the floor is all poured and will be set for Sunday's services. All members and friends are cordially invited to be present Sunday in special thanks giving services for this improvement, in their place of worship.

Culinary Jingles by Virginia Gibson

Things that are new Are no longer preferred, But things that are old Are the very last word.

To be in the swim You simply must bake This old-fashioned, new-fashioned Grandmother's cake!

NEW cake recipes are always acceptable and particularly if they are both inexpensive and easy to make. The two following recipes meet both requirements. The crumb cake is not new. In fact it may be so old that you have forgotten all about it or may never have known of it.

Grandmother's Crumb Cake

- 2 cups self-rising flour, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift dry ingredients together and cut in butter. Take out 1/2 cup of this mixture and set aside. Beat the eggs until light and add the milk to them. Add gradually to the first mixture and beat smooth. Pour into a shallow pan and sprinkle over the batter the 1/2 cup of crumbs that were saved. Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) for about 25 minutes.

This next recipe is particularly good for children because of the extra iron supplied by the raisins. The self-rising flour in these two recipes also supplies two very necessary minerals, that is, calcium and phosphorus of which bones and teeth are chiefly composed. This is because the baking powder used in self-rising flour is made of mono-calcium-phosphate and soda. When you can have something as good as this cake and as rich in the needed minerals you can certainly feel fortunate.

Bolled Raisin Cake

- 1 cup sugar, 1 cup liquid as directed, 2 eggs, 2 cups self-rising flour, 1 cup seedless raisins, 1 cup liquid as directed, 1 teaspoon cloves, 1/4 cup nuts

Boil for 20 minutes the cup of raisins in 2 cups of water. There should be 1 cup of juice when done, if not add enough water to make the cupful. Mix as for any cake using the raisin juice for the liquid. Add the cooked raisins and nuts just before pouring into the pans. Bake at 350° which is a moderate oven. Serve as a cake or pudding.

Self-rising flour has still other advantages besides the minerals. It saves a great deal of time in making for you do not have to measure salt and baking powder and sift them into the flour. Self-rising flour needs to be sifted only once. That is done before measuring in order to keep the flour from being packed. Self-rising flour is less expensive to use as it sells for only a few cents higher for a 24-pound bag than does the same grade of plain flour. Baking powder would cost much more than that. Self-rising flour is sure in its results. You know that you do not have a sour product or one with too much soda in it and you also know that there is no danger of leaving out the baking powder or putting in too much or too little.

Culinary Jingles by Virginia Gibson.

There was once a young fellow named Budge,
And he loved a young lady called Mudge;
He said, "She can't cook,
Without a cookbook;
But she sure shakes a mean pan of fudge!"

HOMEMADE fudge, when properly made, is more than a welcome dainty. It is a wholesome food that meets a real dietary need and its popularity during the cool days of fall and winter is amply justified. It satisfies our natural craving for sweets, meets the demands of nature for heat and energy producing elements, and has the added advantage of purity and economy.

Every woman takes great pride in her own particular brand of homemade fudge, but is always eager to try out the favorite fudge recipes of others.

One such variation, called Ghocolate Fudge Squares, has recently become most popular. This confection is even greater in food value than most types of fudge and may be utilized in many ways. It contains one-fourth cup of butter; three ounces, or three squares of chocolate; one and one-eighth cups sugar, two eggs; one-half cup self-rising flour; one teaspoon vanilla and two-thirds of a cup of nut meats.

Fudge of this type is a highly concentrated food as well as a sweet. It is easily made, but instead of cooking in a double boiler, is baked in the oven at a temperature of 325 degrees Fahrenheit. Salt is not used in this recipe as there is a sufficient amount in the self-rising flour. Self-rising flour is really the secret of success in making this and other delightful confections. It makes them lighter because the leavening is so well blended, and more nutritious because of valuable minerals—calcium and phosphorus—it contains. Addition of these elements in self-rising flour makes these confections more suitable for children. To make Chocolate Fudge Squares, melt the butter and chocolate together over hot water. Now add the sugar and unbeaten eggs, beat until these ingredients are well blended; add the remaining ingredients and pour into a greased and floured cake pan to a depth of one-half inch. Bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees Fahrenheit, until firm, but not brown. Cut into squares while still warm and serve.

Homemakers occasionally like to try recipes for other types of easily made homemade candies and no doubt will be interested in the following recipes for two popular sweets; Pralines and Penuchli.

Pralines
1 cup brown sugar 3 tablespoons
2 cups white sugar maple sugar
3 tablespoons corn 1 1/2 cups milk
3 tablespoons syrup 1 1/2 cups nutmeats
3 tablespoons maple syrup

Combine all ingredients, except nutmeats, and boil to the soft ball stage, 235 degrees Fahrenheit. Cool to 110 degrees before beating. Add nutmeats. Beat until stiff and creamy. When mixture is stiff, drop from a spoon on a buttered sheet. This is sufficient to make one and three-fourths pounds.

Penuchli
2 1/2 cups brown sugar 1 tablespoon
1 1/2 cups milk corn syrup
1 1/2 cups milk 1 tablespoon butter
Few grains salt 1/2 cup chopped
1 teaspoon vanilla nutmeats

Combine all ingredients except nutmeats and boil to soft ball stage. Cool to 110 degrees Fahrenheit. Beat until stiff and creamy. Add the nuts just before it is pressed into the pan. This will yield one and one-eighth pounds.
